NEWSPAPER MAN TELLS JURY HE NEVER SAW COL. ROOSEVELT UNDER INFLUENCE OF LIQUOR

Charles Willis Thompson Is First Witness Called for the Day's Hearing.

Court's Ruling on Admission of Evidence Limits Cross-Examinations.

Parties to Libel Suit Get Much Unsought Advice Through the Mails.

Marquette, Mich., May 29.—Five witnesses for Col. Roosevelt, a relative, a former member of the Rough Riders regiment, a former locomotive fireman, a newspaper man and a former judge, testified today in Col. Roosevelt's suit for libel against George A. Newett, the Ishpeming newspaper owner.

All of the witnesses called by the plaintiff asserted that the colonel was only a moderate user of intoxicants.

The substance of the testimony as given by Philip Roosevelt, a young son of the colonel's cousin; Charles Willis Thompson, a New York newspaper man; Andrew A. Abele, a former locomotive fireman; Edwin Emerson, a Cuban rough rider campaigner, and A. Z. Blair, a former common pleas judge of Ohio, was:

Substance of Testimony.

That during his campaign in Cuba with the Rough Riders Col Roosevelt drank only black coffee or water, and never liquor of any kind.

That during his political campaigns the colonel drank champagne only occasionally, and never to excess.

That though Col. Roosevelt kept a large and varied supply of wines in his cellar, he never indulged in them immoderately.

"He kept a regular gentleman's cellar," Philip Roosevelt said.

Col. Roosevelt, as usual since the beginning of the hearing, listened with the keenest interest to the witnesses' denial from the stand that the former president frequently "got drunk," as charged in the editorial published by the defendant.

The cross-examination of today's witnesses was limited under the ruling made late yesterday by Judge Flannigan to the effect that hearsay evidence as to the colonel's reputation for drinking would have to be barred. The defense noted an exception to the ruling when it was made.

Get Advice By Mail.

George Shiras, host of Theodore Roosevelt during the latter's suit against George Newett for libel in the Marquette court, is receiving a heavy mail every day, owing to the prominence given the case in the newspapers.

Those to Mr. Shiras are mostly begging letters probably inspired by pictures of his big home here. One of them asked him for money to pay an installment on a farm. Mr. Roosevelt and Mr. Newett are being swamped with letters, for the most part full of advice as to how the case should be conducted.

Additional witnesses for the plaintiff will be heard today. Tomorrow, Memorial day, will be observed as a holiday. Col. Roosevelt has under

HOT ROAST GIVEN WISCONSIN SENATORS BY THE GOVERNOR

McGovern Denounces Vote for Recess Until January.

Says Party and Personal Pledges Are Being Ignored.

Madison, Wis., May 29.—That the joint resolution adopted by the senate yesterday providing for a recess of the legislature from June 12 to Jan. 13 "was introduced, as rumor goes, after much secret conference, but without open consultation with those most directly responsible to the people for the enactment of wise legislation and the redemption of party pledges, reveals something as to the motives back of it," was charged by Governor McGovern in a special message addressed to the legislature today.

"Why adjourn now?" asks the governor. "While some time has elapsed since this legislature met, and much patient labor has been spent upon the work before it, little has yet been done. No law of broad general interest or importance has been passed. But a single platform pledge has been redeemed. All the important bills are still pending.

"A Do-Nothing Session."

"If you stop here, no one, especially no member of the party in power, can hope to go back to the people without being held accountable to them for a do-nothing legislative session."

Continuing, the message says in part:

"The Republican party has a clear majority in both the assembly and the senate, of members elected upon a platform that specifically pledged the enactment of laws respecting mothers' pensions, a minimum wage for women, amendment of the election laws, prison reform, supervision of the sale of corporate stocks and bonds, and the regulation of water powers, besides the approval of a number of constitutional amendments proposed two years ago. But no law has yet been passed upon any of the subjects.

Promises Not Kept.

"With respect to some of these matters 'immediate' legislative action was definitely promised. This is true of water powers and the minimum wage. Upon the former subject there has been no legislation for a number of years, and as a result industrial development dependent thereon has been brought almost to a standstill in Wisconsin. What valid excuse can be given for letting this subject go over for another year."

The governor also points to the market commission bill as being even more urgent than the others in that it provides a remedy for the high cost of living.

NO AGREEMENT YET IN THE GIBSON CASE

Mistrial May Result From Lawyer's Second Trial.

Newburgh, N. Y., May 29.—After sixteen hours' deliberation, the jury in the case of Burton W. Gibson, the New York lawyer charged with the murder of Mrs. Rosa Szabo, his client, had reached no agreement this morning.

A crowd waited at the courthouse all night in expectation of hearing a verdict, but as the hours passed without the appearance of the jury, it became a general opinon that another mistrial of the case would be the outcome as it was last fall.

SIR RUFUS ISAACS SEEKS TO RESIGN.

London, May 29.—The Jewish Express today says that Sir Rufus Isaacs, the attorney general, recently tendered his resignation on account of the controversy over the transactions by him and Chancellor of the Exchequer Lloyd George in Marconi shares, but that Premier Asquith declined to accept it.

CUBANS WILL HONOR MAINE

Cruiser Brings Island Representatives to Attend Celebration.

Will Attend Unveiling of Monument to U. S. Sailors.

New York, May 29.—The protected cruiser Cuba arrived early today bearing representatives of the Cuban government, army and navy to pay tribute here to the memory of the United States sailors who perished when the battleship Maine was blown up in Havana harbor fifteen years ago. By special permission from the state, as in such cases, the Cuban forces will be welcomed ashore under arms tomorrow to participate in a parade preceding the dedication of a monument to the Maine's dead.

The welcome of booming guns from twelve dreadnoughts from the United States Atlantic fleet awaited the visiting warship when she proceeded from the quarantine station up to the Hudson river anchorage under escort of the gunboat Yankton, to be boarded later in the day by an official reception committee and to send ashore her own delegation of three special envoys to pay respects to Mayor Gaynor.

No Color Line.

In addition to the three envoys and the usual navy force, the cruiser brought a battalion of coast artillery and a military band to participate in the parade. The men include both whites and blacks, discrimination as to color having been ruled against by President Menocal.

The Cuba is an American built cruiser. She was launched at the Cramp yards Oct. 11, Cuban Independence day, 1911, at the same time as the Cuban training ship Patria. The cruiser is small compared with the great fighting machines among which she found herself in the Hudson, but she is the pride of the island republic, and is their best warship at the present time. She is a 2,200-ton vessel, 265 feet in length and with thirty-nine feet beam. Her armament consists of four 6-pounders, four 3-pounders and four 1-pounders, and her complement is 150 men.

FIX TARIFF BILL TO SUIT FOREIGNERS

Senator Simmons Announces Change After Talk With Wilson.

No Differential Will Be Given for Use of American Ships.

Duties on Wheat and Other Raw Materials Are Discussed.

Washington, May 29.—Senator Simmons, chairman of the finance committee, definitely announced after a conference with President Wilson today that the proposed 5 per cent differential on imports in American-owned or controlled vessels would be dropped from the tariff bill in the senate on account of protests from foreign nations.

Senator Simmons also declared that objections of foreign nations to the clause to compel foreign merchants to submit their books to an American agent in cases of disputed valuation would be met. In both cases the state department holds that protests are justified. The president upheld that view.

Talked of Raw Materials.

Chairman Simmons also took up with the president questions of equalization on duties on raw materials and manufactured products, among them wheat, flour and pig iron. Mr. Simmons de-

LINER HAVERFORD IS STUCK ON ROCK

Vessel Is Same That Had Disastrous Explosion in 1906.

Queenstown, May 29.—The American line steamship Haverford is fast on the rocks off Cork Head, west of Queenstown. She sailed yesterday from Liverpool for Philadelphia.

Several tugs have been sent out to the assistance of the Haverford which is said to have struck the rock during a dense fog. She is commanded by Capt. Evans.

The Haverford suffered from a serious explosion on board at Liverpool in July, 1906, when twelve were killed and forty injured. She was built in 1901. Her length is 531 feet and her beam fifty-nine feet. Her gross tonnage is 11,635 and her net tonnage 7,493. She is one of the vessels of the American line of the International Mercantile Marine company.

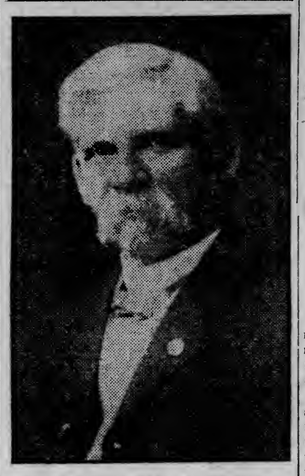
The government and other tugs fund the Haverford about 6 o'clock this evening. The passengers are being taken off.

Is 108 Years Old.

Pana, Ill., May 29.—Dr. James Lynn, whose relatives believe he is the oldest man in Illinois, entertained 108 friends yesterday in celebration of the 108th anniversary of his birthday. A cake five feet in diameter was cut by the aged physician.

STORM SWEEPS CITY, FLOODING LOW SPOTS

RE-ELECTED HEAD OF CONFEDERATE VETERANS



GEN. BENNETT H. YOUNG.

Chattanooga, Tenn., May 29.—Gray-garbed veterans of the Southern confederacy had their annual parade here today, the climax of their twenty-third reunion. Thousands of the old soldiers pluckily kept their places in the long line, while those who were too feeble to walk rode in carriages and automobiles. Gen. Bennett H. Young of Louisville, Ky., commander-in-chief, and his three departmental officers were unanimously re-elected.

The reunion will come to a close tonight with a ball in honor of the Sons of Confederate Veterans.

MOB MUTILATES BODY OF NEGRO MURDERER

South Carolinans Cut Off Head, Fingers and Toes and Hang Torso.

Hampton, S. C., May 29.—Richard Austin, South Carolina negro murderer, captured after being shot by a posse in Southeastern Georgia Tuesday night, died while being brought back to this place. A mob which was awaiting his arrival took the negro's body from Sheriff Morris and, after cutting off the head, fingers and toes, "singed it" and hanged it to a tree in front of the courthouse.

PUPILS STRIKE TO KEEP TEACHER.

Leadville, Colo., May 29.—Nearly 200 pupils of the high school have inaugurated a strike as a protest against the discharge of Supt. S. L. Stoner. The pupils paraded the principal streets and attempted to bring out students from other schools, but in this were not successful.

The dismissal of Supt. Stoner is the result of a controversy of long standing among the high school faculty. There is much public feeling.

USE RAFTS TO CROSS STREET

Superior Normal School Girls Are Cut Off By the Flood.

Heavy Damage Done to Railroad Yards By the Storm.

Superior drew the heavy fire of this morning's storm. While 1.09 inches of rain was falling in Duluth, 3.03 inches fell in the main part of Superior, and even more in the East end.

The street between the dormitory and the main buildings of the Superior normal school was flooded this morning. The problem of transportation which faced the dormitory students was finally solved by the rigging up of rafts on which the girls gaily floated from dormitory to school.

The damage was also greater in Superior than in Duluth. One house in South Superior was struck by lightning and entirely destroyed in the subsequent fire. Another house was struck, but escaped with a demolished chimney.

The Soo yards in Superior are practically under water and no traffic is moving there this morning. The Northern Pacific yards were also badly damaged.

The Superior ball park is under

BORE THROUGH FLOOR AND STEAL WHISKY

Tomah Thieves Empty 35-Gallon Barrel and Escape.

Tomah, Wis., May 29.—Contents of a thirty-five-gallon barrel of whisky, which arrived here late yesterday and was stored in the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul depot over night, have disappeared through an unusual theft. The thieves crawled under the depot, bored with an auger a hole through the floor and the bottom of the barrel, drained off the whisky and disappeared without leaving a trace of their identity or losing any of the whisky. Today the freight house crew found only an empty barrel safe behind the double padlocks on the building.

DENVER OFFICIALS WILL NOT QUIT JOBS

Aldermen and Supervisors Will Not Give Way to Commission.

Denver, Colo., May 29.—Members of the boards of aldermen and supervisors of Denver are reported to have announced that they will not relinquish title to office in favor of the five commissioners elected last week. The determination to hold office is said to be based on the fact that the present city officials were elected for a term of four years, and that since the recall has not been invoked against any of them, they are entitled to their political positions.

MASSACRE BY THE BULGARIAN TROOPS

Village of Hadji Is Reported Destroyed—All Will Sign Treaty.

Saloniki, May 29.—A dispatch from a trustworthy source says that the Bulgarian troops have destroyed the village of Hadji, between Saloniki and Serres, and have massacred the Mussulman population.

All Will Sign Treaty.

London, May 29.—It is practically certain that the treaty of peace between the Balkan allies and Turkey is to be signed at the British foreign office tomorrow by the peace delegates of the various states concerned.

Bulgaria and Turkey have both definitely decided to sign the document in deference to the wishes of Sir Edward Grey, the British foreign secretary, and there is little doubt that the other three allies, Servia, Greece and Montenegro, will do likewise.

Greece and Servia desire to add a protocol to the treaty as drafted by the European powers, dealing with the question of amnesty and the conventions to be negotiated after peace shall have been concluded.

Bulgaria Objects.

Bulgaria, however, objects to the addition of this protocol as she regards it as likely to leave the door open for further discussions, and she has determined to sign the treaty of peace with Turkey without more delay and so to clear the field for the very grave negotiations she will have to undertake with her allies over the division of the spoils of victory.

In Sofia, the speech made by the Servian premier yesterday in the parliament at Belgrade, when he explained that Servia desired a modification of the treaty with Bulgaria in regard to the division of territory, is believed to have destroyed the hope of a peaceful settlement of the Servian and Bulgarian dispute.

The principal Servian peace delegate in London at noon today received a dispatch from his government authorizing him to sign the preliminary treaty of peace with Turkey.

FAMILIES ARE DRIVEN FROM THEIR HOMES

Steel Plant and Western Suburbs Are Entirely Cut Off.

Power Wires Hit, Interrupting Light and Street Car Service.

Washouts Are Reported on Nearly Every Railroad Entering the City.

EFFECTS OF THE STORM.

Rainfall of 1.09 inches between 2:30 a. m. and 4:30 a. m.

About 200 feet of Northern Pacific track washed away, and New Duluth and Fond du Lac cut off from the city.

Twenty families in New Duluth and Fond du Lac forced temporarily to abandon their homes.

Basements flooded in all parts of the city, particularly in Fond du Lac and New Duluth, along Grand avenue and at Eleventh avenue west and First street.

Canadian Northern yards at West Duluth under water.

Trains on all railroads delayed on account of washouts.

Great Northern Power company's wires affected and service discontinued during early morning.

Street railway owl car service demoralized by stoppage of power.

New pumphouse of water system at New Duluth flooded.

St. Louis river rising and threatening docks at Fond du Lac.

Streets and avenues washed out in western suburbs, to depth of eight feet in some places.

Home of C. O. Sauley, 3614 West Third street, struck by lightning and chimney wrecked.

Crossed electric wires calls firemen to home of Dr. Homer Collins, 2526 East First street. Nominal damage.

New fill at Eighty-first avenue west partly washed away.

Service on Bay View Heights incline suspended on account of flood.

Home of Claus Johnson at Smithville undermined.

One of the worst storms in the history of Duluth struck the city shortly after 2 o'clock this morning, washing out several stretches of railroad tracks, cutting off all communication with the steel plant, New Duluth, Gary and Fond du Lac except by a few telephone lines of the Zenith Telephone company, and compelling about twenty families of New Duluth and Fond du Lac temporarily to abandon their homes. Hundreds of basements throughout the city were flooded.

The heaviest damage occurred in the western suburbs. Trains were unable to run to New Duluth and Fond du Lac. The passenger train

BOYS IN GRAY SHARE MEMORIAL DAY FETE

Confederate Veterans Will Attend Exercises in Boston.

Boston, Mass., May 29.—Forty-six Confederate veterans, members of the old guard at Atlanta, who came to Boston to attend the Memorial day exercises, were the guests today of the Ancient and Honorable Artillery company.

The entertainment of the veterans included an automobile trip to Lexington and Concord and a visit to the estate of Col. Everett C. Benton at Belmont.

Tomorrow the Southern visitors will march to the state house, place a floral tribute on the Sailors' and Soldiers' monument on Boston common and be the luncheon guests of E. W. Kinsley post, No. 113, G. A. R.

SHOOTS FIANCEE ON EVE OF WEDDING DAY

Chicago Man and Girl Quarrel Over Friend of Latter.

Chicago, May 29.—On the eve of their wedding, jealousy led Peter Becker, 40 years old, to shoot and painfully wound Miss Genevieve Thomas, 32 years old, and then turn the weapon on himself, inflicting a serious wound beneath the heart. Both are in a critical condition and may die.

Becker and Miss Thomas were to have been married today, but quarreled when the man accused the woman of being friendly with a West side saloonkeeper.

MEMORIAL DAY TALKS

G. A. R. Veterans Give Patriotic Addresses to School Children.

Memorial day was observed in all the public schools of the city today.

Special programs were given at the various schools in observance of the day, including addresses by members of the G. A. R., Spanish War Veterans, Citizens' staff, Sons of Veterans, the Women's Relief corps and the Auxiliary of the Sons of Veterans. The members of the staffs were assigned to the schools throughout the city.

At 9 o'clock this morning Memorial day exercises were held at the Central, Industrial and Cathedral high schools. The normal school conducted its program at 11 o'clock.

During the afternoon the grade schools are all observing the day with programs of patriotic music and recitations and addresses by the war veterans. Announcement of the competitive flag drill in the parade tomorrow morning was made at every school in the city, and it is expected that a larger number of school children than ever before will be in the parade this year.

RANGE ROADS NOT INTERESTED

Fight on Interchangeable Mileage Books Does Not Affect Them.

The Duluth, Missabe & Northern and the Duluth & Iron Range, the only two railroads ruuuing into Duluth whose general offices are here, will not be represented at the meeting of railroad attorneys to be held in St. Paul tomorrow to determine on what action to take in regard to the new interchangeable mileage law. The law, passed by the legislature last winter, will go into effect July 1. It allows all members of one family to use one mileage book.

Because the two range railroads did not go back to the 3-cent-a-mile rate following the decision of Judge Sanborn, who held the 2-cent rate law unconstitutional, their officers are not worried about the mileage book law. These two lines were the only ones operating in the state that didn't take advantage of the court's decision and raise fares. Inasmuch as the mileage books are obtained at the rate of 2 cents a mile, the regular carrying fare of the Missabe and the Iron Range, it can be readily seen that the business of these roads is confined almost entirely to the regular tickets.

The 2-cent-fare decision is now before the supreme court of the United States.

HOW TO CUT DOWN LIVING EXPENSES

Any Duluth family can make a big saving and also be much healthier by eating the deliciously appetizing "Minnesota" Spaghetti at least twice each week in place of meat.

"Minnesota" Spaghetti is four times as nutritious as beef-steak and yet costs only about one cent a dish.

It contains more proteids than most foods and is therefore more strength giving and less fattening.

It is fine for children—making their bodies strong and healthy. And they are very fond of its rich, nut-like flavor.

Insist on getting the genuine "Minnesota" Spaghetti, made from the VERY BEST DURUM wheat with ALL the wonderfully nourishing Gluten left in.

"BLACK MARIA" IS OUT OF COMMISSION

The days of the Black Maria are numbered and the city commission will be forced to hurry its purchase of a new auto patrol for the police department.

While on a run this morning the rear axle of the patrol broke in two, throwing the hind end of the car to the pavement. It took two mechanics over three hours to make the necessary repairs, so that the car could be taken back to the station.

A new patrol was purchased last week, but was turned down by Commissioner Hicken because it was a made-over machine. Negotiations are to be resumed at once for the purchase of a patrol.

LIFE SAVER DIES.

Winner of Medal Off Superior in 1910 Called in Negaunee.

Negaunee, Mich., May 29.—The funeral of Samuel A. Wetton of Hancock, who died in St. Luke's hospital, aged 57, and was famous as a life-saver, was held yesterday afternoon with interment here. A wife, three daughters and an infant son survive.

Mr. Wetton was the possessor of two medals given him in recognition of bravery in saving life. He led the rescue of a man in a severe storm on Lake Superior off Superior, Wis., April 10, 1910. One medal was the gift of the Carnegie medal fund, the other of the Federal government.

Mr. Wetton with three other volunteers, went to the rescue of a man who had been swamped in a sailboat about three quarters of a mile from shore, after two futile attempts had been made by the life saving crew.

About six hundred people witnessed the exhibition of bravery, and immediately took steps to procure suitable rewards for the rescuers, the result being that silver medals from the Carnegie hero fund and gold medals from the United States were awarded. In addition to this $1,000 had been set aside, bearing 5 per cent interest by the Carnegie hero fund, this money having been available at any time that it could be shown that there was absolute need for its payment. This incident occurred while Mr. Wetton was in the employ of the government near Superior.

AWARDED $1,529 FOR CRUSHED HAND.

Walter G. McMillan was given a verdict for $1,529 against the Northern Pacific Railroad company by a jury which reported in Judge Fesler's court at noon today. McMillan sued for $5,380 damages for a crushed hand.

The plaintiff, who was a brakeman employed by the defendant company, was injured while opening a vestibule of a passenger coach on a train in the St. Paul Union depot yards last fall.

He claims that after he had pulled up the trap door over the steps it fell back into place, crushing his right hand and thumb between it and the jamb into which it fell. It was alleged that the clutch which was supposed to hold the door in place was defective.

Sells Heifer for $1,150.

Madison, Wis., May 29.—Assemblyman Carpenter, Baraboo, did a nice stroke of business on his own account and established a record when he sold Frank Harding, Waukesha, a 2-year-old shorthorn heifer, Moss Rose VI., for $1,150. The price is the highest ever paid for a heifer of that breed and age.

KENNY LOSES HIS LICENSE

Metropole Hotel Bar Is Closed By Order of Commission.

Bids Rejected and City Hall Will Be Remodeled By Day Labor.

TODAY'S SESSION OF THE CITY COMMISSION.

Revoked Joseph Kenny's saloon license at Metropole hotel.

Cited Dunlap and Thatcher, 519 West Superior street, to show cause why their license shouldn't be revoked.

Rejected bids to remodel city hall and informally agreed to do work by day labor under direction of building inspector.

Advanced ordinance for condemnation of right of way for Congdon lake shore boulevard.

Received protest against ordering of sidewalks over long spaces of unoccupied territory.

The city commission this morning pronounced the "amen" of the Metropole hotel swan song when it unanimouly passed a resolution revoking the saloon license of Joseph Kenny.

Shortly before noon today the saloon was ordered out of commission and the doors locked at the direction of the police.

For years the Metropole hotel on Lake avenue south has been notorious. Patronized and frequented by the sportiest of certain sporting elements in the city, it has been well known throughout Duluth and the tributary territory.

But without the saloon it cannot live and flourish as it has in the past years. The revocation of the license is the heaviest blow which could befall it. Paying an exorbitant rental, said to be $950 a month, or more than eleven times the cost of the license per year, the hotel can only continue in existence as an ordinary rooming house as the revenue will not be forthcoming without a steady flow of cash into the saloon register. The police say that even as a rooming house it must be conducted along better lines than in the past.

Kenny Not Present.

Kenny was cited to appear before the commission at 10 o'clock this morning to show cause why his license should not be revoked. He was not there, nor was he represented by counsel. When Commissioner Hicken offered the resolution putting the saloon out of business it was passed without comment of any kind.

Before the session started an effort was made to secure a few more days of grace for the place by asking that the hearing be postponed. Commissioner Hicken nipped the proposition in the bud. He said that he had no objection to continuing the hearing until a later date on condition that the bar be closed at noon.

At the same time Commissioner Hicken offered a resolution citing George Dunlap, of the firm of Dunlap & Thatcher, 519 West Superior street, to appear before the commission next Monday afternoon to show cause why his license to sell intoxicating liquors should not be cancelled. The resolution pointed that one of the conditions of the bond is that the licensee conduct a quiet and orderly house. Tuesday afternoon Dunlap pleaded guilty in police court to having assaulted John Nystrom, a patron, giving him two very badly discolored and bruised eyes, for which he paid a fine of $27. Commissioner Hicken declared that he will exert every effort to root out the joints which fail to give protection to their patrons, but on the other hand beat them up and rob them.

City Hall Bids Rejected.

The commissioners were unanimous in the opinion that the city cannot afford to spend over $9,000 for the remodeling of the city hall. The bids for the work were opened yesterday morning at the mayor's office. The aggregate of the low bids for the work was $9,091, whereas the architect had estimated that $2,500 to $3,000 would foot the bill.

Commissioner Voss suggested that the work be done by day labor, one section at a time, which met with the approval of his colleagues. He explained that the men could be hired by the building inspector, a practical man, and the remodeling done underhis direction.

Commissioner Hicken said that at the prices secured it would not be advisable to let any contract. He said that it might be well to enlarge the quarters of the finance division, which is imperative, and let most of the rest go. The resolution of Mayor Prince rejecting all bids was passed and it was decided to take the proposition up informally as soon as possible.

Protest Against Sidewalk.

H. W. Cheadle, former city clerk and now of the realty firm of Richardson, Day & Cheadle, sent in a communication protesting against being directed to lay a walk along West Sixth street at Ontota. He explained that the property has not yet been platted and that much of it is unimproved.

"One of the worst abuses of power perpetrated by the old form of government was the ordering of sidewalks over long spaces of unoccupied territory," he declared.

Commissioner Voss stated that he believes that there is much merit in the contention of Senator Cheadle, and offered some figures to bring it forth more clearly. He said that last year the delinquent assessments certified to the county auditor for sewers, grading and paving amounted to $26,957.93, or about 12½ per cent of the $200,000, the approximate total of that class of improvements. The delinquent sidewalk assessments certified totaled $9,934.66, or about 25 per cent of the $40,000 worth of sidewalks laid. The records show that the delinquent sidewalk assessments were in the ratio of 2 to 1 as compared with the other improvements. Commissioner Voss said that this shows that many walks have been ordered where there was no immediate necessity for them and at times when the property owners were not in a position to pay for them. He agreed that much of the money spent for sidewalks or tied up in the city treasury for that purpose might better be expended elsewhere or applied where there is a more pressing need for improvements.

To Buy Auto Patrol.

The division of public safety was authorized by resolution to purchase a combination automobile patrol and emergency ambulance for the use of the police department, the cost not to exceed the amount already appropriated for that purpose, or $3,900. The car received a short time ago through the Duluth Automobile company was rejected as it did not come up to the specifications. Commissioner Hicken deciding that it was a rebuilt instead of a new car. The commissioner believes that an entirely satisfactory machine can be purchased for $400 to $500 less than the sum allowed, which will leave some cash for a pulmotor and other equipment needed for the department.

Contracts for the construction of plank and cement sidewalks were awarded to the low bidders, except for plank walks west of Twelfth avenue west. A Bodin, the low bidder in that district, found that he had bid below the cost of the lumber and asked to be allowed to withdraw. What disposition will be made of his case has not been decided. Other bids will be asked or the contract will be let to W. H. Kiltin, the second low bidder. An ordinance appropriating $10,000 for sidewalks was passed at the last meeting of the commission, held Monday afternoon. The estimated cost of walks for this year is $60,000.

The ordinance directing the condemnation of the right-of-way for the boulevard to be constructed along the north shore of Lake Superior was given its second reading. It will come up for its third reading and will be passed at the meeting to be held next Monday afternoon.

An ordinance appropriating $180 for the rent of a waiting room at the aerial bridge was given its first reading.

The ordinance granting the Northern Pacific a franchise for a spur track at Forty-ninth avenue west and Ramsey street was laid on the table. The attorney stated that it is not in proper form and that changes should be made before it is passed.

ATTENTION!

UNIQUE MARRIAGE RETURN IS MADE

First Quaker Wedding Certificate Is Filed With County Clerk.

The first certificate of a Quaker marriage ceremony to be placed on record in this county was entered this morning on the marriage license records of the clerk of the district court.

Townsend Walter Hoopes and Abbie Fiske Smith, his bride, have the distinction of being the principals in the ceremony, of which there is a record.

A Quaker marriage does not require the services of a clergyman or justice. It is a contract which is entered into and which is signed in the presence of a number of witnesses.

The license to wed which was issued to Mr. Hoopes yesterday was superfluous. It was not used. Instead of a return being made on the marriage license, a certified copy of the marriage contract is entered in the book.

The contract in this case was drawn up on parchment and bore elaborate inscriptions. It was signed by between twenty and thirty friends who witnessed the wedding ceremony.

IN POLICE COURT

The case against Mike Kron, who was arrested Monday charged by the Northern Pacific with dumping garbage on the company's right-of-way, was dismissed this morning.

Joe Moran, a cripple, was brought up in police court this morning on a charge of carrying concealed weapons. He promised to leave town this noon, if allowed to go. His plea was granted.

For being brought up on a charge of drunkenness twice in one week, Judge Cutting fined Patrick Kelley and Martin Walsh $12 or ten days. They were committed to jail.

John Atkes, who was arrested last evening on a charge of drunkenness and disorderly conduct, pleaded not guilty in court this morning and his case was set for this afternoon. Atkes drew a knife while in a Michigan street saloon and theatened every one in the room. He attempted to drive the knife through the door, but the blade folded back and cut his hand. He was committed to jail in default of $50 bail.

STORM DRIVES GIRL INTO HYSTERICS

Frightened by the storm of last night, a chambermaid at the Lenox hotel suddenly became hysterical shortly after 3 o'clock this morning and ran out of her room yelling that lightning had struck the building.

A hurried examination was made by the night clerk and it was found that the chambermaid was imagining things. She was in a very nervous state at the time, but was reported much improved this noon.

WILL CELEBRATE ITS ANNIVERSARY

Clan Stewart Will Hold Festivities Lasting Five Days.

Clan Stewart, Order of Scottish Clans, will, beginning Saturday of this week, and continuing until Thursday of next week, celebrate the twenty-fifth anniversary of the formation of the order. The program being arranged will be elaborate.

This first part will take place on Saturday afternoon at the clan's hall, Fourth avenue west and First street. This will be Children's day, and at 3 o'clock in the afternoon there will be shown for the children of about 15 years of age and under stereopticon views of Bonnie Scotland, and a musical entertainment will be given.

On Sunday evening the clan will march in a body to the First Presbyterian church, where a special sermon will be preached by Rev. Robert Yost, the pastor. On Wednesday next, in the evening, a social will be given for clansmen and the elder members of their families.

On Thursday evening at 7:30 a dinner will be given for the clansmen at the Commercial club, and it is expected that a large number will attend. The full program will be announced later.

To Test Hail Insurance Act.

Bismarck, N. D., May 29.—(Special to The Herald.)—The state supreme court June 20 will hear the action involving the constitutionality of the state hail insurance law, which has been attacked in an action brought by State Auditor Jorgenson against State Treasurer Olson.

Black Hills Forest Fires.

Deadwood, S. D., May 29.—Forest fires are again raging in the southern part of the Black Hills in the vicinity of Custer and Hill City.

MARINE NEWS

ALONG THE LAKES

Captains Say Ice Remains Later Than It Has for Thirty Years—Cold Weather Hits Passenger Traffic.

It is more than thirty years now since ice has been encountered in the Great Lakes as late in the season as this, according to steamship captains arriving in the city daily. Several skippers were discussing the subject in the St. Louis hotel today.

"I've never seen so much ice as we struck here in the last thirty-five years I've been sailing the lakes," said one captain who doesn't look the part, and refuses to call himself an old-timer. "It was nearly forty years ago that I was wheeling on the old Japan," he continued. "I remember that it was at that time we struck ice at Marquette about June 1. It was the same kind of ice we find here now, kind of soft like snow. There's no trouble getting through it and you miss that familiar crackling sound that comes when you're pushing through real ice."

Continued cold weather has put a crimp in the early season passenger business on Lake Superior. The Port Huron Steamship company, which has popularized the short lake trip, will start its regular passenger service on June 25, four days later than last year. Already J. W. McLean, western agent, has received many inquiries, particularly from school teachers employed in inland towns. The company's three boats, the Lakeland, Lakewood and Lakeport, have been carrying package freight since the opening of navigation.

The fact that tomorrow is Memorial day won't interfere with the loading and departure of ore boats. Full crews will be worked on both the Missabe and Allouez docks, although there will be no work at several of the Lake Erie ports.

TOLEDO CANAL PLAN TO BE LOOKED INTO

New Type of Vessel Would Be Needed to Make It Pay.

Cleveland, Ohio, May 29.—A report to the war department on the advisability of construction by the government of a ship canal from Toledo soon will be taken up by the advisory board of the war department, which has completed its investigation here. Col. John A. Mills of Newport, R. I.; Maj. Charles Bromwell of Cleveland and Col. George A. Zinn of Chicago constitute the board.

The board's report, it is said, deals chiefly with the comparative saving on cost of transportation over the present lake route, the comparative saving of time over the present lake route, and whether the saving will warrant the expense of construction by the government.

If the canal became a reality, a new type of ship which would be able to pass through the New York state barge canal and to navigate Lake Erie would have to be developed to make the canal a really valuable waterway. An almost direct water route between New York and Chicago and the Lake Superior grain and ore ports, would be the result.

It is understood the canal would follow the routes of the Maumee river, where practicable, and a series of locks in the vicinity of Fort Wayne, Ind., would have to be constructed.

Steamer Strands.

Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., May 29.—(Special to The Herald.)—The steamer Squires parted her wheel chains just after entering the West Neebish channel downbound last night and stranded on the south bank. She is out three feet. The tug Sabin, with lighter, left for her assistance this morning. The damage, if any, is unknown.

CLOQUET EXERCISES.

Seventy-Two Eighth Grade Pupils Given Diplomas at Opera House.

Cloquet, Minn., May 29.—(Special to The Herald.)—Seventy-two pupils received diplomas last evening at the eighth grade commencement, which took place in the Nelson opera house. An operetta, "The Flower Nymph's Surprise" was given, in which Emelia Olson took the part of "Aurora," Carl Hadlund "Apollo" and a chorus of nympha, imps and princes composed of eight grade boys and girls. The singing and drills were very good and the operetta as a whole was a success.

Rev. F. C. Coolbaugh, D. S. T., delivered the commencement address and devoted a large portion of it to condemning unjust criticism of the public schools and extolling the educational facilities in the state of Minnesota. Following the address, Superintendent of Schools Peter Olesen presented the graduates with their diplomas.

ECZEMA SPREAD ALL OVER HER BODY

In Water Blisters. Just Raw. Caused Disfigurement. On Head So Badly Had to Cut Hair. Cuticura Soap and Ointment Cured In 2 Weeks.

Avery, Okla.—"My little girl took the eczema in the summer. It broke out across her back in water blisters and when they would break there would be more blisters come around the first one. She could not stand her clothes to touch her. She wanted to scratch all the time and she was just raw. The eczema was on her face so it caused disfigurement and it spread all over her body and broke out on her head so badly we had to cut her hair.

"I used a salve but it did no good. Then I saw the Cuticura Soap and Ointment advertisement, so I sent for some and when I had used the Cuticura Soap and Ointment twice it began to heal. I would wash her with the Cuticura Soap and then put the Cuticura Ointment on. She was cured in two weeks." (Signed) Mrs. Nina Crowa, Oct. 5, 1912.

For pimples and blackheads the following is a most effective and economical treatment: Gently smear the affected parts with Cuticura Ointment, on the end of the finger, but do not rub. Wash off the Cuticura Ointment in five minutes with Cuticura Soap and hot water and continue bathing for some minutes. This treatment is best on rising and retiring. At other times use Cuticura Soap freely for the toilet and bath, to assist in preventing inflammation, irritation and clogging of the pores. Cuticura Soap (25c.) and Cuticura Ointment (50c.) are sold throughout the world. Liberal sample of each mailed free, with 32-p. Skin Book. Address post-card "Cuticura, Dept. T, Boston."

Men who shave and shampoo with Cuticura Soap will find it best for skin and scalp.

LIKE MARKET DAYS.

Idea Is Proving Very Popular in North Dakota Towns.

Fargo, N. D., May 29.—(Special to The Herald.)—North Dakotans are becoming quite enthusiastic over market days and Saturday half-holidays. On the former some towns hold one and others two-day meetings. Farm products are brought in for competition for prizes and for sale and many attractive exhibits of fat livestock are secured. The exhibits frequently lead to large sales.

VIGOR OF YOUTH FOR WEAK MEN

To be strong and manly, is the aim of every man, and yet how many we find who are wasting the vitality and strength which nature gives them. Instead of developing into the strong, vigorous, manly young fellows that nature intended them to be, they find themselves weak, stunted and despondent—no ambition to do anything. They struggle aimlessly along, sooner or later to become victims of that dread disease, nervous debility; their finer sensibilities blunted and their nerves shattered.

WE CURE MEN'S DISORDERS

We have treated hundreds of men who have long suffered a gradual decline of physical and mental energy as a result of ailments and have been interested in noting the marked general improvement that follows a thorough cure of the chief disorder. Our success in curing difficult cases of long standing has made us the foremost specialists treating men's disorders. This success is due to several things. It is due to the study we have given our specialty; to our having ascertained the exact nature of men's ailments, and to the original, distinctive and thoroughly scientific methods of treatment we employ.

To those in doubt as to their true condition and wish to avoid the serious results that may follow neglect, we offer free consultation and advice, either at our office or through correspondence. If your case is one of the few that has reached an incurable stage, we will not accept it for treatment, nor will we urge our service upon any one. We treat curable cases only and cure all cases we treat.

PROSTATE TROUBLE Inflammation causing burning, irritation or frequent urination, promptly yields to our scientific methods, and is in a very short time promptly cured, no matter of how long standing.

Varicose Enlargement—Knotted or Wormy-Like Condition of Veins on left side, or it may be on the right and both sides—our treatment is what you should have and what you will have to have to be cured right. We do no cutting and you suffer no pain or trouble. All signs disappear.

We cure all people of Uric Acid Diathesis within the shortest time. We guarantee our cures because we know how to successfully clean the body of all poisons. All stomach and bowel troubles will leave you in shortest time. We make you strong and vigorous. Consultation free from 9 to 8; Sunday, 10 to 1. Ask for free instruction book.

CONTRACT LET FOR LIGHTING COURSE

Western Boat Club Will Set Beacons for Its Members.

The Western Boat club let a contract for lighting the river course from the Sixty-first avenue slip to beyond Zenith island, and planned races and a water carnival for July 4, at its meeting held at the Victor hall, 5528 Grand avenue last night. The lighting contract was let to the Bergren Electric company.

It is proposed to place these lights at points several hundred feet apart. The club will stand the entire expense of doing this. It will enable its members to go up or down the river on the darkest nights without danger of running off the course.

A big race meet will be arranged for the afternoon of the national holiday. The race planned for tomorrow was called off owing to many of the boats still being out of commission. The club will also plan a carnival and motor boat parade for the evening of July 4.

Announcement was made that the club would have several trophies to race for this year. Among these are cups donated by Hurst Jewelry company, the Kelly Hardware company and the Murray cup. Merchants of West Duluth have also promised to put up prizes for winners of races. The races will be held at least once a month this season.

MEMORIAL DAY IN THE SCHOOLS

Children Hear Talks From Veterans of Two Wars.

Children of West Duluth entertained royally for members of the Grand Army and Spanish War Veterans in the schools of this end of the city this afternoon. Programs more or less lengthy were given at which patriotic songs, drills, recitations and orations were featured.

The veterans of the two wars, members of the relief corps, Sons of Veterans and members of the Citizens' staff gave short talks to the children. The addresses followed the programs given by the children.

At the Irving school the program was given under the auspices of the Industrial high school and the eighth grade. The visitors who spoke were Comrades Daniel G. Cash, Hiram White and V. S. Wilkinson, Gordon post; Austin Moody and J. W. Morgan, Culver post; L. A. Barnes, Citizens' staff; Frank McCombber, Sons of Veterans; L. S. Larson and C. C. Salter, Diggles camp; A. R. De Vohn, Camp McEwen; Mrs. Williams, Mrs. Mires and Mrs. Mustonen, Women's Relief corps.

The Ely school was visited and addressed by Comrades Austin Moody and F. Knowlton, Culver post; Charles Salter, Citizens' staff; W. G. Holcomb, Sons of Veterans; C. O. Applehagen and M. J. Murray, Diggles camp; Martin Rude, Camp McEwen; Mrs. B. Smith, Ladies of the Grand Army; Mrs. Keeler and Mrs. Anna Filiatrault, Women's Relief corps.

At the Fairmont school the patriotic organizations were represented by Comrades John Diamond and Frank E. Miller, Gorman post; J. W. Joltz, Citizens' staff; B. F. Higgins, Sons of Veterans; P. G. Clarkson, Diggles camp; Charles Loerke, Camp McEwen; Mrs. H. Sawyer, Ladies of the Grand Army; Mrs. Carrie Cox, Mrs. Scheffer and Mrs. Farrington, Women's Relief corps.

YEOMEN INSTITUTE NEW HOMESTEAD.

Nonexcelled Homestead, No. 4276, Brotherhood of American Yeomen, was organized at Gilley's hall, 322 North Central avenue, last night before a crowd of nearly 100 members of Duluth homestead. The new lodge starts life with twenty-five members.

Following the initiatory ceremonies of which J. A. Bellmeur, district manager, had charge, the members elected George Stokes temporary foreman and Mrs. Marie Ermatinger correspondent.

The new lodge arranged to meet twice each month, with the next meeting on June 11. Following the business session the members were entertained at dancing and with refreshments served by the ladies of the Duluth homestead.

Lodge Smoker.

West Duluth lodge, No. 145, A. O. U. W., entertained at a smoker at the Dormedy hall last night. The social session followed the initiation of a large class of candidates at which State Grand Master Workman Joseph Schumaker officiated. Short addresses were given by members.

RAILROAD TO BUILD VIADUCT

President McGonagle Has Promised to Remove Obstacle to Getchell Road.

President W. A. McGonagle of the D., M. & N. railroad promised immediate action in the building of a viaduct for the railroad tracks over Highland street, at a conference yesterday afternoon with a committee of business men representing the West Duluth Commercial club. The work will be started as soon as an agreement can be reached between the engineering department of the railroad and the city engineer's department.

The West Duluth club was represented at the conference by John J. Frey, W. B. Getchell, Thomas Olafson and Emil J. Zauft. The members insisted that some action be taken at once in order that the construction of the Getchell road might be pushed to completion this year. They said that the crossing under the railroad was one of the principal causes preventing this road from being completed.

Ladies' Aid Society.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the Plymouth Congregational church was entertained yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. W. H. Lanners, 616 North Fifty-seventh avenue west. Plans were made for holding an all day meeting next Wednesday at Salter's cabin on Zenith island. Arrangements were also made for holding a cooking sale of June 7, and the annual picnic of June 18.

"MOVIES" AT HERALD OFFICE

Pictures of Parade Will Be Taken on Memorial Day.

Motion pictures of the Memorial day parade tomorrow, a motorcycle race on the boulevard and a number of Duluth streets and buildings are to be taken tomorrow by W. M. Abrahamson of the Empress theater. The pictures will be shown at the theater all of next week, beginning Sunday, after which Mr. Abrahamson will donate them to the Duluth Commercial club.

Mr. Abrahamson stated this morning that arrangements have already been made with a Minneapolis concern to take the pictures of the entire parade. An automobile will be stationed at the corner of Lake avenue and Superior street and another in front of The Herald office.

Following the parade motion pictures will be taken of every large building in Duluth, the bay front and several streets. A motorcycle race will be held on the boulevard during the afternoon, especially for the film.

About 2,000 feet of pictures will be taken during the day and these shown in connection with the regular performance at the Empress theater next week. Mr. Abrahamson will donate the pictures to the Commercial club for advertising purposes.

To Start Soil Survey.

La Moure, N. D., May 29.—(Special to The Herald.)—Prof. Hard of the state geological department at the North Dakota Agricultural college will soon start the Federal soil survey in this county. He is in charge of that work for the state and La Moure is one of the two in the state in which the surveys will be conducted this year.

Building Missouri Ferry.

Garrison, N. D., May 29.—(Special to The Herald.)—A new ferry boat is being constructed at the big bend in the Missouri river from materials taken from here. It will be a forty-horse power affair, and it is anticipated it will bring a great deal of trade from the west side of the river to Garrison.

DIFFICULT TO GET JURY

Slow Progress Is Made in Trial of Two Chinese.

Are Being Prosecuted in District Court on White Slave Charge.

Slow progress is being made in impaneling the jury which will try Albert Q. Lee and Kin Sue, Chinamen, on charges of having enticed and induced a young woman to enter a house of ill fame.

The case was called for trial before Judge Dancer this morning. Up to the noon adjournment only four jurors had been selected. It is expected, however, that the remaining eight will be drawn this afternoon.

Lee, one of the defendants, is manager of the Tuxedo chop suey house, and Kin Sue is a waiter at the same place. They are charged with having made "dates" with two girls, Elizabeth Luce and Dorothy Torvund, stool pigeons for the police department. It is claimed that the girls were directed by the Orientals to the St. James hotel.

The indictments which were returned against the Chinamen by the May grand jury allege that the St. James hotel was at the time of the alleged offense a house of ill fame and that the defendants are guilty of having violated a state law in bringing a female person into the place.

John H. Norton, former county attorney, and Benjamin M. Goldberg, appeared in court for the defendants and Warren E. Greene, county attorney, represented the state in the prosecution.

Judge Dancer, in ruling on the qualifications of a juror this morning, held that a juror disqualified himself from sitting on the case when he swore under oath that he believed the St. James hotel to be a house of ill repute and that it would require evidence to remove the idea from his mind.

The court sustained the contention of Attorneys Norton and Goldberg, counsel for the defense, that it rested upon the state to prove that the St. James hotel was an immoral house and that it was the privilege of the defendants' attorneys to interrogate the jurymen as to their opinions on this question.

Ward Ames, Jr., and A. C. Grockowski, who declared that they entertained a fixed opinion as to the character of the St. James hotel, were challenged by the defense. The challenge was denied by the state, but was found true by the court.

The jurors selected up to noon were Joseph Tostof, Charles H. Farmer, John E. Cripe and W. C. McCrimmons. All declared that they had heard more or less about the reputation of the St. James hotel but had formed no fixed opinion on the matter. Mr. McCrimmons, when asked by County Attorney Greene if he thought that the police were justified in using "stool pigeons" to secure convictions, replied that he was heartily in favor of it.

The case will be taken up again Monday morning. Friday is a holiday in court and Saturday is not a jury day.

ADDITIONAL SPORTS

TRACK STARS TO MEET SATURDAY

Duluth, Superior and Range Schools to Compete for Honors.

With Duluth Central high and Superior Central high pitted against one another in the track and field meet that is to be decided in Superior on Saturday, and with some of the best athletes of several of the range high schools as well as the track team of the Ashland high school, represented, it is believed that some of the interscholastic records of the northern section of Minnesota and Wisconsin will go by the boards.

Captain Matt Brown of the Duluth high school team, perhaps the greatest mile and half mile runner that has ever been developed in this part of the Northwest, is expected to carry off several events for the local school. Brown is to start in the mile and half mile events, according to the statement made today, and with the condition he is in at the present time it is expected that "Scotty" will win both of these events. Brown may also represent Duluth in the relay race.

The Central track team has been training under the direction of Coach Schilling for the past two weeks and it is in the best of condition at the present time. If the local team makes an exceptional showing in the meet of Saturday some of its members may be sent to the Northwestern interscholastic meet, which will be held in Minneapolis within the next two weeks.

BOYS' DEPARTMENT ORGANIZES TEAM.

The boys' department of the Y. M. C. A. has organized a baseball team for the present season. On Saturday the first game of the season will be played with one of the younger teams of Cloquet. Alex Koefed is the manager of the team, and games can be arranged by calling him at the boys' department.

The following boys are out for places on the team: Charles McGuire, William Smith, Arthur Groman, John Drennon, Earl Shaw, Manny Rosenberg, captain; Robert McFarlane, Joe Furne, Arthur Fisher, Sam Gotkin, Percy Ableson, Town Peterson, Gingall, Cullum Knott and John Fee.

RAIN WILL NOT STOP MOTORCYCLE RACES.

The motorcycle races of the Duluth Motorcycle club are to be held on Fifteenth avenue east from Fifth street to the boulevard, and the first race will be called promptly at 2:30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon, according to the statement of the racing committee of the club.

It was also stated today that the rain would not make the least difference in the carrying out of the program, as the course is well graveled.

The races scheduled for tomorrow afternoon are really the first organized speed contests of motorcycles that have been scheduled for this city, and the officials of the club are of the opinion that the program will prove very successful.

Something over thirty entries have been received for the various contests.

Beavers Organize.

The Beaver Juniors have organized for the present season and are open for games with any of the 16-year-old teams of the city. John Maguire is the manager of the Beavers, and will pit his team against any of the teams of the city of the same average age.

BALL PLAYER MAY FACE MURDER CHARGE.

York, Neb., May 29.—Frank Gardiner, manager of the local Nebraska State league baseball club, is in jail here charged with assaulting Harry Hall, aged 20, with a baseball bat last night. Hall is expected to die. Gardiner claims that Hall insulted Mrs. Gardiner.

ILLINOIS MEN FIGHT DUEL IN THE STREET

One, Mortally Wounded, Secures Gun and Shoots Opponent.

Bloomington, Ill., May 29.—Joseph Stoughton and Grant Preble, business men of Lexington, fifteen miles north of here, probably fatally injured each other last evening in a revolver duel in the street.

Stoughton went to the office of an attorney and made his will, then going to the street shot at Preble, who was in front of his house. Preble, shot through a lung, rushed into the house, procured a revolver and fired two bullets into Stoughton, one going through the shoulder and the other puncturing the intestines.

Stoughton is 40 years old and Preble 45. The former is proprietor of a hotel and the latter owns a garage. Remarks which Preble is alleged to have made regarding the character of the hotel are said to have caused the duel.

FULL USE OF INCINERATOR

City Will Utilize Its Long Discarded Drying Bins.

More use will be made of the city incinerator near the foot of Fourteenth avenue west in the future than in the past, according to Health Director Webster.

Although the plant was equipped with drying bins for garbage, no use has been made of them. The wet garbage has been dumped directly into the furnace.

The drying bins have been warped and put out of commission because of their lack of use, but they willl be repaired and utilized. In this way the capacity of the incinerator, eighty tons a day, will be increased. Garbage which has heretofore been left on the dump will be burned.

J. Phalen, engineer at the incinerator, has tendered his resignation to Dr. Webster, and Peter Hanson, a former employe, will succeed him. Dr. Webster said that he desired Phalen to stay as he had not been given an opportunity to show that he could obtain the results possible, but that Phalen did not wish to continue. Considerable attention is to be paid to the incinerator in conjunction with the department's intention to have a sanitary inspection in Duluth which will make the city cleaner than it has ever been before.

The activity of the department is manifested at the incinerator. In the last weeks the quantities of garbage and refuse which have been hauled there have increased greatly and the officials say that results are apparent throughout the city.

HAVE TWO PLANS TO UNSCRAMBLE STOCK

Union Pacific Board Will Submit Both to the Courts.

New York, May 29.—Two alternative plans for the disposition of the $126,650,000 Southern Pacific stock owned by the Union Pacific were approved by the Union Pacific board today. The first contemplates selling the stock to the highest bidders, after the manner of municipal bonds, a minimum bid to be hereafter designated; the second contemplates placing the stock with trustees without voting power, to be later distributed upon affidavit that the owners possess no Union Pacific stock.

Both plans will be submitted to the court for approval, with the request that the company be permitted to elect which it will adopt. Failing court approval, the Union Pacific company will ask that the stock be placed in the hands of a receiver to be named by the courts.

BODY IS FOUND FLOATING IN BAY

Man Had Evidently Fallen From Boat Into the Water.

A floating body was picked up at the foot of Sixth avenue west shortly after 8 o'clock this morning. The body has been taken to the Flood & Horgan morgue.

An examination of the body at the morgue shows no wounds. The man must have fallen into the lake from a boat. He appears to have been a sailor. The body was almost naked when found.

The body has been in the water about a month and is in a good state of preservation. The man was about 45 years old, weighed about 160 pounds and was 5 feet 9 inches tall. He was smooth-faced and almost bald.

MAN SAID TO BE FEIGNING DUMBNESS.

Since yesterday afternoon the police have arrested three men for begging on the streets.

Howard D. Wilson, who claims to be deaf and dumb, was arrested yesterday afternoon while making the rounds of the Providence building. He claims that he is trying to obtain enough money for an education at the state school at Faribault.

J. C. Howard, a local real estate man, who is deaf, examined Wilson yesterday afternoon and stated that he is positive the young man is able to speak, at least. Wilson was brought up in police court this morning, but pleaded not guilty. He will be brought up again this afternoon.

Harry Clarke and Frank Boyle were arrested this morning for begging on the streets. They will be brought up this afternoon.

Accused of Killing Rival.

Schafer, N. D., May 29.—(Special to The Herald.)—Unless a change of venue is taken to Williams or Ward counties, McKenzie county will have a murder trial June 9. It is the case of the State vs. Allen. The latter is charged with the death of Browne Emery because of jealousy.

WILL PASS ON NEW PLATS

Commission Will Be Named to Inspect Proposed Additions.

Also a Sinking Fund Commission as Advisory Board.

City Attorney Harvey S. Clapp has ordinances in preparation providing for a plat commission and a sinking fund commission.

Under present conditions there is no legislation requiring plats and additions to be approved or filed with the city officials. Should this continue, it will cause much trouble and embarrassment. The engineer will have no record to aid him in his work; the treasurer will not be able to ascertain the location of property when the owners of lots in the new divisions come in to pay their assessments and the city assessor will not have the maps and material which are necessary in making his assessments.

Nor are any restrictions placed upon the platting of property. A plat commission would require the streets and avenues to be laid out in conformity to the surrounding streets and avenues and in accordance with the topography of the land, preventing arrangements which will be unsightly and inconvenient. The owners would also be required to file plats with the city officials.

As proposed, the plat commission will consist of the commissioner of public works, the city engineer and the city assessor. The former plat commission consisted of the city engineer, the assessor and the president of the board of public works.

The sinking fund commission would act in an advisory capacity to the commission. Such a commission would keep track of the bond market and aid the city in disposing of its bonds and other securities to the best possible advantage. The members would be the commissioner of finance, the city treasurer and the city attorney. The sinking fund commission was found to be of much assistance under the old form of government and would be able to render much assistance to the commission.

Both ordinances will be introduced at an early meeting of the commission.

GIVES $75,000 FOR PERRY'S MEMORIAL

Bill Passed By Pennsylvania Legislature Is Signed By Tener.

Harrisburg, Pa., May 29.—Governor Tener today signed the bill appropriating $75,000 for the restoration of the frigate Niagara, in which Perry won the battle of Lake Erie, and for the participation of the old vessel in the celebration of the battle. The new act also provides for the erection of a permanent memorial at Lake Erie.

HEBERLING HEAD OF SWITCHMEN.

Houston, Tex., May 29.—S. E. Heberling of Boston was re-elected international grand president of the Switchmen's Union of North America, meeting here in annual convention. He was opposed by G. T. Hawley of Indianapolis. The place of the next meeting will be either St. Louis or Buffalo.

VISITS OLD HOME; KILLED ON RETURN.

Ironwood, Mich., May 29.—(Special to The Herald.)—Otto Swanberg, 26 years old, was killed this morning in D shaft of the East Norrie mine, owned by the Oliver Iron Mining company, by a fall of ground. He lived here for several years, and went to the old country a year ago on a visit. He had just returned to this country and was working his third shift at the mine. Two brothers in this city, named Edward and Oscar Swanberg, survive him.

BJORN OSTBY STILL AT LARGE; BELIEVED TO HAVE LEFT COUNTRY

Although several months have passed since the escape of Bjorn Ostby, the Duluth boy who shot and killed his father, from the state hospital for the criminal insane at St. Peter, Minn., no trace of him has been found.

It was a matter of general belief at the time of young Ostby's escape that he had been assisted in a well-planned scheme in which he had a number of confederates. Friends were known to have visited him a few days before he broke away from the institution.

Local officials believe that Osthy has been spirited out of the country or at least out of the state, or where there would be any probability of his being recognized or detected.

Ostby was acquitted of the murder of his father by a jury on the ground that he was insane when the act was committed and consequently not responsible. He was committed by the district court to the state hospital for the criminal insane.

August Boo, wife murderer, has been hte only other man sent from Duluth to St. Peter since Ostby's commitment. Boo killed his wife with a knife. The jury which tried him early in 1912 found him not guilty on the ground of insanity. He was committed.

DR. RASTALL WILL ADDRESS FARGO CLUB.

Fargo, N. D., May 29.—"Community Upbuilding" will be the subject of Dr. Rastall of Duluth, speaking at the Commercial club meeting this evening. The subject is one which the speaker has studied from many viewpoints.

The address of Dr. Rastall will follow a luncheon which will be served the members at 8 in the club dining rooms. There will be some general discussion and an opportunity for a social hour.

EXTRAS IN THE COLONIAL DAYS

Newspapers Printed Special Editions Way Back in Days of Revolution.

Harper's Weekly: Fortunately there is one who knows about all sorts of old New York history, one who was born on Manhattan island when it contained one small city and any number of sprawling villages, yet who is still a young middle-aged man without one gray hair in his head—Charles White, of Corlears Hook, in the old Seventh ward. At first he was for showing me the similarity between the local barkers and Pheidippides, who ran all the way from Marathon to Athens, cried "Nikin!" and died, their likeness to the ancient heralds who ran, shouting victories of the distant legions, through the streets of Rome; but when it was pointed out that these were the precursors of all news bulletin service, while our local barkers are highly specialized and very different, he relented.

"Our barkers began in an altogether different way," said Mr. White, "and it's a curious thing to see that the tactics they used at first to drown out one another's cries are used now in partnership to shock the public into buying papers. The first fellows to run and shout extras through the streets of New York were the carriers who delivered papers at the time of the American revolution. Hanover square was the printing house row of the city in those days. Little old New York was pretty small then, but it supported four newspapers. James Rivington's Royal Gazette made the most of every victory of the King's troops, and every time the Continentals won Mr. Lewis rushed out an extra of the New York Mercury and General Advertiser. As these newspapers had no war correspondents or reporters, and as such things as telegraphs and telephones or railroads had not been dreamed of, you can imagine how every battle was reported at first as a victory for each side. The result at Bunker Hill was published both ways in New York. Why, even the battle of Monmouth, right at home, down the Jersey coast, was falsely reported, and for eight days the little old town was wildly excited, patriots and royalists each hoping for the best of it, while the trimmers, waiting to see which side of the fence to fall on, were so worried they couldn't sleep.

"The papers in those days—funny little sheets—were served by carriers who went over certain regular routes, as far north as Greenwich village on the west side of Corlears Hook on the east. In times of the wildest excitement carriers might work as far north as Kip's bay, about the Thirty-fourth street ferry of today, while some rowed across the river and ran to Brooklyn, Williamsburgh and even to Bushwick.

Can't you see those old-time carriers?—husky young fellows they had to be to run far and lug a load of papers on their arms, and still be able to yell. Many a time I think of 'em, in their old three-cornered hats and knee breeches and big, square-toed shoes, chasing up the Broad way or Queen street. Here goes a pair up Cherry street, waking the people out of their beds.

"'Yux-tree! Yux-tor! Extra edition! Royal Gazette! Full account of the royal army's victory in the Jersey! The rebel Washington slain! Read the extra Royal Gazette.'

"That's all very well for the Tory barker, but now listen to the patriot barker across the street getting back at him:

"'Yux-tree! Mercury an' Advertiser! Great American victory near Monmouth! General Washington kills half the red-coats an' captures the rest. Don't believe Jemmy Rivington's lies! Read the extraw!'

"These fellows served papers along the same routes—more lanes than streets. Ordinarily the rival papers had different publication days, so the carriers didn't clash; but when the war extras were issued they always tried to outrun and outyell and outslang each other. Believe me, the big black scareheads and the bellowing barkers didn't begin with the Spanish war.'

It was most entertaining to hear Mr. White sketch the history of the barkers. They didn't stop their clamor when the defeat of Lord Cornwallis brought peace. The old New York shipping merchants, who lived above their counting rooms along South and Front streets, and Peck and Coenties and Burling slips, used to advertise their rival cargoes in the rival newspapers. Then the carriers would trot up the streets yelling fiercely: "Yuxtor. The good ship Princess is in from Canton with silks and teas. Don't miss that grand auction at Mr. Stone's warehouse at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning!" against which the man across the street would read: "Extry! Extor! Full account o' the good ship Polly an' Ann, just in with coffee and rum and molasses from South America. Go to the auction at Mr. Brewer's at 10 tomorrow. Extry! Extor!"

THE AGE OF A FISH.

Indianapolis News: The age of a fish is not at all indicated by the size, and scientists were for a long time unable to arrive at any accurate determination of the age of a fish. Within more recent times it has been discovered that many of the bones, scales and otoliths of fishes have annual age rings, resembling those in tree trunks, and by means of these investigators have determined the rate of growth of plaice, showing that some specimens attain the age of twenty-five or even as much as twenty-nine years. Age can now be correlated with size and weight, although it appears that the sexes have a different rate of growth.

The DOCTOR'S HELPS

By DONALD McCASKEY, M. D.
Member of Staff, General Hospital, Lancaster, Pa.; Fellow of the New York Academy of Medicine

SYPHILIS; YOUR CONDITION IS NOT HOPELESS

There is no class of men more earnestly called upon to observe and keenly study out scientific and very practical methods of relief for the sick and diseased than the bona fide honorable physician. He must study life and the ravages of illness from all angles. Oftentimes a sufferer in the grip of disease becomes discouraged. Apparently there is no avenue for further aid, such patients think, and depression, with its loss of hope and courage, is permitted to undermine the system's buoyancy of spirit.

To those who have felt this condition coming upon them I want to urge that NO BOGEY-MAN FEARS SHOULD BE PERMITTED TO HAUNT, LIKE A GHOST, THEIR MINDS AND THOUGHTS. Don't let your energies be sapped by borrowing trouble. Hunt up a thoroughly competent, studious doctor. Then believe what he says, when you take counsel with him. It is necessary in this world to believe somebody. We cannot get along by mistrusting everyone and everything. The average physician is as trustworthy as is high grade steel, and he appreciates a patient's confidence and belief in him.

I want to urge the writer of the following letter to STICK TO HIS LOCAL PHYSICIAN. Don't drift away. The letter reads: "As a reader of your articles in our daily paper I appeal to you for advice. Some six or seven years ago I was unfortunate and contracted syphilis. I took treatment for two years, after which I became discouraged from the slow results. I did not take any more medicine for three years. All this time, both with and without the medicine, there was a sore on my tongue. I tried different anesthetics on it, but all failed to cause it to heal.

"About one year ago I had one injection of '606' and the sore disappeared. About six months later my tongue began to get sore again in the same old place. Then my head and stomach began to give me trouble and I had much pain in both, with great distress, after eating.

"A month ago I consulted a doctor and he advised my having a blood test made. This I did, and the doctor said the test proved 'negative.' My headaches and stomach pains, he said, were the result of the bad straining condition of my eyes. I had an oculist to examine my eyes, and one week ago he prescribed glasses, since which time my headache and stomach are not so bad, and I feel much better. But my tongue is still sore. Smoking increases its pain. The doctor thinks it is due to my smoking and says it does not appear to be a syphilitic sore.

"What I wish to ask you is this: Could there be such a thing as this syphilis disease not showing up in that blood test which was made, and at the same time still have my glands and bones infected? One more question which I shall appreciate your answering is, 'Did this 606 affect my eyes?' I explained about my disease to the oculist, and he said the 606 injection did not cause my eye trouble.

"I wish you would let me know just where I stand, for it is a sad plight I am in."

I shall not even mention this man's initials. He can recognize his reproduced letter, and perfect confidence will be preserved.

My judgment in this instance is that you are not hopelessly up against it. The local sore on your tongue may be from some other cause. It may be tubercular. It might be a cancer just starting. Your blood test being negative in its reaction looks very favorable for you, and while this Wasserman blood test occasionally fails to tell the truth, if it is properly carried out in the laboratory its results are fairly reliable. You have given me very meagre data, but if there is no syphilis poison in your blood there is none in your glands or bones. Rest assured on that point. The "606" injection did not affect your eyes. You will have to cut out any further worrying about yourself. It will sap your vitality very fast. Show your doctor this advisory counsel, and STICK TO WHAT HE ADVISES YOU TO DO. Thyroid Extract is sometimes forceful in morbid growths.

TICKETS GOING FOR LARK O' THE LAKE

Summer Entertainments to Be Financed By Business Houses.

The members of the general committee on the Lark O' the Lake at Duluth are directing their attention at present principally to the sale of tickets for the series of entertainments.

The entire cost of the summer festivals will be borne by the sale of tickets to business men, the tickets to be distributed free to visitors from the surrounding country. The tickets are in the hands of representatives of the various lines of business, and at a meeting of the general committee yesterday W. N. Hart, treasurer, reported that the sales have been very satisfactory.

The advertising feature of the committee's work is also being pushed. Business men will be urged to use on their outside correspondence an invitation reading "Lark O' the Lake at Duluth. Come for fun." The travelers on the trade excursion next week will also carry a supply of Lark O' the Lake advertising for distribution along the route.

ENGINEERS WILL MEET IN DULUTH

State Convention Will Be Held Here During July.

The Minnesota State Association of the National Stationery Engineers will hold its annual convention in Duluth on July 16-18. Over 250 members of the organization are expected to attend the gathering.

J. B. Crane of the Great Northern Power company, who is president of the state association, stated this morning that arrangements are to be made for 250 guests and a program is now being prepared by the local chapter. It is planned to include a manufacturers' exhibit as part of the convention, according to Mr. Crane.

Mr. Crane announced this morning that a special meeting of the Duluth and Superior engineers will be held on June 18 at the Spalding hotel, where the final arrangements for the convention will be made. James McGeary, state secretary, will be present at the meeting.

WOMAN DIES OF POISON DOSE.

Philadelphia, May 29.—Another death from mercury taken by mistake for headache tablets has occurred here. The victim, Mrs. Louise Zimmerman, 25 years old, took the poison eleven days ago. She quickly discovered her mistake, a physician was summoned and she was taken to a hospital.

Until Tuesday Mrs. Zimmerman felt confident that she would recover and, in discussing the death of B. Sanders Walker at Macon, Ga., said to her husband: "I ought to get well, I took such a small dose."

Her temperature and pulse were normal until shortly before death, when she complained that she felt as though paralyzed. Physicians at the hospital entertained hopes of effecting a cure and say the fact that the woman lived for eleven days is remarkable.

FEDI DELEGATE TO CONVENTION

Duluth Typographical Union Elects Delegate After Warm Contest.

Henry L. Fedi was yesterday elected delegate from Duluth Typographical union, No. 136, to the annual convention of the international union to be held at Nashville, Tenn., on August. Mr. Fedi was elected after a lively contest. He received 45 votes to 36 for Edwin Anderson and 11 for W. E. Towne. Maurice Cohen was elected alternate. He had no opposition.

Officers of the Duluth union were elected as follows:

Edward M. Grace, president; S. S. McDonald, vice president; John A. Barron, Ben Bredeson, Charles W. Carlson, trustees; Rupert Asplund, A. G. Catlin, W. B. Zuehlke, executive board; Herbert N. Wilson, recording secretary; Edgar T. Huges, secretary-treasurer; Peter C. Simons, sergeant-at-arms; A. G. Catlin, delegate to state federation of labor; Verne L. Baker, A. G. Catlin and S. S. McDonald, delegates to trades assembly; F. W. Bergman, Ben Bredeson, Charles W. Carlson, I. T. U. and local auditors.

St. Paul Girl Drowns.

St. Paul, Minn., May 29.—Miss Edith Tschanndell, 16 years old, was drowned in Lake Phalen Tuesday night when she fell from a boat while changing from one seat to another. Carl Carlson and a girl companion, who were also in the boat, cried for assistance, and Joe Saul swam out to the boat. After diving several times he succeeded in recovering the girl's body. Efforts to bring her to life failed.

Bright's Disease

"I was taken with Bright's disease of the kidneys. I went to a doctor. He analyzed my urine and said I could not live. I began taking Warner's Safe Kidney and Liver Remedy and Warner's Safe Nervine. In four months I was cured."—H. B. Sparks, Hydesville, Cal.

is a disease, the thought of which holds terrors for most people, yet all cases are not necessarily fatal. Bright's disease follows neglect of the early stages of kidney disease and failure to take a good efficient remedy and correct kidney trouble in its incipiency.

Warner's Safe Kidney and Liver Remedy has proved most effective in the condition which makes possible the insidious advances of disease of the kidneys when taken in time. Warner's Safe Kidney and Liver Remedy has brought welcome relief and a return of health to sufferers for over 36 years, as thousands testify. Many would not risk experiment with any other remedy; they know Warner's to be the best obtainable. It is pleasant to take. 50c and $1.00 sizes sold everywhere by druggists. VETERANS AT SCHOOLS

Annual Memorial Day Visits to West End Buildings.

Children in Each School Give Program of Patriotic Exercises.

Veterans of the Civil and the Spanish-American wars were guests of West end schools this afternoon. The veterans were entertained by the children with patriotic songs, recitations, flag drills and other patriotic exercises given under the auspices of the teachers.

The thinning ranks of the veterans brought out only a few to each of the institutions. Short talks were given by these men of the battles and campaigns in which they took part when the honor of their country was at stake.

At the Bryant school Comrades Amasa H. Merriman and W. Broullette represented the G. A. R. and T. L. Chisholm and C. E. French, the Spanish war veterans, and M. E. Hellar, the Sons of Veterans. They gave short talks. The following program was given by the children:

"The Flag," Roland Hoch; May song, seven girls of room 12; recitation, "The Pilot," Esther Madison; "Roll Call," room 11; song, "Lullaby," Evelyn Jason; recitation, room 10; piano solo, Olive Wood; "A Patriotic Evening Down South," room 8; "Soldiers' Songs," room 2; poem, "For My Country," room 4; song, "A Scout of Uncle Sam," room 5; soldier drill, room 7; song, "The First Flag," room 6; hoop and flag drill, seventh and eighth grades; duo of two little dances, room 3; "Barbara Frietchle," room 1.

At the Adams School.

Cook Ely of Culver post, G. A. R., W. O. Flodin and P. W. Swedberg of the Spanish War Veterans and A. C. Hellar of the Sons of Veterans were the principal speakers at the Adams school. The children gave the following program:

Song, "Battle Hymn of the Republic," school; address of welcome, Herbert Anderson; recitation, "Our Honored Dead," Raymond Erickson; song, "The Soldier's Mourning Song," room 12; "The Origin of Memorial Day," Dorothy Kearns; recitation, "The Cumberland," Harold Larson; flag drill, sixteen girls, fifth grade; song, "Memorial Day Hymn," school; recitation, "The Best Decoration," Ruth Nyman; patriotic paper doll drill, ten girls, fifth grade; concert recitation, "The Flag," fifth grade; song, "His Buttons Are Marked U. S.," Charlie Lorentzson and chorus; recitation, "Our Flag," Lee Huhn; recitation, "Lincoln's Gettysburg Address," Lester Anderson; recitation, "An Old Veteran Talks," Roy Johnson; song, "Tenting on the Old Camp Ground," school; exercise, "Memorial Flowers," four girls, room 12; recitation, "The Last Old Soldier," Mildred Dahl; recitation, "The Southern Volunteer," Harold Sherman; "His Northern Brother," Evelyn Smith; song, "Vacant Chair," school; salute to the flag, school; song, "The Star Spangled Banner," school; addresses by representatives from the G. A. R. and auxiliray organizations; song, "America," school.

Children at the Monroe school entertained with songs, drills and recitations. The addresses were given by Comrades S. W. Clark and S. C. McCormick, Culver post; Dr. D. H. Day, Citizens' staff; A. L. Foster, Sons of Veterans; H. A. Hanson, Diggles camp; C. E. Haines, Camp McEwen; Mrs. Armstrong, Mrs. Nellie Mellin and Mrs. Kate Brown, Women's Relief corps.

At the Lincoln.

Each of the eighteen rooms of the Lincoln school was represented in the Decoration day program this afternoon. The program included patriotic speeches, national songs, musical numbers and various drills by the children. The speakers representing the patriotic societies were Comrades James E. Goodman and T. H. Pressnell, Culver post; R. R. Forward, Citizens' staff; F. G. Hanson, Diggles camp; G. J. Sherman, Camp McEwen; Mrs. Dice, Mrs. Hyde and Mrs. Paulson, Women's Relief corps.

At the Madison school the veterans were entertained with a well balanced program given by the children. The veterans were represented by Charles Coya of the G. A. R.; L. Lohmann, R. M. Weaver and J. D. Schweiger of the Spanish veterans; W. A. Abbott of the Sons of Veterans, and several members of the Women's Relief corps.

Veterans of the two wars gave short talks at the Emerson school following a program given by the children. The men and women representing the patriotic organizations who attended were Comrades Thomas W. Streeter and Theophilus Wilson, Gorman post; Odin Halden, Citizens' staff; P. C. Busha, Sons of Veterans; E. G. Simpson and William Pfitzmeier, Diggles camp; W. L. Pierce, Camp McEwen; Mrs. L. Johnson, Ladies of the Grand Army; Mrs. Holt, Mrs. Considine and Mrs. Olund of the Women's Relief corps.

STREET CAR MEN WILL WRESTLE

Martin Nelson and Andrew Olson Will Decide Championship.

The middleweight championship of the street railway employes is in question. Two of the men claim the title and from present indications they will battle for the honor on June 10.

The claimants are Martin Nelson, a motorman, and Andrew Olson, a conductor. Both men have been in training for several weeks, taking regular exercise three times each week at the Y. M. C. A.

A request will be made by followers of the game of the company to furnish a mat for the club rooms so that the wrestling fans of the car barns may spend more time in training.

Nelson will wrestle at 156 pounds, while Olson claims he tips the scale at 150. The latter said this morning that he was not a bit afraid of the difference in weight, claiming that his cleverness would easily offset this.

Mr. Olson said that the present arrangements for the match were for the evening of June 10 at the Y. M. C. A. It is understood that as large a delegation of street car men as possible will attend the match and watch its outcome with interest. Three other men in the same class have announced that they will challenge the winner for later dates.

IMPROVEMENTS FOR CENTRAL PARK

Hillside Residents Will Ask Commissioners to Make Annual Appropriation.

Improvements of a substantial nature for Central park will be asked by residents of the West end. The subject will be taken up by the West End Hillside Improvement club and the West End Commercial club at an early date. It is proposed to ask the commissioners to make provisions in the next tax levy for spending at least $2,000 annually in placing the park in condition so that people can get in and out of it.

The park property is located north of First street between Thirteenth and Sixteenth avenues and reaching to the boulevard. The location is one of the most picturesque in the city and affords visitors a splendid view of the lake, harbor and the surrounding country.

The hillside residents will also ask the rebuilding of the retaining wall which in past years created the Twin lakes. This was washed away in the heavy storm in 1909. These lakes, located adjacent to the boulevard, were one of the beauty spots of the famous drive. It was also a popular place with the young people during the winter time, hundreds of them at times spending the afternoons and evenings skating on the ice.

DULUTH MEMBERS .. WILL NOT INSURGE

Woodmen Instruct Delegates to Stand By the Order.

Delegates from the Duluth camps of the M. W. A. to a district camp meeting to be held in this city on June 6, at which all camps in the Eighth congressional district will be represented, will vote against the proposed secession of the insurgent element of the order.

They were so instructed at a special meeting held last evening at Woodmen hall in the West end. The delegates were given the credentials.

The raising of the lodge rates 300 per cent last year is the reason for the proposed secession and movement to organize a new benefit company.

Local officials of the order say that the new Woodmen would not have the same standing and advantage under the law as the old organization and that they would be forced to pay an even higher rate.

The matter will be threshed out at the district convention here next week.

ANNUAL BANQUET OF BRYANT ALUMNI.

The Bryant school alumni association entertained at its annual banquet at the school last night. The affair was attended by about 170 students, alumni members and teachers.

The banquet was served by fifteen girls of the Seventh grade, members of the domestic science department. The tables were prettily decorated with the colors of the alumni pink and green.

Miss Clara Goodhand was toastmistress. Responses to toasts were given by Miss Hazel Moir, Miss Hortense Carr, Percy Carey, Jarl Hanson and Miss Katherine King.

MAY FESTIVAL. OF LADIES' AID.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the Trinity English Lutheran Swedish Lutheran church this evening. A program of a patriotic nature has been prepared.

The principal address will be given by Prof. E. P. Gibson of the Central high school. He will give a Memorial address. The program will also include vocal and instrumental numbers Following the program the ladies will conduct a sale of fancy articles and serve refreshments.

WEST END PEOPLE BEAUTIFY STREETS.

A campaign for beautifying the streets of the West end is under way. It is planned to set out trees on many of the streets along the curbing and park the parts between the curbs and sidewalks.

On some of the streets this has already been done. Those back of the movement are setting out trees in front of their homes and have already sodded the ground between the curbing and sidewalk.

"We intend making this end of the city a beauty spot if possible," said a resident of Twenty-seventh avenue yesterday. "The example of a few of the property owners is rapidly being followed by others. In a few years we will have well developed shade trees along our streets.

"Duluth has few enough of these trees, possibly fewer than a great many cities of the country of the same size. If the movement is systematically carried out there is no reason why we should not make a reputation for Duluth as a city with well shaded streets."

SCHOOLMASTERS HOLD MEETING

E. P. Gibson Chosen President of the New Club.

E. P. Gibson was elected president of the Schoolmasters' club, an organization of the men of the high school faculties, at the Y. M. C. A. last evening. The election followed an informal banquet at which President Gibson acted as toastmaster.

Other officers chosen were: J. P. Taylor, vice president; F. B. Carey, secretary; F. A. Foster, treasurer; Leonard Young, G. A. Wyley and W. H. Benson, executive committee.

The club was organized last February with a membership of thirty. Its purpose being to create a better acquaintance among the male members of the high school faculty. One of its lines of endeavor has been to secure employment for boys during the summer and after school hours and to aid students in choosing their profession or vocation.

At the meeting last evening, several selections were furnished by a quartet composed of D. R. Carman, A. G. Alexander, E. P. Gibson and D. W. Hiestand.

The members of the club during the summer vacation propose to prepare educational topics for discussion at the club meetings next year.

YOUTHFUL ELOPERS MAY BE IN DULUTH

Did Miss Ruth Yope, a 15-year-old miss and Adam Fry, her 20-year-old sweetheart, who are believed to have eloped from their home town, Stillwater, on May 12 last, come to Duluth?

Authorities at Stillwater and relatives of the youthful elopers have entertained this suspicion and have written Sheriff John R. Meining for information.

The sheriff has been asked to keep his eye open for them.

Since May 12 they have been missing and despite the efforts of relatives to find them, their whereabouts are still unknown.

MAY LIMIT WORK.

House Democrats Will Caucus on Plans Monday.

Washington, May 29.—Democrats of the house will caucus next Monday to consider a resolution to limit legislation during the extra session to tariff, currency and possible emergency appropriations and to pass upon committee assignments, Democratic Leader Underwood, who will present the committee selections of all three parties also is expected to introduce the resolution outlining the house program for the session.

The call for the caucus was issued by Representative Palmer of Pennsylvania, chairman. Some speech-making on the committee assignments is expected, particularly concerning the good roads committee, the creation of which is opposed by some economy advocates. The ways and means committee majority's unfavorable attitude toward the proposal for a committee on public health probably will be discussed, too.

Convicted of Assaulting Wife.

Bismarck, N. D., May 29.—Ben Larson, a farmer residing near Wing, was found guilty in the district court of assaulting his wife with a deadly weapon with intent to kill. He was fined $100 and sentenced to twenty days in the county jail. On May 10, after a dispute over a game of cards, Larson was said to have shot at his wife, the bullet, however, missing its mark. Mrs. Larson has instituted proceedings for a separation.

PROMINENT SCHOOL TEACHER

Relieved of a Severe Case of Nervousness by Pe-ru-na.

Mrs. R. C. Moore.

Mrs. R. C. Moore, 106 Sharer street, San Antonio, Texas, who has been prominent as a school teacher, writes:

"It gives me pleasure to testify to the merits of Peruna.

"I suffered from general debility, nervous prostration and a severe cough. Peruna cured me."

Stomach and Liver Trouble.

Mrs. M. P. Curry, P. O. Box 615, Petersburg, Ill., writes:

"I have been troubled with internal catarrh since my girlhood, and was sick in bed for three months. I had pains all through me. When I was able to get up I was so weak and thin that I could hardly walk. What I ate disagreed with me. I had stomach and liver trouble, and my feet and limbs were swollen so I could scarcely drag around.

"I took Peruna and it has done wonders for me. My cure was a surprise to my friends, for they never expected to see me well again. I just took two bottles of Peruna after doctoring for five months and growing worse all the time."

Persons who object to liquid medicines can now obtain Peruna Tablets.

PASSENGER SERVICE ON NEW SOO BRANCH.

Passenger service will be inaugurated on the new Drake-Devils Lake-Fordville line of the Soo line on June 15, according to notice received by local officials of the road.

When freight service was instituted on the line some months ago a rich new territory in North Dakota was opened to Duluth shippers. The country is developing rapidly, and when the new passenger service via Tolley River Falls between Duluth and Winnipeg and the coast is instituted, the new territory will also be connected up with the Head of the Lakes in a passenger way.

C. A. CONGDON IS MODEST

Makes Light of His Own Part in Lake Shore Boulevard Project.

Declares That Contribution of Million Dollars Will Not Be Necessary.

Chester A. Congdon has returned to Duluth after a month's absence and on his return he takes occasion modestly to declare that the proposed boulevard to Two Harbors will not cost $1,000,000, and also to disclaim any large part for himself in the undertaking.

Writing to The Herald, Mr. Congdon says:

"Returning home after an absence of a month from the state, I find that again has the exhilarating atmosphere of Lake Superior made a mountain out of a molehill, and that as a result I am credited with having given, or promised to give, $1,000,000 to the city of Duluth. Under the circumstances my silence would be equivalent to such a declaration.

"The letter, which you publish, addressed to the city council and signed by Messrs. Nolte, Rogers and myself, is the only statement, so far as I know, which has ever been made by anybody relative to any definite action concerning the lake shore driveway. You will note two important facts stated in it: First, that it relates to a roadway only from Lester river to the east line of St. Louis county; second, that the only definite statement as to what is proposed to be done in the matter is the following: 'We understand that if any condemnation proceedings are taken, as they necessarily must be, funds will be forthcoming to pay the damages assessed, always providing that such assessment of damages is reasonable in the opinion of the contributors.'

Modest Promise.

"You will observe that this is not much of a promise, yet out of it alone has grown the $1,000,000 boulevard. Surely this is another illustration of the wonderful productivity of our marvelous climate.

"The proposed driveway will be about eleven and one-half miles long. If it were to cost $1,000,000 it would be at the rate of approximately $87,000 a mile. Such a cost per mile would be out of all reason, at least until we have a city here of several times our present population.

"Again, if such a roadway did cost $1,000,000, it would benefit the land abutting on it more than twice its cost, because it will ultimately be lined with houses of those who live in a warm climate, and who will seek relief here during the summer. I know of no highway around Duluth which will be so great a benefit to the adjacent property in proportion to its cost as will this.

"No reason occurs to me why the city of Duluth or anyone else should make a present of this value to such property owners. A majority of the ownership does not ask it but have cheerfully offered to give the land necessary for this lake shore road. If those who refuse to do this are awarded reasonable damages for that part of their land taken, Mr. Nolte and I know of contributors who will give the city money necessary to pay the awards.

"So far as I know, the manner of improving this driveway, and its cost, has never been considered by anyone; and I doubt if there is any person who has any idea whatever as to such cost. After we get the driveway it will be time enough to think about its improvement.

While Land Is Cheap.

"Mr. Nolte and I have been striving to get for the city, while land is cheap, a lake shore driveway, which, like our boulevard, can be properly improved when the appropriate time shall arrive. To expend $1,000,000 on it now, while there are so few people to use it, would, in my judgment, be a great waste of money. I trust the time will soon come, however, when it can be wisely improved.

"The great lamor involved in negotiating with all the property owners along the proposed driveway has been done by Mr. Nolte without compensation. Indeed, he has done more for the project than have I.

"You can readily see from the foregoing that the pleasant things you have said about me in this connection are wholly unmerited. I find that it is more difficult to endure undeserved commendation than it is undeserved abuse.

"The statement that I am to give $1,000,000 to Duluth implies another fact which I feel called upon to deny, viz: That millions are so plentiful in my pocket that the giving of one is a mere bagatelle.

"Thanks again to the exuberance of our climate, the amount of my savings has been grossly exaggerated by the gossip of the street, and while I would be glad if I could give a million every few days, the fact is that that amount of money is to me a very large sum.

"I regret exceedingly that I was not at home when this million-dollar story started, so that I could have promptly denied it.

"It is far from pleasant to write so personally, but even this seems to me better than by silence to practically restate the facts upon which is based the credit so generously but undeservedly given me. Yours truly,

"CHESTER A. CONGDON."

Duluth, Minn., May 28, 1913.

water and all the cellars along Tower avenue are flooded. Banks avenue between Second and Third streets is covered with water. Grand avenue, on which the normal school is located, is a river.

Damage in Yards.

The heavy damage to the Soo line yards was caused by the backing up of the water in the K-street ravine behind the embankment of the Duluth, South Shore & Atlantic at Twenty-eighth street. The embankment gave way before the pressure of the water and the torrent rushed down the ravine to the Soo line yards. The ravine had been filled over at this point and a large culvert left for drainage, but it was insufficient to carry away the water which soon rose above the level of the yards and flooded them.

Eight of the tracks which crossed the ravine on the embankment were carried out, only the main line which crossed on a bridge remaining and this structure was weakened to such an extent that it was impossible to run trains across it.

The water sweeping across Banks avenue, between Second and Third streets, tore up the paving for a considerable distance and made a hole in it ten feet deep.

The basements of all the Tower avenue department stores were flooded to the depth of from two to five feet and the damage will amount to thousands of dollars. The rain poured through the roof of the Broadway apartment hotel, which was being repaired, and flooded the building. It was necessary to call the fire department during the night to pump the water out of the building and the fire engines are all busy today pumping water out of basements in the business district.

At the height of the storm the residence of E. C. Ames, at the South end was struck by lightning and burned to the ground.

carrying 330 workmen from West Duluth to the steel plant was unable to proceed further than Spirit Lake and the St. Paul passenger train on the Northern Pacific leaving the city at 5 o'clock was unable to go beyond Smithville, backing up from that point and going by the way of Superior.

Water in Street Car.

The downpour was probably the heaviest shortly before 3 o'clock. A returning owl car from Seventy-first avenue at about 4 o'clock was caught in three feet of water at Fifty-seventh avenue, the water washing into the motorman's vestibule. Almost all basements including those of the new Ramsted building, the Nelson block and Foubister building on Fifty-seventh avenue and Grand were filled. The Ramsted building was flooded because of a backing up of the sewer.

Track Washed Away.

Two hundred feet of the Northern Pacific railroad track between New Duluth and Fond du Lac was washed out isolating the latter suburb from the city. In the flat just east of the Fond du Lac station twelve families were compelled to abandon their homes at 4 o'clock this morning owing to the rapidly rising water which threatened destruction to the buildings.

The heaviest loser from the result of the flood at Fond du Lac is probably Fred Johnson whose barn and basement were flooded. Mr. Johnson had nearly $1,000 worth of vegetables and grain stored in the place and all is believed to have been practically destroyed. At 6 o'clock this morning two feet of water covered the entire flat but was rapidly receding.

Pumphouse Flooded.

The pumphouse of the newly installed water plant at New Duluth was under water. In the low ravine west of Commonwealth avenue the residences of Frank Tinkham, John Carlson and J. Moe were compelled to move out.

At this place, just west of the New Duluth station the tracks of the Northern Pacific were washed out for a distance of 200 feet. Almost the entire roadbed between the suburbs was more or less damaged by the storm.

The Fond du Lac schoolhouse is located in the flooded district of that suburb and sessions of the school had to be abandoned this morning.

The St. Louis river above the suburbs is very high and threatened to destroy many of the small docks lining the banks. It is said that some of the summer homes located on the lower islands have been flooded and are in danger of being washed away. None are as yet inhabited but in several cases the owners have taken out summer supplies and these are believed to have been destroyed.

Cloudburst.

Reports from all sections of Midway, Smithville and the western part of the city indicate that the storm amounted to a cloudburst. Stewart's creek at Smithville was a raging torrent and washed out eight feet of the fill in Clyde avenue at Ninety-third avenue west and further down the street near the Spirit Lake end washed out eleven feet of the street.

Claus Johnson's home in Spirit Lake was undermined and partially wrecked. The culvert at Ninety-third avenue was too small to care for the heavy flow and washed out.

Fear was expressed that the Eighty-third avenue fill on Grand avenue had been washed out. This was only partially damaged although the corduroy roadway used for teams was entirely washed away, cutting off all team communication with the western suburbs.

The Canadian Northern railroad yards at Sixty-ninth avenue was covered with mud several inches deep and all traffic on the road is at a standstill. Several stretches of the roadbed west of Smithville, at Shortline Park, Nopeming and other places were washed out. At the foot of Ramsey street two culverts under the railroad's tracks were damaged.

N. W. Murray, a farmer near the Nopeming sanitarium, said that many places of the Thomson road had been washed out. He said that the storm was the worst that had ever struck Midway. Mission Creek which runs through the district, at 6 o'clock this morning was a torrent and was wider than St. Louis river when normal. Ordinarily it is only a small creek.

Damage to Roadbed.

The principal damage to the Northern Pacific roadbed is on the main line just east of Smithville. Fifty feet of track was damaged. The road's heavy fill at Eighty-first avenue is believed to be the only thing that saved the fill being made by the city on Grand avenue.

The heating plant of Fire hall No. 8 at West Duluth was put out of commission. The water filled the basement placing the entire plant under water.

The incline of the Duluth Belt Line railroad was damaged slightly, causing a suspension of service to Bay View Heights. It is expected to resume operation by this evening.

Lightning struck the home of John F. Merritt, Fortieth avenue west and Seventh street, but did no further damage than to burn out the insulators of both telephone and electric wires. The family was awakened by a terrific crash and to the members it looked as if a streak of fire had gone through the home.

As far as could be learned no one was injured during the storm.

Northern Pacific officials placed a crew of men immediately at work repairing damage done to its tracks. Although they do not give any encouragement as to sending trains out to the western suburbs today, they believe that schedule time will probably be made tomorrow as far as New Duluth. It is expected that the service to Fond du Lac will be crippled for at least two or three days.

TWO FIRE ALARMS.

Storm Causes Slight Damage at Two Duluth Homes.

Two fire alarms were turned in during last night's terrific electrical storm, but the damage done by the lightning was but nominal.

At the residence of Dr. Homer Collins, 2526 East First street electric wires became crossed and gave the firemen a run, but the blaze had been extinguished before the department reached the scene.

Lightning struck the house at 3614 West Third street owned by Dr. W. H. Konkler and occupied by C. O. Sauley. The lightning hit the chimney and set fire to the interior of the kitchen. The damage was about $100.

SPECTACULAR SHOW.

Storm Played Havoc With Great Northern Power Company's Wires.

It was a spectacular show the elements put on for the Head of the Lakes this morning. Spectators were assembled by the routing of peaceful citizens out of their beds, and they stood or lay shivering and awed while great streaks of lightning flashed across the sky, thunder rolled in awe-inspiring peals and the rain came down in torrents.

The storm threatened all through the night, and it broke shortly after 2 o'clock this morning. Apparently two storms, one from the south and one from the north, met over the Head of the Lakes and battled for supremacy while Duluth and Superior awoke and marveled. In a short space of time 1.09 inches of rain was poured on Duluth. The rain rushed down the hills, into cellars and over railroad tracks, but the principal damage and the most spectacular features of the storm were furnished by the lightning.

Power Lines Affected.

To the Great Northern Power company officials it seemed that the lightning struck the system at every point at the same moment. Apparently nothing escaped but the main transmission lines. The line leading to the Lakewood pumping station was out of commission from the time of the storm until 9 o'clock this morning. A wire broke off clean at Fifteenth avenue west and Superior street and tied up the owl car service of the street railway company. At various other points the power company's towers and poles were struck by lightning, with consequent suspensions of service for various periods of time. The repair men of the company were hustled out of bed as soon as the storm broke and they were busy all day today repairing the damage.

The only effect felt by the street railway company was in the demoralization of the owl car service on account of the stoppage of power. The tracks escaped serious damage, and after the power service was restored, street railway traffic was normal.

clined to discuss the president's views on those points, saying no decision had been reached, but that he had sought Mr. Wilson's ideas and would transmit them to members of the finance committee.

Chairman Underwood of the house ways and means committee, when asked about the probable action of the house, should the tariff bill come back with an amendment to eliminate the 5 per cent clause, said that personally he favored the retention of the provision as one of the ways of building up American mercantile marine.

"I believe in discrimination in favor of American ships," said he. "Foreign nations discriminate in favor of their own ships, and I do not see why we should not."

Mr. Underwood did not indicate, however, whether there would be any effort to retain the provision if the administration raised strong objection.

Would Raise Cotton Schedule.

Senators on the sub-committee of the finance committee working on the cotton schedule of the Underwood bill are said to be ready to recommend some increases in the house rates. More than 100 witnesses from the New England and Southern cotton sections are reported to have favorably impressed the senators with arguments that some of the cuts were too great.

The committee also is expected to recommend some changes in the chemical schedule, among them to be the free-listing of certain dyes used in the manufacture of cotton, which the house bill has had included in the dutiable list.

Senator Stone's sub-committee still is working over the wool and metal schedules. A few changes are looked for in woolen manufactures.

Some reductions are known to have been decided upon in the steel schedule. Structural steel will be reduced, while pig iron and ferro manganese probably will go to the free list.

consideration a pressing invitation to address the veterans.

Newspaperman Examined.

Charles Willis Thompson of New York, for nine years a Washington correspondent and since 1908 a political writer for a New York newspaper, was first called to the stand today.

"As Washington correspondent," he said, "I used to go to the White House to see Mr. Roosevelt. I saw him usually alone, sometimes in the morning and sometimes in the afternoon; usually in his office, but sometimes, in order not to lose a minute in his work, he allowed visitors while he lay in the barber chair. I never detected the odor of liquor on his breath, never saw him in the slightest degree under the influence of liquor and never saw his manner in any way changed from its ordinary one."

"Ever go on any trips with him?"

Was on 11,000-Mile Trip.

"I was with him on his 11,000-mile swing around the circle last year which lasted a month. I afterward joined him at the Mercy hospital, Chicago, when he was shot, stayed there until he went to Oyster Bay, went there with him and stayed until election. Two weeks after he was shot in Milwaukee he went to New York on two occasions to address large mass meetings, and I went with him and reported them."

"On these trips did you see much of him?"

"I saw him constantly, all hours of the day and night, and never saw him take a drink of liquor or affected by it. Whenever he left the car I followed him."

"Did you ever see him take a drink?"

Too Busy to Drink.

"Only at dinners of the Gridiron club, when he had a glass of champagne in front of him. He would occasionally take a sip from it. Nearly all the time, though, he was too busy talking or watching the stunts performed by the Gridironers. He always made a speech on these occasions, and they were among the best he ever made. He always left the dinners when they were about half over to go back to the White House to his work."

Asked whether there had been any discussion in Washington of his drinking habits, the witness replied:

"I never heard it discussed during the seven years that he was there. If it was discussed it must have been outside of Washington, and it was my business to know every rumor that was floating around in that city. It was what I was there for."

"Could he have got drunk on the train without your knowing it?"

He Would Have Known.

"He could not even have been slightly affected by liquor without my knowing it, either on the trip or at Oyster Bay."

The witness testified that on the trip to San Francisco the railroad company, by order of the colonel's representatives, did not put the usual stock of liquors aboard the private car.

The newspaper man testified that during interviews with the then president they would sit side by side, or, if standing, the president would put a hand on his shoulder.

Mr. Pound asked him if Col Roosevelt ever used profanity.

"Never."

"Did he ever use obscene language?"

"No one would dare to utter an obscene word in his presence."

Not in Same Car.

On cross-examination Attorney Belden developed the fact that on the campaign trips the newspaper men usually occupied a car just ahead of the plaintiff. This was adduced in connection with Mr. Thompson's statement that he had never seen the plaintiff drink.

"Do you know if the plaintiff keeps a stock of liquor at his house?"

"A stock of liquor is always kept at the White House by everyone—"

"I meant at his own home," interposed the lawyer.

"As to that I do not know."

Locomotive Fireman Examined.

Andrew W. Abele of Ironton, Ohio, a former coal miner and later a locomotive fireman, described a trip he made with Col. Roosevelt up Lookout mountain at Chattanooga, Tenn., in October, 1902.

The witness said he became acquainted with the colonel at the convention of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen at Chattanooga, Tenn. Later he met him at Huntington, W. Va.

"How was it you came to go to the mountain?"

"The colonel was starting up and as we were talking to him, he said. 'Boys, come along.'"

"You walked about the top of the mountain with him?"

"Yes."

"Did you observe whether or not he had been drinking liquor?"

"I knew he had not been drinking."

Talked at Convention.

Abele said the colonel addressed the locomotive firemen's convention at Huntington and was not under the influence of liquor. The witness said as a member of a reception committee he accompanied the colonel's train from Ironton to Portsmouth, Ohio.

"At Portsmouth, about how long a speech did Col. Roosevelt make?"

"About five or ten minutes."

"Where did you then go?"

"To Waverly. He spoke from the train, five or ten minutes."

"Where next?"

"Chillicothe."

"Where did he speak?"

"In the public square, about fifty minutes."

The witness told o other stops made at Hampden and Jackson. A photograph taken at Jackson was introduced and witness was asked if it correctly illustrated the colonel speaking, and the crowd.

"It does," was the reply.

Showed Jurors Photograph.

The photograph was then shown to the jurymen. It pictured the colonel standing on a platform with his arm stretched out against an upright.

"Where did you go from Jackson?"

"To Wellston."

Then exhibit 4 was presented. Another photograph, but the witness could not remember where it was taken.

The next stop was at Athens, and Col. Roosevelt made an address from some public building.

"Where did the colonel stand when he spoke?"

"On the steps. There were several persons there with him."

The next stop was at Lancaster for about twenty-five minutes, witness said, and then went to Columbus. He said he was in the colonel's car from 8 a. m. to 6 p. m. constantly.

"What did the colonel drink in the way of spirituous liquors?"

"Not a drop."

Heard Every Speech.

"Did you personally hear every speech the colonel made that day?"

"Yes."

"Did he appear intoxicated at any time?"

"Absolutely not."

The witness and Attorney Andrews got into a lengthy argument as to the dates 1892 and 1902. In 1892 Abele was a locomotive fireman and in 1902 he met Col. Roosevelt at Lookout Mountain.

"Do you mean to say that you met Col. Roosevelt in 1892, nearly a quarter of a century ago?" asked the lawyer.

"No, I do not say that," responded Abele.

"You were a fireman in 1892 and went into the shoe business that year?"

"Yes."

"Well, didn't you tell this jury that you met Col. Roosevelt as a fireman?"

"I did."

"But you quit firing in 1892, you say, and met the plaintiff ten years later?"

Member of Union.

"I still maintained my membership in the brotherhood as a fireman."

"Didn't you intend to impress the jury that you were a locomotive fireman in 1902?"

"I certainly did not."

Witness returned several sharp answers until the court ordered stricken out matter pertaining to "intention."

The next tangle concerned the exact place where Col. Roosevelt spoke at Jackson, Ohio.

"It was a kind of park. I don't recall exactly," said the witness.

"Where was it; in the town?"

"Well, it was on the outskirts."

"Where? What street?"

"Will you let me explain?" said Abele.

"Can't you tell this jury where the park was? Jackson is a small town. You can't get lost there, can you?"

Judge Flannigan interposed to let the witness explain, and the latter, using a blunt forefinger, traced a line along the railing in front of the witness chair and said it represented the railroad tracks.

"Now, right in here there was a street, or road," he said, indicating a spot on the railing as if it were a map, "and the park was there."

"But don't you remember the name of the street?"

"No. I don't, but——"

And here recess interrupted the testimony.

Sat for Six Hours.

For almost six hours of testimony-taking or argument by attorneys yesterday Col. Roosevelt occupied his chair just back of his counsel. He sat sometimes tilted back against the railing, twitching his watch chain and occasionally casting the glints of his thick eye-glasses toward the balconies crowded with women, and sometimes leaning forward to whisper to his attorneys.

The day's proceedings were marked by an important ruling by Judge Richard C. Flannigan, which, in the introduction of evidence by the defense, will have the effect of excluding certain kinds of hearsay testimony. This ruling came after a prolonged argument, during which the jurors were excluded from the room, and after attorneys for Col. Roosevelt had urged the exclusion of a certain kind of testimony, which they said might be introduced by the defense through depositions taken from persons in different parts of the country.

The effect of the ruling was that Col. Roosevelt's general reputation is an issue in the case, and the testimony bearing upon his reputation may be introduced; and that rumors and reports against his reputation coming from persons not qualified by experience to judge shall not be admitted.

In the future progress of the hearing, it was explained in court, a person who has traveled extensively with the former president or who has been associated with him with any degree of constancy may testify as to his reputation. But a man who heard the colonel deliver a political speech or saw him for only a few moments in a crowd may not testify as to his general reputation, although he may tell how the colonel acted or appeared at that particular time.

The Court's Ruling.

Judge Flannigan's ruling was as follows:

"The Michigan rule is very well settled that the general reputation of the plaintiff is a matter that the defendant may dispute—that is, his general reputation previous to the publication of the alleged libelous article, and evidence of that nature will be received.

"The other question is whether or not the defendant may show that other newspapers published similar charges, and may show that it was reported among men that the plaintiff was guilty of similar offenses.

"The court is very well satisfied that the defendant is not entitled to that testimony, and no testimony of that nature will be received. Gilson Gardiner, a witness yesterday, testified under direct examination to the opinion of certain correspondents in Washington. That testimony will have to be considered drawn out by the plaintiff. I think the defendant will have the right to rebut that statement if he is able to do so.

"Whether or not the defendant will be entitled to show the course of his information for the purpose of establishing good faith on his part and belief in the truth of the article, must turn, it seems to me, on the other question of whether or not the damages may be increased by reason of actual malice in the publication, and the court will not pass upon that question now. That question may be properly raised and argued when that testimony is offered. That disposes of all the pending questions, I think."

Exception By Defense.

Exception was taken by Mr. Belden.

Mr. Belden: "May we not ask newspapermen like Mr. O'Loughlin in reference to this charge published in large papers in the country?"

Judge Flannigan: "Publications of similar matters by other newspapers are not accepted in mitigation of damages."

James H. Pound and William H. Van Benschoten, Col. Roosevelt's attorneys said the ruling was agreeable to their argument. Horace Andrews, one of Mr. Newett's counsel, declared the present civil action was a "semi-criminal case," and pleaded for an unrestricted ruling on the admission of evidence by the defendant.

The arguments on this point had interrupted the examination of John Callan O'Loughlin, a witness for the complainant, and during the arguments the jury was excluded.

Recalled to the stand, with the jury present, O'Loughlin was further examined by the plaintiff.

"Did you ever smell liquor on Mr. Roosevelt's breath?"

"Never."

Was Never Profane.

"What do you say as to his language—was it clean or profane?"

"Col. Roosevelt has one of the cleanest minds I ever knew."

"Was he ever profane?"

"Never profane."

Gilson Gardner, another Washington newspaper man, who testified Tuesday, was recalled and examined by the defense. His brief testimony was a repetion of what he had previously given.

Robert Bacon Called.

Robert Bacon, former secretary of state and former ambassador to France, next testified. His testimony in substance was:

"I was born in Boston in 1860. I lived in Boston until 1894, when I moved to New York. I was in business there until 1903, when I retired for a year or two, after which, in September, 1905, I became assistant secretary of state under Mr. Roosevelt. I continued as assistant secretary of state until January, 1909, when I was appointed secretary of state for the remainder of Mr. Roosevelt's administration.

"In December, 1909, I was appointed ambassador to France by President Taft, from which position I resigned in May, 1912, to become a fellow of Harvard college, which position I now hold.

"I have known Theodore Roosevelt intimately for about thirty-six years, having been a classmate of his at Harvard college, where we graduated in 1880. At college he was one of the cleanest minded, most fearless boys that I have ever known. He was always in the best of training physically, one of his chief recreations being wrestling and boxing. He was a good fighter, and I think the fairest fighter that I have ever known.

In Constant Touch.

"As he went back to New York after graduation, I did not see much of him for the next ten or twelve years, but was in constant touch with him, our families being intimate. For the next ten years we were both so busy that I was not brought into close daily contact with him, but continued our intimate association.

"During the four years that I was in the state department under Mr. Roosevelt's administration, I saw him constantly, almost every day, at all times of the day and night, officially and unofficially, and frequently lunched or dined at the White House. The president was always in the best of physical training, reserving several hours every day for different kinds of hard exercise; long walks or rides, boxing and in other ways. Some of us who were his most intimate friends in the government always accompanied him.

On Return From Africa.

"On his return from Africa, Mr. Roosevelt spent a week at my house in Paris, where I was with him every moment of the day or night except when he was sleeping; and since my return I have often seen him either at his own house or mine, for we lived near each other in the country on Long Island.

"During all my lifelong association with Mr. Roosevelt, and especially in the four years of my closest personal daily contact in Washington, I know that it was impossible for him to have been a drinking man without my knowledge. He is not and never has been. I know very few men who have been so abstemious and temperate. His whole life, both public and private, has been clean and decent, in thought, speech and action, and any suggestion or statement that he has ever been anything but abstemious and temperate to the highest degree is unqualifiedly false. Of this all his friends and intimates are absolutely sure and I have never heard from any one of them the least suspicion to the contrary."

Never on Trips.

Only one question was put to Mr. Bacon by the defense.

"You were with Mr. Roosevelt on his trips around the country?"

"Never."

Lucius F. Curtis, a New York newspaperman, said he was with Col. Roosevelt at various times during the period from June, 1910, until after the election last year, going with the colonel on campaign trips.

"From your first acquaintance with Col. Roosevelt until after the election of 1912, what can you say as to his drinking liquor of any kind?"

"I never knew of his drinking anything except as a courtesy when he was a guest."

"During the time you were with him would it have been possible for him to have been drunk without your knowledge of it?"

"It would not have been possible."

"You have been often at his home at Oyster Bay—did you observe that he ever drank to excess at his home?"

"He did not."

"When you traveled on trains with him on campaign trips, did you ever see him indulge in liquor?"

"He did not indulge in it."

No Liquor on Car.

Mr. Belden, counsel for the defense, cross-examined Curtis.

"Do you know whether a supply of liquor was carried on Roosevelt's private car?"

"Yes; I know Col. Roosevelt gave orders that the railroad company should not stock his private car with a supply of liquor as is usually done."

"Did you ever see Col. Roosevelt drink wine or liquor on any campaign trips?"

"Not on the train, but sometimes elsewhere. At the St. Louis Country club I saw him drink about two swallows of mint julep. At Senator Warren's ranch in Wyoming I saw him drink a glass of wine."

Truman H. Newberry, former secretary of the navy, told of his relations with the plaintiff since 1896, when they first met, and through the period when witness was assistant secretary of the navy and secretary of that department.

"Good Habits," Said Newberry.

Mr. Newberry considered Col. Roosevelt a man of good habits. 1896.

"Did you, at Washington, become acquainted with his intimate friends?" asked Mr. Pound.

"I did."

"Did you become acquainted with Joseph Cannon?"

"Yes."

"Were you at Mr. Cannon's reception in honor of his seventieth birthday?"

"I was.'

"Did you see the plaintiff there?"

"Yes."

At this point Mr. Andrews objected, but the court ruled that inasmuch as the allaged libel charged the plaintiff with drunkenness, the latter was entitled to open up his whole life for the purpose of refutation.

At Cannon's Reception.

Pound's next question to ask was if at the reception Mr. Roosevelt drank any liquor.

"Not that I saw," was the response, as witness did not see plaintiff leaving the function.

"What did you see as to wether he was or was not under the influence of liquor?" pursued the lawyer.

"He was perfectly sober."

Mr. Andrews on cross-examination was asked: "How far were you from Col. Roosevelt when he greeted the host of the evening?"

"About ten feet."

"You did not see him leave?"

"No."

The Cuban Campaign.

Memories of the Cuban campaign were brought to Col. Roosevelt as he sat in the courtroom. A telegram was handed him from Hugh T. Halbert of St. Paul, referring to a letter which the colonel wrote while in camp in Cuba to L. Guttmann at Corsicana, which told about the use of whisky among soldiers while on duty. Following is the letter:

"L. Guttman, Esq.,
"Corsicana, Tex.

"Dear Sir: You are very kind, and though I am not a drinking man, I shall accept the whisky, but I shan't drink it or let any of our men drink it before a battle. If they cannot fight without whisky they cannot fight at all, and down in Cuba they must not drink unless it is strictly as medicine. Nevertheless, I think we shall need a little whisky in the outfit for just that purpose.

"With many thanks,
"Sincerely yours,
"THEODORE ROOSEVELT,
"Lieutenant Colonel."

"Quick, Successful Treatment for the Drink Habit"

Before the "Neal Treatment" became so well known

Men who drank to excess could, and did, "Excuse" themselves by saying: "Yes! I know I drink more than is good for me. But I can not spare two or three weeks from my work, my business, my home, my friends, taking treatment." Now, to all such persons we point out the "Neal Way" of helping and healing the "excessive drinker" and his "excuses" become absolutely "nonsensical" when we assure them that the "Neal Treatment" in "three days' time" will restore him to himself, his family, his business, his friends, a natural, normal, sober man, strong to take up afresh the work of life, and with an unfaltering determination never again to "grow weary in well-doing."

CASHMAN LAW PRINCIPLE IS FOUND VALID

State Supreme Court Gives Decision in Freight Rate Case.

Bases Its Decision Upon the Common Law.

St. Paul, Minn., May 29.—(Special to The Herald.)—The supreme court of Minnesota today handed down an opinion upholding the principle upon which the Cashman distance tariff law, passed by the last legislature, was based. The case was that of J. C. Sullivan et al, vs. the Minnesota & Rainy River Railroad company, and the opinion was written by Justice Phillip E. Brown.

The court holds that charges must be equal on the same class of goods for the same distance—an idea incorporated in the Cashman bill, which, however, is not in force but will become operative Oct. 1. The decision relies upon the common law entirely, and in effect says that, concerning the regulation of intrastate rates, the Cashman law is simply the enactment of the common law rule, which governs, into a statute with no more force than common law principle.

Rate Discrimination.

The case in question involved a rate discrimination by the defendant company. The plaintiffs owned timber on the railroad route, which extends from Mississippi River, a station in Itasca county, northward into the woods. It is a logging road. The rate established by the state railroad commission for shipments of logs from the woods to the river station was $2 per 1,000 feet. This the plaintiff paid, but it was discovered that the Itasca Lumber company was paying but $1.50 per 1,000 feet for a longer haul. Suit was brought to recover the amount of the discrimination—$5,356.24—and the lower court sustained a demurrer by the railroad. The plaintiff appealed and the supreme court reversed the order.

EUCLID PIONEER DIES ALL ALONE

Henry Weideman Is Found Dead in Rear of His Poolroom.

Crookston, Minn., May 29.—(Special to The Herald.)—Henry Wiedeman, a pioneer of Euclid, twenty miles north of Crookston, was found dead in his room at the rear of a poolroom which he owned, late yesterday afternoon.

He was last seen Sunday, but being a sort of recluse, Albert Nelson, who leased the poolroom, thought nothing of not seeig him around until yesterday when decomposition caused an investigation. The door was forced and Weideman was found dead. Dr. Wood was called and announced the man had been dead since Sunday.

Lived There Many Years.

Weideman had been a resident of Euclid since 1879, was 57 years of age and as far as known has but one relative, Herman Schreiber of Pine Island, Minn. He owned two houses in Crookston and a poolroom and several lots in Euclid. He had never married and was one of those picturesque characters to be found only in villages and was known all over the Northwest.

MUCH SODA.

Indianapolis News: In English East Africa is the richest bed of soda in the world. Engineers say that it contains 200,000,000 tons. The lake has a surface of more than fifty square kilometers. During the rainy season, which in this locality is short, its surface is covered with a shallow layer of water. When a block of soda is taken out, another forms, and the natives say that this occurs so quickly that an equal amount of soda may be abstracted for a number of years from the same place.

BLOOD DISEASED? THEN ACT QUICKLY

From the blood all the solid tissues take their food and oxygen. Unless the poison is checked, it will soon affect the entire body. READING A GAS METER IS SIMPLE

Some Facts About a Hard-Working Little Apparatus That Usually Tells the Truth.

THE DIALS WHICH TELL HOW MUCH GAS WE USE.

The gas meter does not strike the average housekeeper as an interesting object, and certainly it is not beautiful, says the Housewives' Magazine. A tin box painted red or black and plentifully plastered with notices—in various languages if it is a New York meter—from the gas company, it is thrust ignominiously into the most inaccessible corner of the kitchen—if its presence is tolerated there at all. Otherwise one must search for it on a shelf of the coal cellar, or some such forgotten place of dishonor. Unbeautiful in its outward appearance, the gas meter has also become associated with bills of most unwelcome proportions and is quite commonly supposed to be in league with the powers that exact this monthly toll.

This suspicion is most unjust and our whole treatment of this humble giver of light, the modest gateway through which the garnered sunshine of remote geological ages enters our homes, is not only ungrateful but unwise. The gas meter does its best under adverse conditions, but it is not improved by exposure to the damp of the coal cellar, or the heat of the furnace room. Neither is it convenient, when we thus banish it from our sight, to ascertain what the meter is always perfectly willing to tell, namely, just how much gas is passing through it from day to day.

Properly regarded, the gas meter is not only a beneficent but a romantic thing. The coal cellar is no place for it. It should be put somewhere where it will be protected from dampness and extremes of heat and cold and where its daily story can be read. Then if the housewife has any complaints to make she can speak with authority; she can also detect at once any waste of gas. If there is a leak somewhere; if the new maid is keeping two or three burners going when one would do the work—as often happens in froning; if she is turning on more than just enough gas to produce a clear flame; if the burners used for lighting purposes need attention; if any of these things are happening the meter will show that something is wrong and it will be comparatively easy to localize the difficulty.

Reading the meter is a simple matter, as the accompanying illustration shows. A complete revolution of the hands on each of the dials means the consumption of 100,000, 10,000 and 1,000 cubic feet of gas, respectively; the movement of the hands from one figure to another means the consumption of 10,000, 1,000 and 100 cubic feet, respectively. If the hands are between two numbers the lesser one is read. Thus the three dials shown are to be read 53,400. The gas man reckons the amount of your bill by subtracting last month's index from this month's, and if he makes a mistake one month it will be automatically corrected the next. That is, if he makes the minuend or upper line of the sum in subtraction too large, by reading, for instance, 54,400 instead of 53,400, the subtrahend or lower line will obviously be a thousand larger next month than if he hadn't made the mistake and so things will be evened up. You have paid for that thousand feet of gas in advance and the kindly meter won't allow you to be billed for it again. The small dial placed above the three larger ones on the meter is not shown in the illustration, as it is only used for testing purposes.

To satisfy herself that the meter cannot very well conspire with the company by registering gas when she is not using it the housewife need only look up gas meters in almost any encyclopedia. The machine employed for measuring gas has been in use for sixty years, and is one of the most reliable automatic contrivances in existence. Many attempts have been made to improve on it and no less than 230 patents on gas meters are registered at Washington, but no substantial improvement has been made on the invention of 1844.

The gas meter may run too fast or too slow, or it may sometimes fail to register at all, but it cannot be wound up like a clock to go whether gas is being used or not. The power which operates it is the pressure of the incoming gas, and unless gas is going out there cannot be any coming in. Whatever grievances we may have against the gas companies we cannot accuse them of "fixing" the meter.

In the upper part of the meter, just behind the dials, is the registering mechanism. Below is a pair of bellows, or diaphragms, as they are called. These diaphragms inhale and exhale air, except that they operate alternately. While one is filling up the other is discharging its contents into the service pipe. Each one, when inflated, holds a fixed and definite volume of gas and measures the invisible and intangible substance just as we might measure water with a pint dipper. This alternate opening and closing of the diaphragms sets in motion a train of gears which records the amount of gas passing through the meter, and as this motion must cease when the gas ceases to flow it is obvious that the hands of the dials cannot move unless gas is either being burned or is escaping.

The diaphragms are two circular sheets of metal joined by a piece of sheepskin thoroughly saturated with oil. The skins used for the purpose have to be selected with great care. Each pelt is examined in a dark closet by a man who passes it over a table in which there is a hole about four inches square. Through this a light is thrown from beneath, and thus any defect in the skin is quickly revealed.

HAVE INVADED WASHINGTON

Gidding Store Will Be Opened in National Capital.

J. M. Gidding & Co., of Duluth in pursuit of other social and business centers to invade have now purchased the costume and millinery business of R. Schoen & Co. of Washington D. C. This gives this Duluth company four large stores, namely: Duluth, New York, Cincinnati and Washington, and offices in Paris and Berlin. This expansion gives the company a commanding position so far as choice and advantageous purchases are concerned.

Mr. Gidding writes that on their first day of business in the national capital, among their guests were Mrs. Nicholas Longworth and other members of Washington official society. A New York paper makes the following announcement concerning the invasion of Washington:

"Announcement was made here today that J. M. Gidding & Co., Inc., New York, Cincinnati and Duluth, have purchased the costume and millinary business here of R. Schoen & Co., at 1510 H street, North Washington, which has a large clientele among the capitol's exclusive trade. The purchase was completed late on Saturday and the new owners have commenced a sale of the Schoen stock which is attracting much attention. Mrs. Schoen, who has been continuing the business since the death of her husband, Ira D. Schoen, in March, 1911, will remain with the new owners. Nathaniel Gidding is in charge of the store at the present time.

"Jacob M. Gidding, president of J. M. Gidding & Co., Inc., said at the New York establishment of the company this morning that for some time many of the customers of the house had urged the establishment of a Washington branch where the business has a large following.

"The opportunity presented itself in the Schoen business, Mr. Gidding said, with the result that the deal was closed on Saturday, the new owners assuming charge at once and inaugurating a sale in order to readjust the stock. Mr. Gidding said it had not been definitely determined who would have direct charge of the business, but he stated that Nathaniel Gidding was at present supervising the establishment at Washington. The Schoen organization has been kept practically intact and has been supplemented by an additional staff from New York.

"The new business of J. M. Gidding & Co. is housed in a four-story building in an excellent locality for the class of trade catered to. At the present time only two of the floors are utilized for selling, but Mr. Gidding said that in the fall another of the floors will be added for selling purposes. Before the fall trade, Mr. Gidding said that many improvements are contemplated ,and he spoke optimistically of the success of the new venture. The new establishment will be conducted along the same lines as the other stores of the company."

WOMAN'S SANITY TO BE DETERMINED

Commission Is to Examine Copper Country Husband Slayer.

Calumet, Mich., May 29.—(Special to The Herald.)—Mrs. Sanna Kuusisto, confessed murderess of her husband, Jacob Kuusisto, of Calumet, whom she killed with an ax on the morning of April 5 as he lay sleeping in his bed, will be examined this week at Houghton by a sanity commission. The woman, excepting at rare intervals, appears sane in every respect. At times, however, she seems to have religious hallucinations, and it was during one of these, it is now believed, that she killed her spouse.

The woman claims "God told me to kill him and I had to do it." She said she feared her husband "would send me on a long trip" by killing her unless she killed him, although Mrs. Kuusisto admits her husband was good to her the last two years of his life and did not drink during that period. She was once examined by a sanity commission and was pronounced insane, but, upon representations of her husband and children and other relatives, she was given into the charge of her family, who agreed to care for her and to keep a special watch on her movements during the time of any period of insanity.

This was after her first attempt on the life of her husband, which occurred last fall. Mrs. Kuusisto's five young children are being cared for by relatives and by the county.

Superior

Held for Assault.

Julius Katris, who is alleged to have shied a cuspidor at the head of Andrew Erickson during a brawl in a Third street saloon, pleaded not guilty in police court and asked for a hearing on Saturday. He is charged with assault with a dangerous weapon.

For Raising Checks.

Timothy Reaghan is being held by the police on a charge of raising checks. He is alleged to have raised one given him by A. Duplaise from $1.06 to $60.06. The work was crude and I. Cohen, a local merchant, refused to cash it. He turned the man over to Detective McDonald. Reaghan will be given a hearing in court on Saturday.

A. O. H. Banquet.

J. J. Regan of St. Paul, national president of the A. O. H., will be guest of honor at a banquet on Sunday evening tendered him by Superior A. O. H. lodges. Among the other guests who will be present will be State President T. J. Doyle, Bishop McGolrick, Mrs. T. J. Doyle and Fred L. Ryan of Duluth. The latter will preside.

May Buy Rock Crusher.

Members of the county board visited the rock crusher yesterday with the view of purchasing the plant. The trip was taken by a party of forty-two men, twenty-five of whom were members of the board. The commissioners were guests of the Superior Automobile club. Action on the purchase of the plant may be taken this afternoon.

MODIFY CUMMINS PROBE OF LOBBY

Democratic Senators Favor Amendment of His Resolution.

Washington, May 29.—Senator Cummins was ready to call up in the senate late today his resolution for an inquiry into the tariff lobby in Washington, which President Wilson has designated as "insidious." That it would be passed after some modification was the opinion expressed by Democratic leaders.

While not opposed to the spirit of the resolution, leaders feared such an investigation might divert attention from the tariff bill and delay its passage. That view prompted consideration of a plan to have the resolution referred to the finance committee.

Later, however, Democratic leaders determined that the resolution should pass, inasmuch as its introduction was prompted by utterances of President Wilson, but agreed upon changing the language and modifying somewhat the provision requiring the president to furnish the investigators with the names of the lobbyists to whom he referred in his recent public statement, "and other information about them and their efforts to bring about changes in legislation now before the senate."

Woman's Realm

Miss Grace E. Josselyn, speaker at the women's missionary hour at yesterday afternoon's session of the Duluth-Superior conference held at the Pilgrim Congregational church by the churches of that denomination in the two cities, told of life at Porto Rico, which is still extremely immoral, she says, although greatly improved since the Stars and Stripes were raised over San Juan fourteen years ago.

Miss Josselyn was in Porto Rico for several years, engaged in missionary work, and she gave many interesting details of the life there.

Mrs. Charles N. Thorp talked on "Social Service in Distant Lands," touching particularly on the work in Turkey since the recent war. She said that the Moslem Turks have for the first time realized the weakness of their own religion and are welcoming the teaching of Christianity. She spoke of the extent of missionary social service among the Turks, the formation of clubs, societies, gymnasium classes, etc., and the introduction of modern hygiene and sanitation by the missionaries and social workers.

Mrs. A. J. Wentzell of Superior presided and Miss Annabelle McLeod sang a pleasing solo during the hour. After the meeting the guests enjoyed an automobile trip around the boulevard.

FAREWELL CONCERT.

Elite Male Chorus Gives Program.

A good sized audience enjoyed the farewell concert given last evening at the high school assembly hall by the Duluth Elite Male chorus under the direction of Sanfrid Mustonon. The chorus will sing in Minneapolis this evening and Chicago tomorrow evening and will sail for Europe June 5. They will give a series of concerts in European cities during the summer.

Every number was given with a fine finish and understanding and evidence of careful training was shown in their work. The first group included Durrner's "Prayer in the Storm." Sibelus' "On the Island" and Reissinger's "Olaf Trygeason."

A second group was made up of numbers in which solo parts were effectively given by different singers and old popular numbers.

LE DUC-SMITH.

Engagement Announced at Two Teas.

Mrs. Antine Le Duc of 1207 East Superior street announced the engagement of her daughter, Miss Nellie Adeline Le Duc to William Henry Smith of this city, yesterday afternoon at a tea given at her home at which there were twenty guests. Favors of red satin hearts containing hand painted cards bearing the names of Miss Le Duc and Mr. Smith, were used. Red carnations and peonies were used in decoration.

Mrs. B. F. Smith of 4417 London road also announced the engagement of her son and Miss Le Duc at an informal gathering at her home.

The wedding will take place June 25.

WEDDING INVITATIONS.

Gujer-Dinham Wedding on June 17.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Gujer of 1432 East Superior street issued invitations today for the marriage of their daughter, Miss Irma, to Albert M. Dinham, which will take place at 3 o'clock Tuesday, June 17, at their home. Miss Gujer will be attended by her cousin, Miss Ruth Richardson of Fargo, N. D., who will arrive about June 7 and Mr. Dinham will have as his best man, his brother, Harry Dinham.

Miss Alva Patenaude of 1623 Jefferson street will entertain informally this evening for Miss Gujer, and Miss Helen Harbison of 228 South Nineteenth avenue east has invited guests in her honor tomorrow evening.

Studio Tea.

Miss Edna Z. Harris was hostess at a pretty studio tea this afternoon at her rooms in the Edison building. Decorations in pink and white were effectively carried out with wild cherry and plum blossoms, and coxsilps in large bowls added brightness to the scene. During the afternoon some of Miss Harris' piano pupils played a delightful program, after which tea was served, with Mrs. C. A. Harris presiding at the tea table.

Will Go Abroad.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank A. Carlson and daughters, Misses Alice and Hilda, of 1913 East Third street, will leave Thursday of next week for the East and they will sail from New York for a summer's trip to Europe. They will visit Norway and Sweden, the Land of the Midnight Sun, Germany and France, sailing from Paris late in August for their return.

Several affairs have been given in their honor during the past two weeks and a few are planned for next week.

Miss Irene Keyes entertained about thirty guests Saturday evening for the Misses Alice and Hilda Carlson and several luncheons were given for them last week.

Hostess to Club.

Mrs. O. L. Clark won high score at the card party given for the members of the U. S. W. V. club yesterday afternoon at Memorial hall, Mrs. A. E. Kemp being hostess. Five hundred was played at five tables and patriotic decorations were used.

Mrs. Walter Butchart of Lakeside will be hostess to the club at Memorial hall next Wednesday afternoon.

ORGANIZING GREAT SUFFRAGE PILGRIMAGE

MRS. MILLICENT FAWCETT.

Mrs. Millicent Fawcett, one of the leaders of the suffrage movement in England and president of the National Union of Women Suffrage Societies, is organizing a suffrage pilgrimage from all parts of the United Kingdom to London. The pilgrims expect to hold a great public meeting in Hyde park July 26 and then attend a service in St. Paul's cathedral. In view of the recent attempt of the militants to blow up St. Paul's, it is doubtful if the suffragettes will be allowed to carry out one part of their program.

SAFETY DAY IN SCHOOLS

"Don'ts" and "Nevers" Are Taught to New York Children.

New York Post: Eighteen thousand teachers in the public schools of New York inaugurated the first annual safety day recently by reading to the children a 10-page lecture filled with "don'ts." The plan to set aside a day each year for this purpose originated with the American Museum of Safety, acting in co-operation with the board of education.

Fire, electricity, gas, matches and trolley cars—all of them useful in their way—were held up to the children as things to be used but not abused. The pupils were reminded that the early settlers of this country, whether working or playing, acquired the habit of listening and looking for anything likely to injure them. Excuses like "I forgot" or "I wasn't looking" did not help them with bears or Indians any more than it helps a child that is dragged from beneath a motor truck.

Friends That Are Enemies, Too.

"We have many dangers in the city," the lecturer said, "but they are different from those which attacked the early settlers. If we learn to recognize them, however, and know the damage they can do, we shall see that we ought to be as alert against them as men in the old days were against Indians. You probably will be surprised when you hear the names of these enemies of ours, for you know them well and perhaps have never thought of them in this way. They are fire, electricity, gas and trolley cars.

"Do not, however, make the mistake of thinking that they are only enemies; they are friends, too—some of the most useful friends we have. We must use them, not abuse them; that is the point.

"Here are a few good rules to remember: Never buy any but 'safety' matches. Never allow matches to lie around loose; put them in their box or match case. Never scratch matches and use them to light dark closets or cellars. Never scratch matches in a place where there is much paper or rubbish. Never throw lighted matches anywhere; put them out first. Never allow a lighted match to lie on the floor or street; step on it and put it out at once. Never carry matches loose in your clothes. Never play with matches.

Some "Nevers" of the Street.

"Here is a little list of 'nevers' which will keep you out of danger in the streets: Never fail to look both ways for motor cars and trucks before crossing a street. Never play baseball, hockey or 'shinny,' tag or blindman's buff in streets where motor cars and trucks pass constantly. Never 'hitch on' behind motor cars or motor trucks, because you may lose your footing and be thrown under the wheels. Never run pushmobile races in the streets. A pushmobile is hard to stop and steer. Never try to see how near you can come to being run over. Never take chances."

Amusements

TONIGHT'S ATTRACTIONS.

LYCEUM—Kinemacolor motion pictures.

EMPRESS—Vaudeville.

Amusement Notes.

In "The Perplexed Husband," which has been hailed by press and public as the best comedy he has had in years, John Drew comes to the Lyceum tomorrow and Saturday matinee and night. This latest four-act comedy from the pen of Alfred Sutro, who came over to America to stage his piece and help select the sterling cast, has for its theme the most modern and interesting of contemporary subjects—woman suffrage. A notable satire, but without bitterness, "The Perplexed Husband," shows what really happens to a married couple when the woman decides that she will live her own life, and that her husband must turn over a new leaf or she will refuse to live with him any longer.

A new program of kinemacolor and black and white pictures will be shown at the Lyceum today only. The Kinemacolor program is headed by a two-part drama, "The Mighty Dollar," produced by the English Kinemacolor company. An unusual scene is that of a boiler room accident in which the explosion is shown with startling realism. The latest fashions in ladies' and misses' walking suits will also be hown in Kinemacolor. The black and white program is headed by a two-part Vitagraph drama, "The Vampire of the Desert."

Opening today with the matinee and remaining for three days the Empress theater management will offer for approval a new vaudeville program. As a headliner, Jesse L. Lasky's artistic novely, "Visions D'art," as presented by Mlle. Flennette, will be featured.

Another big-time act, rivaling Mlle. Flennette for first honors, will be the two vaudeville stars, De Witt Mott and Mary Maxfield. They present a singing and talking act entitled "The Traveling Salesman and the Manicurist."

Nelson Leavitt and Harriet Dunsmore will give a protean comedy playlet entitled "The Woman Next Door."

Many requests have been left at the Empress box office for the "Texas Tommy" and "Tango" dances, and Tonny Patricola and Ruby Myers will give them in all their variations.

Pictures will complete the bill. The seats for Decoration day will be reserved for all performances. Telephone orders will be accepted and seats held until 2 o'clock for the matinee and 7 and 9 p. m. for the evening shows.

WAS SHELLEY MURDERED?

A Much Belated Controversy.

Kansas City Star: The body of the poet Shelley was washed ashore on the coast of Italy, near the Bay of Spezzia, almost a century ago—it was in July, 1822, to be exact—and the world in general accepted the story told at the time, that Shelley and his companion, E. W. Williams, had been drowned when their boat was capsized in a sudden storm. Very possibly they were.

But there is another and more tragic explanation of the poet's death, an explanation with an element of mystery in it, which many people prefer to believe. This explanation has been brought once more to light by a letter written by the poet Heine and recently discovered. Heine believed, as did certain of Shelley's other friends, that he was the victim of longshore banditti; that Italian sailormen ran down his vessel under cover of the storm, and cast its occupants overboard to drown.

Lived an Ideal Life.

Shelley and his wife and the Williamses took a villa together on the Bay of Spezzia in the spring of 1822. An ideal sort of an arrangement, it seemed; all the charm of the golden Italian climate, the blue sea and bluer sky spread out around them, and the four English people were wonderfully congenial. On the broad veranda of the Villa Magni, overlooking the water, they sang together of an evening, watching the moon come up, while Mrs. Shelley and Mrs. Williams thrummed at guitars, after the manner of your true Italian. In both little families were little children, flourishing in this balmy climate; Shelley was writing under ideal surroundings and finding a market for the things he wrote.

There was a little boat in which Shelley and Williams sailed the blue waters of the bay; they called the boat the Ariel, because it skimmed the water so lightly. It was in the Ariel that Shelley and his friend sailed away one day, bound across the bay to Leghorn, to patch up a quarrel between Byron and Leigh Hunt, for Byron, like Achilles, was "sulking in his tent."

The patching up was not an easy process, nor was it particularly well done when Shelley and Williams set out out for home again the afternoon of July 8. Williams was eager to return to his wife; a letter he wrote to her before leaving Leghorn sounds pathetic and prophetic enough in the light of what befell the Ariel on that ill fated trip.

A Letter To His Wife.

"I have just left the quay, my dearest girl," he wrote, "and the wind blows right across to Spezzia, which adds to my vexation. Would I could take the present gale by the wings and reach you tonight; hard as it blows, I would venture across for such a reward. How I long to see you; but I will make no promises, for I too well know how distressing it is to both of us to break them."

There was no gale blowing when Shelley and his friend set out July 8; a mist hung over the sea, and it was hot and sultry; gray rags of cloud seemed to float in the sky, and the mist on the water curled like smoke.

A few hours later Shelley's friend, Trelawny, who had meant to sail in his own boat along with them, but had been detained by foolish quarantine regulations, was awakened by the coming of the storm. The sky was very dark now, and the waves oily and wicked; there burst over the harbor one of those sudden storms which are not infrequent in warm climates.

The Ariel never came to land after that storm; but Trelawny believed the storm was not the only agency that sent Shelley and Williams to their deaths. Their bodies were found more than a week later; the little sloop found afterward by dredging; a hole had been stove in its side.

Trelawny seems to have had suspicions at the time, but the Italian officials made light of them. Evidently, they said, the boat had swamped during the storm. Forty years afterward an old Italian seaman died in the town of Gombo. Before his death he declared that he had been one of a crew of four who had run down the Ariel, meaning to rob it; the vessel sank, he said, before it was possible to get any loot.

Were After Byron's Gold.

Byron had intended to sail with Shelley and his friend, and the longshoremen knew Byron was rich. He was the man whose life and gold they sought. And so they followed the sloop out of the harbor, and during the storm purposely ran it down, planning to cover their crime by the storm itself; for it was known the Englishmen were indifferent sailors.

Of course these coast banditti did not know Byron had changed his plans. They saw three Englishmen go aboard the sloop; Williams and Shelley had a sailor boy named Charles Vivian with them. Shelley had drawn money from the bank at Leghorn. He had the coins in a bag with him. And so the longshore pirates, sailing in a heavier boat and sailing it better, rammed Shelley's vessel.

Their plans miscarried, because the Ariel, a boat without a deck, was ballasted with scrap iron, which made it sink within two minutes after the collision.

And thus, Trelawny believes, the poet Shelley died. So, too, it seemed, Heine believed. His letter contains a graphic, though, of course, imaginative, account of the tragedy; of the four men hailing the boat, binding the Englishmen and then sinking the Ariel. It seems more likely that the flucca merely rammed the boat and sank it sooner than the Italians had intended. However that may be, the death of Shelley will always remain something of a mystery.

GREAT WRITERS FIND LIFE GOOD

Kansas City Times: Did you notice that "The Blue Bird" didn't end in gloom and despair? Here was a play that has packed the theaters wherever it has been, without any resort to a harrowing of the feelings. Indeed, it was distinctly cheerful in its philosophy of life and actually represented a successful quest for happiness.

And did you observe that the week before in Kansas City people crowded to the theater to see "Much Ado About Nothing" and other Skakespearean comedies?

Of course, cheerful things might be expected to be popular, even if they weren't good literature. But in these cases they were cheerful and popular and good literature all at the same time. Every now and then there is a fad for gloom for its own sake, and perfectly wholesome men and women simply dote on such things as Strindberg's "Dance of Death" or Sudermann's "Song of Songs," or anything you please of gorky or Verlaine. Melancholy is the thing, and people look pityingly on the lowbrows who confess a fondness for books and plays that take a cheerful view of life. "Hark from the tombs" is their motto.

But the fact is that the average person is made in such a way that he really enjoys life—absurd as that may seem to some sensitive supersouls. The great geniuses, being essentially great humans, while they have appreciated the tragedies of existence, never have delighted in gloom for its own sake, and have produced a wonderful body of sane and wholesome literature. John Ruskin, in his discourse on what he called "the pathetic fallacy in literature," insists that the second rate writer is particularly prone to excessive gloom. He points out that Kingsley, for instance, in "The Sands o' Dee," weeps about the foam:

"They rowed her in across the rolling foam,
The cruel, crawling foam,
The cruel, hungry foam."

Now, says Ruskin, foam is not cruel, neither does it crawl nor get hungry.

In contrast Homer, being a poet of the first order, always expresses the joy of living, even in his tragic passages. The earth with Homer is always "life giving," no matter what may be happening on it.

In interpreting life Schopenhauer found sadness a tonic, and Nietzsche took it as his pleasure. But in general the whole tribe of philosophers have found existence pretty good fun. To Kant and Hegel the universe was good, and of the moderns Royce and Bergson are placid if not exultant, while William James was wont to cry, "We don't know how things are going to come out, but come on boys, we may win, and anyhow we shall a bully adventure!"

There is a robust cheerfulness, a confident facing of life, in the great literature. Shakespeare, Cervantes, Rabelais, Defoe, Scott, Dickens, Stevenson, Mark Twain, Howells, Browning, Tennyson, Wordsworth—what a list could be made of the great writers who have "seen life steadily and seen it whole," to use Mathew Arnold's phrase, and haven't been frightened by it!

In spite of the tragic features, life has seemed to them quite worth while. In the exuberance of their vitality they have been able to extract happiness from friendship, from the resources of art, history, science, the acquisition of knowledge, the broadening of experience, Nature and the "humor of the sympathetic contemplation of the spectacle of life." All this they have interpreted in the great mass of robust and wholesome literature from "Don Quixote" to "Huckleberry Finn," from the "Iliad" to "Much Ado" and "Prospice."

Great tragedy belongs with great comedy. But as for the thick gobs of gloom of many of the moderns—they are all right, if you fancy them. But they represent either a pose, or a limited range of vision.

OBSERVATIONS

By PEGGY PEABODY

More Care Necessary to Avoid Accidents in Streets.

The number of deplorable accidents that happen in most of our cities every day is becoming alarming. In one city that I know of, conditions have become so bad that the municipal authorities have adopted the most stringent traffic regulations, and the newspapers have launched a campaign of education to teach people who both drive and walk what are their respective rights under the rules, and to inspire them to take care in the matter.

I believe from observation and reading the accounts of numerous deplorable automobile accidents, wherein a pedestrian is the victim, that in the great majority of the cases the driver of the motor car is to blame. We have all become more or less accustomed to the reckless speed with which some of the men—and, I am sorry to say, women—pilot their cars through the crowded streets of a city.

Why is it that as soon as any one steps from the pedestrian into the automobile class, he or she seems immediately to forget that they ever walked, and that those who, by force of circumstances, still have only this means of navigation, with the trolley, have any rights which they are bound to respect? There must be some fascination about being at the wheel of a car that renders one devoid, for the time being, at least, of the motives of altruism that inspire at other times and that dries up "the milk of human kindness" within their breasts.

My remedy for this criminal recklessness which endangers everyone who walks, makes cripples of many, and even kills numerous victims throughout the country every day, is jail for those who are guilty, if they are held, after a fair trial, to be responsible. The fines that are generally meted out do not suffice, for most people who drive cars can afford to pay a fine. People should be impressed that they owe a duty to their fellows, even if they do ride in automobiles.

On the other hand, pedestrians owe it to themselves to use caution in crossing the streets. It is never advisable to stop en route, to look back or hold conversation. In this city to which I refer, it is made a misdemeanor for one to cross the street diagonally, which is a wise provision. And one should look carefully when getting off a car to see that no automobile is bearing down upon him.

If a pedestrian observes some of these simple rules, he can at least have the satisfaction of knowing that he has not been to blame if he gets the daylights knocked out of him by some "speed maniac."

PASS THAT TARIFF BILL!

The business interests of the country generally are less concerned in schedules than in stability.

There can be little stability with a tariff bill in the making.

It is more important, therefore, that the tariff bill be passed promptly than that its provisions should be satisfactory to everybody.

The Democratic majority is compact, and no mutilations of the bill by amendment will be permitted.

If the bill were mutilated, President Wilson would promptly veto it, and the senate would have to start in all over again immediately.

Republican opposition can fruit only in delay and confusion.

There is more danger to business from a prolonged fight over the bill, with its attending uncertainties, than there can be in any particular provision of the bill.

If business is halted by a delayed outcome of the tariff fight, it will be the Republican opponents of an honest tariff revision downward who cause it, and cause it uselessly.

The senate will be wise if it passes that tariff bill as speedily as it can.

An Ohio washwoman has inherited an estate of $500,000. And it's a safe bet that the first night she knew of it she dreamed about the kind of a laundry she could build with all that money.

A WEST END HIGH SCHOOL.

The people of the West end, according to a story in the local columns of The Herald last evening, are going to ask the school board to establish a high school there, starting it, as the board did with the West Duluth high school, with a freshman class and working it up a class at a time until it is complete.

This is a request that the school board should study carefully, and grant if it is wise to grant it.

The West end is about the most thickly populated section of the city. Attendance upon the Central high school or the Irving high school involves carfare, an item that has to be reckoned with seriously in families of small means. It is stated by those advocating the new school that many pupils who ought to be in high school are not attending because their parents cannot afford the fifty cents a week involved in the item of carfare.

This assertion should be susceptible to demonstration, and it should be investigated.

While the request is not one that should be granted off-hand, it is one that should be considered sympathetically and looked into carefully.

And if a new high school is begun in the West end, the board should also consider whether it should not be largely industrial, like the Irving high school. Like West Duluth, the West end population is largely engaged in industrial occupations; and anyway the trend toward a practical shaping of education is so unmistakable that it should be taken into account in all new school plans.

Roosevelt went to Marquette in a car named "Clearwater." Was there any notion of the psychological effect of picking out that particular vehicle?

MR. ANDERSON'S PENSION.

Congressman Anderson of the First Minnesota district is getting a good deal more advertising out of his Spanish war pension of six dollars a month than he could possibly buy with the money.

Mr. Anderson, it seems, was in the war with Spain, fighting and bleeding—but not dying, fortunately—along the bloody trail as far as Chickamauga. It is true that he saw no Spaniards, but that wasn't his fault. He went as far as he was bidden, and technically he served in the war with Spain.

A hernia, contracted he says in this arduous service, is the basis for his pension claim. Mr. Anderson is a lawyer, and of course a hernia interferes with his business of making a livelihood. Strains are forbidden to the sufferer from this trouble, and in court he must keep a rein on his voice. Also on the stump when he is campaigning, doubtless his war-contracted difficulty prevents his raising his voice as far as he would like to. And in congress it seems to have restrained him from voting for the Underwood tariff bill, which is a very serious thing indeed.

Clearly, Congressman Anderson is entitled to a pension. Whether he ought to have asked for it and accepted it is another thing. It is a little awkward to have it bobbing up now that he is a member of congress. He applied for it, and got it, before he became a statesman—probably before he thought of becoming one. Apparently he still draws it, in addition to $7,500 a year as congressman, $1,500 a year for clerk hire, and $125 a year for stationery.

Maybe it wouldn't help Mr. Anderson particularly now to abandon this little side graft on the government. But we should think it would make him think better of himself.

It is such incidents as this that bring the pension system into disrepute. The application of Senator Warren of Wyoming, a very rich man, for a pension on his Civil war record, is another instance of the same sort. Nobody grudges a pension to the man who earned it and who needs it. Somehow it doesn't set well on a man who doesn't need it, and who takes it just because technically he is entitled to it.

But so long as Mr. Anderson wanted that pension, it's lucky he has been elected to congress. Somebody had to go to congress in Mr. Tawney's place, and as Mr. Anderson is now located in Washington he can collect his pension right there and the government will save the expense of sending the check out to Minnesota.

Dr. Wiley advises women to drop their lap dogs and take up babies. But it might be rather tough on a baby to have to succeed to the treatment that would naturally result from the habit of coddling a lap dog.

DRINKING AND LEAVING IT ALONE.

"Roosevelt can drink without overdoing it—can drink and leave it alone. Why, then, can't I?"

Maybe there are young men thinking that way after reading the Colonel's testimony.

For one thing, young man, you're no Theodore Roosevelt. If you have his will power and mental and physical stamina you are a rarity, as he is.

Besides, think how much simpler his explanation and defense would be if he could truthfully say: "I never drink at all, and I never did."

Senator Works wants election day in August instead of in November. At least, that would give the candidates time to save up a new fund to buy coal with instead of starting the winter dead broke.

A QUESTION TO BE ANSWERED.

The state is borrowing money, at fairly stiff rates of interest, to keep it going until taxes about to become due are in hand.

At the same time the state is lending money to municipalities at lesser rates of interest, and it has very large sums loaned to other states at very small rates of interest.

The Mankato Free Press wants to know why the state does not borrow from itself and save the interest, if it must borrow; and why if it can loan money out of the school fund to other states and subdivisions of this state, it can't lend money out of the school fund to the other state funds which are short.

That question, it seems to us, ought to be answered. Maybe there's a legal obstacle in the way. If there is, it is a foolish obstacle that ought to be put out of the way. If there isn't, the state surely ought to do this obviously wise and sensible thing of borrowing its own money instead of paying interest to banks.

Singapore exported $49,220 worth of snail shells in 1911. Not so slow, after all.

BEING A CZAR.

It sounds attractive, this job of being an emperor, with its trappings of luxury and magnificence. But hear the other side of the story, as the Boston Globe tells it:

"O, it must be fun to be emperor of Russia," says the Globe, "and guest invited to the wedding of the Kaiser's only daughter. By divine right Nicholas II rode in an armored train out of St. Petersburg across the border line, and entered Berlin hedged about by his anxious secret service men who were expected to 'assist the German authorities' in shielding him from bomb attacks.

"Then, from the Anhalter station, he was driven to the mansion of host and hostess between lines of soldiers standing shoulder to shoulder with fixed bayonets along a route literally swarming with police in uniform and plain clothes.

"Happy—yes, happy as a polar bear in captivity, without ice, in a tropical climate. Except for a brief half hour the czar remained in seclusion within the shelter of the palace walls throughout the day of his arrival, while the constitutional monarch of Great Britain and his queen, also on hand for the royal nuptials, motored to the races at Gruenwald track unescorted and unguarded."

And at that, even unescorted and unguarded British royalty did not have as good a time as half the people who saw the races that day.

Stiffly propped in trappings of royalty, fearful of assassins, iron-bound by precedents and dignities as confining as chain and ball, kings and queens are denied much that is free to the humblest.

They cannot take a cheerful walk alone in the country. They cannot fish or hunt in the wilds, but must go to tame private parks attended by a young army, and kill fish trained to impale themselves on the hook and game taught to place itself in the way of royal rifle balls.

Worse still, they cannot, ever, mingle with the mob—the good humored, warm hearted, funny, human mob.

Hereafter it will be strictly necessary in this state to hide the red light under a bushel or something.

HINCKLEY, JUNE 5 AND 6.

By the way, don't forget about the convention of the Northern Minnesota Development association at Hinckley June 5 and 6.

It is a busy time, and many other matters will press for consideration; but everybody who possibly can do so should put aside the other things for the present and arrange to be enrolled among the boosters who will be at Hinckley.

A good program has been arranged. Special railroad rates have been made by the railroads. Important business will come up, business in which every citizen of Northern Minnesota is vitally concerned.

It is no longer needful that the value of this organization be advertised. It has proved its usefulness, and everybody knows it. The Herald wasn't overstating the case in the slightest degree when in announcing the Hinckley meeting it said that the N. M. D. A. has advanced the development of Northern Minnesota ten years.

It is still doing great and useful work, and it will have such work to do for many years to come. To do it, it needs the support of the people of Northern Minnesota, and it needs their presence at its conventions.

On your list of engagements for June, put at the head the duty of attending the convention of the Northern Minnesota Development association at Hinckley June 5 and 6.

The first prize in the New York perfect baby contest went to the child of some Russians; the second to a Turkish youngster and the third to one whose parents came from Italy. If Japan is real anxious for an excuse to fight, what is the matter with this for an opening?

THE OPEN COURT

(Readers of The Herald are invited to make free use of this column to express their ideas about the topics of general interest, but discussions of sectarian religious differences are barred. Letters must not exceed 300 words—the shorter the better. They must be written on one side of the paper only, and they must be accompanied in every case by the name and address of the writer, though these need not be published. A signed letter is always more effective, however.)

LIVING WAGE FOR MEN AND THE VICE PROBLEM.

To the Editor of The Herald:

Dr. S. G. states that better industrial conditions will not show improvement in the vice question. I want to ask him this: Eight million men in America today cannot afford to marry. If these men were given the just returns for their labor, enough to enable them to take a wife, wouldn't they prefer the good women to the bad? If you can say no, then you are insinuating that the majority of us are born evil. Read Dr. Greer's book on human nature, and you'll see your arguments from a different light. Dr. Greer is a Chicago specialist. The wealthy man has an advantage over the poor working girl. She is underpaid. The money man has the gold and beautiful things to dazzle her eyes. She is having a struggle. Wages of $4 or $5 a week to live on and clothe a girl will drive 95 per cent to grasp at the chance for a better appearance. She has to dress decently or lose her job. What can she do? Ask yourself. More girls barter themselves for these necessities than for any other cause. I know and I've seen it all and can prove every word I say. Don't give her more wages, but put her back in the home where she belongs. Make conditions so that every man can marry one these girls, and who is left to support prostitution?

I don't say that the evil can be entirely eliminated, but I do say this, a system of government enabling every man to support a wife, have a home and children and enough food, clothing and shelter, will overbalance his desire to follow a vicious career. It would be paradise, but we will have the opportunity to be good if we so desire.

I cannot see how anyone can take an opposite view on these points.

I still claim and always will that better industrial conditions will kill nine-tenths of the evil. P. W. C.

Grand Rapids, Minn., May 27.

REPLY TO DR. S. G.

To the Editor of The Herald:

In reference to your argument that low wages are not the cause of vice, would you please tell me whether or not prostitution is run for profit? If such is the case, we may rest assured it will remain until profit is abolished. Would a girl, if not underpaid, be willing to seek the underworld?

Men conscious of their inability to support a family refuse to get married. Prostitution did exist in the Roman era; even Magdalene was immoral, but were not conditions as bad then as today?

You maintain that remoulding of our economics will not decrease the demand. It will for this reason, that a man will receive more for his labor and it will enable him to get married, have his children educated, all of which will mean a change of environment for the better.

Thanking you for the above space, I am, yours truly, F. M.

West Duluth, May 28.

By day and night I walk the crowded ways,
The human stream flows on—I feel alone.
Upon the surging throng I cast my gaze,
And not one face light up to meet my own.

Will They Desert?

By Savoyard.

Washington, May 29.—(Special to The Herald.)—In 1688 there was a revolt against James II in England, and William of Orange headed an expedition into that country to acquire for himself and his wife the crown that was ready to fall off the head of his father-in-law—the last king of the Stuart dynasty. His captain general was that old hero and soldier of fortune, Frederick Schomberg, whom the fanaticism of "Scarron's Widow" and the folly of Louis XIV had driven from France upon the revocation of the Edict of Nantes.

Fortune favored William, and the English flocked to him. Among the rest to rally to his standard was John Churchill, afterward the duke of Marlborough, who "never fought a battle that he did not achieve a victory, never besieged a city that he did not compel a capitulation." He was now in high command and owed his rank and his fortune to the house of Stuart. When he joined William of Orange he was introduced to Schomberg, who looked him over and scornfully remarked, "You are the first deserter of the rank of lieutenant general my eyes have ever beheld!"

I commend that corroding rebuke to those Democratic United States senators, if any there be, who contemplate an attempt to Germanize the Underwood tariff after the fashion the Wilson tariff of twenty years ago was gorged with "party perfidy and party dishonor." The Democratic party is a great big layout. It is what the Republican party never was for one moment of its entire life, now, happily for mankind, ended—the Democratic party is national, with a lodgment in every state, North, South, East, West; but, thank Heaven, the day is come when, big as it is, there is no room in the Democratic party for one who believes in, or has tolerance for, the dogma of protection as applied to tariff taxation.

And they are not going to be allowed to get around it by insidious and specious and false appeals to the word "revenue." Sam Randall used to do that. Why, it is possibly true that nearly as much tariff robbery has been perpetrated in the name of revenue as in the name of protection. Only a while ago the land was full of Democrats who held that the country could not get along without a tariff on wool—for revenue. Justin S. Morrill, John Sherman and Nelson W. Aldrich, the three greatest advocates of protection the Republican party ever produced, all declared that a tariff on wool was the keystone of the protective arch—that as soon as wool went on the free list protection would die. There was rubber, that Aldrich and Payne put on the free list, and at the same rate rubber will yield more revenue than wool; but a tariff on rubber protects nobody. It is for revenue only, an absolutely noncompetitive product, ideal for taxation from the Democratic standpoint. That is why Aldrich put it on the free list.

The Hon. Newlands is a Democratic senator in congress from the Democratic state of Nevada, with a total population of 81,875 of both sexes, all ages, all conditions. He is depended on by such enemies of the Wilson administration and parasites infecting the Democratic party as Hearst and his henchmen to hold up the Democratic senate and demand that it stand and deliver. Mr. Newlands came to the senate, an avowed "Democrat on the silver question and a Republican on the tariff question," to quote his own words. But in the senate he has been a consistent Democrat up to this time, so far as I know. I did not follow his course in 1909 when the Payne-Aldrich monstrosity was on the hooks and am ignorant as to whether he was one of Aldrich's aids on the Democratic side when the mighty Dolliver was pressing the great high priest of monopoly hard and putting him to the wall.

But Newlands is pouting, and here is what he said the other day:

"The people of the West, who are vitally interested in sugar and wool, are not yet convinced that they should be required to buy in a protected and sell their products in a free trade market."

That sounds like a threat. All us real Democrats have been protesting for years and years against a policy that forces a citizen to sell in a free trade market and buy in a protected market. The cotton planter and the grain grower have been doing that for half a century. It is to stop that sort of injustice that the present tariff bill was concocted. The cotton planters of Mississippi and the grain growers of Iowa have been protecting the sugar planters of Louisiana for a century, and all that time they have been compelled to protect the wool growers. We want to stop that and this country is resolved that it shall be stopped. As for the sugar schedule, everyone we have had since and including that of 1883 was writ by the sugar trust. The proposed sugar schedule was writ by the people.

It is impossible to protect the cotton planter or the grain grower. Take wheat, even. Canada is an enormous exporter of wheat. Our country also exports wheat. The price of our wheat and of Canada's wheat is fixed in the free trade market of Liverpool, that is regulated by supply and demand. The more wheat we import from Canada the more we will export to Europe. The less wheat Canada sends to us the more she will send to England, so that free trade in wheat will not cheapen wheat a cent a bushel in Chicago, that never yet had a price for wheat that Liverpool did not fix. Nor does the duty on wheat increase its price. La Follette had a duty put on wheat for buncombe.

And Robert M. La Follette is playing the demagogue again, relying for presidential lightning on the ignorance and prejudice of the people. He was the first man in the world to discover that by a tariff you could "protect" the American corn grower and wheat grower. He astonished McKinley with that miracle in 1890, and to get La Follette's vote for his grafting tariff, McKinley allowed La Follette to write that nonsense in his bill. And there were farmers who believed the stuff, for there is "no damned error that cannot be approved with a text," or words of that import.

As for American sugar cane and beets, I saw those two industries die when the Cuban reciprocity was up. I am going to fish out W. Alden Smith's bathos when he preached the funeral of sugar then, and write a letter on it before this tariff debate is done. Reciprocity with Cuba did not hurt cane or beet in the United States. Neither will absolute free trade in sugar hurt them. All it will do will be to give them self-respect and self-reliance. Of all the states in the Union Louisiana would benefit most in a relative way by free trade. New Orleans would get to be the rival of Chicago.

Let us hope that nobody of the rank of a United States senator will be a deserter this year.

Statesmen, Real and Near

By Fred C. Kelly.

Washington, May 29.—(Special to The Herald.)—Representative John B. Peterson of Crown Point, Ind., comes from a district that contains a great many different kinds of political views.

It was the last district in the state to yield to the Democrats and make their delegation unanimous. And it is a district in which one finds family divided against family. For example, John Ade, a retired banker at Kentland, is a stanch old-line Republican. But he has a son named George who is a Bull Mooser. This has been a great trial to the elder Mr. Ade—almost as great a trial as the fact that the Chicago Tribune became a Bull Moose organ. Some years ago, when Mr. Ade's boy, George, started out for himself, he came home one day and announced that he had obtained a job as reporter on the Chicago Record. Now the Record was a good enough paper, but it was not the Republican Bible. And the Tribune was—all through that part of Indiana. So Mr. Ade told his boy George: "Well, work hard, and do what you're told, and mebby some day you'll work up and be on the Tribune." George never succeeded in getting himself on the Tribune, and now, of course, his father wouldn't want him to be on it. However, it wouldn't matter much, as he feels that both have gone wrong.

But all this is getting clear away from what we started to talk about.

Before the district became cluttered up with Bull Meece, Former Representative Crumpacker always had a safe Republican majority, and the Democrats nominated a candidate largely for the looks of things. Peterson, who is a lawyer and banker at Crown Point, didn't care a continental about running for congress, but he was born on a Fourth of July, and therefore could not consistently dodge any patriotic task that fell to his lot. When the Democrats nominated him for congress there was nothing for him to do but run. And after the campaign opened the Bull Meece gummed up things for the Republicans so completely that Peterson was elected.

The time came for him to start for Washington. All might have been well except for one thing. Peterson has a woolly dog that he thinks a whole lot of. He had owned a similar dog that got run over and killed, and then his present dog, named Joe, came into his life. The thought of leaving the dog behind was utterly distasteful, and yet he did not think it advisable to bring the dog along, for Joe was not accustomed to the ways of cities. Separation was inevitable. The train tooted and Peterson took a last sad look at the big dog that had been given over to the care of kind neighbors. Then he picked up his suit cases, and as he and his wife climbed aboard the train remarked:

"If I'd just stopped to think about Joe, I'd have let 'em nominate somebody else."

Henry Ward McMaster, general manager of the Wheeling & Lake Erie railroad, and one of the ablest young railroad men in the United States or New York, had this experience. When the Ohio floods were going on, McMaster hastened down to Zanesville to watch the Muskingum river rise. While he was taking note of the rapid rise, a great barn floated down stream and lodged near him on the Wheeling & Lake Erie tracks. A few minutes later a nice young installment house p'ano drifted along and came to rest with a sigh alongside of the barn.

Right then was when Henry Ward McMaster's optimistic spirit loomed up at its best. He looked at the barn and then at the piano, smiled and said:

"By the great horn spoon! If I only had a pack of cigarettes and a case of beer, blamed if I wouldn't start a road house."

On the average, it takes about six months for a new senator to get fairly close to Senator Lodge. There is a scholarly dignity about the man that cannot be penetrated in much less time than that even by a senatorial associate. In a way this is also true of Senator Root. If a man were going to start out and slap every senator on the back, taking them in turn, he would slap Messrs. Lodge and Root last. Occasionally a new senator stumbles upon the one way to accelerate his acquaintance with Lodge. That is to engage him in casual conversation once in a while and in a pleasant, offhand way make a little fuss over him about his knowledge of foreign affairs. Lodge may take considerable pride in his achievements as an author and historian, and in his blue-blooded ancestry, but it is his knowledge of foreign affairs that he likes to have recognized most of all. Every one, scholars and statesmen included, has some little vanity. The trick is to find what it is.

The senator who drops by Lodge's seat and brings the conversation to a point where he can say:

"Well, you, of course, know more about foreign relations than any of the rest of us—" Or,

"If I had half your knowledge of foreign affairs—"

The senator who can drop little remarks to Lodge of that general character may always be certain of a respectful hearing.

Doing Their Duty.

Harper's Weekly: Says the crabbed old Inter-Ocean of Chicago:

When last heard from the demand for the free trade experiment, so far as the administration branch is concerned, stood:

Wilson (for free trade)	6,292,599
Roosevelt (against free trade)	4,190,101
Taft (against free trade)	3,481,632

Majority against free trade 1,879,134

Nor is this all. Mr. Wilson's vote was swelled by hundreds of thousands of Republicans driven to his support by what they regarded as the worse evil impending in the third-term candidacy of Mr. Roosevelt. So out of a total vote of over 15,000,000, less than 6,000,000 demanded both Wilson and free trade.

Fudge! Neither Mr. Wilson nor the Democratic party advocated free trade or anything of tariff duties and won, and are now fulfilling their pledge. That is all there is of it.

Fudge! Neither Mr. Wilson nor the Democratic party advocated free trade or anything of tariff duties and won, and are now fulfilling their pledge. That is all there is of it.

Generally Speaking.

Life: Do women close their eyes when they are kissed? is a query recently advanced by the New York Sun.

In order to arrive at a correct solution of this problem more data are necessary. It depends largely upon the length of the kiss and who the woman is looking at beforehand. Most women are kissed nowadays with their eyes open.

Minnesota Opinions

Comments of the State Press.

Doing Its Share.

Hibbing Mesaba Ore: The St. Louis county commissioners have granted the request of the Northern Minnesota Development association for an appropriation of $3,225 for advertising purposes, and it is expected that the granting of this sum will do much toward a more rapid development of this section of the state.—Itasca County Independent.

The board of county commissioners is doing its share to bring settlers to this section of the state and the individual residing here can do fully as much good, if not more, by letting his friends in neighboring states know exactly what the inducements are—the best of land at a price that is lower than in any other section of the United States, crops that cannot be duplicated anywhere and a climate that is ideal the whole year 'round.

Working on the Right Line.

Eveleth News: Governor Eberhart has declared his intention to call an extra session of the legislature during October to pass a law to establish a public utilities commission. Meanwhile he will stump the state for the proposed legislation. In this undertaking the governor appears to have a great deal of support, and to his credit may it be said that he seems to be making an honest effort to give the state a law that will guard the interests of the people without working injury to the corporations. If he succeeds he will have proven after all to be a pretty good governor.

A Hard Master.

Princeton Union: The increase in the tax rate by the late legislature is largely due to the passage of the good roads measure and increase in appropriations for country schools, both of which objects the country public ought to approve.—Elk River Star-News.

The "country public" is a hard and fickle master. What it approves of today it may disapprove of a week or a month hence. No legislature ever has or ever will give general satisfaction. If every appropriation asked for is granted, the legislature is damned for its extravagance, and if the appropriations demanded are scaled down or refused the legislature is accused of niggardliness.

It Spreads.

Stillwater Gazette: There are 250 cities in thirty-four states of this great and glorious Union, with a population of over 5,500,000, where the commission form of government is in full swing.

Getting Tired.

St. Peter Free Press: This persistent talk of an extra session is getting somewhat monotonous. It is the privilege of the governor to call one if he feels so inclined, but the public is aware of this fact and there is no particular reason for having it repeated every day in the week. In how far this reiteration is likely to affect the governor's utility proposition, in case the special session is actually called, is a matter of considerable speculation. The utility bill defeated at the last session is not wanted by the big cities, neither is it over popular in the country, where the people in the smaller towns prefer to conduct their local affairs without the interference of a political board. A properly drawn utility law, however, has many desirable features, and it is possible that with due concessions to individual communities it would be favorably considered at a special session, but hardly otherwise.

One Good Thing.

Walker Pilot: We're mighty glad that the law has been changed so that a farmer doesn't have the chance any more of getting out every spring and commence plowing up a piece of perfectly good road in order to work out his poll tax.

On to Hinckley!

Menahga Journal: The Minnesota Development association will hold its summer meeting at Hinckley on June 5 and 6. It is very important that all counties be properly represented, as there is a vast amount of important work on hand, which in order to properly accomplish, will require the hearty co-operation of all in our beloved Northland.

Looking Ahead

Cleveland Plain Dealer: On two occasions since he became secretary of state Mr. Bryan has delivered addresses in which he predicted the disappearance of national political conventions as deliberate assemblies, and it seems to be assumed that he is speaking for the administration. However that may be, few observers of events will doubt the accuracy of the forecast.

After the last national conventions it was freely predicted that the country would never see another president nominated without a primary mandate and nothing occurring since then would justify a change of opinion. The primary-instructed delegates in each convention last year cut considerable figure but they had controlling authority in neither.

Unless signs deceive there is every reason to suppose that before the conventions of 1916 enough states will have established presidential primaries of some type to let the instructed delegates rule both the big gatherings. From that the next logical step would seem to be a direct nomination of president and vice president without the intervention of a meeting of delegates. Conventions then if retained at all, would be useful only for purposes of making platforms and stirring up partisan enthusiasm.

This is looking a long distance ahead. Surprising things may occur in the next three years, upsetting the calculations of the wisest. Yet the Bryan predictions seem safe enough.

To a Rolltop Desk.

Hail, roll top desk! To thee I sing,
Mausoleum of my past!
What hopes and fears of earlier years
Sleep in thy caverns vast!
My thoughts within thy records lie;
Blind memories dig like moles
Amid the fixed sarcophagi
Of thy stuffed pigeonholes.

The plans that might have made me great,
Scenarios of success,
There in thy tombs and dusty glooms
Conceal their deep distress
With many another paper hope
They share their dreary lot;
Those led me up life's sunny slope,
But now they are fogot.

Some day, when Gabriel honks his horn
And great thoughts come to life,
Thy caverns dread shall vent their dead,
And wonders will be rife,
The noble hope and dream and plan,
Long since consigned to thee,
Shall rise to bless each mortal man—
But how does that help me?

How to Get Early Sweet Corn.

Farm and Fireside: Some of the most successful gardeners near Boston have found a good way of getting sweet corn on the market early enough to command a fancy price. After thoroughly plowing and harrowing the soil, they turn up ridges the shape of an inverted V where the corn-row is to be.

The soil thus elevated dries out quickly and absorbs heat much more readily than would a level surface. The seed is planted along the apex of the ridge and germinates promptly into young plants that thrive and ripen ears about two weeks earlier than the ordinary level-soil method. This plan may be easily adopted in any northern garden where the early corn is desired.

ROYAL ARCANUM PICKS OFFICERS.

Quebec, May 29.—New York was chosen as the next annual meeting place of the supreme council of the Royal Arcanum, at the session of the council here, and these officers, with others, were elected:

Supreme regent, Frank B. Wickersham, Pennsylvania; supreme vice regent, Samuel W. Hoag, New York; supreme orator, C. Arch Williams, Illinois; supreme secretary, Alfred Turner, Massachusetts; supreme treasurer, A. S. Robinson, Missouri; examiner of claims, John H. Butler, Massachusetts; supreme auditor, William F. McConnell, New York; supreme chaplain, C. E. Hoadley, Connecticut; supreme guide, S. M. Brinson, North Carolina; supreme warden, William T. Dabuey, Virginia; supreme regent sentry, Claude R. Zappone, District of Columbia.

PRINCESS SENT TO CELL FOR SWINDLE.

Paris, May 29.—Princess de Puysena, of Polish extraction, was sentenced yesterday to imprisonment for one year, and count de Sobanski for two years, by the correctional court for forging pawn tickets. The evidence showed that they had pawned an article for 4 francs and had then skilfully altered the amount on the ticket to 14,000 francs and sold it to a broker.

Count de Sobanski said that swindling was sport for him, as it enabled him to befriend the poor. He declared that he was not only a great chemist, but a philosopher whose works would revolutionize humanity. His statement was so extravagant that the court first doubted the count's sanity and called in a specialist, who, however, certified that de Sobanski was responsible for his acts.

FOUR WOMEN CLAIM BODY.

Chicago, May 29.—Another woman claiming to be a widow of Homer E. Morrison, whose death already was mourned by two widows and a fiancee, has come to light. She is Mrs. George Williamson of Barrington, a suburb, who reported to the police that Morrison, or Williamson, as she knew him, married her several years ago and deserted her soon after.

Police investigation of Morrison's recent death revealed his much-married state. Mrs. Homer E. Morrison says she married Morrison three years ago; Mrs. R. W. Thompson reported she married him seven years ago, and Miss Pearl McDivitt declared Morrison had promised to marry her next month. According to their stories, Morrison spent some part of each day with each of the three women.

Coroner Hoffman decided that he would make no examination of Morrison's body, being satisfied that death had come from natural causes.

This Week's Sunday School Lesson

WRITTEN FOR THE HERALD BY REV. J. S. KIRTLEY, D. D.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON: JUNE 1.

Genesis xliv: 4-17; Joseph Tests His Brethren.

CONNECTION.

After the feast, described in last lesson, Joseph had his steward fill their sacks with corn and put back their money in the sacks and also put his silver cup in Benjamin's sack. They started back, glad they were over the strange experience of buying corn from such a curious man as Joseph. But the most trying time was to come. Joseph was not through with his educative measures and his personal investigations. There was one more test he would subject them to in order to know their exact attitude toward his brother and father and at the same time bring them into a thoroughly penitent frame of mind. When he first saw them he was ignorant on many points—whether Jacob was still alive, whether Benjamin was living for he didn't know but they had made way with him long ago, whether they had the right view of their own sin against him, Joseph. In addition to learning the real facts on these points he would also discipline them so that he could make a success of forgiving them. There is just one point left for further investigation—whether they have the right feeling toward Benjamin. This test settles that.

THE LESSON.

I.

A Framed-up Charge Proven. 4-12.

"And when they were gone out of the city, and were not yet far off, Joseph said unto his steward: Up, follow after the men; and when thou dost overtake them, say unto them, wherefore have ye rewarded evil for good? Is not this that in which my Lord drinketh, and whereby he indeed divineth? ye have done evil in so doing. And he overtook them, and he spake unto them these words. And they said unto him, wherefore speaketh my Lord such words as these? Far be it from thy servants that they should do such a thing. Behold, the money, which we found in our sacks' mouths, we brought again unto thee out of the land of Canaan: how then shall we steal out of thy lord's house silver or gold? With whomsoever of thy servants it be found, let him die, and we also will be my lord's bondmen. And he said, now also let it be according unto your words: he with whom it is found shall be my bondman; and ye shall be blameless. Then they hasted, and took down every man his sack to the ground, and opened every man his sack. And he searched, and began at the eldest, and left off at the youngest; and the cup was found in Benjamin's sack."

1. THEFT.—Joseph arranged to accuse them of theft, an appropriate sort of accusation because of their needs; the theft of the ruler's divining cup, at that, whereby he could tell what sort of men they were—not that he really could do such things, but they knew that all Egyptian noblemen used such cups and he took advantage of that knowledge of their's to impress them that he had used that cup in discerning their own characters as spies and it would be natural that they should try to destroy his power to discern them so well. They even might be accused of stealing it in order to do some divining themselves. The theft would be all the more heinous because they took it from a man who had entertained them so well and had even given them back their money on their former trip. This charge if true would show them up in a bad light, and if not true would test their tempers and bring out their feeling toward Benjamin.

2. INNOCENCE.—Their consciousness of innocence led them to promise more than the steward asked. If the cup were found in any's sack all would return and become slaves, but the steward only asked for the one in whose sack it should be found. Not one expected the result, though the previous strange happenings might have given them some anxiety. That very consciousness of innocence would bring out the right spirit, if they had the right spirit, and Joseph would know it. The sense of innocence still showed in their bearings when, to their great surprise and horror, the cup was found in Benjamin's sack. The shrewd officer would have known at once they were innocent of theft even if he had not framed up the trick.

II.

The Brothers Accept Their Hard Lot.

"Then they rent their clothes, and laded every man his ass, and returned to the city. And Judah and his brethren came to Joseph's house; and he was yet there; and they fell before him on the ground. And Joseph said unto them, What deed is this that ye have done? know ye not that such a man as I can indeed divine? And Judah said, What shall we say unto my lord? what shall we speak? or how shall we clear ourselves? God hath found out the iniquity of thy servants; behold, we are my lord's bondmen, both we, and he also in whose hand the cup is found. And he said, Far be it from me that I should do so; the man in whose hand the cup is found, he shall be my bondman; but as for you, get you up in peace unto your father."

1. FRATERNAL.—They have not a word to say against Benjamin as they take up their sad journey back to the city and to their doom, whatever it might be. They could hardly think him guilty, for they remembered the experience of the restored money before, and yet they might have feared he was guilty. But they said not a word of reproach. Their love went out to him all the more tenderly. In that moment their love for their brother came out more clearly than ever.

2. SUBMISSION.—There is not a word of complaint against any one but themselves. Their sorrow was visible on their faces and in their torn clothes. Joseph saw their truthfulness in their deportment and explanations. They threw themselves down in hopelessness and confessed they were not able to explain the presence of the cup, and were ready to accept the penalty.

3. CONFESSION.—It was a real confession when Judah said "God hath found out the iniquity of thy servants." To them it meant perhaps that they deserved this for their treatment of Joseph; to him it meant that they were penitent over their past. They seemed to impose their own punishment, even more than Joseph did.

4. APPEAL.—Now we come to one of the most touching and adroit and noble appeals ever made. It was by Judah and we must read on into the story to get it. Judah was the oldest son and in his line was the Messiah to come and that made him a fitting advocate of his brother. He had other fitness for making this appeal. He did not consent to the murder of Joseph, but was the one who suggested that they sell rather than kill him. It was he who had persuaded his father to allow Benjamin to go with them and now he shows a sense of responsibility for him. His skill in speaking was also evident. The speech is a masterpiece. He begins with shrewd and sincere courtesy and then recounts all the incidents in their dealings with him and their desire to meet his wishes and tells of his old father and how he had persuaded Jacob to allow Benjamin to come and how his loss will be so severe as to snap the cords of life in the old man. In his speech several things are brought out into clearness—their love of Benjamin, their tender care of their father and their penitence for their own past deeds whatever they might have been, though Joseph knew exactly what they were. He closed by stating that he himself would not accept his liberty if Benjamin was kept because he could not face his father.

WHAT THE MASTERS SAY.

Undoubtedly there is much of meanness in human nature, but now and then we stumble upon some redeeming feature that saves it from utter contempt. Such a surprise awaits us as the result of the uncovering of character that came of Joseph's testing. These sons of Jacob were a bad lot, and we were not prepared to look for much of filial reverence or brotherly affection. Yet how beautifully both beam upon us in the face of Judah, as in the name of his aged and decrepit father he makes his pathetic plea in behalf of Benjamin, and offers to give his life as a ransom for his brother. Seeing that there are such redemptive possibilities in even the worst, we ought to learn to think more kindly of humanity, and to despair of no man this side of perdition.—Henson.

This may always be safely said to penitents. Out of your worst sin God can bring good to yourself or to others, and good of an apparently necessary kind, but good of a permanent kind can result from your sin only when you have truly repented of it and sincerely wish you had never done it.—Dods.

PERTINENT QUESTIONS.

1. Why test them with something they were innocent of and not with something they had really done?
2. What evidence have we that they had repented of mistreating Joseph?
3. What had wrought the change in Judah?
4. What are the chief difficulties in confessing your faults and wrongdoings?
5. What sort of a world would we have if there were no intercessory prayers offered and no forgiveness?

THEATER AND THE CHURCH

Modern Stage Had Its Origin in Religious Setting, Says Speaker.

Congregational Conference of Duluth and Superior Brought to Close.

Crediting the Apostle Paul with being the father of the social center movement, having the church as the basis thereof, President M. J. Fenenga of Northland college last evening, in an address before the joint convention of the Duluth and Superior conferences of the Congregational denomination at Pilgrim church, declared that the so-called loss of interest in the church is largely due to the lack of the church bodies in carrying out St. Paul's idea. He also declared that the theater idea originated in the church, when the first plays ever written were built upon Biblical happenings and produced under auspices of the church.

He pointed out the success of the moving pictures and asserted that it is because of the lack of similar or equally as attractive entertainment in the church that young people drift away and patronize the picture shows instead of taking an interest in the church work. He openly advocated moving pictures in the church, using educational films, declaring that it would arouse and perpetuate a sentiment in favor of the church that nothing else would do. He advocated also the organization by church of dramatic societies, debating clubs and organizations for clean sport. His idea was that interest should be aroused so that personal service would be the result, for, he added, inactivity in church members results in the destruction of the church.

Last evening's meeting closed the joint conferences, and the two bodies will not meet together again until 1915, at which time the joint conference will be held in Superior. The separate conferences will meet as usual next year.

The devotional address last evening was given by Rev. G. P. Sheridan his subject being "Two Ways of Coming in Touch With Christ." A vocal solo by Mrs. A. J. Larson, "O Rest in the Lord" was much enjoyed. Communion service followed the sermon.

Thirty-five churches were represented at the conference. The delegates are leavign their homes today.

HONORED AT FARIBAULT.

Rev. A. W. Ryan Is Made a Doctor of Divinity.

Faribault, Minn., May 29.—Seabury Divinity school commencement exercises were held here yesterday. Bishop S. C. Edsall officiated.

Degrees of Doctor of Divinity were conferred on Rev. James A. Freeman of Minneapolis, Rev. Albert W. Ryan of Duluth and Rev. W. H. Gardam of Ypsilanti, Mich.

DECISION WILL COST THE CITY $7,000,000

Grand Rapids Is Enjoined From Dumping Sewage Into River.

Grand Rapids, Mich., May 29.—By a decision of the state supreme court at Lansing, the city of Grand Rapids is enjoined from dumping sewage into the Grand river.

To obey the ruling of the court, the city will have to reconstruct all sewer outlets, which now open into the river, and a large part of the system, which includes 192 miles of sewers. In addition, land must be purchased and two immense septic tanks built, one on each side of the river. The estimated cost of the change is $7,000,000.

The court's action is the result of a suit brought against the city by down river rural districts to combat the sewage peril during periods of low water.

Grand Rapids will be the first of the large cities along the shores of Lake Michigan to be restrained in accordance with the recent resolutions of Federal engineers from polluting that body of water by contaminating streams that empty into it.

BAKER RECAPTURED.

Crook Who Posed as Woman Has Brief Liberty.

Albuquerque, N. M., May 29.—James Arthur Baker, alleged notorious "man-woman" crook, arrested at Kansas City recently and who escaped at Flagstaff, Ariz., from Sheriff Wilson of Riverside, Cal., and a deputy while being taken back to that city for trial on a charge of grand larceny and forgery, was captured here by Chief of Police Thomas McMillan.

Baker at first denied his identity, but confessed after he had made a desperate attempt to escape on reaching the city jail. He was thwarted by a newspaper reporter and Chief McMillan after a struggle. Baker told of his escape from a drawing room of a Santa Fe train while the officers slept.

FOUR KILLED BY BURNING GASOLINE.

Keifer, Okla, May 29.—Bert Philipps, Walter Martin, George Bell and William Carney, who were burned when gasoline from an overturned oil tank came in contact with a blacksmith's furnace, are dead. Four other persons were injured, but their condition is not regarded as serious.

JAPANESE CALL UPON JOHNSON.

Sacramento, Cal., May 29.—S. Ebara, a member of the upper house of the Japanese parliament; A. Hattori, a member of the lower house; K. Yamagoto, secretary of Ebara and secretary of the Tokio Y. M. C. A., and K. Abiko, a Japanese newspaper editor of San Francisco, arrived in Sacramento last night to pay a visit to Governor Johnson and learn at first hand what objection Californians have to Japanese land ownership.

The Japanese party will remain in Sacramento for several days. Countrymen will escort them through the Japanese farming districts of this section.

TRAINMEN CHANGE INSURANCE PLAN.

San Francisco, Cal., May 29.—The Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen in convention here approved a change in the organization's insurance methods. All policies hereafter will be paid in full when the holders reach the age of 70. Proposals to adopt a form of paid-up insurance, such as that offered by regular companies, and also to make the loss of one eye total disability, were defeated.

CLAPP TALKS AT NEGROES' MEETING.

Washington, May 29.—Several hundred negroes from all sections of the country last night gathered to honor the memory of the late John B. Henderson, former senator from Missouri, who drafted the constitutional amendment abolishing slavery. Speaker Champ Clark and Senator Clapp of Minnesota were among the speakers, and Mrs. Henderson, widow of the late senator, also eulogized her husband's achievements in behalf of the negro race.

A committee was named to petition congress to set aside Nov. 16, the day of Henderson's birth, as a public holiday.

ACQUITTED ON SECOND TRIAL.

New York, May 29.—Instead of having to serve out the sentence of twenty-five to forty years in prison for kidnaping imposed upon him two years ago, Stanislaus Pattenza walked out of a Brooklyn court room a free man. A jury acquitted him on his second trial, his conviction in 1910 having been set aside and a new trial ordered.

Pattenza was convicted with Mrs. Mary Rappa of kidnaping 8-year-old Joseph Longo, son of wealthy parents, and holding him with Michael Rizzo, another kidnaped boy of about the same age, for ransom.

Mary Rappa, who had been sentenced to a long term in prison, is soon to be re-tried on the same charge.

BARNARD MAY BAN SORORITIES.

New York, May 29.—Official announcement is made by Dean Virginia C. Gildersleeve of Barnard college, Columbia university, that the faculty on May 26 adopted resolutions which promise to put an end to secret societies at that institution for young women.

The action of the faculty was the result of an investigation which has been going on since last fall, when a committee was appointed to hear testimony and collect evidence as to the advantages and disadvantages of the social organizations.

Hereafter all student organizations must be chartered for a limited term by the student council, subject to the supervision of the faculty committee on student organizations.

MANY AFTER SCHOOL JOB

Chisholm School Board Opens Bids for High School Work.

Gray Contracting Company May Be Awarded the General Contract.

Chisholm, Minn., May 29.—(Special to The Herald.)—There is much interest here over the awarding of the bids for the new high school or rather addition to the present high that will be erected this year at a cost of about $[illegible],000. The bids were opened by the school board last night and today are being figured out with the probabilities that awards may be made some time today. There were about fifty bidders and others interested in this important piece of work on hand last night when the bids were opened and interest will be keen until the result is known as the work will be one of the largest in this section this year.

The bid of the Gray Construction company on the general contract is the lowest and it is expected that concern will get the work. Three bidders who were considerably higher asked and received their certified checks put up with the bids for 10 per cent of the amount of the bid and got them back today indicating they do not consider they are in the running.

General Contract Bidders.

The bids on the general contract follow:

Bailey Marsh company, $183,000.
Gray Contracting company, $168,291.
General Contracting company, $197,000.
Slate & Alte, $179,000.
R. J. Cheney, $193,743.
A. M. Wold, $178,500.
Tomlinson & Egan, $196,385.12.
Dowe, Burke & Co., $182,796.

Bids on Plumbing.

The following plumbing bids were received:

Carl Schirmer, Hibbing, $17,075.
M. J. O'Neil, $15,649.
J. F. Adamson Co., $13,950.
American Heating company, $15,000.
H. Kelly company, $14,549.
Adam Schirmer, Chisholm, $16,325.
A. C. Schirmer, Hibbing, $12,974.

Bids on Heating.

Bids on the heating plant follow:

Archambeau Plumbing & Heating company, $29,764.
M. J. O'Neil, $30,502.
J. F. Adamson company, $28,000.
H. Kelly & Co., $26,987.
McHring & Hanson, $23,723.
American Heating company, $26,679.
A. B. Schirmer, $21,645.

Wiring Contracts.

The following bid on the wiring and standard clock system:

Charles Burgess, Duluth, $8,080.
Twin City Electric company, $8,752.
B. H. Graham, Chisholm, $6,346.
Richardson Electric company, $6,700.
Hartig Electric company, $7,975.

These bid for the engine and two units:

Ridgeway Dynamo & Engine company, $7,045.
Northern Engine company, $6,300.
A. C. Schirmer, $7,245.
T. C. Ferguson, $5,350.

There were also bids for the vacuum system thermostats, etc.

SCHOOL PUPILS ARE TO MARCH

Younger Generation of Virginia Prominent in Memorial Day Parade.

Virginia, Minn., May 29.—(Special to The Herald.)—Virginia's Memorial day observance, which has always been under the auspices of the schools, because there are only about three veterans of the Civil war residents of the city will be unique and more elaborate than any of its kind anywhere in the country. The parade and pageant this year will be more of a spectacle than in any former year. More than 3,000 school children will be in the line of march and much time and attention has been given by the teachers of the schools to present something that will be interesting and having an educational value.

The teachers and pupils of all the schools will assemble at 1 Friday afternoon at the Technical high school and the Roosevelt school. The line of march will be formed in the following ing order: Marshal of the day, detail of police, Mohami band, the mayor and city council, members of the board of education, veterans of the Civil war, veterans of the Spanish-American war, students of the night schools, citizens, teachers and students.

Line of March.

The line of march will be as follows: Start at the Technical high school, east on Cedar to Mesaba avenue, north on Mesaba avenue to Maple street, east on Maple to Railroad avenue, north on Railroad avenue to Chestnut street, west on Chestnut street to Virginia avenue, south on Virginia avenue to Poplar street, east on Poplar to place of starting at Technical high school.

The decoration of graves at the cemeteries will take place in the morning. Not more than three who are known to have been veterans of the Civil war are buried at Virginia.

Grand Rapids Exercises.

Grand Rapids, Minn., May 29.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Memorial day parade will form at 9:30 a. m. at the village hall, the wings to rest on Fifth street and the main body on Leland avenue. The line of march will be down Leland avenue to Third street, to Kindred avenue, to the high school, where the exercises will be held.

The formation of the parade follows: Marshal of the day, Grand Rapids band, Civil war veterans and the Grand Army circle, orator and officials of the day, representatives of the Itasca County Development association, the mayor and members of the village council, Grand Rapids fire department, the Booster club, fraternal orders and other societies, high school, Central school and Forest Lake school. An urgent request has been made for all residences and stores along the line of march to be decorated for the occasion.

The banquet in the evening for the delegates to the Itasca County Development association meeting will take place at 8 o'clock instead of 7, as formerly announced, and will be held at the Pokegama hotel, instead of at St. Joseph's church.

Hibbing Memorial Day Plans.

JAIL-BREAKER IS CAPTURED

Koochiching County Sheriff Gets His Man at Old Mesaba.

Virginia, Minn., May 29.—(Special to The Herald.)—Sheriff Thomas White of Koochiching county is here with Arthur Ames whom he arrested at Old Mesaba.

Ames, who is charged with highway robbery, broke jail at International Falls a year ago. The sheriff is taking Ames back. Charles Barry, a pal of Ames, is still a fugitive.

GILBERT LADIES' AID HOSTESS AT LUNCH.

Gilbert, Minn., May 29.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Presbyterian Ladies' Aid society gave a progressive lunch Wednesday afternoon. The first course, consisting of chicken, mashed potatoes, escalloped corn, baking powder biscuits, pickles and coffee, was served at the home of Mrs. Carmichael. The second course, fruit salad and wafers, was served at the residence of Rev. G. S. Turner. The third course, strawberry short cake and coffee, was served at the residence of C. L. Newberry. All the courses were delectable and the affair was patronized by a very large crowd.

LIGHTNING HITS CHISHOLM HOME.

Chisholm, Minn., May 29.—(Special to The Herald.)—During the severest electrical storm of the spring which prevailed here this morning lightning struck the chimney of the home of Thomas Mulaney, 907 First avenue, and did some damage. Mrs. Mulaney, who was working in the kitchen, was badly shocked.

For Duluth, Superior and vicinity, including the Mesaba and Vermilion Iron ranges: Showers this afternoon and tonight; Friday generally fair; slight changes in temperature; moderate to brisk winds, northeast probably becoming northwesterly tonight.

EXPLANATORY NOTES.

Observations taken at 8 a. m. seventy-fifth meridian time. Air pressure reduced to sea level. Isobars (continuous lines) pass through points of equal air pressure. Isotherms (dotted lines) pass through points of equal temperature; drawn only for zero, freezing, 50°, and 100°. ○ clear; ◒ partly cloudy; ● cloudy; R rain; S snow; M report missing. Arrows fly with the wind. First figures, temperature; second, precipitation of .01 inch or more for past 24 hours; third, maximum wind velocity.

RAIN

The weather man made good on his thunderstorm prediction by sending an electrical display this morning, the accompanying thunder arousing the city and keeping it aroused for some time. There is more rain on the way, according to the prediction, and Friday should be fair.

Fair, cool weather prevailed a year ago today.

The sun rose this morning at 4:18 and it will set at 7:52 this evening, giving fifteen hours and thirty-four minutes of sunlight.

Mr. Richardson makes the following comment on weather conditions:

"Showers occurred Wednesday or last night in North Atlantic states, the Southern and Western lake region, Upper Mississippi valley, North Dakota, Montana, Wyoming, Nevada, Utah and Southern California. During the severe thunderstorm last night 1.09 inches of rain fell at Duluth, while in Superior the amount registered was 3.03 inches. Temperatures of 90 deg. to 96 deg. occurred Wednesday in the Dakotas, Western Minnesota, Nebraska, Kansas, New Mexico and Texas. Conditions favor further showers in St. Louis and Douglas counties this afternoon and probably tonight, followed Friday by mostly fair weather."

The Temperatures.

Chicago, May 29.—Forecasts for twenty-four hours ending at 7 p. m., Friday:

Upper Michigan—Showers tonight and probably Friday.

Wisconsin—Showers this afternoon and tonight; Friday generally fair; cooler in west portion tonight and Friday.

Minnesota—Generally fair tonight and Friday, preceded by showers in east portion this afternoon or tonight; cooler tonight.

Iowa—Generally fair tonight and Friday; cooler tonight and in east portion Friday.

North Dakota and Montana—Generally fair tonight and Friday; cooler tonight.

South Dakota—Most cloudy with probably showers tonight or Friday; cooler tonight.

HIBBING DOG ACTS LIKE MAD

Froths at Mouth and Does Other Stunts That Scare People.

Hibbing, Minn., May 29.—(Special to The Herald.)—Another mad dog scare caused a good deal of excitement at the south end of town at 10 o'clock this morning.

A dog belonging to W. Sanderson, who lives over the Brose grocery on South Third avenue, was discovered eating grass, frothing at the mouth and snapping at passersby. The whole neighborhood was thrown into a state of terror for some minutes. Patrolman Dan Hayes captured the dog without great difficulty and locked it up. Health Officer Dr. C. F. Morseman will make an investigation this afternoon.

WANT ELECTION ON ANNEXATION

Former Mayor Believes Alice People Would Vote on Matter.

Hibbing, Minn., May 29.—(Special to The Herald.)—Andrew Nelson, former mayor of Alice, and other Alice residents are circulating a petition asking for an election in Alice upon the proposition of annexation to Hibbing. Mr. Nelson says enough signers have already been secured to the petition to call the election, the law requiring 25 per cent of the number of voters at the last regular election.

Mr. Nelson is not certain, however, whether the petition will be presented. "I am confident that we can beat annexation," he said, "if the terms agreed upon by the village councils of Hibbing and Alice are not such as we desire. We shall probably want to see what steps are taken before we present our petition to the council at Alice."

COHASSET MAN NEAR TO DEATH.

Grand Rapids, Minn., May 29.—(Special to The Herald.)—Ben Curtis, who was badly injured Monday morning at the factory of the Woodenware company in Cohasset, is hovering between life and death, and the physicians hold out little hopes for his recovery. A consultation was held late last night, upon the arrival of the train from Duluth.

GILBERT BRIDE-ELECT IS GIVEN SHOWER.

Gilbert, Minn., May 29.—(Special to The Herald.)—Tuesday a very pleasant evening was spent at the home of the Misses Grace and Ruth Gigman, the occasion being a miscellaneous shower given in honor of Miss Ruth Gigman, who is to become the bride of George A. Miller of St. Paul. The wedding is to occur during the summer. Miss Gigman has taught in the Gilbert schools the past year and has a host of friends. Many handsome gifts were presented. The following guests were present: Mesdames Clare Orme, Bowman, Hoel and Dukelow, Misses Sarah and Mary Brammer, Feyereisen, Van Patten, Wade, Gilmore, Galligan, Small, Forsberg, McConville, Wyndhorst, Da La Pointe, Fay, Currer, Costin, Minder, Whiteside, Christianson, Coe and Welch.

OPIATE IS BLAMED FOR MAN'S DEATH

Coroner's Jury Returns Verdict in Hypnotic Subject Case.

Coleraine, May 29.—(Special to The Herald.)—The coroner's jury that looked into the death of Ray De Von made its finding at 10 o'clock last night after an all-day session that death was caused by an overdose of the opiate, heroin.

It was thought at one time that the entire troupe of the hypnotic show under the leader, whose stage name is Melrose, would be held for indictment by the grand jury, but after due deliberation a verdict as above was rendered.

This show has been dated for two performances at Bovey. The hypnotic "sleep" was induced by opiates given to two young men carried with the show for that purpose.

Needed Drug Badly.

To bring relief from the recent effects of the "doping," these men, Ray De Von and Earl Jennings, tried to purchase heroin at the Coleraine drug store, but were refused. They said that their case was desperate and must have it, but their entreaties were without avail. They then sought out a physician in Bovey, who sold them twenty-five grains of this opiate, which he admitted on the witness stand was sufficient to kill three men. Evidently, from the finding of the coroner's jury, De Von, in his desire to find relief, took an overdose with fatal results. He never regained consciousness after being taken to the hospital about noon on Tuesday, where he died at 10 o'clock that night. The death and inquest has caused considerable comment in this mining district.

Mother's Friend in Every Home

Comfort and Safety Assured Before the Arrival of the Stork.

In thousands of American homes there is a bottle of Mother's Friend that has aided many a woman through the trying ordeal, saved her from suffering and pain, kept her in health in advance of baby's coming, and had a wonderful influence in developing a lovely disposition in the child.

There is no other remedy so truly a help to nature. It relieves the pain and discomfort caused by the strain on the ligaments, makes pliant those fibres and muscles which nature is expanding and soothes the inflammation of breast glands.

Mother's Friend is an external remedy, and not only banishes all distress in advance, but assures a speedy recovery for the mother. Thus she becomes a healthy woman with all her strength preserved to thoroughly enjoy the rearing of her child. Mother's Friend can be had at any drug store at $1.00 a bottle. Write to Bradfield Regulator Co., 228 Lamar Bldg., Atlanta, Ga., for their free book. Write to-day. It is most instructive.

TO DIVIDE STUNTZ.

Richest Township in United States Will Be Cut Up.

Hibbing, Minn., May 29.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Stuntz township board last night practically decided to divide the township long famous as the richest in the United States, by granting the petition of Chisholm that the portion adjoining that town be cut off, thereby allowing the organization of a new township, of which Chisholm will be the center. No opposition to the proposition developed at the meeting and the petition will now go before the board of county commissioners at their June meeting for final approval. As there is no objection on the part of the districts represented, the new township is assured.

The division involves the giving up on the part of Stuntz township of one entire township with the exception of six sections. The larger part of sections 1 to 30 of 58-20, the northeast township of the town of Stuntz, is made up of the town of Chisholm. The mines outside of Chisholm to be in the new town are: Pillsbury, Morrow, St. Anthony, St. Louis, Hartley, Myers, Croxton and a part of the Shenango. The valuation amounts to about $10,000,000, the total valuation of Stuntz township is $119,591,459.

B. Johnson. The evening was spent with games and refreshments were served.

CHURCH IS ON SKIDS.

Eveleth Park Board Is Moving Episcopal Edifice.

Eveleth, Minn., May 29.—(Special to The Herald.)—The park board has the Episcopal church on skids for the purpose of moving it one block east, cornering on McKinley avenue and Pierce street. The church will be improved by the construction of a basement and the beautifying of the grounds. The expense of moving and building the basement will be borne by the city under the agreement in which the church people surrendered the present site in order to clear the park and provide a site for the public library to be erected this summer. It is not altogether improbable that the Presbyterian church will be removed in the near future to a site beside the new location of the Episcopal church, thereby clearing the park of all buildings excepting the library.

Plans for the library are now in the hands of the contractors and the contract will be let June 16.

Feet So Sore Couldn't Walk Down Stairs—

TIZ Cured Her Quick.

Send at Once for Free Trial Package.

If you have sore feet, tired feet, sweaty feet, lame feet, tender feet, smelly feet, corns, callouses or bunions, read what happened to Mrs. Crockett, of Jeffersonville. TIZ did it. Mr. Crockett says: "After the second treatment she walked downstairs one foot at a time. She had not been able to walk downstairs before in past five years; except by stepping down on each step with one foot at a time. This is remarkable. Send five more boxes."

No matter what ails your feet or what under heaven you have used without getting relief, just use TIZ. It's the only foot remedy ever made which acts on the principle of drawing out all the poisonous exudations which cause sore feet. Powders and other remedies merely clog up the pores. TIZ cleans them out and keeps them clean. You will feel better the first time it's used. Use it a week and you can forget you ever had sore feet. There is nothing on earth that can compare with it. If anyone offers you an imitation that is claimed to "as good as TIZ," ask why, if it is just as good, they don't dare to come out and advertise it. Don't you be a victim—get the genuine TIZ is for sale at all drug stores, department and general stores, 25c per box, or direct, if you wish. Money back if TIZ doesn't do all we say. For a free trial package write today to Walter Luther Dodge & Co., Chicago, Ill.

NEWS OF THE NORTHWEST

FARGO WILL GREET MANY

North Dakota City Getting Ready for Homecoming Throngs.

Duluth and Other Patrols of Mystic Shrine to Be Present.

Fargo, N. D., May 29.—(Special to The Herald.)—The business houses are being decorated for the Masonic home-coming week, which begins Sunday and concludes Saturday, June 7.

The week will bring here many hundreds of former North Dakotans who have located in other states. It will mark the thirtieth anniversary of the establishment of the Scottish Rite bodies in Fargo, the twentieth anniversary of the great fire, and will bring to Fargo many distinguished officials of the supreme council of the Scottish Rite and prominent thirtieth-degree Masons from all over the West. There will be two notable parades. Friday will be the Shriners' parade, in which seven visiting temples will participate, and Saturday will be the civic parade.

Duluth Patrol Coming.

Minneapolis, St. Paul, Duluth, Aberdeen, Sioux Falls, Winnipeg and Grand Forks temples of the Shrine have accepted invitations. Minneapolis, Winnipeg, Grand Forks and Duluth will be represented by their patrols and bands and divans and leading members, while the others will not have patrols, but will have the other representations. There will be many fantastic features to the parade and the evolutions of the patrols will attract considerable attention.

The Saturday parade, June 7, will be participated in by the business and professional houses. Nearly every line of industry as well as many individual concerns will have floats. There will be at least a half dozen electrical floats from material and designs secured from the Mardi Gras in New Orleans.

NORTH DAKOTA INSTITUTES

Superintendent of Public Instruction Preparing for Gatherings.

Bismarck, N. D., May 29.—(Special to The Herald.)—Superintendent of Public Instruction E. J. Taylor will supervise several teachers' institutes and summer sessions to be held in June, July and August.

Traill, Steele and Nelson counties will have a teachers' session at the Mayville normal, commencing June 30, and continuing six weeks; Barnes, Griggs, Stutsman, Ransom, La Moure, Morton, Foster, and Eddy have a six-week session at Valley City commencing July 2; Grand Forks, Walsh, Cavalier and Pembina have a session in Grand Forks for six weeks beginning June 30; Burke, Renviole, Pierce, Bottineau, McHenry, Ward and Mountrail have a session at Velva, commencing July 7; Williams and McKenzie have an institute in Williston during the week of June 9; Cavalier county will have a week's institute commencing June 23, and Divide county will have an institute during the week of June 2 at Crosby.

GOVERNOR SOON TO TAKE STUMP

Minnesota Executive to Campaign for Public Utilities Commission.

St. Paul, Minn., May 29.—Governor A. O. Eberhart has announced tentative plans for his campaign of education on the public utilities question. He will make his initial speech on the subject in either St. Paul or Minneapolis about June 15, and in it he will endeavor to cover the principal points in the legislation which he will recommend when he calls the special session of the legislature in October.

Following this speech the governor expects to make a tour of the state, speaking at most of the larger towns. Public utilities will be his exclusive subject and he believes that he will be able to arouse sufficient public sentiment to compel the passage of a suitable law.

"I have been studying the question thoroughly for the last month," the governor said, "and will soon get to work on my speech. What the people want to know is how these commissions have worked in other states, and I am preparing data to show their efficiency in Wisconsin, New York, New Jersey and Massachusetts.

"I think that I can prove by such authorities on progressive legislation as Senator La Follette and President Wilson that the public utilities commission plans embodying the principle of state control is correct. The opposition has no argument against the principle and I do not think it can make much headway among thinking people."

Governor Eberhart has not as yet determined upon the date for the opening of the special session of the legislature but it will be between Oct. 1 and 15, if present plans carry.

CEMETERY WILL BE DEDICATED

Cass Lake to Observe Memorial Day By Unique Exercises.

Cass Lake, Minn., May 29.—(Special to The Herald.)—The dedication of the Cass Lake cemetery will be the principal feature of tomorrow's observance here of Memorial day. All business houses will close during the afternoon and at 2:15 the parade will start at the Endion corner and march to the cemetery. The band, school children, firemen and old soldiers will be in line. At the cemetery a program will be given as follows:

Music by the band; invocation; music, the choir; address, Judge L. M. Lange; music, the band; address, Senator William O'Neil; music, the choir; dedication of the cemetery; song, "America."

After this program the graves of all the dead will be decorated with flowers.

FIFTEEN PAROLED.

Board of Parole Grants Liberty to St. Cloud Reformatory Inmates.

St. Cloud, Minn., May 29.—The state board of parole at its meeting just held here, paroled fifteen prisoners.

Five paroled prisoners were given their entire freedom.

C. C. Reed, who has been appointed superintendent, to take up his duties June 1, is here preparing for the work.

Charles Schultze, who returned voluntarily to the institution about ten days ago from Sioux City, after breaking his parole, made no attempt to gain another parole.

MONTANA FLOODS.

Melting Snow Causing High Water in Western Part of State.

Missoula, Mont., May 29.—Melting snow is causing flood conditions in Western Montana, especially in the vicinity of Columbia Falls, Kalispell and the Flathead lake. The Flathead river rose three feet in twenty-four hours; at Columbia Falls, the new $30,000 steel bridge across the Flathead is topping and cannot be saved, and the flood of water rushing out of the mountains is playing havoc with property along the lowlands and threatening heavy damage to grain fields. Persons living in the lowlands are preparing for emergencies.

Rattlesnake creek, which traverses this city last night washed away one of the principal bridges in the eastern part of the town.

Cooler weather has caused a slight recession of the water in Bitter Root river, but numerous bridges are covered and may go out. Railway traffic has not been generally impeded.

BUTTE SOCIALISTS ROW.

Campaign Against Industrial Workers Is Getting Redhot.

Butte, Mont., May 29.—When the Butte Socialist organization meets here tonight, leaders say charges will be preferred against individual so-called Industrial Workers of the World members who are accused of urging sabotage and other methods of violence as a means of "working class emancipation." The preferring of charges, according to Socialist leaders, is part of a plan to oust from the local organization, which domintes the present city administration, those who are accused of seeking to establish here a "direct action" organization.

LOSES LIFE TRYING TO SAVE HORSES.

Great Falls, Mont., May 29.—U. S. Brennan, 86 years old, a rancher who lived eight miles southeast of Conrad, Mont., gave his life to save a team of horses after they had run away with him and plunged into the reservoir of the irrigation project.

Brennan was an excellent swimmer and swam out into twelve feet of water and cut the harness loose from the horses, which escaped. Then he started to swim out, but his strength failed and he sank to his death. He came here from North Dakota and his only relative was his son.

Dying From Bullet Wounds.

Racine, Wis., May 29.—Charles Schlivensky, a foreman in the coreroom of a local foundry company, and Frank Lochner, a coremaker, are dying at a city hospital as the result of bullet wounds alleged to have been inflicted by two Italians, Sam Anito and Ago Vinomoro.

Anito admits the shooting and implicates Vinomoro. The latter, however, denies that he participated in the assault.

SINKS IN MISSOURI.

Steamer Piloted By Man Who Figured in Historic Event Goes Down.

Washburn, N. D., May 29.—Striking a hidden snag in the Missouri river just above this city, the steamer Deapolis of the Benton Packet line quickly sank. It was carrying a cargo of 8,000 bushels of wheat from Mannhaven to Washburn. All the grain was lost. The crew reached shore in safety.

The Deapolis was commanded by Capt. Grant Marsh, who is one of the pioneer Missouri river pilots. In July, 1876, he piloted the steamer Far West, laden with the wounded from the Custer battlefield in Montana, down the Yellowstone and Missouri rivers to Fort Lincoln, near Bismarck.

The trip was the fastest that has ever been made on the headwaters of the Missouri, and the arrival of the Far West at Bismarck brought to the world the first authentic story of the death of Custer and his detachment of the Seventh United States cavalry.

BADGER GAME FISH SEASON OPENS FRIDAY.

Madison, Wis., May 29.—The Wisconsin open season for all game fish, such as pike, pickerel, bass, muskellunge, everything except brook trout, whose season opened some weeks ago, will begin tomorrow. It formerly opened June 1.

BOOSTING FOR HIGHWAY.

St. Paul's Mayor Working for Twin City-Duluth Road.

St. Paul, Minn., May 29.—Mayor Keller of St. Paul has asked the Association of Commerce to arrange with the association of Stillwater, a boosters' meeting for that place some time next week, to stir up interest in the Duluth-Twin City highway, for which Ramsey county has appropriated $10,000 to be spent in Washington county next year. The mayor wants Washington to make an appropriation to be spent in Chisago county. The road will pass through Washington, and if interest can bo aroused, it is hoped an appropriation will be made.

WOMAN IDENTIFIED.

Como Park Suicide Divorced Wife of Chicago Teacher.

St. Paul, Minn., May 29.—The woman who committed suicide Tuesday by jumping from a rowboat and drowning herself in Lake Como, was identified late yesterday as Mrs. Florence Gebhardt, divorced wife of Prof. George Gebhardt of the Armour institute of Chicago. The identification was made by W. B. McDonald of Minneapolis, a friend of both Prof. Gebhardt and his divorced wife.

"It is Mrs. Gebhardt said Mr. McDonald. There can be no mistake. I will notify Prof. Gebhardt.

"Several days ago I was surprised by a call from Mrs. Gebhardt at my house," he continued. "She was in a state of extreme nervous excitement. I advised her to go for a week or more to a sanitarium, that her nervous system might become normal. She replied that her physician had advised her to take the same course. Her self-destruction plainly was the result of a disordered mind."

R. Burnham, whose name was mentioned in a note left by Mrs. Gebhardt before she committed suicide, made a statement through a Minneapolis attorney in which he said that Mrs. Gebhardt and he were to have been married, and that she came to Minneapolis where the wedding was to have taken place.

Attorney J. H. Cane, who has been represent'ng Burnham, last night received a telegram from Rev. J. A. Adams, father of Mrs. Gebhardt, asking him to take charge of the body and have it shipped to the Adams home in Chicago. The telegram followed the refusal of Coroner Jones to turn the body over to Burnham for funeral arrangements.

The body will be sent to Chicago today.

BOWMAN, N. D., TO DO SOME BOOSTING.

Bowman, N. D., May 29.—(Special to The Herald.)—The rest of the country is to be told of the advantages of Bowman, if the plans of the local Commercial club are carried out. The great amount of moisture last fall, good rains during the spring and the splendid recent rainfall has made conditions here that are regarded as ideal. An effort will be made to attract attention to the grtat possibilities of the southwestern corner of the state in an advertising campaign.

MORE CORN ACREAGE.

Increase in North Dakota This Year About 50 Per Cent.

Fargo, N. D., May 29.—(Special to The Herald.)—The North Dakota corn acreage will be increased 50 per cent. There will be a slightly increased barley acreage, oats and flax will be about the same, potatoes not greatly increased and the wheat acreage some smaller than last year, is the concensus of opinion of the men who have been endeavoring to keep closely in touch with the crop situation in North Dakota.

The wheat acreage, while slightly decreased, is nearer last year's figures than many anticipated. There was a general lack of fall plowing and it was feared the crop could not be gotten in, but favorable weather, the shiftless method of stubbling in wheat and late work almost overcame the other handicaps and the acreage exceeds prior estimates.

SEEKING PARDON FOR EX-COUNTY TREASURER.

Bismarck, N. D., May 29.—About sixty applications for pardon have been filed with the board of pardons, which will meet at the governor's office the first week of June. Among those on file is one for Hugh McConville, formerly treasurer of Cass county, who was sentenced to serve seven years for embezzling over $7,000 while he was in office. McConville has been out on parole for some time and is employed by James Kennedy, the grading contractor at Fargo.

PENINSULA BRIEFS

Ishpeming—Rev. J. G. Haller, pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal church, and the members of the church board and other prominent members of the congregation have started a campaign to raise $2,720, which is the amount of the church debt.

Marquette—James Reidy of Duluth of Reidy Bros., formerly lumberman in this part of the Upper Peninsula, spent Monday visiting acquaintances in Marquette. He came here from Baraga and vicinity, where he estimated some timber lands for the Nester estate.

Hancock—According to a report of the board of review to the city council, there is in Hancock taxable property totaling $3,280,816. The annual appropriation bill to meet the running expenses of the city for the coming year provides for the raising of $50,000.

Ishpeming—The government mine rescue car will arrive in Ishpeming Saturday and will remain for three weeks. It will be stationed on the tracks near the office of the Oliver Iron Mining company. The car is now in Ironwood and will leave that city on Friday. After its stay in Ishpeming the car will go to Gwinn, where it will remain a week before returning to the Gogebic range.

Marquette—Peter Epper, who has been a member of the Marquette police force, was suspended by the commission from service without cause. Mr. Epper patroled the Third street beat. Frank Matt was named to succeed Mr. Epper.

Negaunee—The joint Memorial day exercises for Ishpeming and Negaunee, under the auspices of the Charles H. Towne post, G. A. R., will be held at the high school auditorium in Negaunee Friday afternoon. The program includes prayer by Rev. R. T. T. Hicks, addresses by Rev. Hartley Cansfield and Supt. Orr Schurtz, music by the band and patriotic songs by the school children.

Marquette—Marie Rhea Hebert, aged 14, daughter of Octave Hebert, of 509 Washington street, died at St. Mary's hospital Tuesday. She was operated on for appendicitis a week ago after which pneumonia set in, which was the cause of her death. She is survived by her father and mother, two brothers and a sister.

L'Anse — The officers of Keweenaw county and Prosecuting Attorney J. A. Hamilton have started a campaign against the breweries that are alleged to be retailing liquor without a retail license. Considerable trouble was experienced last year because of the same practice. The teamsters acting as agents for the various breweries take orders for liquor and deliver it to the parties.

Houghton—President F. J. Bawden of the village of Houghton, has returned from an extended European trip.

MINNESOTA BRIEFS

East Grand Forks—Bertha Quigley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Quigley, pioneer residents, was married Tuesday to Ralph McLoughlin of Butte, Mont., at Sacred Heart Catholic church, Rev. Father Klinkhammer officiating. The couple left for the Twin Cities, where they will spend their honeymoon. They will return to East Grand Forks for a short visit here before going to Butte, where they will make their home.

Winona—Mrs. Dorothy L. Rustad, aged 94, died here at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Alice Swanson. She leaves six sons: Gulick of Park River, N. D.; Martin and Andrew of Portland, Or.; Lars and John of Keller, Minn., and Edward of Platte, S. D.; also two daughters, Mrs. Sundby of Highland Prairie, Minn., and Mrs. Alice Swanson of this city.

Little Falls—The honor students of the 1913 graduating class at the high school are as follows: Valedictorian, Hulda Thelander; salutatorian, Myrtle Meyers; honorary students, Helen Weber, Ida Olson, Helen Massy, Ione Kirscher.

Fergus Falls—A. Smith, the Perham man accused of having thrown a brick at John Hassler and broken one of his ribs, had a preliminary hearing before Justice Pfefferle in this city Tuesday. Mr. Hassler's testimony was taken and Mr. Smith was bound over to the grand jury, bail being fixed at $1,000.

Bemidji—Through the efforts of Attorney P. J. Russell and Sheriff Andrew Johnson, the family of Charles Swanland, now an inmate in the state prison, will receive an allowance for support of $20 a month. The state board of control has approved the recommendation of the Minnesota state prison and has agreed to distribute the above amount through John A. Carlson of Foy, Minn.

Mankato—The Widell company has sent men and equipment to Montana to commence work on a large contract for the Great Northern Railway company. The company expects to employ about 100 men on the job for the entire season. This is the third contract which the Great Northern has awarded to the Widell company in the last three weeks.

Red Wing—Henry Seig of hose company No. 1 was chosen as delegate to represent the Red Wing fire department at the State Firemen's convention at Thief River Falls, June 11 and 12.

Hastings—The jury in the case of Marie Weins, aged 15 years, daughter of Mrs. Fanny Weins of South St. Paul, vs. George J. Glassing of Inver Grove, aged 44 years, on an action to recover $15,000 damages for seduction and breach of promise to marry, returned a verdict for the plaintiff and assessed her damages at $8,570.

Moorhead—Winners of gold and silver medals for excellency in orations at Concordia Lutheran college Monday night were Fred Kile, Glyndon, Minn., gold trophy; E. G. Bailey of Mandan, N. D., silver medal, and Miss Lottie Tollefson, Christine, N. D., third place. The medals are annually donated by Dr. O. J. Hagen and Attorney Dosland to stimulate public speaking.

Bemidji—Six Beltrami county boys, three of whom are Indians, have notified County Superintendent W. B. Stewart that they will submit compositions on farm life in an effort to get a free trip to the state fair next fall, under conditions laid down by the fair association.

DAKOTA BRIEFS

Maddock, N. D.—Bids from architects for the new $25,000 agricultural school building have been called for to be opened June 4. Benson was the second county in the state to take advantage of the law permitting such schools and the buildings will be erected this summer so school work can be started this fall.

Grand Forks, N. D.—Elaborate social features for the meeting here of the North Dakota Editorial association June 10-21, were planned at a meeting of the general committee. Under these plans there will be a big picnic the second day, with a program of athletic events and a baseball game. There will be an automobile ride about the city before the picnic, and that evening there will be a theater party.

Bismarck, N. D.—A large congregation gathered here Sunday when services were held for the dedication of the German Baptist church, which has just been completed. Many German Baptist pastors and delegates from neighboring towns were here.

Grand Forks, N. D.—Sigword Olson of Warren, Minn., was arrested Sunday and fined $10 for reckless driving with an automobile. According to witnesses Mr. Olson turned the corner of Third street and DeMers avenue at a twenty-five mile clip. His auto skidded and almost went into the corner drug store.

Fargo, N. D.—W. D. Allen of Seattle, Wash., is here for several days, as he came here to attend the Masonic home-coming week festivities. Mr. Allen about eight years ago conducted a plumbing establishment in this city and left here for the coast.

Wimbledon, N. D.—John Fox, cashier of the Merchants' National bank here, was elected secretary of the Commercial club to take the place of H. M. Stroud, who has been secretary for three years. The other old officers were all re-elected.

Mandan, N. D.—The ferry has been removed from Fort Rice on the Missouri river to Big Bend, despite vigorous and wrathy protests from Fort Rice.

Dickinson, N. D.—Robert L. Walters, a pioneer resident of Stutsman county, died after a lingering illness. He was a member of the legislature during the session of 1911.

WISCONSIN BRIEFS

Washburn—Fifty-nine cases will be tried at the term of circuit court for Bayfield county, which opened in this city Monday. There are nine criminal cases, fifteen cases for jury trial and thirty-five cases of fact for court.

Eau Claire—John Toner died at the Montgomery hospital, May 27, after a lingering illness. He leaves four brothers and one sister, Mrs. Steve Curry, Frank and Daniel of Oregon, and James and Michael of this city. The funeral will take place Friday at 8 a. m.

Madison—The legislature will not allow the claim of the Northwestern Life Insurance company for $933,836.45, if the senate and assembly approve the joint resolution introduced in the senate Tuesday by the joint committee on finance.

Milwaukee—Judge M. S. Sheridan ordered the Wisconsin Trust company to turn over $437,609.43 to Miss Elsbeth Pabst, granddaughter of the late Capt. Frederick Pabst. It was the formal acceptance by Miss Pabst of the fortune left her by the late Maria Pabst. She became of age last December.

Marinette—A judgment of $4,000 was won by Marinette and Menominee in the Wisconsin supreme court against the Goodrich Transit company for damage done to a drawbridge here by the Goodrich steamer Carolina, was settled on Tuesday for $3,200. The company agrees to restore the Goodrich boat service to cities next year for the reduction in the verdict.

Manitowoc—When a wooden sweep, used in moving his barn, broke, Henry Willert, 35 years old, a town of Kossuth farmer, was struck on the head and instantly killed.

Neenah—Fred Coates and Walter Cramer were thrown from their boat at the Neenah dam by the swift undercurrent. Joseph Austin and Emil Kuehl let a boat down to them by a rope and brought them to shore.

Appleton—Anton Schmidt, a farmer, was bitten by a pig and rushed to take the Pasteur treatment at Madison. The pig had been bitten by a dog that showed symptoms of rabies.

Beloit—J. H. McNeill, for five years principal of the high school at Marquette, Mich., has been selected as principal of the Beloit high school to succeed the late J. C. Pierson.

HERDING THE SPORTING SHEEP AND GOATS INTO THE DOPE CORRAL, AS SEEN BY BRUCE

THE Northern league has been in existence a little over a month and with the turning of the second month of the new league there has been a settling of the race and some of the best baseball that the fans in these parts have ever witnessed. With warm weather and the consequent improvement of the pitching it is not unreasonable to expect even a better brand of the national game than we have had to date.

Pitching records sent out from the office of President Burmeister during the past week and published in The Herald, give eloquent proof of some of the hard fought and close games that have been played during the first month of the campaign.

At the conclusion of the first month of the race Minneapolis was leading the procession, with Winona, Superior, Duluth, Winnipeg, St. Paul, Grand Forks and Virginia following in the order named.

In less than a week of the second month of the race we find Superior, Minneapolis, Winona and Duluth running under a blanket in the van, furnishing the followers of the game over the circuit with as pretty a race as one could possibly wish to see.

In all around strength Duluth and Superior appear to have the strongest teams. Most of the games that have been dropped during the first month of the campaign by the White Sox can be laid to the door of poor pitching. All of the Orator's twirlers have been slow in rounding to form and perhaps the cold weather can be held partly responsible for this condition.

During the past few days Blancke, Brackett, Woods and Peggy Rhoades have given some startling pitching exhibitions. Johnson has so far failed to round into form. Fans should remember that it was the work of this young man that kept the White Sox in the race during the first few games of the season. When the others were showing anything but effective ability Johnson was the one flinger the Orator could depend upon.

Comstock, Leverett and Sherrin of the Broncho staff are responsible for the present standing of the Minneapolis aggregation. Sherrin was too ill to work during the recent series here with the Bronks, or else the result might have been different, and this is not knocking the great playing of the Dooks in the least.

Young Snow has been the principal dependence of Lefty Davis of Winona and the kid sure has come through and shown some great stuff. Bud Moe of Winnipeg is showing the form that caused him to be considered one of the greatest of the twirlers in the See-Eye last season. Boly, the kid secured from the Three-I league, is also working well at the present time and the Maroons should be a hard team to beat; harder to beat, in fact, than has been the case during the earlier part of the season.

Charles Jones will have to strengthen the Little Saints to make them serious contenders in the race. The same holds true of the Virginia outfit. Winona is going strong and the same can be said of the Grand Forks team. Under the managerial wing of Bill Carney the Flickertails have shown great improvement and should be well up in the fight from now on.

Ed Rheulbach is the greatest natural pitcher in baseball. The only trouble is that he refuses to act natural.

TINKER, Brown and Kling are at the present time members of the Cincinnati team. Should Rheulbach join the Reds the veteran members of Chicago's "500" club can seek some small measure of solace by going to the Cub park upon the days when the Cincinnati team plays there and sadly wonder at the ravages of time.

HANNES KOLEHMAINEN, the wonderful young Finnish runner who is going to make his appearance here sometime next month, is the present holder of the six, seven, eight, nine and ten-mile world's records. The most remarkable part of the feat is that all the records were broken by the Finn on the same occasion. So great is the endurance of Kolehmainen that after the hardest kind of a race he seems perfectly fresh after taking several deep breaths.

To date Marty O'Toole has hardly paid the interest on that alleged $22,500 investment. We never fell for the entire amount at that.

• • •

With Plank, Bender, Mathewson, Wagner, Lajoie, and even old Jeff Overall going at the present rate one may ask what chance has the sprightly young thing in the higher circles of baseball.

In the six games he has worked on the home lot—representing in all something like four complete games—Henry Clay Blancke, the poet, has whiffed forty batsmen. This record can be easily verified by looking over the records. This comes near averaging ten men to a game, all of which is going some. It is a peculiar fact that in most of the games that Blancke works in, one or two runs prove sufficient to win.

Zbyszko Collapses.

New York, May 29.—Stanislaus Zbyszko, the Polish wrestler, collapsed from weakness in his bout with George Lurich of Russia after 16 minutes and 21 seconds of wrestling at Madison Square Garden last night. The Pole entered the ring with his head swathed in bandages, as the result of an injury received in his match with Constant Le Marin at Montreal last Saturday night.

St. Paul at Virginia.

Our brave athletes took the final game of the inter-cities series from the Superior Red Hose yesterday by the score of 4 to 3, thus bringing the series to a close with one win out of the three games played.

Tolliffe Johnson, who these latter days would make the wild man of Borneo appear as flinching and domesticated as the thoroughly subdued husband of a determined and fanatical suffragette, started the mound work for us, but was speedily given the recall and Herr Brackett was sent to the hill. But one single was secured off the delivery of the gent from Morris, Minn.

Chicken Gives Way.

Chicken started the pill propelling for our most hated of all enemies and was sent to the dugout later in the fray to allow the $17,000 green trading stamp Schauer to take the mound and during his occupancy of the knoll not a hit was garnered by the little pure and unadulterated white hose young gents.

Cullis fuzzled one from the bat of our valiant leader and the Dook was safe at station number one. Ignatius McCauley also booted the offering of McGraw and then yokels on the other side looked exceedingly worried. Miller sacrificed the two runners and O'Brien crossed the pan when Meniece hit one to short and was chucked out at first.

Persch whiffed and Cullis was hit on the vaccination mark. Old Fred Curtis doubled and the winged gent scored. Dunn flew to left and Curtis advanced to third, scoring on McCauley's single. Brackett went to the hill at this highly throbbing point of the proceedings and the side was retired without further scoring.

McGraw and Miller walked in the third. Meniece forced Miller at second and Rhoades was hit with a pitched ball, filling the bases. McGraw was pegged out at the plate on Smith's infield offering. Bunny Schreiber was hit and McGraw came in with the tieing run.

Right back in their half of the third the homecrofters tied the count. Schreiber booted one from the bludgeon of Cullis and advanced to the middle of the diamond on the infield out of Old Man Curtis at first. From the second sack the fleet Cullis came all the way home when ancient Bill Dunn put up a little fly that was just out of the reach of the hands of Meniece.

After Meniece had grounded out in the fifth our Dusty Rhoades tripled to the distant corner of the lot and counted when Smith lofted one to Persch.

Sixth the Winner.

In the sixth the winning run was put across the pan. Ignatius McAuley made his second boot of the game when he permitted the offering from the bat of Wilke to get away from him. Brackett sacrificed the runner along. Our noble and cultured receiver went to third when the Orator grounded out and scored when Benedict McGraw scratched a hit through the infield.

Schauer went to the hurling hill after this and his delivery proved an enigma to the batters from the city side of the bay. The green trading stamp wonder from Hinukia, Iowa, was in the best of form and following the game Will Sommer sent collect messages to McGraw, Murphy, Connie Mack, Frank Chance and Ebbets, stating that if the twirler was grabbed quick he could be purchased at the present time for $9,899. It is the desire of Mister Sommer to start another shoe store, and with the cash received from the greatest pitcher who has come out of the bushes since the rusty advent of Walter Johnson, it is believed that the genial and pleasant head of the club of the village side of the bay will be able to equip a perfectly dandy store and a quick repair department.

MILLERS TAKE FINAL CONTEST

Minneapolis Defeats Virginia Rangers By the Score of 6 to 1.

Virginia, Minn., May 29.—Minneapolis took the final game of the series from the Rangers by the score of 6 to 1. The solitary count of the locals came from the home run of Breyette, the brakeman hitting the first ball pitched to him over the left field fence. Unglaub also hit one out of the lot. In a tight situation early in the game Sherrin was yanked from the box and Chase sent in.

WINNIPEG TAKES LAST GAME OF SERIES.

Winnipeg, Man., May 29.—The locals won the final game of the series with Grand Forks by the score of 3 to 2. Boly, the youngster from the Three-I league was opposed by Myers and he clearly had the better of the battle with the visiting star. Wells was called to the mound in the seventh round. The batting of Tim Flood was one of the features of the game, the veteran getting three blows during the afternoon, two of them counting in the scores. Four fast double plays were pulled during the game, the contest being about the snappiest that has been played here during the present season.

WINONA TAKES FINAL GAME FROM ST. PAUL.

Winona, Minn., May 29.—Winona won out in the eleventh inning yesterday of one of the most exciting games that have ever been played on the local lot, the score being 4 to 3. For eight innings Nedenfuhr held the Giants to three hits and no runs. In the ninth round the locals fell on the delivery of the visiting twirler for five hits and three runs, tieing the count. In the eleventh round the Davis crew put over the winning run, a walk, a sacrifice and a long double to left bringing home the winning run. The score:

Ann Arbor, Mich., May 29.—University of Michigan track team left last night for Cambridge to compete in the championships on Friday and Saturday. There were ten men in the party.

AMERICAN IS ELIMINATED

Worcester Tailor's Son Gives British Golf Champion Hard Battle.

Youth Made Splendid Showing on the St. Andrews Course.

St. Andrews, May 29.—W. Heinrich Schmidt, the young player of Worcester, Mass., was beaten today in the sixth round of the championship by H. H. Hilton of the Royal Liverpool Golf club at the nineteenth hole.

Schmidt was the sole survivor among the American entrants in the contest for the amateur golf championship of the world. He won in both the fourth and fifth rounds yesterday. Hilton has held the world's championship title three times and has been British amateur champion and amateur champion of the United States.

Playing with machine-like accuracy and showing no signs of fatigue, despite the gruelling fight with A. V. Hambro of the Royal St. George club, whom he defeated by one up earlier in the day, Schmidt in the fifth round yesterday fairly smothered Willie Grieg of New Clu, St. Andrews, who had downed Munn, the famous Irish player and a hot favorite for the championship.

The American was out in 38 and stood 6 up at the turn. Coming in, he poled out in 4, 3, 4, never giving his opponent a chance, and won 8 up and 6 to play.

Harold Weber of Toledo, Ohio, was eliminated by Worthington of the Mid-Surrey Golf club, who won 1 up.

Worcester, Mass., May 29.—W. Heinrich Schmidt, who met Former British and American Golf Champion H. Hilton in the sixth round of the world's championship at St. Andrews today, is a senior at the Worcester Polytechnic school. His diploma will be waiting for him when he returns, as he passed a final examination before he sailed for Europe. He is 23 years old. He learned golf and earned many a bright point before sailing, and his playing has been unusually bright, owing largely, his friends believe, to his indomitable spirit. He began playing in open events three years ago, and entered his first national at Apawamis in 1911, when he failed to qualify. Last year he was eliminated at Wheaton by Charles E. Evans of Chicago. But the next week he returned and captured the Massachusetts championship. The young golfer was expecting to work his passage to Europe on a cattle boat, but the vessel sailed without a cattle cargo. Schmidt went second class, determined to save money for a visit to Paris. His father, Henry F. A. Schmidt, a tailor here, was born in Germany.

FAIR PLAY FOR AMERICAN GOLFERS.

St. Andrews, Scotland, May 29.—While play was proceeding in the tournament for the amateur golf championship of the world today an important question affecting any future American entries was being discussed at the annual meeting of the committee of delegates from all the Scottish, English and Irish clubs, which settled the conditions governing entries for the championship. The question arose owing to the difference between the British and American systems of handicapping.

While in the United States no player is rated higher than scratch, in the British Isles the plus system prevails. The strongest players are sometimes rated as high as "plus 6," and consequently have six strokes added to their scores in any handicap medal game.

The first clause in regulations for the amateur championship provides that the competitions shall be open to amateurs rated scratch or better in their clubs. This regulation, if it were strictly enforced, would bar every American golfer except James D. Travers, the former champion of the United States.

The committee, however, adopted a broad and sportsmanlike view and although no definite action was taken owing to the necessity of giving three months' notice of such a change, it almost unanimously was agreed that at next year's meeting of the committee a motion should be introduced permitting any American golfer whose United States Golf association rating was six or less to enter for the championship.

MERCHANDISE SHOOT.

Duluth Central Gun Club Will Hold Three-Class Meet.

There will be a merchandise shoot held by the Duluth Central Gun club at the Park Point grounds tomorrow afternoon, the first event of the program being set for 2 o'clock. There will be prizes offered by the merchants of Duluth for each of the three classes, A, B and C. It is expected that the largest number of shooters of the present season will be out, as this is the most important meet that has been carded during the present season.

Practically all of the best shooters of the club have been practicing at the targets for the past month and most of them are in the very best of condition. It is believed that the competition in the three classes will bring out some of the best shooting that has been seen at the Park Point grounds during the past year or so.

De Oro Leads.

San Francisco, Cal., May 29.—At the end of the second night's play in the 150-point match here for the three-cushion billiard championship, Alfred De Oro had increased by a wide margin his lead over John Horgan, the little holder. Horgan ran only 27 points last night. The total score stands: De Oro, 100; Horgan, 71. The breaks last night were in the challenger's favor and he made a high run of five. The contest will be decided tonight.

FORKERS TO PLAY DOUBLE-HEADER

Two Games Will Be Played at Athletic Park Memorial Day.

There will be a double-header at Athletic park tomorrow, the fast-going White Sox and the Grand Forks team being down for two games. The first contest is set for 2 o'clock and the second will be called immediately following the completion of the initial game.

It is probable that Peggy Rhoades, who pitched a grand game against Minneapolis, will be the selection for the opening contest. Monty Woods will probably twirl the second game of the afternoon.

As the Forkers are traveling very fast at the present time it is expected that the two games will prove two of the hardest contests of the season to date. Bill Carney, the new manager of the Flickers, has secured some new men since the first appearance of that team at Athletic park, and the North Dakota team is going very fast at the present time.

With Myers and Bell and Wilson in form, the twirling staff of the Flickertails is one of the strongest in the league, and with several changes in

"That's the sixth Studebaker we've passed—the only kind to invest in"

"The only kind—because, as I always say, when a man puts money in a thing he wants to know that he's going to get the worth of it out again."

"That's plain business as I look at it."

"That's why I say the price doesn't tell you anything at all. There's only one thing that talks—except the wagon itself. That's the name of the maker."

"When you buy a Studebaker you're buying a vehicle that has behind it and in it sixty years of experience—sixty years of success—and sixty years of reputation for the square deal. That's why a Studebaker always looks good to me."

"My father used to say that Studebaker honor was as sure as a United States bank note. He was talking after having used Studebaker vehicles since he was a lad, and he told me his father before him said, 'Be safe—get a Studebaker.'"

"Vehicle builders can't hold that sort of reputation now-a-days without delivering the goods. A Studebaker wagon has the best in it. That's why a man gets the most out of it—why it's always an economy."

"Dealers may say to you something else is 'just as good.' But when you buy a Studebaker, you're making a safe investment every time."

PEOPLE ARE HONEST.

Indianapolis News: Possibly the most generous meal in the world is at the railway halt between St. Petersburg and Moscow. It is about midnight. You walk into a huge hall, spread with hot and cold meats, tea, vegetables, fish of all kinds to be sampled, vodka at hand. Everybody walks round and takes what he wishes at the moment. The train sounds the departing note. The passengers walk out and say at the door what they have eaten and drunk, and pay. Russia is said to be a dishonest country, but this system pays. The Russian won't cheat the people who provide his supper.

A QUEER PEOPLE.

Indianapolis News: Albanians are a mysterious people. What was their origin? "Perhaps," hazards W. A. Moore, "they were the Peeasgians, who have puzzled Greek historians; and possibly they were the Myrimidons, whom Achilles brought to Troy. They have kept their blood and their own strange language and the civilization of Europe has rolled on and left them in their mountains. Every man guards his own, and fears his neighbor unless he is a sure friend. There are no villages, only houses dotted at intervals high up round wide valleys. And every house is a fortress. The walls are of immense thickness, and the only openings are loopholes."

BEARDS.

Indianapolis News: Beards were regarded as a sacred possession by ancient races. The Jews were proud of their beards and wore them through the days of their Egyptian bondage, although the Egyptians shaved. The Greeks and Romans of the ancient days mostly shaved, and the term "barbarous" (beard-wearing) was applied for a long period to people who regarded as out of the pale of polite society. Beards have been taxed occasionally, as in Russia by Peter the Great, and at an earlier date in England.

the infield the team is going as strong as any in the league.

With Woods, Rhoades, Brackett and Blancke going as they are at the present time it is believed that the White Sox have one of the strongest twirling staffs in the league. There has never been any fault with the hitting of the Sox. It is hoped that the Dooks will be able to take both of the games from the Porkers.

Play Seventeen Innings.

Chicago, May 29.—In the longest major league game of the season yesterday, a base on balls in the seventeenth inning with the bases full and two out, cost St. Louis the game, 8 to 7. The locals had the game won until the ninth inning, when Mitchell dropped McLean's fly after two were out. This, followed by a double, a single and a wild pitch, tied the score. Harmon, who had replaced Griner, and Cheney, who was the third pitcher for Chicago, put up a great pitchers' battle.

Chicago made all the early scores by bunching hits behind errors of the visitors. Perce started for Chicago, but was hit hard and gave way to Lavender. After Lavender filled the bases with none out in the seventh, he was relieved by Cheney. Score:

Cincinnati Wins Second.

Pittsburg, Pa., May 29—Pittsburg could not hit Suggs and Cincinnati won its second straight from Pittsburg, 3 to 1. Long hits off Hendrix at the right time by Clarke, Suggs and Groh, netted the Reds two earned runs and the other was scored in the second inning on a muffed throw by Hyatt, Tinker's steal of second and a passed ball that allowed Tinker to score. The Reds played a brilliant fielding game, Devore making a sensational running catch of Booe's difficult long drive in the sixth. Hyatt's two-bagger, an out and Byrne's sacrifice fly in the seventh spared the Pirates a shutout. Hans Wagner protested Umpire Byron's decision on Groh at second base so violently in the ninth inning that he was put out of the game. Score:

Take Double-Header.

Cleveland, Ohio, May 29.—Cleveland took both games of a double-header here with Chicago yesterday, the first, 2 to 1, and the second, 5 to 3.

The first game was decided in the first two innings, as neither side got a man past second after that. Chicago's run was scored by Rath, who walked, stole second and scored on Collins' single. Cleveland scored their first run on two singles and the second run on a base on balls and Collins' muff of O'Neil's long fly. Turner made two difficult one-handed stops.

Driving Walsh from the plate in the second inning of the second game, Cleveland secured an early lead of three runs. Three hits off White, who replaced Walsh, brought two more runs in the fourth. Gregg was hit rather freely by Chicago after the third inning and allowed five bases on balls. Score:

Detroit Wins Another.

St. Louis, Mo., May 29.—Detroit, by winning yesterday, 6 to 3, took four of a six-game series with the St. Louis Americans. Two St. Louis pitchers were hit when hits meant runs. Baumgardner, who started for the home team was wild. Hall was a puzzle to the locals, and although he gave seven hits, he kept them scattered and generally ineffectual. St. Louis pinch hitters were powerless before him. Score:

Win in Tenth.

St. Paul, Minn., May 29.—Kansas City defeated St. Paul 5 to 4 yesterday in a long-drawn-out 10-inning game that required two hours and eight minutes to finish. St. Paul used three pitchers and Kansas City two. Gardner was taken out in the ninth inning after three successive singles had been made off him, yielding one run. Walker replaced him and struck out the next two batters, and the third was retired on an easy grounder. Miller tripled in the home team's half of the ninth and scored on an infield out, tieing the score.

Laroy began pitching for St. Paul in the tenth, and a triple by Walker and a single by Fiene brought in the winning run.

Manager Friel was ordered to the bench for arguing with Umpire Westervelt. Score:

Millers Shut Out.

Minneapolis, Minn., May 29.—Too much Dougherty beat the locals yesterday afternoon, and Milwaukee won the final game of the series by a score of 3 to 0. Dougherty twirled great ball for the visitors, holding the locals safe at all times. Two little singles were registered by the home team. Patterson, who twirled for the locals, was touched up for a total of ten hits. Score:

Batting Bee.

Indianapolis, Ind., May 29.—Louisville batted Kaiserling and Link from the mound and pounded Harrington hard here yesterday, winning from Indianapolis by 8 to 3. Powell, who relieved Loudermilk in the seventh, allowed one single in three innings. Three singles, a double and Hulswitt's error gave the locals three runs in the fourth. Score:

PASSES BOXING BILL.

Wisconsin Assembly Favors Measure Permitting Ten Rounds.

Madison, Wis., May 29.—Under suspension of the rules, after sending it first to engrossment, the assembly yesterday passed Assemblyman Hedding's boxing bill, 52 to 33. It provides for a state commission to regulate boxing bouts, the contests to be no-decision affairs of not more than ten rounds each and 3 per cent of the proceeds must go to the state treasury. The bill will now go to the senate.

The death of Luther McCarty in Calgary furnished food for opposition, arguments in the debate being enlivened by the introduction of a so-called "memorial" on McCarty's death. No action was taken on it.

YOUNG'S FEDERAL CLUB LOSES IN CHICAGO.

Chicago, May 29.—Cy Young, veteran American league pitcher, came to Chicago yesterday at the head of the Federal league team of Cleveland, and lost to the Chicago club, 1 to 0.

Young was the magnet that drew the biggest crowd of the season to Federal park. He was begged to slip into the pitchers' box and let his admirers see him work again, but he declined.

Cross Wins.

New York, May 29.—Leach Cross of New York had little trouble in outpointing Teddy Maloney of Philadelphia in a ten-round bout here last night. Maloney fought hard, but the local lightweight had the better of every round.

Twenty-Round Draw.

Dayton, Ohio, May 28.—"Wildcat" Ferns of Kansas City and Al McCoy of New York fought twenty rounds to a draw here last night. Charley Goldman of New York knocked out Bobby Burns of San Francisco in the seventh round of a scheduled ten-round go.

BILLINGS IS SUED FOR WALSH FAILURE

Stockholders Blame Him for Troubles of Chicago Banks.

Chicago, May 29.—Suits here to hold C. K. G. Billings, banker of New York and Chicago, responsible for approximately $5,000,000 due to the failure of the John R. Walsh banks, the Chicago National and the Home Savings, have begun in the circuit court here. Stockholders who brought the suits charged that Billings' negligence as a director permitted Walsh to operate schemes which led to the wrecking of both banks.

The amount lost by the Chicago National bank is placed at $3,500,000, and the Home bank losses at $1,500,000.

The demurrer of Mr. Billings is on file, attacking the sufficiency of the allegations and stating that the other directors should be made parties to the suits.

A plan to accept $152,125 from Mr. Billings in full settlement of his liability was prevented by an order of Judge Tuthill, who appointed W. C. Niblack receiver for the banks. Arguments on the suits were set for next Tuesday.

ENGLISH PAPER TELLS JAPAN TO KEEP COOL

Says Whole Western World Might Become Orient's Enemies.

London, May 29.—In an editorial on the California situation, the Standard advises Japan to deal with the question as a purely business matter, rather than to impart into it sentiments of offended racial and national pride.

"As the allies of Japan and the firm friends of the United States, the British people would deem it a misfortune of the first magnitude if the negotiations left behind feelings of exasperation on either side," it says.

The Standard says that in British Columbia no less than in California, feeling against the settlement of Japanese and Chinese is strong. Australian democracy has its own decided views on the subject, even if the danger of a Japanese invasion is not great. But, the paper adds, the precedent of unrestricted admission would be dangerous, should awakening China demand the same privileges, because a Chinese is a most efficient machine, and has learned, through a grimy struggle for existence in his own over-populated country, the secret of subsisting on a minimum.

Told To Go Slowly.

"These considerations," the paper continues, "should be borne in mind when the Japanese talk indignantly of the California attitude as an insult to their nation. The Japanese, if they have undergone a self-examination, must be conscious that race feeling plays no small part in their attitude toward the foreigner."

The Japanese are advised to go slowly in making an issue of the race question, which, if allowed to develop, would oblige Japan eventually to face the united Western world.

"It is unthinkable," the Standard says in conclusion, "that Great Britain could view with indifference any disposition on the part of her present allies to attack America. Between the people of the great republic and ourselves there are ties of blood and common interests which could, under no circumstances, be disregarded."

J. HAM LEWIS IS KERN'S ASSISTANT.

Washington, May 29.—Senator James Hamilton Lewis of Illinois was elected Democratic floor manager and assistant to Majority Leader Kern by the senate Democratic caucus. Senator Lewis' position is a new one to the senate, and corresponds to the whip in the house.

The caucus adopted a resolution urging all Democratic senators to remain in Washington, and went on record as opposed to any long trips to Europe, such as several senators had planned, until the tariff bill has been disposed of.

The caucus also named a committee to confer with a committee from the house and members of the national Democratic committee regarding recognition of the congressional campaign committee.

PIKE FRY TO BE PLANTED

Small Lakes on the Range to Be Stocked With Fish.

Northern Minnesota Beginning to Get Proper Attention From State.

Two carloads of pike fry will be distributed in numerous small lakes along the Duluth, Missabe & Northern and the Duluth & Iron Range railroads today and tomorrow under the direction of Deputy Game Warden Thomas J. Storey.

One car is due to reach the city today and the other tomorrow. They will come direct from the state fish hatcheries and will be immediately switched to the range roads.

Many small lakes have been selected for planting. Some of them now contain pike but many others which do not will be stocked with one of the best fish common to these waters. The wall-eyed pike is considered among the best of the edible fish, ranking with the black bass and the trout. Various people have different favorites among the three, but all concede that the pike are in the front row.

In the last two or three years the lakes and streams of Northern Minnesota have begun to come into their own in the consideration which they are being given by the state game officials. The streams are being restocked with the speckled beauties and the pike are being introduced or replenished. The sportsmen are hoping that black bass will be planted in quantities in nearby, accessible lakes.

For years Northern Minnesota has supplied large quantities of the fry in the state hatcheries and is now beginning to get an adequate return. Fishing has been becoming more and more popular in this part of the state and had steps not been taken to renew the supply it would not have been many years before the fishing would have been destroyed, except in the more remote lakes and streams, inaccessible to the man who cannot get away for more than one or two days.

Dr. Reilly in Penitentiary.

Bismarck, N. D., May 29.—Dr. J. Reilly, convicted of manslaughter, entered the state penitentiary Tuesday for ten years. Broken in spirit, the Milton physician talked but little of his case except to reiterate the statements that he has previously made concerning the verdict, which he declares is unfair. Dr. Reilly made a hard fight against conviction.

GRAIN TAXES ARE DOUBLED

Big Increase in Movement Through Duluth Elevators in Past Year.

Assessed Under Special Law, Grain Will Pay $10,714 in Taxes.

The quantity of wheat handled in Duluth during the year ending in March was a little better than twice that handled in the city during the twelve months preceding, according to the figures in the office of City Assessor J. Allyn Scott.

Wheat and other grains are assessed under a special law which gives them a low rate. The assessment is based on the grain handled for the year which ends March 1 of each year, while other stocks are assessed according to their value May 1 and are subject to the general tax rate. Wheat and flax are assessed at the rate of one-quarter of a mill per bushel and other grains at one-eighth of a mill per bushel.

During the last year the assessor's records show that Duluth handled 34,598,909 bushels of wheat and 7,556,826 bushels of flax, calling for a tax of $10,538.93. The year before 17,009,713 bushels of wheat and 5,958,604 bushels of flax were handled, bringing in a tax revenue of $5,242.08, or less than half of the sum realized this year.

The other grains handled were: Barley, 309,115 bushels in 1913 and 242,070 in 1912; rye, 182,621 bushels in 1913 and 175,261 in 1912; oats, 915,054 bushels in 1913 and 1,090,708 in 1912. Their totals show a slight reduction. The tax for this year is $175.85 as against $192.28 for the preceding year. The grain tax for all grains for 1913 is $10,714.78, as against $5,434.28 for 1912.

FOSTER IS FINED, BUT NOT FOR RYAN ASSAULT

Detective Has to Pay for Carrying and Drawing Weapons.

Indianapolis, Ind., May 29.—Robert J. Foster, a detective employed by the National Erectors' association during the investigation of the "dynamite conspiracy," was found not guilty of assaulting Frank M. Ryan, president of the International Bridge & Structural Iron Workers' association, in criminal court here. Foster was fined $125, however, upon charges of carrying concealed weapons and of drawing deadly weapons.

Early in the dynamite investigation, Ryan alleged Foster had assaulted him, and caused his arrest upon charges of trespass, assault and battery, and the two charges upon which the detective was found guilty.

Judge Moore held there was no evidence to show that Foster was trespassing at the headquarters of the iron workers, or that he had assaulted Ryan, who was the prosecuting witness against the detective.

GRAND JURY TO HEAR THE WANAMAKER CASE

McReynolds Refuses to Let MacVeagh's Settlement End Frauds.

Washington, May 29.—The Wanamaker customs case will be referred to the Federal grand jury at Philadelphia to determine whether there was any criminal liability in connection with importations of sample merchandise by the firm of John Wanamaker during the last fifteen years, on which, through alleged irregular practices, the government did not receive the full amount of duty.

This course was decided upon by Attorney General McReynolds as the result of a conference with Assistant Attorney General Denison and Special Assistant Henry N. Arnold, who has been investigating the case. Mr. Arnold's inquiry has been conducted through special agents of the department of justice and the grand jury will be utilized to develop all the facts.

Settled With MacVeagh.

In the closing days of the administration of Former Secretary of the Treasury MacVeagh, John Wanamaker settled the firm's civil liability by the payment of $100,000 to the government. When Secretary McAdoo assumed office, he asked the attorney general to determine whether there had been any intent to defraud the government.

Robert S. Brierly, formerly customs examiner at Philadelphia, was arrested there a few days ago, charged with "unlawfully and fraudulently" passing valuable and dutiable merchandise imported from abroad and consigned to John Wanamaker as goods of no value."

BRYAN HEARS COLOMBIA PLEA.

Washington, May 29.—Colombia's claim for reparation on account of the separation of Panama, was the subject of an hour's conference at the state department yesterday between Minister Betancourt and Secretary Bryan. It was stated this was merely preliminary to the formal assumption of the negotiations suspended last January owing to the decision of the Colombian government to appeal to the incoming Democratic administration. It is understood to be the desire of both parties that the negotiations be resumed at Bogota, where they were initiated, as soon as a new American minister succeeds James Dubois, resigned.

An auto road from Montreal to Vancouver is discussed.

BIG GROWTH IN U. S. EXPORTS.

Washington, May 29.—Manufactured goods exported from the United States during the first ten months of the fiscal year 1913, exceeded by $500,000 worth a day the exports in the corresponding period last year. Secretary Redfield has expressed great satisfaction over this showing in a report from the bureau of domestic and foreign commerce.

MARKET HAS AN ADVANCE

Net Gains at Close of a Rather Nervous Session.

Speculative Buying Sends Flax Prices to Higher Level.

Duluth Board of Trade, May 29.—A nervous market in the Duluth board today ended with another net gain, the fourth this week. The results at the close were: May wheat, up ¼c; July, up ¼c; September, up ½c; May durum, ⅝c off; and July durum, ¾c off. Cash wheat closed the same as July. Barley advanced a full cent today and is now quoted at 51-61c. Oats and rye are unchanged.

Generally speaking, the market, this morning, was inclined toward nervousness, and this feeling seemed to affect markets at other points as well. For the past three trading days there has been advance after advance, on the strength of one thing or another, principally on adverse crop reports from the Southwest and a few from the Northwest, but the full force of these rumors, although they still come in, seems to have spent itself. A reaction has been momentarily expected, but at noon today there was no indication of one.

The market opened quietly this morning, only two options having opening figures, and these, July, which opened ¼c off and September wheat which was unchanged, began a slight bulge, which looked like a purely local market condition, for Chicago, Minneapolis and Winnipeg did not enjoy such a movement. Later on the market weakened on dissipated pessimism, and soon the prices ruled around yesterday's close. Cables were weaker on the discounting of damage to American crops, large offerings from Argentine, better news from Russia and heavy arrivals on the continent and at Liverpool.

July wheat is up ¼@¼c; September advanced ¼@¾c. May durum is ⅝@¾c over yesterday's close and July durum ¼ off @ ¾c.

There will be no session of the market tomorrow, but there will be one on Saturday.

Flax Advances.

Three of the four options in flax enjoyed an advance today on buying by speculative interests. The buying was quite liberal on the rise and at the close May and July flax had each advanced 1c, October had gone up ⅝c while September closed unchanged.

MINNEAPOLIS MARKET.

Wheat Is Moderately Strong on Southwest Weather News.

Minneapolis, Minn., May 29.—Wheat was entirely a weather market. Traders were inclined to even up options over the holidays. Bullish reports from Southwest caused moderate strength. May closed unchanged from yesterday. July ¼c higher and September ¼c higher. Local elevator stocks decreased 650,000 bu for the week. Cash wheat was in good demand. No. 1 northern sold 1½@2c above the July price. May opened 90¾c, high 90⅝c, low 90¼@90¼c, closed 90¼c. July opened 91¾@91¼c, high 91⅞c, low 91@91¼c; closed 91⅜c. September opened 92⅞@93c, high 93c, low 92¼c, closed 92¾c.

Closing cash prices: No. 1 hard, 94¼c; No. 1 northern, 92⅝@95⅝c; to arrive, 92⅛@92⅝c; choice to arrive, 93⅝c; No. 2 northern, 90⅝@91⅝c; No. 2 hard Montana, 92⅝@93⅝c; No. 3 wheat, 88⅝@89⅝c; No. 3 yellow corn, 60½@61c; No. 3 white oats, 38@38½c; No. 2 rye, 55@59c.

Flour—Sales light, but a trifle heavier than yesterday. Prices unchanged. Shipments, 49,620 bbl.

Bran—Prices unchanged.

Millstuffs—Shipments, 1,349 tons. Demand strong at unchanged prices.

Flax—Receipts, 16 cars; year ago, holiday; shipments, none. Demand continued strong. Closing price, $1.29⅝.

Barley—Receipts, 33 cars; year ago, holiday; shipments, 41. Demand excellent. Closing range, 50@62c.

John Inglis wired last night from Dodge City, Kan.: "Temperature over 90 with high winds; very trying on this stunted wheat. About 50 per cent hopeless. Balance will make some crop if there are rains soon. Lots of wheat burned in the rot. All being forced too rapidly.

B. W. Snow wires: "The crop of soft winter wheat promises decidedly above an average yield. In Missouri a few dry districts have suffered, but the big producing counties of the Mississippi and Missouri bottoms will harvest a big crop. The heavy producing counties of Southwest Illinois have a prospect that was rarely ever better, while the other important districts promise at least an average yield. Bottom lands in Indiana show a thin stand, but straw is well headed. Uplands make a better promise but the state as a whole will get only about a normal crop. In Ohio prospects are generally good, though the stand is thin in low lands. The crop of soft wheat, as a whole, is a large one. Oats and the same territory is poor. It was dry and cold when it was germinating and the plant is lacking in vigor, the stand poor and it does not respond to present favorable conditions. Corn planting is practically completed, and the part of the crop is up and the stand is very good. The crop is late but is getting a very favorable start."

CHICAGO MARKET.

Wheat Price Bulges on Reports of Drouth in Kansas.

Chicago, May 29.—Withering crops in Kansas started a new bulge today in the price of wheat. Heat as well as dryness there gave the bulls an advantage. Bearish cables were ignored as being only a reflection of the weakness of yesterday on this side. The opening ranged from shade to ⅜c up. July, which at the outset was 91½c to 91⅞c, an advance of ⅛c to ½c, rose to 92⅛@92¼c.

Assertion by a leading expert that the winter crop as a whole promised more than the average had brought about a reaction. The close was steady with July ⅜c net higher at 91¾c.

Corn received a lift through the influence of wheat. July after opening unchanged to ⅛c higher, at 57¼c to 57⅜c, ascended to 57½c.

Lack of demand later allowed the market to sag. The close was steady at 57¼c for July, the same as last night.

Scantiness of offerings made oats harden. July started the same as last night to ⅛c off at 38⅜c to 38½c and then went to 38⅝@38¾c.

Liberal buying of ribs had strengthening effect on the provision list. First transactions were unchanged to 15c higher, with September options as follows: Pork, $19.87½; lard, $11.17½; ribs, $11.37½.

Cash: Wheat—No. 2 red, $1.05@1.08; No. 3 red, 95c@$1.02; No. 2 hard, 93¼@95¼c; No. 3 hard, 91@94c; No. 1 northern, 93@95½c; No. 2 northern, 92@94c; No. 3 northern, 90@92c; No. 2 spring, 92@93c; No. 3 spring, 90@92c; No. 4 spring, 84@90c; velvet chaff, 90@96c; durum, 90@96c.

STOCKS SHOW NET LOSSES

Dullness and Heaviness Are the Features of the Market.

Announcement of the Harriman Dissolution Plans Causes Fluctuations.

New York, May 29.—Dullness and heaviness were the features of today's stock market. The approaching holidays were mainly responsible for the restricted dealings, but the effect of the St. Louis & San Francisco receivership, which stocks fell to new low records, remained as a depressing factor.

Among high priced issues Canadian Pacific was prominent for a further decline of 2 points. Weakness in minor shares, as Missouri, Kansas & Texas common and preferred, and Texas & Pacific suggested liquidation and bear pressure on the Frisco situation. Erie first preferred fell over a point. Bonds were irregular.

No changes of importance were shown at the opening of today's stock market. Smelting, Amalgamated and Reading advanced fractionally, with slight declines in Southern Pacific, Pennsylvania and Steel. St. Louis & San Francisco 5 per cent gonds rose 1 point with a 2-point decline in Distillers' securities 5 per cent bonds.

Steady selling of Canadian Pacific which fell 2 points, weakened the rest of the list slightly. Some recoveries ensued later, but the rally was not well held.

Steadiness marked the early afternoon dealings in the principal stocks, although there was more than general selling of low-priced stocks.

Prices showed some disposition to improve in the later trading, but the market continued steady, with the public attention on a statement bearing upon the Union Pacific-Southern Pacific segregation plan.

The market closed heavy. Announcement of the Harriman dissolution plans, made in the final hour of the market, caused 2-point fluctuations in both Union Pacific and Southern Pacific, the balance of the list assuming a more even tone, but showing general net losses.

Cotton Market.

New York, May 29.—Cotton opened barely steady at a decline of 18 points on May and from 4 to 11 points lower on later months. Trading was active and the market seemed to be more or less excited. Weakness in Liverpool, reports of a threatened strike in Lancashire, favorable private crop accounts and encouraging weather conditions seemed to inspire bearish sentiment—but there was active covering around the opening prices and fluctuations were more or less irregular. A report published by a trade paper placed the condition of the crop at 80.5 and estimated an increase of 4.8 per cent in acreage. New crop positions were relatively steady on buying by old crop sellers.

Spot closed quiet; middling uplands, 11.80; middling gulf, 11.25; sales, 12,104 bales.

Futures closed steady; closing bids: June, 11.37; July, 11.47; August, 11.33; September, 11.11; October, 11.05; November, 11.03; December, 11.06; January, 11.02; February, 11.02; March, 11.02.

New York Money.

New York, May 29.—Money on call steady, 2¾@3 per cent; ruling rate, 2¾ per cent; closing bid, 2¾ per cent; offered at 2¾ per cent. Time loans, steady: 60 days, 3¾@4 per cent; 90 days, 4 per cent; six months, 4¾ per cent.

Close—Prime mercantile paper, 5½ per cent; sterling exchange firm with $4.83.05 for 60-day bills and $4.86.45 for actual business in bankers' bills at demand.

Commercial bills, $4.82½. Bar silver, 60c. Mexican dollars, 48c. Government bonds, steady; railroad bonds, irregular.

HELD ON WHITE SLAVE CHARGE

Duluth Woman Arrested on Complaint Made By Niece.

Denies Charge and Says It Is Case of Ingratitude.

Mrs. Irene Dever was arrested this morning on a white slavery charge. She pleaded not guilty and her hearing was set for Monday afternoon, with bail fixed at $1,000.

The charge against Mrs. Dever was made by her niece, Lucille Glowinski, 18 years old, who claims that she gave her aunt $15 on March 31 last and that this money was earned by prostitution.

Mrs. Dever denies the charge made by her niece and claims that she has never received a cent from her during the latter's residence in Duluth.

According to Mrs. Dever's story, Lucille came here about three months ago in company with a young man, who she claimed was her husband. They lived with Mrs. Dever and her husband up to several days ago, and all that Mr. and Mrs. Dever received for the room and board was $10 from the young man, Mrs. Dever denying that she ever received a cent from her niece.

In her story Mrs. Dever tells how she cared for her niece when a small child and how the latter ran away from her parents in Green Bay, Wis. Lucille, she says, later went to Chicago and roamed about the country, finally coming here three months ago. She also claims that the young people were never married and that the young man paid Lucille's railroad fare to Duluth. She proposes to bring up this counter charge in court in an attempt to prove a white slavery case against the young man.

"Lucille came to me absolutely penniless," said Mrs. Dever in police court this morning, "and I took her in. I kept both her and the young man without charging them a penny, even caring for Lucille when she was sick. I also paid the doctor bills. I have since found out that they were never married.

"I never saw Lucille with other men and never received a penny from her whatever. She is simply angry at me for throwing her young man out of my house after he started a fight the other evening, during which Lucille was hit several times. This is simply spite on her part and I propose to prove it."

Lucille was taken into custody yesterday afternoon by Detective Bradley and placed in the municipal lodging house. She will appear in police court Monday. Efforts are being made by the local police to find the young man.

Railroads

CONSIDERING NEW LAW.

Railroad Attorneys Discussing New Minnesota Interchangeable Mileage.

St. Paul, Minn., May 29.—Attorneys representing all railroads operating in Minnesota are meeting here today to decide what action will be taken in regard to the interchangeable mileage law. The law was passed by the last legislature and is to go into effect July 1. It allows the privilege of interchanging the mileage books among members of the holder's family.

ADVANCE IN COAL RATES FORBIDDEN.

Washington, May 29.—An advance of approximately $3.25 a car on shipments of coal to points in Chicago on the lines of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railroad is held by the interstate commerce commission to be unreasonable and the tariffs are ordered cancelled. The advance was effected through the cancellation by all coal-carrying lines operating in the Chicago district of their joint through rates with the Milwaukee road, because the latter had demanded 20 cents a ton for the switching of coal-bearing cars from Galewood to other destinations on its lines in the Chicago district. The commission held that the result would be to make the freight charges to Chicago shippers excessive. The commission expects the carriers themselves to make an equitable division of the through rates.

PEACE DECLARED IN NEW YORK CHINATOWN

Representatives of Warring Tongs Sign Treaty Together.

New York, May 29.—The Hip Sings, the On Leongs and the Four Brothers, warring tongs of Chinatown, signed a treaty of peace yesterday. Representatives of the three tongs met in the chambers of Judge Foster of the court of general sessions. With a small paint brush they signed their names to the treaty, printed in the Chinese language, and afterward, with pen and ink, signed a typewritten English translation.

New in the history of Chinatown are the provisions of the agreement. The old "dead line," with the Hip Sings on one side and the On Leongs on the other, is wiped out. The long blue guns of the leaders are to be cast in into the river and each tong is to bear toward the other "a spirit of brotherly love." All disputes and disagreements shall be arbitrated by the Chinese Merchants' association or a committee thereof; if this fails the police captain in the charge of the precinct is to be sole arbitrator.

At night Chinatown was placarded with copies of the treaty, printed on flaring red paper and signed by the representatives of the three tongs.

NEW POSTAL RULES.

Burleson Orders Discontinuance of Registry Stamps.

Washington, May 29.—Postmaster General Burleson and Secretary of War Garrison have signed a joint order directing that after July 1 the embossed stamped envelopes and single one-cent postal cards of the United States be valid for postage in the Philippine Islands when directed to addresses in the United States, and that those of the Philippines be accepted here under similar conditions. Stamps are not included in the order. Postmaster General Burleson issued an order discontinuing the use of the special 10-cent registry stamp and providing that no additional registry stamps shall be printed after the present supply shall have been exhausted. Hereafter ordinary postage stamps may be used for the prepayment of registry fees.

CORNER STONE OF LIBRARY IS LAID

Ceremonies at Detroit, Minn., Marking Construction of Carnegie Gift.

Detroit, Minn., May 29.—(Special to The Herald.)—The corner stone of the new Carnegie library was laid here yesterday afternoon with appropriate ceremonies. The address was made by County Attorney H. N. Jensen, and the stone was laid by Mayor C. W. Wackman.

The ceremonies opened with a song by the children of the public school singing "Hail to Minnesota." The invocation was offered by Rev. C. H. McCrea, after which Mr. Jensen in a short address spoke of the value of the library to the town and paid a tribute to the members of the Library club through whose persistent efforts the library was secured, also to Mr. Holmes, who donated the lots on which the building is being erected, and to Mr. Carnegie, who gives the building.

The corner stone which is of white marble was then raised to its place by a pulley and the box containing the names of the members of the library board, and Library club with other appropriate records was placed within by the president of the Library club and cemented in by the mayor. Led by the children those assembled then sang "America." The building is to be of pressed brick. It is located on the main street at the end of the business district nearest the lake and the principal residence district. It will cost about $20,000.

MAKING SKIS IN NORWAY

Consul General Charles A. Holder, Christiania, in the Consular Reports: In reference to an inquiry from Oregon about skis and Norwegian ski manufacturers, it may be stated that skis are not made in factories, but by carpenters who devote all the time to this labor, in summer laying up a supply for the coming winter. They make them in their homes, by hand, and sell them direct to individuals or retail stores. Christiania supplies all Norway and also exports skis to Germany, France, Austria and the United States. In the county districts skis are often made at home, but the best ones are bought from the Christiania carpenters. The latter have no catalogues and no facilities for making foreign shipments, and for this reason, and because of a demand from other countries, a ski export company was formed three years ago and now controls and does quite a large export business.

The best skis are made of green ash, with oak next popular, while the cheap grades are made of fir and pine. They vary in length, the standard rule calling for skis as long as the distance from the ground to the height the wearer can reach with extended arm and finger tips. Skis of oak or ash, for women's use, usually cost 12 to 18 crowns ($3.22 to $4.82); for men's use, 14 to 26 crowns ($3.75 to $6.97). Cheap skis, made of fir and pine, cost 5 to 8 crowns $(1.34 to $2.14). These prices are those asked by the carpenters and are exclusive of the "bindings" which cost 5 to 6 crowns ($1.34 to $1.61) per pair. The bindings now in use are patented, and are made by local harness makers and sporting goods factories. Pigskin of good quality is used, as the straps must be very strong and withstand alternate wetting and drying.

The ski must be made of carefully selected wood, free from all knots and with the grain running the long way. They are 3½ to 4 inches in width and about three-eighths of an inch thick, with a keel or ridge running the full length on the under surface to prevent side slipping. The front curve is obtained in a very simple manner, by soaking the end of the ski in hot water, until soft, and then, by putting a block of wood under it, it is turned up and held in a natural curve until dry. The skis are varnished but never painted. The lumber is bought in Norway and selected with great care.

For skiing poles, ash, oak and bamboo are used, the latter being imported. The poles sell for 2½ to 5½ crowns ($0.67 to $1.47). Near the point a ring of wood encircles the pole, to which it is attached by numerous strings of leather. This is to keep the pole from sinking into the snow more than 6 or 8 inches. The poles are made by the carpenters that make skis.

Lately Germany has commenced to manufacture skis by machinery and Norwegian exports to that country have therefore slightly decreased. On the other hand exports to the United States have increased during the past year or so, although some skis are now made at St. Paul, Duluth and Minneapolis.

TOES BECOMING HEELS.

Chicago Tribune: A modishly dressed woman walking backward need cause no surprise a few years hence. She may simply have lived so closely in style that she has developed the "new heel," situated where her toes ought to be.

The discovery of the new heel is that of Dr. Max Strunsky of New York. He blames it entirely on high heeled shoes and finds women would rather continue to suffer with it than to use common sense shoes, which make the foot look large.

"The anterior arches become prominent and bulge and are covered with callosities," he reports after his examinations of the latest freak. "Not only do the arches perform, under pressure of the additional burden, the function of heels, but they acquire all the characteristics and every semblance of heels."

Dr. Strunsky says women with foot complaint are found almost invariably to have trouble with the anterior arch. He finds the shoes throw the weight of the body exactly where weight was never intended to go.

"The heel is the strongest part of the foot and is constituted to carry the main bodily weight," he writes. "The high-heeled shoes which women wear, however, practically compel them to walk on the heads of their metatarsals. Thus every time they take a step they jam the metatarsal heads on the ground.

"High heeled shoes compel the anterior arches to assume the function of weight carrying structures or heels. Metatarsal walking increases the size and strength of the anterior arches and changes their flexibility and elasticity, essential to a normal gait, to rigidity."

CERTIFICATE OF INCORPORATION
—OF—
MISSION IRON COMPANY.

KNOW ALL MEN BY THESE PRESENTS, That, we, the undersigned, whose names are hereto subscribed, desiring to form a corporation for the purpose of carrying on the mechanical business of mining and reducing ores and minerals, do hereby associate ourselves together and agree to be and become a corporation under and by virtue of the appropriate provisions of Chapter 58 of the Revised Laws of Minnesota of 1905, and of the several acts amendatory thereof and supplemental thereto, and to that end and for that purpose, we do hereby agree to, adopt and sign the following Articles of Incorporation and Certificate, that is to say:

ARTICLE I.

The name of the corporation shall be MISSION IRON COMPANY.

The general nature of the business of the corporation, and the objects and purposes for which it is formed, are and shall be the mining, smelting, reducing, refining and working of iron ores and other minerals, and the manufacture of iron, steel, copper and other metals.

The principal place of transacting the business of the corporation shall be in the city of Duluth, Minnesota, but the corporation may have offices and transact business in such other states of the United States as its Board of Directors shall, from time to time, designate.

ARTICLE II.

The time of commencement of the corporation shall be the second day of June, A. D. 1913, and the period of its continuance and duration shall be thirty years, and the corporation may be renewed from time to time for further periods, each of thirty years.

ARTICLE III.

The names and places of residence of the persons forming the corporation are as follows:

Marcus B. Cullum, Duluth, Minnesota.
Albert C. Hubbell, Duluth, Minnesota.
Peter C. Ouellette, Duluth, Minnesota.

ARTICLE IV.

The government of the corporation and the management of its affairs shall be vested in a Board of three Directors, who shall be stockholders of the corporation.

The members of the Board of Directors shall be elected at the annual meeting of the stockholders of the corporation, or at any adjournment thereof, for the period of one year and until their successors are elected and qualified.

The first Board of Directors of the corporation shall consist of Marcus B. Cullum, Albert C. Hubbell, and Peter C. Ouellette, and they shall hold office until the first annual meeting of the stockholders of the corporation as provided for in this Article and until their successors are elected and qualified.

The first meeting of the incorporators and of the Board of Directors shall be held, without any notice thereof, at No. 1400 in the Alworth Building, in Duluth, Minnesota, on the 3rd day of June, 1913, at ten and ten thirty o'clock in the forenoon thereof, respectively.

The first annual meeting of the stockholders of the corporation shall be held, without any notice thereof, at its office in Duluth, Minnesota, on June 1, 1914, at the hour of twelve o'clock noon.

Thereafter, without requirement of further notice than is herein given, the annual meeting of the stockholders of the corporation shall be held at its office in Duluth, Minnesota, on the first Monday in June in each year, at the hour of twelve o'clock noon.

The Board of Directors shall hold, without any notice thereof, its first meeting, for the year immediately after the election of the Directors at said annual meeting, or at any adjournment thereof. At said meeting, the Board of Directors shall elect from its own number a President and a Vice President, and shall also elect a Secretary and a Treasurer, who need not be members of the Board of Directors, all of whom shall constitute the officers of the corporation and shall hold office for one year and until their successors have been elected and qualified.

The offices of Vice President and of Treasurer, or of Secretary and of Treasurer, may be held by the same person.

Any vacancies in the Board of Directors or in any of said offices may be filled by the Board of Directors for the unexpired term.

The Board of Directors is invested with complete and unrestricted authority in the management of the affairs of the corporation, and is authorized to exercise for such purpose, as the general agent of the corporation, its entire corporate authority.

Until the first election of officers by the Board of Directors immediately following the first annual meeting of the stockholders of the corporation, to be held in June, 1914, the officers of the corporation shall be as follows: Marcus B. Cullum shall be the President, Albert C. Hubbell shall be the Vice President, and Peter C. Ouellette shall be the Secretary and the Treasurer.

ARTICLE V.

The amount of the capital stock of the corporation shall be Two Hundred Thousand Dollars ($200,000.00), which shall be divided into two hundred thousand (200,000) shares of the par value of One Dollar ($1.00) each. Said capital stock shall be paid in from time to time as called for by the Board of Directors, and such stock, or any part thereof, may be paid for in cash at par or by services or property of the actual value of the stock so paid for.

ARTICLE VI.

The highest amount of indebtedness or liability to which the corporation shall at any time be subject shall be Two Hundred Thousand Dollars ($200,000.00).

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, We, the undersigned, have hereunto set our hands and seals, in triplicate, at Duluth, Minnesota, this 27th day of May, A. D. 1913.

POULTRY AND EGGS.

YOUR EGGS, CHICKS AND BREEDING STOCK WANTED.

Hundreds of people in Duluth and vicinity who are interested in poultry raising will buy eggs, chicks, breeding stock, incubators and feed during the present season. Somebody among this vast multitude wants what you have for sale. You can reach these buyers by inserting an ad in these "want" ad columns.

The Duluth Herald has the greatest circulation of any newspaper in Minnesota, outside of the Twin Cities.

RATES ARE LOWEST.

The charges for classified advertising in The Duluth Herald are less per thousand circulation than those of any other newspaper in Minnesota.

A "want" ad man will be pleased to call on you and give estimates as to how much space your ad should occupy and the cost.

FOR SALE.

"FAULTLESS" HOUDANS.

This strain has been egg-bred from trapnest records since April, 1890. I have bred them 21 years for great layers and 12 years for large-size chalk-white eggs. These fowls are extremely hardy, have neither comb nor wattle to freeze, and are the best all-winter layers in open-front coops. "Faultless" strain Houdans have won every blue ribbon at New York, Boston, Chicago and Philadelphia shows for past six years. Eggs and stock sold on honor. Send 10 cents for the largest illustrated poultry catalogue ever issued; it tells you how to breed these fowls, which average 250 eggs a year apiece; it tells you how to net $3,000 a year from 100 hens. E. F. McAVOY, secretary Houdan club, Cambridge, N. Y.

CROWDS CHEER FEW REMAINING HEROES OF CIVIL WAR

PRELIMINARY PEACE TREATY IS SIGNED BY TURKS AND THE ALLIES

Bulgarian Delegate Says It Means Peace for All Europe.

He Expresses Deep Gratitude to Sir Edward Grey.

Bulgarian Artillery Is Firing on Greeks at Eleuthera.

London, May 30.—The preliminary treaty of peace was signed at St. James palace by the delegates of all the Balkan allies and of Turkey. Sir Edward Grey, the British foreign secretary, presided at the meeting.

Dr. S. Daneff, the Bulgarian peace delegate in the course of an interview after the signing of the preliminary treaty of peace said: "I am rejoiced. It means not only Balkan peace, but general peace and Europe is saved from one of the most thorny problems of the age.

"We owe a deep debt of gratitude to Sir Edward Grey, whose enduring and untiring mastery in treating diplomatic problems, has brought about peace much sooner than some of us had expected."

The first meeting of the peace conference has been fixed for Monday, June 2.

Bulgarians Fire on Greeks.

Bulgarian artillery at Prava opened fire on the Greek positions in the direction of Eleuthera last night, according to the Exchange Telegraph company's representative in Athens.

The Bulgarian commander refused to enter into negotiations with the Greek commander for the purpose of stopping the firing. Details of the engagement have not yet been received.

Owing to this aggression by the Bulgarians a portion of the Greek fleet has been sent to Eleuthera.

FOUND DEAD ON DAY HE MEANT TO HONOR

James Sweeney, Civil War Veteran, Overcome By Making Ready.

Grand Forks, N. D., May 30.—(Special to The Herald.)—With his uniform and emblems carefully laid out beside his bed in anticipation of wearing them today, James Sweeney, a Civil war veteran, was found dead at his home east of here, over the Minnesota line. Heart failure, supposedly induced by exertion in preparation for today, caused his death.

Mr. Sweeney, aged 85 years, had never missed participating in Memorial day exercises, and refused to abandon plans to take part this year, although advised to remain quiet.

Mr. Sweeney participated in the battle of Getysburg, and had planned on attending the reunion there this summer. He heard Abraham Lincoln deliver his Gettysburg address.

MAY PUT TAX ON ALL STOCK MARKET SALES

Washington, May 30. — Senator Cummins has introduced an amendment to the tariff bill to put a tax of 10 per cent ad valorem on stock market sales. The tax would be levied upon the sales of capital stock shares, bonds or other obligations of corporations, all sales of products of the soil, mats or provisions of any character made under the regulations of any stock exchange, grain, cotton or provision exchange, board of trade or other such institution wherein the seller is not the owner of the property. The finance subcommittee, headed by Senator Williams, already is considering the proposed amendment.

SPEND HOLIDAY AT WORK OVER TARIFF

Washington, May 30.—Both houses of congress were in adjournment today, but it is no holiday for the members of the senate finance sub-committees, buried in tariff testimony and briefs, endeavoring to revise the Underwood schedules for the consideration of the entire committee next week.

Senators Stone, Johnson and Williams, chairman of the three sub-committees, and Senator Simmons, the committee chairman, had hoped to have the schedules ready by Monday, but that was found to be impossible. Work must be rushed if the bill is to be ready for the entire committee by June 9.

SPANISH CABINET HAS RESIGNED.

Madrid, May 30.—The Spanish premier, Count Alvaro de Romanones, and the other members of the cabinet resigned office today. Count Romanones has been premier since Nov. 14, 1912, when he took office after the assassination of Former Premier Canalejas.

Captain Dies in Berth.

Beauforte, N. C., May 30.—Capt. William Shinault of the lighthouse tender Juniper was found dead in his berth today. Death, it is supposed, was due to apoplexy.

50 CHILDREN PROSTRATED

Several Nearly Die of Heat in Games at Des Moines.

Some Parts of Kansas Report Temperature Up to 107.

Des Moines, May 30.—Fifty children were overcome with the heat at the Folk games festival given at Drake stadium by the pupils of the Des Moines graded schools yesterday. Only heroic emergency work prevented several deaths.

Iowa suffered its hottest May day since records have been kept in the state. The government record was 96, and the thermometer registered about 90 degrees for five hours.

Mercury Up to 107.

Kansas City, Mo., May 30.—Heat records for the month of May in this part of the country were broken when the mercury climbed above the 100 mark in most parts of Kansas yesterday. Western Missouri sweltered under only slightly lower temperatures.

At Leavenworth a temperature of 107 was registered, breaking all previous records for May since the government weather bureau was established. The extreme heat there caused the death of 600 chickens, which were smothered in their coops in a poultry car in the freight yards.

Ellsworth, Kan., also reported a temperature of 107 deg.

Abilene, Kan., reported 105; Hutchinson and Salina reached 104; Great Bend and Concordia, 102; Topeka, 99; Emporia, 98; Atchison, 97. Several prostrations occurred in Kansas, none of them fatal.

In Kansas City, the government thermometer went to 96. This is 4 deg. above the highest mark heretofore reached in any May since the weather bureau was established. No prostrations were reported here. St. Joseph, Mo., reported 96. Southern Missouri also was in the heat wave, Joplin reporting 93.

AMBASSADOR PAGE RECEIVED BY KING

Whitelaw Reid's Successor Is Given His First Audience.

London, May 30.—Walter Hines Page, the newly appointed United States ambasador to the court of St. James, was received today by King George, to whom he presented his letters of credence.

Sir Edward Grey, the British foreign secretary, presented the new ambassador. Then Mr. Page went through the formality of presenting to the king and queen the members of the embassy staff, most of whom had attended many courts and levees in company with the late Whitelaw Reid. Ambassador Page and his secretaries wore ordinary evening dress, which American diplomats always assume at levees.

Speaking of the audience afterward, Ambassador Page said:

"It was one of the most pleasing experiences of my life. The king and queen spoke frankly, cordially and kindly on a number of subjects. They asked after President Wilson and his family, and also after my own family."

Harold Fowler, secretary to Ambassador Page, made his first appearance as a diplomat at today's audience.

After the royal audience, Ambassador Page called on Paul Cambon, the French ambassador and dean of the diplomatic corps. Within the next few days he will pay his respects to the other ambassadors.

CHIEF DIES WHILE ARRANGING PARADE

Newark, N. J., May 30.—Chief of Police Michael Corbitt of this city, while directing the police detail that was to head the Memorial day parade, was stricken with heart disease and sank forward upon the neck of his mount. He died a few minutes later without regaining consciousness.

CANADIAN SENATE KILLS NAVAL BILL

Ottawa, Ont., May 30.—The Canadian senate at 1 o'clock this morning killed the government's naval aid bill to appropriate $35,000,000 for the construction of three dreadnoughts for the British navy.

The vote was 51 to 27, on an amendment by Sir George Ross, the Liberal leader in the senate, reading as follows:

"This house is not justified in giving its assent to this bill until it is submitted to the judgment of the country."

As Premier Borden already has announced that he has no intention of going to the country just now, the vote puts an end to the naval appropriations for this year at least.

The bill had been before the senate since Monday.

PAIR HIDE IN ICEBOX AND NEARLY FREEZE

Chicago Saloon Man and Wife Scared By Armed Invader.

Chicago, May 30.—Taking refuge in an icebox when pursued today by an irate man with a revolver, R. Hoffman, a saloon keeper and his wife, nearly were frozen before being liberated. A policeman finally appeared and arrested Frank Brady, from St. Louis, who stood outside the refrigerator threatening to shoot. The saloon keeper and his wife were then rescued.

According to Hoffman's story, Brady entered and ordered a drink for which he refused to pay, and Hoffman and a porter ejected him.

"I'm coming back and kill you," Brady threatened as he left, according to Hoffman. Soon Brady returned with a revolver. The couple ran into the icebox and closed the door.

Woman Terrorizes Store.

Chicago, May 30.—Mrs. Mary Long of Sterling, Ill., terrorized a down-town department store when she drew a revolver and sought to shoot her sister, Margaret Long, a clerk. She was overpowered by a private detective and arrested. Mrs. Long charged her sister with defrauding her of some property.

Blue and Gray Unite in Boston Memorial Exercises.

New York, May 30.—Army, navy and citizenry did honor in New York today to those who perished in Havana harbor on the battleship Maine. The occasion was the unveiling, at the Columbus circle entrance of Central Park, of the National Maine monument, a pylon forty feet high, erected by popular subscription from all parts of the nation.

The ceremonies brought to this city a dozen dreadnoughts of the North Atlantic fleet, the Cuban cruiser Cuba, the secretary of the navy, Former President Taft, representatives of the Cuban congress and government, Governor Haines of Maine and others.

The unveiling exercises proper were staged for late afternoon. They were preceded by a land parade in which 5,000 bluejackets of the Atlantic fleet took part, augmented by troops from the regular army, the New York National Guard, veterans of the Spanish-American war and a company of Cuban artillery, a Cuban band of sixty-two pieces and twenty sailors from the crew of the cruiser Cuba.

Rear Admiral Cameron McRae Winslow, U. S. N., acted as chief marshal.

PLEADED INSANITY; IS BURNED TO DEATH

Man Acquitted of Two Murders Dies in Incendiary Fire.

Chicago, May 30.—Daniel Daley, who pleaded insanity and was acquitted of two murder charges, was burned to death and fifty persons were driven to the street early today in two fires believed to be of incendiary origin.

Daley met his death in the loft of a barn in South Halsted street. Firemen found his charred body after subduing the blaze.

Daley was tried twelve years ago for the murder of a fellow laborer and was prosecuted five years later for the murder of his father. He escaped punishment both times.

Evidences of incendiarism were found and the police believe the fire was started by an enemy of Daley.

Fifty families scrambled from their beds and into the street in scant attire when smoke filled a four-story flat building on North State street. Oil soaked bedding in a basement room caused the police to search for a janitor who had quarreled with several tenants.

GRIM REAPER IS TAKING HIS YEARLY TOLL

Duluth Pays Its Tribute to Survivors of Great Conflict.

Parade Is Most Inspiring Held Here in Recent Years.

Auditorium and Two Theaters Filled for Morning's Exercises.

Not in years has Memorial day been observed in Duluth with the patriotic display and loyal fervor that characterized the proceedings of today.

It was an old-time celebration in memory of the honored dead, who in the heyday of their youth offered, if need be, their lives for the defense of their country and of the principle of self-government.

The advance of time has thinned the ranks of those Duluth veterans who wore the blue in the 60s, and those who remain and were able to attend today's celebration rode in automobiles, too many of them being unable, because of years, to parade.

Every patriotic organization in the city did them honor by adding to the line of march, and a parade of enormous proportions was the result. It seemed as though every man, woman and child in the city, who was not in the parade, had a place on the sidewalks along the route covered. At all points when the autos bearing the former defenders appeared, the veterans were greeted with cheers, to which they responded by saluting with the hands or raising their hats. The sight was throat-filling, for in many cases, alongside of a veteran could be seen the top of a crutch which he had to use in walking, and almost all of them have to carry heavy sticks to aid them in their progress.

Brilliant Scene.

The entire parade was brilliantly dressed and the scene in general was a gala one. A squad of police in their best uniforms, and quite evidently well drilled, marched at the head of the procession, followed by the general staff in charge of the parade and by militia officers in full uniform, Lieut. Col. F. C. Resche, grand marshal, commanding. Then came the members of the city commission in an auto. Following came the Third regiment band in full regimentals and then the three companies of the Duluth battalion, Minnesota National Guard. Two companies of the naval reserves in "jackey" uniforms came next. It may be said in passing that the military portion of the parade was remarkably good. They looked like men who made a business of it and bore themselves like regulars. Following them came the Duluth division of mail carriers, marching in soldierly fashion and headed by their fife and drum corps. But just ahead of them were the boys who serve as special carriers, dressed in khaki uniforms with service hats and carrying flags. Postmaster A. P. Cook was on foot in the first rank of the postmen. The G. A. R. drum corps followed. Fire Chief Randall's auto came next, containing the chief and other officers of the department.

Then came the Woodmen, bearing their axes over the right shoulders, the Sons of Veterans in gorgeous uniforms, and carrying swords, and after them came the miscellaneous organizations. Boys on bicycles, girls in autos, tallyhos and motor trucks were numerous, and all the vehicles in the parade were profusely decorated with bunting and flags. Every organization that marched was headed by a flag-bearer.

Schools Turn Out.

The various schools had turn-outs that created most favorable comment. They were the Central high school, the Lowell, the Lakeside, the Jackson, the latter followed by a group of boys and girls forming the Loyal Temperance legion and carrying a banner with the words, "Peace—Arbitration." Then came the Emerson, Lincoln, Merritt, Adams and Irving schools. The fife and drum corps of the Spanish-American War Veterans, together with the local corps came last in the marching line, and then came the autos bearing the G. A. R. men, fifteen of them in all, and these were followed by other autos.

Program at Auditorium.

The Auditorium, where the Memorial day exercises were held was packed before the parade arrived, and the crowd that followed the parade did not all get in. The chief speech of the day was made by Rev. William F. Hovis, pastor of the Endion Methodist church. While the crowd was getting settled a selection was played by the G. A. R. drum corps of Willis A. Gorman post. E. B. Dunning, president of the Citizens' staff, introduced Mayor W. I. Prince as presiding officer. In taking charge of the meeting the mayor spoke briefly, complimenting the Citizens' staff which had arranged the whole celebration, and said that he considered it a thoughtful and patriotic move on the part of the members, as the day should be perpetuated with fitting ceremonies as long as the United States contains a citizen who loves his country.

Rev. T. W. MacLean, rector of Trinity pro-cathedral invoked a blessing on the gathering and on the surviving veterans, James A. Tucker, adjutant of Gorman post, G. A. R., read Gen. Logan's first order, issued May 5, 1868, instituting Memorial day, and follow-

APPOINTMENT IS UNPOPULAR

Duluth Men Charge Immigration Board With Taking Snap Judgment.

Growth of Koll Boom Believed to Have Caused Unexpected Action.

When news of the appointment of Fred S. Sherman as state immigration commissioner spreads through Northern Minnesota, there will be a howl that will shake the statehouse at St. Paul from cellar to dome, judging from the sentiments expressed in Duluth today.

Duluth men interested in development declared today that the state board of immigration had taken snap judgment of Northern Minnesota. They said that the public statements of members of the board and private letters received by supporters of various candidates stated that no appointment would be made before Aug. 1.

The board of immigration met unexpectedly yesterday and just as unexpectedly named Sherman immigration commissioner and John Klenitz of Cambridge assistant commissioner.

Several men prominent in Northern Minnesota development efforts were candidates for immigration commissioner. Most prominent among them was M. N. Koll of Cass Lake, an enthusiastic worker for state development and a former member of the executive committee of the Northern Minnesota Development association. Koll's boom had spread rapidly over the northern part of the state. Individuals and newspapers took it up. Members of the board of immigration were deluged with letters in his behalf, all setting forth his fitness for the position rather than his political influence.

Duluth men interested declared today that the unexpected action of the state board was taken to head off Koll. They said that the appearances were that Koll would have such support by Aug. 1 that the board could not well refuse to appoint him. On the other hand his appointment would not be a political one and he would not be inclined to mix politics and the immigration work.

The appointment of Sherman is essentially political, not for its direct effect, but for the maintenance of the immigration department as a cog in the political machine. Sherman was assistant commissioner under Maxfield, but he was in the department before Maxfield's advent. He is a product of the system Maxfield defied, for which Maxfield's political head dropped. The impression in Duluth is that there is little hope for greater efficiency and less politics in the immigration department under the new commissioner.

None Better Than Duluth.
George C. Spalding and family of 516 East Fifth street, who have been gone from the city for the past three months on a pleasure trip through the principal cities of Canada, the coast and East, returned yesterday. Mr. Spalding, who is secretary of Bagley & Co., jewelers, reports that of all the places he visited, Duluth seems to have the best prospects. He says business is not very flourishing through Canada and the coast, but they take advantage of overcharging those whom they know are sightseers.

No Market Sessions.
There are no markets today and consequently there will be no figures published on stocks or grains. The Duluth Board of Trade is closed for today, but will have the usual short session tomorrow, ending at noon. The stock market closed yesterday afternoon and will not resume trading until Monday morning.

Taken to Prison.
John W. McDonald, deputy sheriff, left this morning for Stillwater with Peter Perelli, who will today begin a term of from five to twenty years for manslaughter. Perelli, aged 64, killed one Michael Lenovich, a fellow inmate at the poor farm because the latter taunted him by calling him "Macaroni."

New Mining Company.
The Mission Iron Mining company, a concern organized to engage in a general mining business, filed articles of incorporation yesterday with the register of deeds. The company is capitalized at $200,000. The incorporators are M. B. Cullum, Albert C. Hubbell and Peter G. Oullette.

ALONG THE LAKES

Beginning about Monday the Superior entry to the harbor will have permanent light and fog signals. A white light of 4,500 candle power will flash five seconds and remain dark five seconds on the new signal dwelling on the eastern end of the south breakwater. The light will be seventy feet above the water. A siren of far-reaching power will be used in foggy weather. It will sound three seconds with a waib of 12 seconds between blows. With the establishment of the new signals the present pierhead range lights and steam fog signals will be abandoned.

The Great Lakes Dredge & Dock Company of Chicago has received the contract for dredging at Grand Marais, Mich. Its bid was 17 cents a cubic yard. Sixty thousand yards scow measurement represent the amount of work.

When the Wilson and Hardy seamen's bills come before the special session of congress for final disposition they will encounter stiff opposition from the Lake Carriers' association as well as outside owners. At a meeting held in Cleveland a committee was named to go to Washington and present arguments against the passage of the measures. The committee consists of Capt. Charles H. Hutchinson, Ralph D. Mitchell, A. E. R. Schneider, C. O. Jenkins, M. K. Oakes, Capt. William C. Richardson, A. T. Kenny and George Steinbrenner.

LAUNDRY MARK MAY LEAD TO IDENTIFICATION

Dr. McAuliffe, Dr. Schulze and Dr. Barney conducted an autopsy yesterday afternoon over the body of the man who was found floating at the foot of Sixth avenue west yesterday morning.

Dr. McAuliffe, deputy coroner, stated this morning that the only direct identification is a laundry mark, "M. A. F.," on the drowned man's shirt. The autopsy revealed the fact that the man was not bald when he fell in the water, but that the hair has since disappeared. The man also had a mustache.

There are three teeth missing in the right lower jaw and it is believed that this fact will aid very much in the identification of the body, which is being held at the Flood & Horgan morgue.

New Trial for Auerbach.

Lansing, Mich., May 30.—Oscar M. Auerbach, convicted last winter in Lake county of the murder of Harry W. Fisher, formerly a wealthy Duluth and Chicago business man and promoter, has been granted a new trial by the supreme court.

Fisher was killed on his fruit farm while Auerbach was there as a guest.

ROOSEVELT LIBEL CASE HAS REST OVER MEMORIAL DAY

Colonel Makes No Plans Except to Avoid Public Appearance.

Close Friends of Former President Insist on His Sobriety.

Marquette, Mich., May 30.—This being Memorial day, there was no session of court. Col. Roosevelt, who is suing George A. Newett for libel, had no set program for the day, except the negative one that he would make no public appearance.

In the testimony late yesterday afternoon, Attorneys Pound and Van Benschoten, for the plaintiff, and Belden and Andrews, for the defendant, followed the colonel's trail through nearly every state in the Union, across the Atlantic, through the Mediterranean sea and the Suez canal to Africa; through the wilds of that continent, back to Khartum, through some of the capitals of Europe and back to Oyster Bay, in an investigation of his sobriety.

Substantially, the testimony was a repetition of that recorded at previous sessions; the colonel does touch liquor, but so rarely and so lightly that he is, in the eyes of yesterday's witnesses, virtually a teetotaler.

Those Who Testified.

Those who testified were Andrew W. Abele, a former railroad fireman, of Ohio; Former Judge A. Z. Blair, who disfranchised hundreds of Ohio voters for selling votes when he was on the bench; Charles Willis Thompson, a New York newspaper man; James R. Garfield; Gifford Pinchot; Lawrence Abbott, owner of the magazine of which the plaintiff is one of the editors; Edward Heller, naturalist of the African hunting expedition; O. K. Davis, secretary of the national committee of the Progressive party; Philip Roosevelt, whose father is a first cousin to the former president; and Edwin Emerson, a newspaper man, who was field clerk to the colonel of the Rough Rider regiment.

Including witnesses already heard and depositions and witnesses to come, the plaintiff's testimony as to his sobriety will cover his life from young manhood to the present time. The record of the case will include his conduct in public offices all the way up to the White House, his appearance on public occasions and on travels aggregating many thousands of miles, and the seclusion of his private life, scarcely without a break.

Went Into Details.

Cross-examination tested the memory of witnesses, particularly to make them show that there were real grounds for the declaration of the Colonel's sobriety. The newspaper men were searched to show how intimate they had been with the plaintiff; the Rough Rider and the naturalist were asked how close their sleeping tents were to that of their chief, the lawyers trying to discover if there had not been periods when witnesses could not have known whether the plaintiff was drinking.

An instance was the cross-examination of Heller, who had never seen the Colonel take a drink or show signs of having taken any intoxicant. Attorney Andrews elicited that Heller had been ill in Africa; that the Colonel had gone on side trips after game or otherwise, when the witness was not along, and that the witness was very busy taking care of the skins of the animals. It was brought out that the expedition took several hundred specimens of big game, from antelopes to elephants, and two or three times that number of birds and smaller animals, to care for which Heller had to have assistance.

Quizzed Young Roosevelt.

Pinchot, former chief forester; Garfield, former cabinet member, and Philip Roosevelt, familiar with the domestic habits of the plaintiff, were the most interesting witnesses examined today.

Philip Roosevelt was asked how old he was and replied, "Twenty-one."

"What business are you in?" inquired Attorney Pound.

"I'm a newspaper man," answered the witness.

"Since when?"

"Since last March."

He testified, also, that he took the four years course at Harvard in three years. Asked how long he had known Col. Roosevelt, he replied:

"Well, he's known me all his life."

In the midst of the titter which went around the room, he corrected his answer and said he had known the colonel ever since he could remember.

Liquor in the Home.

On cross examination, Attorney Andrews inquired as to the stock of liquors and wines kept at the Roosevelt home.

"Champagne?" insinuated the lawyer.

"I don't know, but I suppose so."

"Brandy?"

"I don't know; I suppose so."

"Red wine?"

"I suppose so."

Andrews continued to name over various kinds of liquors, to which Roosevelt returned the same answer, concluding with, "Yes, Rhine wine; everything you would find in a gentleman's cellar."

Pinchot Explained.

Pinchot was anxious to explain just why he considered himself an authority on the colonel's habits, and Attorney Pound accordingly framed the proper question. The former chief forester then explained that he was a student of efficiency and that, finding Colonel Roosevelt to be a sample of that quality, studied him to discover from whence it came. To this end, he observed the colonel's eating habits, what he drank, how and what he read; how he exercised, how he transacted business; in short, every detail which might further the study. He felt qualified, therefore, to declare that the plaintiff was a man of unusually abstemious habits.

Like Garfield and like the newspaper man, Thompson, hedeclared that the colonel could never have been drunk without his knowing it.

Unusual interest centered in Mr. Garfield, the son of a president of the United States, testifying in court for a man who had been president. A larger crowd than usual was attracted by the hint that Mr. Garfield would go on the stand.

Heller a Naturalist.

Mr. Heller was educated in California and went to Washington in 1896 and is now connected with the Smithsonian institute, which sent him on the Roosevelt African trip.

"On the voyage to Africa how frequently did you see this plaintiff?" asked Mr. Pound.

"Frequently."

On the voyage the party touched at the Azores, Gibraltar and Port Said. Reaching Africa they proceeded to Mombassa and into the jungle.

"Did you get any game?"

"Of big specimens, we got about 700. My special duty was to take care of the skins and I was with Col. Roosevelt constantly."

"How many were in the party?"

"Seven."

"How many specimens did you bring out?"

"In all about 3,000."

Slept Thirty Feet Away.

"Where did you sleep?"

"In my tent, about thirty feet from the colonel's; Kermit slept in a tent next to his father's."

"How many times have you seen the plaintiff since the return to America?"

"Eight or ten times at Oyster Bay."

"From the time you sailed for the hunt till the party broke up at Khartum, what was the condition of the colonel's health?"

"He was well."

"Were you well?"

"I had a touch of malaria."

"During the eleven months in Africa how much liquor did Col. Roosevelt drink?"

"I never knew of his taking a drink on the whole trip."

"What liquor was taken on the trip?"

"There was a case of champagne.' Witness thought it was given away, but this not being personal knowledge, the answer was stricken out and he said liquor was not served at meals on the trip.

Knows of No Drinks.

"So far as I know on the trip the colonel was a total abstainer."

Cross-examining Mr. Heller, Attorney Belden, referring to some of the places which the party had visited in Africa, asked if the naturalist had learned "all those big names" on the trip.

To show that the colonel was not constantly under the eye of the witness, Belden elicited that the colonel had taken several side trips and also that the witness was a very busy man caring for skins.

"You did not pretend to keep track of Col. Roosevelt, did you?"

"No."

Bull Mooser Testified.

Witness was dismissed and O. K. Davis, newspaper man and secretary of the Progressive national committee, was sworn.

Davis said as a Washington newspaper correspondent he was intimately associated with Col. Roosevelt. He accompanied the colonel on campaign trips.

"Do you remember Col. Roosevelt's arrival at St. Louis in October, 1910? Did anything happen that day?"

"There certainly did. Col. Roosevelt went up in a flying machine," replied Davis, amid laughter.

After describing various campaign trips the witness was asked: "From the beginning of your acquaintance with Mr. Roosevelt up to Oct. 12, 1912, what can you say as to his drinking liquor?"

"I have seen him drink only light wines on a few occasions."

"Have you seen him under the influence of liquor?"

"Never."

"What About Protection?"

Col. Roosevelt's attorney asked the witness as to what precautions were taken to protect the colonel's life.

"I want to show that on no time there was nobody with him he nearly lost his life," said Attorney Pound, referring to shooting at Milwaukee.

Objection was made and the witness was not allowed to answer. Neither was the witness allowed to tell whether Col. Roosevelt's clothes were torn in going through crowds.

"Now, I ask that flying episode be stricken out," moved the attorney for the defense. "It has not been shown to be material."

Mr. Pound promised to show the materiality of this testimony later.

The cross-examination of Mr. Davis was confined to his activity in behalf of Col. Roosevelt's campaign.

"It is true Col. Roosevelt carried Michigan, it is not?"

"He did."

"Did he carry this county?"

"I don't know."

When Mr. Davis was excused court adjourned until 9 a. m. Saturday.

MAY END STRIKE.

West Virginia Mine Troubles Seem Near Settlement.

Charleston, W. Va., May 30.—That representatives of the New River district miners and several coal operators have agreed on tentative terms to end what had given indications of being a great industrial strike, is announced by Thomas Haggerty, member of the international board, United Mine Workers of America, who has been the representative of the union in the West Virginia coal fields during the recent troubles.

Mr. Haggerty announces that he and others will present the proposal to those miners and operators who have not yet agreed to it.

About 1,000 miners have been idle in the New River district for about two months. The various unions will be asked to record their acceptance of the proposition by a vote.

NEGRO TELLS OF GIRL'S MURDER.

Atlanta, Ga., May 30.—In an alleged confession, which the local police say was secured from A. James Conley, negro sweeper at the National Pencil factory, where the body of Mary Phagan was found on April 27, he is said to have admitted knowledge of the murder. The police claim that Conley accused Leo M. Frank, factory superintendent, of the crime, but insisted that he did not see it committed. Conley also is said to have admitted making an attempt to dispose of the body. The negro is alleged to have said he kept silent, believing that he would be rewarded by Frank.

STAR SPANGLED BANNER FETE.

Baltimore, Md., May 30.—The National Star Spangled Banner celebration to be held here Sept. 7 to 13, 1914, was formally launched at a mass meeting last night. The celebration will commemorate the centenary of the writing of the "Star Spangled Banner" by Francis Scott Key, the battle of North Point, and the defense of Fort McHenry.

Damage Around Chippewa Falls.

Chippewa Falls, Wis., May 30.—A storm in this vicinity early yesterday caused considerable damage, uprooting trees and leveling crops. Lightning killed many cattle. The telephone companies are heavy losers, wires having been crippled by the storm.

Eau Claire reports a number of destructive fires started by lightning, including the United Lutheran church, which was nearly ruined.

WEEKLY REVIEW OF TRADE

New York, May 30.—Dun's Review today says: While business sentiment, especially in the East, displays a marked degree of conservatism, the actual volume of industrial and mercantile activity shows little or no diminution. Rail distribution has been retarded in many sections by cold and inclement weather, but the fact that wholesale houses report a broader demand for cotton goods, footwear and most staple lines is evidence that this check is regarded as only temporary. Aside from the low temperatures the crop situation in most sections continues favorable, although complaints of damage led to some reduction in the wheat estimates of the Southwest.

Iron and steel shipments continue heavy with mills engaged on finished lines still behind with their orders. New business, however, is not up to current production and premiums are disappearing. Cotton goods are in better demand, sales at Fall River last week reaching 260,000 pieces, a larger total than for any week in several months.

Failures this week are 223 against 205 the corresponding week last year. Failures in Canada number thirty-four.

JAMESTOWN COLLEGE IS BRANCHING OUT.

Jamestown, N. D., May 30.—(Special to The Herald.)—Increases will be made next year in the faculty of the Jamestown college. A new department, that of religious education and Sunday school methods, has been created, and Dr. William E. Roe will take charge. He comes from Marriette college, Ohio. Prof. C. K. Knight of New Matamoras, Ohio, enters the department of biological sciences, while Prof. Harold Lorling of Boston has been elected supervisor of the musical department.

THREE VETERANS DIE AT REUNION.

Chattanooga, Tenn., May 30.—The closing ceremonies of the reunion week of the United Confederate veterans were saddened by the deaths of three aged soldiers whose strength had been overtaxed. Death stalked in the parade and G. W. Mullenix of Lindale, Ga., dropped out of the ranks and entered a restaurant, where he expired suddenly.

Robert Nolen of Houston, Tex., overcome, fell down the steps of the city auditorium and his neck was broken. B. F. Moore of Fuque, Tex., who suffered a fall, died in a local infirmary of his injuries.

Gregory Keeps Land Office.

Washington, May 30.—Secretary of the Interior Lane, who recently sent a personal representative to South Dakota to inquire into the proposed change of the public land office now located at Gregory, announces that he has decided it is impracticable at this time to remove the office from Gregory. Later he proposes to change it to a point further west.

Woman's Beauty Is Based on Health

To Have Health, Bowel Movement Is Absolutely Necessary—How Best to Obtain It.

If woman's beauty depended upon cosmetics every woman would be a picture of loveliness. But beauty lies deeper than that. It lies in health. In the majority of cases the basis of health, and the cause of sickness, can be traced to the action of the bowels.

The headaches, the lassitude, the sallow skin and the lusterless eyes are usually due to constipation. So many things that women do habitually conduce to this trouble. They do not eat carefully, they eat indigestible foods because the foods are served daintily and they do not exercise enough. But whatever the particular cause may be it is important that the condition should be corrected.

An ideal remedy for women, and one especially suited to their delicate requirements, is Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, which thousands of women endorse highly. Mrs. Jennie Snedeker, 1041 West Monroe St., Chicago, testifies that she is "cured of grave stomach and bowel troubles by using Syrup Pepsin and without the aid of a doctor or any other medicine." All the family can use Syrup Pepsin, for thousands of mothers give it to babies and children. It is also admirably suited to the requirements of elderly people, in fact to all who by reason of age or infirmity cannot stand harsh salts, cathartics, pills or purgatives. These should always be avoided, for at best their effect is only for that day, while a genuine remedy like Syrup Pepsin acts mildly but permanently.

MRS. JENNIE SNEDEKER.

It can be conveniently obtained at any drug store at fifty cents or one dollar a bottle. Results are always guaranteed or money will be refunded. You will find it gentle in action, pleasant in taste, and free from griping, and its tonic properties have a distinct value to women. It is the most widely used laxative-tonic in America today and thousands of families are now never without it.

If no member of your family has ever used Syrup Pepsin and you would like to make a personal trial of it before buying it in the regular way of a druggist, send your address—a postal will do—to Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 417 Washington street, Monticello, Ill., and a free sample bottle will be mailed you.

HANDICRAFT OF STUDENTS

Unusual Display of Manufactured Articles Shown This Week.

Encouraging Results in Connection With Ely Departmental Work.

The work of the pupils of the Ely school will feature an exhibit at the building during the coming week. The display will include exhibits of writing, drawing, sewing, cooking and work of art such as is seldom expected of grade pupils.

One of the striking features of the exhibit is a cut out "Circus parade" made by the children of the second and third grades. Every feature and detail of a circus parade is carried out swilling up with the tally-ho and the boys chasing it.

The candy and cake display made by the girls of the eighth grade will be one of the features. Yesterday a small exhibit was on display and visitors at the Memorial day exercises were given samples of the delicacies. Books of the seventh and eighth grad, have placed on exhibit stands, book racks, hall racks, tables, foot stools and jardinieres which they have made during their course in the manual training department. Some of the articles show handicraft equal to that of high class workmen. The drawings include art panels, maps, fruit and many other features, while examples of arithmetic and composition show the writing ability of the pupils.

Departmental Work.

The Ely school is the first in the city to have employed departmental work in the study of lessons. The A sixth seventh and eighth grades are included in this branch. Arithmetic is taken up by these classes under the direction of Miss Johanna Strate, who is an expert in this study; history and civics under the direction of Miss Elizabeth Mohman, and English under Miss Minnie Fedi. The results of this method of study are said to have given better satisfaction than under the former method.

The departmental work of these grades is shown in the map drawings now on exhibition. Maps of the United States have been drawn by the pupils with reference to the country's outline, political, product, mineral and historical relations.

The Ely school has been under a special government in charge of the pupils. Carl Johnson is "mayor" and he is assisted by three commissioners, Ralph Feeley, Leo Kreamer and Evorta Feeley. H. G. House, principal of the school, said yesterday that since the "self government" idea has been inaugurated the teachers have been entirely relieved of hall duty and that in three months no breach of discipline has been reported to the teachers or principal. Principal H. G. House said that all people interested in the school and its work would be welcome to view the exhibit next week.

China Shower.

Miss Anna Larson, 5716 Olney street, entertained at a china shower at her home last evening in honor of Miss Ethel Johnson, who will be married early in June. The guests were: Mrs. A. Larson, Mrs. E. Johnson, Mrs. Charles Johnson and the Misses Ellen Moberg, Clara Wicklund, Anna Peterson, Carrie Rasmusson, Anna Olson, Rose Borgstrom, Cecelia Peterson, Minnie Nelson, Olga Lundberg, Anna Carlson, Julia Olson, Mabel Borgstrom, Hilda Berglund, Hattie Borgstrom, Ruth Carlson, Mildred Wicklun, Hulda Peterson, Hilda Wickman, Esther Carlson.

Caught in Machinery.

Ingwald Hanson, an employe of the Bessin coal dock narrowly escaped death last night when his clothes became entangled in the hoisting machinery. He was drawn between a belt and a large drive wheel. The sudden stopping of engine prevented him from being crushed. He sustained several bruises and was taken to St. Mary's hospital. Hanson resides at 2903 West Fifth street.

TRAINS RUN TO NEW DULUTH

Some of Damage Caused By Storm on Northern Pacific Repaired.

Service on Canadian Northern to Be Held Up for Few Days.

Passenger service on the Northern Pacific short line to the steel plant was resumed this morning. The train was able to proceed as far as New Duluth. It is expected that the washout west of the New Duluth station will be bridged over so that trains will be able to get to Fond du Lac this afternoon.

The latter washout was the most serious caused by Thursday morning's storm. The roadbed for a distance of 200 feet was washed away. Temporary bridge supports are being placed under the track so that the trains can get over it.

The pumphouse of the water system at New Duluth is expected to be able to resume operatons again today. The machinery in the building was entirely under water. Men were at work yesterday afternoon and this morning cleaning up the debris carried into the building by the flood.

Train service was again installed this morning over the main line to Thomson and Carlton. On the Canadian Northern the damage to the line was more serious, and it probably will be a day or two before the trains can operate in safety. Most of this roadbed is new and the storm tore large holes in many of its fills.

Party at Home.

Miss Ebba Wicklund was guest of honor at a party given at her home last evening. The evening was spent in games and music. The guests were Misses Myrtle Bergstrom, Margaret McCarthy, Ebba Wicklund, Alphild Wicklund, Ruth Wicklund, Inez McDonald, Elsie Lundstrom, Gertrude Apland, Esther Erickson, Madeline McLean, Hazel Nelson, Helge Hedberg, Amelia Peterson and Messrs. Earl Mourke, Douglas Hughes, Edwin Anderson, Lloyd Nyberg, Roy Nyberg, John Young and Arthur Apland.

West Duluth Briefs.

The West Duluth Commercial club will entertain this evening for the ladies. The committee in charge has planned a patriotic program for the occasion.

Miss Ellen Ward, Miss Hazel Nelson and Miss Edith Wison left last evening for a two weeks' visit with friends at Detroit, Mich.

Kitchi Gammi lodge, No. 123, Knights of Pythias, entertained at its annual dancing party at Dormedy's hall last night.

Miss Ella Jensen and Miss Gina Jensen are expected to return home today to spend the summer vacation with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Jensen of south Sixty-first avenue west. The young ladies have been teaching school on the range.

Mrs. William Blaney of North Fifty-sixth avenue west left yesterday to spend a few days visiting relatives in St. Paul.

ONE MODEL PLAYGROUND

Duluth Association Will Fit Out Central Park Tract.

Efforts Will Be Concentrated to Demonstrate Possibilities.

The playground at Thirteenth avenue west and Third street will be equipped and fitted out as a model playground by the Duluth Playground association in order to demonstrate its possibilities and advantages to the community.

In the past the efforts of the association have been somewhat diversified. This year concentration will be the rule. The funds and energies of the organization which has done much to further the playgrounds movement in the city will be directed towards making the grounds on the hillside complete in every particular in order to show the people of Duluth the real meaning of a fully equipped and properly supervised playground.

After the ground has been leveled and put in shape a running track will be built around it, with a baseball diamond in the center. All needed apparatus will be purchased and installed and two supervisors, a young man and a young woman, will be employed to take charge of the activities of the boys and girls. The association now has $400 in the treasury and the balance of the $700 which it is estimated will be needed, will be raised by a membership campaign.

The plans for the central playground were made at the annual meeting of the playgrounds association held yesterday afternoon at the rooms of the Commercial club. The officers elected for the ensuing year were as follows: President, A. L. Warner; first vice president, Mrs. C. A. Duncan; second vice president, Dr. I. J. Murphy; treasurer, G. W. C. Ross; secretary, Eugene VanCleef; executive committee, Mrs. R. N. Marble, Miss Katherine King, Mrs. F. A. Patrick, Miss Jean Poirier, J. R. Batchelor.

Icelandic Lutherans Meet.

St. Thomas, N. D., May 30.—(Special to The Herald.)—Icelandic Lutherans of North Dakota and Minnesota will open their annual synod in Mountain, N. D., June 19. About 200 delegates and other visitors will attend. The synod will continue a week.

IMMIGRATION HEAD.

Fred Sherman Chosen Commissioner Succeeding H. J. Maxfield.

St. Paul, Minn., May 30.—Fred S. Sherman, who has been assistant state commissioner of immigration and acting head of the department since the state immigration board ousted H. J. Maxfield, was elected by the board yesterday and John E. Kienitz, deputy labor commissioner and editor of the Cambridge Independent Press, was named assistant. Mr. Sherman will draw $3,000 a year and Mr. Kienitz $2,400. The changes become effective June 1.

The meeting of the board as well as its action was entirely unexpected. The action was unanimous and it is evident that a compromise was reached. Governor Eberhart, it is understood, wanted Kienitz as commissioner, while State Auditor Iverson and Secretary of State Schmahl wanted Sherman. Seeing that he could not prevail and, not desiring to precipitate a fight, the governor, it is said, consented to Sherman's appointment with the understanding that Kienitz be made assistant.

Appeal Lake Superior Canal Case.

St. Paul, Minn., May 30.—The commission appointed by the last legislature to further the proposed Lake Superior-Mississippi canal project, will appeal from the decision of the local board of army engineers, holding that the plan is not feasible.

FIVE WOMEN AND CHILDREN SLAIN.

San Francisco, Cal., May 30.—Evidence to prove that George Schall, a former sergeant in the United States army medical corps, killed and burned his wife, mother-in-law and three small children at the Presidio on the night of April 26, after insuring their lives, has been introduced before the Federal grand jury by Deputy United States Attorney Thomas H. Selvage. Orders immediately were dispacthed to W. R. Byron, special agent for the department of justice at Portland, Or., to place Schall, who is now working as a druggist at Vancouver, B. C., under surveillance, until an indictment by the grand jury can be returned against him.

Tasmania is the first state of the commonwealth of Australia to extend the principle of providing free medical treatment for school children.

PUTS HALO ON STEEL TRUST

Gary Says It Has Set Business World Good Example.

Chairman Ends Two-Day Testimony in Government Suit.

New York, May 30.—"I believe the United States Steel corporation has set a good example in the business world. If this seems like boasting, I ask your pardon."

These words epitomized the testimony of Judge Elbert H. Gary, chairman of the corporation, in the hearings of the government's dissolution suit against it as an alleged combination. Judge Gary spent two entire days on the stand. He devoted most of his testimony to pointing out the good which he said had been accomplished by the corporation in the steel industry as the result of its organization.

"The policy of the corporation has been so to manage and conduct affairs as to make it certain that it did no wrong to any person or interest. It seems to me that this is the important thing in a quasi-public corporation. I believe that we have been of assistance in promoting the interests of all connected with or affected by the corporation.

"Very Successful."

"Although there were difficulties and obstacles among us as to how labor and our competitors should be treated for the last eight or nine years, our administration has been very successful and everything is very satisfactory except for the fact that the government does not think we have done as much or as little as we ought, whichever it is."

"Possibly both," interrupted Henry E. Colton, of counsel for the government.

"Possibly both," smiled the witness. "Of course, we have made mistakes from time to time and our subordinates have done things which we would rather they would not have done, and wouldn't have authorized; but I think that, for a good many years, their management has been fair and good.

"It has never been our practice or policy to disregard or defy public sentiment, and I have always been willing to give interviews about our affairs, although after the Stanley committee began its investigation it was not very appropriate or becoming to continue that practice."

Praised Morgan's Work.

Judge Gary praised the part the late J. P. Morgan took in organizing the corporation, and said it could never have been launched without the financier's aid and backing. He testified that the corporation's policy of seeking stability in prices had benefited the industry, and that as a result of it there had been no failures of steel firms in the panic of 1907.

"I do not wish to be misunderstood," he said. "I have always been in favor of the maintenance and stability of steel prices, and I am glad to have the government investigating this whole subject."

The competitors of the corporation were "never so strong and successful as they are at present," he declared, and he had never heard any of them complain that they were treated unfairly by the corporation.

Told of Formation.

Earlier in his testimony the witness gave a detailed recital of the circumstances which led to the foundation of the corporation, and endeavored to show that the sole purpose that actuated the organizers was to obtain a "rounded-out, self-contained proposition, complete in every phase of manufacture, from the mining of ore to the production of diversified finished products in the mills, with the ability to reduce costs to the most economical basis, and particularly to develop an export trade.

"Our effort," he said emphatically, "has been to extend trade, and we have done that."

With equal emphasis, Mr. Gary denied that the Steel corporation had been over-capitalized, as alleged by the government. The various properties acquired "were all worth the price that was paid for them," he declared, while the ore properties of the Lake Superior Consolidated Iron mines, John D. Rockefeller's concern, were obtained, "as has since been proved, at a very low figure."

Denied Monopoly.

He denied that the Federal Steel company, the nucleus around which the corporation was formed, was a monopoly in itself, as alleged by the government, and recalled that when the Federal and some of the other steel companies, now subsidiaries of the corporation, were investigated by the industrial commission of congress in 1899, no complaint was entered against them by the department of justice or any other branch of the government.

The organization of the corporation was precipitated, Mr. Gary said, by the desire of the Federal Steel company, a J. P. Morgan flotation, to perfect a "rounded out" organization. This opinion came when Andrew Carnegie offered to sell the Carnegie Steel company. The Federal had previously refused several proffers of the Carnegie Steel company, and had attempted to raise $40,000,000 to build new plants of its own. This attempt was abandoned, he said, when Charles M. Schwab outlined to Mr. Morgan the advantages of acquiring a then existing property. Mr. Morgan was "impressed" and called in the directors of the Federal Steel company.

Mr. Gary described the meeting of the directors at Mr. Morgan's office, and laid emphasis on the financier's desire to know whether it was a good business proposition, and that nothing concerning the suppression of competition was said. At this meeting, the acquisition of other properties was proposed and adopted, and Mr. Gary described how each fitted into the plan of a "self-contained organization."

"Was the alleged threat of Andrew Carnegie to go into the steel tube business discussed or alluded to by Mr. Morgan or anyone else?"

"It was not," the witness replied.

"Every Little OliveTabletHas a Movement All Its Own"

Your doctor will tell you ninety per cent of all sickness comes from inactive bowels and liver. Dr. Edwards, a well-known physician in Ohio, perfected a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil, to act on the liver and bowels, which he gave to his patients for years.

Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel, are gentle in their action, yet always effective. They bring about that exuberance of spirit, that natural buoyancy which should be enjoyed by everyone, by toning up the liver and clearing the system of harmful impurities.

Gifts for The Graduate

YOU probably wish to remember some of your young friends in congratulation of their graduation. It is fitting that you do so—it may be but a simple note—it may be one of our hand-colored commencement cards—or it may quite properly be any of the following items:

The Art Department on the Third Floor offers hand-colored congratulation cards expressly designed for Commencement Greetings.

Here there are also—Den Pillows, Pennants, Hand Embroidered Novelties, Leather Novelties.

The Stationery Department, Main Floor, offers the following suggestions:

Crane's Writing Papers
50c to $2.25 the box. If wanted also by the quire at 20c to 35c.

Graduate Books, New and Dainty, 75c.
A very appropriate gift cleverly gotten up with pages to be filled in with names of classmates, pictures or bits of class history.

Engraved Cards.
100 cards from name plate engraved to order, $1.25 to $3.50, according to lettering.

Give Gloves to the Graduate.
If in doubt give gloves is as safe a rule as when in doubt play trumps, but be sure you give Gray's gloves, which are known by all for qualities "par excellance."

Kayser's Silk Gloves, 50c to $2.25.
Special values in short Kid Gloves, $1.00, $1.50 and $2.00.
Long Gloves, $3.50—16-button—Fownes' or Alexandre.

Parasols for That Girl! Of Course!
What would make a girl happier than a pretty Parasol? Put yourself in the girl's place—if you can—and see if you can think of anything nicer!

Kodak Albums in New Vacation Day and Memory Book Ideas.
These are unique in design and very practical. The loose-leaf binder makes it possible to add to or remove pages as desired. To be had in linen, cloth and leather covers. 59c to $2.50. Some have sheets for "writing up" the pictures.

Leather Gifts.
Vanity and novelty purses, music rolls, card cases, photo cases, bill books, collapsible drinking cups, priced $1.25 to $15.00.

Gift Handkerchiefs.
Here are countless styles in Handkerchiefs, embroidery corner, Armenian lace, Madeira embroidery and plain and colored border effects. Prices ranging from as low as 25c to $3.25 for queenly qualities.

Fans of Exceeding Daintiness, 65c to $5.50.
Every girl loves a pretty fan.

Novelties in Neckwear at 35c to $11.50.
The higher priced lines are hand-made, exquisitely hand-embroidered or hand-made lace trimmed.
Of course, they are exclusive, the more popular priced lines are attractively new and pleasingly different.

Silver Photo Frames.
Dainty little frames at 35c. Some elaborate Sterling silver effects up to $2.98.

Brass Novelties for the Desk.
Writing sets, clocks, candle holders, seals, library shears, letter openers and the like. Prices ranging from 50c to $10.00.

Sterling Silver Coin Holders and Card Cases.
Elegant in design and of highest possible quality, $8.50 to $12.75.

German Silver, Gun Metal and Gold Plated Novelties.
Coin Holders, Vanity and Card Cases and Mesh Bags, the assortment includes many most charming styles at $1.25 to $16.00.
Goldine Metal Mesh Bags, $10.00 to $17.50.
Novelties in beads, coat chains, bar and collar pins, combs and hair ornaments, 50c to $6.50.

Latest Novelties in Dainty Bluebird and Flower Pins.
Today the Bluebird pin is most popular of all, though a new idea in flower pin is also gaining favor.
The styles mentioned today are in sterling silver in collar pins, bar pins, hat pins, cuff links and lavallieres. Prices ranging 50c to $3.25 each.

Souvenir Spoons of Sterling Silver.
A number of very pleasing designs including some typical of Duluth. Prices, 50c to $2.75.

Waterman's Fountain Pens, $2.50 to $5.00.
We sell the genuine—the original Waterman's Ideal. Graduates may exchange pens to get the one best suited to their hands.

Gifts of Parisian and Pyralin Ivory.
Scores of dainty gifts for the dressing table, the writing desk, or the traveler's case. Prices ranging from 39c to $16.50 for those heavier qualities which monogram so beautifully.

Mirrors for Young Men and Young Women.
We mention the men first else you might not think a Shaving Mirror would be a suitable gift for the young man.
For the young ladies there are all sorts of hand mirrors, easel mirrors, and triplicate mirrors.

Travelers' Roll-ups and Toilet Cases.
Very good commencement gifts. Limousine cases, too, in an indescribable variety of up-to-date leather effects for discriminating people generally.

Bags, Suit Cases and Trunks.
Why not give one of the above? The girls and boys who will go on to college next fall will need these things, as well as those who merely go on vacation trips.
See our showing at Trunk Department, Third Floor.

Umbrellas with Keepsake Handles.
The modern way to buy an umbrella is to pick out the handle and then select the top you wish. A detachable handle umbrella costs no more and the handle becomes a keepsake. When the top wears out a new one may be had to fit the old handle.

Silk Stockings, Lingerie and Dainty Petticoats.
These three things are dear to the feminine heart and you may be sure they will please the girls in the family.

A Cedar Chest Will Please That Girl.
She may use it now for storing furs and the like, and as a start for her Dowry Chest.

Gifts for Men.
Above you will find news of gifts the men will like. For instance:
Waterman's Ideal Fountain Pens.
(We exchange to suit the recipient.)

NEW CHECK ON PUBLIC FUNDS

Mining Companies, Heaviest Taxpayers of County, Organize.

Association Will Endeavor to Get Best Results From Public Expenditures.

To deal with the subject of taxation and the expenditure of the public funds and to co-operate with local taxing officials and boards in St. Louis county in the matter of obtaining the best results from a judicious expenditure of funds and to guard against the extravagant and wasteful disbursement by public bodies are the primary objects of the Lake Superior Tax association, which came into existence yesterday.

The Lake Superior Tax association has a membership which embraces practically all of the mining companies in St. Louis county, including both the subsidiaries of the United States Steel corporation and the independents. The members of the organization, it is claimed, pay two-thirds of the total assessment of St. Louis county.

The offices of the association will be located at 1201 Alworth building. Other offices may be opened on the range. P. J. Ryan, former county commissioner, has been engaged by the association as its secretary. He will devote his entire time to the work. A. J. Wasgatt will have charge of the local office. He will also give his entire attention to the position.

Purposes of Association.

The following statement, which outlines the objects and purposes of the organization, was issued yesterday afternoon by the association:

"The organization is the outgrowth of a feeling amongst these property owners that there are many matters relating to the collection and expenditure of public funds in which, with the aid of such an association, a great saving might be effected to the property owners in the various communities while at the same time doing no injury to the communities themselves, and not retarding any proper, legitimate development of enterprises in the communities.

"The total taxes collected in the county each year for state, county, municipal and school purposes at the present time aggregate in the neighborhood of $6,500,000. Of this amount the members of this association pay over $4,000,000 or approximately two-thirds. They pay upwards of 90 per cent of the taxes on the iron range. It is not necessarily a criticism of any particular community or public body to say that there is no question but that in a great many cases a considerable part of these funds has been injudiciously expended, and that a great deal of money has been extravagantly and in some instances wastefully used. It is believed that this is due in a large measure in a great many cases simply to want of accurate business information and data upon which to act with reference to any proposed expenditure. In many cases municipalities and school districts simply have seemed to be vieing with each other as to which could put up the largest and most imposing public buildings and improvements, but without any serious regard to the actual needs of the community or the best method of accomplishing the desired results. Distinctly, it is not the purpose of this association to deprive any community of any needed legitimate improvement, nor to attempt to have them practice parsimony in expenditure. The association intends to encourage the making of needed improvements as well as discourage those that are not needed.

"It is proposed that when public improvements are contemplated the association will offer its services to assist in getting the right kind of improvements at a reasonable cost, and to see that value received is obtained for the money expended. The association hopes and expects to act in a friendly way with public bodies having charge of the levying and expenditure of public funds, and will invite bodies that are planning public improvements to let the association co-operate with them to obtain the best and most substantial results.

Information Bureau.

"It is planned that as the association develops it will collect and classify information with reference to the erection of public buildings and other public improvements, and will attempt to collect and preserve information which may be of assistance in enabling public bodies charged with the expenditure of public funds to obtain the most satisfactory results for the money which they are to expend, and it is hoped that as time goes on the offices of the association will become a bureau of information which will be of great assistance to such public bodies, and freely will be made use of by the various officers.

"It is planned further, that as the work develops, and if occasion requires, the association may employ experts to assist in devising the best method of working out general plans for public improvements so that such improvements when once made will be of a permanent and lasting character, and sufficient to answer not only temporary but future needs of the community.

"The primary purpose of the association will not be to fight or contest taxes, or to assist anyone in avoiding or attempting to avoid any just public burden of taxation, but it will be to assist in a friendly and co-operative way the various public bodies in effecting a saving by the economical and judicious expenditure of public funds, but without undertaking to object to or discourage any needed, legitimate public improvement.

"Such associations have proved of great advantage in other communities, notably in Cleveland, where such an organization has been in existence for a great many years, backed by the ablest and most substantial business men, and where it has proven of such great benefit that it is said that all the public bodies when about to enter upon the construction of some public improvement consult the association for assistance in working out plans and devising the best method of accomplishing results.

HOSPITALS ARE HELD LIABLE

Supreme Court Upholds Ruling of Local District Court.

Liability of hospitals and associations of a semi-charitable character in personal injury actions is established as a fixed rule of law in Minnesota in a decision which was handed down by the supreme court this week in an appeal case from the St. Louis county district court.

The case was that in which Mary McInery was plaintiff and the St. Luke's Hospital association of this city, defendant. Plaintiff recovered a verdict in the district court. The case was carried to the supreme court from an order of the lower court denying a new trial. In appealing the case, defendant argued that charitable associations were immune from liability in personal injury actions.

The district court's opinion in the matter was that the hospitals and charitable associations were liable under the law and this contention was upheld by the higher tribunal. The decision is an important one as it establishes a precedent in a matter which has long been in doubt.

Among other things, the supreme court held that "if public policy requires that such associations be excluded from the operations of the statutes, it should be so declared by the legislature and not by the dictum of the courts."

Cucumbers and Squashes.

The season of the year has arrived when it should be safe to plant seeds of all kinds, and our growing season is so short that we need it all to properly mature crops.

Cucumbers are particularly sensitive to frost and should not be planted until the ground is thoroughly warm. They like a sunny location and well drained soil—sand loam is better than clay.

Make your hills about four feet apart each way. Scoop out a little earth where the hill is to stand and put in one or two shovelfuls of well rotted stable manure. Cover this with from three to four inches of fine soil. Scatter about a dozen seeds over the top and cover with about one-half inch of soil, and pat down firmly with the back of your hoe. If the weather is warm the plants will begin to appear in four or five days. As soon as they are well up stir the top soil about the plants carefully. When the plants are two or three weeks old pull out all but three or four in each hill. A bountiful amount of seed should be used to insure a good stand. Sometimes seed fails to germinate well and sometimes the squash bug or stripped beetle takes them. The cut worm is another enemy that may sadly deplete your hills. It is only while the plants are young that these pests trouble them, so be sure to have sturdy, well developed plants before you do your thinning.

Prepare your squash hills in the same manner that you used for cucumbers. The same distance between the hills will do nicely for summer squash such as the crook-neck, but for the fall and winter varieties, such as the Hubbard and Boston Marrow the hills should be at least six feet apart. The Boston Marrow is a yellow squash that matures considerably earlier than the Hubbard. It cooks dry, is a good keeper, and I think the flavor fully equal to the Hubbard.

In planting your squash seed, put about eight seeds in a hill and thin to two plants when strong. Some authorities recommend only one plant to the hill.

Pumpkins require the same culture as squashes but the two should not be planted near each other as they cross or hybridize badly. The same thing is true of the different varieties of squashes. Squash and pumpkin seed should be planted over an inch deep. Insert the point of the seed and push downward with the thumb and index finger.

Everyone can have a nice winter supply of squashes with but very little trouble, and they are not only delicious as a vegetable, but they make even better pies than the celebrated pumpkin.

FLAVOR EXTRACT MAKERS ELECT.

GOLD DUST

Cleans Millions of Plates Every Day

EVERY time we eat, the dishes have to be washed—that means three times a day for 365 days—or 1095 times a year. That means work, hard work, and lots of it—if done in the old-fashioned soap-and-water way.

Why not do it the Gold Dust way and save half the time? A little Gold Dust sprinkled in your dishwater will do the work in half the time and make your dishes brighter, sweeter, cleaner than they can be made by any other method.

Any housewife who isn't using Gold Dust for washing dishes is making twice as much work of dish-washing as she need to.

Gold Dust is sold in 5c and large packages. The large package means greater economy.

Use Gold Dust for washing clothes and dishes, scrubbing floors, cleaning woodwork, oilcloth, silverware and tinware, polishing brasswork, cleaning bathroom pipes, refrigerators, etc., softening hard water and making the finest soft soap.

WASHINGTON'S NOTE TO TOKIO IS SHOWN

The Japanese Government Takes Opposition Into Its Confidence.

Tokio, May 30.—As the result of the growing attacks by the opposition, the Japanese government has taken the elder statesmen and other leaders, including Prince Taro Katsura, the former premier, into its confidence on the California question, and submitted to them the text of America's reply to Japan's protest against the California alien land ownership legislation.

The text of the reply sent out by Washington emphasized that the question at issue is an economic and not a political one. It points out that the state of California insists that there has been no violation of the American-Japanese treaty.

After lengthily dwelling on the friendship of the United States for Japan, the reply concludes that the courts of law are open, and expresses the hope that the question may be solved in a manner satisfactory to Japan.

TELL OF FRAUDS.

Evidence to Aid Hoyne in Election Contest Is Given.

Chicago, May 30.—The first real evidence of fraud which would aid State's Attorney Hoyne has been given by two witnesses today at the election commissioners' inquiry into alleged irregularities in the election last November.

Howard G. Wade, a Prohibition watcher in the Tenth precinct of the First ward, testified that a number of Republican ballots were altered and marked in favor of Hoyne while the ballots were being counted.

Leo V. Roeder, a Democratic committeeman in the Fourth precinct of the Eleventh ward, told the commissioner that a man who gave his name as Rudolph Sabath rode up to the polling place while votes were being counted, and asked to see him outside. When they were alone, he said, the man told him to "hold back the returns for state's attorney and do all you can for Hoyne."

Hoyne's election also will be investigated by two special grand juries.

"TEST" KILLS WIFE.

Young Winnipeg Woman Burns to Death in Proving Chastity.

Winnipeg, Man., May 30.—Annie Zahrtuk, aged 20 years, is dead from burns sustained after kerosene oil had been poured over her and set on fire. Her husband, Stefan Zahrtuk, 22 years old, is accused of the crime and has been arrested.

It is claimed the burning of the young woman is in accordance with and Old Galatian custom. According to the police, Zahrtuk accused his wife of unfaithfulness, and to prove her innocence she consented to the ordeal. If she screamed it would be an acknowledgement of her guilt. She is said to have borne the agony in silence for some time, and then rushed out of her home and called for assistance. She died a short time later, after telling her story to the neighbors, who had been attracted by her cries for help.

DELICACIES ARE CHEAPER

Arrival of Duluth Growing Season Brings Lower Prices Also.

Potatoes Go Down, But Butter and Eggs Will Be Higher.

Welcome growing season, and thrice welcome lower prices!

The first division of that glad period of the year when delicacies of garden and vine may be obtained without ruining the income, has arrived in Duluth. Eschewing the gastronomical feature of the matter, what soul filling anticipation will be satisfied!

The time has actually come when the householder can see the fruits and vegetables and other edibles with the naked eye. A perusal of the price list of the produce market will reveal a decided lowering of rates which will be charged for various desirables for table use. Of course there are other things that will be found advanced in price but these may be properly classed among the luxuries and not among the necessities.

For instance, the Cuban pineapples are off the market now. They and the Florida kind have been the available supply for some time, and the Cubans were the cheaper of the two. Then there are the grapefruits. The season for them is about over and the market is strengthening as a result. The grapefruit season starts about November and this year will end in about two or three weeks. After that many will have to change the brand of their morning fruit. Lemons have assumed a stronger position and an increase in price is expected very soon. Oranges remain at the same figures.

Apples Going Out.

Storage apples are rapidly disappearing and all varieties are showing an advance in price. None of them will be in the market very long and there may be a dearth of this luscious fruit soon and until the new crop of apples makes an appearance.

In green vegetables asparagus remains at the same price and toast may still be decorated with it at a rate within the reach of all who insist upon it. Lettuce and green onions are also remaining steady and plentiful. So are pie-plant, radishes, spinach, turnips, and the like. Beans, beets and cauliflower have reduced.

Pansies will be out of the market after today, so their price will not be found in the list. Decoration or Memorial day usually marks the final wind-up of this flower for the season.

The rest of the vegetable list remains unchanged, but Minnesota red onions have been withdrawn. Celery remains high owing to the fact that California celery is the only kind that can be depended on now. The onion market is easing up on the arrival of new stuff, and the old onions are about done.

It will be good news to many that potatoes are easing up. The price on new potatoes has been reduced 40 cents a bushel owing to the greater number that are coming into the market every day. Old potatoes are by no means exhausted either and the market is weaker in general.

Butter to Be Higher.

Getting down to the next section of the list one comes to butter and eggs. There is no change in the price of butter at this writing and none to speak of in eggs, but it is given out that there will be a change about Saturday or Monday for the reason that, in the case of butter, a better grade, coming from grass fed cows, will be coming into the market and at that time also the storage season starts, contracts going into effect June 1; and as to eggs, there is always an advance with the coming of hot weather, which is the rotting season, and besides that many hens have stopped laying, taking their summer vacation, as it were. Eggs have to be more carefully candled during the summer season than during colder weather and fewer No. 1 eggs are obtained out of a case than in the earlier and later months.

Meats have advanced in price in some instances and there appears to be no chance of a let-up until the Texas beef gets into the market. Beef has gone from 10 to 12 cents a pound to 12½ and 13 cents, and veal has gone up 1 cent a pound.

The changes in the price of poultry are in the live stuff, other kinds remaining the same. Frozen poultry is about done, there being only light frozen hens and no heavy stuff. There are also a few roasting springs, but the springs are about cleaned up. The market is much easier in live poultry, as has been said, for the reason that receipts are heavier, the hens that have gone on strike in the laying business having been penalized by being sent to the market.

Blood Bath Knocks Rheumatism

Remarkable Effect of a Remedy That Actually Irrigates the Entire Blood Supply.

The Hardest Nut of All, Rheumatism, is Cracked by S. S. S.

It sounds queer to take a blood bath but that is precisely the effect of a most remarkable remedy known as S. S. S. It has the peculiar action of soaking through the intestines directly into the blood. In five minutes its influence is at work in every artery, vein and tiny capillary. Every membrane, every organ of the body, every emunctory becomes in effect a filter to strain the blood of impurities. The stimulating properties of S. S. S. compel the skin, liver, bowels, kidneys, bladder to all work to the one end of casting out every irritating, every pain-inflicting atom of poison; it dislodges by irrigation all accumulations in the joints, causes acid accretions to dissolve, renders them neutral and scatters those peculiar formations in the nerve centers that cause such mystifying and often baffling rheumatic pains.

And best of all, this remarkable remedy is welcome to the weakest stomach. If you have drugged yourself until your stomach is nearly paralyzed, you will be astonished to find that S. S. S. gives no sensation but goes right to work. This is because it is a pure vegetable infusion, is taken naturally into your blood just as pure air is inhaled naturally into your lungs.

You can get S. S. S. at any drug store at $1.00 a bottle. It is a standard remedy, recognized everywhere as the greatest blood antidote ever discovered. If yours is a peculiar case and you desire expert advice, write to The Swift Specific Co., 137 Swift Bldg., Atlanta, Ga.

WOUNDED MAN SAVES $5,000.

La Salle, Ill., May 30.—Four masked bandits held up the occupants of two vehicles of the Illinois Zinc company five miles southeast of here yesterday afternoon, killed one man and wounded three others, but $5,000 in cash for the semi-monthly pay of 160 miners was saved by a wild dash of a wounded officer, who escaped under fire of the robbers. The dead man is Ben Dierks, former police chief, Peru, Ill, acting as guard for the zinc company men. He was instantly killed by the bandits.

The wounded: Elmer West, clerk Illinois Zinc company, shot in head, neck and chest; brought to St. Mary's hospital, La Salle; condition very critical.

F. D. Richmond, civil engineer for the zinc company, shot in back, flesh wound.

Henry Oesterle, employe of the company, a glancing shot in head, also shot in arm and body.

The bandits used automatic shotguns, and the first shot killed Dierks, who was driving the second rig. West also fell at the first volley.

Richmond, who was in the rig with West and the money, whipped up the horse and fled, while the robbers stood in the middle of the road and continued to fire at him. As soon as they saw the first rig making a successful escape, the bandits left the other rig unmolested and fled through the woods. When Dierks fell dead in the second buggy, Oesterle grabbed the reins and followed the other rig to the zinc company's mine, where they turned the money over to officials. The miners were paid off and then joined in the search for the robbers.

Boston, Mass., May 30.—Because of his business engagements Joseph B. Russell has declined appointment as collector of the port of Boston.

MRS. PANKHURST STARVING AGAIN.

London, May 29.—Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst, the militant suffragette leader, has taken no food since she was rearrested and taken to Halloway jail. She is said to be in a very weak state owing to reduced vitality consequent on her previous "hunger strikes," which lessened her powers of resistance. According to the suffragette leaders, her release may be expected at any hour.

WANT IMPORTED MEAT INSPECTED.

Washington, May 30.—The application of the rigid provisions of the American meat inspection law to imported meats is asked for in petitions presented to the senate by Senator Sheppard of Texas, from the American National Livestock association, the Cattle Raisers' Association of Texas, the National Wool Growers' association and other livestock organizations.

The petitioners urge that the tariff law be so changed as to establish the full vigor of the inspection service against meats that may be brought in under the proposed new tariff rates.

MEMORIAL DAY.

The crowding memories revived by the half-century anniversaries of war times are giving a new meaning to Memorial day.

Half a century ago at this time was the darkness just before the dawn. Hooker, but lately placed in command of the Army of the Potomac, had just been disastrously defeated at Chancellorsville by Stonewall Jackson's men. That Jackson himself had fallen probably meant more to the cause of the North than any other one thing, but at that time nobody suspected how momentous a death it was. Lee was about to begin his second invasion of the North, reaching territory to which no considerable Confederate force had yet penetrated.

Not much good news came from the black, stubborn struggle at Vicksburg, which had been in progress since Grant began his campaign to divide the Confederacy many months before. Vicksburg, the key to the Confederate citadel, hung in the balance, and a bold invasion of the North by one of the greatest generals of history was at hand.

The fate of the North, the fate of the nation, the fate of a government so constituted as this, hung by a thread.

The integrity of a nation, the future of free government, depended upon the valor and tenacity of the men the nation honors today, and honors itself in honoring. The united nation of today is a splendid monument which testifies that their valor sufficed and that their tenacity withstood the strain upon it.

Fifty years ago today was the darkness before the dawn. The dawn broke, a little more than a month later, at Gettysburg, where Lee was repulsed, and at Vicksburg, where Grant triumphed and divided the Confederate states in two. It was the beginning of the end of the Confederacy, the beginning of the end of strife. Long months of conflict were yet to follow. Thousands of lives were yet to be sacrificed, untold woe was to darken the land. But the end was in sight.

Never should we forget that hour when the fate of the nation hung upon the endurance and courage of the men whose graves we decorate today, and of those others who still are with us. We can hardly do them too great honor, and it is little enough that we set apart for them one day in the year.

Rather should the nation dedicate itself anew to the glory of these brave soldiers who saved it and who made deep and strong the foundations of a great and free country.

And the highest thing upon which citizenship and patriotism can determine is that the blood and toil of the soldiers of '63 shall not have been spent in vain, that this country shall remain great and remain free, and that "government of the people, by the people and for the people shall not perish from the earth."

A Chicago man who made tax returns showing $1,150 worth of personal property claims he was robbed of $8,000 worth of jewelry and offers to pay $5,000 reward if it is recovered. And yet some people wonder at the popular disgust with the personal property tax system!

SUPPRESSING PATENTS.

The manufacturers in their recent convention in Detroit condemned the tariff bill, the labor unions and a number of other things.

They also condemned the Oldfield bill, pending in congress, which is designed to prevent the buying up and suppression of valuable patents.

It is hard to see where the manufacturers are entitled to much sympathy in their opposition to this bill. To us it looks like a very reasonable, even an absolutely necessary, measure.

It has been charged freely and frequently that the practice of buying up patents for the purpose of suppression is common. It is asserted that many large manufacturers have locked up in their vaults valuable patents which have been suppressed because their use would more or less revolutionize the industries affected by them.

If such things are done, it is wrong. When the government issues a patent, giving an inventor exclusive control of the device he has created, it is done as a reward for the public service he has performed. But if the device is suppressed, no public service has been performed, and the patent ought to be void.

The provisions of the Oldfield bill sound reasonable enough. They are simply that if it is made to appear to the Federal court that a patent, purchased from the original inventor, has been kept in disuse for three years, any applicant to the court may secure an order granting him the use of the patent at a royalty to be fixed by the court.

That would prevent suppression of patents. It would insure that the people would have the benefit of any really valuable invention. It would make it impossible for the manufacturers of any article to head off the manufacture of a similar article which is better and cheaper.

Suppression of valuable patents is a gross abuse of the patent law. Its prevention is a wholesome move in the public interest.

The Chinese loan was oversubscribed in London and Berlin, and now Mexico has made arrangements for a little touch of $100,000,000. Sometimes it almost seems as if it would be worth while to be a nation.

ADVERTISING AND ADVERTISING.

"I read your editorial advising country merchants to reach out for business to be created by the parcel post, and to do it by advertising in the local papers," writes a country merchant in a Northern Minnesota town not far from Duluth. "I do advertise, regularly, and have for years. But still the big mail order houses are cutting into me, and since the parcel post went into effect they are cutting into me still more."

So we looked up the advertisements carried by this merchant in his local newspaper, and found them just what we expected them to be; mere announcements, cut and dried and never changed, like this: "John Smith, general merchandise, Ruralville, Minn."

That's advertising, of a kind, and perhaps it's better than none at all; though except for doctors or lawyers we are not so sure that it is very much better.

When there is added to the announcement, as we found in other advertisements, the claim that John Smith "sells the best goods at the lowest prices," maybe that improves it a little, but not much.

The old-fashioned card such as "John Smith" runs in his local paper, a mere formal announcement that he is in business, isn't going to get far in competition with city merchants who describe their goods and advertise attractive prices. Probably everybody the advertisement reaches knows that John Smith sells general merchandise; but what kind it is and at what prices it is sold is a dark mystery unless they go to the store and paw the stock over.

But if John Smith would cut out of The Herald, say, a bunch of advertisements inserted by wideawake Duluth merchants, and take them home and study them carefully, he would learn something about advertising that would be to his advantage. He might begin by copying them, changing them to correspond to his stock; and in that manner learn to do it for himself.

To adopt in the country methods which bring business in the city oughtn't to be a very difficult thing to grasp; and it's what the country merchant must do if he expects to get the benefit out of the parcel post that he ought to get.

According to a Missouri paper, a woman cannot climb a tree. But she can get up just as big a stump as the next man.

GOOD PUBLIC SPIRIT AND GOOD BUSINESS.

The United States Steel corporation has been working practically on promoting the safety of its workers for less than three years; yet it is able to report that already it has reduced the number of fatal accidents nearly 30 per cent.

In October, 1910, a "committee on safety," appointed by the corporation, issued a bulletin outlining safety plans, showing by drawings and photographs safety devices which were to be installed in all the company's plants.

Nearly a year later, the committee put out a second bulletin, going more into detail. The latest bulletin goes still more deeply into the subject and at the same time announces the evolution of the committee into a permanent department known as the "bureau of safety, relief, sanitation and welfare."

The old way was to economize on the plant and be reckless of labor. If men were hurt or killed their places could readily be filled. Machinery cost money to repace; human beings cost nothing.

The new way is simple humanity, but it is more than that. It is also good public spirit, but it is still more than that: it is GOOD BUSINESS.

One of the beauties of the principle of compulsory and automatic workingmen's compensation laws which throw the full burden of the risk of industry upon the plant—its chief beauty, we should say—is that it will force other concerns to do what the "steel trust" has been doing for some time, because it first saw, before the law compelled it to see, that it is good business to conserve its human servants as well as its servants of steel and iron.

When a killed workman could be readily replaced, and when the damage suit that might come was not dreaded because the law gave the factory all the best of it and there was an expensive legal department that was maintained to meet just such emergencies, there was little incentive for the short-sighted manufacturer to interest himself in safety devices.

When he must pay in every case where a workman is hurt or killed, there is every incentive in the world to be interested in safety devices, and they will become more and more common as the states adopt humane workingmen's compensation acts.

That the steel trust anticipated this situation is testimony that it is a human and farseeing business institution, at its worst.

Now if Commissioner Hicken would only find some way to make the weather dry, too.

THE BLUE AND THE GRAY

By the flow of an inland river,
Whence the fleets of iron have fled,
Where the blades of the grave grass quiver,
Asleep are the ranks of the dead;
Under the sod and the dew
Waiting the Judgment day;
Under the one, the Blue—
Under the other the Gray.

Those in the robings of glory,
Those in the gloom of defeat;
All with the battle blood gory,
In the dusk of Eternity meet,
Under the sod and the dew,
Waiting the Judgment day;
Under the laurel, the Blue;
Under the willow, the Gray.

From the silence of sorrowful hours
The desolate mourners go,
Lovingly laden with flowers,
Alike for the friends and foe!
Under the sod and the dew,
Waiting the Judgment day;
Under the roses, the Blue;
Under the lilies, the Gray.

Sadly, but not with upbraiding,
The generous deed was done;
In the storm of years that are fading,
No braver battle was won;
Under the sod and the dew,
Waiting the Judgment day;
Under the blossoms, the Blue;
Under the garlands the Gray.

No more shall the war cry sever,
Or the winding rivers be red;
They banish our anger fovever,
When they garland the graves of our dead!
Under the sod and the dew,
Waiting the Judgment day,
Love and tears for the Blue—
Tears and love for the Gray.

—Francis Miles Finch.

THE OPEN COURT

(Readers of The Herald are invited to make free use of this column to express their ideas about the topics of general interest, but discussions of sectarian religious differences are barred. Letters must not exceed 300 words—the shorter the better. They must be written on one side of the paper only, and they must be accompanied in every case by the name and address of the writer, though these need not be published. A signed letter is always more effective, however.)

STILL COMING.

To the Editor of The Herald:

During the past two years approximately thirty fakers pretending to be deaf and dumb have been arrested in Duluth, while a few others have been in town but were not caught. Most of those who have been arrested have been sentenced for from thirty to ninety days in the county jail. If one will pause to remember that, in spite of all our civic pride, Duluth is not the only city in the United States, and appreciate that there is no more reason why these people should come to Duluth than go elsewhere, they will get some idea of the extent of this "fake deaf-mute graft." For arresting and sentencing these fakers, Duluth has made quite a unique record among cities. The reason is that the public has been kept informed of the arrests and convictions, and it has been hammered into them that "the deaf do not beg." Consequently they have very little compunction in turning these people over to the police.

The deaf people all over the United States are trying to stop this form of graft, not because they have any particular sympathy with the suckers who are taken in, but because these beggars do the genuine deaf a very real harm. There are so many of these fakers and they circulate so persistently among all classes of people that it is only natural that people are gradually and unconsciously convinced that all that a deaf man is good for is to beg. When a deaf person enters an office or a place of business he is not even permitted to state his errand before he is offered a coin with the idea of getting rid of him. The writer has had this happen to him here in Duluth, where he has lived for thirty-four years and is fairly well known. On another occasion while riding in a Minneapolis street car with the principal of the school for the deaf at Faribault and talking in signs, a benevolent party paused as he was passing out and offered each of us a dime. We might put up with such indignities and smile, but when a real deaf man is out of employment and is making an honest canvass for work it is not only humiliating but discouraging to have people offer him a dime or a quarter before he has had a chance to ask for employment.

From July 2 to July 5 there will be held in Duluth the twelfth biennial convention of the Minnesota Association of the Deaf. The delegates to this convention will represent the average crowd of deaf people. They are all industrious and self-supporting and are engaged in about forty different trades and professions. It will be a pleasure to them to have the public attend their meetings and see for themselves what a genuinely happy crowd of people they are. After looking over this crowd of deaf people and noting their general deportment and their quickness in observing all that goes on about them, one cannot but contrast them with the young man who was arrested and sentenced yesterday for working the "deaf mute graft." While facing Judge Windom he kept his eyes glued on the stand and yet evidently knew all that was going on about him. Lest we forget that these grafters are still coming and may be expected to come in ever increasing numbers, as Duluth is advertised as a cool place in summer with unusual attractions to visitors and tourists of all types, we take this means of again warning the public to report all cases of "deaf-mute begging" either to the police or to the secretary of the Associated Charities.

Lippincott's: Orange blossoms are expensive, but it is bad form to quarrel with your husband as to which of you paid the more for them.

When you have landed the "catch of the season," don't dim the glory of your exploit by revealing that he was only a minnow.

Be satisfied if your husband holds you in high esteem, and don't expect him to hold you upon his lap. This is an unsentimental age.

When a man asks you to become his Queen of Hearts, before assuming the title have it examined by a good lawyer.

About one woman in every fifty can be a real Mrs. Henpeck. The other forty-nine are happier believing that they could be boss if they wished; and are happiest when they know that it isn't true.

If you begin by hinting that your limousine is out of date and that you need new furs, your husband will give up the money for a new hat gladly.

The cleverest woman is the one whose husband thinks, "She is a sweet, good little thing, but—well, hardly my equal mentally."

A woman simply grows hungrier for love when her affections are starved. In such a case, a man loses his appetite for love and turns to business or beefsteak.

The best way to cure a husband of extravagance is to spend so much of his money that he will have to economize.

No matter how disappointed you may be in your husband, never reveal that fact to him. He might disclose a pile of blasted ideals that would make your little heap look very small.

Cupid's Bible says, "Forgive your husband seventy times seven—and don't keep tally too accurately."

Don't be misled by "The Scientific Management of Husbands, by Emily Spoopendyke, Ph. D., M. D., X. Y. Z." If Emily were successful at husband-managing, she would be too busy and too happy to write books.

A patient husband may suffer cold kisses or cold coffee, but he will rebel if both are chilled.

Never stoop to picking your husband's pockets. Play cards with him. When you lose tell him your allowance is so small that you simply can't pay. When you win, insinuate that he isn't a gentleman if he doesn't pay his gambling debts.

You might be able to make an angel of your husband, but if you did you would always regret it. An angel would want an angelic wife.

Statesmen, Real and Near

By Fred C. Kelly.

Washington, May 30.—(Special to The Herald.)—Senator Nathan Goff of West Virginia snapped his fingers at Senator William E. Chilton, also of West Virginia, in the senate chamber the other day, and pointed to a large book on a near-by desk.

"Kindly bring me that book," said he.

"Certainly, sir," said Chilton, and he fetched the book.

Then both laughed.

Every little while they carry out some such little joke as that, to remind themselves of the days when Goff, the junior senator, was a Federal district attorney down in West Virginia and Chilton, now the senior senator, was his page boy.

Chilton like Goff for the kindly way he treated him whenever he made a mistake, and they have been warm friends ever since.

"Well, at last I've almost caught up with my page boy," said Goff, when he joined Chilton here in the senate chamber a few weeks ago.

Charles P. Higgins, sergeant-at-arms of the senate, used to be a messenger boy out in St. Louis for one of the early telegraph companies of which Andrew Carnegie was president.

When Carnegie came up to the senate with the International Peace crowd not so long ago, Higgins was introduced to him.

"Mighty glad to meet you," said Higgins; "I've wanted to make your acquaintance ever since we were associated together in business."

"You know, er—I don't recall—" faltered Andy.

"In the telegraph business," explained Higgins; "Of course, we never saw much of each other. You were busy with your duties as president and I was almost equally busy as messenger."

"Ah, yes," seriously murmured Andy, who is Scotch, and, of course, has no sense of humor.

"It's a good idea for you two to get acquainted," remarked Thomas Nelson Page, who was with the party; "Higgins may have a subpoena for you some day."

And Andy gave a fairly good chuckle.

Higgins, by the way, was one of the messengers that helped get out the news of the national convention that nominated Tilden for president. While at that convention he let an outsider into the telegraph room to get a behind-the-scenes view of the convention, and the man was so pleased that he handed young Higgins a $5 bill. It was the most money the youngster had ever owned at one time.

When Garfield was assassinated the first bulletin to reach St. Louis came from the telegraph instrument that Higgins was handling.

A young man applied for a job as reporter on one of the Washington papers recently, and he was such a breezy type of young person that it was thought he might do. So they gave him a trial and he lasted about a week. On the day that he was fired, he was instructed to call up a dignified bishop then in the city and ask him certain questions. The young man got the bishop on the 'phone. Says he: "Hello, Bish!"

Representative Bird Maguire of Oklahoma and Joe Miller—who is not the author of the joke book, but one of the millionaire proprietors of Miller Brothers 101 Ranch and Wild West show—were cowboys together back in the day when neither had a cent. After each had forged ahead in the world, Miller bought an Oklahoma newspaper one time for the sole purpose of booming his friend Maguire for congress.

Senator William Alden Smith of Michigan was trying his first lawsuit, and sought to show that Jones, a witness for the other side, was an offhand liar. He put a neighbor of Jones on the stand, and asked him about Jones' reputation for truth and veracity. 'Twas bad, very bad, said the witness.

Then the other lawyer tried to show that this testimony was due to spleen.

"You and Jones have had some trouble, haven't you?" he asked the witness.

"No, nothing special."

"Ah, nothing special. Then you did have some little trouble."

"Nothin', only he stole a cow bell from me."

"But didn't he deny stealing the bell?"

"Yes," admitted the witness, "he denied it, but—but—"

"But what?" interrupted the lawyer, sharply.

"He brought back the bell."

Representative Edward W. Townsend of New Choisey is half ashamed of the fact that he is the author of "Chimmie Fadden," regardless of all the money the book and play have brought him. When a man becomes engaged in statecraft he likes to bury his past if that past is too much mixed up with slang and frivolity. What Townsend wants to do now is to go in for the serious stuff, and when he makes a speech in the house—which he does only occasionally—he carefully blocks every possible opening where a stray bit of humor might creep into what he has to say.

Also, one of these days, Townsend is going to assume a grave face and announce his candidacy for the senate.

In his boyhood days Representative Simeon D. Fess of Ohio was merely Simeon Fess. His parents thought Simeon was enough for him. As he grew older he craved a middle initial like other young men, and he took unto himself a D. That D doesn't stand for anything. It is simply put there to fill up.

The Bravest Battle.

The bravest battle that ever was fought;
Shall I tell you where and when?
On the maps of the world you will find it not;
It was fought by the mothers of men.

Nay, not with cannon or battle shot,
With sword or nobler pen;
Nay, not with eloquent word or thought,
From mouths of wonderful men.

But deep in a walled-up woman's heart—
Of woman that would not yield;
But patiently, silently bore her part—
Lo! there in that battlefield.

No marshaling troop, no bivouac song;
No banner to gleam and wave;
And oh! these battles they last so long—
From babyhood to the grave!

Yet, faithful still as a bridge of stars,
She fights in her walled-up town—
Fights on and on in the endless wars,
Then silent, unseen—goes down.

—Joaquin Miller.

The Bivouac of the Dead

By Theodore O'Hara.

The muffled drum's sad roll has beat
The soldier's last tattoo;
No more on life's parade shall meet
The brave and daring few.
On Fame's eternal camping ground
Their silent tents are spread,
And Glory guards with solemn round
The bivouac of the dead.

No answer of the foe's advance
Now swells upon the wind;
No thought at midnight haunts
Of loved ones left behind;
No vision of the morrow's strife
The warrior's dream alarms;
No braying horn nor screaming fife
At dawn shall call to arms.

Their shivered swords are red with rust;
Their plumed heads are bowed;
Their haughty banner trailed in dust
Is now their martial shroud;
And plenteous funeral tears have washed
The red stains from each brow,
And their proud forms, in battle gashed,
Are free from anguish now.

The neighing steed, the flashing blade,
The trumpet's stirring blast,
The charge, the dreadful cannonade,
The din and shout are past;
No war's wild note, nor glory's peal,
Shall thrill with fierce delight
Those breasts that nevermore shall feel
The rapture of the fight.

Like the dread northern hurricane
That sweeps his broad plateau,
Flushed with the triumph yet to gain,
Came down the serried foe.
Our heroes felt the shock, and leapt
To meet them on the plain;
And long the pitying sky hath wept
Above our gallant slain.

Sons of our consecrated ground,
Ye must not slumber there,
Where stranger steps and tongues resound
Along the heedless air.
Your own proud land's heroic soil
Shall be your fitter grave:
She claims from war his richest spoil—
The ashes of her brave.

So 'neath their parent turf they rest,
Far from the gory field;
Borne to a spartan mother's breast
On many a bloody shield.
The sunshine of their native sky
Smiles sadly on them here,
And kindred hearts and eyes watch by
The heroes' sepulchre.

Rest on, embalmed and sainted dead!
Dear as the blood you gave,
No impious footsteps here shall tread
The herbage of your grave;
Nor shall your glory be forgot
While fame her record keeps,
Or honor points the hallowed spot
Where valor proudly sleeps.

Yon marble minstrel's voiceless tone
In deathless songs shall tell,
When many a vanquished age hath flown,
The story how ye fell.
Nor wreck, nor change, or winter's blight,
Nor time's remorseless doom,
Shall dim one ray of holy light
That gilds your glorious tomb.

Minnesota Opinions

Comments of the State Press.

What Is It?

Hibbing Tribune: Only 15 per cent of us in Minnesota belong to the churches, they say. What's out of joint, we or the churches?

Foolish Move.

Stillwater Gazette: The idea of paying $10,000 to lawyers and 10 per cent of the amount collected for the Chippewa Indians, from Uncle Sam, is about as ridiculous as anything that has been given publicity for some time. If the government owes the noble red men and women $15,000,000, as alleged, Uncle Sam will pay the same, and it is not necessary to employ lawyers on a 10 per cent basis and $10,000 extra in order to insure the collection. It would be easy money for a couple of attorneys, but it would be a decidedly foolish move, entirely uncalled for.

That Will Do.

Cuyuna Miner: Another adventurer will make a dash for the Arctic. A dash because the idiocy of the performance is contemplated in dashes.

Where the Money Goes.

Waseca Herald: Reliable statistics show that the coal barons profited immensely through raising the miners' wages a year ago. They gave a $4,000,000 advance in wages and charged the public an increase of about $13,500,000 in the price of coal. In other words, the public had to pay $3.50 for every extra dollar the miners received. Such brazen, daylight robbery is unparalled in the criminal annals of this soulless corporation.

Laws and More Laws.

St. Hilaire Spectator: It is evident from the appearance of the supplements containing the laws passed by the last state legislature that the lawmakers have been on the job all the time. Many laws passed are good while others may not seem as favorable. Considering the number of years law-making bodies of all civilized nations have spent in trying to frame a set of "perfect" laws and thus far have failed, we are inclined to hesitate in passing criticisms too severe regarding work accomplished by our legislature or any modern law-making body.

The Modern Way.

Walker Pilot: Some girls hate to hear their mother washing the dishes so bad that they are forced to play the piano to drown out the noise.

Good Roads Day.

Princeton Union: Remember that the third Tuesday in June is Good Roads day. Devote that day to the holy cause of road improvement.

A Great Fair.

Eveleth News: The Minnesota state fair has got to keep up a lively gait or it will soon be outclassed by the St. Louis county fair. The 1913 event at Hibbing is sure going to be a humdinger.

"If Worth Doing At All, It's Worth," Etc.

Lippincott's: Small Thomas overheard his mother saying to his older brother that it was a tactful thing to appear to think people younger than they were.

His sister's French teacher arriving shortly after, it fell to Thomas to entertain her until his sister appeared. Thomas decided to do it up brown.

"How old are you, Miss Grey?" he asked politely.

"I'm dreadfully old, Thomas," she answered. "I'm 23."

"Oh!" said Thomas, gulping a little with the unusual effort, "I—I never thinked you was more'n—a—seven."

Twenty Years Ago

From The Herald of this date, 1893.

•••C. C. Sturtevant, secretary of the Minneapolis chamber of commerce for the past fifteen years, died this morning, aged 79.

•••The Duluth Great Western railway has applied to the city of Duluth for aid to the amount of $150,000, giving in exchange for the bonds the company's capital stock in the same amount. The company agrees to establish its terminals and general offices in Duluth and to have twenty miles of its line in operation by Dec. 1, 1893. This road is the successor of the Duluth, Red Lake Falls & Northern road.

•••An Ohio association has been formed in Duluth by former residents of that state, with the following officers: President, Judge J. D. Ensign; vice presidents, A. B. Chapin and George E. Welles; secretary, Thomas S. Wood; treasurer, E. W. Matter. Other members of the association are: W. B. Welles, S. L. Frazer, F. M. Guthrie, Judge McGindley, H. H. Hanford, Dr. Routh, H. C. Crawford, C. E. Lovett, C. A. Long, S. F. Boyce, Ellsworth Benham, S. T. Johnson, H. R. Armstrong, W. A. Montague, D. B. Smith, Jr., H. Wickey, W. H. Hubbard, H. M. King, William Kaiser, R. A. Costello, W. E. Baillie, A. C. Batchelor, L. F. Brewster, E. O. Richards, George R. Laybourn, M. A. Hays, J. H. Harris, T. P. Brown, W. A. Seeley.

•••On June 14 the national convention of the Railway Yardmasters' Association of the United States and Canada will be held in Duluth. About 200 delegates are expected to attend, many accompanied by their wives.

•••The family of James Morey of Bay View Heights returned today to their former home in Winnipeg.

•••Word has been received of the death at Hot Springs, Ark., of Dan Kennedy of Superior, former sheriff of Douglas county.

•••H. L. Sisler has resigned as assistant ticket agent of the Omaha road at St. Paul to enter into partnership with his brother in Duluth.

•••Memorial day was appropriately observed in Duluth today. At 9:30 a. m. Gorman and Culver posts, G. A. R., excorted by the Marine band, proceeded in street cars to Forest Hill cemetery, where the graves of their comrades who had gone before were decorated. A parade was held in the afternoon on Superior street to Seventh avenue west, where cars on the incline railway to the Pavilion were taken. There the orator of the day, Hon. Charles A. Towne, delivered an eloquent address and other exercises followed.

Will It Work?

St. Cloud Journal-Press: The late legislature passed a law for the suppression of vice. The most potent provision was that property used for immoral purposes should be confiscated by the state.

This has resulted in cleaning up the redlight districts of St. Paul, Minneapolis and Duluth.

The papers of these cities are asking: "What becomes of the women who have been driven out of these districts?"

Here is a class that is cut off from all legitimate means of getting a living. The very large majority are victims of man's flattery and dishonesty. And yet the man who is responsible for her terrible condition would not think of giving the woman employment either in his home or his office. All decent doors are closed to her. Then the state drives her into the streets, in the name of morality and virtue!

These women have one thing to do. It is an open question if they will not be more dangerous to society now than they were before. Instead of eliminating vice the state is only scattering it.

We have no criticism to make of the law—however much it may distress some of the "saintly" men of the three cities who will not draw less rent, but if the state had been wise and consistent it would have first of all have provided a refuge to these unfortunates which it has driven into the highways and byways. It would have been much better to have given them an asylum, where they could get a living without selling themselves, and where they would no longer be a menace to the young and foolish.

It Happened.

He waited for something to happen
when his years were few and the days were long;
He waited for something to happen
when his health was good and his arms were strong;
He sighed when others succeeded, but he sat and waited away,
And was sure the chance that he needed would "happen along" some day.

He waited for something to happen when his clothes were frayed and his beard was long;
He waited for something to happen
when his wife ceased humming a hopeful song;
He patiently sat and prated of the change that must come about
And the something for which he waited arrived when they kicked him out.

Coroner's Jury Gives Verdict on Long Beach Horror.

Long Beach, Cal., May 30.—The collapse of one girder, originally too slender to bear the burdens intended for it, and which had almost rotted away, caused the wrecking of the municipal auditorium pier last Saturday and the loss of nearly forty lives. This was the explanation given by the board of three experts, appointed to investigate the disaster, in its official report to the coroner's jury. Accepting this report, the jury deliberated for fifty minutes and concluded the inquiry with a verdict that the victims of the catastrophe had come to their death by suffocation or "other bodily injury caused by the collapse of a portion of the floor forming the approach to the auditorium."

"Said collapse," the verdict stated further, "was due to a decayed condition of the girders supporting said floor."

This completed the verdict. There was no mention of responsibility.

The testimony showed that the crowd of people at no time approached a crush, and that the paraders did not come upon the pier marching in time.

Ohio Banker Freed.

Columbus, Ohio, May 30.—By sustaining the demurrers to the statements of facts agreed upon by the prosecution and the defense, Judge E. B. Kinkaid of the criminal division of the Franklin county common pleas court dismissed the indictments against Former State Treasurer Isaac B. Cameron and Former President Cyrus Huling of the Columbus Savings & Trust company. They were charged with the misappropriation of state funds.

SENATE WILL PROBE LOBBY

Cummins' Resolution Is Adopted With Kern Amendments.

President Is Invited to Give Any Help He Will.

Washington, May 30.—After a sharp debate over terms, the senate adopted a resolution instructing the judiciary committee to investigate the charge that a lobby is being maintained in Washington or elsewhere to influence pending legislation, with particular emphasis upon its efforts for or against the Underwood tariff bill now before the finance committee. The resolution was in direct response to the public statement made by President Wilson that an insidious lobby, with plenty of money, was operating against the tariff bill.

Under the resolution, introduced by Senator Cummins and amended by Senator Kern, the judiciary committee is directed to report its findings within ten days. Hearings probably will begin at once.

Invite Wilson's Aid.

The resolution as adopted, directs the committee to report the names and method of lobbyists and the bills or items in the tariff bill they are "seeking to change;" the names of senators to whom representations by "such persons or any person" were made, and under what circumstances, all persons to testify under oath; whether any senator is financially or professionally interested in the production, manufacture or sale of any article mentioned in the tariff bill; the interest any senator has in any legislation pending, or has had in any legislation before the senate during his term of service.

The president is respectfully invited "to aid the committee in its investigation by giving to it any information in his possession" relating to the investigation, which he considers proper to make public.

FOSS WILL CLOSE DOWN FACTORIES.

Boston, Mass., May 30.—The plants of the B. F. Sturtevant company and the Brecker Milling Machine company at Hyde park, from which 1,200 workmen walked out on strike yesterday, probably will be shut down indefinitely, according to a statement by Governor Eugene N. Foss, who owns a controlling interest in both firms.

When the strikers went out, they left behind less than 200 persons in the shops, labor leaders declare. Among them were non-union women workers and members of two craft organizations which have agreements with the management.

Recently, in refusing the 20 per cent increase in wages demanded by the men, Governor Foss said that the changes expected in the pending tariff law made it impossible to grant any advance.

West End

WOULD HAVE HIGH SCHOOL

West End Compiling Statistics to Show Need of Institution.

Believed Facts Will Demonstrate Pressing Need to Board.

At a meeting of the West End Commercial club to be held early next week, statistics regarding the number of eighth grade graduates leaving school this year, the number of pupils attending high school who reside west of the Point of Rocks and the percentage of pupils leaving the graded schools each year that attend high school will be given by members of a committee now at work.

It is proposed to compile this information in order to present it to the school board for the purpose of advocating the need of a high school building in this end of the city. The club will also discuss the desirability of a site with a view to a central location. The members of the committee are: Sanford H. Hill, George M. Jensen and Carl E. Lonegren. Each of the schools will be visited in order to get the desired information.

The agitation for a West end high school has been under way for several years. It is claimed that within a short time additions will have to be made to some of the West end schools and that instead of doing this, many of the residents believe the board should make provisions for a new building in which a junior year high school class could be started in addition to the first year of high school.

At the meeting of the club a committee will be chosen to attend the meeting of the board next Friday evening to place the matter before it. The board will probably be asked to provide in its annual levy an appropriation for this purpose in order that the school may be realized next year.

WILL CELEBRATE TENTH ANNIVERSARY.

"What I Like About Other Churches," will be the topic of a sermon given Sunday evening by Rev. Edward Erickson, pastor of the First Norwegian-Danish M. E. church, Twenty-fourth avenue west and Third street. On Sunday evening, June 8, Rev. Mr. Erickson will speak on "Why I Am a Methodist Minister."

Rev. Mr. Erickson will preach a sermon at the morning service of June 8 in celebration of the tenth anniversary of his ordination. He will also examine a class of children at this service.

TWENTY-SEVENTH AVE. PAVING NEXT WEEK.

The paving of Twenty-seventh avenue west from Michigan to Fifth streets will begin next week. The contract was recently let to George R. King and he is making arrangements to place a crew of men on the job early.

The street will be paved with tar macadam. The roadway will be twenty-four feet wide, with a parkway twelve feet wide between the curbing and the sidewalk. The property owners plan planting trees in this space and making it one of the most beautiful thoroughfares in the city.

West End Briefs.

The Parthenoe society of the Swedish Mission church, Twenty-first avenue west and Second street, will entertain this evening at its annual spring festival. A literary and musical program will be given.

The funeral of Mrs. Selma Mary Cole, wife of John J. Cole, 3137 Restromel street, was held this afternoon from the Bethany Swedish Lutheran church. Burial was made in Park Hill cemetery.

The Rosary Society of St. Clement's Catholic church wes entertained in the church parlors yesterday afternoon. Mrs. J. W. Moriarity and Mrs. Smart were hostesses.

Supt. Close of the Sunday school of St. Paul's Episcopal church gave an interesting lecture on "The Holy Land" at St. Peter's Episcopal church last evening. The lecture was given to members of the church and Sunday school.

Joseph Olson, A. Lofgren, J. H. Anderson and H. Koefed returned yesterday from a short fishing trip to creeks on the Soo line. They brought with them a fine string of trout.

Arvid Eckstrom of Minneapolis is spending a few days visiting relatives in the West end.

Homer Claussen of Worthington, Minn., who has been visiting in the West end, left yesterday for the Twin Cities.

ONE MAN HANGS THE GIBSON CASE JURY

Second Mistrial Is Recorded in Szabo Murder Case.

Newburgh, N. Y., May 30.—The jury in the case of Burton W. Gibson, after deliberating for nearly twenty-five hours, was discharged, unable to agree as to his guilt on a charge of murdering Mrs. Rosa Menchik Szabo. At a previous trial the jury was unable to agree.

The jurors told Supreme Court Justice Thompkins they were hopelessly deadlocked. The court remanded Gibson to the Goshen jail. Mrs. Gibson, who has been constantly in attendance on her husband during the trial, was not in court to hear the final report of the jury.

The jury stood from the first ballot 11 to 1 for conviction of murder in the first degree, it was stated, and hours of balloting and discussion did not change the vote.

After the jury had been discharged, District Attorney Wilson said he would take no further proceedings against Gibson for the present. Mr. Wilson had previously declared, however, that in the event of a second disagreement he would not put Gibson on trial again.

Assistant District Attorney Murphy of New York county has warrants for the arrest of Gibson on charges of larceny and forgery growing out of his handling of Mrs. Szabo's estate, and it is likely Gibson will be turned over to the New York county authorities.

BELTRAMI COUNTY IS FORGING AHEAD

Farming Development of County Increases With Passing Years' Seasons.

Bemidji, Minn., May 30.—(Special to The Herald.)—In reply to a request from Fred Sherman, acting immigration commissioner, J. J. Opsahl of Bemidji prepared the following:

"The spring has been rather backward on account of continuous rains and cold weather. A large percentage of new land is being opened up in Beltrami county, as well as Northern Hubbard county, tributary to Bemidji. About 50 per cent more of oats is being planted this year than last. The oats are looking well. Cold weather helps them to gain strong roots.

"Only a limited acreage of wheat is seeded, which is also in good condition. Considerable barley and winter rye is raised. Some corn has been planted and at least 40 per cent more of fodder corn than last year will be raised in this territory. Silos are getting very popular and farmers are busy raising forage for their stock instead of buying it.

"While the potato crop last year did not prove a profitable one, many of the best farmers will raise about an equal acreage this year, and, with better care, I predict the yield will be larger and no doubt prices satisfactory next fall.

Farm Development Noted.

"The last three years have seen great strides forward in farm development in the vicinity of Bemidji, and parties that purchased land from the different lumber companies two and three years ago are coming in freely this spring and settling in their new homes.

"On May 12 the first sale was held in Beltrami county of reclaimed lands on the Red Lake reservation, under the Volstead act. The 57,520 acres of government lands sold by the county auditor went mostly in 160-acre lots, part of them to people who had partial homestead rights left. This was made principally to outside people, and brings into Beltrami county over 350 new boosters that will gradually improve these lands and make them, from the start, producers of timothy hay and seed, as this class of land has been tried out and found to be the best timothy land in the world, and timothy has also proven to be the best agent with which to subdue mossy or swamp lands.

"Northern Minnesota timothy seed commands a premium in the world's market on account of its vitality, and Northern Beltrami county and the territory tributary to the M. & I. railway will become famous for its timothy seed in the near future.

Hold Timothy Price Record.

"We hold a record in 1911 at the then prevailing market price of $109.25 per acre for timothy seed on swamp land by W. H. Cooper, and $108 per acre for clover seed on cut-over timber land, raised by John Wicken. The producers of timothy and clover seed have this advantage, that in case the market price is very low on the seed, they can cut their crop for hay, and the net revenue from tame hay per acre for the last ten years is far above the average net revenue from any wheat field in the Northwest for the same period of years.

"During the last twelve months there have been more than 100,000 acres entered by homesteaders on the Red Lake reservation, and there is still available for homesteads in the northern part of the county about 800,000 acres, so that Beltrami county holds the lead of any county in the state for new settlers during the past twelve months, and will also hold it for several years to come. Private land owners have sold during the last year more than 100,000 acres cut up into small farms."

POPE BLESSES 3,000.

Rome, May 30.—Three thousand people were admitted to the presence of the pope in the court of San Damas last evening. The pontiff stood in the central balcony of the first Raphael Loggia, above the fountain erected by Pope Innocent. He was surrounded by archbishops and bishops, among the number being Archbishop Nouel of San Domingo, formerly president of that republic. His appearance was heralded by the sound of bugles and playing of pontifical hymns by the band. The crowd knelt while the pope imparted the apostolic benediction.

Montana Floods Lessen.

Missoula, Mont., May 30.—Cooler weather and little rain in the last twenty hours have generally lessened the flood danger in Western Montana. The Missoula river is a trifle higher, but the St. Regis is falling rapidly. Unless a warm wave sets in and rains melt the snows in the mountains, no further damage is expected.

CROWDS CHEER FEW REMAINING HEROES OF CIVIL WAR

ing the reading a selection was given by the Imperial quartet, consisting of Leon W. Cooley, J. F. Erickson, C. H. Dunning and Walter Robinson.

Mason M. Forbes, assistant county attorney, read Lincoln's famed Gettysburg speech, which was enthusiastically received. Mrs. Leo A. Ball, who was in excellent voice sang "The Star Spangled Banner" and the audience joined in the last verse. When that was reached the voices of the entire assemblage swelled forth with a vim in the stirring words of the verse:

"O, thus be it ever when freeman shall stand
Between their loved home and wild war's desolation,
Blest with victory and peace, may the heav'n rescued land
Praise the Power that hath made and preserved us a nation!
Then conquer we must, when our cause it is just,
And this be our motto: 'In God is our trust!'
And the star-spangled banner in triumph shall wave
O'er the land of the free and the home of the brave."

Following Mr. Hovis' address Mrs. A. B. Hilton read a paper entitle "In Memory of Charles F. Johnson," her father, who was the author of "The Long Roll." Then came the roll call of those who have died during the past year, the adjutant of each organization reading the lists. Benediction was pronounced by Rev. C. N. Thorp, pastor of the Pilgrim Congregational church.

WAR RECORD OF MAN FOR WHOM LOCAL G. A. R. POST IS NAMED

Duluth has two posts of the Grand Army of the Republic, both named in honor of illustrious men, one of whom was one of the most honored of Duluth's residents. That man was Joshua B. Culver, and Post No. 128 is named after him. Not only was Col. Culver a leader in the affairs of Duluth, but his service in the Civil war was such as to make him one of the great regimental commanders of that struggle between the North and the South.

Mr. Culver enlisted on Nov. 9, 1861, as first lieutenant of the Thirteenth Michigan volunteer infantry, and with his regiment engaged in some of the most stirring battles of the period. He fought at Corinth, Shilo, Perryville, Nashville, Gallatin, Stone River, Lookout mountain, Chickamauga, Chattanooga, Mission ridge, and in numerous minor engagements. He was in Sherman's famous march through Georgia to the sea, and became colonel of his regiment in the organization of the Army of the Cumberland in August, 1863. In that noted body of men, the Thirteenth Michigan formed a part of Buell's brigade, Wood's division, in McCook's corps.

As a tribute to the Thirteenth Michigan, a monument has been reared in Chickamauga park, making the position in Vineyard field where the Thirteenth performed its most important service in the great battle of Sept. 19, 1863. That part was indeed an important one and the sturdy stand of the regiment was paid for in fearful bloodshed. In that engagement the Thirteenth lost, in killed and wounded, only a trifle less than 50 per cent, and among the wounded was Col. Culver, who fought at the head of his command. In that battle and particularly around the command of the man who afterwards was twice mayor of Duluth, some of the most desperate fighting of the entire war took place. Col. Culver was mustered out of the service as colonel on July 25, 1865.

Col. Culver went from Duluth to the war, going from here to his former home state, Michigan. He had settled in Duluth in 1856, and was not only one of the first residents of Duluth, but one of the first settlers at the Head of the Lakes. During his life here no citizen was more widely known or more deeply respected than he. In business he was one of the leaders and socially was prominent. He occupied a commanding position politically. He was Duluth's first mayor, and after the lapse of years was again elected to that office, and was its occupant at the time of his death, July 17, 1883. Whether in or out of office, Col. Culver always took a keen interest in the affairs of the city and took a leading part in its affairs. He was also one of the most prominent Masons in Duluth. Col. Culver was a native of Amenia, N. Y., where he was born on Sept. 12, 1830.

MEMORIAL DAY ORATION

Text of Address Delivered By Rev. W. F. Hovis to Grand Army Veterans at the Auditorium.

The Memorial day address of Rev. W. F. Hovis at the Auditorium was as follows:

"There has never been a time since the beginning of tribal and national life when the world has been without soldiers. Every national has its list of illustrious names among which its warriors are written high. The path of progress has been a path of blood. Principles have been established and truth has triumphed through the sacrificial offering of men who have laid their lives on the altar of national well-being. The soldier has been a necessity. His office is born in the ignorance and injustice of men. As long as there is a Pilate to raise the question, 'What is truth?' men will disagree, and sometimes fight.

"The bloody-handed, criminal, corrupt, powerful Napoleon who held France in the midst of a tremendous whirlwind of conflict for many years said, 'War is the business of barbarians.' Our own illustrious Grant, whose fame will live while time shall last, once declared, 'Although a soldier by profession, I have never felt any sort of fondness for war, and I have never advocated it except as a means of peace.' Wellington, victor at Waterloo, asserts, 'Take my word for it, if you had seen one day of war, you would pray to Almighty God that you might never see such a thing again. The next dreadful thing to a battle lost is a battle won.' The German proverb which represents the crystallized sentiment of national experience avers, 'A great war leaves the country with three armies—an army of cripples, an army of mourners and an army of thieves.' We feel like crying out with Shakespeare, 'O war! thou son of hell, whom angry heavens do make their minister, to throw hot coals of vengeance!' We loathe the thought of thee, and yet we face the fact that there have been times when war was the only price which men could pay for peace.

"When all God's good principles of eternal right shall have been duly tested, and men and nations shall have become purified and refined, then shall dawn the days of which the prophets dreamed when wars and rumors of wars shall cease to be; when men shall beat their swords and spears into plowshares and pruning hooks, and the world will reach the state which the English poet saw when he sang:

"'Till the war drum throbbed no longer and the battle flags were furled
In the parliament of man, the federation of the world.'

"But until that time the work of the soldier must not be underestimated.

The True Soldier.

"The true soldier must always be loyal to the principles which call his valor into action. He fights because he must. He is driven by the divine compulsion of right. Spoils and strategy for the sake of plunder or national self-aggrandisement are beneath the honor of any patriotic citizen and stamp the mark of barbarity on any nation. Nothing short of the conviction of the necessity of the defense of virtue should justify the business of the soldier. But when our ark of the covenant is assailed, there is not a man of us whose blood runs red who would not "'Strike till the last armed foe expires;

Strike for his altars and his sires,
God and his native land.'

"The mission of the true soldier has always been to defend a worthy cause. The monument at the pass of Thermopylae bore the inscription, 'Go, stranger, and tell at Lacedaemon that we died for our country and in obedience to her laws.'

"Obedience, submission, courage, self-sacrifice and devotion are characteristics of every worthy warrior. He marches at the call of duty. There is no chance for argument. He only must obey.

"'Theirs not to make reply
Theirs not to reason why
Theirs but to do and die.'

"In the year 1760 Louis XV sent an army into Germany to defend the rights of France. On the night of Oct. 15, a young officer, Chevalier d'Assas, was sent to reconnoiter. He advanced alone into the wood at some little distance from the men. Suddenly he found himself surrounded by a number of the enemy's soldiers. Their bayonets pricked his breast, while a voice whispered hoarsely in his ear, 'make but the slightest noise and you are a dead man!' In a moment he understood the situation. The enemy were advancing to surprise the French camp. Quick as a flash he called out as loudly as his voice could shout the words: 'Here Auvergne! Here are the enemy!' The words decided his fate. He was at once cut down. But his death had save the army. The surprise failed and the enemy retreated.

The Right Side.

"We honor the soldier who fulfills what he feels to be his mission whether he wins or loses. On a great issue like that which threatened to wreck our land in 1860 there could be but one side right. There is only one right side to every issue. But such is the blindness of men's eyes that they are not always able to discern between good and evil and so like Saul of Tarsus 'ignorantly in unbelief' sometimes persecute the cause for which afterward they would gladly die. In the Spanish-American war the sons of the men who wore the gray were as loyal to our flag as the sons of the men who wore the blue. The spirit of 'charity toward all and malice toward none' is beautifully shown by the Georgia monument on the battlefield of Chickamauga, which bears this fine inscription, 'For those who fought and died; for those who fought and lived; for those who gave much and for those who gave all, Georgia erects this monument.'

The Blue and The Gray.

"We honor the blue and we honor the gray, though the gray went down with error and the blue survived with truth. The war was won and we are one. We weep o'er both graves today.

"'O the roses we plucked for the Blue,
And the lilies we twined for the Gray,
We have bound in a wreath,
And in silence beneath
Slumber our heroes today.

"'Over the new-turned sod
The sons of our fathers stand,
And the fierce old fight
Slips out of sight
In the clasp of a brother's hand.

"'For the old blood left a stain,
That the new has washed away,
and the sons of those
That have faced as foes
Are marching together today.

"'O, the blood that our fathers gave!
O, the tide of our mothers' tears!
And the flow of red
And the tears they shed
Embittered a sea of years.

"'But the roses we plucked for the Blue,
And the lilies we twined for the Gray,
We have bound in a wreath
And in glory beneath
Slumber our heroes today.'

"We bow beside the mounds of hallowed dust and drop a tear this day. We lay fair blossoms on the grass-grown tombs and press the flag for which our heroes fought a little closer to our bosoms. Ah! many are the hearts that are weeping today! Not all o'er soldier's graves! It is fitting that we pause to lay a flower on all the spots where sleep the ones 'We loved long since and lost awhile.'

Keeping Flag Clean.

"The only way that we can rightly honor our patriotic dead is to put upon their graves the flower of a true and beautiful life. The enormous cost of blood and gold was not ill-spent if we keep the white of their flag and ours as pure as a babe's baptismal frock, its red as bright as the crimson blod that flowed on Calvary's hill, and its blue as chaste and clean as the azure dome all set with blazing stars of light. But if our lives shall drag those colors in the dust until the red, the white, the blue be stained with filth, the perfume of our flowers will turn to stench and all our blossoms wilt like blackened weeds.

"Members of the Grand Army of the Republic hear me! We can have a 'grand army' only when the ranks are

WE STAND UNCOVERED

The blue—the gray—
Let them pass by today.
Their silver hairs across their temples flow,
Their forms are bowed,
Their steps are growing slow.

Many the years have fled
And swiftly have they sped
Since to the stirring roll
Of drum and stern commands
They grasped the steel of war
With patriot hands.

We stand uncovered.
They have fought the fight
Well, as they saw the right.
Their thinning, wavering ranks
In life's retreat
Receive a Nation's thanks.

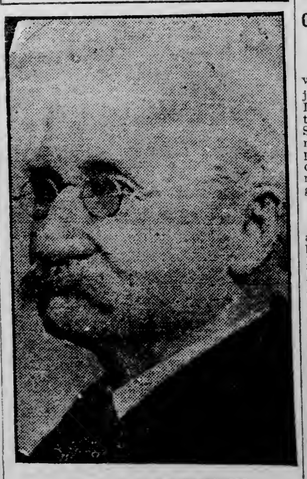
OLDEST VETERAN LIVING IN DULUTH



JOHN G. RAKOWSKY.

Woman's Realm

Lacking $2,000 of the $8,000 needed for the yearly expenditures of the Y. W. C. A. the women of the board and committees of that association are resting today in their campaign for funds. During the first four days of this week about $6,000 has been pledged by the business men of the city and the women who have been soliciting the donations claim that everywhere they have been most courteously received and the donors have been generous.

"We have missed many of the men who give us help every year and others have kept their cards to send in, so we hope to raise the $2,000 tomorrow," said Mrs. F. H. White, chairman of the finance committee, this morning in speaking of the work.

More than $8,000 was raised last year at the first financial campaign held here for the purpose of raising just the running expenses for the institution and by receiving the donations at one time the board knows what it has to do with for the year and can go ahead with the work planned with an assurance that the funds will be forthcoming. The plan was adopted after last year's success as an annual means of securing the yearly funds.

The women will make a big effort tomorrow and will be out in full force to raise the remaining $2,000.

BISHOP'S REMEDY.

"Keep Your Own Doorsteps Clean," He Says.

"Keep the ten commandments and keep your own doorsteps clean. That is my remedy for reforming the world," said Bishop McGolrick last evening in his talk, "What's Wrong With the World," at the May day festival given by the girls of the Blessed Virgin sodality at the Cathedral hall. "If everyone in Duluth would sweep his own doorsteps, we could clean up the city."

The other numbers on the program were a piano solo by Mrs. Dora Williams, vocal solos by J. E. Coates and Mrs. Jane Everington Scully, readings by Miss Anne Toben and Miss Mary Hart and a violin solo by Edward Dillon.

Miss Theresa Long, president of the sodality; Miss Margaret Fogerty and Miss Catherine Mackey were in charge assisted by Misses Elizabeth O'Connor, Christine Quigley, Nan Holland, Margaret Le Roux, Mary McDonald, Mary Lydon, Mary Maloney, Cecil Boyle, Anna Lynott, Mae Brown, Nell Sullivan, Eva McNamara, Katherine Wickham, Clara Stark, Esther Driscoll, Katherine O'Connell, Beatrice Brophy and Anna McDonald.

The refreshment tables were decorated with red and white carnations and red candles. Miss Theresa Lynn arranged the program.

PROGRESSIVE DINNER.

Hostess to Normal Eighth Grade.

Miss Beatrice Spengler entertained her classmates of the eighth grade at the Normal school at a progressive dinner party last evening at her home, 2019 East First street. Ground pine and marigold were used in decorating carrying out the Normal colors of green and white and two of the guests served one course in quaint little costumes. The other members of the class who were her guests are:

Misses—
Katheryn Abbott, Catherine MacGregor, Margaret Green, Cordelia Collins, Mary Baldwin.

Masters—
Carl Gebauer, Robert Finkenstadt, Hamilton Phelps, Edwin Skinner, Galen Pearson, Robert Congdon.

School Cantata.

"The Enchanted Wood," a pretty little operetta, will be sung this evening at the Nettleton school by children under the direction of Miss Isabel McLean. The cast follows: Characters—"Fairy Queen," Ellen Wipson; "Mother Goose," Wilma Ekroot; "Schoolteacher," Edna Hedtke; "Miss Muffit," Allee Thompson; "Mistress Mary," Belle Nelson; "Bo-Peep," Alma Halseth; "Simple Simon," Axel Johnson; "Boy Blue," Leo Benson; "Jack Horner," Edward Evans; boy police, John Johnson and Oscar Flotten; fairies, Stella Howalt, Goldie Levine, Mildred Gaskill, Gladys Pierce, Annie Ekholm, Edna Scott, Elsie Schramm, Bessie Harris, Alva Boody, Lilliam Anderson and Esther Johnson; accompanists, Elsie Mapp and Morris Lavick.

Scene 1 is laid on a country road; scene 2 is in the enchanted wood; scene 3 is back on the country road.

Guests of Mrs. McGonagle.

Miss Frances Crittenden and Miss Clara I. Taylor of Minneapolis, who are in Duluth assisting with the finance campaign of the Y. W. C. A. are guests today of Mrs. W. A. McGonagle at her home at Hunter's Park.

Newcomb-Nicol.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter D. Newcomb of 521 East Third street have issued invitations for the wedding of their daughter, Miss Florence, to John Edward Nicol of Regina, Sask., Can. The event will take place at their home Wednesday, June 18, at 8 p. m., only relatives and a few intimate friends being invited. Mr. Nicol and his bride will make their home in the Canadian city.

Magbiah Club.

The Magbiah club will hold a short business meeting at 2:15 o'clock Sunday afternoon at Foresters' hall, Fourth avenue west and First street followed by a program and social hour at 3 o'clock. Mrs. Mose Cook will be the speaker for the afternoon and there will be a piano solo by Miss Lurline Karon, a vocal solo by Mrs. Jane Everington Scully accompanied by Mrs. S. Goldberg and a reading by Miss Stella Seligman of Superior.

Senior Farewell.

Several hundred students of the Central high school and their friends danced at the senior farewell party given last evening at the school building. Chaperoning the young people were: Mr. and Mrs. W. S. McDonat, Mr. and Mrs. James Taylor, Mrs. H. D. Final, Mrs. Clapp, Miss Agnes Wells, Miss Mary Goodhue, Miss Addie Smith and T. F. Phillips. The committee of seniors in charge included Misses Mildred Miller, Polly Peck, Mabel Neimeyer, Rhobie Sargent, and Kenneth Harris, William Elder, Arthur Wasgat, Lawrence Dow and Stanley Grogan.

For Visitor.

Mrs. C. Beuglet of 1220 East Second street has invited guests to a luncheon next Tuesday at her home in honor of her sister, Mrs. James Marentette, of Detroit, Mich.

Theater and Supper.

Mrs. Alexander Clifford of Ogdenburg, N. Y., who is visiting Mrs. Clifford of 1917 East First street, will entertain at a theater party of eight tomorrow evening at the Lyceum followed by a supper at the Spalding hotel.

Bridge Luncheon.

Mrs. Albert Ouelette of 317 North Sixteenth avenue east entertained at a bridge luncheon yesterday at her home. The luncheon was served at the five card tables, baskets of lilacs and pansies being used as centerpieces and the favors were won by Mrs. A. J. McCulloch, Mrs. H. R. Armstrong and Mrs. F. J. Ober.

"Knights" Meet.

Miss Jean Poirier entertained the Knights of the Round Table last evening at her home, 2128 East Second street. There were sixteen boys present and they decided to ask the school board to provide a gymnasium for the Adam's school, where most of the members study. Miss Lena Fleer, the former director of the Boys' Club of Duluth, was also a guest at the meeting.

A committee was appointed consisting of James Anderson, George Hedeen and Lawrence Olson to arrange an all-day picnic at Pike Lake as soon as school closes.

Warner-Lovett.

Invitations have been received here the wedding of Miss Ruth Warner of Hudson, Wis., and Carl Lovett, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Lovett of 1732 East Third street, which will take place at the bride's home town on Wednesday, June 11 at 7 p. m., followed by a reception.

Mr. and Mrs. Lovett, Mrs. H. R. Burgo and Miss Ella Rowe of this city will go down to the wedding.

Week-End Parties.

Week-end parties have taken a large number of people to Solon Springs, Deerwood, the Brule and other nearby places for outings. The Spirit Lake branch of the Boat club, Island Lake Inn and cottages at Fond du Lac and cabins near the city, were the goal of all-day parties and many picnic parties were planned for the Point and the parks.

Duluth Visitors.

Mrs. O. T. Higgins and two daughters, Catherine and Lucia, their governess, Mrs. Mary Bennett and their maid are guests in Duluth for a short time and they have taken a suite at the Spalding hotel. Mrs. Higgins is the wife of the late O. T. Higgins of Redlands, Cal., who was the son of former Governor Frank Higgins of New York.

Luncheon at School.

The girls of the eighth grade of the Nettleton school served a dainty luncheon to the principal, Mrs. Lillian M. Downs, and the teachers of the building yesterday afternoon. The table decorations were in yellow and white and covers were laid for twelve. The luncheon was prepared by the students and was well served.

Engagement.

The engagement is announced of Miss Ella Thompson of this city to T. F. Dixon of Spokane, Wash. The wedding will take place early in June.

Dancing Party.

The Loseau club entertained at a dancing party last evening at the Oatka branch of the boat club. About seventy young people were present and Di Marco's orchestra played the program for the dancers.

Dinner Party.

Miss Claudia Cox entertained at a dinner party last evening at her home, in compliment to Miss Nathalie Craig and George Trelford, whose wedding will take place early in July. Covers were laid for ten at a daintily appointed table.

Personal Mention.

Louis and Helen Hoople of Minneapolis are spending the week end with their grandmother and aunt, Mrs. and Miss Meining of 217 Second avenue east.

• • •

Mrs. Roger S. Powell and son, Miss Harriet Shannon, Miss Addie Smith and Miss Helen Smith are spending a few days at Solon Springs.

Howard McLean will return tomorrow from California. John McLean left last week to meet Mrs. McLean in California and they will visit for a few weeks on their way home. They are expected about June 15.

Miss Mabel Fulton of 111 Park Terrace is visiting friends in Minneapolis until Monday.

Miss Alice M. Olson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Olson of 523 East Fifth street returned yesterday from the American Conservatory of Music at Chicago where she has been studying.

• • •

Mrs. James Stewart of California and Mrs. Dale of Delaware are guests of Mrs. J. F. Gordon of 1215 East Fourth street for a short time.

Miss Edith Kelly of 606 East Second street is home from Baltimore where she is attending Notre Dame and she will leave with her father, M. H. Kelly, to attend the commencement exercises of her brother, Charles Kelly at Yale, June 16.

Chalmers Agnew, son of W. C. Agnew of 1925 East First street has returned from the Columbia School of Architecture at New York and will spend the summer with his parents.

• • •

Mrs. N. J. Upham of 1531 Jefferson street, Roger Woodbridge and Miss Dorothy Peck left today on a freighter for a trip down the lakes. They will go to Boston to meet Miss Lydia Woodbridge and Miss Helen Upham who are studying at Simmons college and the party will return by water.

• • •

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Trempe have returned from Welland, Ont., where they went a few weeks ago, called by the serious illness of Mrs. Trempe's father, John W. Moore. Mr. Moore's life was despaired of for a time, but he is now on the road to recovery, it is believed.

ANOTHER PRIMA DONNA WITH TEMPERAMENT

EMMA TRENTINI.

That vest-pocket prima donna, Emma Trentini, has sailed for Europe for the summer. She has been singing in light opera for some years and has been very successful but like the prima donna of the larger operatic stage she has developed a great deal of "temperament" at times in the past season and it is said her manager has had great difficulty at times in persuading her to appear. An understudy took her part frequently while her company was in New York. Trentini has been spoiled by the American people. It is reported she will sing in opera abroad this summer.

GRAND LODGE I. O. O. F.

Fargo Will Entertain Three Linkers and Sister Organization.

Fargo, N. D., May 30.—(Special to The Herald.)—Fargo will entertain the grand lodge of the Odd Fellows and the Rebekahs, June 3, 4 and 5. The number of lodges in the state has greatly increased during the past few months as a result of the activity of the organizers during the winter. Some of the supreme lodge officers and prominent speakers from other states will be in attendance at the grand lodge sessions.

OBSERVATIONS

By PEGGY PEABODY

Where Does Blame for the Social Evil Rest?

I read a few days ago where some speaker who was supposed to speak with a degree of authority, declared that men's immorality was solely responsible for the social evil, and that the latter would never cease until the former did.

It seems to me that, to say the least, he is making it rather strong. There is no doubt that the wickedness of men is responsible, directly, in a large degree for this terrible disease which almost threatens the foundations of the nation's life. But what is responsible for the immorality of men? Are men—and when I speak of men I do not mean ALL men, for I am not one of those who believe, as I have heard some women declare, that all men are alike in this matter—immoral because they want to be? Or have they a primal instinct to fight?

Some men are undoubtedly abandoned, unmoral, immoral and almost devoid of a sense of honor or decency. They, however, are rare. The great majority of men are honorable, if not virtuous.

No, the responsibility for this terrible thing does not rest alone upon the shoulders of the men. Women—and by this I mean not merely the women of the underworld or the demi-monde—but good women, have their share of responsibility to face.

Some of them, as I have said before in this column, go to immodest extremes in dress. They are good women, but they are slaves of fashion, and they forget their responsibility, nor seem to realize the influence which their action may exert upon men, and upon younger women. Other good women, mothers many of them who perhaps scorn these immodesties in dress, and shun them religiously and conscientiously, yet neglect to teach their sons and daughters the things they should know in order to prepare them for the sexual pitfalls which they must sooner or later face.

It is time for us women to become more consistent—to discard the immodesties which characterize our dress, and put behind us some of the prudishness which characterizes our conduct. In order that this great question shall be solved, there must be light, and the responsibility must be assumed by those who, while meaning well, reck not what they are doing.

MONUMENT TO MAINE HEROES IS UNVEILED

the Hudson, the placing of wreaths on the monument in behalf of President Wilson, the state of Maine, the state of New York, the city of New York, the Cuban government and one by Rear Admiral Sigsbee, who, as a captain was in command of the Maine when she sank, comprised, aside from the speeches the chief features of the unveiling ceremonies. The speakers' program called for addresses by Mr. Taft, Secretary Daniels, Governor Sulzer, Rear Admiral Sigsbee and others.

In addition to the unveiling of the Maine monument there were held on this Memorial day the usual exercises at Grant's tomb the Grand Army of the Republic parade and the workhorse parade.

Is Work of Italian.

The monument is the work of Attilio Piccirilli, an Italian sculptor. The central figure is a pylon 18½ feet by 21 and 40 feet high, with panels on its four faces. It is flanked by two colossal figures representing the Atlantic and Pacific oceans. At the foot of the shaft, facing Columbus circle, is a group representing "Courage Awaiting Peace: Fortitude Supporting the Feeble." Above is the inscription:

"To the valiant seamen who perished in the Maine—by fate unwarned, in death unafraid."

On the opposite face is a corresponding group representing. "Justice, who, having entrusted her sword to the genius of war to execute her mandates, receives it again while history records its deeds." Over this group is the inscription:

"To the free men who died in the war with Spain that others might be free."

Decorate the Graves.

Washington, May 30.—Veterans of the historic strife of the '60's and the younger men who engaged in the war with Spain joined today in paying tribute to the warrior dead of the nation. Arlington cemetery, a national resting place of the soldier and sailor dead, was the objective point of the thousands, veterans and civilians alike, although a score of historic graveyards in and about Washington claimed the reverence and homage of hundreds of others.

The principal ceremonies were at Arlington, in which a considerable force of the regular army from Fort Myer took part.

One of the most impressive services of the day was decoration of the graves of the "unknown dead."

Nearly a score of government officials and members of congress made speeches. From early morning squads and battalions of marching veterans, sons of veterans and patriotic societies occupied the wide avenues of the capital, laden with flowers and flags, while a flower-filled boat was launched on the Potomac river as a tribute to those who lost their lives on the sea.

The regular cabinet meeting at the White House was called off because of the holiday, and President Wilson arranged to take a motor trip into Virginia. Many of the cabinet officers had left town.

Secretary Bryan accepted an invitation to attend the Memorial exercises at Arlington National cemetery. He did not prepare a speech.

Blue and Gray Unite.

Boston, Mass., May 30.—Confederate and Union veterans of the Civil war paid tribute in Boston today to the soldier and sailor dead. Members of the Old Guard of Atlanta, guests of the E. W. Kinsley post, No. 113, G. A. R., participated in the Memorial day exercises at the state house, on Boston common and in Tremont temple.

Came From Minnesota.

Grafton, N. D., May 30.—(Special to The Herald.)—Officials believe they have identified the man burned to death in a recent fire at Cashel as John Danielson, a young man residing on the Minnesota side of the Red river, across from Drayton, N. D. Photographs have been sent to George Richards, a Northern Pacific auditor who saw Danielson on a train the evening of the night he died to complete the identification.

DULUTH REMINDS HIM OF LONDON

Duluth was strongly reminiscent of London to H. D. Nugent, British consul general at Chicago, yesterday. Mr. Nugent, who is at the Spalding, made a trip over the boulevard with Vice Consul Henry Taylor of Duluth. The air was foggy and as the city lay in the haze, Mr. Nugent remarked on the similarity of the fog to those for which London is noted.

Mr. Nugent is accompanied by his son, who has just completed a course at Harrow school in England. He is now preparing to enter Oxford. The visiting consul and his son were also taken to the steel plant yesterday by Mr. Taylor.

FIVE OF FUNERAL PARTY INJURED.

St. Paul, Minn., May 30.—Five persons were injured, two of them probably fatally, when the carriage in which they were returning from a funeral was struck by a Soo line passenger train at a crossing late yesterday.

Mrs. Thorse Johnson, aged 50, and Mrs. A. E. Ross, aged 29, sustained injuries that probably will result in death, while A. E. Ross and Miss Beatrice Ross also were seriously hurt.

James Tucker, driver of the carriage, failed to hear the whistle of the approaching train. His injuries were not serious. The carriage was demolished.

Specify the BEST Double Action—
GAS RANGE
For Your New Home or Flat.

One of the Many Styles We Show

The First and Only Real Improvement in Gas Range Construction in Ten Years.

By all means see it before placing an order elsewhere for a Gas Range of any size.

Demonstration & Baking Test for Several Days, Starting Tuesday, June 3rd. Be Sure to Come. Watch Our Windows.

Two of the Many Reasons Why You Should Investigate:

No other gas range heats its oven as does the Double Action.

No other gas range broils as does the Double Action.

The Double Action gas range is constructed on an entirely new principle and is different from all other gas ranges made. The Double Action gas range uses the heat in the oven twice, and is the only oven in the world that does. The Double Action Gas Range has only two rows of fire in the oven where all others have three or four which means that the Double Action oven uses from 33 1-3 to 50 per cent less gas.

Don't Hide Them With a Veil; Remove Them With the Othine Prescription

This prescription for the removal of freckles was written by a prominent physician and is usually so successful in removing freckles and giving a clear, beautiful complexion that it is sold by Boyce drug store under an absolute guarantee to refund the money if it fails.

Don't hide your freckles under a veil; get an ounce of othine and remove them. Even the first few applications should show a wonderful improvement, some of the lighter freckles vanishing entirely.

Be sure to ask the druggist for the double strength othine; it is this that is sold on the money-back guarantee.

TEACHER IS BEING HELD

North Dakota Row Over Threshing Bill Results in Shooting.

Wounded Man Drives to Farmhouse Near Washburn for Help.

Washburn, N. D., May 30.—(Special to The Herald.)—Charged with shooting Ernest Krisell, Russell Whiteshell, a school teacher, is under arrest here.

Whiteshell and Krisell quarreled on a highway near Douglas over a grain-threshing bill and during the height of the quarrel Whiteshell is charged with drawing a revolver and shooting Krisell.

Krisell was able to drive to a nearby farmhouse for help and Whiteshell surrendered.

FOUR BLOODED CALVES BORN

Crookston, Minn., May 30.—(Special to The Herald.)—Supt. Selvig of the Northwest experiment station here, announces four births at the state farm here the past two days which are of $500 net value to the state, four calves having arrived from record thoroughbred cows. The noted arrivals are as follows: Northwest Chippewa Johanna Burke, a pure-bred Holstein bull calf, out of Chippewa Plebe Burke, with a butter record last year of 502 pounds; Northwest Hello Pearl Duchess, pure-bred Holstein bull calf, out of Crookston Pearl, with a butter record last year of 426 pounds; Northwest Smith's Pet, pure-bred Hereford heifer, out of Minnesota state fair champion senior yearling, Pets Plum; Northwest Johanna's Tomalind, a grade short-horn heifer calf, out of Tomalind, with a butter record of 401 pounds last year. One calf has already been sold for $125 and the balance will bring equally as high prices.

JARDINE, MONT., GOLD MINES CHANGE HANDS.

Livingston, Mont., May 30.—William R. H. Hutchings of Chicago has purchased all the claims, machinery, real estate and personal property of the Kimberly Montana Gold Mining company of Jardine, Mont. The property was bought at sheriff's sale for $65,000. These gold mines were at one time accounted among the richest in Montana. They were closed several years ago. The Chicago man's representatives state that the mines will be reopened as soon as possible.

Moorhead Has $30,000 Fire.

Moorhead, Minn., May 30.—Fire yesterday destroyed the Hamm Brewing company's brick block in which were the saloons of Rustad & Rustad, John Berg, Anton Larson, Ed Smith, Akeson & Peterson and Lund's pool hall. All were total losses, and corrected figures show that the building was worth $30,000 and that the insurance carried in local agencies amounted to $11,000, a balance of $20,000 being carried in an agency in St. Paul.

RESINOL QUICKLY HEALS DISFIGURING SKIN ERUPTIONS

Pimples, blackheads, rashes, ringworm and, worst of all, that red, itching, scaly torment, eczema, vanish when you use Resinol Ointment and Resinol Soap. Even though your skin is so unsightly with eruption that you shun your friends and your friends shun you, Resinol is almost sure to make it clear and healthy, quickly, easily and at trifling cost. When you are tired of wasting time and money on tedious expensive treatments, get Resinol Ointment and Resinol Soap from the nearest druggist and you will quickly see why it has been prescribed for eighteen years for just such troubles as yours.

The Resinol treatment works so gently, and is so absolutely free from anything that could injure even the tenderest skin, that it is especially valuable for healing the skin troubles of infants and children. You can test Resinol Ointment and Resinol Soap at our expense. Write to Dept. 28-S, Resinol, Baltimore, Md., and we will send you a generous trial.

WILL INSPECT GRAIN FIELDS

Fargo, N. D., May 30.—(Special to The Herald.)—Inspection of the grain fields is a new service offered the farmers of North Dakota by State Pure Seed Commissioner Bolley of the North Dakota agricultural college. Whenever a group of farmers from any section of the state will petition for it, an expert will be sent to examine the growing crops, to determine how much of other grains, or weeds or diseases are evident. Especial attention will be devoted to the wilt resistant flax. It is thought the farmers of the state will avail themselves of the service and in this way better seed grain can be procured.

FERTILE EXCITED.

Town People Find Evidences of Attempted Bank Robbery.

Crookston, Minn., May 30.—(Special to The Herald.)—Residents of Fertile are excited over the discovery in a slough of a package wrapped up in an overcoat consisting of soap, tar, fine wire, nitroglycerine, two small and one large clock, some white powder the nature of which is not known, and a heavy iron bar.

Mrs. Hans Gullickson saw a man with a pack go to the slough three miles north of Fertile Wednesday afternoon, and shortly afterwards return without it, and later ride to Fertile with Ole Kaste. Orton Gullickson and Herman Siddy, two boys, searched for the pack and found the list given above. Others saw it. At 6:30 yesterday morning it was gone and so was the stranger who disappeared from Fertile. The stranger was past middle age, wore a small mustache, had a slight limp, was dark complexioned and wore habby clothes. He was of medium size. That a bank robbery has been planned in this section is considered certain.

A terrific rain, hail and wind storm swept over this community for two days and the property loss will reach several thousand dollars.

The roof of the telephone exchange building was blown away, wires and poles are down and cellars are flooded. The heavy fall of rain is said to have caused a big loss to crops.

TRICKS DOCTOR TO SAVE HIM

J. D. Byrne, a San Francisco business man, for a long time president of the California Fig Products Co., heard that a friend, a young physician, was fading under a hard case of Bright's Disease. The doctor becoming thoroughly discouraged, Byrne induced him to consent to use something he would take to him.

Byrne went to the nearest drug store, bought a bottle of Fulton's Renal Compound, soaked the label off and took it to the patient. He began to mend and Byrne got him another bottle and still another.

When recovery was in sight he was told it was Fulton's Renal Compound. And this is not the first case of this kind. A number of cases have been reported in which the patients were so certain nothing could be done that they too had to be deceived to put them in the way of recovery.

There is no escape whatever from the fact that Bright's Disease is being cured by Fulton's Renal Compound. If you have Bright's Disease you owe it to yourself and family to try Fulton's Renal Compound before giving up.

Druggists supplied by Leithhead Drug Co.

Ask for pamphlet on our investigation into the curability of Bright's Disease or write John J. Fulton Co., San Francisco.

HERDING THE SPORTING SHEEP AND GOATS INTO THE DOPE CORRAL, AS SEEN BY BRUCE

FOR the past few years the followers of baseball have been predicting the slump of Christy Mathewson. The spring that has passed—not speaking of this section of the country, understand—has been no exception to this habit. And yet when we come to inspect the facts in the case it will be observed that it is this wonderful veteran who has kept the Giants in the hunt.

Aside from the running start of last year, which brought to the eager attention of the fans over the length and breadth of the country the wonderful performance of Rube Marquardt, it has been the steady and persistent effectiveness of Mathewson that has proved the greatest asset of the Giants.

Remember the prophecies of last winter. Tesreau and to a less extent Demaree, were heralded as the promising pitchers who would give the Giants the advantage over most of their opponents in the box. Tesreau has done next to nothing in the race to date, and Demaree is yet to show that he ranks with some of the greatest of the stars. Mathewson seems more effective at the present time than he has been in several early summers past.

McGraw bears the reputation of a manager who will go further for his ball players than any pilot in the majors; and there is reason, and that in plenty, why this Napoleon of baseball, so called, should be willing to keep the great Mathewson on the pay roll of the Giants after his arm has ceased to stand the strain of ceaseless campaigns.

It is the brain of the great New York pitcher as much as the cunning of his arm that makes him today one of the most resourceful of all hill laborers. After his arm has gone Mathewson is bound to prove an able and valuable lieutenant to the Giants.

Each spring the world has heralded the advent of some budding star to usurp the crown of Christy Mathewson in the hearts of the rooters of Gotham, and yet with the scroll of 1913 season well unrolled we have failed to discover the man who is to supplant the mighty Mathewson.

WHILE on the subject of pitchers it might be said, looking at the situation through glasses levelled from this distance, that the pennant in the American league is going to depend upon some excellent and effective heaving.

Mack has Plank and Bender to steady the others of his staff. It is doubtful if Coombs will be of use during the present campaign. But if Plank and Bender are as good throughout the season as they showed the other day against Washington, it looks at this angle of the race as if the Athletics are the best yet.

The wise and angular leader of the Athletics must have the services of these two great veterans to balance and make effective the remainder of his hurling brigade. If Bender and Plank are to be depended upon in the strenuous struggle, when the lamps of the batters are glowing at their brightest, it is something not much worse than an even bet to take the Athletics against the field.

Falkenberg is one of the greatest factors of the success of the Cleveland team. So far he has kept the Forest City aggregation in the race. Mitchell, Gregg and Blanding are expected to do their share of the labor of the knoll, and if they fulfill expectations, then it looks as if the early rush of the Naps will be hard to withstand.

We have got to the stage of affairs where we expect Walter Johnson to forever win. We gasp when he is defeated. But one pitcher can hardly win the pennant for a team in the American league. Even Ed Walsh has failed to perform this prodigious feat—and he is about the nearest thing to a horse that we have in baseball at the present time.

In the case of pitchers both Philadelphia and Cleveland look to be better fortified than the Washington bunch. Boston even is strong in the box and has better hitting to relieve the strain of its pitchers.

Last year Washington made a grand race for the flag with a light hitting team; and yet if the pitchers of Boston, Cleveland and the Athletics keep up throughout the season as some of the admirers of these teams seem to predict at the present time, it is rather difficult to figure out the winning of the cherished gonfalon by the scrappy and speedy base running team of the National capital.

HIS royal nibs Darby O'Brien has four pitchers who are showing some great form at the present setting of the pennant race in this league of ours. Brackett, Woods, Blancke and Rhoades appear to have hit the fullness of their effectiveness.

Johnson has failed to show anything since the first of the season. If Toliffe doesn't show something in the near future it may be that some action will be taken in his case.

Under the present salary limit of the Northern league no team can afford to carry more than four twirlers, and it will become a matter of the survival of the fittest.

Johnson may round into form and become a winning pitcher; and if he does then the scramble for permanent berths on the staff will prove a merry one.

RECRUIT WINS FROM COMSTOCK

Winona Defeats Bronks 4 to 3 With Country Pitcher in Box.

Winona, Minn., May 30.—Thoraason, a pitcher secured from the semi-professional team of Blair, Wis., yesterday made his debut with the Giants and held the Minneapolis team to three hits in thirteen innings, in an exhibition game. After Corbett had been bumped in the first round the recruit went to the knoll and pitched some phenomenal baseball, having the better of Ralph Comstock, the star of the visitors and regarded as the premier pitcher of the Northern league. The youngster is a southpaw and he showed everything, though yesterday marked his first professional appearance. But one run was secured from the delivery of the youngster and errors assisted the visitors in the scoring of this. Comstock was hit hard but tightened when hits meant runs. A single and a double in the final round scored the winning run for the Giants. Score: R. H. E.

Longest Home Run.

Pittsburg, Pa., May 30.—Hyatt's home run over the right field fence, the longest in the history of Forbes field, resulted in two runs in the ninth inning yesterday and tied the score. A single by Byrne, a double by Hymon, a base on balls to Miller and Booe's long fly gave the Pirates the winning run. Humphreys had pitched nice ball until the ninth, when Wagner's single as a starter was followed by Hyatt's circuit smash. Robinson was wild and after Chicago had bunched hits and bases on balls for four runs in the sixth, O'Toole took his place. After pitching the seventh, O'Toole retired in that inning to allow Manager Fred Clark to bat for him. It was Clark's first appearance in a championship game since his retirement in the fall of 1911. Zimmerman gathered in his high foul with runners on third and second for the third out. Ferry then held the Cubs runless for two innings. Leach's triple drove in two of Chicago's runs in the sixth and scored a moment later when Bridwell singled. An error by Wagner gave them their other run. Phelan's error and Yoe's double scored Booe in the first inning. Wilson's double and Byrne's single gave the Pirates another run in the second. Score: R. H. E.

Winning Streak Broken.

New York, May 30.—The New Yorks broke Philadelphia's winning streak yesterday, the locals winning an exciting fourteen-inning game, 7 to 6. Fletcher's long hit over Magee's head in the fourteenth drove in Shafer with the winning run. Shafer had singled with one out. These were the only hits made off Seaton who pitched the last six innings for Philadelphia. The defeat was Seaton's first this season, the score being a tie when he went in. The Philadelphias threw away many chances in the early innings by reckless base running, apparently thinking they had the game won. However, the Giants reduced a three-run lead when Meyers hit a home run in the seventh and McCormick drove in the tieing runs with a double in the eighth.

McGraw used seventeen players, including five pitchers, one used as a pinch runner. McGraw and Snodgrass were both put off the field in the eleventh for protesting a decision. R. H. E.

Reds Win Opener.

St. Louis, May 30.—Cincinnati won the opening game with St. Louis, 13 to 10. The home team used four pitchers, the visitors three, and all were hit freely and were inclined to be wild. Johnson relieved Packard for Cincinnati in the fourth with the bases filled. He walked one, struck out one, allowed one hit and then forced the side out on a double play. He was relieved by Brown in the seventh after being hit for three successive singles. Manager Huggins of the St. Louis team was ordered from the field for protesting Umpire Byron's decisions. R. H. Boston, May 30.—Rain stopped the Brooklyn-Boston game at the beginning of the third inning yesterday with the score, Boston 2; Brooklyn, 0. With Mann on first base, Devlin batted over the right field fence for a home run in the second inning. Two games will be played Saturday.

Sox Win in Tenth.

Chicago, May 30.—Chicago won the first game of the series with Detroit yesterday, 3 to 2, in ten innings. Manager Callahan, after one out in the tenth inning, called on his pinch hitter, Easterly, who, batting for Berger, drew a base on balls. Zeider, the fleet-footed utility infielder of the locals went in to run for Easterly and roached third on Lord's single, which Cobb fumbled momentarily, while Lord went to second. A moment later Zeider scored on a wild pitch. The locals were outhit by Detroit, but Russell, who appeared on the mound for the first time since he was hit by Pitcher Mitchell of the Cleveland club last Sunday, pitched the better ball in the pinches. The score: R. H. E.

Ninth Straight Victory.

Cleveland, Ohio, May 30.—Cleveland defeated St. Louis, 6 to 3, in the first game of the series here yesterday, making Falkenberg's ninth straight victory. He was rather wild. Twice he passed J. Johnson and filled the bases with two out and each time Williams struck out. The St. Louis players were delayed en route and went out on the field hungry. St. Louis scored two in the second when Falkenberg walked Pratt and Manager Stovall hit the first ball for a home run down the third base line. They scored another in the ninth when Thompson, batting for Alexander, hit a three-base hit and scored on Brief's infield out.

Cleveland batted Stone hard, getting four runs in the eighth on four singles, a base on balls and an error. The score: R. H. E.

Baker Knocks Homer.

Philadelphia, May 30.—Frank Baker hit the ball over the right field wall in yesterday's game with New York and tied the score with five runs. In the ninth, with two out, he doubled and scored on McInnis' single, which gave the Athletics a victory by 6 to 5. Brown pitched for the locals for four innings and was hit so hard it looked as though the Highlanders would walk off with the game, as Keating was keeping Philadelphia's hits well scattered. Bush relieved Brown in the fifth and the New Yorks secured only one hit during the balance of the game. The Athletics batted Keating freely in the last four innings. The score: R. H. E.

Champs Lose Out.

Washington, May 30.—Washington scored enough runs in the third inning off O'Brien yesterday to defeat Boston, the final score being 5 to 2. O'Brien was found in this inning for three singles which, with his error and two by Speaker, gave the Nationals three runs. Mullin, making his first appearance in a home game, was hit hard and was unsteady at times, but sensational catches by the outfield prevented scoring. Capt. McBride was banished from the game for protesting Speaker's steal of second in the eighth inning. The score: R. H. E.

FARGO GUN CLUB SHOOT.

Fargo, N. D., May 30.—(Special to The Herald.)—The annual tournament of the Gate City Gun club of Fargo will be held June 30 and July 1. The shoot here will follow immediately after the state tournaments for Minnesota and North Dakota at Crookston and Grand Forks, and it is expected the leading cracks who attend those meetings will participate. The cash prizes are $400 and the money will be divided on the "jack rabbit system." The interstate rules will govern.

Ball Player Injured.

Grafton, N. D., May 30.—(Special to The Herald.)—"Spike" Spanton, star member of the Grand Forks baseball club in the days of the old Northern league club, was seriously injured while playing ball here. The ball glanced from the bat and struck his right eye. Internal hemorrhages have resulted and physicians have been unable to determine how serious the injuries are.

Gessler to Join Brewers.

Kansas City, Mo., May 30.—Dr. Harry Gessler of Baltimore will join the Kansas City American association baseball team tomorrow at Milwaukee, Manager Carr has announced. Gessler is an outfielder. He was purchased by the local team from the Washington American league club two years ago, but he refused to play ball until he finished a course he was taking in a Baltimore college.

Easy for Princeton.

Princeton, N. J., May 30.—Princeton yesterday defeated Lafayette, 3 to 1, in a baseball game characterized by queer plays. The visitors put up one of the loosest games seen here this year.

TITLE CLAIMANT OF THE MIDDLEWEIGHTS

JACK DILLON.

THREE BOUTS ARE STAGED

Jack Dillon Easily Defeats Frank Klaus at Indianapolis.

Mike Gibbons Wins Bout Unmarked—Cross and Anderson Signed.

Indianapolis, Ind., May 30.—Jack Dillon of Indianapolis outboxed Frank Klaus of Pittsburg in a ten-round bout here last night. Klaus did not land over a dozen blows that counted. Klaus did not come near putting up the fight that he was expected to. Several times during the bout he hung on during the clinches and seemed to be waiting for his seconds to signal him what to do next. After the first five rounds, Dillon was the aggressor all of the time.

Both fighters appeared to be wary and the first five rounds were tame. They would spar a while and then clinch and stick there until Referee Dillon, who is no relation of the fighter, whose real name is Henry Price, would pull them apart.

The sixth round and all the remainder were Dillon's. Klaus tried out his famous chop blow in the sixth, but could not make it work. Dillon seemed to have perfected a guard which Klaus could not break down at infighting.

Dillon, in the eighth, cut the Pittsburger under the left eye with vicious shotarm jabs, bringing blood. The Hoosier staggered Klaus with a hard right swing in this round. In the ninth and tenth rounds, Dillon waded in and tried to end the bout, but couldn't get in a knockout blow. Klaus missed a hard swing in the ninth and Dillon came in with a right and left to face, which brought more blood.

After the fight Klaus patted Dillon on the head and shook hands, which they refused to do at the beginning of the bout. Both fighters weighed in under 160 pounds this afternoon.

In the preliminary, "Battling" Terry of Pittsburg knocked Eddie Webber down three times in the first round. The bell saved Webber in the second and the police stopped the bout in the third round.

The largest crowd that ever attended a fight here saw the bouts.

GIBBONS WINS EASILY.

St. Paul Fighter Unmarked in Clash With Pittsburg Boxer.

Pittsburg, Pa., May 30.—Mike Gibbons of St. Paul knocked out Jimmy Perry of Pittsburg in the second round of a six-round bout here last night. In the second round Gibbons dropped Perry for the count of nine with a hard right to the jaw. Gibbons put Perry down again for a count of six. Immediately afterward Gibbons put a left hook to the jaw and Perry went down and out.

Perry was carried to his corner. Gibbons went through the fight without a mark.

Wins on Foul.

Buffalo, N. Y., May 30.—Jimmy Duffy of Lockport won on a foul over Jack Britton of Chicago in the sixth round of a scheduled ten-round bout here last night.

Beats Monte Attell.

Salt Lake City, Utah, May 30.—Ad Zotto of Stockton, Cal., was given the decision over Monte Attell at the end of a twenty-round bout at Midvale last night. Both fighters weighed in at 118 pounds.

Bluhm Knocks Homer.

Louisville, Ky., May 30.—Toledo defeated Louisville yesterday in the first game of the series, which lasted ten innings, by the score of 10 to 7. George's support was ragged while the local pitchers were given excellent aid in the field. Bluhm's home run in the final inning, with two on bases, clinched matters for the visitors. Score: R. H. E.

Kaws Take Opener.

Kansas City, Mo., May 30.—"Cy" Morgan, working in major league style, held Milwaukee to six hits yesterday, and aided by heavy batting by his teammates, won a 6 to 4 game for Kansas City. It was Morgan's ninth victory out of ten games pitched.

The locals put across two runs in the second when Fiene drove a home run over the right field fence, scoring O'Connor before him. Corrin's double, with Downey on second, gave the locals another count in the third and in the fourth two additional runs were added on singles by Tannehill and Fiene and Downey's double. The fifth local run came in the seventh on doubles by Drake and O'Connor.

The visitors counted only in one inning—the sixth, on singles by Hughes and Lewis, two bases on balls and Clark's triple. Score: R. H. E.

One-Hit Game.

Minneapolis, Minn., May 30.—Burns allowed St. Paul only one hit yesterday and the local team took the visitors into camp, 3 to 0. Burns pitched one of the best games of his career, not allowing a pass. The only hit off him was made by Autrey in the second inning with one down. Karger also pitched fine ball, but Owens' timely single in the fourth scored two runs and the champions grabbed another in the eighth on an infield hit, sacrifice and infield out. The contest was played in 1 hour and 14 minutes, beating the time of 1 hour and 15 minutes, established in St. Paul the other day. The score: R. H. E.

NORTHERN LEAGUE RACE IS A VERY PRETTY ONE

Six Teams Are Running in Even Fashion and a Few Games May Change the Standing---Virginia and St. Paul Should Acquire Some New Material.

Particular interest is attached to the games scheduled for today in the Northern league from the very fact that results may bring about a change in the present standing of the clubs and bring the White Sox up to a tie for first honors.

Should Duluth win both games of the doubleheader scheduled for today and our rivals on the other side lose one of the games they have scheduled, or both, Minneapolis and Winona split the two games on tap for the city beautiful, the morrow's sun, if there is to be one, will witness the valiant Sox leading the procession.

A prettier or closer race than the one that is being run at the present time in the Northern league would be difficult to conceive of. A game will change the standing of the teams. Six of the eight teams are in the thick of the chase for the golden gonfalon—St. Paul and Virginia being somewhat out of the hunt at the present standing.

Unglaub Needs New Men.

If Minneapolis is to hold its present high standing in the percentage march it is very probable that some new players will have to be secured by the Bronks. Up to the present time Unglaub has been depending upon the pitchers of the Millers and the excessive flinging, one might say, of Comstock, Leverett and Sherrih has not made it imperative for the former big leaguer to look anxiously around in search of material to strengthen his gang. Now that the hitters of the league have shown that Comstock can be beaten, as was proven here last Sunday and at Winona yesterday, it is very likely that Unglaub will be on the lookout for some new material.

Since the first part of the season every team in the league with the exception of St. Paul and Minneapolis has been filling up the weak spots. As has been stated it has not been necessary for Unglaub to get new men up to the present time; in the case of Charley Jones it has been slothfulness or the inability to get new material. Owner Conrad had best speedily determine just where the fault lies.

Virginia and Grand Forks have been strengthened considerably since the start of the season, and the same is true of Winnipeg. In Virginia the results so far have been but little apparent, but the Flickertails are playing a great game and are right now one of the hardest teams in the league to beat.

It is a noteworthy fact that Leverett and Comstock believed that this league was a joke. The same goes for Comedian Allen of the same team. Young Comstock, while a fine little fellow and a thorough gentleman, entertained some rather fine opinions of his own ability previous to his beating at the hands of the Sox. Both Leverett and Ralph will doubtless realize before the season has gone so very much further that the class of baseball being played in this league at the present time is not so very inferior to that being pulled in the American association.

Game Should Get Better.

From this point on the grade of baseball should be even better than some that we have been getting, though truth to tell it would be quite difficult for any league to give us better games than those of late at Athletic park.

The pitchers are settling with the warming of the weather and during the past fortnight some of the prettiest games of any of the leagues of the country have been flung in this organization.

St. Paul and Virginia appear to date to have about the poorest hurling staffs in the league. If Waddell would round into form and get into the game he would undoubtedly prove a big asset to the flinging staff of "Spike" Shannon. Unless something happens at Virginia in the very near future rumor has it that something is going to occur of a very radical nature.

In the event of St. Paul and Virginia picking up and winning a number of games the race in the new Northern is bound to be one of the prettiest in the country—for as it is right now, six teams are running under a blanket and a few games will completely change the present standing.

NORTHERN GETS BIG POOL FUND

The largest pool in the history of baseball in these parts will be split among the eight clubs of the Northern league for the games of last Saturday at Winnnipeg and the contests at Grand Forks, Superior and Duluth for Saturday and Sunday.

According to the information that comes from the office of President John Burmeister the total paid admissions was over 20,000, the grand stand admissions bringing the total up to something like 4,000 more.

It is estimated that each club in the league will receive $750 as its share of the pooled receipts, the most money by far that a baseball club has ever received in a pool around these parts.

Without counting the grand stand admissions, the number of people that paid to see the two games on the Queen's birthday at Winnipeg was in excess of 10,000. Duluth had 3,200 people for the games of last Saturday and Sunday and Grand Forks had about the same. Superior had approximately 2,500 for the two games.

Winnipeg is drawing the largest baseball crowds in the history of the game there. Tim Flood, according to the accounts that come from the metropolis of Western Canada, is very popular and the result of the appreciation of his efforts and those of the team, has been attendance that would be a credit to any of the cities of the American association.

McCARNEY IS THROUGH.

Luther McCarty's Death Settles Game for His Manager.

St. Paul, Minn., May 30.—"I will never manage another prize fighter nor attend another bout," declared William McCarney who arrived here late yesterday with the body of Luther McCarty, who was killed by a blow to the jaw during his fight with Arthur Pelkey at Calgary, Alta., last Saturday. Mrs. McCarty, widow of the dead fighter, met the train at Fargo, N. D., and will accompany the remains to Piqua. Referee Eddie Smith of Chicago, and Fred Sears, trainer of the dead pugilist, also accompanying the remains to the home of McCarty's parents.

In discussing the fatal contest, McCarney said:

"McCarty was in the pink of condition when he entered the ring and the blows he received hardly would have jarred a child. After the brief exchange of blows during which the one to the jaw was struck, McCarty relaxed and fell back poised as if about to return with a right uppercut. As he took his position he threw his head forward suddenly, aggressively, and we heard a snap. Then he settled back, falling on his knee and then to the floor. He winked at me and smiled just before he fell."

McCarney declared McCarty the "greatest fighter the world has ever produced."

TRIAL IN McCARTY KILLING POSTPONED.

Calgary, Alta., May 30.—The trials of Tommy Burns and Arthur Pelkey, both charged with manslaughter, in connection with the death of Luther McCarty, in the prizefight here last Saturday, will not be held for some time, according to Supt. Deane of the Royal Northwest mounted police.

The original court is now in session, but these cases will not be taken up. June 16, Supt. Deane said, the higher court will hear arguments as to a further postponement. If no special session is ordered the cases will not be heard until the October term.

The estate of McCarty, according to friends here, amounts to $20,000. Of this, $10,000 is in a bank at San Francisco.

SCARES 'EM ANYWAY.

St. Andrew, Scotland, May 30.—Though defeated in the sixth round of the amateur golf championship yesterday by Harold H. Hilton, the famed English crack of the Royal Liverpool Golf club, W. Heinrich Schmidt, the young player of Worcester, Mass., by his plucky fight, in the estimation of the British golfers, estabilshed his right to rank with "Chick" Evans and Fred Herreshoff as among the greatest young golfers America has produced.

For 18 holes Schmidt made the Englishman fight every inch of the way. He was out in 39, Hilton in 38, but it was only by running down a 25-foot putt for three that Hilton finally won at the nineteenth hole.

NARROWING LIST DOWN.

Los Angeles, Cal., May 30.—Leach Cross of New York and Bud Anderson, the Northwestern lightweight, are matched for a 20-round fight here July 4, according to announcement by a local club. Cross is expected here early next month to begin training.

The club expects to match the victor against the winner of the Ritchie-Rivers fight in San Francisco on the same date.

Stick Artist Sold.

Evansville, Ind., May 30.—Center Fielder Ed Roush of the Evansville Central league team has been sold to the Chicago Americans for $3,000. He will report to the Chicago team after the close of the Central league season. Roush is leading the Central league in batting with over .400. He is 20 years old and his only previous experience was a part of last season with Evansville.

NORTH DAKOTA U TEAM IS BEATEN.

Grand Forks, N. D., May 30.—(Special to The Herald.)—The University of North Dakota was defeated yesterday by St. Thomas college, 6 to 1, the Cadets having the Flickertails worsted at every stage. Bush, on the mound for St. Thomas, allowed but five hits and he scattered them well. St. Thomas got its start early and never was in danger. Score: R. H. E.

MORTGAGE FORECLOSURE SALE—

Default has been made in the conditions of that certain mortgage executed by Jessie M. Jacobson and M. J. Jacobson, her husband, mortgagors, to Jerry G. Hoeffkin, mortgagee, which mortgage is dated November 27th, 1907, and recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds of the County of St. Louis, and State of Minnesota, on the tenth day of December, 1907, in book 142 of mortgages on page 154. That the amount due and claimed to be due on said mortgage at the date hereof is three hundred forty-four dollars ($344.00).

Notice is hereby given, That by virtue of the power of sale in said mortgage contained and pursuant to the statute in such cases made and provided said mortgage will be foreclosed by the sale of the lands and premises therein described, situated in St. Louis County, Minnesota, and described as follows, to-wit:

The Southwest Quarter of the Northwest Quarter (SW¼ of NW¼) of section twenty-two (22), township fifty-eight (58), range thirteen (13), according to the map or plat thereof on file or of record in the office of the Register of Deeds in and for St. Louis County, Minnesota. Said sale will be made by the sheriff of St. Louis County, Minnesota, at the sheriff's main office in the City of Duluth, County of St. Louis, and State of Minnesota, on Friday, June 27th, 1913, at ten o'clock A. M., to pay the amount due on said mortgage together with the costs of said foreclosure, including twenty-five dollars attorney's fees, stipulated in said mortgage.

ON THE IRON RANGES

GRAND FORKS FIRMS WIN

Gray Contracting Company to Build New Chisholm High School.

A. C. Schirmer Is Awarded the Plumbing and Heating Contracts.

Chisholm, Minn., May 30.—(Special to The Herald.)—The school board occupied all Thursday afternoon in awarding the several contracts for the new high school for which bidders from all over the state participated. There were fifty bidders present and bidding on the main and sub-contracts. The Gray Contracting company of Grand Forks were the successful biddrs on the general contract their bid after deductions had been made amounting to $159,966.

A. C. Schirmer of Hibbing landed the plumbing contract at $12,728.50 as well as being awarded the heating contract at $28,493.40. These last two named contracts include as well a large number of smaller contracts which include among them, engine and generator for independent electric lighting plant, fans, motors, heating coils, etc., temperature regulator, thermostats, etc., vacuum system, air washer, etc.

Graham To Do Wiring.

B. H. Graham received the contract for the wiring, installing of standard clock system, etc. An amount equal to approximately $2,175 was set aside for a new smokestack and after all the bids were considered the board found it difficult to keep within the appropriation but succeeded in doing so by a small margin which considering the magnitude of the expenditures necessary, is a matter for congratulation.

Bell, Tyrie & Chapman of Minneapolis were the architects and two members of the firm were present to assist in helping the school board to accept the best contracts.

The Gray Constucting company is not new to this field having built the present high school several years ago and the work proving very satisfactory.

IS TO DEVELOP POWER ON RANGE

Virginia, Minn., May 30.—(Special to The Herald.)—A. McMillen of Chicago, who has had his headquarters here several months while he has had surveying crews prospecting for power sites on the Vermillion and other rivers of the northern part of the state, is preparing his field notes for final presentation to the promoters and investors in the East.

Mr. McMillen expects that his company will be furnishing light and power to range cities and range industries, including the mines, within a reasonable period. He states that a power development project takes a lot of time.

Biggest Power Site.

The biggest power site on the Vermilion river is not nearer a railroad point than Tower, which is across the Vermilion lake, and much of the building material, including the steel, will have to be towed across the lake on flat boats. The route for the transmission line to the range has been surveyed, and Virginia will have a substation and be the main distributing point. It is expected the power will be largely used in pumping the water out of the mines. Some of the mines are said to be pumping almost as much water as would supply the city of Virginia, and this is all done at the present time by steam plants at the various mines.

VIRGINIA ELKS WILL BE HOSTS

Virginia, Minn., May 30.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Elks will keep open house Saturday afternoon from 2 to 5, preceding the dedication ceremonies for the lodge room and the building Saturday evening.

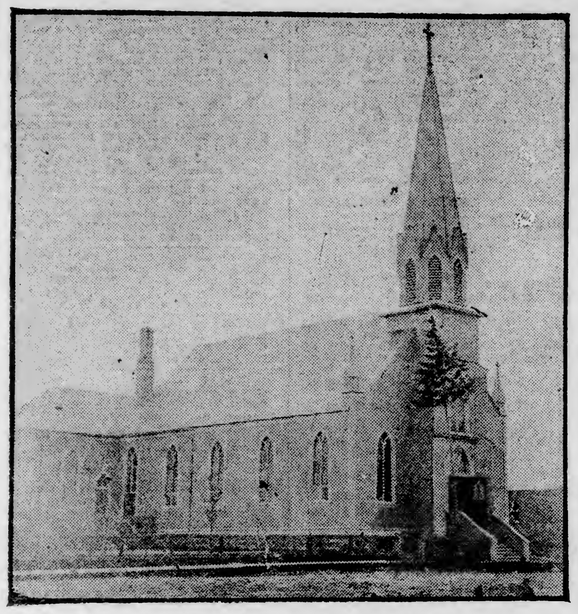
Many of the business houses will decorate for the day and the evening on account of the occasion and the visit of many from other Range cities and the Head of the Lakes. Many are expected to make the trip from Duluth by automobiles.

The local lodge has engaged the Mohanl band to furnish music. The chief address will be made at the dedicatory service by Judge Netheway of Stillwater and the ceremonies will be in charge of T. B. Mills of Superior, the grand exalted ruler.

The new building will have cost, with the elaborate furnishings, $35,000.

The officers of the local lodge are: H. V. Peterson, exalted ruler; A. E. Bickford, esteemed leading knight; C. L. Brundage, esteemed loyal knight; Douglas Greeley, esteemed lecturing knight; H. S. Gillespie, secretary; Walter D. Newcomb, treasurer; E. F. Johnson, esquire; A. H. Braa, tyler; E. O. Sorenson, inner guard.

GILBERT'S NEW CHURCH THAT WAS DEDICATED MAY 18



ST. JOSEPH'S CATHOLIC CHURCH.

Gilbert, Minn., May 30.—(Special to The Herald.)—St. Joseph's Catholic church, which was dedicated by Bishop McGolrick and other clergy May 18, is 60 by 44 with the sanctuary extending twenty feet back. The sacristy is 20 by 20. The building is an artistic piece of architecture and a worthy addition to the edifices of Gilbert. It cost complete over $11,000. Rev. A. C. Pirnat is pastor.

NEW MISSABE TRAIN WILL START JUNE 8.

Virginia, Minn., May 30.—(Special to The Herald.)—Commencing June 8, the day the Canadian Northern's new schedule goes into effect, the Missabe road will put on an afternoon train to Duluth, leaving Virginia at 4:30 and arriving at Duluth at 6:46. Returing, the train will leave Duluth at 8 and arrive at Virginia at about 10:20. This will be a fast train which will not stop between the range and Proctor. This train will also serve Eveleth, Hibbing and Chisholm, with connections at Wolf, Iron Junction and Wilpin.

WOODMEN MEMORIAL.

Virginia, Minn., May 30.—(Special to The Herald.)—Members of Virginia camp, No. 2955, M. W. A., will observe Sunday as Memorial day in common with Modern Woodmen everywhere. The local camp has nearly 400 members and probably is the largest fraternal organization on the range, numerically speaking. The members will assemble at Hawkinson hall at 1:30 o'clock and will march to the cemetery, where brief exercises will be held and graves will be bedecked with flowers. Then the members will march back to to city and attend a devotional service at the Episcopal church, where the sermon will be delivered by Rev. Hans J. Wolner, the rector. This service will commence at 4 o'clock.

REHEARSING FOR PLAY.

Virginia, Minn., May 30.—(Special to The Herald.)—"Petter og Inger" will be presented in the Norwegian language at North Pole hall by the Norwegian Dramatic club the evening of June 5. Rehearsals are being held and the play is being directed by Oscar Foosness. The dramatic club is a suborganization of the Good Templars and the play will be in the nature of a benefit for the Good Templars.

EPWORTH LEAGUE TO MEET TUESDAY

Chisholm, Minn., May 30.—(Special to The Herald.)—This village is getting ready to entertain the Duluth district Epworth league convention next Tuesday and Wednesday, when it is expected 150 or more delegates will be present.

The most prominent figure in attendance will be Bishop Quayle, who will deliver the principal address.

The program follows:

Tuesday, June 3—2 p. m., devotionals, John W. Schenck, Aurora; 2:30, address of welcome, the Rev. Ralph C. Jones, Chisholm; response, William H. Farrell, district president; 3, business session, appointment of committees; 3:30, paper, "Possibilities of the Junior League," Mrs. J. E. Pickard, Two Harbors; 3:50, discussion, Mrs. Bertha Eddy, Eveleth; 4, paper, "The Epworthians' Opportunity," Prof. J. A. Van Dyke, Coleraine.

Tuesday evening—7:47, praise service, "Let Us Be Glad," W. H. Farrell, Duluth; 8:15, lecture, "Shylock and David," Bishop William A. Quayle, St. Paul.

Wednesday morning—9, "A Model Devotional Meeting," Miss Helen Donahue, Duluth; 10, paper, "The League in the Revival," Miss Kathleen Rounds, Brainerd; 10:20, discussion, Clinton Oblinger, Duluth; 10:30, paper, "The League in World Evangelism," Wilkie C. Clock, Coleraine; 11, discussion, Hibbing chapter; 11:10, paper, "The League in Practical Christianity," Miss Caroline Johnson, Chisholm.

Wednesday afternoon—2, paper, "The League in Social Life," Miss Mary E. Ritter, Duluth; 2:20, discussion; 2:30, business session.

Wednesday evening—7:45, devotionals, John Nankervis, Ely; 8:15, lecture, "Dombey & Son," Rev. F. W. Fessenden, Minneapolis; final reports and adjournment.

SWITCHMAN LOSES LIFE AT COLERAINE

Coleraine, Minn., May 30.—(Special to The Herald.)—Otto Martin met with a fatal accident on an ore train of the Oliver Iron Mining company yesterday. He was employed as switchman and had just thrown a switch and endeavored to board the front of Engine No. 402 of his train, when in some manner he lost his footing and fell under the locomotive. Both legs were cut off, and a few hours later he died at the Coleraine hospital.

His relatives at Rochester, Minn., were notified, and the body will be sent home for interment. He has been in the employ of the mining company for some time. He made his home in Bovey.

CATERPILLARS ARE KILLING POPLAR.

Virginia, Minn., May 30.—(Special to The Herald.)—State Forester W. T. Cox and District Forester Fred Bessette have spent a part of the week inspecting the timbered country both east and west of Gheen. Mr. Cox states that it is his belief that the great body of fine poplar that lies west of Gheen has been killed by the caterpillars that have been stripping the foliage off the trees for the past three seasons.

HIBBING TEACHER GOES TO CALUMET.

Calumet, Mich., May 30.—(Special to The Herald.)—Prof. H. Diemer of Hibbing, Minn., will be in charge of the manual training department of the Calumet high school during the coming year, succeeding Prof. W. F. Borton, whose resignation was announced two months ago. Prof. Borton, who has been in charge of the local work for the past two years, did not seek re-election when the appointments were made a few weeks ago. He has not announced his future plans.

WARDENS ARREST SOME FISHERMEN.

Winton, Minn., May 30.—(Special to The Herald.)—Game Wardens James of Ely, Mattson of Tower and Chosa of Winton visited here Sunday and were successful in catching many fishermen who were catching fish under size. At the Kawishawi falls they caught a party of fourteen who were catching fish under the lawful size, fourteen inches.

PLAY BY ALUMNI.

Eveleth, Minn., May 30.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Eveleth High School Alumni association will present on Saturday afternoon and evening at the auditorium, "The Private Secretary," a farce comedy. The cast follows: Mr. Marsland, M. F. H., Percy P. Pryor; Harr ' Marsland, his nephew, Carl O. Niemi; Mr. Cattermole, Guy Springer; Douglas Cattermole, his nephew, Leslie Tobin; Rev. Robert Spalding, Lawrence Andrews; Mr. Sydney Gibson, tailor, Harry W. Anderson; Knox, a writ server, Morris Levant; Edith Marsland, Esther Rabinovitz; Eva Webster, Gertrude Owens; Mrs. Stead, Jane Mulligan; Miss Ashford, Teckla Jackson.

RESORTS ARE CLOSING.

Virginia, Minn., May 30.—(Special to The Herald.)—It is said that the houses of ill repute located in isolated places between towns over the Mesaba range will all close and be abandoned after the end of this week and that the inmates have been leaving in large numbers during the present week, because of the extreme penalties under the new law. The road houses over the range number ten or twelve and the larger places near the bigger towns are said to have had, in some instances, thirty or forty inmates.

RELATIVES NOT FOUND.

Coleraine, Minn., May 30.—(Special to The Herald.)—Deputy Coroner Peterson has tried, without avail, to locate friends of Rey De Von, the victim of the self-administered overdose of heroin. The body is still at the morgue awaiting the possibility of finding some of his relatives. There is still a general feeling that the unfortunate youth was a victim of a fake hypnotic traveling show which was performing at Bovey.

SALOON MEN CITED.

Chisholm, Minn., May 30.—(Special to The Herald.)—The village council yesterday afternoon ordered Peterson & Haggbloom, saloon keepers, to show cause at the next meeting why their license should not be cancelled for selling liquor to minors.

Cigaretto licenses were issued for Lauri Wister, Julius Grosso, Papas & Palmer, John Turja, A. W. Brist and Sam Rotman. The chief of police will be notified to call the attention of other dealers to the new law.

Liquor licenses were granted to Frank Holmberg and Allegrezza Bros., both renewals.

Fire Chief Thomas O'Connor, Frank Austin and a member of the department to be named by the fire chief were appointed delegates to the Firemen's convention at Thief River Falls in June.

J. H. McNiven, member of the council, was appointed a delegate to go to Virginia and represent the village in a protest to the Great Northern railway against taking off the Grand Rapids train.

Fred P. Hanley, a local man, received the contract for painting the cemetery fence on his bid of $211.

Bids for the furnishing of about seventy-five street signs and posts were turned over to the purchasing committee, as were also bids for purchasing a number of catch basin castings.

Eveleth to Play Biwabik.

Eveleth, Minn., May 30.—(Special to The Herald.) — The Trolley league schedule calls for games in Eveleth again Saturday and Sunday coming, at which time Eveleth will be pitted against the very fast aggregation from Biwabik, which just now is crowding Hibbing for first place. Manager Glode has had his lines out and has succeeded in lining up a team that will be stronger by several points than it has been.

To Impose Tax Penalty.

Grand Rapids, Minn., May 30.—(Special to The Herald.)—County Auditor Spang announces as follows: June 1, penalty of 10 per cent attaches to all real estate taxes where the first half has not been paid; June 2, sheriff makes return to clerk of court of his collections of personal property taxes; June 10, meeting of board of county commissioners; June 10, clerk of court makes return to county treasurer of proceedings had by the clerk and sheriff in the matter of collection of personal property taxes.

Homesteader's Home Burns.

Sparta, Minn., May 30.—The home of E. A. Trenholm was totally destroyed by fire yesterday, and only a few pieces of furniture were saved. The building was situated on the shores of Cedar Island lake near where the Trenholms have lived on their homestead for the past twenty years. It was a new 8-room building and was a fine structure.

Like Grand Rapids Exhibit.

Grand Rapids, Minn., May 30.—(Special to The Herald.)—A very large number enjoyed the annual exhibit of the work of the manual training, art, domestic science and normal departments of the local schools which was held in the high school last evening.

Chisholmite Accidentally Shot.

Chisholm, Minn., May 30.—Alex Hubbard received a painful, though not dangerous wound, in his foot through the accidental discharge of a revolver in his own hands yesterday.

Eveleth Elk Lodge Dance.

Eveleth, Minn., May 30.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Eveleth lodge of Elks will give an informal dance in the auditorium on Friday evening, June 6. It will be an invitation party.

WILL DECORATE THE GRAVES

The ceremony of decorating the graves of the departed G. A. R. men will take place this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, the affair being in charge of Asa Dalley of Gorman post. This afternoon at 3 o'clock the Women's Relief corps will go through the ceremony of scattering flowers on the waters of the canal in honor of the memory of those who died at sea in the Civil war. The program is quite elaborate.

Dinner was served after the Auditorium meeting by the auxillarp patriotic organizations to the veterans, Sons of Veterans, Spanish War Veterans and the Citizens' staff.

filled with grand men. Men who wear the white flower of an unblemished life; men whose hoary crowns of glory rest on noble brows; men whose fading eyes still shine with the lambant lustre of integrity; men whose hearts are true as strands of steel; men who are stalwart patriots in the bivouac of peace; men who will help to purge polluted politics; men who are scouts for righteousness and on picket duty for virtue; men who will smite to death the skulking foe that would steal the finest jewels from the home; men who will walk and talk and live so that honor shall be the fashion. There is treason in the land and moral battles to be fought. The world needs Christian soldiers.

"As we lay the flower and flag upon the soldier's grave in grateful recognition of his worthy deeds, let us breathe a prayer of gratitude to the God of nations for peace and plenty and the hope of better things to be. Let us rejoice because the war clouds have long since lifted and the light of peace has filled the earth with golden radiance for many days. Let us honor the soldiers whether camped upon the eternal plains at God's right hand or hovering near the fords with broken ranks in life's eventide, and pray to God that the peace of his all-pervasive presence shall so reign in the kingdoms of the world that never again shall tranquil joy be broken by the scream of shot or boom of mortar or tramp of soldiers on the march.

"O draw aside the drapery of gloom
And let the sunshine chase the clouds away,
And gild with brighter glory every tomb
We decorate today.

"And in the holy silence reigning round,
While prayers of perfume bless the atmosphere,
Where loyal souls of love and faith are found
Thank God that peace is here.

"And let each angry impulse that may start,
Be smothered out of every loyal breast;
And rocked within the cradle of the heart,
Let every sorrow rest."

BOY HAD AN EYE FOR BUSINESS

One pupil of Adams school proved today that he has an eye for business. His name is Stanley McFadzen, and he appeared in the parade at the head of the Adams school division, driving a tiny cart to which was hitched his pet dog. The cart was decorated with flags and the national colors, and the dog was decorated with signs advertising that the boy sells a certain popular periodical, and also giving information that the observers are invited to subscribe for it through his agency. He made a hit and some people took down his name.

EXERCISES FOR THE SCHOOL CHILDREN.

Between 1,200 and 1,500 school boys, most of whom took part in the parade, listened to a patriotic program at the Odeum and Lyric theaters this morning. The exercises started about 11:30 o'clock and immediately followed the parade.

C. S. Prosser, vice president of the Citizen's staff, was in charge of the gathering and introduced the speaker, Rev. W. W. Lawrence, pastor of Glen Avon Presbyterian church, who gave five-minute addresses to packed houses in both theaters.

Rev. Mr. Lawrence complimented the school boys for the interest which they had shown in the Memorial day program and upon the splendid tournout in the parade.

He urged the boys to pay their respects to the old soldiers on every occasion that presented itself and especially on Memorial day.

Following the address by Rev. Mr. Lawrence, a special patriotic film of motion pictures was shown to the youngsters. The reel showed among other things the assassination of President Lincoln. The film was brought here and projected for the school children through the courtesy of Thomas Furniss, manager of the two theaters.

JACKSON AND MERRITT SCHOOLS ARE WINNERS.

The Jackson school children made the best showing in the parade this morning among the schools east of the Point of Rocks and the Merritt school won among the schools west of the Point of Rocks. The judges were George W. Stiles, W. O. Flodin and R. K. Lee.

FIVE NATIONS REPRESENTED

Speedway, Indianapolis, Ind., May 30.—Five nations—United States, England, France, Germany and Italy—today are fighting for supremacy in the third annual 500-mile automobile race to be held here. Everything at the speedway emphasizes the international phase of the contest. Flags of all nations are flying from the grandstands and from the pits there arises a jargon of many tongues.

Trains and interurbans began early to carry the thousands to the speedway and the roads were filled with automobiles by daylight. Hundreds of persons slept in the open just outside the track, in order to be on hand when the gates opened at 6 o'clock.

YOUNG WOMAN HAS DISAPPEARED

Alma Borg, who worked last summer as a cook at the Duluth Boat club, has disappeared and her relatives are at a loss as to her whereabouts.

Last September the young woman wrote to her brother, M. Borg of Northwood, Iowa, and told him that she was planning to visit another brother at Spooner, Wis. That was the last Mr. Borg, who is in the city now looking for his sister, has heard of her.

Mr. Borg stated in the police station this morning that his sister was about 30 years old and that his people are at a loss to explain her whereabouts.

"My sister," said Mr. Borg this morning, "wrote and told my other brother at Spooner that she had invested her money here and that as soon as she could obtain the money, she would come to Spooner. At another time she wrote that she was unable to obtain the money and that she had placed the matter in the hands of a lawyer. That is the last anyone ever heard of her."

Nothing is known at the Boat club of Miss Borg's disappearance. She left when the season closed last summer and left no word as to her future plans.

Mr. Borg will be in the city another day, after which he will return to his home at Northwood.

BIG GRIST IN POLICE COURT

Celebrating Memorial day last evening resulted in an unusually large grist of drunks in police court this morning.

When court opened for a short holiday session, nineteen drunks faced Judge Windom, who was rather lenient with the lawbreakers. All but seven of the total plead guilty to the charge of drunkenness and their sentences were suspended.

TRIPLE MURDER AND SUICIDE ATTEMPTED

La Crosse, Wis., May 30.—Discovery made by the police today revealed that the asphyxiation case at the home of Joseph Blachnik last night, in which Mrs. Blachnik and a child of a year and a half died and two other children were in a critical condition, was one of attempted triple murder and suicide.

A letter left by Mrs. Blachnik was found, in which the woman declared her purpose to kill her three children and herself. The two elder children, who were unconscious when found, are out of danger today.

Chief Webber of the police department, while admitting the purport of the letter, declined to give out a copy of, it, saying it contained sensational statements which called for a conference with the district attorney.

TWENTY INJURED IN STREET CAR COLLISION

Akron, Ohio, May 30.—Twenty persons were injured, some seriously, in a street car collision on the Akron, Bedford & Cleveland line near this city today. The cars were running between this city and Cleveland. The hindmost car crashed into the other.

Many women and children are said to be among the injured.

The accident occurred near Silver lake, about seven miles from here. The injured are being brought to hospitals in this city.

KILLS WIFE FOR GOING TO DANCE.

Marshalltown, Iowa, May 30.—Finding his wife at a dance after warning her not to attend, James Quick, aged 27, shot her through the heart here last night, instantly killing her. Then he turned the gun on himself. He may live.

THAD THOMPSON TO COLOMBIA.

Washington, May 30.—Thad A. Thompson, a wealthy and prominent businessman of Austin, Tex., has been selected for United States minister to Colombia to succeed James M. Dubois. Mr. Thompson was a delegate to the Baltimore convention and has been an active worker in the Democratic ranks. He is a personal friend of Postmaster General Burleson.

POLICEMAN'S WIFE KILLS INTRUDER.

Chicago, May 30.—Mrs. Margaret Brown, wife of a policeman, last night shot and killed Stanley Swick in a yard in the rear of their home. She declared Swick had approached her young daughter, and refused to leave the yard at the mother's order.

MAN WHO SHOT FIANCEE DIES.

Chicago, May 30.—Peter Becker, who shot Miss Genevieve Thomas and turned the revolver on himself yesterday a few hours before they were to have been married, died today. Becker accused his fiancee of being unfaithful, and fired three bullets into her body. She is in a critical condition.

PUTS WREATH ON LAFAYETTE TOMB.

Paris, May 30.—Myron T. Herrick, United States ambassador to France, today placed a wreath on the tomb of Lafayette in the Picpus cemetery in celebration of Memorial day. Consul General Frank Mason, the entire staff of the American embassy and a number of Americans resident in Paris, were present at the ceremony.

SURVEY OF CITY PLANNED

Report Will Show Social, Labor and Vice Conditions.

Officers for Year Elected By the Interchurch Council.

At the annual meeting of the interchurch council, held last evening at the Y. M. C. A., steps were taken toward making a social survey of the city, a move which has been under consideration by the central committee of social workers for some time.

The council voted to aid and support the committee in making the survey, which may also be extended to economic and religious conditions.

The social survey would mean the securing of data on the number of saloons, disorderly houses, disreputable hotels, gambling joints, factory girls and their wages, percentage of people who attend church and the denomination to which they belong, and the cost of living.

The council decided to extend an invitation to F. J. Michel, field secretary of the Laymen's Missionary society, to meet with the executive committee on Thursday, June 5, at 5:30 p. m., for the purpose of giving him an opportunity to lay before the committee his plans for a missionary campaign in Duluth next winter.

W. L. Smithles was elected president of the council for the ensuing year. The other officers elected and the chairmen of the principal committees are as follows: Rev. J. J. Daniels and W. J. McCabe, vice presidents; B. C. Wade, executive secretary; Brewer Mattocks, treasurer; auxiliary cities, Albert Baldwin; Bible study, H. A. Sedgwick; boys' work, Norman R. McLeod; community extension, E. E. Hauter; missions, Walter R. Hoefflin; publicity, Richard Bawden; social service, Frank Crassweller. In addition, the following were elected from the membership at large to serve on the executive committee: Rev. M. S. Rice, Rev. Robert Yost, Rev. A. W. Ryan, Rev. Swaney Nelson and Rev. C. N. Thorp.

STILLWATER MAN DULUTH BOOSTER

Representative H. H. Harrison Has Firm Faith in the City.

Henry H. Harrison, representative from Washington county, who was in Duluth yesterday to pay taxes on several parcels of property which he owns here, declared that although he had been betting on Duluth for thirty years, he not yet weakened in the belief that it was one of the coming cities of the United States.

"Duluth has every natural advantage," he said, "and with the putting into operation of freight rates more favorable to Duluth, it's going ahead sure. The old rates were unjust, and I am glad to see that the city is getting what, after all, was only its commercial rights."

As to the question of state control of public utilities, Mr. Harrison said: "I am studying this problem as an open one, and not as a Democrat. If I become satisfied that it's not, I will be against it."

Mr. Harrison spent the day visiting with old friends, among them City Commissioner Hicken and City Attorney Clapp.

SUPERINTENDENT OF STEEL PLANT

Samuel B. Sheldon Is Appointed to Post With Minnesota Steel Co.

Samuel B. Sheldon, a consulting engineer located at Bethlehem, Pa., has been appointed general superintendent of the Minnesota Steel company. He is expected to arrive in Duluth soon to take up his duties.

Mr. Sheldon was formerly general superintendent of the Saucon plant at Bethlehem. Prior to that he was connected with the Joliet steel works.

IS HICKEN TO BLAME?

Since the Hicken regime began, The Herald "office Bible" has been stolen twice.

Everybody in the office has established an alibi, or something like that. The Bible was taken from the office library Monday and is the second one to disappear since Hicken assumed office.

The evidence deduced and established is as follows:

That The Herald keeps a Bible in its office library, unlike some of its contemporaries.

That The Herald will have to busy another, for it is indispensable in the editorial library.

That somebody wanted religion so badly that he had to steal the books.

That salvation is free—blamed free.

Conductors Adjourn.

Detroit, Mich., May 30.—The thirty-fourth grand division convention of the Order of Railway Conductors came to a close after a session covering sixteen working days. At the final meeting, Martin Cary of Port Huron, Mich., and William C. Turner of St. Louis, were elected to the two newly created vice presidencies. William T. Herbst of Detroit was chosen grand inside sentinel and other minor officers were re-elected.

This convention has been the longest and most expensive in the history of the order, the cost approximating $125,000.

DOG'S LICK HAS NEARLY FATAL END.

Berthold, N. D., May 30.—(Special to The Herald.)—Because he allowed his dog to lick his hand, on which he had a slight scratch, James Golden nearly lost his life. Blood poisoning set in and Golden has been in critical condition, physicians saying now that he may live.

Ness Sentence Saturday.

Bismarck, N. D., May 30.—(Special to The Herald.)—Ben J. Ness will be arraigned tomorrow morning for sentence under conviction by a jury of the charge of attempted bribery. Ness was convicted Tuesday of attempting to bribe Representatives Divet and Twichell.

TROUBLE IN BIG PACKAGES

Trying Days for Owners of Saloons Where Disorder Occurs.

George Dunlap Fined, Sued, and License Is in Jeopardy.

George Dunlap, one of the proprietors of Dunlap & Thatcher's saloon at 519 West Superior street, little realized the machinery he was putting in motion when he assaulted John Nystrom, a patron, in his Bowery bar a week ago today.

The worst he anticipated was the possibility of being arrested and fined. But that was only the first thing which happened to him. Tuesday afternoon he paid a fine of $27 on pleading guilty to having beaten Nystrom, inflicting two badly blackened eyes.

But the case didn't stop with the payment of the fine. Yesterday morning the city commission, on motion of Commissioner Hicken, passed a resolution citing Dunlap to appear before the council next Monday to show cause why his license should not be revoked. The head of the division of public safety declares that he will endeavor to put out of business every disorderly saloon in the city. There are a number in which the men in charge, proprietors or bartenders, seem to think that they have a dispensation from Providence to make their own laws, entitling them to beat up or throw outdoors any man who does not comply with their arbitrary, self-made standards, whatever they may be. In others it is claimed that more revenue is obtained by robbery than by sales over the bar.

Being cited to show cause why he shouldn't lose his license wasn't the last thing that happened to Dunlap. Yesterday afternoon a civil action to recover damages for the punishment inflicted upon him was started by Nystrom against Dunlap and his surety, the Illinois Bonding company. Nystrom asks a balm of $499.99, the maximum amount for which suit can be instituted in municipal court. By bringing the action in the lower court it is hoped that the case can be brought on for trial next week. If it were brought in the district court, the date on which the case would be tried would be uncertain, except that it would be much later.

It appears that Nystrom and two companions went into the Bowery saloon a week ago. One of the men with him, it is alleged, engaged in a dice game with Dunlap. When the other lost, Dunlap is said to have declared that the "drinks for the house are on you." When he objected to what he considered a hold-up, an altercation resulted in which Dunlap assaulted Nystrom. The terms of the bond provide that Dunlap shall conduct a quiet and orderly place and shall not permit the playing of cards or other gambling, according to the complaint which was filed yesterday in municipal court.

ASTOR HOUSE CLOSED.

Site Once Bought for $150,000 Now Worth $2,500,000.

New York, May 30.—The Astor house, fronting Lower Broadway for a block opposite the general postoffice, formally closed its historic career of seventy-seven years last night with a jollification of transient and tradition-loving New Yorkers.

A caucus of aged guests, grown gray on the premises, berated fate for taking the roof from over their heads, and spoke hopefully of a petition to Vincent Astor pleading that the building be not razed. They had secured 4,000 signatures since noon. The city recently purchased an easement on one-half of the site for subway construction.

An impressive roster of famous men have enjoyed the landmark's hospitality, from Daniel Webster and Civil war heroes and statesmen down to modern notables.

The six-story building was completed in 1836 by the first John Jacob Astor, at a cost of about $325,000, of which $150,000 represented the value of the land. Illustrating the marvelous realty apreciation of the neighborhood, the present value of the site for rebuilding purposes is estimated at more than $2,500,000.

DISMISS OLD CASES.

Three North Dakota Actions Twelve Years Old Off Docket.

Bismarck, N. D., May 30.—(Special to The Herald.)—Long distance court records in North Dakota probably are established in three cases, E. I. Donovan vs. Cornelius Jordan, arising in Cavalier county, and which were instituted in 1901, being finally disposed of this week.

After filing the cases in 1901 no further steps were taken by the plaintiff till 1907, when he resisted motions by the defendant for dismissal of the actions because of failure to prosecute within the five-year period, fixed by statute. The district court refused to dismiss the cases and subsequently verdicts for the plaintiff were entered.

The supreme court set aside those verdicts and dismisses the three cases because of the delay of the plaintiff in prosecuting.

NORTH DAKOTAN IS TREED BY STALLION.

Charlson, N. D., May 30.—(Special to The Herald.)—McKenzie county farmers have had frequent unpleasant experiences but a well known resident of this county recently had one rather out of the usual. He was walking in the timber when he was attacked by a stallion that was running at large. He hastily climbed a tree in which he was kept by the enraged animal for an hour.

NORTH DAKOTANS FOR GOOD ROADS.

Grand Forks, N. D., May 30.—(Special to The Herald.)—Good road activities in many counties of North Dakota are being placed on a firm basis this year, and the indications are that a great deal of improvement work will be done. The most systematic campaign of improvement is along the Twin City-Yellowstone Park route in Southwestern North Dakota, the Wonderland Trail from Grand Forks to Williston, and the Meridian highway, running through the Red river valley.

Gathering at Fish Lake.

Birchwood, N. D., May 30.—(Special to The Herald.)—Hundreds of residents of Towner and Rolette counties with many prominent people from other parts of the state are gathering at Fish lake for the summer. It is the location of the state fish hatchery under the supervision of Capt. Main and the Turtle mountains, the fine timber and the numerous lakes making this one of the most attractive spots in the Northwest.

GETS BETTER; DENIES CRIME

Montana Man Repudiates Confession of Series of Murders.

Claim That He Killed Former Montana Governor Is Doubted.

Missoula Mont., May 30.—Frank Diamon, who was arrested yesterday at Plains, Mont., as the result of his alleged confession of the murder of Former Governor Thomas Francis Meagher of Montana and others, repudiated his confession early this morning.

A series of murders, including the assasination of Gen. Meagher, was claimed as his own misdeeds in the confession, in which the man, known as Pat Miller, gave his correct name as Frank Diamon was brought here and lodged in the county jail pending an investigation of his self-assumed crimes.

Murders that he claimed to have committed near The Dalles, Or., nearly forty years ago, are not recorded in the official registry there and none of the old residents recalls them.

Thought He Was Dying.

Diamon's confession was made and signed in the presence of three citizens of Plains. He was ill from the effects of a spree and believed that he was dying. He pledged his witnesses to silence until he was dead, threatening death to any who divulged his secret. The confession, however, fell into the hands of a local newspaper; the authorities were promptly notified and Diamon was placed under arrest. When questioned about the confession, Diamon said he would make no statement until arraigned in court.

Of the murder of Gen. Meagher, the confession reads:

"I killed him on a steamboat at Cow Island, in the Missouri, and threw him in the river. I swam ashore."

For that crime Diamon claimed to have received $8,000 from the Montana vigilantes.

Claimed Other Crimes.

Other murders assumed by him were two he claimed to have committed near The Dalles in 1874 and that of a man named George Mitchell, killed in Oregon in 1883 and whose body was thrown in the Willamette river. For one of the former murders Diamon says a notorious Montana desperado called "Big Nose George" was hanged.

Residents of Plains who have known Diamon for twenty years say he has always been inoffensive except when under the influence of liquor. He is 67 years old and has but one eye.

He was talking with friends in a saloon Tuesday when he was attacked with heart failure. After he had been taken to a room and put to bed, he called for pen and ink. He was too weak to write, and asked a friend to take down his statement. The three men who witnessed it said that Diamon was in full possession of his faculties.

Gen. Meagher was one of the important figures of Montana's early history. He served with distinction in the Union army in the Civil war, having organized a brigade of Irishmen in New York. He led them for two years. He was appointed secretary of Montana by President Lincoln. Later he became acting governor of the territory.

Pioneer Scout's Story.

Butte, Mont., May 30.—Patrick Conlan, a Montana pioneer and a close friend of Gen. Thomas Francis Meagher, who helped search for the general's body in the Missouri river, scouts the story of the confession of Frank Diamon of Plains, Mont., as having murdered Meagher. He related the story here of Thomas Clanton, an eye-witness, and one of those aboard the boat the night Gen. Meagher lost his life. This story is to the effect that Meagher lost his balance and fell off the hurricane deck of a river boat. The deck was without a guard rail.

Gen. Meagher lost his life the night of July 1, instead of Oct. 20 as asserted by Diamon, according to Mr. Conlan.

No Mitchell Case.

Portland, Or., May 30.—No report could be found in this county of the slaying or disappearance of a man named George Mitchell, to whose murder thirty years ago Pat Miller, alias Frank Diamon, confessed. Inquiry among old-time peace officers brought to their mind no such case.

HOOSIERS COMING.

Colony From Indiana to Locate in Aitkin County.

Aitkin, Minn., May 30.—(Special to The Herald.)—A colony of Indiana people will arrive in Aitkin county soon to locate upon land here. It is understood that G. E. Fessler of Elwood, Ind., who is back of the enterprise will bring the Hoosiers here about June 3, via Duluth.

GRAFTON AWARDS BUILDING CONTRACTS.

Grafton, N. D., May 30.—(Special to The Herald.)—The contracts for the construction of the Walsh county jail and sheriff's residence were let Wednesday. Nollman, Lewis & Bry will build the structure at $13,592; George Loos of Grafton will do the plumbing on a heating at $2,190, and the Pauley Jail Building company was awarded the contract for that feature of the finishing at $4,398.

BIG GRAND FORKS CONTRACT AWARDED.

Grand Forks, N. D., May 30.—(Special to The Herald.)—The contract for the construction of the Masonic temple in Grand Forks has been let to Dinnie Bros., of Grand Forks for $98,648, while Spriggs Bros. get the plumbing and heating job at $9,281. Work begins immediately.

Complete, the building will cost between $150,000 and $200,000 and will require about a year to build.

Twenty-four Minot Graduates.

Minot, N. D., May 30.—(Special to The Herald.)—Twenty-four graduates of the Minot high school received their sheepskins last night. Dr. George A. Abbott of the University of North Dakota delivered the commencement address. The graduates are Charles Geist, Henry Murphy, Kenneth Ward, Arthur Shaft, Christian Hilliboe, Lloyd Dale, Joseph Blaisdell, Alvin Gram, Gerald Webster, Cheever Parkins, Cecil Hunt, Alfred Smart, Grover Spaulding, Ruth Carroll, Mayme Lynch, Gladys Humphrey, Kathryn Ferguson, Kathryn Calfee, Anna Bjoin, Myrtle Nelson, Ruth Reynolds, Olive Mills and Leona Geist.

New Winters, Wis., Bank.

Cumberland, Wis., May 30.—(Special to The Herald.)—W. H. Clubine and others said to be identified with the Hines lumber interests have arranged to start the First State bank at Winter, Sawyer county, with a capital stock of $10,000.

AMUSEMENTS FOR THE HOLIDAY

Good Theatrical Attractions and Two Ball Games in Duluth.

HOLIDAY AMUSEMENTS.

LYCEUM — First appearance in Duluth of John Drew in his new comedy "The Perplexed Husband."

EMPRESS — Vaudeville afternoon and evening.

Ball games at Athletic park at 2 and 4 p. m.

Motion picture shows in half a dozen theaters.

Motorcycle races on the boulevard at Fifteenth avenue east.

Duluth will be well supplied with amusements for the holiday.

The chief theatrical event of the entire season will be the appearance at the Lyceum this evening of John Drew, America's foremost actor of light comedy roles. It is Mr. Drew's first appearance in Duluth.

The Empress has a new vaudeville bill, which opened last evening, and there will be continuous performances at the motion picture theaters.

For outdoor sport lovers there will be two baseball games at Athletic park, and motorcycle races on the boulevard.

In John Drew's new comedy by Alfred Sutro, "The Perplexed Husband," at the Lyceum, the scenes are laid in London, where this play had a remarkable run this year, and the action takes place during three days. The theme of the play is very modern, touching as it does on the contemporary subject of woman suffrage.

Thomas Pelling, a tea merchant, has returned home to find his attractive young wife converted to the cause of the enfranchisement of women. She has invited to her home a middle-aged builder of theories whose disciples call him "the master," and a woman whose mission is to make women intolerant of such shackles as children and a husband. The wife decides that she is a petted plaything and a doll only made for caresses, and revolts against what she considers his tyranny.

The poor husband is aghast at the change that has taken place in his life partner and knows not what to do. On the advice of a married sister, who is of a practical turn of mind, he pretends to fall in with the new ideas that his wife has embraced. Then to show how advanced he has become, the husband introduces into the house a beautiful woman with a Greek soul, whom he thinks needs converting also. This has the effect of making the wife furiously jealous, and one by one she renounces her new ideas, as she finds that they do not fit with her real nature. The complications meanwhile are of an amusing description.

Mr. Drew's support includes Mary Boland, Hubert Druce, Alice John, Margaret Watson and Walter Soldering.

A vaudeville bill that is really far above the average is at the Empress theater the latter half of this week.

Every act on the bill is exceptionally good and each scored at the opening performances yesterday. The headliner, Visions D'Art, was seen at the Orpheum theater last year and the act is still as pleasing and entertaining as ever.

The bill opens with two reels of motion pictures, showing "The Best Policy," and "How Hiram Won Out." They are of a comic nature and formed a good opener for the bill.

Tommy Patriocola and Ruby Myers, who style themselves the pair that made dancing famous, try their best to live up to the title. They are both able and versatile dancers. The young man is especially good and the audience insisted on several encore numbers at the performance last evening. They are also clever comedians and their jokes are new, which makes the act one of the best of its kind ever seen at the local theater.

Nelson Leavitt in the comedy sketch, "That Woman Next Door," portrays five distinct character parts, all of which are well handled. He is ably assisted by Miss Harriett Dunsmoore.

Paul de life and of the type that readily scores, Miss Maxfield of Mott & Maxfield is without a doubt the funniest woman comedian seen at the Empress for some time. Her songs and dance numbers are a scream. Mr. Mott as the travelling salesman and Miss Maxfield as the manicure are a very able pair and their duo numbers are pleasing.

Mlle. Fleurette in Visions D'Art is a striking beauty and her living pictures, with the assistance of colored slides, are beautiful. The act is classical in every respect and a most artistic novelty.

Mexican Election Oct. 26.

Mexico City, May 30.—The bill authorizing the executive to call the presidential election on Oct. 26 has been approved by the senate. The bill was recently passed by the chamber of deputies.

LEGAL NOTICES.

CERTIFICATE OF AMENDMENT —OF— ARTICLES OF INCORPORATION —OF— DULUTH CASUALTY ASSOCIATION.

It is hereby certified that at the adjourned annual meeting of the members of the Duluth Casualty Association, held at the company's offices in Duluth, Minnesota, on Saturday, May 17th, 1913, at four o'clock P. M., pursuant to notice duly given, a majority of the members of said association being present in person and by proxy, the following resolution amending the Articles of Incorporation of said association was duly and legally passed by the unanimous affirmative vote of all the members present in person and by proxy, to-wit:

Resolved, That Article II of the Articles of Incorporation of the Duluth Casualty Association be and the same is hereby amended by adding to the end of the first paragraph of said article the following: "The net rates for life insurance written by this association shall be equal to the rates known as the National Fraternal Congress Rates, with four per cent interest."

Resolved Further, That Article VIII of said Articles of Incorporation be amended by inserting in lieu of the first paragraph of said article the following: "The government of said corporation and the management of its affairs shall be vested in a board of nine directors, each of whom shall be a member of the corporation. Three directors shall be elected to serve for three years, three for two years, and three for one year, and annually thereafter three members of said board shall be elected at the annual meeting of the members of said corporation to serve for three years or until their successors are elected and qualified. The following members shall constitute the first board of directors to serve under this amendment, to-wit: For three years, James A. Wharton, Christ Jensen and Niels Nissen; for two years, J. E. Nyquist, W. H. Salter and E. R. Smith; for one year, M. B. Benson, George Fairley and Niels Rasmussen."

Resolved Further, That Article IX of said Articles of Incorporation be amended by inserting in lieu of the first paragraph of said article the following: "The officers of said corporation shall consist of a President, Vice President, Secretary, Treasurer, Medical Director, Attorney, and such other officers as the board of directors shall deem necessary. Said officers shall be elected annually by the board of directors at the annual meeting of said board."

IN TESTIMONY WHEREOF, said Duluth Casualty Association has caused this certificate to be executed by its President and Secretary, and its corporate seal to be hereto affixed this 19th day of May, A. D. 1913.

JAMES A. WHARTON, President.

CERTIFICATE OF INCORPORATION —OF— MISSION IRON COMPANY.

KNOW ALL MEN BY THESE PRESENTS, That, we, the undersigned, whose names are hereto subscribed, desiring to form a corporation for the purpose of carrying on the mechanical business of mining and reducing ores and minerals, do hereby associate ourselves together and agree to be and become a corporation under and by virtue of the appropriate provisions of Chapter 58 of the Revised Laws of Minnesota of 1905, and of the several acts amendatory thereof and supplemental thereto, and to that end and for that purpose, we do hereby agree to, adopt and sign the following Articles of Incorporation and Certificate, that is to say:

ARTICLE I.

The name of the corporation shall be MISSION IRON COMPANY.

The general nature of the business of the corporation, and the objects and purposes for which it is formed, are and shall be the mining, smelting, reducing, refining and working of iron ores and other minerals, and the manufacture of iron, steel, copper and other metals.

The principal place of transacting the business of the corporation shall be in the city of Duluth, Minnesota, but the corporation may have offices and transact business in such other states of the United States as its Board of Directors shall, from time to time, designate.

ARTICLE II.

The time of commencement of the corporation shall be the second day of June, A. D. 1913, and the period of its continuance and duration shall be thirty years, and the corporation may be renewed from time to time for further periods, each of thirty years.

ARTICLE III.

The names and places of residence of the persons forming the corporation are as follows:

Marcus B. Cullum, Duluth, Minnesota.
Albert C. Hubbell, Duluth, Minnesota.
Peter C. Ouellette, Duluth, Minnesota.

The government of the corporation and the management of its affairs shall be vested in a Board of three Directors, who shall be stockholders of the corporation.

The members of the Board of Directors shall be elected at the annual meeting of the stockholders of the corporation, or at any adjournment thereof, for the period of one year and until their successors are elected and qualified.

The first Board of Directors of the corporation shall consist of Marcus B. Cullum, Albert C. Hubbell, and Peter C. Ouellette, and they shall hold office until the first annual meeting of the stockholders of the corporation as provided for in this Article and until their successors are elected and qualified.

The first meeting of the incorporators and of the Board of Directors shall be held, without any notice thereof, at No. 1400 in the Alworth Building, in Duluth, Minnesota, on the 3rd day of June, 1913, at ten and ten thirty o'clock in the forenoon thereof, respectively.

The first annual meeting of the stockholders of the corporation shall be held, without any notice thereof, at its office in Duluth, Minnesota, on June 1, 1914, at the hour of twelve o'clock noon.

Thereafter, without requirement of further notice than is herein given, the annual meeting of the stockholders of the corporation shall be held at its office in Duluth, Minnesota, on the first Monday in June in each year, at the hour of twelve o'clock noon.

The Board of Directors shall hold, without any notice thereof, its first meeting for the year immediately after the election of the Directors at said annual meeting, or at any adjournment thereof. At said meeting, the Board of Directors shall elect from its own number a President and a Vice President, and shall also elect a Secretary and a Treasurer, who need not be members of the Board of Directors, all of whom shall constitute the officers of the corporation and shall hold office for one year and until their successors have been elected and qualified.

The offices of Vice President and of Treasurer, or of Secretary and of Treasurer, may be held by the same person.

Any vacancies in the Board of Directors or in any of said offices may be filled by the Board of Directors for the unexpired term.

The Board of Directors is invested with complete and unrestricted authority in the management of the affairs of the corporation, and is authorized to exercise for such purpose, as the general agent of the corporation, its entire corporate authority.

Until the first election of officers by the Board of Directors immediately following the first annual meeting of the stockholders of the corporation, to be held in June, 1914, the officers of the corporation shall be as follows: Marcus B. Cullum shall be the President, Albert C. Hubbell shall be the Vice President, and Peter C. Ouellette shall be the Secretary and the Treasurer.

ARTICLE V.

The amount of the capital stock of the corporation shall be Two Hundred Thousand Dollars ($200,000.00), which shall be divided into two hundred thousand (200,000) shares of the par value of One Dollar ($1.00) each. Said capital stock shall be paid in from time to time as called for by the Board of Directors, and such stock, or any part thereof, may be paid for in cash at par or by services or property of the actual value of the stock so paid for.

ARTICLE VI.

The highest amount of indebtedness or liability to which the corporation shall at any time be subject shall be Two Hundred Thousand Dollars ($200,000.00).

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, We, the undersigned, have hereunto set our hands and seals, in triplicate, at Duluth, Minnesota, this 27th day of May, A. D. 1913.

"FAULTLESS" HOUDANS.

This strain has been egg-bred from trapnest records since April, 1890. I have bred them 24 years for great layers and 12 years for large-size chalk-white eggs. These fowls are extremely hardy, have neither comb nor wattle to freeze, and are the best all-winter layers in open-front coops. "Faultless" strain Houdans have won every blue ribbon at New York, Boston, Chicago and Philadelphia shows for past six years. Eggs and stock sold on honor. Send 10 cents for the largest illustrated poultry catalogue ever issued; it tells you how to breed these fowls, which average 250 eggs a year apiece; it tells you how to net $3,000 a year from 100 hens. POSTOFFICE ACCOUNTS WERE JUGGLED TO SHOW FALSE PROFIT DURING HITCHCOCK'S REGIME

REPORT TO BURLESON IS MADE PUBLIC

Reported Surplus in 1911 Really a Deficit of Over $750,000.

Service Made to Suffer in Order to Make Good Showing.

Appointments to Office Held Up for Months at a Time.

Washington, May 31.—The postoffice department did not attain a condition of self-support during the administration of Postmaster General Hitchcock, notwithstanding the widely-advertised announcement to that effect, although an apparent surplus was attained by unjustifiable methods of bookkeeping.

The general morale and efficiency of the postal service were sacrificed to a ruthlessly enforced policy of false economy for the sole purpose of presenting a showing of self-maintenance; and after the attainment of this end, just before the inauguration of the new administration, the policy was reversed. Long-standing vacancies were filled and postponed promotions made; commitments to fixed charges for long terms were assumed in such a way as to saddle the new administration with the greatly increased expense during months, if not years, to come.

These are the important points in the report of a committee of postoffice officers which has made a minute "survey" of the department's general condition. The report is addressed to Postmaster General Albert Sidney Burleson, who made it public today, and is signed by Daniel C. Roper, Joseph Stewart, A. M. Dockery, James I. Blaksiee and Merritt O. Chance, respectively first.

ACCUSED OF JUGGLING POST OFFICE ACCOUNTS

FRANK H. HITCHCOCK, Former Postmaster General.

NORTH DAKOTA MAN ASPHYXIATED IN WELL

John Peregrin Is Overcome By Fumes Following Blast.

Bottineau, N. D., May 31.—(Special to The Herald.)—Fumes created in a well by the blasting of rock asphyxiated John Peregrin, a well digger, and his body, lying at the bottom of the fifty-seven-foot excavation, has not yet been recovered.

A helper attempted to descend the well to recover the body and nearly lost his life.

Peregrin signalled to be hauled out almost immediately after he reached the bottom, but fell from the tackle when about half way up.

EKERN WINS IN FIGHT FOR JOB

Wisconsin Supreme Court Decides Against Governor McGovern.

Effort to Oust Insurance Commissioner Is Declared Illegal.

Madison, Wis., May 31.—The state supreme court today ruled in favor of State Insurance Commissioner Herman L. Ekern in the suit in which Governor Francis E. McGovern sought to remove him from office.

Governor McGovern sought to remove Ekern for alleged malfeasance in office, and went so far as to have Supt. of Public Property W. L. Essman and two deputy sheriffs endeavor to remove the commissioner by force. The attempt was frustrated by the issuance of an injunction by Circuit Judge E. Ray Stevens of Dane county.

Judge Stevens decided against forcible removal by the governor, but contended that the chief executive had the power to remove an appointive official. A truce was agreed to pending an opinion of the supreme court.

Rulings of Court.

The high court, in ruling for the plaintiff, Ekern, made these conclusions:

"Under the jurisdictional requisites stated, the supreme court found that the governor committed the following jurisdictional errors:

1—No sufficient notice of the hearing was granted.

"2—The cause assigned for the removal was not within the statute.

"3—Fair opportunity was not afforded Mr. Ekern to present his case.

"4—The evidence produced, in no fair view of it, made a case against Mr. Ekern within the statute."

MILLER NOT SATISFIED

Duluth Congressman Disappointed Over Committee Assignment.

"Pronounced Progressive Republican" Gets Place He Wanted.

From The Herald Washington Bureau.

Washington, May 31.—In the house committee assignments for this congress Representative Clarence B. Miller of Duluth suffered disappointment. He wanted a place on the committee on appropriations, but was left on the committee on Indian affairs.

There were two reasons for keeping Mr. Miller on that committee. One was that he has been the most active and hardest worker on the committee, and the other was that Minority Leader Mann wanted to keep Representative Davis, a pronounced Progressive Republican, in line, and therefore gave him the place on the appropriation committee. Mr. Davis has attended the Republican caucuses, and it has been expected for some time that he would be rewarded with the place on the committee on appropriations.

Miller on Insular Affairs.

In addition to the berth on Indian affairs, Representative Miller is assigned to the committee on insular affairs, which will consider the question of granting independence to the Filipinos and where he will be expected to stand for the Republican view that independence should not be granted at this time.

Representative Anderson of the First Minnesota district was assigned to the committee on ways and means before the tariff bill was reported, and Representative Hammond, the Democrat from the Second district, also had been given a berth there. Davis, as stated before, is placed on the committee on appropriations.

Representative Smith of Minneapolis fares well for a new member. He is assigned to the committees on banking and currency, and the census. Stevens f St. Paul remains ranking Republican member of the committee on interstate commerce. Volstead is advanced from the committee on public lands to the top of the Republican list on the committee on judiciary. Steenerson remains on the committee on postoffices and post roads.

Lindbergh on Currency.

Representative Lindbergh, who has jumped clear over into the Bull Moose party has been assigned to the committee on banking and currency as the representative of that party. He will be in better position than before to "chase the money devil," which has been his chief occupation for several sessions.

Representative James Manahan, congressman-at-large, has been assigned to two active working committees, immigration and merchant marine and fisheries, and to the moribund committee on alcoholic liquor traffic.

PLAN INQUIRY INTO WEST VIRGINIA MINES

Senators to Act Under Kern Resolution Finally Meet.

Washington, May 31.—Consideration of plans for the senate probe of conditions in the strike zone of the West Virginia coal fields was begun today by the senate committee on education and labor.

After four days of effort, advocates of the investigation finally succeeded in getting the committee together. It was expected that the investigation would be begun by a sub-committee which will visit the strike district and take the testimony of mine owners, strikers and officers of the militia.

A subcommittee to take charge of the investigation was appointed with Senator Swanson of Virginia as chairman. Senators Martine, Shields, Borah and Kenyon make up the committee.

No definite plans were formulated today but the subcommittee will meet again Monday. It is expected that before the senators go to West Virginia a general investigation will be begun here.

TRY TO BURN ART GALLERY

Persons Supposed to Have Been Suffragettes Fire Royal Academy.

Mrs. Pankhurst Is Said to Be at Point of Death.

London, May 31.—An attempt was made last night to set fire to the Royal academy. Although the usual "votes for women" placards were not found, the police suspect that militant suffragettes were responsible for the attempt to destroy the building, in which are housed some of the world's greatest works of art.

Shortly after the exhibition closed for the night, a watchman discovered, in a small room on the ground floor, a cardboard box filled with rags and cotton, saturated with oil. A number of matches were in the box. Four of these were burning when the watchman found the box, which had been so placed that the flames from it easily would have communicated to the walls.

Destruction Resumed.

The suffragettes resumed their campaign of destruction last night in the Lewisham branch postoffice, which they had attacked several times previously. They set fire to the letters in the building and the flames were extinguished only after a number of letters had been destroyed.

Bottles containing corrosive mixtures and addressed to Reginald McKenna, home secretary, were found in a mail box. Railway telegraph and telephone wires were cut in various places in Wales. Suffragette literature was found scattered near the scenes of these depredations.

Automobile drivers and cyclists in the Doncaster districts made complaint that tacks which punctured their tires

SENATORS START HUNTING FOR LOBBY

Committee Will Ask Extension of Time for Its Task.

Washington, May 31.—The senate judiciary committee met today to begin the hunt for the tariff lobby that President Wilson has declared threatens the integrity of the tariff bill. Acting Chairman Overman did not expect the sub-committee to begin the examination of witnesses until next week, although several senators were prepared to submit names. Members of the committee today were planning to ask the senate to extend the ten days allowed to twenty.

Senators Overman, Reed, Walsh, Cummins and Nelson today were selected by the senate judiciary committee as a subcommittee to conduct the "lobby" investigation directed by the senate.

SEVENTY FALL DURING FIGHT

Mexican Regulars and Rebels in Battle at Columbia.

Brownsville Officials Are Charged With Breaking Neutrality.

Laredo, Tex., May 31.—Seventy Mexican regulars and Constitutionalists were reported killed in a battle early today at Columbia, on the Rio Grande, twenty-five miles above Laredo. Twenty rebels later crossed the international boundary and were apprehended by the Fourteenth United States cavalry.

Election Not Yet Called.

Mexico City, May 31.—No intimation has yet been given by Provisional President Huerta as to when he will issue the decree calling a presidential election. It is considered certain that he will not delay for long the formality of issuing an official call, as both houses of congress have passed a measure fixing October 26 as the date.

Gen. Felix Diaz is the only candidate who has frankly entered his name for the election, but it is regarded as probable that he will be met by the opposition perhaps of Manuel Calero, former Mexican ambassador at Washington, and possibly of Francisco De La Barra, minister for foreign affairs, as the representative of the Catholic party. The tone of a large part of the press and the expressions of opinion of many people, including numerous friends of Felix Diaz, indicate that his popularity has waned and that there is little chance of his election.

AUTOMOBILE KILLS WOMAN

Three St. Paul Men Are Held By the Red Wing Police.

Are Alleged to Have Driven Away After Striking Woman.

Red Wing, Minn., May 31.—Three St. Paul men, R. H. Babcock, Andrew Berkey and S. M. Clausen, were arrested today charged with running down and killing Mrs. Alfred Anderson of this place last night. The men were taken into custody at Berkey's summer home at Lake City and brought to Red Wing, where they are held without bail.

Mrs. Anderson, who was 50 years old, was struck by an automobile, alleged to have been occupied by the three men, and terribly crushed, every bone in her body being broken. One leg was severed and her skull crushed. Her body was picked up forty feet from where it was struck.

The police say the automobile was going at a very rapid speed and did not stop when it struck the woman.

The men arrested are all well known in St. Paul. Babcock is at the head of an automobile company; Berkey is engaged in the automobile business, and Clausen is a son of City Engineer Oscar Clausen of that city.

NESS SENTENCED TO PAY FINE OF $500

North Dakotan Has Alternative of Thirty Days in Jail.

Bismarck, N. D., May 31.—Benjamin J. Ness of Devils Lake, convicted in district court here this week of having attempted to bribe two members of the North Dakota legislature, was today sentenced to pay a fine of $500 or to serve thirty days in the county jail. The jury recommended to the court, in its verdict that extreme leniency be shown to Ness.

BRYAN PROCLAIMS THE SEVENTEENTH AMENDMENT A LAW

Washington, May 31.—In the presence of a distinguished company, including many legislators who had to do with its adoption, Secretary Bryan today signed the formal announcement of the Seventeenth amendment to the Constitution, providing for the direct election of senators.

Secretary Bryan used four pens to sign the proclamation.

The first, which he used to write "William," went to Representative Tucker of Virginia; the second, with which he wrote "Jennings," went to Representative Rucker of Missouri; the third, with which he wrote "Bryan," he kept for himself, and that with which he wrote the date he delivered to Senator Borah of Idaho.

To those assembled Mr. Bryan expressed his gratification at being the official to proclaim the constitutional change.

TALLY-HO HAS 50-FOOT FALL

Goes Over Embankment Near Denver—Thirty Reported Hurt.

Denver, Colo., May 31.—A tally-ho in which forty people were riding was hurled down a fifty-foot embankment at Mount Morrison park, near here, late last night. Thirty persons are reported injured, many seriously.

The party had left Denver early in the day to spend Memorial day fishing on Turkey creek, beyond Mount Morrison. It was composed of two tally-hos laden with young couples from this city on the return trip, and after dark, while the lead tally-ho was entering a narrow trail along the cliff-side, another conveyance attempted to pass. The driver of the tally-ho, it is reported pulled his horses sharply to the right and the animals, becoming frightened, plunged with the tally-ho down to the bottom of the cliff.

Members of the party in the second tally-ho hastened to Mount Morrison for assistance and all the physicians available were taken from the little resort town to the scene of the accident. Calls for ambulances were hurriedly sent in to Denver and all the motor ambulances which could be found were hurried to the rescue.

It is not known, as yet, if any of the party were killed, but reports are positive that many of them are badly injured. All of the injured will be returned to Denver.

JAPAN TO SEND NEW NOTE ON LAND LAWS

Believes United States Has Not Yet Said Final Word.

Tokio, May 31.—Another note from the Japanese government dealing with the questions arising out of the recent California alien land ownership legislation is to be forwarded shortly to Washington.

The idea that the United States has not said her final word is prevalent here, and it is intimated in authoritative circles by inference that no official action is to be initiated yet by Japan.

The formation of a Japanese association in the United States for the purpose of co-operating with the Japanese government is greatly favored here, and the object of the members of this society, when it is formed, will be to reach a permanent solution of the difficulty by means of a new treaty or by a change in naturalization laws.

IRON RIVER, MICH., MAN IS ROBBED

Charles Smith Slugged in Chicago and $1,100 Legacy Taken.

Chicago, May 31.—Charles Smith was robbed of $1,100 early this morning in front of the Chicago & Northwestern station, while he was waiting to catch a train for Iron River, Mich., where he lives. The money was his share of a legacy which he collected yesterday.

Smith was found raving and trying to tear out his hair. He explained that two men had attacked him from behind, struck him with a piece of pipe and robbed him.

"I would rather kill myself than go home and tell my wife that I was robbed," he said to the police.

EXTRA!

NEWETT RETRACTS AND ROOSEVELT IS AWARDED 6 CENTS

Marquette, Mich., May 31.,—George A. Newett went on the witness stand this afternoon and retracted the alleged libel charging Roosevelt with drunkenness. He said he had been impressed that an injustice had been don tthe colonel in the publication of the article, and deeply regretted it. The plaintiff then, in person, asked the judge to instruct the jury o bring in merely nominal damages.

The court did as requested and the jury returned a verdict giving Col. Roosevelt 6 cents damages.

Marquette, Mich., May 31.—The examination of witnesses in the libel suit of Theodore Roosevelt against George A. Newett, proceeded with speed today and it was expected that by night the direct evidence for the plaintiff, including depositions, would be before the jury.

The character of the evidence introduced during the forenoon was unvarying in character. It was to the effect that Col. Roosevelt has always been very abstemious.

The witnesses who testified personally were Joseph E. Bayless of Sault Ste. Marie, who testified to having read the alleged libelous article; Emlen Roosevelt, a first cousin of Col. Roosevelt; Frank Tyree and James Sloan, secret service men, and William P. Shauffele, a railroad man who handled one of the Roosevelt itineraries in Ohio.

Depositions Were Read.

Depositions of Albert Shaw, the editor; George B. Cortelyou, former private secretary to President Roosevelt, and later in his cabinet; Lawrence H. Graham, a newspaperman, and George Roosevelt, whose father is a cousin of

AEROPLANE BOOSTS SUFFRAGE CAUSE

New York, May 31.—A woman suffrage campaign carried on in the air, was a Memorial day novelty here. Miss "General" Rosalie Jones, who commanded the suffragist bands that marched from New York to Albany and from New York to Washington, was taken up in an aeroplane by Harry B. Brown, flying from Staten Island. Carrying with her a quantity of suffrage literature, Miss Jones distributed it from a height of several hundred feet. A tail of yellow circulars fluttered in the aeroplane's wake.

Norwegian Ship Dashed to Pieces.

Yarmouth, N. S., May 31.—The Norwegian ship Freia, which went ashore yesterday at Sunday Point, near here, in a sixty-mile gale, was literally dashed to pieces during the night. Her valuable cargo of lumber is strewn for miles along the coast. Capt. Olsen, his wife and the crew were saved.

The Freia arrived here from Montevideo, via Barbadoes, on March 20, in ballast to load lumber for Bahia Blanca. She was a three-masted ship, full rigged.

Crookston Man Takes Life.

Crookston, Minn., May 31.—(Special to The Herald.)—Adolph Remshardt, aged 31, single, an engineer on the Great Northern, who has been ill for several months, went into the woodshed at his parents' home this afternoon, swallowed a dose of carbolic acid and shot himself through the head, dying instantly. Despondency is blamed.

KEEP BUSY ON TARIFF BILL

Senators Abandon Usual Holiday Over the Week End.

Diamond Importers Get Reduction in That Schedule.

Washington, May 31.—Senators on the finance sub-committee working on the tariff bill foreswore the usual week-end holidays and continued their task. The sub-committee working on administrative features considered the possibility of amending the "anti-dumping" clause to take in articles on the free list, and worked on a modification of the provision to compel foreign manufacturers to show their books to American customs agents. Several nations have protested against it.

Neither the house nor the senate was in session today.

Reduce Diamond Duty.

Diamond importers have scored a victory before the senate sub-committee in charge of the sundries schedule of the tariff bill, the committee having decided upon a reduction in the proposed Underwood rate of 200 per cent ad valorem on cut diamonds. The present rate of 10 per cent may be restored but it seems more probable that a 15 per cent rate eventually will be determined upon.

When importer after importer appeared before the committee and declared that any rate over 10 per cent on cut diamonds would increase and greatly encourage smuggling, the members of the committee began to investigate their statements. Finally, when the large importers insisted that a high rate on cut diamonds, assessed with a view to obtaining revenue on a luxury, would force some importers to ally themselves with the smugglers, the committee took the matter up with the customs officials.

Would Buy From Smugglers.

Members of the Diamond Trade Tariff League of New York had declared that a 20 per cent duty would force dealers to buy diamonds from smugglers despite their unwillingness to do so, and that in many cases they would buy smuggled goods unknowingly.

Customs officals were inclined to verify this view, and informed members of the committee that they would be opposed to so high a rate.

The outlook now is that the Democratic caucus will report to the senate about June 26.

SEVERAL REPORTED KILLED IN CYCLONE

Government's Big Wireless Tower at Norfolk, Va., Is Wrecked.

Norfolk, Va., May 31.—Accompanied by rain and hail, a cyclonic wind storm passed over this section Friday afternoon and a number of lives are reported lost.

Twenty houses were blown down in Berkeley and South Norfolk, but no one was killed there so far as known. Mrs. George Harper was seriously injured when her home was blown down and a number of others were hurt by falling timbers and flying glass.

Scores of small craft were turned over and several are reported to have been carried to sea. The tug Katie Twohy signaled a Bay line steamer that a small sailing craft went down with several men aboard.

The big wireless mast in the navy yard was wrecked and will be out of commission for at least a week. The receiving ship Franklin was damaged. The Tunis Lumber company, Greenleaf, Johnson Lumber company and Fosburgh Lumber company, all located on the Berkeley side of the Elizabeth river, sustained heavy losses.

The city was in darkness for two hours. An audience gathered in a theater sang songs in the darkness while the orchestra played patriotic airs.

WHY IS IT?

HOBOES ADORN PAUPERS' GRAVES.

Chicago, May 31.—For the first time in the city's history, the graves of the paupers at Dunning, the Cook county poor farm, were strewn with flowers yesterday. The remembrance was from Local No. 2 of the Itinerant Workers' association, known as the "Hoboes' union."

Several hundred men and women gathered in the Potter's field. Services were held and numerous members of the union spoke.

Resolutions were adopted declaring that "Potter's fields" are a disgrace to civilization.

GRADUATION EXERCISES

Plans for "Commencement" Being Made in All City Schools.

Graduation in the city schools is claiming a good deal of attention these days.

In the grades, the high school, the normal, the parochial schools and even in the kindergartens the "commencement" exercises are being planned.

The normal school exercises will begin tomorrow with the baccalaureate sermon at 3:30 at the assembly hall of the school by Rev. Charles N. Thorp and extend through the week with closing exercises for the training department on Tuesday. Class day for normal seniors Wednesday, and commence exercises Friday morning.

At the Central high school the exercises will commence Sunday, June 8, with vesper service at the new St. Paul's Episcopal church at 5 p. m. Class night exercises will be held at the high school on Tuesday evening, the junior-senior ball on Thursday evening, June 12, at the Masonic temple and commencement day exercises Friday evening, June 13 at the high school.

Graduating exercises will be held in all of the public schools on Friday afternoon, June 13, each school preparing its own program.

The dates for the parochial schools, in grades and high schools have been set for the week of June 13.

Mrs. Pankhurst Released.

Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst, the militant suffragette leader, was again released from Holloway jail last evening. She was removed in a motor ambulance to a friend's house.

Mrs. Pankhurst started a "hunger-strike" as soon as she was reincarcerated on May 26, after enjoying a temporary release on account of her "hunger strike" a month ago.

Mrs. Pankhurst is being closely guarded by the police at the home of a friend in the west end of London. They report that she is not as ill as she was at the time of her former release from prison, but the officials of the Women's Social and Political union declare that she is at the point of death. No visitors are permitted to see Mrs. Pankhurst.

ROOSEVELT LIBEL SUIT MOVES MORE RAPIDLY

the ex-president, were read by Attorney Van Benchoten.

Emlen Roosevelt, first cousin of Theodore Roosevelt, who is probably more familiar with the life of the former president than any other of the witnesses in the suit, testified today to the abstemiousness of the plaintiff.

Mr. Roosevelt was preceded on the stand by Joseph E. Bayless of Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., who identified the alleged libelous article in the Ishpeming Iron Ore as one he had read. This affirmation was practically all that was required of him, as it was introduced to show that the allegation of drunkenness against Col. Roosevelt had general circulation.

Depositions to Be Read.

It was announced by James H. Pound, chief counsel for Col. Roosevelt, that after the testimony of the plaintiff's witnesses numerous depositions on behalf of the colonel will be offered as tending to show that Col. Roosevelt used intoxicants only moderately. It may be two or three days into next week before the case is turned over to the defense. It was stated in court that the defense also will offer several score of depositions, many from people residing in Ohio.

Must Pass on Law on Libel.

Lawyers in attendance at the trial are looking forward with great interest to a prospective ruling by Judge Flannigan, construing section 10,425 of the Michigan compiled laws, bearing on libel.

The law was designed to protect newspapers from the consequences of honest mistakes, and provides that a demand for a retraction of a libelous article should be made by the offended party. Col. Roosevelt made no such demand, it is admitted, and on this point the legal experts are looking for interesting developments. The matter will come up when counsel for Mr. Newett attempts to show that the editor made his charge of drunkenness in good faith and without malice, believing it to be true. Judge Flannigan will have to rule, assuming that the article was printed maliciously, but in the absence of a demand for a retraction, whether the alleged bad faith of Mr. Newett may be taken into account in estimating the damages.

Cousin Testifies.

Emlen Roosevelt said he was 56 years old and said that his father and the father of the plaintiff, who were brothers, had been closely associated in business. To the surprise of everybody the examination was very brief.

It was announced that an afternoon session of court would be held.

"What has been your association with your cousin?" asked Attorney Pound for the plaintiff.

"Very intimate. I have been with him for two weeks at a time. When we were boys we lived near each other. Later I was with him on hunting trips. I was with him when he was sworn in as president at Washington, and also when he took the oath as president at Buffalo on the death of President McKinley. I made trips with him in the Mayflower, the government boat placed at his service. I have been in a position to know every detail of his public and his private life."

Not a Drinker.

"What has been your observation through your senses of smell and sight as to whether he was a drinking man?"

"My observation was that he is not a drinker."

"Has he ever been under the influence of liquor?"

"Never was, so far as I observed."

"What has been his habit in reference to profanity?"

"He doesn't use it."

The witness was excused without cross examination.

William Loeb, Jr., collector of customs of the port of New York, testified that he first met Col. Roosevelt when the latter became governor of New York. During the seven and one-half years of the Roosevelt administration, Mr. Loeb said he was associated with the president, first as assistant secretary to him and later as his secretary.

Loeb Tells Story.

Mr. Loeb said he saw Col. Roosevelt as president every day, including holidays.

"I was in touch with him during all his working hours, from 9 a. m. until midnight," said the witness.

"To what extent did he indulge in intoxicants?"

"He was as temperate as any man I ever saw."

"What can you say as to his drinking wine on his trips?"

"Occasionally he took a little white wine, on advice of Dr. Rixey."

"Did you ever perceive the odor of liquor on his breath?"

"Never."

Asked about state dinners at the White House, Mr. Loeb said:

"I attended those dinners, because they were under my charge. Col. Roosevelt usually drank a little champagne."

"How many glasses did he drink?"

"One or two glasses."

At Oyster Bay.

In the summer, Mr. Loeb explained, the president carried on the government business at Oyster Bay, where he said the colonel's habits of sobriety were strictly adhered to.

"On your trips about the country with him, was he immoderate in the use of intoxicants?"

"He was extremely moderate. On very exhausting days he sometimes took a little liquor in milk."

"In the last fifteen years would it have been possible for Mr. Roosevelt to have gotten drunk, not only once, but frequently, without your knowing it?"

"It would have been impossible."

"What about porter, beer and ale? Did he drink it?"

"I never saw him take malt."

The attorney for the plaintiff next directed attention to the reception given by the then Speaker Cannon, on the occasion of his 70th birthday.

At Cannon's Reception.

"Did you go with the president to this reception?" asked the lawyer.

"The president, myself and Mr. Sloan, the secret service man, left the White House to go to the dinner at 9 o'clock. I also came home with him."

"What was his condition as to sobriety?" asked Attorney Pound.

"Sober."

"Did you see him take a drink during the hour he was there?"

"I saw him go with the speaker and drink a glass of champagne."

"One?"

"Yes, one."

"Leaving the reception and going to the White House, will you tell the jury whether he was under the influence of liquor?"

"Absolutely not."

Witness referred to a record kept by the White House usher, and then testified that Col. Roosevelt returned to the White House at 11:20 p. m.

The witness, cross-examined by Attorney Horace Andrews, said he was kept busy at the White House and had twenty stenographers in his charge. He was excused after a brief examination.

There was no lack of interest in the case, and Judge Flannigan's courtroom was filled when the case was resumed. The afternoon session was determined upon in an effort to complete, if possible, the plaintiff's evidence. The examinations were more brief and speedy than heretofore.

Secret Service Man Testifies.

Frank Tyree, United States marshal of the Southern district of West Virginia, who was in the secret service during the Roosevelt administration and who was detailed to accompany the president on various trips, next testified.

"What was your duty?"

"I was detailed to look after the president, to protect him against cranks and to take precautions for his personal safety."

"How close in touch were you with him?"

"Very close; I went with him to banquets, churches, theaters and trains. At Oyster Bay there were eight of us on this duty."

"What was the truth as to his sobriety while you were with him?"

"He always was perfectly sober."

"You never saw him under the influence of liquor?"

"Certainly not," said Tyree sharply.

Took "Wine Highball."

"At his meals what kind of liquor did you see him consume?

"None whatever. I never saw him drink whisky at all. At banquets I have seen him take white wine with water in it—a wine highball, I'd call it."

Coming to a visit to Milwaukee in 1903, when he was a guest of the Deutscher club, Tyree told how the colonel was pressed to take a glass of beer.

"'I don't drink beer,' the president said."

"'But this is the drink that made our city famous,' it was argued, and as a concession the president took one swallow."

Attorney Andrews, on cross-examination, brought out answers showing the vigilance exercised by the secret service men.

Quizzed James Sloan.

The next witness was James Sloan, a secret service man.

Sloan said he was now detailed to the White House to look after the personal safety of President Wilson, just as he had been assigned to Col. Roosevelt. At banquets away from the White House, Sloan said, he always knew in advance what was to be served for drinking. At Oyster Bay, in the summer, he said, he remained outdoors at the dining room window when the president was at dinner.

"From your intimate observation of what Mr. Roosevelt ate and drank, what would you say as to his sobriety—and was he sober or drunk?"

"Always sober."

Took His Arm.

Witness said because of the near-sightedness of the president he often took his arm in walking.

"Was there any intemperance that caused you to take his arm and assist him?"

"There was not."

Sloan said he accompanied the president to Mr. Cannon's seventieth birthday anniversary banquet, and on that occasion the colonel drank nothing other than one glass of wine.

Witness was given only a brief cross-examination.

William P. Shauffele, a railroad official, testified that in May, 1912, he started from New York on a campaign trip with Col. Roosevelt.

"How was your car stocked with liquor?"

"There was no liquor on the car." Throughout that trip the witness said he never saw the colonel drink beer, wine or whisky.

Talked Like Sober Man.

"In all of Mr. Roosevelt's speeches, what can you say as to whether they were incoherent or peculiar?"

"His speeches were those of a sober man."

Attorney Van Benchoten, for the plaintiff, next read the deposition of Albert Shaw, editor of the American Review of Reviews at New York. Mr. Shaw became acquainted with Col. Roosevelt while the latter was police commissioner of New York. Witness told of frequent meetings with the plaintiff throughout his career.

The deponent's observation was that Col. Roosevelt was a man of exceedingly temperate habits.

The deposition was sprinkled with objection but Mr. Andrews waived most of these as Attorney Van Benschoten came to them. Mr. Shaw described Col. Roosevelt as a man of great vitality, of great industry and having a sound scheme of life. Mr. Shaw had observed Col. Roosevelt drinking tea when stronger drinks were being served to others present.

Cortelyou's Affidavit.

The next deposition was that of George B. Cortelyou, who was secretary of commerce and labor in the Roosevelt administration and later secretary of the treasury. When President McKinley was assassinated Mr. Cortelyou became secretary to President Roosevelt. At all times, he said, he was in close touch with the president, except on some campaign trips.

He swore that the Colonel was a man of abstemious habits.

Brownsville, alleging neutrality law violations, have been preferred by Mayor M. Barragan of Matamoras, Mex., in a letter addressed to Mayor A. B. Cole of this city. Mayor Barragan charges that certain of the Brownsville officials have engaged in passing arms and ammunition across the boundary to supply the forces of the rebel leader, Blanco, whose army is encamped within a short distance of Matamoras. Mayor Cole has asked the deputy United States marshal and Capt. Walker of Troop M, Fourteenth cavalry, stationed here, to investigate the charges.

Capt. Manuel Hermosillo of the Federal garrison at Matamoras was shot and killed when he attempted to arrest Martin Espinosa, former city secretary of Matamoras, yesterday, who at the time was under the guard of Capt. Lorenzo Lopez of the volunteer forces. Lopez questioned Hermosillo's authority to arrest his charge, and after a brief argument both men drew their pistols, but Lopez is said to have fired first. He is being held incommunicado.

Espinosa was ousted from office at the time of the fall of the Madero government, and when the rebels came within striking distance of Matamoras last week, he joined the refugees who crossed to Brownsville. He was granted a permit to visit Matamoras and Lopez was assigned to guard him.

Shoot At Aviator.

Nogales, Ariz., May 31.—While Aviator Didier Masson sailed his big biplane over the guns at Guerrero in Guymas bay, the ship's gunners attempted to shell the aeroplane, which remained at a height of 5,000 feet. None of the shells took effect, nor did Masson attempt to drop any bombs. To show his defiance of the Federal gunners, he made five flights over the bay.

IOWAN GIVES ADDRESS.

President of Hawkeye College Speaks to Cloquet Graduates.

Cloquet, Minn., May 31.—(Special to The Herald.)—A class of twenty-six graduated from the Cloquet high school at the exercises held in the Nelson opera house last evening. After a few musical selections Dr. R. Watson Cooper, president of Upper Iowa university, delivered the commencement address. His theme was along educational lines and his oratory and fluency of speach made a great impression upon the large audience assembled. Dr. Cooper received his honorary degree from the Connecticut Wesleyan at Middleton, Conn., at the same time the honors were bestowed upon ex-President Taft.

The following received diplomas: Fern Adams, Elizabeth Batters, Fannie Brattlof, Lucile Brunnelle, Maurice Brunnelle, Myrtle Campbell, Charlotte Coad, Amy Collins, Mary Ethel Doddridge, Nellie Erwin, Bessie George, Agnes Gorham, Myrtle Gorham, Francis Leslie Howell, Alma Johnson, Anna Johnson, Bertha Johnson, Gladys Johnson, Myrtle Johnson, Clarence Keller, Fred Lindberg, Alma Norman, Mollie Norman, Iva Olson, Emma Siemer and Corrine Stapleton.

ELABORATE FIREWORKS

Some Remarkable Displays Planned for Duluth Summer Carnivals.

Will Be Given Each Friday Evening During the Season.

The fireworks display, which will be made on Friday evening at each of the Lark o' the Lake celebrations, will be the most elaborate ever attempted in the Northwest.

The fireworks will be shown from a float in the water off of the boat club. The company from which the material has been purchased, will send a man to Duluth to take charge of the display. The fireworks will be absolutely safe. There will not be a stick connected with a rocket, nor will anything be sent out over the water that will endanger the people in the stands or in boats.

The safe and sane Fourth agitation has caused the fireworks companies to give special attention to displays at civic celebrations in order to perpetuate their business. Duluth is ideally situated for such a display on account of its position on the waterfront, and the exhibition of the possibilities of fireworks that will be put on here will be the greatest ever given outside of Coney Island. It will be a regular Coney Island display.

The program of fireworks will be substantially the same at each celebration. Before the beginning of the regular program, a salute of aerial guns will be given. During the intervals, between the flash and the sound signal, a string of balloons will be sent up. The entire scene will be illuminated by red and blue lights of intense brilliancy. In succession twelve colored rocket bombs, six fire geysers ad six parachute rocket bombs will be sent up. A special device will be used to show "Welcome to Lark o' the Lake," in fire. Weeping willow bombs, an aerial garden and an electric device, termed "Devil Among the Tailors," will be shown, followed by a flight of stickless rocket bombs.

Flying eagles, popples in the corn field, the old cherry tree, the aerial wheat sheaf, the acrobatic monkey, asteroid rocket bombs, rocket shells, magic fan, avalanche of snow, world's fair rocket bombs, an aerial acre of variegated gems, Satan's frolic in the fountain, magnesium bombs, hanging chain rocket bombs, great silver fire wheel, ground and aerial contortionists, repeating bomb shells, jeweled palms, popping corn among the clouds, humming birds, moonlight bomb, acrobatic candles, golden cloud studded with jewels, wistaria bombettes, a white fall fifty feet long, a great Aurora Borealis covering the heavens and extending to the ground, a summer storm, a final salute of aerial cannons, "Good Night," and "The Duluth Bouquet," are some of the features.

If the weather should not be suitable on Friday night, the fireworks display will be made on Saturday night of each week.

Sale of tickets for the Lark o' the Lake celebration is going well and there is now no doubt of the successful financing of the series of entertainments. The publicity is now being give special attention and the committee will endeavor to have great crowds of visitors in Duluth each week-end from June 27 to Aug 2.

EIGHT CARS LEAVE THE TRACK

Damaged Roadbed Causes Wreck on Northern Pacific Railroad.

The impaired condition of the roadbed of the Northern Pacific railroad caused a freight train to go in the ditch just west of Smithville yesterday afternoon. Eight cars went off the track and are this morning being picked up by the company's wrecking crews.

A part of the roadbed nearly 200 feet wide has given away. The heavy storm Thursday morning caused serious washouts in the vicinity and at this point a stretch of about fifty feet was washed out. Since then the bed has been steadily giving away until now the damage covers a space of about 200 feet.

No trains will be run over the hill to Thomson or Carlton on this branch today. Instead they will be taken by the way of Superior and Wrenshall. It is not expected that the road will be in condition to operate passenger trains until Monday, and a foreman of one of the crews working on the repair gang stated this morning that it might be a week before the bed was safe for travel.

Train service was established again last evening on the branch to Fond du Lac. The washout on the line near Commonwealth avenue has been bridged and is rapidly being filled again with gravel by construction gangs.

NEW PASTOR PLANS CHURCH ACTIVITIES

Plans for remodeling of the Plymouth Congregational church, Fifty-fourth avenue west and Bristol street, and the construction of a new church for the Hope congregation of Fond du Lac are being made by Rev. Paul S. Nweeya, the new pastor, recently called to fill the pulpits of these two flocks.

Rev. Mr. Nweeya will preach to both congregations each Sunday. At 10:30 o'clock he will preach at the West Duluth church and at 7:45 o'clock to the suburban congregation.

The plans for remodeling the West

PAUL S. NWEEYA.

Duluth church include the building of a basement under it which will be used for social center work. The interior will be redecorated and a number of alterations made in the arrangement of the main auditorium.

The Fond du Lac congregation has recently purchased a site for a church. It is planned to construct a church building there this summer or fall. At present meetings are held in the Fond du Lac school.

Rev. M. Nweeya has taken an active part in mission work. Last summer he spent his vacation from school filling pulpits in North Dakota. He graduated this April from the Chicago Theological college with a degree of bachelor of theology.

The pastor is a native of Persia. He was born twenty-nine years ago in Titrush, Urumia, Persia, and received his education in the Urumia Presbyterian college and during the two years from 1904 to 1906 was principal of the Urumia high school. He came to the United States in 1906.

WANTED TO SEE THE WORLD

Seven-Year-Old Boy Walks From West End Home to New Duluth.

A small yard 25 by 50 was not large enough to suit the pleasures of Freddy, the 7-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Mattson of Fifteenth avenue west and First street. In fact the world looked so beautiful to him yesterday afternoon that he decided to strike out for himself and view its glories.

The farther he got away from home the better the world looked to him. He went to West Duluth and kept on a going. Then he came to Smithville. Here the sight of a strange tot all by himself aroused the curiosity of the residents. Some asked him where he lived, others who his parents were, and numerous other questions which were too much for Freddy.

He did not put much stock in his questioners and either could not or would not answer. A. Anderson of Gary picked him up and carried him to the New Duluth fire hall where last night he was the guest of Charles Pearson.

After a frantic search by the parents last night the police were notified of the boy's absence and late in the evening he was located in New Duluth. He was taken home on the early morning train today. Freddy said he liked the trip but the walking was very muddy.

BUSY MONTH FOR WEST DULUTH POLICE.

The West Duluth police have been busy during May. Up to this morning thirty offenders had fallen in the toils of the law and eleven different charges had been preferred.

Seventeen of those arrested were booked as plain drunkards. The others were: Four for disorderly conduct, two for assault in the third degree, and one each for assault in the second degree, violating parole, petty larceny, carrying concealed weapons, allowing cattle to run at large, vagrancy and burglary in the third degree.

FOND DU LAC FLOOD WORST IN HISTORY OF THE SUBURB

THE FLOOD AT ITS WORST.

Bright weather is expected to quickly relieve the flooded conditions at Fond du Lac. The flood following the storm on Thursday morning was the worst that the suburb experienced in its history.

The flood not only caused about fifteen families to leave their homes because of water rushing into their houses, but it cut off all communication with the outer world. The train service was resumed yesterday but it is expected to be two or three days before team traffic can again be resumed.

The entire flat just east of the Northern Pacific station was under water. In many places the water was four to five feet deep. The water rushed from the hillside to the lower places in torrents and for a time fears were held out that many of the homes would be entirely destroyed.

The above photographs, taken yesterday, show the condition in which the water settled about the homes of the residents and destroyed fences and flooded the entire territory.

DEATH COMES VERY SUDDENLY

West Duluth Girl Dies After Returning From Parade.

Mary, the 12-year-old daughter of Mrs. C. Polinski, 407 Atlantic street, died suddenly last night after an illness of only a few hours. The girl was taken ill shortly after coming home from viewing the parade in the forenoon.

Mrs. Polinski did not think that the illness was very serious until late in the evening when the girl became worse. When a doctor was called it was too late and the girl had died before his arrival.

The body was taken to Olson & Crawford's undertaking rooms where this afternoon an autopsy is being performed under the direction of Coroner McComb to ascertain the cause of death. The sudden change in the weather is believed to have caused the illness.

W. C. T. U. Meeting.

The West Duluth Women's Christian Temperance union will meet Thursday at the home of Mrs. J. T. Culbertson, 1625 Jefferson street.

Mrs. O. T. Strand and Mrs. W. E. Marcus will assist Mrs. Culbertson in entertaining.

"Noted Women of the Present Day" will be the subject of papers to be read at the meeting. Mrs. H. Bevier will be leader. A cooking sale will also be held by the members.

MOTORCYCLE RIDER HURT

Edward Owen of Fifty-third avenue west was seriously injured in a practice run before the motorcycle races on the boulevard yesterday afternoon. At the finish of the run his machine skidded and left the road hitting a large stump and throwing him over the handlebars against a large rock. His right leg was seriously injured and he is believed to have sustained internal injuries.

It is believed Owen had lost control of his machine. On completing the run he failed to slacken the speed and just below the ski slide he struck a soft spot of the road on which his machine skidded. Drs. W. P. Abbott and Peter Kraft examined the young man and found no bones broken. He was removed to his home. The machine was badly damaged.

"LADIES' NIGHT."

Last Program of Season at West Duluth Commercial Club.

The West Duluth Commercial club entertained at its final "ladies' night" for the season at the clubrooms last evening. A program of music followed by light refreshments and cards featured the entertainment.

Judge H. W. Lanners gave the principal address, speaking on "Patriotism." Judge Lanners said that the people should strew flowers for the living veterans as well as the dead. By this he said he meant that little acts of kindness and respect shown the old soldiers helped to brighten their remaining days.

Patriotic readings were given by John Allen and Miss Myra Willison. Miss Annabelle McLeod gave a solo selection, accompanied by Miss Myra McLennan. Rev. Walter Sievers, pastor of the German Lutheran church, played a violin selection and was accompanied on the piano by Prof. Fred Rielle.

Following the program cards were played. Honors were won by Mrs. R. L. Hughes, Miss Gertrude Keenan, Martin Willison and Douglas C. Moore.

At a short business session held before the program the members adopted a resolution to ask the city commissioner in charge of streets to make necessary repairs to the Getchell road where parts of it had been washed out in the recent storm.

BOARD WILL NOT BE FIGURE HEAD

Civil Service Comimssioners Will Play an Active Role.

As the civil service board is getting down to business, it becomes more and more apparent that it is to be an important factor in the new administration.

City Attorney Harvey S. Clapp has added force to that position by his handling of the recent meat inspector tangle. The civil service board referred to him the question of whether or not Schneider, who held over from the previous administration, is entitled to salary from May 16 to May 23, during which time Bernhart, appointed by Dr. Webster, was also working. The city attorney replied that the board should decide whether or not Schneider had been discharged for sufficient cause, which would determine whether or not he has any money coming for the time he worked after May 15.

The opinion has been expressed that Schneider would have had somewhat the better of the contention had he not quit before the board had an opportunity to take up his case. The board's decision as to his salary will be important, however, as it will throw light upon the probable attitude which will be taken by the civil service board should other cases of a similar nature arise.

LAST DAY OF RED LIGHT DISTRICT

Most of Inmates Have Already Left the City.

Tonight sees the last of Duluth's famous redlight district, or what is left of it.

The new injunction law becomes operative after the clock has tolled midnight and under it no red district can exist in Minnesota.

Most of the inmates have left the city for other municipalities with segregated districts. A week ago scarcely half a hundred scarlet women were left. The majority of these have gone while all but a very few of the others have completed their preparations for departure.

The police say that they do not know of any who have taken up their abode in the city. They state that some may have secured quarters in the business or residence section. If any are found to have done so, they will be evicted unless their conduct is perfectly proper in every respect.

Is a Grandmother At 33.

Bloomington, Ill., May 30—Mrs. Peter Birsen of Joliet claims to be the youngest grandmother. She was married at the age of 16 and her daughter was married at the same age. The latter has become the mother of a girl, making Mrs. Birsen a grandmother at the age of 33.

IDAHO SENATOR IS HAPPY BRIDEGROOM

JAMES H. BRADY.

Chicago, May 31.—United States Senator James H. Brady of Idaho came to Chicago today to be married. The bride-elect is Miss Irene Moore and the wedding is scheduled to take place at 7 o'clock this evening at the home of the bride's cousin, A. L. Moore, at Highland Park.

Senator Brady made no attempt to conceal his happiness, but he declined to say where he and his bride were going on their wedding trip.

The wedding is said to be the outcome of a romance extending over a period of several years. Senator Brady is 51 years old.

At 4 o'clock tomorrow afternoon, a special train carrying about seventy-five representatives of Duluth business houses and the Third Regiment band will leave the union station for a week's trip through North Dakota.

The Duluth business men will go to the Flickertail state to clasp hands with the business men of North Dakota towns, to extend the friendly greetings of Duluth to the towns in its trade territory and above all to boost for Duluth.

A strenuous itinerary has been arranged for the travelers. In seven days they will travel over 2,300 miles and call at 148 towns. Heretofore it has been the custom on trade excursions for the train to be stopped over night so that the travelers might be undisturbed in their sleep. On the trip starting tomorrow the train will be on the move four out of the seven nights.

The program of activities for the excursion will be about the same as that on former trips. The program at each town will be varied, according to the length of the stop, but generally it will consist of a parade, with the band at the head of the boosters, and later a general circulation through the town, the travelers meeting the individual business men and reminding them that Duluth is on the map.

A more varied program will be put on in the towns where evening stops will be made. The band will give concerts on the streets, red fire parades will be arranged, and the boosters will put on carnival features for the entertainment of the crowd.

The Duluthians will be uniformly garbed in tan linen dusters and white caps. They will carry canes with Duluth pennants attached and each traveler will wear a badge, giving his name, firm and line of business. Thousands of booklets advertising Duluth, the Lark o' the Lake and Duluth's summer attractions will be carried and the representatives of the different firms will carry advertising souvenirs of their own for distribution at the towns.

Booster Extraordinary.

Frank X Gravel, sales manager for the Stone-Ordean-Wells company and booster extraordinary, is chairman of the trade extension committee of the Commercial club, which is arranging the trip. Mr. Gravel and his assistants have worked hard on the arrangements and they believe that the trip will be the most successful ever taken by Duluth business men.

Without Frank Gravel at the head of the procession, no trade excursion parade would be complete. To those who have traveled with him on former excursions, it seems that he knows every man, woman and child in Duluth trade territory, and he modestly says that he believes he will be able to call even the children by their first names on the trip starting tomorrow.

The trade excursion party will include representatives from almost every line of business in Duluth. People not directly interested in sales in trade territory will go along to do general boosting and to attract attention to Duluth as the gateway to the Northwest. The indirect results of the trade excursions, in the establishment of friendly relations between Duluth and the towns in Duluth trade territory, have been found to outweigh all other considerations in trade excursions, and Duluth wants to be on the same footing with North Dakota that it holds with other parts of the country adjacent to the city.

Strenuous Traveling.

From Duluth the train will run through to Neche, on a branch line north of Grand Forks. Monday the travelers will work down to Grand Forks remaining there for the evening, and leaving late at night for Hannah, which is upon the Canadian border on another branch line. The third night will be spent in running from Sarles to Hansboro, and Wednesday night will be spent at Dunseith. Thursday night the travelers will lay at Maxbass and Friday night at Minot. The trip from Minot Saturday will be made over the Fargo-Surrey cut-off to Fargo, where the travelers will arrive Saturday evening at about 5 o'clock.

The trade excursionists will be in Fargo on the day of the big fire festival, at the same time as the Shriners of Aad Temple will be in the North Dakota city. Fargo will certainly know Duluth is on the map that night.

From Fargo the trade excursion train will run straight in to Duluth, arriving at 8:35 Sunday morning.

The equipment for the trip will be the best in the stock of the Great Northern railroad. The travelers will live on the train throughout, and the railroad will provide them with the best living quarters that can be carried on wheels.

F. X. GRAVEL,
Chairman, Trade Extension Committee, Duluth Commercial Club.

ADDITIONAL SPORTS

MOTORCYCLE RACES EXCITING

Ralph Began climbed the hill in forty-eight seconds in the novice class race of the Duluth Motorcycle club, which was staged on Fifteenth avenue west, from Fifth street to the boulevard yesterday, there being no other competitor in this class.

John Harron won the honors in class B, his time for the mile being 66 seconds. There was no competition in this event. In the seven-horse power division of this class George Olson and F. A. Ross tied for first honors at the mark of 46 seconds.

In the trade riders' class A, Eveland was first with a mark of 44 seconds, R. Hanson second with a mark of 52, several others not finishing.

There was a dispute in the race between Walter Holmberg and Herb Helmer, some of the timers claiming that Holmberg had a second the better of the time, while one of the other watch holders claimed that the time was 44 seconds even for the half mile up the hill.

It was decided to run this event over, and it is probable that it will be held some time in the near future.

JOHNSON GOES TO VIRGINIA

Pitcher John Johnson of the Duluth White Sox has been loaned to the Virginia team for a month. This was the statement made by Darby O'Brien today.

"Johnson is too good a pitcher to dispose of permanently," said O'Brien. "He will come around in a short time. Just now he is going bad and for that reason he is of very little use to the White Sox. He may prove of value to Virginia, and for that reason I am turning him over. It will be a very good thing for the league to have the Virginias up in the race, and that is the principal reason for our letting them have the services of Johnson, who, when right, is one of the best twirlers in this league."

HEAVY HITTING IN AMERICAN LEAGUE

Chicago, May 31.—American league batting stars are hitting their stride according to unofficial averages, published today.

Cobb is still leading the league, with an average of .475 for twenty-four games and next to him was Jackson of Cleveland, with .438; Speaker of Boston, with .386; Collins, Philadelphia, with .375, and Lajoie, Cleveland, with .348.

McDonald of Boston leads the National league hitters with an average for seventeen games of .429. Cravath's slugging, which has been a factor in keeping Philadelphia in front, ranks him next, with .400. Wagner of Pittsburg, finally passed his understudy, Viox, whose good hitting is keeping him in the game despite Honus' return. Their figures are .351 and .345 respectively. Manager Huggins of St. Louis is fifth, with .344.

Base running honors are retained by Milan of Washington, the records showing that he has stolen twenty-seven bases. Next to him in the American league are Bush, Detroit, and Oldring, Philadelphia. In the National league, Herzog, New York, leads with fourteen and his team mate, Merkle, and Lobert of Philadelphia, are next with twelve each.

GAMES SCHEDULED FOR THE AMATEURS.

The New Duluths and the Y. M. S. team will meet tomorrow on the New Duluth grounds and the game is expected to prove one of the best in the schedule of the Duluth and Superior league. Both of these teams are going very well at the present time and the contest is expected to prove both close and interesting.

The Twin Ports Clothing company's team and the Gustafsons will cross bats at the grounds at Fifty-second avenue west, and the Northerns and the Longfellows will complete the schedule of the day by meeting at Desmond field on Park Point. There are but three games scheduled for the day, the other four teams having off dates.

There will be a meeting of the representatives of the league at the Kelley Hardware company on Tuesday evening, when it is expected that there will be some changes made in the schedule.

Defends His Title.

Albuquerque, N. M., May 31.—Benny Chavez, the Trinidad, Colo., bantamweight, demonstrated his claim to the Southwestern championship here yesterday afternoon by beating Battling Chico of Los Angeles in a ten-round bout.

Englishmen Play Well.

New York, May 31.—Playing the fastest and most brilliant practice game since its arrival in America, the English polo team yesterday defeated a strong pick-up four by the overwhelming score of 17½ to 0. Their work was so impressive that backers of the invaders immediately offered odds on the English four in the cup contests on June 10 and 14. Several wagers were made at 8 to 5 involving sums of considerable proportions.

OBITUARY

Miss Louise Jones, niece of Former Postmaster General Henry C. Payne, died at the residence of Mrs. Payne in Milwaukee, Wis., May 30. Death resulted from diabetes. Miss Jones was well known at the national capitol, where she lived with the Paynes and assisted in many receptions during President McKinley's last administration.

H. A. Tomlinson, superintendent of the state farm for inebriates, died at Willmar, Minn., May 30, after a short illness. He was 57 years old and had been connected with public institutions in the state for several years.

ROMANCE IS CUT SHORT

Modern Story of Ruth and Boaz Ends in Police Station.

Youth Arrested and Girl Will Be Sent Back Home.

"Whither thou goest, I shall go. Thy people shall be my people; they God, my God."

Like the story of Ruth of the Bible, whose strong love for Boaz compelled her to cast off all conventionalities, is the story of little 15-year-old Ruth Yope of Stillwater.

But beautiful as the Bible story may have been, the modern Ruth was found too young; at least, so the law considered, and her romance had a very prosaic ending in the police station.

Yesterday afternoon Ruth and her Boaz were found in a Duluth lodging house at 431 West Third street by Detective Toewe. Her Boaz, unlike the strong virile farmer of the Bible, is Adam Frye, only 20 years old, and the driver of a sprinkling wagon. He was arrested, while the young girl was placed in the municipal lodging house.

This morning Frye was arraigned in the police court. He pleaded not guilty waived examination and was bound over to the September term of the grand jury. His bail was set at $1,000, in default of which, he was remanded back to jail.

Chief Troyer received word this morning that Ruth's mother will be here some time today to claim her daughter and take her back to Stillwater. The girl will appear at the trial this fall.

Frye denies having carnal knowledge of the girl, although he admits having brought her here. He claims that they were going together in Stillwater and that when he broke the news of his proposed trip to Duluth, she wanted to come along.

"I have been absolutely straight with Ruth," said Frye in jail this morning. "She told me that she wanted to get away from Stillwater and asked me to take her along to Duluth. We plan to get married and there has never been anything wrong between us."

Frye has been driving a sprinkler wagon for the Board of Trade livery ever since he came to the city.

Woman Is Fined.
Ida Pool, colored, was arrested this morning on a charge of stealing $15 from a man who had visited her home. She has been arrested several times in the past few months on similar charges and this morning was fined $77 or sixty days in the county jail.

Awning Burns.
A match dropped carelessly out of a window in the Grace hotel, Sixth avenue west and Superior street, set fire to the awning of the J. M. Oreckovsky clothing store early this morning. The blaze was extinguished before any serious damage was done.

Heating Plant Ready.
The new heating plant in the First Presbyterian church has been completed and is ready for use tomorrow if needed. The regular services will be held tomorrow.

Fresh Air for Prisoners.
Commissioner Hicken and Chief Troyer this morning made a thorough inspection of the new ventilating system recently installed in the police station. The new pipes installed throughout the building were placed in operation two weeks ago. Commissioner Hicken proposes to leave the matter with Commissioner Murchison, as the contract for the work was given by the old council through the old board of public works.

Jailed for Larceny.
Raymond Brown, alias Roy Watt, was given three months in the county jail this morning for stealing an electric fan from the Happy Hour theater. Brown was arrested yesterday afternoon in Superior at the request of the local police. The fan was worth $8.50.

Sewer Contracts.
A resolution awarding four contracts will be introduced at the meeting of the city commission Monday afternoon by Commissioner R. Murchison. The contracts and the low bids were as follows: Storm sewer in Glenwood street, Rogers & McLean, $4,079.50; sanitary sewer in South street to a connection at Fifteenth avenue east, Charles Eklund & Company, $230.86; sanitary sewer in St. Marie street, from Brookline street to an outlet in Columbus avenue S. Johnson, $1,791.14; sanitary sewer in West Eighth street, Charles Eklund & Company, $155.31.

Duluthians in Chicago.
N. J. Upham and Henry Nolte are in Chicago, attending a meeting of the managers and executive committee of the Association of Real Estate Exchanges. They will return to Duluth next Wednesday or Thursday. On Thursday last the Chicago Real Estate board gave a cabaret luncheon to the visitors, and among the speakers on that occasion were the Duluth representatives.

Philathea Class.
The Philathea class of the First Presbyterian church will hold its regular monthly business meeting Monday evening, at the Koterie cabin. Members will take the 5:07 or 6:07 Woodland car to the end of the line and walk out to the cabin, where the picnic supper will be served.

Piano in School.
The Twentieth Century club has placed a piano in the club rooms in the Bryant school used by women furthering the social center movement in the West end of the city. This will prove a big aid by those giving entertainments from time to time in the club rooms. The Twentieth Century club plans an active campaign this fall and expects to be of much assistance to other younger and weaker women's organizations that are striving to make Duluth a better city.

There is no copper market, or a market in any stocks today. A vacation was taken from Thursday afternoon last until next Monday morning. No news has been received as to probable operations on Monday.

APPROVAL OF COMMISSION

Is Needed Before New Positions May Be Created.

Heads of departments cannot create new positions or fix salaries to suit themselves under the commission form of government, as was sometimes the case when the old regime was in power.

Under the charter salaries must be fixed by the council and not by the individuals, nor can the sub-heads institute new branches of activity. Each commissioner has full charge of his own division and has practically all the say about who shall be "hired or fired," but there are limitations which must be observed.

As a result of the charter requirements, two men who are now in the employ of the health department have a surprise coming to them—a touching surprise, the kind of a touch which is said to hit mankind the hardest, being the pocketbook. City Auditor B. J. Campbell will not sign vouchers for their paychecks, on the ground that the commission has not fixed their salaries.

They are R. E. Patterson, who has been collecting evidence on the smoke nuisance for the health department, and Dr. I. J. Murphy, assistant to Health director Webster. Patterson's check would call for $80 per month and Dr. Murphy's for $125 per month if they were tendered to them as certified to the auditor. Both were hired by the health director, but he failed to obtain the authorization of the council for paying a smoke inspector. The old council fixed the salary of the assistant health commissioner at $100 a month. Dr. Murphy can secure that amount but no more than that, unless so authorized by the commission, according to the position taken by the auditor.

Patterson and Dr. Murphy have a full month's pay coming to them. No complaint has been made that the salaries are too high, but that the provisions of the charter must be observed. It is recognized that the services of a physician for the health department cannot be obtained for the sum named, particularly if most of his time must be devoted to the work. Nor could a competent smoke inspector be secured for less than $80 a month. Wherefore it is probable that the difficulty will be easily adjusted when it is laid before the commission.

HOTTEST DAY OF THE SEASON

Mercury Touches 80 Degrees for First Time This Season.

Today is the hottest day of 1913 so far. At 2 o'clock the thermometer had reached 80 deg., although at 1 o'clock the mercury had climbed only to 79 deg. That is the registration at the weather bureau on top of the hill, and H. W. Richardson, the weather observer, said that that would mean a temperature along Superior street of about 85 deg. Yesterday the government thermometer registered 73 deg.

The hottest previous day this year was April 15. The thermometer registered that day at the weather bureau 79 deg. It proved, however, to be only a passing fancy of the weather man.

THINKS HIS LIFE IS IN DANGER.

John H. Rogers is positive that his life is being sought.

Last evening Rogers came to the police station and asked for lodging, claiming that several men had threatened him and that he was anxious to have the protection of the police while he slept. He appeared rather nervous and was given lodging for the night.

This morning Rogers was brought before Judge Cutting, to whom he again told his tale. Rogers claims that he had been working near Little Falls with a gang of laborers and that ever since he came to Duluth, he fears his life is in danger. His home is near Minneapolis.

Judge Cutting ordered Rogers examined as to his sanity.

St. Louis county's coffers have been enriched during the past week to the extent of more than $2,000,000 which have been paid to the county treasurer in real estate taxes.

Today, the last day allowed taxpayers to pay the first half of the 1912 real estate taxes, finds no break in the steady stream of people who have swarmed the treasurer's office for the past two weeks. Neither does it show any falling-off in the volume of mail received by the treasurer from taxpayers who inclose checks to cover their taxes.

The Oliver Iron Mining company, a subsidiary of the Steel corporation, and the largest taxpayer not only in St. Louis county, but also in the state, today paid $1,519,503.19 as the first half of its 1912 real estate taxes. The other half will be paid in October. Five checks were sent to the county treasurer. They were signed by J. T. Melvin, second assistant treasurer of the company, and covered taxes on the following.

Mines in active operation	$996,278.40
Mines not in operation	543,806.70
Minnesota Steel company, Duluth steel plant	5,148.66
Wolvin building	2,283.49
Timber lands	1,987.94

The rush at the treasurer's office during the past week has been unprecedented. People have been standing three and four deep at the counter waiting sometimes for hours until their turn came to be waited upon. County Treasurer Vivian has had on an extra force of clerks, but has been unable to take care of the rush owing to the fact that there is but one set of tax books from which the statements must be checked before payment is received.

Between 400 and 500 receipts have been issued daily to small individual taxpayers during the past week, which will give some idea of the amount of tax statements handled by the clerks. Most of them pay only a few dollars in taxes each, and the aggregate amounts do not show any amazing total.

Counter Collections.

On Monday the counter collections in gold, silver and currency amounted to $24,380. On Tuesday $27,462 in cash was taken in. Wednesday was the biggest day of the week, with the possible exception of today. On that day $89,762 was collected. On Thursday there was a falling off, the amount collected being $21,700. Friday, yesterday, was a holiday at the treasurer's office.

Until the rush is over at the counter no particular attention will be given to the statements sent in by mail enclosing checks to cover. The largest taxpayers pay in this manner, but the amounts are not entered on the books until after the last day expires.

After today a penalty of 10 per cent will be added to the amount due. The last half of the real estate taxes must be paid before the last day in October or a similar penalty will attach.

The only one of the larger taxpayers which paid its taxes in full instead of one-half now and the other in October was the Massachusetts Realty company, whose tax was $13,076.08. The company owns considerable improved property in the city of Duluth. It is understood that a transfer of its Duluth holdings will be made to a subsidiary company, and that the taxes were paid in full in order to put through the transfer.

FREE CLINICS FOR BABIES

Masonic Fraternity Will Extend Its Infant Welfare Work.

Will Give Poor Children Chance for Health in Hot Weather.

Free clinics to which mothers may bring their sick babes and have them treated for their ailments at no expense to the parent, will be arranged for by the Scottish Rite bodies of this city during the coming summer.

The proposed clinics are an extension of the infant welfare movement, which the Scottish Rite Masons have had under way for the past few years.

In arranging for the free clinics, the Scottish Rite bodies plan to broaden the scope of the work which is now being done under their auspices. Arrangements are also under way to begin a series of "Little Mothers" meetings, as soon as the children may be spared from their school and household duties. The aim in this work is to give those children who have to look after and care for smaller members of the family such instruction as they can understand and which will, in turn, enable them to give more intelligent care to their charges.

The free clinics will be held at the Masonic temple. A place will be set aside in the building where mothers may bring their infants once a week or perhaps oftener to have them treated by a physician. The doctor will look after each case and give the needed medicine.

No lines will be drawn so as to confine the privileges to mothers who have connections in some way with the Masonic fraternity. The clinics will be open to all mothers who have sick children and who are not in the best of circumstances to pay for medical assistance themselves. The doctor will be engaged for that purpose by the Scottish Rite bodies and will be paid for his services and the medicine given away.

NEW HEAD FOR THE RAILWAY MAILS.

Washington, May 31.—Alexander H. Stephens was today appointed by Postmaster General Burleson to be general superintendent of the railway mail service, vice Theodore Ingalls. Mr. Stephens at present is district superintendent of the railway mail service at San Francisco. Mr. Ingalls will be appointed a district superintendent.

Men Welcome Mother's Friend

A Duty that Every Man Owes to Those who Perpetuate the Race.

It is just as important that men should know of progressive methods in advance of motherhood. The suffering incident to child-bearing can be easily avoided by having at hand a bottle of Mother's Friend.

This is a penetrating, external application that relieves all tension upon the muscles and enables them to expand without painful strain upon the ligaments. Thus there is avoided nervous spells; the tendency to nausea or morning sickness is counteracted, and a bright, happy disposition is preserved that reflects wonderfully upon the charcter and temperament of the little one soon to come. You can obtain a bottle of "Mother's Friend" at any drug store at $1.00. It preserves the mother's health, enables her to make a complete recovery, and thus with renewed strength she will eagerly devote herself to the care and attention which mean so much to the welfare of the child. Write to the Bradfield Regulator Co., 229 Lamar Bldg., Atlanta, Ga., for their valuable and instructive book of guidance for expectant mothers.

PLANNING THE MODEL TOWN

Sanitary Engineer and Architect Inspect Site at Steel Plant.

The "model town" which will be erected by the Minnesota Steel company in connection with the new steel plant at Gary, will be just as modern and as much of a model as engineering experts can make it.

Prof. Morris Knowles, head of the sanitary engineering department of the University of Pittsburg and George R. Dean of Chicago, the architect who will lay out the little city, have been in Duluth for the past two days conferring with the steel company officials and making a personal inspection of the ground. They visited the townsite yesterday. Mr. Dean returned to Chicago this morning and will begin at once on plans for the homes for the steel plant workmen.

Prof. Knowles returned home this afternoon. Before starting for the train he said:

"I have no special sanitary scheme in mind for the new steel town. I went over the ground to see what would suggest itself. Up to this time I have had only maps to go by. I have been doing nothing but gleaning information since I arrived. I expect to digest a good deal of it on the train. By the time I have finished a plan should present itself."

AUTOMOBILE RUNS INTO HOUSE

Ray W. Butchart, a chauffeur, and John Ryan, were injured in an automobile accident on Garfield avenue yesterday morning, when the former's machine ran into a house, that is being moved.

Butchart claims that there were no lights on the house, while the workmen, on the other hand, say they left several danger lights on the structure. Two men and two women were also in the machine, but they escaped unhurt. Both Butchart and Ryan were taken to the St. Luke's hospital, the former leaving after having his injuries dressed, while Ryan is still at the institution. He is expected to leave in a day or two.

GUARD AGAINST TAINTED MEATS

Health Inspectors Will Closely Inspect all Veal Received.

Coincident with the warm weather the shipments of veal into the city are beginning to increase.

The health department inspection of veal will be close and rigid. All carcasses which do not come up to the standard will be condemned and ordered destroyed at the incinerator. The meat inspector will meet all incoming trains at all the depots.

For the aid of those who are not familiar with the preparation of veal for shipment Health Director Webster has issued the following circular:

"First—All veal must not be less than five weeks old, well fed and kept clean.

"Second—During the hot weather and while the flies are bad, veal should not be dressed till after sundown and for six hours previous to killing, should have nothing but water to drink and a cool place to rest.

"Third—When bleeding, a veal should be hung up by the hind legs free from the floor, by this means the veal will be thoroughly bled and kept clean. This also applies to taking out the entrails.

"Fourth—Wash the inside of the veal with clean water and dry thoroughly with a clean cloth.

"Fifth—Next spread the veal so that the animal heat will have a chance to escape. This requires a cool place, preferably in a draft, it should be allowed to hang in this way for twelve hours at least.

"Sixth—Veal should not be burlapped or wrapped in heavy cloth. A string tied around the carcass is sufficient.

"Seventh—It is important to be posted as to train time, because veal lying on a depot platform in warm weather will surely spoil.

"Eighth—Always try to have your veal shipped in refrigerator cars or at least in cool cars."

FARMERS ASKED TO HELP PROTECT FISH

Farmers who live in the vicinity of Grand Lake will be asked to cooperate with the authorities and the game warden to prevent infractions of the law relative to netting fish out of the waters of Grand lake, a practice which has been going on more or less for the past few years.

Sheriff Melning, who today sent sixteen cans of pike fry out to Grand lake, declared that a number of years ago Grand lake was one of the best bodies of water for fishing in the vicinity of Duluth. In recent years, although the lake has been stocked yearly, it has not been as good. Mr. Melning believes this to be on account of the infractions of the game and fish laws. One arrest was made there last year.

AUTO NEARLY STRUCK DEER

The sheriff's office "almost" had venison for its staff yesterday. While running an automobile at about fifteen miles per hour, four miles out on the Thomson road yesterday afternoon, Deputy Sheriff Stevens came near killing a big buck deer.

The animal ran into the road just ahead of the machine. Only quick work on the part of the chauffeur prevented the machine from killing it.

"It was a close call for Mr. Buck," said Capt. Stevens this morning. "The animal was one of the best specimen I have seen in the north woods. He must have weighed well over 200 pounds. He stopped in the middle of the road for just about a second and then bounded into the brush."

If you Stay BOSSED You'll Be LOST

IN 18 MONTHS I TOOK IN $650,000.00 IN THE MAIL ORDER BUSINESS, STARTING WITH ONE HUNDRED DOLLARS. NOW HAVE ENORMOUS ENTERPRISES, OVER 400,000 CUSTOMERS, AND AM KNOWN EVERYWHERE AS THE MAIL ORDER WIZARD OF AMERICA.

IF YOU WORK OVER A SET OF BOOKS, OR BEHIND THE COUNTER, OR OVER A TYPEWRITER, OR BEHIND A TEAM, OR BESIDE A BARBER CHAIR, OR ON A STREET CAR, OR IN A BOILER FACTORY, OR WHEREVER YOU WORK, I CAN SHOW YOU THE REAL, RAPID, RELIABLE ROUTE TO SOMETHING A THOUSAND TIMES BETTER! I SHOW YOU HOW TO MAKE MONEY IN A BUSINESS OF YOUR OWN.

WALT C. CUNNINGHAM,
America's Mail Order Wizard
President of the Mail Order School

You, who read this, no matter who you are, or what you are doing; no matter how low your salary, or how poor your prospects; no matter how discontented, discouraged, you are; no matter how incapable of achievement your friends or your family may think you are—you can at once become the partner of The Mail Order Wizard of America—you can begin, for the first time in your life, perhaps, to see the money roll in to you at every visit of the postman, without grinding out your heart and soul and body for every dollar of it.

I, Walt C. Cunningham, right now offer you the money-making chance of your life, without asking you to mortgage your life to me, without driving a grim, cold-blooded, Shylock's bargain with you. I started perhaps with a whole lot more than you will start with—I started with $100, and received $650,000 in eighteen months in the mail order business. I WILL QUICKLY TEACH YOU THE REAL SECRET OF MAKING MONEY FAST—AND MAKING IT CLEANLY, LEGITIMATELY, HONESTLY, SO THAT YOU CAN LOOK THE WHOLE WORLD IN THE FACE AND DEFY IT TO SAY THAT YOU NEVER ASKED YOUR DOLLARS WHERE THEY CAME FROM. I've a book you must get by return mail and read at once. It is called, "How to Achieve Mail Order Success," and I'll make you a present of it. Read it over, and get it soaked into your system from head to heel, and get full of new hope, fire, ambition and burning determination to begin the fight in a brand new way, and under the guidance of one who has fought the same fight and won it hands down. I'll take right hold of you and show you the way from beginning to end, and work with you, for you, help you, advise you—supply you with Money-Multiplying Ideas, Suggestions you can Quickly Coin into Cash, Methods you can Mould into Greenbacks, Swiftly-Successful, Sure Selling Plans, Persuasive Literature, Cash-Getting and Inexpensive Circulars, which will sell the goods I tell you to offer.

This broad-gauged, generous education I am offering you, covering the Entire Field of Newest Proven Ideas and Well-Tried Principles of Mail Order Money-Making, is open to every man and woman who has the blessed ambition to step up out of the wage-weary crowd. They are so complete, my wonderful plans in long-distance merchandising, that they guide you into Profit-Creating Avenues and Cash-Producing By-Ways. I GUARANTEE, PLEDGE AND ABSOLUTELY ASSURE EVERY MAN OR WOMAN THAT HE OR SHE CAN TAKE HOLD OF THIS BUSINESS AT ONCE, FOLLOW ITS SIMPLE, SURE AND SAFE DIRECTIONS, AND BEGIN IMMEDIATELY TO MAKE MONEY FAST. You can start right out from the day you get this wonderful series of success plans.

IF YOU ARE MAKING $600, OR $900, OR $1,200, OR $2,400 A YEAR, AND REALLY WANT TO MAKE $4,000 TO $40,000 A YEAR, I CAN SHOW YOU HOW.

If you will write me, as suggested above, in answer to this advertisement this very day, I positively can and will equip you, with twenty complete, combined, ready-to-start, live, lucrative mail order businesses, which you can begin operating right in the privacy of your own home, without an office, or any outlay for office equipment.

I CAN SET YOU FREE! I can deliver you from the grim grind! I can liberate you from the treadmill of the time-clock! I can tear the well-worn shackles of wage-slavery from your hands and feet! I can lift the thorns of boss-brow-beating from your forehead! I can do these things, brothers and sisters, because I was fixed just exactly as you are when I went into this business and made all of this money. I had the same miserable doubts and mongrel fears—I, too, was once hand-cuffed to a job and gagged and speechless with boss-fright; ever-cowed, ever-cringing, ever-afraid of getting fired! Those were the things I decided I would be forever free from, and so I am! And so you, too, can be, if you will make up your minds to believe in me and write to me before this day's sun falls behind the horizon.

I will say no more—the opportunity is here, with its arms outstretched; today, right now, Dame Fortune raps on your door, and this message of mine to tell you about it has cost thousands of dollars to send—it is flashed today across the country to all the ambitious men and women of America in all the walks of life—there is oceans of room for all of you in this business!

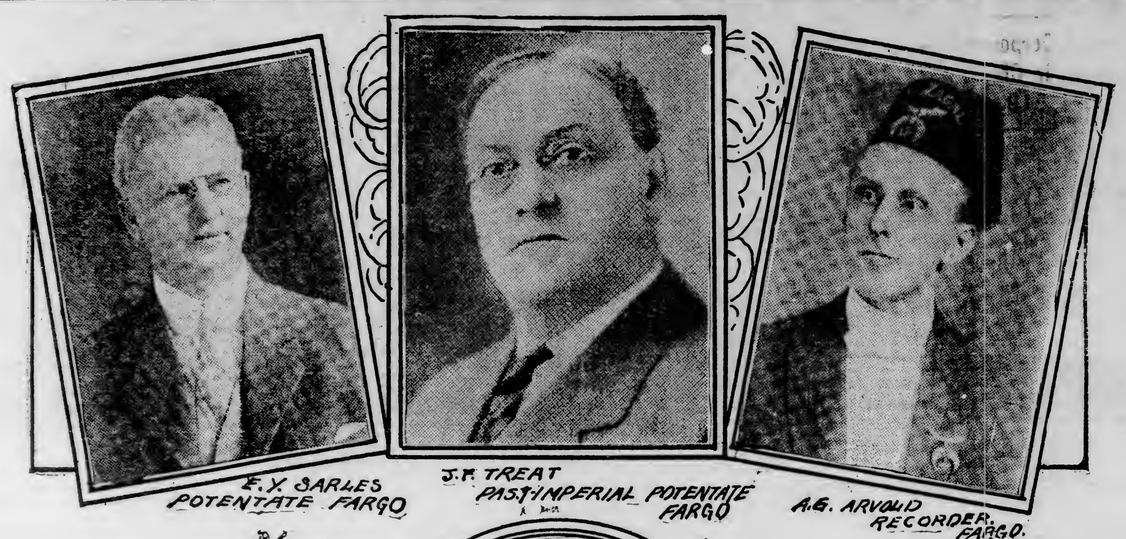
MEMBERS OF AAD TEMPLE WILL INVADE FARGO NEXT WEEK, LEAVING DULUTH THURSDAY NIGHT



DULUTH Shriners of Aad Temple have everything in readiness for their long-looked-for pilgrimage next week to Fargo, where they will help the Nobles of El Zagel Temple of the North Dakota city celebrate a grand Masonic homecoming and Shrine jubilee.

The trip will be made on a special train which has been engaged by the Duluth Shriners for the occasion. The special will leave Duluth at 9 p. m. Thursday, June 5, and will arrive in Fargo early the next morning. Special trains will also be run from the Twin Cities and other points.

With all the fraternal pomp and ceremony that attends an affair with which the Nobles of Aad Temple have to do, a dress parade will be held on the evening of departure. The procession will start at 8:15 o'clock and the line of march will be from the Masonic temple, Lake avenue and Second street to the union depot.

The parade will be headed by Illustrious Potentate T. P. Bradley and his official divan, Aad patrol and the famous "cannon squad," and the Third Regiment band. All Duluth Shriners have been requested by Potentate Bradley to be on hand for the parade whether they are planning on taking the trip or not. They will meet at the temple at 8 o'clock.

Between seventy-five and 100 Duluth Nobles including Potentate Bradley, his official divan and the Arab patrol will take the trip. A number of the local Shriners who are going will be accompanied by their wives. The Third Regiment band has been engaged and will be taken along on the trip.

The train is expected to arrive in Fargo Friday morning in plenty of time for breakfast and to give the members of Aad patrol an opportunity to get into trim for the activities of the day.

Homecoming Program.

All next week in Fargo will be devoted to a grand Masonic Homecoming program, Friday being set aside as Shrine day. The earlier part of the week will be given over to reunions in the blue lodges and in the Scottish and York Rites.

Friday will be the big day of the week, especially for the Shriners. Temples from all over the Northwest have been invited to participate in the affair and a number have arranged to attend. Among the temples which will send patrol teams and delegations are: Zuhrah temple, Minneapolis, Osman, St. Paul; Khartum, Winnipeg; Yildiz, Aberdeen, S. D.; El Riad, Sioux Falls, S. D.; Niad, Deadwood, S. D.; Algeria, Missoula, Mont., and others.

At 9:30 o'clock on Friday morning, a grand Masonic and Shrine pageant will be held in which all visiting nobles will participate. El Zagel Temple of Fargo is in charge of the affair and has laid plans for an elaborate affair.

Competitive Drill.

A competitive exhibition drill in which Aad patrol and other visiting drill teams will take part will be held during the afternoon starting at 3 o'clock. Captain A. H. Paul of Aad patrol has had his team under constant drill for the past two weeks and is confident that not only will the local patrol make a showing creditable to Duluth and Aad temple but will also be one in for first honors in the competitive events.

During the evening El Zagel temple will put on a big ceremonial. The Fargo Shriners have earned a reputation of being a bunch of "live wires" and they are expected to live up to their reputation on this occasion. The ceremonial will start at 6:30 p. m.

Saturday will be "Fire Festival and Civic Day" at Fargo. The twentieth anniversary of the Fargo fire will be celebrated with special events. The local delegation will spend the day there. The special will leave on the return trip to Duluth late Saturday night and will arrive here Sunday morning. The Duluth Boosters' special will also be in Fargo Saturday afternoon and will leave there some time Saturday evening.

Among the notables who will be in attendance at the Shrine festival Friday will be William W. Erwin of Wheeling, W. Va., the new imperial potentate who was elected at the Dallas convention about two weeks ago. J. Frant Treat, past imperial potentate, who is a member of El Zagel temple and a resident of Fargo, will take a prominent part in the affair.

The committees which are in charge of the arrangements for the trip of the local Shriners have been named by Potentate Bradley as follows:

T. P. Bradley, illustrious potentate ex-officio; Charles W. Wilson, chief director; William A. Abbett, assistant director; Fred E. Hough, assistant director and electrician; John Smith, assistant director and electrician; Albert E. Botsford, assistant director.

Finance—A. P. Cook, A. S. McDonald, Thomas Merritt.

Arrangement—J. W. McDonald, W. P. Welbanks, Henry Nesbitt, Jesse Norton, John Jeansvold, Jr., the potentate.

Transportation—W. J. Johnson, Lyonel Ayres, J. I. Thomas, George A. Sherwood.

Keeper of the potentate's goat and property man—Henry Van Brunt.

PEACE PLANS MEET FAVOR

Secretary Bryan Has Favorable Replies From Eight Nations.

None Has Rejected the Proposals Suggested By Wilson.

Washington, May 31.—Secretary Bryan announces that eight nations have responded favorably to his peace plan asking that suggestions be submitted in regard to details. The nations, in the order in which they have accepted, are Italy, Great Britain, France, Brazil, Sweden, Norway, Peru, and Russia.

Secretary Bryan said that no nation to whom his peace plan was submitted had replied adversely, although some had asked more time for consideration.

To each of the governments expressing a willingness to enter into the peace agreement, a tentative statement has been submitted embodying the details suggested by the president. The secretary, pointing out that this statement was submitted for consideration, with no intention of insistence upon any particular detail, declined to make public its contents.

Submitted Month Ago.

Mr. Bryan discussed the progress of his plan in the following statement:

"It will be remembered that about a month ago a plan was, by the president's direction, submitted to all the governments having representatives here, the plan being in substance as follows:

"First—That the United States is prepared to enter into an agreement with each and every country severally, providing for the investigation of all disputes of every nature by an international commission, the contracting parties agreeing not to declare war or begin hostilities until such investigation is made and report submitted:

"Second—The investigation to be conducted as a matter of course by the commission without the formality of a request from either party.

"Third—The report to be submitted within a given time, the time to be agreed upon.

"Fourth—The parties to reserve the right to act independently on the subject of dispute after the report is submitted.

"The composition of the commission was a matter of detail to be agreed upon by the contracting parties; the time, also, in which the report should be submitted, was a matter of detail to be agreed upon by the contracting parties.

Received Sympathetically.

"Eight nations have up to this time responded favorably to the principle, and asking that suggestions be submitted in regard to the details, others replying that the proposition is received sympathetically and expressing a willingness to consider the details. The nations, in the order in which they have accepted, are: Italy, Great Britain, France, Brazil, Sweden, Norway, Peru and Russia."

To those expressing a willingness to confer in regard to the details, a tentative statement has been submitted embodying the details suggested by the president, this statement being submitted for consideration, however, with no intention of insisting upon any particular detail. The exact phraseology of the agreements may not be the same in all cases. It is the principle which is indorsed by the government, which is willing to confer with open mind as to the minor points."

Speaking of the reception of his plan, Mr. Bryan observed that within the last two months three arbitration treaties have been renewed for a period of five years. The treaties renewed are with France, Italy and Spain. President Wilson has expressed his willingness to renew similar conventions with Great Britain, Japan, Norway, Sweden and Portugal.

NO PLACE FOR WILSON.

President and His Party Crowded Out of Baltimore Restaurant.

Baltimore, Md., May 31.—President Wilson and his family slipped quietly into town in an automobile yesterday afternoon, attempted to get luncheon at a North Charles street restaurant, but were unable to obtain service through lack of accommodations, the place being crowded with customers.

Few recognized the president as his car drew up at the curb in front of the restaurant and only cursory glances were given the visitors as Miss Margaret Wilson stepped from the car and made her way into the restaurant, the remainder of the party following slowly behind.

"Have you a table for our party?" she asked of one of the waitresses.

Got No Reply.

Receiving no reply, according to those who were within hearing distance, she repeated the question with no better results. Then the president's daughter walked from the room with the information that they could not be accommodated and that they must seek refreshments at another point. The party re-entered their automobile and drove to a hotel, where they ate their luncheon in the main dining room.

The proprietress of the restaurant still was fluttering with chagrin and embarrassment half an hour later.

"Yes, I knew that it was the president and his party in the automobile," she said, "but what could I do? The room was packed. We were full, and before any of the tables could be cleared they had left."

Leaving the hotel about 3 o'clock the presidential party started for a run throughout Green Spring valley and return to Washington. The party consisted of the president and Mrs. Wilson, their daughter, Miss Margaret, and the president's cousins, Miss Woodrow Jones and Fitzwilliam McMaster Woodrow.

PARACHUTE JUMP ENDS IN MARSH.

New York, May 31.—Falling 400 feet from an aeroplane, Arthur Lampham, a parachute jumper, landed feet first in a Staten Island marsh and was buried to his neck in the mud. With ropes and boards he was extricated. At a hospital he was found to be suffering from the shock. Lampham was taken up by Harry Brown, an aviator, and was to have made a 500-foot drop His parachute failed to work when he made his leap.

DOGS AND THEIR NAMES

Queer Collection Found on License Book in City Clerk's Office.

Punch Billie Burke Kid, Buster Mug, Skip Rome, Snoop Moscow, Buzz Princess, Scrap Czar, Duck Kaiser, Tackle Sultan, Bum Coin, Duke, Disguise Rags, Trouble, Call Taft, Be Dunn, Uno.

It's not a cipher or a code, conveying a mysterious message from the president to a foreign power. There's no secret about it at all. A little investigation will disclose the whole thing.

Start the sleuthing expedition by pointing towards the city hall. Keep on going until the city hall is reached. Enter by the front door and turn through the first doorway to the left. It leads into the office of the city clerk. Lying on the counter, right under the eye, lies the solution.

Open it, for it's a book, a large, heavy-backed volume, with a red binding. Peruse the stubs found therein. Upon them will be found the meaning of the above words. The fact will be disclosed that each word is merely the name of a dog owned in the city of Duluth, for which license tags have been duly issued.

Let the imagination roam as it will and no single person can account for the labels for dogs that can be found in the dog license book. Scores of them represent the finished products of the thoughts of as many persons. Many seek an odd or unique name for his or her particular canine.

All kinds of names are found in the dog license book. A lot of them are common, being the ordinary run of names wished upon their pets by unimaginative or unthinking persons. Others have not bothered to think up names of their own but have adopted those of celebrities in all walks of life. Among them are actors and actresses, politicians and men in high official position. To some have been attacked the titles of royalty. Others bear the handles of characters made famous in the funny papers. Some have been taken from fables and some from history. Those who have been dubbed with the odd names of everyday existence are many.

You may ask, "What's in a name," but there's a whole lot in the names of Duluth's dog population. Judging from the list in the dog license book the dog world has a most varied and cosmopolitan complexion. It has its aristocracy, its professions, its bums, its commedians, its tragedians, its sportsmen, its loafers, its crooks, its travelers, its high and its lowly, its farmers, its peddlers, its colors and its races.

If you don't believe it, "Just look in the book and see."

BARBARA FREITCHIE BURIED NEAR F. S. KEY.

Frederick, Md., May 31.—The body of Barbara Freitchie, heroine of Whittier's poem, and that of her husband, John C. Freitchie, which were recently disinterred from the old Reformed congregation cemetery here, were formally deposited in the new mausoleum in Mount Olive cemetery yesterday. The mausoleum is adjacent to the grave of Francis Scott Key, author of "The Star Spangled Banner."

The reburial was made an occasion for interesting ceremonies conducted by the G. A. R. and other patriotic organizations. A feature was the recitation of Whittier's poem by Miss Maderia Mats, a grandniece of Barbara Freitchie.

FIRST REAL SUMMER DAY

Crowds Attracted to Parks and River on Holiday.

Duluth's first day of real summer weather drew thousands of people from their homes to the outdoors yesterday.

Old Sol beamed forth from the clouds behind which he had been hiding his face persistently for days at a time and was responsible for the first flirtation which the mercury has had with the top of the tube this season. The thermometer went up to 75 in the afternoon and after sundown the warm winds continued to blow, adding much to the real enjoyment of the day.

Scores of motor boats plied forth and back on the bay and the river and many went out during the evening. Fond du Lac assumed its summer activity and numbers of parties visited the grove or wandered along the banks of the dalles.

The parks had their full quota of pleasure seekers enjoying the sunshine and the balmy atmosphere. Others wandered down to the canal piers or wandered along the lake shore. Many went to the boat club and a number of parties spent the day at the Spirit Lake branch, making full use of the canoes and rowboats.

MURDERS ADMITTED BY NEGRO MUTE.

Knoxville, Tenn., May 31.—Haynes Terry, a negro deaf mute, has confessed in court to the murder of two persons and an attack on several others while he was a pupil in the negro branch of the Tennessee school for the deaf and dumb, last March. His victims were Russell Mann, son of the school's assistant superintendent, and Mayme Steele, a negro pupil, who were killed; W. R. Mann, superintendent of the school, and his wife, and Carrie Mason, a teacher, were seriously injured.

Terry said he made the night attack on the school because he feared expulsion for some previous act, and sought to do away with the superintendent and teacher. He attacked the others through error.

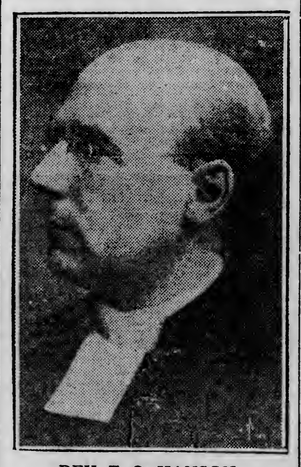
MAY NOT RETURN TO DULUTH CHARGE

Rev. F. O. Hanson Will Preach Last Sermon to Trinity Congregation.

Rev. F. O. Hanson, who organized the Trinity English Lutheran congregation in the West end last fall and who has been supplying the pulpit for the flock, will preach his last sermon for the summer to the local congregation at the Woodmen hall tomorrow. He will preach at 10:30 a. m. and 7:45 p. m.

Rev Mr. Hanson will leave Wednesday for Chicago, where he will attend the annual meeting of the Augustana Synod of Swedish Lutheran churches of America. He will spend the summer in visiting various missions in the West.



REV. F. O. HANSON.

As yet Rev. Mr. Hanson has not given out a statement as to whether he will accept the call offered him by the local congregation to become its permanent pastor. He stated this morning that he probably would not announce this until later in the summer and at least not until after the synod meeting. The pastor is field secretary for the English branch of the synod.

E. E. Ryder, a divinity student from the Augustana college at Rock Island, will arrive next week and will take charge of the church during the summer.

CONVENTION OF S. H. & A. SOCIETY

Delegates Will Be Entertained in Duluth Next Week.

Plans for the entertainment of the sixteenth annual convention of the Scandinavian Help and Aid society which will be held at Sloan's hall, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of next week are about complete. The committee in charge has arranged a series of entertainments for the visitors, including automobile rides, boat rides, a trip to the steel plant and a banquet.

The banquet will be held on Thursday evening in the Woodmen hall, Twenty-first avenue west and First street. Louis Lavine will be toastmaster. It is planned to entertain 350 guests at the supper. Following a short program in which grand officers of the society will speak, the guests will enjoy dancing.

The trip over the boulevard will be taken on Wednesday afternoon. Thursday afternoon the delegates will be entertained at a sightseeing trip about the harbor.

The committee which has had charge of the arrangements is as follows: Executive committee—Oscar Peterson, chairman; Louis Lavine, John Carlson, Charles Edgren and Joseph Olson.

Banquet—Joseph Olson, chairman; Charles Boostrom, Edward Olson, Gust Anderson, Charles Edstrom and Gust Carlson.

Entertainment—Charles Mork, chairman; Louis Lavine and Charles Boostrom.

Reception and hotels—Gust Carlson, chairman; Carl Hogstrom and K. A. Franklin.

Program — Louis Lavine, chairman; Gust Anderson and J. W. Hellstrom.

REV. MILTON FISH RETURNS FROM DETROIT

Rev. Milton Fish, pastor of the Central Baptist church, and Mrs. Fish returned this morning from Detroit, Mich., where they attended the annual convention of the Northern Baptist association.

Rev. Mr. Fish will preach tomorrow morning at the church on "Challenge of the Day" and at the evening sermon on "The Crown of Life." Other meetings of Sunday schools and societies will be held at regular hours. The pastor will conduct communion at 11:30 o'clock.

REV. W. E. HARMANN TO HAVE AN ASSISTANT.

Rev. W. E. Harmann, pastor of St. Peter's Episcopal church, returned yesterday from Faribault, Minn., where he attended the annual alumni meeting and commencement exercises of the Seabury Divinity college on Tuesday and Wednesday.

Rev. Mr. Harmann will conduct Holy Communion services in English at 9:45 o'clock tomorrow morning at the church, Twenty-eighth avenue west and First street and Swedish services at 11 o'clock. The English Sunday school will meet at 10 o'clock and the Swedish school at 12:15 o'clock. English services will be held at 8 o'clock.

Rev. Mr. Harmann will be assisted at the church this summer by F. L. Anderson, a student from the Seabury school. Mr. Anderson arrived last evening and is a guest at the home of Rev. Mr. Harmann, 113 North Twenty-eighth avenue. The student is a musician of considerable ability and was organist at the Fairbault cathedral for the past two years. He will preach at the evening service tomorrow.

Spring Festival.

The Parthenoe Society of the Swedish Mission church, Twenty-first avenue west and Second street, entertained last evening at its annual spring festival. The church was prettily decorated for the occasion. The program included musical numbers and readings. The following program was given:

Walter Ryberg Dies.

Walter A. Ryberg, 24 years old, died this morning at St. Luke's hospital following an operation. The young man had made his home for several years with his brother, G. A. Ryberg, 101 North Twenty-ninth avenue west.

The funeral will be held Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock from Olson & Crawford's undertaking rooms, 2118 West First street. Interment will be made in Park Hill cemetery. Rev. W. E. Harmann, pastor of St. Peter's Episcopal church will officiate.

Adams Banquet.

The Adams Alumni association will hold its annual banquet for members of the society and graduates of the Eighth grade on Saturday evening, June 7. The affair will be held in the tea rooms of the Glass Block. The arrangements for the affair was made at a meeting of the committee yesterday.

A program of toasts is being arranged in which several of the members, teachers and of the graduating class will take part. Arrangement for reservations can be made with Mrs. Hoover, principal of the Adams school.

Second Presbyterian.

Regular services will be held tomorrow at the Second Presbyterian church, 1515 West Superior street. In the absence of Rev. J. A. McGaughey, who is spending his vacation visiting relatives in Kansas, the pulpit will be filled this morning by John H. Lee, religious director at the Y. M. C. A. At the evening service Rev. Charles N. Thorp will preach. The choir under the direction of Miss Annabelle McLean has prepared a special musical program for both services.

West End Briefs.

The Rebekah guild of St. Peter's Episcopal church, Twenty-eighth avenue west and First street, will entertain at a June festival in the church parlors on June 12. A program of music and addresses is being prepared.

Miss Mayme Harmann of Litchfield, Minn., is expected to arrive Tuesday to spend the summer at the home of her brother, Rev. W. E. Harmann, 113 North Twenty-eighth avenue west, and at the home of her sister, Mrs. F. A. Curry.

George B. Colling of Taylor Falls who has been visiting friends in this end of the city left yesterday for his home.

Amos Kramer of Cherokee, Wis., is spending a few days visiting relatives in the West end.

Miss Grace Maddox and Miss Esther Parks left yesterday for their home in Winnipeg after spending a month visiting relatives in the West end.

IMMIGRANTS MUST RETURN

Violated Contract Labor Law in Coming From Canada.

Fourteen Finnish and two Lithuanian immigrants who arrived late yesterday on the America of the Booth line are in custody in police headquarters today awaiting deportation. The men who had contracted to work in the woods were halted at the Lake avenue pier by Deputy Immigration Inspector James Daly, who says they violated the labor clauses in the immigration law.

The immigrants came from Port Arthur and they will be returned to the Canadian town on the first Booth boat sailing for that port.

French Aviator Killed.

Bourges, France, May 31.—Lieut. Jean Ferdinand Kreyder, a French army aviator attached to the Fifty-fourth regiment of artillery, was killed Friday by a fall from his monoplane. The machine turned turtle in a storm while he was observing the effects of the artillery practice of his regiment.

FOUR ACCUSED OF STEALING $1,900.

Raleigh, N. C., May 31.—Raleigh police are holding John H. Kilpatrick, white, of Wilmington, Del., and three negroes who are suspected of stealing an express package containing $1,900, which was en route from the treasury department at Washington to a bank in Louisberg. The money disappeared Thursday. According to the police, the men claimed they found the money on the railroad track north of Raleigh.

WOULD DIVORCE DUKE OF ORLEANS.

Brussels, Belgium, May 31.—The duchess of Orleans, it is stated here, intends to start a suit for separation, alimony and the restitution of large sums which, it is affirmed, she has advanced against her husband, Prince Louis Philippe, Duke of Orleans, the French pretender.

The duchess of Orleans before her marriage was Archduchess Marie Dorothea of Austria. She married the duke in 1896.

SECOND READING OF SCOTTISH BILL.

London, May 31.—The Scottish home rule bill has passed its second reading in the house of commons and was then referred to committee. It follows somewhat the lines of the Irish home rule bill and was introduced by William H. Fry Cowan, the member from East Aberdeenshire.

CANADIAN STOCK TAKEN OVER LINE.

Lethbrdge, Alta., May 31.—Three thousand head of cattle and horses, belonging to several large stock raisers operating south of McGrath, Alta., were rounded up during Thursday night and driven across the border into Montana, according to reports to the mounted police here.

Homesteaders with whom the stock raisers have been in trouble for some time, and Indians who are up in arms because two of their number recently were sentenced for horse-stealing, are accused by the stock raisers and an investigation will be made.

INSURES FOR MILLION; DROWNS.

Jacksonville, Fla., May 31.—E. O. Painter, a fertilizer manufacturer who recently fell from a ferry boat during a violent coughing spell and was drowned in the St. John's river, held life insurance policies totaling $1,178,000, according to a printed list presented here at a meeting of life insurance agents. About half of the insurance was made payable to Painter's family and the other half to his firm. Most of the insurance was taken out during the last month. Investigation of Painter's death is being made.

Four Men Blown to Pieces.

Oakland, Cal., May 31.—Four powder mill hands were blown to pieces and part of the plant at Giant, fifteen miles north of here, was wrecked by the explosion of nine tons of blasting powder.

ON THE IRON RANGES

GODFREY GOES TO VIRGINIA

Succeeds General Superintendent Hawkins of Oliver Iron Mining Company.

Assistant Superintendent Salisch of Canisteo District to Succeed Godfrey.

M. H. Godfrey, now general superintendent of the Canisteo district of the Oliver Iron Mining company, Coleraine, Bovey and Marble, has been appointed general superintendent of the Virginia district, succeeding M. S. Hawkins, who recently resigned.

L. R. Salsich, now assistant superintendent of the Canisteo district, has been appointed general superintendent, succeeding Mr. Godfrey.

Notices to that effect were sent out today from the office of President W. J. Olcott of the Oliver Iron Mining company.

Mr. Godfrey was formerly general superintendent of the Chisholm district. About three years ago he succeeded John C. Greenway as general superintendent at Coleraine.

Mr. Salsich has been assistant superintendent at the Coleraine for some time and the appointment as successor to Mr. Godfrey is a marked advance.

VIRGINIA ELKS DOING HONORS

Big Parade Late This Afternoon Before Dedicating New Home.

Virginia, Minn., May 31.—(Special to The Herald.)—Purple and white, the Elks' colors, are on all sides today in honor of the visiting Elks from Duluth, Superior and other points, who arrived late this afternoon for the dedication of the new home tonight. The visitors were met outside the city by motor parties and escorted through the streets in a big parade headed by the Mahoyni band. Grand Exalted Ruler Thomas B. Mills of Superior will be in charge of the dedication exercises tonight, while Judge Netheway of Stillwater will deliver the principal address.

NASHWAUK PLANS BIG CELEBRATION

Rube Waddell and "Rat" Johnson May Be Baseball Features.

Nashwauk, Minn., May 31.—(Special to The Herald.—That Nashwauk will have a rousing celebration on the Fourth is already assured and more than $1,000 has been collected by the soliciting committee for prizes, music, fireworks, etc.

It is expected that Nashwauk will entertain hundreds of visitors and no money or energy will be spared in making the day a notable one. An old-fashioned and noisy Fourth will be featured.

Efforts are being made by those in off, and September, which opened up services of Rube Waddell, the famous and much advertised southpaw twirler, who is now with the Virginia league team, and Manager Spike Shannon will be offered a liberal sum for charge of the ball game to secure the world's greatest catcher, but who cannot play in organized leagues because of the color line being drawn, will also be seen in Nashwauk on the Fourth.

Street Commissioner John Lake is putting all the streets in the pink of condition.

GRAND RAPIDS NOTES.

Grand Rapids, Minn., May 31.—(Special to The Herald.)—Carl Eller, A. A. Reed, J. S. Gole and P. J. Billodeau are fishing in Crooked lake.

Miss Gertrude Luther has returned from Nashwauk.

The marriage of Miss Mabel Fishback and W. J. Raboin, both of this village, will be celebrated in St. Joseph's Roman Catholic church, Monday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl King of Vancouver, B. C., are visiting Mr. King's parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. A. King.

Leon M. Bolter, cashier for the First State bank, has returned from a ten days' business trip to Lewiston, Mont.

Supt. E. A. Freeman has returned from the Twin Cities.

The Misses Estelle and Mary Brandon have returned from Bemidji, where they have been visiting their brother, Ralph Brandon.

Dr. and Mrs. G. E. Hoeper and family of Litchfield have come here to reside and have taken the apartment over the Allen store.

ELY NEEDS MEN.

Ely, Minn., May 31.—(Special to The Herald.)—Contractor K. S. Johnson has his force of men ready to begin work on storm sewers over the district that is to be covered by the new cement walks and extended "White Way."

The labor problem is more acute, and it is almost impossible to secure men for a single day's work, all being employed at their regular work and busy every day. Good wages and plenty of work are the prevailing features here.

Cohasset Man Lives.

Grand Rapids, Minn., May 31.—(Special to The Herald.)—The condition of Ben Curtiss of Cohasset, who is in St. Benedict's hospital, is more encouraging. The operation for the removal of a clot of blood from the brain, Wednesday night, apparently was most successful.

Held For Killing Neighbor.

Fairmont, Minn., May 31.—Chris Virgens, a farmer residing near Triumph, was held to the Martin county grand jury on a charge of murder in the first degree. He is suspected of shooting to death his neighbor, John Steen. He was not admitted to bail.

Virginia Beats Hibbing.

Hibbing, Minn., May 31.—(Special to The Herald.)—Virginia outhit the locals yesterday, but were weak in fielding, still they won, 11 to 7.

Virginia Odd Fellows Elect.

Virginia, Minn., May 31.—(Special to The Herald.)—The new officers of Odd Fellows are: R. W. Collow, N. G.; James A. Sabin, V. G.; George Horne, R. T.; Isaac Van Domlin, trustee. These will be installed at a meeting to be held the first week in July.

VIRGINIANS WILL GIVE PLAY

"PETTER OG INGER" CAST.

Standing—Edward Olson, Anton Johnson, Edward Wick, Mrs. Rachel Swanson. Sitting—Henry Anderson, Mrs. Kran Larson.

Virginia, Minn., May 31.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Norwegian Dramatic club, the members of which are also members of the Good Templar lodge, next Thursday night at North Pole hall, will present in the Norwegian language "Petter og Inger." The proceeds will be for the benefit of the Good Templar lodge. The rehearsals are being directed by Oscar Foosness.

MR. MAPSON TO PREACH.

Will Deliver Baccalaureate Sermon to Ely Graduates.

Ely, Minn., May 31.—(Special to The Herald.)—The baccalaureate services in connection with the graduating exercises for the class of 1913 will be held in the high school auditorium Sunday evening at 8 o'clock. The program follows:

Doxology; Invocation, Rev. Victor Koivumaki; hymn, "Lead Kindly Light," choir and congregation; quartet, "The Wayside Cross," Schweickhard, Cardew, Carpenter and Englund; Scripture reading, Rev. Victor Koivumaki; prayer, Rev. E. F. Stidd; song, "Build Thee More Stately Mansions," high school choir; sermon, Rev. J. C. Mapson; duet, "Light at Evening Time," Miss Margaret Brown and William O'Rourke; hymn, "America," choir and congregation; benediction, Rt. Rev. Mg'r. Joseph F. Buh, V. G.

The class number twenty-three: Angela Mary Coffey, Oscar Friedsberg, Vincent Hablian, Ernest Hamilton, Mercedes James, Mayme Elizabeth Johnson, Helia L. Kayute, Ernest Knutson, Elmer Lindbeck, Albert McMahan, Roselia Mayer, Audrey Mitchell, Florence Nankervis, Gussie Nappa, Hazel Nicholas, Matthew Henry Saari, Alvin Schaefer, Florence Smith, Maedl Florence Takkunen, Vida Mildred Williams, Clara Judith Handberg, Pearl Hagen and Martha Trezona. The class motto is: "Impossible is Un-American," the flower the white rose, and the colors, maroon and gold.

ELECTRICIAN KILLED.

Rhinelander, Wis., Man Is Electrocuted at Nashwauk, Minn.

Nashwauk, Minn., May 31.—(Special to The Herald.)—Adolph Kavennes, electrician at the concentrating plant at the Hawkins mine, was instantly killed Friday while at work. He struck his head on an electrically charged wire coil. He was 30 and has relatives at Rhinelander, Wis.

Otto Berglund Corrects.

To the Editor of The Herald: I wish to correct some of the facts in regard to the case I have pending with E. J. Johnson, as your paper did not get them quite right. It was a game of "twenty-one," right at the bar, and lasted less than two hours; was over before 5 o'clock. I am an honest man, not a gambler, and wish to have it known that when the case comes up in June I can prove my side and the true facts will then be known.

OTTO BERGLUND.

Stevenson, Minn., May 30, 1913.

Pike Fry Placed.

Virginia, Minn., May 31.—(Special to The Herald.)—Through the efforts of the Virginia Gun club, 200,000 pike fry have been received at Virginia for distribution in the lakes of this region. The greater part of these go to Sand lake.

RANGE TOWNS PAY TRIBUTE

Virginia, Hibbing and Other Towns Have Fine Memorial Day.

Virginia, Minn., May 31.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Memorial day pageant was greater and more spectacular than in any former year. The school children, numbering over 3,000 dressed in appropriate costumes and representing scenes and incidents in the history of the United States from the colonizers on down through the Revolutionary war to Civil war times, were the feature of the parade. Thousands thronged the streets along the line of march and applauded the showing of the teachers and their classes. The preparatory arrangements and the parade were under the direction of Supt. Lafayette Bliss. The various "Uncle Sams" and "Abe Lincolns," the groups representing the South before the war and during the reconstruction period, were commended as well as Sherman's march to the sea, the emigrants and Forty-Niners with prairie schooners, and the first families of America—the Indians. The young people of the schools, in the march included all those from the senior class of 1913 to the smallest children of the kindergartens. The Mohami band, school board members, mayor and council, veterans of Civil and Spanish-American wars, led in the parade.

Hibbing-Chisholm Celebration.

Hibbing, Minn., May 31.—(Special to The Herald.)—Maj. Wilkinson camp, No. 15, Spanish-American war veterans of Chisholm and many Chisholm citizens came here yesterday to join in the Memorial day celebration. After a fine parade there were exercises at the cemetery, Rev. Father Hogan speaking. Former Congressman Frank Nye of Minneapolis addressed a large audience in the evening at the Armory on "The Lincoln Democracy."

Gilbert Children Parade.

Gilbert, Minn., May 31.—(Special to The Herald.)—Nearly 2,000 children participated in the parade here yesterday which was a feature of the observance of Memorial day and included all city officials, veterans of the wars and prominent citizens.

In the morning the children attended a May festival on the school grounds and in the afternoon a track meet was staged on the athletic field.

Eveleth Has Fine Parade.

Eveleth, Minn., May 31.—(Special to The Herald.)—Following a splendid parade here yesterday there was speaking at the Armory, Rabbi Letkovits of Duluth delivering an eloquent address.

Grand Rapids Has Parade.

Grand Rapids, Minn., May 31.—(Special to The Herald.)—There was a double celebration here yesterday, Memorial day and the Boosters' club banquet, the latter in the evening. The Memorial day observance was a great success. There was a parade in the morning, after the G. A. R. veterans and others had decorated graves in the cemetery, with many school children in line. The exercises were held at the high school grounds, the program given in The Herald being followed. Rupert Swinnerton of Hibbing delivered the address. There was a ball game in the afternoon with the Duluth Adams club, the local winning, 2 to 1. The Boosters' club banquet was held in the evening at the Pokegama hotel.

Rupert Swinnerton of Hibbing spoke on "Business and Patriotism," telling of the possibilities of combining the two.

E. C. Kiley spoke in place of Andrew Nelson of Duluth, who was unable to be present, on "Town and Country," dwelling upon the common interests of both.

The feature of the evening was the stereopticon lecture, "Improvement of Home Premises," given by Prof. Vandyke of Coleraine, who showed a large number of excellent views, of the "before and after" type, to illustrate what a little cleaning up and a few flower seeds would do for the betterment of a town.

Prof. A. V. Storm gave an excellent talk on "Training for Farm Life," speaking of the necessary qualities of a farmer, and what the early training of a boy or girl will do for them in later years.

Hoverstad, agricultural commissioner for the Soo railroad, gave a most interesting talk on the "Agricultural Resources and Possibilities of Northern Minnesota," and incidentally pointed the way to success for the farmers of this part of the state.

"LIKE MAGIC."

New Food Makes Wonderful Changes.

When a man has suffered from dyspepsia so many years that he can't remember when he had a natural appetite, and then hits on a way out of trouble he may be excused for saying "it acts like magic."

When it is a simple, wholesome food instead of any one of a large number of so-called remedies in the form of drugs, he is more than ever likely to feel as though a sort of miracle has been performed.

A Chicago man, in the delight of restored digestion, puts it in this way:

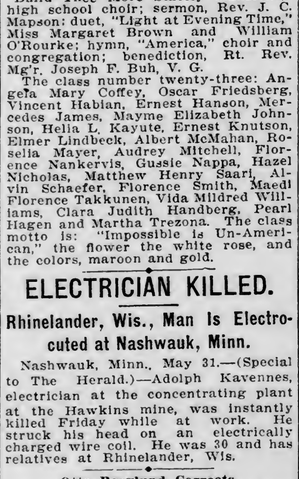
"Like magic, fittingly describes the manner in which Grape-Nuts relieved me of poor digestion, coated tongue and loss of appetite, of many years standing.

"I tried about every medicine that was recommended to me, without relief. Then I tried Grape-Nuts on the suggestion of a friend. By the time I had finished the fourth package, my stomach was all right, and for the past two months, I have been eating with a relish, anything set before me. That is something I had been unable to do previously for years.

"I am stronger than ever and I consider the effects of Grape-Nuts on a weak stomach as something really wonderful. It builds up the entire body as well as the brain and nerves." Name given by the Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

"There's a reason," and it is explained in the little book, "The Road to Wellville," in pkgs.

Ever read the above letter? A new one appears from time to time. They are genuine, true, and full of human interest.



MRS. MARY H. JAMES,
Virginia's Postmistress, Seated at Her Desk in the New Postoffice.

NEW SUPERINTENDENT OF VIRGINIA SCHOOLS

SUPT. H. E. FLYNN.

Virginia, Minn., May 31.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Virginia school board has chosen H. E. Flynn, superintendent of schools of Two Harbors, to succeed Supt. Lafayette Bliss. Mr. Flynn will assume charge July 1.

RAIN

Let the welkin ring with joyous shouts, boys! Duluth had a beautiful Memorial day. There wasn't a drop of rain. Instead of the rain starting during the parade, the sun broke through the clouds as the procession moved. Today is beautiful and warm, but the weather man sees showers or thunder storms ahead for tonight or Sunday.

Fair weather prevailed a year ago today.

The sun rose this morning at 4:17 and it will set at 7:54 this evening, giving fifteen hours and thirty-seven minutes of sunlight.

Mr. Richardson makes the following comment on weather conditions:

"During the last twenty-four to forty-eight hours showers fell over the lake region, upper Mississippi, Missouri and Ohio valleys and Middle Atlantic states. Hot weather prevailed in the Mississippi, Missouri and Ohio valleys and Southern states, temperatures of 90 deg. or higher being general in those districts, the maximum being 100 deg. at Omaha on Thursday. Conditions favor rather unsettled weather in St. Louis and Douglas counties and local showers are probable between this afternoon and Sunday night."

General Forecasts.

MAN WEARS SKIRTS AND WOMAN TROUSERS

Couple Are Arrested in Chicago Because of Odd Actions.

Chicago, May 31.—Policeman Andrew Brogan's suspicions were aroused today by the peculiar actions of a man and a woman walking in West Monroe street. He arrested them at the entrance of a rooming house, and discovered a man in woman's garb and a woman in man's attire.

They gave the names of Mrs. Ruth Harris, 19 years old, and Frank Blaske, 17 years old.

RECORDS IN COUNTY SEAT WAR BURNED

Papers That Led to Indictment of Prominent Men Destroyed.

Fort Smith, Ark., May 31.—Practically all of the records of Delaware county, Oklahoma, for possession of which opposing factions of the towns of Old Jay and New Jay have been on the verge of open warfare several times during the last year, were burned when the courthouse, postoffice and mercantile establishment of Caulk & Sanders at Old Jay were destroyed by fire yesterday, according to a dispatch to the Southwest American.

An investigation is being made to determine whether the fire was of incendiary origin. The property damage is estimated at $20,000. No insurance was carried, insurance companies having cancelled all policies because of the county seat dispute.

Among the records burned were papers bearing on the guardianship of minor Indians, an investigation of which recently resulted in the returning of a number of indictments. Several county officials, bankers and attorneys were among those indicted.

PLAN LARGER POLITICAL BODY.

Washington, May 31.—Increased senatorial representation on the Democratic congressional committee was discussed today at a conference between Chairman Lloyd and Secretary Page of the campaign committee and a committee of five senators. President Wilson favors a plan to have on the reorganized committee a senator from each state where senators are to be elected by popular vote in 1914. According to the committee's information these states are:

Kentucky, Kansas, Ohio, Oregon, Arkansas, Florida, New Hampshire, Oklahoma, Alabama, Nevada, North Carolina, New York, Illinois, Indiana, South Carolina, Georgia, Maryland, Arizona, Missouri, Colorado and Louisiana.

BATHTUB IS SET ON COURTHOUSE STEPS

Findlay, Ohio, Has No Funds for Pedestal for Maine Relic.

Findlay, Ohio, May 31.—No unveiling ceremony was accorded the bath tub which was recovered from Admiral Sigsbee's quarters in the battleship Maine and awarded to the citizens of this city.

Lack of funds has prevented the erection of a pedestal for the relic in the public square, so the tub was taken from the courthouse cellar yesterday and placed on the steps of the building for patriotic citizens to gaze at.

TWO SAW BARS IN ILLINOIS ASYLUM

Inmates of Violent Ward at Dunning Have Escaped.

Chicago, May 31.—Chicago police and state officers are searching for William Prossett, 47 years old, and Joseph Smyth, 23 years old, inmates of one of the violent wards at the Chicago state hospital for the insane at Dunning, who escaped from the institution today by sawing through iron bars of a window and descending a fire escape.

FRENCH GOVERNMENT TO MANAGE ATHLETICS

Plan for Creation of New Bureau Is Considered.

Paris, May 31.—The development of sports and athletics may shortly be taken under the direct supervision of the French government, the idea being that physical training of the rising generation is quite as important to the nation as art or railways, and that it is in accord with the new spirit of progress in France.

The French cabinet has under consideration the question of asking parliament to create an under-secretary of state who shall be attached to the ministry of labor and whose duties will be solely to look after sporting affairs.

CHICAGO MAN SHOOTS HIMSELF FIVE TIMES

Also Cuts Throat Twice With Razor—Will Die.

Chicago, May 31.—In ill health and despondent because he was out of work, Joseph Stunek, 38 years old, shot himself five times and slashed his throat twice with a razor in an attempt to commit suicide in a downtown hotel today.

Four bullets entered his abdomen and perforated his intestines eighty times. Another bullet entered his ear and lodged behind his right eye, according to the physician who examined him at a hospital. He was conscious several hours after being taken to the hospital, but the attending physician expressed the opinion that he would die.

AMERICAN MUST LEAVE ENGLAND.

London, May 31.—J. Salter Hanson, the American theatrical manager, was brought up at Bow street police court today on a charge of having threatened with violence Arthur Bourchier, an English actor-manager. He was unable to find sureties for his future behavior, but the magistrate released him on his statement that he would leave the British Isles today.

VOTE ON BONDS IN KANSAS CITY.

Kansas City, Mo., May 31.—Fair weather foretold a heavy vote here today at a bond election to provide an issue aggregating $2,000,000 to be used in erecting a branch public library, a high school and twelve ward schools.

YOUNG AMATEUR AVIATOR KILLED.

Chicago, May 31.—Aviation claimed another victim today when James Colovan, a young amateur flyer, was killed by the overturning of his biplane. The accident occurred just outside the flying field of the Aero Club of Illinois. The machine caught in a tree as the aviator was attempting to execute a low turn. It immediately capsized and dropped. Colovan was crushed under the engine.

Artificial sponges, said to equal in usefulness the natural ones, are made by treating paper pulp with chloride of lime, adding common salt and drying and pressing it in machines to give it the desired forms.

CHILDREN OF SALTER SCHOOL WILL PRESENT TWO PLAYS ON COMMENCEMENT DAY

HUBERT LUNDBERG, "Bassanio."

PERCY CASSON, "Shylock."

GORDON MacLEAN, "The Duke."

ANNA McEWEN, "Nerissa."

EVELYN AHLEN, "Portia."

JOHN AHLEN, "Antonio."

MACK STEIN, "Gratiano."

THE trial scene from Shakespeare's "The Merchant of Venice" and a little morality play, "The House of the Heart" are being worked up by the eighth grade pupils of the C. C. Salter school for their commencement exercises which will be given Friday afternoon, June 13, at the school building for parents and friends and all interested in the school work.

The scene from "The Merchant of Venice" was chosen as a good old masterpiece and is being given more for what the students will gain out of its study than what they will give and they have worked it up to a good degree of interest.

The cast for the scene has been made as follows: Portia, Evelyn Ahlen; Nerissa, Anna McEwen; Antonio, John Ahlen; The Duke, Gordon MacLean; Gratiano, Mack Stein; Bassanio, Herbert Lundberg; Shylock, Percy Casson; Solarino, Clarence Thorne; Solano, Percy Kerr.

The children have made their own costumes and the stage settings will be very simple.

"The House of the Heart" is a delightful little bit of work in which appear the "Child" and the virtues and vices, bringing out a good little lesson. Miss Muriel Nelson will take the part of the child and the other characters will be:

Wisdom, Lillie Anderson; Love, Evelyn Ahlen; Cheerfulness, John Ahlen; Industry, Celia Wirkkule; Lady Gossip, Gladys Lovelace; Laziness, Percy Casson; Vanity, Myrtle Olsen; Grumble, Geneva Hallberg; Dame Quarrelsome, Lydia Beckman; Envy, Anna McEwen; Experience, Gladys Pringle.

Miss Anna McEwen has been elected class prophet and she has worked up the prophecy cleverly, taking as her viewpoint the telegraph editor's desk of a New York newspaper twenty-five years from now and she has woven in all of her class mates with ingenuity and interest.

Testimonial Concert

Given by MISS VALBORG GUNDERSON, assisted by Mrs. Fred G. Bradbury, Mrs. J. B. Erd, Miss Ruth Alta Rogers and Miss Loretta O'Gorman, Monday evening, June 2, 8:15, Congregational church, Lake avenue and Second street. Admission 50 cents.

EAST END YOUNG PEOPLE WILL PRESENT PLAY

"The Rose o' Plymouth Town" will be given this evening by members of the Junior Drama league of the Endion M. E. church, under the direction of Mrs. George M. Morgan. It is a pretty little play which has been carefully worked up by the young people, and promises an evening's entertainment well worth while.

The leading role, Rose de la Noye, is taken by Miss Marie Elsten. The part of Miles Standish will be played by Milton Stickles. The other characters are: Garrett Foster, Leslie Bowman; John Margeson, Ralph Dunning; Philipe de la Noye, Edward Scriven; Miriam Chillingsley, Florence Cochrane; Barbara Standish, Mildred Turner; Resolute Standish, Mildred Turner.

Capt. Reed is a graduate of West Point and has been in service for several years.

Mrs. Hayden and her daughter were residents of Duluth for a number of years before they left for the West.

OBSERVATIONS

By PEGGY PEABODY

Some Remarks on Selfishness Displayed on Street Cars.

I suppose I ought not to write on this subject just now, for I am still indignant over some of the exhibitions of this form of selfishness which I saw just a little while ago while I was on my way downtown on a car. I see it most every day, for that matter, but today it seemed to "get on my nerves" more than ever before. So I feel like speaking my mind about it.

If a person has a selfish streak—and most of us have, I guess—it will come out in their relations with other persons in public, sooner or later. And the best place to size a person up sometimes in a street car. I often study the people I see on the same car with me, and if circumstances are just right, I think I can pretty nearly tell how much breeding certain persons have, or how much they lack.

For men to sit stubbornly and hide themselves behind their papers while women stand, is too common to require much comment. Tired after a hard day's work? Perhaps so. But what about that poor shop girl who has stood on her feet all day while they have sat in a snug office chair, maybe?

I see people so selfish and inconsiderate of others that they will turn around in a seat to gaze out of the window, and take up two seats, never offering to move unless compelled to do so. I have seen people sprawled out on the seat—in a car with one long seat on each side—and people standing, and never offer to make room until somebody with a little nerve offers to sit down in their laps. Then it will take sometime for the whole line to set in motion, when generally space for three or four persons will be revealed.

I have seen men who were gentlemen, continue to stand, when seats were vacated, in order to allow women to take the seats, and then see other men slip into these seats before the women could reach them. I saw a man arise one day to give a woman his seat, and another man slipped into it. The party of the first part very promptly grabbed the party of the second part by the coat collar and yanked him out of the seat and almost threw him onto the floor. I figuratively clapped my hands, and voted him a Peggy Peabody medal right on the spot.

Oh these seat hogs—end, middle or any other kind! If they only knew in what contempt they are held by gentlemen and gentle women, they would brace up and be a little more considerate.

I think street car companies should instruct their conductors to watch the seats and see that persons should be allowed but one seat or pay for more. That might put the seat hog pest out of business.

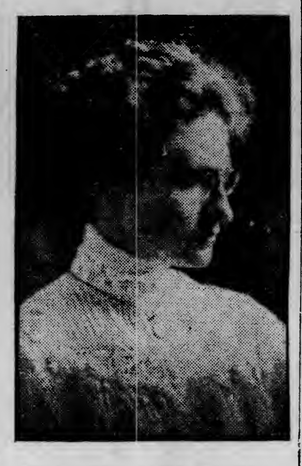
ATTRACTIVE PROGRAM FOR CONCERT FOR MISS VALBORG GUNDERSON

MISS VALBORG GUNDERSON.



MISS RUTH ALTA ROGERS.

MRS. FRED G. BRADBURY.

MISS LORETTA O'GORMAN.

MUSIC lovers are looking forward to the concert which will be given Monday evening at the Pilgrim Congregational church at 8:15 o'clock as a testimonial to Miss Valborg Gunderson, violinist of this city, as one of the finest programs of the season. Miss Gunderson will play several solo numbers and with Mrs. J. B. Erd, cellist, and Mrs. Fred G. Bradbury, pianist, will appear in two trio numbers which are particular drawing cards on the program. This trio of artists has delighted Matinee Musicale audiences during the year with their work and at this concert they will play a Beethoven Concerto and a Strauss number.

The other soloists are Miss Ruth Alta Rogers, pianist and Miss Loretta O'Gorman, vocalist.

Miss Gunderson played for F. H. Tubbs of Chicago, representative of Lyon & Healey, who was a classmate of Fred G. Bradbury, and a pupil of Jacobson during his visit here last winter, and he was greatly impressed and enthusiastic over her talent. "She certainly has the divine spark," he said.

Miss Gunderson has charmed all who have heard her here with her excellent playing and artistic interpretations and much is expected of her in the future.

The program for this concert follows:

Trio for piano, violin and cello.....
..... Beethoven
Allegro vivace, Largo, Presto.....
Mrs. Fred G. Bradbury, Miss Gunderson and Mrs. J. B. Erd.
Nocturne in C Minor.....Chopin
Etude in F Major.....Chopin
Ruth Alta Rogers.
"Die Forelle" .....Schubert
"Du bist wie eine Blume"..Schumann
"Widmung" .....Schumann
Loretta O'Gorman.
"Faust Fantasie" .....Schubert
Valborg Gunderson.
Trio—Andante, D Minor..Mendelssohn
Walzer, from Suite Op. 43....Strauss
Mrs. Bradbury, Miss Gunderson and Mrs. J. B. Erd.

Mrs. Donna Riblette Flaaten.

MRS. K. A. OSTERGREN.

ALUMNAE BANQUET.

Normal Graduates Will Have Reunion at Torrance Hall.

ALUMNAE of the Duluth State Normal school will enjoy their annual reunion and banquet this evening at the Torrance hall at 6 o'clock. President E. W. Bohannon will give the address of welcome and a short program of informal toasts will be responded to.

After the banquet "Beaneo," a little comic tragedy, written by Miss Louisa Olcott, will be given under the direction of Miss Ely of the school faculty. The cast follows:

Miss Hazel Tobin, villain; Miss Ruth Monger, lover; Miss Maud Amberg, sweetheart; Miss Margaret Gleason, page, and Miss Doris Wilson, witch. The remainder of the evening will be spent in dancing.

The commencement sermon will be given tomorrow in the normal school chapel. Rev. Charles N. Thorp, pastor of the Pilgrim Congregational church, will be the speaker. The service will commence at 3:30 o'clock.

Praise for Singers.

A MUSICAL event of interest is the approaching visit of the Paulist choristers of the Chicago choir who have won prizes on two continents. There will be fifty singers at the two concerts, which will be given at the Orpheum theater on Thursday, June 26, afternoon and evening. Critics claim that no chorus in the country can duplicate their astonishing control of light and shade.

The following is a clipping from the Chicago Tribune following one of their concerts:

"A miscellaneous program by the Paulist choristers attracted a vast audience to the Studebaker theater yesterday afternoon. The popularity of this chorus is not difficult to explain. Father Finn's boys and men sing beautifully. They should, for the conductor selects his voices with care and assembles his singers each day for rehearsal. They are faultlessly drilled and they execute his interpretative intentions with a precision and facility that make possible the highest standards of ensemble. The public has learned these facts and gives its support for value received."

Choir Concert.

A PROGRAM that received enthusiastic applause from first to last was given at the annual concert of the choir of the First Norwegian Lutheran church last evening at that church. Miss Valborg Gunderson, violinist; Miss Alice M. Olsen, organist; Miss Jeannette Sanders and Miss Nina Pryts, soprano soloists, and Miss Ruth Ringsred, pianist, assisted. Rev. J. H. Stenberg was the director.

Choir numbers and the solo numbers by the assisting artists were all given with charm and ability, the choir numbers being particularly good for their unity and harmony.

Members of the choir taking part in the concert were: Miss Irene Johnson, Miss Adelle Gronseth, Miss Lelea Jofdhoy, Miss Hattie Hjelm, Miss Barbara Hjelm, Miss Dagney Knudsen, Miss Borghild Dahl, Miss Clara Anderson, Miss Matilda Landfald, Miss Genive Dahl, Miss Astrid Wold, Miss Anna Anderson, Miss Fannie Anderson, Miss Tillie Larson, Miss Bradseth, Miss Ruth Ringsred, S. T. Johnson, R. P. Morck, Dan Wick, Arthur Ringsred, Carl Olsen, L. Thorsen, Paul Snelde B. Skogen, Oscar Solheim and John Olsen.

GROWTH OF SABBATH SCHOOLS.

Interesting Report Given at Conference of Seventh Day Adventists.

During the past four years the Sabbath schools of the Seventh Day Adventist denomination in North America gave $632,778.30 for the furtherance of the gospel in foreign lands, according to a report rendered by Secretary George B. Thompson before the delegates at the world conference of Seventh Day Adventists now in session in Washington, D. C. An extract of this report has been received by A. W. Erickson, pastor of the local Adventist church, Twenty-third avenue west and Fourth street, and the members were much interested in the progress mentioned in it.

During the quadrennial period of 1905-1908, the Sabbath schools gave $273,341 to missions, the increase over this amount during the quadrennial period ending in 1912 being $359,636.

The motto adopted at the present session of the genera was "A Million Dollars for Missions." The report further showed that in 1908 the denomination had 3,747 Sabbath schools, 1,260 of which were in foreign fields and 2,487 in America. During the four years of the general conference period the schools had grown to 4,467, of which 1,845 were in foreign lands and 2,622 in home fields, making an increase of 585 foreign and 136 home sabbath schools since the last general conference. Four years ago there was a membership in these Sabbath schools of 88,843, of which 22,011 were in the foreign fields. During the quadrennial period there has been an increase of membership of 25,170, of which 23,678 have been in foreign lands and 1,492 in the home fields, the membership in the foreign fields having doubled during the past four years.

During the four years 3,542 of the Sabbath school scholars have been converted and most of them baptized. Since 1867, when the first deposit for missions was made by the schools, they have donated $1,313,580 for missions. The record of the offerings to missions in 1912 from the Sabbath schools was said to be especially encouraging, as during the year $228,029 were given, which was an increase of $13,134 over 1911. Four years ago the Sabbath schools of the denomination were giving less than $2,000 a week to missions, now they are giving almost $5,000 a week.

The members of the local Sabbath school are especially interested in the recommendations made to the general conference, which are as follows:

That attention be given as never before to make the Sabbath schools a great power in saving souls; that some plan be devised at this conference which will result in increased study of the lessons; that the officers of the Sabbath school be elected the same as other church officers and serve for one year instead of six months, as at present, and that the secretaries for the Sabbath school work in the various conferences be chosen who can give their entire time to that work.

TONY SCHWEIGER WAITS FOR SISTER

Calumet Man Has Lost Address and Is Sitting at Union Station.

Tony Schweiger of Calumet, Mich., is sitting in the union station waiting for his sister, Mrs. Mary Richards, formerly Miss Mary Schweiger of Calumet.

Mr. Schweiger arrived in Duluth this morning. He has lost his sister's address. He doesn't know her husband's first name. There are so many Richards in the directory that he cannot call on them all, so he will sit in the station all day today and tomorrow waiting. If his sister sees this notice, he will expect her to call on him there.

Mr. Richards is a railroad man, Mr. Schweiger believes, but that is all he knows about him.

PICTURES OF PARADE.

Memorial Day Procession Will Be Reproduced at the Empress.

Moving pictures of the Memorial day parade in Duluth will be shown at the Empress theater next week, beginning tomorrow.

W. M. Abrahamson, manager of the Empress, said today that the pictures taken yesterday were a complete success. The films were taken at several points and they show all sections of the parade as they marched by. Mr. Abrahamson says that the pictures are unusually clear and all Duluth people, especially participants in the parade and their friends, will enjoy them.

Hot at St. Louis.

Meetings in St. Paul's and Trinity Pro Cathedral.

The annual convention of the Episcopal diocese of Duluth will be held in Duluth next Wednesday and Thursday, June 4 and 5, with meetings at Trinity pro-cathedral, Twentieth avenue east and Superior street, and at St. Paul's church, Seventeenth avenue east and Superior street.

The meeting will be the eighteenth annual convention of the diocese and it will attract to Duluth clergymen and laymen from all Episcopal churches in the northern counties of the state.

The convention will meet first at Trinity pro-cathedral Wednesday morning, June 4, at 10 a. m. The opening meeting will be a Holy Communion service, with Rev. F. C. Coolbaugh of Cloquet in charge. The convention will organize after the service, and luncheon will be served at 12:30 by the women of the pro-cathedral. There will be a business session of the convention in the afternoon and an adjournment will be taken about 5:30.

Wednesday evening the annual meeting of the Sunday school commission will be held at St. Paul's chapel. The report of the commission will be given by Archdeacon H. F. Marshall of Cass Lake, chairman. Dr. R. W. Bowden of Duluth will speak on "Advanced Bible Classes." "The Pastor and the Sunday School," will be the subject of a talk by Rev. Lewis R. Levering of St. Cloud, and Rev. F. M. Crouch will speak on "Social Service in the Sunday School."

Thursday morning at 9:30 an ordination service will be held at St. Paul's church. Rev. William H. Ward of International Falls will be advanced to the priesthood. His brother, Rev. James G. Ward, will preach. At 11 a. m. the Women's Auxiliary Missionary society will hold its annual meeting. Luncheon will be served at 12:30 at St. Paul's, and in the afternoon at 1:30 the women's auxiliary will meet again. Miss Mary Smith of Minneapolis will give an address on "Extension Work and the Modern Mission." A study class will follow.

The closing function of the convention will be a reception from 8 to 10 Thursday evening by Bishop and Mrs. J. D. Morrison at their home, 2131 East Superior street. Delegates to the convention and all other members of the church have been invited to attend.

NURSE DIES FROM BURNS

Injuries Received in Explosion of Oil Prove Fatal.

Blood poisoning brought on by burns sustained five weeks ago caused the death, yesterday afternoon of Miss Irene Le Blano, 19 years old, a student nurse at St. Mary's hospital.

Miss Le Blanc was heating oil in the hospital pharmacy when the substance ignited and later exploded. She suffered severe burns, and about a week ago blood poisoning set in. It spread rapidly through her system and Wednesday evening all hope of saving her life was abandoned.

Miss Le Blanc's parents are both dead, and she was making her home with her aunt, Mrs. Albert Melanson, 422 East Third street. She was also a niece of Miss C. F. Neaham, special nurse at the hospital.

The funeral will be held at 9 o'clock Monday morning from the Sacred Heart cathedral, with interment at Calvary.

High School Notes

Thursday morning chapel was the scene of very appropriate Memorial day exercises. The program was opened by the singing of "America" by the student body. Mr. Widdy, on behalf of the Order of Sons of Veterans, gave the opening address and, after a few remarks suitable to the occasion, he gave way to Scott Cash, a representative of the Spanish War Veterans. At the completion of his talk the choir rendered the famous "Battle Hymn of the Republic," which was quickly followed by "Dixie" and the "Soldier's Chorus." Marcus W. Bates of the Willis A. Gorman post addressed the students, giving a number of statistics regarding the numbers engaged in the Civil war. Several very interesting comparisons were drawn between the personnel of the American armies and that of the combatants in the famous engagements of the world.

The principal address was given by Capt. Smallwood of the Culver post, whose many vivid experiences of the war were realistically retold. The audience listened with intense interest and upon his conclusion he was given an ovation.

The next speaker, C. H. Dunning of the Citizens' staff, outlined the reasons for the organization of this body and asked that the students perpetuate its purposes.

As a fitting conclusion to the appropriate program a beautiful rendering of "Taps," accompanied by Charles Helmer on the cornet, was given.

Arrangements are being completed at the high school for the establishment of summer courses in various studies. The school will be conducted along the same general plans as one which attained such a marked success last year.

In addition to the teaching of the various departments of manual training, domestic science and domestic art, however, academic studies will also be offered for the benefit of those who wish to make up credits in the regular high school academic courses.

It is possible under the system that will be employed in the conduct of the school to gain a full year's credit in the first three named subjects, but only a half year credit will be given for the successful completion of a study in the academic course.

The report that an agricultural course will be added to the curriculum next year has occasioned no little comment by the students. The course of study will be open to third or fourth year students who wish to prepare for more advanced work along this line in the university. A large number of students are interested in the proposed addition of this course, and it has met with decided favor. According to tentative plans, Prof. E. P. Gibson, head of the biology department, will be placed in charge of the course, and should the work extend rapidly, an assistant will be obtained. The question of establishing the agricultural department will be acted upon by the school board at its meeting June 6.

The Thalian society, the recently organized mathematical club held its second and last meeting of the year Wednesday afternoon in room 206. The several pictures of noted mathematicians, bought from the proceeds of the entertainment given some time ago by Miss Sara Ruth Bates under the auspices of the classes in higher mathematics, were presented to the instructors in this department.

Miss Agnes E. Wells, president of the club, made the presentation. Following the meeting a banquet was served in the lunch room, where the juniors who desired to join the club and perpetuate its work were initiated. The other officers of the organization are: Mabel Harker, vice president, and Francis Dever, secretary and treasurer.

The comedy farce prologue from "A Midsummer Night's Dream," which was presented by a sextet of high school senior girls at the reception given by the Collegiate Alumnae last week, was reproduced before the students of the school during the chapel period Monday morning. The sketch was thoroughly enjoyed by the students who responded by frequently interrupting the play with outbursts of enthusiastic applause. Those who took part in the skit and the roles they portrayed: Dorothy Wachtel, Peter Quince, the stage manager; Marjorie Bailles, Thisbee; Florence Whipple, Pyramus; Marjorie Milne, the "Wall;" Vernie Larson, moon; Clara Fider, bear.

The senior farewell dance held Thursday evening in the school was an unqualified success. The last social event to be given under the auspices of the class of 1913 was attended by a record breaking crowd of students who enjoyed one of the best dances of the term. A liberal use of national emblems and bunting suggestive of Memorial day featured the decorations. The committee which had charge of the dance consisted of Mildred Miller and Kenneth Harris, chairmen; Marjorie Peck, Eunice Whipple, Rhoby Sargent, Mabel, Neimeyer, Arthur Wasgatt, William Elder, Stanley Grogan and Lawrence Dow.

In order to facilitate the work and complete some of the many preliminary arrangement relative to the 1914 Zenith, the annual publication of the senior class, the members of the junior class, at the monthly meeting of that body last Monday, elected Harold Bradley editor in chief of next year's book. He will appoint a board to aid him in this important work in a few days and it is expected that much will be accomplished before the opening of the fall term.

The members of the high school basket ball team, during the past season, will be presented with sweaters bearing the school insignia, during the chapel period Monday morning. The team made a fine record during the season, finishing a stiff schedule with only one blot on Central's escutcheon, and gaining third place in the Central states' tournament at Evanston.

Those who will receive the recognition of the school for services rendered are: Arthur Osman, captain; Kenneth Harris, William Elder, Mathew Brown, Chauncey Larsen and James Wernst.

A special makeup examination in spelling will be offered to the seniors who lack the necessary credit in this subject, which is required for graduation. The examination will be held Monday afternoon and quite a number of fourth-year students have signified their intention to take it.

TONIGHT'S ATTRACTIONS.

LYCEUM—John Drew in "The Perplexed Husband."
EMPRESS—Vaudeville.

JOHN DREW AT THE LYCEUM

Interpreter of Light Comedy Makes First Visit to Duluth.

The conventional attitude of the average opponent of woman's suffrage is most cleverly set forth in Alfred Sutro's comedy "The Perplexed Husband" which served to introduce John Drew, Mary Boland and an all-star cast to a Duluth audience which completely filled the Lyceum last evening.

Those who expected to find the play simply a satire poking fun at the suffrage movement, were pleasantly disappointed. There is an undercurrent of seriousness throughout. The fanatical Dulcie Histead, a dramatized Mrs. Pankhurst, is not made simply a ridiculous figure. She is pathetic rather than ludicrous, and the dramatist treats her type with a kindly hand. All the stock arguments against suffrage are paraded by the worried husband, but they are never allowed to go unanswered. The self-satisfied, well-provided-for Agatha proclaims that she secures all the privileges she desires by simply "not talking about them." Dulcie's rather terse retort about the condition of the millions of women and children who are less fortunately situated, is an effective reply to a moss-covered argument.

The wife does not surrender all her ideas unconditionally and return to her doll-like existence. Her surrender is more of an adoption of saner methods of securing her much-desired freedom, and he rhusband admits as the curtain falls that he has "learned something." Even the likable old charlaton Clarence Woodhouse, the Master, a kind of "Beloved Vagabond" at heart a belief in the message he carries, while secretly scorning the methods he is forced to use to gain a livelihood. "The Perplexed Husband" is not simply a satire, therefore, on the suffrage movement. It pokes a little clever fun at the extreme propagandists, but the modern woman movement as a whole is treated with seriousness and respect.

The dialogue is sparkling, and the situations cleverly conceived.

Mr. Drew is a conventional husband who has good reasons for being worried. He returns home after a long trip to find that his wife has embraced the suffrage cause. She is for equal rights and insists that she must live her own life. The leaders of modern theories are quartered in his home. The husband, suddenly becoming shrewd, pretends to be converted—and introduces into the house a beautiful woman with a Greek soul, who he says needs converting also.

The bizarre young woman wih the Greek soul is almost improbable, even impossible character, but nobody in the audience would quarrel with the dramatist on this score as long as Miss Mary Boland is entrusted with the role, which she makes one of the most refreshing and thoroughly enjoyable parts seen on a Duluth stage in many months.

As the exponent of polite comedy Mr. Drew has gained a position that is unequaled on the American stage. His work is always quiet, restrained and effective.

In support of Mr. Drew and Miss Boland, Mr. Frohman has provided a cast without a flaw. Hubert Druce makes "The Master" a most lovable old vagabond. Nina Sevening is a charming and appealing Sophie Pelling, and Miss Alice John a most radiant and wholesome Agatha. Margaret Watson does a most effective bit of work as Dulcie Elstead, the fanatical worker for "The Cause," and succeeds in making this type pathetically appealing rather than simply ludicrous. Walter Soderling has a well done "bit" as Pitts, the butler.

"The Perplexed Husband" will be repeated this evening.

CHANGES HIS MIND.

Ely Man Decides to Build on His Crosby Lot.

Crosby, Minn., May 31.—(Special to The Herald.)—Eric Anttila of Ely was here this week. Two years ago Mr. Anttila came to Crosby and bought a lot, and came back to sell it, but changed his mind after looking over the town.

Kirk Himrod of Rosedale, Ind., is here for a short visit with C. M. Atkinson.

Charles Parent of Duluth, interested in Cuyuna iron ore properties, was here Thursday.

The Crosby Rod & Gun club has been advised that a consignment of pike fry will reach here on Monday. The pike minnows will be placed in Serpent lake.

William Pascoe, superintendent of the Cuyuna-Duluth and Cuyuna-Milac mines, has purchased a site in Keating's addition to Crosby, and will erect a dwelling thereon.

Mrs. A. J. Kane has commenced building a store building on her lot on First street south, between First and Second avenues west. The building will be 25 by 60 feet, two stories and basement.

Mrs. Charles S. Roulo entertained Thursday for her sister, Mrs. Edith Jeffrey, who is soon to return to her home at Minneapolis.

Mrs. Hibberd Ingalls and granddaughter, Miss Norma Ingalls, and Mrs. H. L. Nicholson left Thursday for a visit of ten days with friends at Duluth, Superior and Coleraine.

John G. Kohanek, an employe of the Mahlum Lumber company, left this week for Trout Creek, Mich., where next Wednesday he will be married to Miss Selma Provost. They will make their home in Crosby.

E. A. Gamble, late of Ironwood, Mich., will soon break ground for a brick building on Main street, immediately west of Albert Humble's furniture store. The dimensions will be 24 by 60 feet.

Mr. and Mrs. James Harold Matthews and son, Walter, of Ironwood, Mich., were present at the marriage of their niece, Miss Myrtle Matthews, to Rev. Charles M. Ruland, on Wednesday evening.

J. P. Gleason returned Tuesday from Minneapolis, where he attended the annual meeting of the Northwestern Launderers' association.

GRANITE MARKS GRANT'S CAMP.

Jacksonville, Ill., May 31.—Two large granite boulders were placed yesterday on the site where Col. U. S. Grant camped with the Twenty-first regiment of Illinois volunteers, near Naples, Ill., commanding a beautiful view of the Illinois river. Ensley Moore of this city, an eye witness of Grant's march through this section of the state, was the principal speaker.

Montana Bridge Worker Drowns.

Missoula, Mont., May 31.—Lester Thompson was drowned and Henry Seil narrowly escaped the same fate Friday when the timbers of the Milwaukee bridge across the Missoula river gave way. The men were bridge workers. The river is now at a higher stage than the average maximum of the last four years because of melting snow in the mountains. The flood situation in Western Montana in the vicinity of Missoula is greatly relieved.

Christian Endeavor Notes

The regular monthly consecration service will be observed by the local Endeavor societies, and the subject for this week's consideration is "The Ideal Christian—His Bible Study." The reference is found in Deut. vi., 1-9. Prominent among the leaders for this lesson will be Rev. J. O. Buswell of Minneapolis, who will lead the service of the First Baptist society. The following services have been reported to the local union.

First Baptist—This society will meet as usual at 7 o'clock and will study the regular topic. Mr. Buswell's presence as leader insures a very interesting lesson, as Mr. Buswell's principal work is study and teaching of the Bible.

First Christian—The service of this society will be held at the church at 6:45. Aubrey Tidball, president of the society, will be the leader. All members are urged to be present and young people in the vicinity of the church are given a cordial welcome. The business meeting of the society will be held Friday evening, June 6 at the home of Miss Gladys Spearing, 917 East

AUTOMOBILES

FRANCE WINS BIG AUTO RACE

Goux, in Peugeot Car, Takes Laurels at Indianapolis Classic.

American Car Is Second—Many Accidents, But No Fatalities.

Indianapolis, Ind., May 31.—The United States fell before France here yesterday, when Jules Goux, a Frenchman, driving a French car, the Peugeot, won the third annual 500-mile automobile race at the speedway in 6:31:33.45, at an average speed of 76.59 miles an hour.

No fatal accidents marred the running of the race, although two were seriously injured when the Mason, driven by Jack Tower, upset on the back turn, due to a tire blowout. Towers' right leg was broken and Lee Bunning, his mechanician, received three broken ribs and internal injuries. The physicians at the Methodist hospital, where the two men were taken after the race, were not sure as to the exent of Bunning's injuries last night.

Charles Merz, who finished third in a Stutz, brought the biggest thrill to the crowd, estimated at 100,000, when he drove the last lap of the race with his car on fire. The flames broke out in the upper stretch turn and Merz refused to stop at the pits until he had circled the track another time and finished the race. Coming down the home stretch in the finish, Harry Martin, Merz's mechanician, climbed out on the hood of the car and unbuckled the straps so the pit men could extinguish the flames immediately.

Four of the eight foreign cars entered, finished in the prizes, the other four being forced out by broken parts. An American car, a Mercer, driven by Spencer Wishart, finished second, seven laps behind the winner. The Sunbeam, an English car, driven by a Frenchman, Albert Guyot, came in fourth. The other cars in the money were:

Pilett's Mercedes-Knight (German), which was fifth, and Mulford's Mercedes (German), seventh. The three Italian cars were forced out of the contest.

Time Ten Minutes Slower.

The race was a little more than ten minutes slower than last year's contest, which was run in 6:21:06. This was due, it was said, in a large measure to the intense heat, which necessitated many changes of tires. Another thing which caused a slower time was the fact that this year the piston displacement was limited to 150 cubic inches, while last year the race was a "free-for-all." All the speedway records for the class of cars were broken up to 250 miles, when the many stops at the pit began to cut down the average.

Goux, the winner, complained at every stop at the pits because his manager refused to let him put his car to its highest speed. He claimed that he could have made much better time, but his manager contended that as he was in the lead from the 140th mile, there was no use to let the Peugeot out. Goux, after getting the lead from Burman when he stopped for oil and gasoline, was never headed and finished far in the lead of his nearest competitor. Andersons's Stutz pushed the leader hard until the 187th lap, when the car was forced out by a broken magneto shaft.

Goux first won fame as a race driver in France, where he was victor in a 402-mile race. Before coming here he went to the Brooklands track in England, where he made 106 miles, 37 yards in sixty minutes in the same car in which he raced yesterday. His record in the 402-mile race broke all European records for the distance, while his performance at Brooklands track broke all world records.

Burman, who was the favorite in the betting, ran a hard luck race. In the 55th lap, his car caught fire in the back stretch. He put this out and ran to the pits, where he had to change carburetors. He had to make several other stops at the pits and was relieved at the wheel by Hughie Hughes, who was still on the track, about twenty laps behind, when the tenth car finished.

Besides the prizes and trophies offered by accessory concerns, the following prizes were given by the speedway management to the winners, which, with their times, follow in order:

Car and Driver—	Time.	Prize.
Peugeot, Goux	6:31:33.45	$20,000
Mercer, Wishart	6:45:06	10,000
Stutz, Merz	6:50:35	5,000
Sunbeam, Guyot	7:05:08	3,500
Mercedes-Knight, Pilette	7:19:25	3,000
Grey, Wilcox	7:23:38.00	2,200
Mercedes, Mulford	7:27:17.85	1,800
Case, Disbrow	7:30:50.95	1,600
Tulsa, Clark	7:40:21	1,500
Mason, Haupt	7:53:31	1,400

AUTO DEALERS HOPE AGAIN

Return of Summer Weather Promises Boom in Car Sales.

Country Roads Are in Good Shape Despite the Continued Rain.

The rainy weather that has been prevailing has continued to interfere with the auto business, but yesterday was one day that brought out the machines. Those who did not own them rented them or "worked" their friends, and many spent a part of yesterday looking over machines with the object of buying them. It is believed by auto dealers in general that the result of the day will be many additional sales. There is nothing like sunny weather to create envy for auto owners in others and to crystalize in prospects the desire to own a car.

Desite the rainy weather it is said that the country roads are in good shape. With the coming of sunshine, after their dampened and flattened condition, they being but little used, they are expected to bake into hard and level highways. Nature often puts a fine crown on a road.

"I believe I can say without fear of successful contradiction, that the Kissel electric self-starter has given more consistently good service and satisfaction than any starter found in 1913 automobile models," says J. T. Peacha, manager of the Interstate Auto company, Duluth agents for the Kissel Kar.

"The Kissel Kar starter, which is our own and not found on other cars, cannot fail to engage when the starting plunger is pushed in. The plunger is a foot pedal and is so connected that the act of pushing it with the foot charges the battery leads on the controlling switch. Thus the two units of the battery are thrown in series and supply a 12-volt current for starting the motor. The plunger simultaneously closes the switch to the starter and slides the motor pinion into mesh with the teeth on the flywheel. The only other operation required for starting is to retard the spark.

"When the engine starts and the plunger is released, the slide gear disengages from the flywheel. There is in addition an automatic clutch in the reduction gear that releases the armature of the starter-motor as soon as the gear is driven faster by the flywheel than the starter-motor turns it.

"We have never received a serious complaint regarding the operation of this starter and our advices from the factory indicate that the same uniform satisfaction prevails wherever a 1913 Kissel Kar has been sold. It is not the least of the many distinctive characteristics that has kept the Kissel Kar very much on the map this year."

"To find the horse-power of your motor car," says N. F. Blake, manager of the Electric Service and Repair company, "square the diameter of the cylinder, multiply it by the number of cylinders, and devide it by 2½. That is the rule adopted by the Society of Automobile Engineers. It is not absolutely accurate but it is approximately so, at a definite piston speed, and it is at least as fair for one maker as for another.

"While we are interested in this computation, still the Hudson cars are not rated according to any arbitrary formula. We test Hudson engines on a dynamometer which gives readings showing actual brake horse-power. The motor of the '54,' a six-cylinder car, develops 57.8 horse power at 1,500 revolutions per minute. At a little higher engine speed it shows 65 horse power.

"It is hardly fair therefore to any of the modern efficient motor cars to use the standard S. A. E. rating. Efforts are being made to secure a more accurate formula, and it is likely that this will be accomplished. Practically all motors are now made with the long stroke. This effects very much the accuracy of the standard rating."

M. W. Turner, the vehicle and farm machinery man, and agent for the Jackson auto, received during this week, a carload of Jacksons and expects another next week. Two of the cars were delivered to Hibbing merchants who had ordered them. So insistent has become the demand for Jackson cars on the range, where they have become very popular through the good service they have given to the pioneer users, that Mr. Turner has been compelled to open a branch garage at Hibbing, and is now stocking it with cars and selling them rapidly.

The auto school conducted under auspices of the Y. M. C. A. at Haley's garage, 309 East Michigan street and 310 East Superior street, has its uses in preventing mental strain in the way of worry, if nothing else. It teaches a man all there is to know about the ordinary accidents that may befall him when out in a car, and how to fix them. The major accidents, of course, should be attended to by an expert. The man who takes the course of thirty lessons will not have to suffer the humiliation depicted in the following:

"We have often thought that it was a very lucky thing for Job that he never had an automobile or that ancient worthy would never have gained the terrific reputation for patience which made him famous.

"Job had many troubles, but he never experienced the daddy of 'em all —tire trouble.

"Tire trouble happens in the best regulated families and it is the suddenest thing in the world. It is even suddener than a bill from a plumber.

"The sun may be shining and the little birds singing blithely and a man may be riding along a country road admiring the scenery and explaining the infallibility of his car to relatives or friends. He may be saying: 'I have never had a particle of trouble with this car since I have owned it,' when—

"BANG! !

"And there is no more joy in life. The sun goes under a cloud and the little birdies hide their heads in their tail feathers.

"The man doesn't know whether he has just lost $40 or $80 and he is afraid to get out and look. It all depends upon the size of the report. A loud bang like the boom of a thirteen-inch naval gun is supposed to cost $80, while a small bang like that of a firecracker is supposed to cost $40.

"When he first speaks to the tire expert at the garage he thinks it is going to cost him $105. Tire experts are the world's champion pessimists. They see nothing but grim destruction and despair and they enter into a technical explanation of why tires were no good in the first place which would fill a volume as large as Noah Webster's more or less celebrated work on 'Words I Have Met.' They tell you it can't possibly be fixed and if it is fixed it will cost in the neighborhood of $100.

"Then when they have reduced you to the depths of desolation and send you away thinking you haven't a friend in the world they go to work and fix your tire for $2.50.

"The average blowout is expensive in that it includes the following items:

'Mental anguish	$5,000.00
"Loss of time	4.00
"Fixing the tire	2.50
"Total	$5,006.50

NEWS AND GOSSIP OF THE AUTOMOBILE WORLD

Indianapolis, Ind., May 31.—The route for the Indiana Automobile Manufacturers' association tour from this city to the Pacific coast was announced by the tour committte today. The entire trip between Indianapolis and Los Angeles will cover a distance of 3,549.1 miles and will be made in thirty-three days running, including five lay-over days. The average mileage per day will be 126.8 miles.

The route leads it to tourists through eight states and over a route which has shown enormous interest in the event. It will take the tourists over some of the best roads in the West and through some of the most beautiful scenery in the world.

The tourists will depart from Indianapolis on Tuesday, July 1, running over the National road to Terre Haute, the first night stop. On Wednesday they will run to Springfield, Ill., via Paris, Chrisman, Tuscola and Decatur, and on the third day will tour into St. Louis over the Alton Way via Carlinville and Alton. On July 4 the Hoosiers will start across Missouri, following the old Boone's Lick Trail and the new Missouri state highway. The night stop will be made at Columbia, the University of Missouri town, and on July 5 the party will travel to Kansas City via Marshall and will cross the Missouri river either at Boonville or Glasgow.

The first Sunday of the journey will be spent in Kansas City and preparations will be made for the trip across Kansas and Colorado over the Golden Belt route via Topeka and stopping at Fort Riley on Monday night. On Tuesday the party will be off on a 177-mile run to Ellis via Abilene, Salina, Ellsworth and Hayes. The run on July 9 will be almost as long, covering 169.8 miles to Burlington, Kan., the night control, via Colby and Goodland. On July 10 the tourists will stop at Limon, Colo., for luncheon. The trip to Colorado Springs then will be undertaken over the Lincoln highway, the night being spent in Colorado Springs. A short run is promised for July 11, according to the chart of the routemakers. The run will be from Colorado Springs to Denver, a distance of 66.2 miles. The night of the recenth and the following day and night will be spent in Denver, seeing the sights and resting up for the journey across the mountains.

The Midland trail will be followed from Denver to Salt Lake City. The tour will leave Denver on Sunday afternoon, July 13, and drive 89.8 miles to Hot Springs, the night control. The following day the route calls for 104.2 miles to Glenwood Springs, via Walcott. A trip of practically the same length is routed for July 15, bringing the cars to Grand Junction, a distance of 104.5 miles.

Two Long Drives.

Two long drives then confront the Hoosiers. On July 16 they will cover 172 miles between Grand Junction and Woodside, via Mack and Green River, and on July 17 175 miles will be covered between Woodside and Salt Lake City, via the Nevada branch of the Midland trail, which will be followed from Salt Lake City through Nevada. A day's stop will be made in Salt Lake City, the tourists spending the night of July 17 and the following day in the city. On July 19 the tourists will go to Ogden, making the only side trip on the journey.

July 20 the party will be off around the south side of the lake for Kearney's ranch, where the night control will be made. A run of 124 miles has been planned for July 21 from the ranch to Ely. On July 22 the run will be made to Goldfield and Tonopah, a distance of 147.3 miles. The next day will take the tourists to Bishop, Cal. Then comes the run to Reno on July 24, past Lake Tahoe. On July 25 the route doubles back past Lake Tahoe and on to Sacramento, Cal., a distance of 179 miles. July 26 will see the party on its way to Oakland and nearing the end of its long journey. The route lies via Stockton and the tourists will spend the night in Oakland. The citizens there expect to open the town to the tourists and are intent on having the Indianians stage an auto show while in the city.

Governor Spray of Nevada and his official staff have promised to accompany the tourists to the California state line where they will be met by the governor of the latter state and his staff, to be conducted to San Francisco. The run from Oakland is the shortest on the entire journey, if it can be called a run. The distance is only six miles, the trip being made by ferry across the bay. The party will arrive at Frisco on July 27, where it will remain for the following two days.

Last Lap.

On July 30 the tour will start on the last lap of the journey to Los Angeles over the coast road. The new Rincon cutoff will be used and then the tour will follow the plank road over the Pacific which cuts off eight miles through mountain passes. The trip from San Francisco to De Monte will occupy the day of July 30, the party passing through San Jose, Santa Cruse and Salinas. The last day of July will see the tourists on their way from De Monte to San Luis Obispo, via Salinas and Pas Robles, a distance of 149.9 miles. The next to the last day's run will be from San Luis Obispo to Santa Barbara, a distance of 119.6 miles. At noon on Aug. 2 the tour will end in Los Angeles, 105.8 miles from Santa Barbara.

Sixteen cars already are entered in the tour and it is expected that within two weeks the number will have more than doubled.

There will be no pathfinding party of any sort for this tour but an official pilot will precede the tour each day, marking the trail.

What a Truck Did.

The well-earned honors of a half dozen or so American pleasure cars in the Catskills reliability and hill-climbing contest last week were somewhat dimmed by the comparative work of a two-ton Kissel Kar truck which carried the baggage of the contestants.

The most difficult grade of the route, a climb of the grilling Kaaterskill Clove Mountain, was accomplished by the truck, carrying twenty persons besides a large number of trunks and hampers, in exactly six minutes and two seconds. The remarkable nature of this accomplishment may be appreciated when it is known that three of the seven leading pleasure cars contesting occupied more than five minutes in making the ascent.

Although it was not expected, much less necessary, that the truck should follow the contestants, it nevertheless trailed them throughout the route, which was the most difficult that the managing committee could select. Not only did it include the climb of the Kaaterskill in astonishing time, but also took the Crow's Nest hill, which by many motorists is believed to be even more difficult.

No Kissel Kar pleasure vehicle was entered in the contest, but C. H. McCausland, who furnished the truck, feels that its record placed the Kissel name distinctly "among those present" and amply justifies the claims of power and ability in the Kissel engine. In wiring his congratulations to Mr. McCausland, the promoter of the contest, W. J. Morgan, rightly characterized the work of the Kissel Kar truck as "a great performance."

Replacing Street Cars.

The street railway problems, with which many large cities find themselves confronted, in the matter of high fares, unsatisfactory service and proposals for new franchises without promise of improved conditions, bid fair to be solved by the motor truck, in the opinion of G. W. Bennett, vice president of the Garford company of Elyria, Ohio, and an expert authority on the economy of the commercial vehicle. In a recent discussion Mr. Bennett predicted that within a few years many of the cities of the United States will find their people being transported almost entirely by means of the trackless, trolleyless street car, the power vehicle.

"Any number of cities are now trying out the motor truck as a substitute for the street car," said Mr. Bennett. "And they are meeting with success. Detroit, Indianapolis and other cities are finding that their motor trucks are carrying the people much more economically and comfortably than was possible by the regular street railway service. It is true that in most of these cases the motor truck was tried as an experiment in the hope of finding relief from overcrowding and other features of poor street railway service, but as time goes on the economy and desirability of the truck will make themselves evident even to the most prejudiced. I look for the time when a city which binds itself to indifferent or even inadequate service through granting of long-time franchises to street railway corporations will be a rarity. The truck will drive out the street car of today just as it has relegated the horse to the background in modern transportation of merchandise.

"We find that cities in other parts of the world are awakening to the importance of the motor truck in the transportation of people even more rapidly than we are here at home. Several of our trucks which in the past few months have been shipped to the Philippines, Brazil and other foreign countries have been entered in street transportation service and they are doing excellent work. The truck can be fitted with just as elaborate and comfortable a body as the street car, its original cost is much less and the economy realized by the elimination of costly power stations, trackage and overhead trolley systems is a great item."

Hints From Europe.

Carl A. Neracher, chief engineer of the Willys-Overland company of Toledo, Ohio, has gone to Europe, where he will spend several weeks studying the automobile situation. John N. Willys, president of the organization, only recently returned from a trip abroad and so impressed was he with some features of European manufacture, that he decided to have his engineer investigate with a view of adopting certain principles in the future construction of Overlands. Mr. Neracher will spend all his time abroad at the leading motor car factories of England, France, Germany and Italy.

A Definition of Automobile Service

This is a much talked about subject.

Every dealer, every manufacturer, talks about it. Some are specific, some only suggest what it might be. This is our definition.

See if you do not agree that it is the most important in the consideration of your motor car purchase.

No man, no matter how experienced, can know what service any car will render. No two drivers operate their car alike. No two cars are called upon to render the same kind of service.

Machinery will wear out. It must be attended to, and some one expert, willing and broad in mind, must be there to see that the car gives the service you expect it to give.

A car must be built with a sufficient allowance to take care of the average demand made upon it.

No dealer can give service who is not successful. Motor car satisfaction is largely a matter of dealer satisfaction. To be able to give such service the dealer must make a profit. He cannot sell his cars at a discount. He cannot make unreasonable allowances for old automobiles in order to make a sale and have a profit left sufficient to give the service that should go with every motor car.

He must see the broader possibilities of conducting his business upon a service basis than is often found, especially among dealers whose only interest is in making the sale.

Buy a Six if Paying More Than $2,000

The "54" HUDSON is all that any automobile at any price can be in performance, luxury, comfort and value. Backed by our own service you will find in it as near an approach to ideal motor satisfaction as is known.

The "54" HUDSON is the answer to a question that has long concerned all automobile builders. "What will Howard E. Coffin do when he builds a Six?"

When he built this car he had as his associates experts from 97 leading American and European factories —48 all told.

Thus all guess work was eliminated—all experiment made unnecessary. With so many viewpoints and so much experience, errors that others had made were eliminated—advancements that others found impossible were easily accomplished.

The "54" HUDSON has electric lights. It is electrically self-cranked. The famous Delco system, patented, is used. Every luxury is included, speedometer, clock, top, curtains, rain-vision windshield, demountable rims, twelve-inch upholstery, etc. Equipped with a five-passenger Phaeton body at $2450.

At $1875 you can obtain the HUDSON "37"—designed by the same engineers that built the "54"—and pointed to as the "Four-cylinder masterpiece."

PROCLAMATION ON GOOD ROADS DAY

Governor Eberhart Calls on Citizens to Improve Highways.

Governor Eberhart has issued a proclamation calling on all citizens of the state to observe June 17 as Good Roads day, set apart by the legislature for this purpose.

Figuring that many persons are in ignorance as to just how the spirit of the day can be observed the state highway commission has offered some suggestions. It proposes that persons in various districts assemble along the highways and improve roads by dragging, removing stones, cutting weeds, clearing ditches and removing obstructions. Commercial clubs and village councils are asked particularly to take an active part in the work.

R. C. Dunn of Princeton, author of the good roads law, has been in St. Paul conferring with the governor and highway board on the work planned. To set a good example for other sections, persons living in his district will build a half mile of roadway. Farmers have been generous in offering their services and many will furnish both teams and men.

BY BRUCE.

Before 3,500 enthusiastic and extremely vociferous souls, our brave athletes yesterday took two games from the desperate Flickertails, the first count being 8 to 4 and the second being of a decidedly more nerve-racking nature, our side winning out by the score of 4 to 3.

It was a holiday and befitting the glorious occasion there were many stunts pulled at the park in keeping with the ebullient spirit. In the first place the crowd lent hilarity to the soiree, for it filled two bleachers to overflowing, packed the grandstand and then flowed gently out onto the field.

Also, there were many plays that kept the crowd, or part of it, upon its collective hind legs. Prominent among the noise-producers must be mentioned Elmer Miller of Sandusky. During the course of the afternoon this young man produced two home runs, a triple and two singles, and in addition had eight putouts. Many cheers split the atmosphere and attended the coming and going of Mr. Miller.

Inversely let us go about the labor of setting forth the happenings of the large afternoon, taking the last game first. In this soiree Johnny Jarnigan was opposed to Monty Woods of Bottineau firstly and Peggy Rhoades secondly. Mr. Jarnigan pitched one grand game, but in the end the war clubs of the Dooks triumphed and the star flinger of the Flickertail was beaten in one of the hardest-fought games of the present season.

Mr. Woods started the proceedings with that well-known beaming smile, so valuable in political life, and propitiously propelled the pill so effectively in the first inning that the first three men whiffed the ozone. Mighty cheers greeted the future mayor of Bottineau as he waddled to the doghouse.

Nothing of grave moment of immediate bearing on the result occurred until the fourth round. Here the bland smile of our hero, Montgrief Woods vanished, and a worried and serious expression o'erspread his handsome countenance.

Gerlach did something qu'te out of the ordinary to start this round—he singled, Foster walked and Rhoades bubbled on the little offering of Altman. Manager Carney hit sharply to Schreiber and that young gentleman promptly and without the least waste of time pegged to Wilke and stopped Gerlach in his mad and unrestrained flight to the plate.

Dunleavy called a perfectly vile fourth ball on Chase and Foster was forced over the pan. Deitrich bumped to Woods and Altman, the second man of the inning, was nipped at the pan. Edmunds struck out. Our Mr. Woods was all het up as he came in and as he strolled past Mr. Dunleavy he whispered a fierce something in the shell-like opening upon the side of the ivory top of the umpire. What was it? That may never be known.

Elmer Smith, the well known art student, tripled down the right foul line to properly open the eighth. Schrieber whiffed and with Wilke up the squeeze was attempted, but Jarnigan tosesd to Edmunds in time to tag the sliding art critic. Woods whiffed.

Edmunds singled over second, Jarnigan whiffed, Fishbeck was hit and Gerlach flew out to Miller in the seventh. Then came Sam Foster. He only doubled to center and only two scores came in. We only said that the old game was gone for the day. Many a sigh escaped, for naturally one wishes to enjoy one's holiday, quite naturally one does.

But lo and behold in our propitious half, Rhoades was safe on the error of Manager Carney. With Smith out of the way, Bunny Schreiber tripled to the right field wall, and one score was across. Wilke whiffed and pinch-hitter Fishel, who went in for the next mayor of Bottineau, walked. And then came our brave leader, Mr. O'Brien of the third ward. With two on, he smashed her clear to the top board of the fence in left center, and Schreiber was over. With two eager and willing runners on the bases, our little Benedict McGraw struck out. But then one can't have his mind on too many things at once.

The Forkers were stopped in their eighth, and then we came on with blood in our eyes. Miller was first up and he promptly hit the ball over the left field fence, his second heroic feat of the day. Rhoades was safe on Dietrich's bubble after Meniece was down. Smith strolled and Schreiber singled to right. Wilke hit a lulu to left field and Rhoades came in. Thus did we draw ahead of the enemy.

The Flickers could do nothing with the shoots of Rhodes, who went to the knoll after Mr. Woods retired to permit fat Fishel to wallop for him, and the game was over.

The First Game.

Mr. Wells, the eminent telegraph operator of Omaha, Neb., also a pitcher of no-hit fame, was nicked for twelve blows by our side in the first game of the joyous day, and though he must have felt the odium of the thing harshly at times, there is still the glory of that no-hit affair to sustain him when the pain is the most poignant.

Peggy Rhodes, whose only false step is the fact that he voted in Superior during the recent election, was on the knoll for us during the first contest as well as part of the second, and though he issued nine passes during the waning of the afternoon, he was not hit hard at any one stage of the affray.

In the second inning the visitors grabbed one through a stroll, a sacrifice and two infield outs. Our Darby held the ball lovingly and watched for a moment too long while this score was made. But it proved of little consequence.

Two sharp double plays, Schreiber to our leader to Mr. Meniece of Woodland, cut down the visitors at two particularly exciting stages of the game and prevented possible scores. As it is, and time waxeth, we will skip along to their ninth and review the happenings.

In this merry closing round Chase walked, and after Deitrich had whiffed, Mr. Jeremiah Edmunds singled past the keystone sack and its tender. Wells also whiffed, but Fishbeck, who walks very upright, by the way, walked, and things began to look up. Mr. Rhoades erred grievously in handling the roller of Mr. Gerlach, and Mr. Edmunds and Mr. Chase came across. Foster singled and Fishbeck was over. Altman popped to Rhoades and that ended the scoring for the visitors.

In the fifth round we batted all the way round, starting with Elmer Smith, the collector of rare values, and ending with him. Seven hits were gathered in this luscious inning, the crack of the bat being sweet music to the ears of those in stands and bleachers.

Smith singled and also Schreiber. Wilke doubled, scoring Smith. Rhoades singled scoring Schreiber. O'Brien sacrificed the runners along and then McGraw tripled merrily to the right field fence. Miller singled and McGraw counted. Meniece flew to right, but Rhoades singled and Miller was in. Smith up for the second time in this propitious round, flew to Foster.

Miller kindly home-runned in the seventh and in the eighth a wild throw to catch Schreiber stealing after he had singled went clear to center field and that young gent came all the way home on the bone.

That is about all for the day.

MILLERS AND WINONA SPLIT DOUBLE BILL.

Winona, Minn., May 31.—Minneapolis was beaten here yesterday in the morning game by the score of 12 to 5, the visitors taking the afternoon game by the score of 4 to 1. Sherrin proved easy for the home team in the initial contest, while Bell, with the exception of the second inning, had the Bronchos at his mercy. The second game was a grand pitching duel between Leverett and Snow, the veteran winning in the eleventh inning when the Millers fell on the curves of Snow and hammered out three runs.

The crowd was one of the largest that ever witnessed a game in Winona, it overflowing the stands and bleachers and camping around the field.

The fielding of Chase and Collins featured both of the games.

RED HOSE SPLIT DOUBLE-HEADER

Superior Takes First Game and Winnipeg Wins Second.

Superior and Winnipeg split a double-header yesterday, the Red Hose taking the first contest by the one-sided count of 10 to 1, while Moe held Superior to two hits in the second affray and the Canadians won out by the score of 2 to 1. Schauer, Will Somer's $17,000 green trading stamp twirler, was on the mound for the home team in the second soiree and was given one of the first beatings of the season. Chicago Cubs please take notice. Moe and Boly worked in the first game for Winnipeg and were opposed by Withers, who twirled some great ball.

SAINTS DEFEAT THE VIRGINIAS

Spike Shannon's Crew Is Beaten By the Score of 7 to 1.

Virginia, Minn., May 31.—The St. Paul visitors won the only game played here yesterday by the score of 7 to 1. A home run figured in the only run getting of the home team. Errors upon the part of the locals figured in several of the runs gained by the Apostles. The grounds were too wet to permit of the playing of the contest scheduled for the morning. Giants Take Two.

New York, May 31.—The Giants won an interesting, hard-fought game from Philadelphia yesterday morning by the score of 8 to 6. Fromme, the pitcher McGraw procured in a deal with Cincinnati, made his New York debut and was pounded hard. Marquard held the visitors safe after Fromme's removal in the eighth. The Giants won out in the second half of that inning after Seaton replaced Moore. Shafer singled and Doyle walked and both scored on Merkle's double to right. A great shoestring catch by Burns and two wonderful throws by Murray held down the Philadelphia score and saved the game for New York. Score:

First game—	R.	H.	E.

New York .....30100022 x—8	9	1

Batteries—Brennan, Moore, Seaton and Dooin; Fromme, Marquard and Meyers. Umpires—O'Day and Emslie.

The afternoon contest, which went to the locals by the score of 7 to 1, was witnessed by the largest crowd that has attended a baseball game in New York since the 1911 world's series. Thousands had to be refused admission, and there was a jam and confusion at the turnstiles.

The locals batted Chalmers out of the box in the sixth inning when they hammered out three singles and two doubles before a runner was retired. Mayer, Chalmers' successor, held the Giants in check, allowing only two hits. Tesreau pitched well for New York and received fine support, especially from Murray, whose throwing was the sensation of both the morning and afternoon games. Tesreau's batting was a feature as well as his pitching. He hit a triple and a double and scored two of his club's runs and drove in two more. Score:

One to Each.

St. Louis, Mo., May 31.—After St. Louis tied the score in the ninth inning of yesterday morning's game with Cincinnati, neither side was able to score again until the thirteenth inning when the visitors tallied their winning runs. The score was 5 to 3. Cincinnati's two runs in the last inning were the result of timely hits. Bates walked and moved to third when Bescher singled, cleanly to center. Tinker's hot single over third scored Bates with what proved to be the winning run. Bescher scored on Marsan's single. Score:

A ninth-inning batting rally failed to win for Cincinnati in the afternoon game. The score was 6 to 4 in favor of St. Louis. Steele, pitching for the locals, held Cincinnati to six hits until the ninth, when two singles and a double scored one. When Kling went in to bat for Harter, Steele was replaced by Burk. He walked Kling, Devore flied out and Bates struck out. Score:

Boston, Mass., May 31.—Brooklyn won the morning game yesterday by a fine rally in the ninth. After Cutshaw's pop fly had been lost in the sun, Hummell drove him home with a three-bagger and scored on Smith's sacrifice fly. The home team's only run was scored on a double by Mann and an error. Boston turned the tables on Brooklyn in the afternoon game, winning 7 to 6. Unlike the morning game, it was one of free hitting and many errors, the latter deciding the contest. Boston's winning run was made in the eighth on a muff by Stengel, a wild pitch by Allen and Maranville's single. The crowd which thronged Fenway park was the largest that has seen a National league game in this city in many years. R. H. E.

Pirates Defeat Cubs.

Pittsburg, Pa., May 31.—Pittsburg took the morning game from Chicago in a sensational pitchers' duel between Rheulbach and Camnitz. Singles by Booe and Carey and Wagner's out gave Pittsburg a run in the first and they added another in the sixth on a single on Viox's two-bagger. Three of the six hits off Camnitz were for extra bases, but sensational catches by Wilson and a phenomenal one-handed grab by Booe at the expense of Zimmerman helped Pittsburg. Chicago got its one run in the ninth when Clymer singled and Bridewell walked. Bresnahan forced Bridewell and Mitchell, running for Bresnahan, then worked the double steal with Clymer, the latter scoring. Score:

Highlanders Lose Two.

Philadelphia, May 31.—The morning game with New York was pulled out of the fire by Philadelphia in the ninth inning after it apparently was lost. Ford had been pitching great ball for the visitors, not a hit or run being scored off his delivery in the first eight innings. In the ninth, however, with one out, Murphy got the first hit, a single, Oldring went out on a line fly and then Collins was safe on Hartzell's error. Baker singled, scoring Murphy and putting Collins on third. Baker stole and then McInnis ended the game with a single on which Collins and Baker scored. Score: R. H. E.

Philadelphia won the afternoon game, enjoying an easy time in the contest, which ended 7 to 4. The largest crowd of the season saw the afternoon game, but they had little to enthuse over, for the Philadelphians, finding Fisher easy, pounded him out of the box in the third inning and having a 7 to 0 lead before New York could score. Schulz, who relieved Fisher, pitched splendid ball, holding the home team to three hits during his stay on the mound. Houck's wildness gave New York many chances to score but he invariably tightened after he had pitched himself into repeated holes. In the ninth, he was displaced by Bender after New York had secured one run on two bases on balls and a single. The Indian checked the threatening rally of the visiting team, causing Hartzell to pop to McInnes and Cree to fly to Murphy for the end of the game.

Wolter's hitting and the fielding of Midkiff and Collins featured the game.

Umpires Evans and Hart wore the new white uniforms in the afternoon game, the regalia making a decided hit with the crowd. Score: R. H. E.

Divide Games.

Washington, May 31.—Groom pitched one of his best games of the season for Washington in the morning game here yesterday between Washington and Boston, and scored a 4 to 3 victory over Joe Wood, Boston's star pitcher. Hooper opened the game with a home run over the fence and a base on balls to Speaker and Lewis' double gave Boston two runs in the first. Wagner's home run in the final inning gave Boston its last run. Two of Wood's bases on balls resulted in runs, his error contributed to a third and the winning run came in on Shank's triple and an out at first. Score: R. H. E.

Chicago, May 31.—Good pitching by Joe Lake and one wild inning gave Detroit the morning game from Chicago, 3 to 2. Smith was taken out in the second inning after passing Cobb and allowing Veach to hit safely. Lange walked High, filling the bases. Moriarity forced Cobb at the plate on his hit to Lange, but trying to double Moriarity at first Schalk threw the ball to right field and Veach scored. A good return by Collins reached Schalk in time to cut off High, so Schalk got two putouts, an error and an assist on the play. Moriarity meanwhile reached second, whence he scored on McKee's hit. McKee's single and Bush's double gave the visitors their third run. With two out in the eighth Collin's double, Bodie's single and Fournier's triple gave Chicago two runs.

Chicago won the afternoon game, 9 to 1. Cicotte was in fine form and the visitors were unable to do anything to him. The visitors used five pitchers in an attempt to check the slugging of the locals, but all looked alike to Callahan's men, who bunched hits. Collins led in the hitting, getting four hits in as many times at bat. Cobb was struck out twice today when a hit was needed.

Play Ten Innings.

Cleveland, Ohio, May 31.—St. Louis lost yesterday afternoon's 10-inning game to Cleveland, 5 to 4. The morning game was postponed because of rain, and will be played off Sunday. Three pitchers were used by Cleveland to hold St. Louis in check at dangerous moments. Weilman's offerings were hit freely by Cleveland.

St. Louis scored in the first inning and again in the third. In the fourth Cleveland scored one and in the seventh scored two, taking the lead. St. Louis again took the lead in the eighth by knocking Blanding out of the box, but Cleveland tied up the score in their half of that inning.

Cleveland scored the winning run in the tenth on D. Johnston's pass, Chapman's sacrifice, Olson's single and Turner's sacrifice fly. Score:

RACE STARTER KILLED BY MOTORCYCLE RACER

Cleveland, Ohio, May 31.—The second fatal accident to happen at the Luna park motordrome this season, occurred last night when Lowell Birden, a motor cycle racer, ran down and killed Samuel Hickman, 20, who was employed at the motordrome as a "starter."

Hickman was in the pit of the track helping adjust a motorcycle belonging to one of the riders when George Grimes, a member of the team representing St. Louis, fell from his motorcycle while going around the track at about twenty-five miles an hour. Hickman ran out on the track to Grimes' assistance and was struck and instantly killed by the motorcycle ridden by Lowell Birden, also of the St. Louis team.

Powell was in superb condition and the locals, batting hard, took the afternoon game from Milwaukee, 10 to 1. Blackburn was benched by Umpire Connolly for disputing a decision.

The locals got away to a three-run lead in the first inning. Barbeau beat out a hit, stole second, went to third on Walker's hit and scored on Carr's sacrifice bunt. Drake batted a home run over the right field fence, scoring Walker ahead of him. Fiene's single and Downey's double scored another local run in the second. Carr's single, an error, Drake's Texas leaguer and O'Connor's triple netted two runs in the third. In the sixth the locals got four runs on Fiene's hit, Downey's double, Barbeau's bunt, Walker's triple and Carr's single. Saints Take Two.

Minneapolis, Minn., May 31.—St. Paul won the morning game from Minneapolis yesterday by the score of 7 to 3. Walker was on the mound for the down-river club and the Millers were at his mercy throughout. The Saints gleaned twelve hits off Young and R. Smith of the champions, and had difficulty in taking their contest. Wade Killifer of the Minneapolis club, was struck just below the temple by a pitched ball in the sixth inning and for a time it was thought he was seriously hurt. A doctor was called and "Red" was able to leave the park unassisted. Score:

St. Paul beat Minneapolis, 7 to 0, in the afternoon game by bunching hits off Gilligan. Seven hits were made off Rieger, but he kept them well scattered. A fine throw by Rehg in the second inning cut Rossman off at the plate and after that only one Minneapolis player reached third base. The hitting of Rehg featured. He got a triple, a double and a single in four times at bat. Score:

Break Even.

Columbus, Ohio, May 31.—Columbus won yesterday morning's game from Indianapolis, 4 to 1, by bunching hits on Works in the third inning. McQuillan singled, Shelton doubled and Hinchman tripled. Hinchman's second triple and Miller's sacrifice fly brought the fourth run in the eighth. Cotter's double and Shelton's muff of Work's fly after two were out in the fifth enabled Indianapolis to escape a shutout. The score:

Indianapolis, because of Schardt's effective pitching, won the afternoon game in the tenth inning, 5 to 3. Columbus tied the score after two were out in the ninth when Niles failed to handle Jones' drive. A pass, an error and Clarke's double came in order in the tenth. Columbus got the bases full in the last half of the inning, but Johns grounded out. Metz hit a homer in the fifth with Downs on base. The score:

Each Team Takes One.

Louisville, Ky., May 31.—Louisville defeated Toledo yesterday in the morning game by the score of 9 to 3. Loudermilk relieved Powell in the sixth inning and the visitors proved helpless before him. While the hits were even the locals found Henderson at more opportune times. Beumiller's fielding was a feature. Score:

HARLEM RIVER RACES.

Annual Regatta Held By Metropolitan Rowing Club.

New York, May 31.—The Metropolitan Rowing club carried off the leading honors in the forty-seventh annual races of the Harlem Regatta association, held on the Harlem river speedway course yesterday, taking four races. Louis A. Peterson of the West Side Rowing club of Buffalo, rowed like a senior and won the junior singles with ease.

Conditions on the river were perfect and not a single foul marred the day's sport. The greatest race of the day was the masterful manner in which the New York Athletic club, with the same crew, won the junior and intermediate eights from Columbia university, Columbia using different crews for each event.

SETTLE PRELIMINARIES.

Missouri Valley Conference Holding Annual Athletic Meet.

St. Louis, Mo., May 31.—One Missouri valley conference record was broken and another equaled at the preliminaries to the annual track and field meet yesterday afternoon. Fast of Purdue ran the 440-yard run in 49 4-5 seconds, one-fifth of a second better than done by Guy Reed of Nazaska, previous record holder. Nicholson, Missouri hurdler, negotiated the 120-yard high hurdles in 15 2-5 seconds, equaling the former record held by himself.

The conference meet proper will be held this afternoon. Twenty colleges and universities will be represented by a total of 350 athletes.

YALE CREWS REACH SCENE OF ACTION.

Gales Ferry, Conn., May 31.—The Yale varsity crew arrived from New Haven yesterday on board Head Coach Harriman's steam yacht Sultana. The yacht came to anchor off Broadview, where the men disembarked and spent an hour unpacking luggage, getting quarters settled and rigging boats.

The freshmen eight was sent out early in the afternoon for its first row and the other boats later. The varsity eight went out with Capt. Snowden, the men sitting in the following order: Bow, Gore; 2, Freeman; 3, Denegre; 4, Philbin; 5, Stephenson; 6, Deaman; 7, Lippincott; stroke, Crocker; coxswain, Barnum.

Golf Events at Northland Club Brings Out Some Fine Playing.

Tied with the score of 79 in the Memorial day medal handicap, W. W. Walker and R. G. Reley proved the winners of the golf play of yesterday over the links of the Northland club.

With an ideal day, with one of the largest crowds that has ever watched the play at the country club, and with some excellent playing, the holiday event was one of the most successful that has ever been held at the Northland links.

Following upon the scores of 79 made by Mr. Walker and Mr. Reley are the scores of the other contestants: George H. Crosby, 80; Cavour Hartley, 82; E. P. Alexander, 82; George Wells, 85; F. B. PRELIMS FOR CHAMPIONSHIPS.

Intercollegiate Track and Field Contest Develops One Surprise.

Cambridge, Mass., May 31.—Out of the preliminary stage of the annual intercollegiate track and field championships, which were begun in the Harvard stadium yesterday, there emerged four score of student athletes qualified to participate in the semi-final and final events of today.

In the fight for qualification Harvard was unexpectedly the leader, with twelve men. Cornell, which, with Pennsylvania, had been regarded as the principal contender for the championship, placed ten athletes, while Pennsylvania will carry only eight men in today's events. Michigan, Yale and Dartmouth qualified nine men each; California, 5; Syracuse, 4; Columbia, 3; Johns Hopkins, 3; Princeton, 3; Wesleyan, 2, and Brown, Franklin and Marshall, Penn state, one each.

SPORT OF KINGS REVIVED.

Metropolitan Handicap Won By Purely American Bred Horse.

Belmont Park, N. Y., May 31.—Harry Payne Whitney's Whisk Broom II flashed under the wire a winner in the Metropolitan Handicap at the Belmont race track yesterday in the presence of a throng of more than 25,000 persons who had gathered to witness the running of this notable turf event, marking the revival of racing in New York state.

The Whitney horse, ridden by Jockey Joe Notter, had practically been left at the post, but won well in hand in 1:39. It was the first appearance of the son of Broomstick and Audience, a purely bred American horse, on an American track. Richard F. Carman, who owns and trains G. M. Miller and Meridian, winner of the Kentucky Derby two years ago, took the remainder of the prize money, as the pair finished second and third as named.

ST. PAUL AND DULUTH TO PLAY TWO GAMES SUNDAY

First Contest Will Be Called Sharp at 2 o'Clock.

O'Brien Hopes to Be in First Place After Series.

Charley Jones' St. Paul aggregation and the fast-going Duluth White Sox, who at the present time are playing the best baseball of any team in the history of Duluth, will play a double-header at Athletic park. The first game will be called at 2 o'clock and the second contest will be staged imemdiately following the completion of the initial one.

The St. Paul team is scheduled for three games here, and as but one game was played on the former visit of the Apostles to these parts, the double-header of Sunday will be played to make up one of the games with Jones & Co.

By the end of the second contest on Sunday the Orator hopes to be leading the league. The Duluth team leaves here on the evening of June 5, which comes on Thursday. The double-header of tomorrow will be the last opportunity many of the fans will have to see the team in action before it returns from the invasion of the enemy's territory.

If the Dooks continue the present gait they will be leading the league before they hit the road. The fight for first place between Duluth and Superior is a beauty. We gained on our rivals from across the stretch of commerce yesterday by winning twice while they split the double-header with the Canadian cousins. We also hope to gain further by taking both games of the double-header from the St. Paul team.

Interest Is Great.

Interest in baseball in Duluth is greater right now than it has been in years past. The reason is not in the least difficult to find. The Dooks are playing real baseball. We are in a real league and the games are being completed well under two hours day after day.

Yesterday's attendance was the largest of the year. With ideal weather for tomorrow, it is expected that a new record attendance for the year will be hung up. President H. A. Blume of the local association announced early today that he had made special arrangement for street car service to and from the park, and that special arrangements had also been made for taking care of a record-breaking crowd.

One of the things that is drawing the crowds to the ball park is the fact that we have a bunch of fighters. O'Brien hasn't the least use for a man who won't go in and scrap, and the fighting ability of the Dooks was shown yesterday when after the Porkers had them down 3 to 0 the Sox went in and ran in four runs on a pitcher who had everything in the world and had been standing them on their heads previous to the rousing rally in the seventh and eighth rounds.

With almost every member of the team a dangerous hitter in the pinches, the Dooks are never beaten until the last man is out—or at least that is the way they are going at the present time.

It is hitting that the fans dearly love, and that is just what they are getting at the present stage of the proceedings from the trusty bats of the White Sox.

Should we win two from the Saints tomorrow and win also today, and should Superior lose a game in the meantime, we will be in first place at the close of the doubleheader on Sunday afternoon.

Saints Are Stronger.

The hustling White Sox are going at top speed and it will require some good pitching to turn them back. Charles Jones and Owner Conrad of the St. Paul team have signed a number of new players for the little Saints, Doyle, an outfielder, being among the lot. Doyle will be in the game against the Dooks tomorrow, and it is very likely that several of the other new men that have been signed for the Apostles will also make their first appearance against our team.

Following the series with the St. Paul team, which will end on Monday, the Minneapolis team comes here for a three-game series, the last before the team returns from the road during the latter part of June.

Bob Unglaub will send in Ralph Comstock and Leverett, his two star pitchers, in the effort to stop the flight of the White Sox. To date the fight between Duluth, Superior and Minneapolis for first place has been a beautiful one and the series with Minneapolis, concluding the home stay, promises to bring out some of the best baseball of the season to date, and we have had some corking games out there during the past ten days.

Tomorrow's doubleheader will be the first doubleheader to be played on Sunday since early last season.

MURNANE BELIEVES SOX WILL MAKE GOOD RACE

(BY TIM MURNANE.)

Now, after looking over the eight clubs of the American league, I am satisfied that they are not any stronger than last year. The Eastern clubs are returning home after a good showing in the West, but it is too early to size up their chances for keeping the flag in the East.

The Athletics are leading the league at this writing as a result of a good start. Connie Mack is dead set on winning the honors this season and he certainly has an excellent chance. While the Athletics will work hard to retain the lead I look for some other team to pass them, even if only for a short time. Leading the race is a hard strain.

Washington has made little progress by picking up players like Laporte and Mullen. Griffith has not developed any new pitchers and their fighting spirit has tamed down considerable this season. The great Johnson keeps the Senators on the map. Cleveland has a high-class team, but must depend too much on Jackson. I doubt if they will show strong on the road and that is where you get the proper line on a ball team.

I believe the White Sox will show up stronger on the road than any other Western team. They have the pitchers, and by using the same lineup they are sure to grow stronger as the season drags out. There are several men on this team that have not as yet reached their proper place in major ball. When they do, look out ahead.

Now we come to the Red Sox. This team will play strong one day and weak the next, keeping the dopesters at sea. With Larry aGrdner out of the lineup the team will have hard traveling for the next month, for Gardner is not only a great third baseman, but a valuable man at driving in runs. Boston is a fighting nine and plays a very ordinary game as far as "inside ball" is concerned. They have more long hitters than any other team in the league. They have been handicapped this season by a string of accidents.

Detroit is doing much better than expected. New York has surprised their friends, while St. Louis has done well for a team marked for last place.

The Red Sox have played eight games at home and over three times that many away from home. When they reach home I look for a big improvement, for they have not given up hope of sharing the big money this fall. As I said before none of the teams are playing up to the standard set by several teams in the past—teams that hailed from Boston, from New York, Baltimore, Detroit, Pittsburg and Chicago.

I notice a falling off in the finer points of the game on all clubs, with the single exception of the Athletics. Manager Mack never forgets to teach his new men the old tricks while developing new moves.

I found a very bitter feeling in St. Louis against President Ban Johnson for suspending Manager Stovall. In the other seven cities of the league Johnson was applauded for his stand in the matter. St. Louis fans are indignant, or at least the National league followers had their hammer out. The old league rooters like to take a fall out of the big chief of the American league.

Comiskey will surely make that trip around the world this winter, he assured me the other day. The Giants and White Sox will leave by the way of Portland, where they will drop Billy Sullivan, who prefers to stay at home and look after his apple orchards. Wise Billy. He has been a credit to the game and can spend his days under his apple trees, knowing that he has many friends.

How will Chicago get along without the Old Roman while Commy and Sir Jeems Callahan tour the world? They are sure to get a big reception in Australia from the descendants of those transported from the ancestral homes of the Comiskeys and Callahans. Jim McAleer will make the trip, and if I were not a member of the Murnane Athletic club I, too, would be off with the greatest bunch that ever circled the globe.

The trip will put years on Commy's active life, for he will enjoy the comedy as well as appreciate the tragedy of foreign lands, and more deeply love his old Chicago. Homer's songs breathed of the glory of ancient Rome, but Commy's wit and wisdom immortalized Chicago and spread out over the Western plains.

FAMOUS FINNISH CHAMPION RUNNER

HANNES KOLEHMAINEN.

Regatta at St. Paul.

St. Paul, Minn., May 31.—The junior crew of the Minnesota boat club was scheduled to meet the regular crew of the St. John's military academy of Delafield, Wis., in an eight-oared shell race on the Mississippi river this afternoon. Several Twin City boat clubs also were on the program which comprised thirteen events.

WOODLAND TEAM DEFEATS NORTHERNS.

The Woodland Park baseball team defeated the Northern Hardware company team yesterday afternoon at Desmond ball park by a score of 7 to 1.

This is the first defeat of the season for the hardware men and the suburbanites are quite proud of being the first team to down the leaders of the Duluth-Superior league. Carl Hon was on the mound for the Woodland team and pitched gilt-edged ball. He allowed only three hits, passed two and struck out nine.

The batteries were: Hon and Harris for Woodland and F. Hanson, H. Hanson and Olund for the Northerns.

AMERICANS WIN FROM JAP TEAM.

Tokio, May 31.—The second game today between the Americans and the Japanese resulted in a victory for the American students, 1 to 0.

The scores: First game—

	R.	H.	E.
Leland Stanford 1	1	2
Meiji 0	3	2

Second game—

	R.	H.	E.
Leland Stanford 1	3	3
Meiji 0	3	1

American Henley.

Philadelphia, May 31.—Weather conditions were ideal for the eleventh annual American Henley regatta on the Schuylkill here this afternoon. The ten events held under the auspices of the American Rowing association were well filled with a high class of scullers and of sweep-oarsmen. The course, which runs through Fairmount park, is 1 mile and 550 yards.

Crews of five colleges and club oarsmen from three cities were entered. Cornell, Princeton, Navy and Pennsylvania were the entries in the junior collegiate eight-oared shell event, while Columbia, the Naval academy's first eight and the University Barge club of this city were entered as competitors for the Stewards' cup for first eight-oared shells.

The Midshipmen also were opposed to the Malta Boat club of Philadelphia and the Arundel Boat club of Baltimore in the second four-oared shell event.

Hilton World's Champion.

St. Andrews, May 31.—Harold H. Hilton of the Royal Liverpool Golf club won the world's amateur golf championship yesterday, beating Robert Harris of Acton, England, by 6 up and 5 to play over a 36-hole course. This is the fourth time Hilton has held the title.

College Tennis On.

Chicago, May 31.—Greene and Squair of Chicago won from Stellwagen of Minnesota and Bebb of Illinois in the singles, semi-finals of the conference tennis meet at the University of Chicago yesterday and play for the singles championship today. Stellwagen and McCree, also of Minnesota, defeated Bebb and Colton of Illinois in the doubles and will meet Greene and Squair for the doubles title today.

Travis Defeats Champion.

New York, May 31.—Walter J. Travis, veteran golfer, sprang a surprise yesterday on those who had seen him easily eliminated in the Metropolitan championship last week, by defeating Jerome D. Travers, national and Metropolitan champion, 3 up and 1 to play in the semi-final of the invitation tournament at Tuxedo. Travis will meet Edward P. Rogers of Baltimore in the final today.

McCarty's Funeral.

Piqua, Ohio, May 31.—The body of Luther McCarty, who met his death last Saturday in a prize fight with Arthur Pelkey at Calgary, Can., arrived here last night and was taken to the home of his father, A. B. McCarty. In the funeral party were Mrs. Rhoda McCarty, widow of the fighter; William McCarney, McCarty's manager and Fred Sears. The funeral will be held this afternoon.

Drawn Battle.

Albuquerque, N. M., May 31.—Harry Carter of New Orleans and Stanley Yoakum of Dallas, lightweights, boxed ten rounds to a draw here last night. The fight was full of action in every round with Carter showing more cleverness than his opponent, who did most of his fighting in the clinches, Yoakum was hooted for his rough tactics.

Wins in Half Time.

Omaha, Neb., May 31.—Tommy Dixon of Kansas City was given the decision over Alva Graves of South Omaha last night, at the end of five rounds of a bout that was scheduled to go twice that length. Clarence English beat Johnny Sudenberger and Jack Gorman in succession. All three are local fighters.

In Good Standing.

Cincinnati, Ohio, May 31.—The national basebell commission yesterday declared Player E. K. Perryman of the New York National league club, to be in good standing. The player stated that he did not report to his club this spring owing to his desire to complete his college course and therefore no penalty was inflicted.

Refuses to Report.

Chicago, May 31.—Harvey Jones, sold by the Chicago Americans to the Toledo club of the American association, has refused to report to Toledo. Jones is said to be dissatisfied with the salary offered by Toledo and to have declared he will remain out of the game before he would accept it.

CITIES PLANNED AND CITIES THAT "JUST GREW."

Addressing the national conference on city planning in Chicago recently Frederick Law Olmsted said that he could foresee the establishment of a city office or bureau which would have custody of every city's plan; guarding it from individual eccentricity or commercialization which might destroy its harmony and interpreting its terms to builders, engineers, bill-posters and all others who might seek modification of the plan.

To which manifestly wise and sound idea the Toledo Blade answers with the following strange criticism: "It may be questioned whether it were desirable to have control over a city's growth centered in official hands. The beautiful cities of the world have, most of them, grown so. They have not been schemed and designed and coerced into some general form and made to keep to that form whatever exigency rose, or change of taste dictated. Paris and Berlin and Washington come as near as any in being planned cities, rather than cities whose general beauty of picturesqueness were undesigned. Yet the good looks of the planned cities grow wearisome where the unexpected and 'happen-chance' beauties of such cities as London, Florence and New York do not tire."

This is strange reasoning, indeed! The Blade proves the case for city planning when it instances Paris and Berlin and Washington as planned cities: for these are by all odds the most beautiful cities in the world. Furthermore, their beauty does not tire, and even if it were inartistically devised and therefore possessed a monotony that would grow wearisome—which it is not—it could not grow half so wearisome as the gaunt, ugly, mathematical squares of many cities that "just grew" at the dictate of commercial greed.

And cities which have beauty without planning have it in spite of their lack of design, not of because of it.

Furthermore, much of the vaunted beauty of unplanned cities is due either to natural advantages which it was hard to spoil, or to the contrast between general ugliness and the unexpected beauty of some section devoted to the housing of the rich or of rich commercial enterprises.

A city that just grows is no more likely to grow beautiful than a suit of clothes made by a blind man without a pattern.

It is as foolish to hope for beauty in a planless city, except in isolated spots which owe much of their sightliness to contrast, as it is to hope for convenience or picturesqueness in a house put up a piece at a time without regard to any complete design.

Cities should be planned, not only for beauty but for comfort and convenience. It is never too late to start planning, though the difficulty increases with the size of a city and the younger it is caught the more susceptible it is to planning.

Duluth is in just about the right stage to adapt itself readily to a wise and farseeing city plan, in which comfort and utility shall be equal partners with beauty and sightliness.

And to think that Lyman Abbott once proclaimed that Roosevelt NEVER drinks anything stronger than buttermilk!

WAR AND JUSTICE.

Lyman Abbott, who has very properly been placed on the black list by peace advocates because he favors greater navies as a step toward peace, told the Lake Mohonk peace conference the other day that "international justice must come before international peace."

And the Kansas City Star calls this a good point, and says: "Often the only way to deal with a big bully who harasses a school is to give him a sound thrashing. Nations sometimes adopt the bully's attitude. Then they must be dealt with accordingly."

Dr. Abbott's point would be a good one if war or preparedness for war had any bearing on justice, but they haven't. In war victory goes to the strongest arm and the longest purse; so war is no assurance of international justice. And in time of peace, we'd rather bet on the nation with a bad cause and the biggest navy than on the nation with a just cause and a little navy; so preparedness for war is no assurance of international justice.

And as to the Star's point, that's worse still; it is the nation with the biggest navy that is likely to act the bully—not the nation with a little navy.

Dr. Abbott's assertion that international justice must come before international peace sounds well and means little. International justice will not come out of the methods of the bully, and that's the war method. International justice will come when the nations disarm and trust their differences to an international court equipped with an international police force to enforce its decrees—hardly before.

Anyway, that Chicago couple who dodged a gunman by hiding in the icebox and then nearly froze to death can hardly be said to have been between two fires.

DULUTH EXTENDS THE GLAD HAND.

Monday morning a band of Duluth boosters will strike North Dakota, and it will spend the week there, renewing old acquaintances, making new ones, cementing anew the already firm bonds of friendship that unite this city with the splendid state which grows much of the world's bread.

It is needless to say that these men carry with them to North Dakota the best wishes and the heartiest esteem of all Duluth. Though the trainload will include but a hundred, in spirit it will carry with it the whole eighty-odd thousand who make up the citizenship of Duluth, with every individual unit pushing into the occasion every bit of his good will.

If, therefore, this little delegation of a hundred, between the Third Regiment band and the seasoned voices of the delegates, makes a good deal of noise in its progress through North Dakota, the people of that state will know the reason why: they are trying to speak for eighty thousand, instead of only for a hundred.

The greatest regret of the boosters will be that they will be able to spend so short a time in so many places. To crowd the trip into a week, which is a pretty long period for men so busy as these, the train must keep on the jump. North Dakota is considerable of a state, as you will find when you try to cover its teeming communities in a week's trip, and the train must make 2,351 miles to do it. This means that it must cover about 335 miles each day—and that leaves a regrettably short time for visiting. That Duluth would like it better if it were possible to spend an evening or an afternoon in every community goes without saying, but North Dakota has made that impossible by building up so many splendid communities.

Good luck to the boosters; may their trip be a round of unsullied pleasure. And good luck to North Dakota; may it enjoy the visitation half as much as Duluth will enjoy it—and above all, here's hoping that it will return the call at its earliest opportunity.

Ten to one they won't call Lorimer as a witness as to whether there are lobbies in Washington.

PAY AS YOU ENTER.

The "pay as you enter" street car has given the Lincoln State Journal an idea. It thinks that if more of us adopted the "pay as you enter" principle in our household economics we'd be much better off.

So we would, unquestionably. Though the idea isn't very new. Dickens put it into the mouth of Micawber, something like this: "Income, twenty pounds; expense, nineteen pounds, six shillings; result happiness. Income, twenty pounds; expense, twenty pounds, six shillings; result, misery."

Says the State Journal: "This is an era when nearly everybody is living beyond his means. We are all poor, regardless of income. Persons whose business it is to know such things say the average month's wages in even so prosperous a state as Nebraska is spent before it is collected or even earned. Nearly everybody has bought things he had nothing to pay for. By not paying as he enters he gets into debt and for the rest of his life swims upstream. Were our grocer, clothier and gewgaw dealer as firm in a pay-as-you-enter policy as the street car company, we should be out of debt, and doubtless nobody would have starved under the strain."

Not to be gainsaid, this. The Atlanta Constitution discourses thus about it: "Certainly one finds the nickel with which to pay trolley fare, or he walks. The same rule applies to our dealings with Uncle Sam when we would mail a letter or a parcel. We must pay cash for the stamp or the government respectfully declines to move the letter or package one foot.

"It is, necessarily, impractical to apply the principle all down the line. Thousands of us who can dig up the small coin for street car fare or for the letter and package have to throw ourselves on the mercy of the grocer, the department store, the iceman and the coal merchant. But there could be with profit the inauguration of an era of less dependence upon credit and more upon cash. As the Journal says, the trouble grows mostly out of the prevalent American habit of exceeding income. If a salaried man, and that class composes by far the bulk of the population, gets a five dollar raise it is generally the signal to spend seven-fifty more a month, or week, as the case may be."

If a salaried man, and that class composes by far the bulk of the population, gets a five dollar raise it is generally the signal to spend seven-fifty more a month, or week, as the case may be."

He does it because he can. If he couldn't, he wouldn't; and that he and everybody concerned would be better off goes without saying.

Nor is there, as the Constitution seems to think, anything impossible or impractical about making a general application of the pay as you enter idea. Unlikely, indeed, but not impossible or impractical.

We pay for the things we buy on credit, ultimately, of course, or there would be no credit. Or if we don't pay, those who meet their bills must pay a little more to make up for what we failed to pay. The system of universal credit tempts to extravagance and unthrift, and therefore sooner or later to vexation and unhappiness.

It is not quite clear what is to be done about it. If the grocer and the butcher and the coal man would adopt the "pay as you enter" plan and stick to it that would settle the problem; but they won't. They would offend good customers who, if they are living beyond their means and laying nothing up for rainy days, will pay sooner or later; and if they don't the loss can be added to the cost of doing business and divided among those who do pay.

All of us unquestionably would be better off on a cash basis; but how to get there isn't an easy problem, either for the individual who has gotten behind or for society as a whole. Yet it could be done by both.

Mrs. Pankhurst has been starving herself again. She can't be gaining much prestige that way among people who can't get enough to eat.

THE ECONOMY OF HOTHOUSE INDUSTRIES.

Sugar congressmen complained that they were assured in the campaign last year that the tariff revision would not interfere with any legitimate business.

Mr. Underwood had a reply for them that ought to hold them for awhile. He said that a business which had been getting protection for a hundred and twenty-five years, and which was not yet established, was not a "legitimate business."

There is nothing in political economy that is truer than that, and Mr. Underwood might, if it had been worth while, have proved it by every advocate of the protective system that ever lived.

The only justification for protection ever put forth was that it was a temporary stimulation intended to put industry on its feet, and to be withdrawn from each industry as soon as it was firmly established.

It is true that under Republican rule this turned out otherwise, and that in practice the more protection each industry received the more it wanted—and it got what it wanted, as a rule. But that was oppression and corruption.

But the time has come to eliminate from the protective system all industries which it is actually costing the country money to keep alive, and to withdraw protection from industries which have been established and no longer need it. That is not done in the Underwood bill, which is merely a move to abate tariff excesses, but it is the next step.

By asserting that the sugar industry cannot survive the withdrawal of protection, its supporters are admitting that it was a mistake ever to attempt to establish it by tariff stimulation.

What happens under the tariff, in the case of sugar, is that the country is taxed enormously to support an industry which profits only a few. It has been shown many times that it would be vastly cheaper for the nation to buy out every sugar plantation and every sugar beet farm and put them to producing something practical than to continue the attempt to establish the industry by artificial means—an attempt which is confessed to be a failure after it has been tried for a century and a quarter.

What the sugar tariff means can be realized more easily by a localized illustration.

Suppose Duluth could buy matches for the reasonable price of five cents a box, but that it had no match industry and wished to establish one by a protective tariff. It would levy an octroi tax of twenty cents a box on matches, so that every box of matches bought by a citizen would cost twenty-five cents. At that price, local match factories could be operated at a profit, and they would be established.

But suppose, after fifty years, when it was proposed to repeal this subsidy, match manufacturers in Duluth asserted that to do so would be to ruin their business. If the assertion were true, it would be proof conclusive that Duluth was not suited to the manufacture of matches, and that the only way the industry could be kept alive was by taxing all the match users of Duluth for that purpose. Duluth would be paying five times as much for its matches as it ought to pay, merely for the sake of profiting its match manufacturers. It would be maintaining an industry at an enormous cost, and the economic thing to do would be to abolish the tax, cease the attempt to establish a match industry, and let the capital and labor be employed in something for the manufacture of which Duluth WAS suitable.

That seems to be about the situation in the sugar industry. If the sugar producers who say free sugar means ruin are correct, then the attempt to establish a self-supporting sugar industry has proved a failure, and it should be abandoned.

Now the senate is going to find out whether there really is a lobby in Washington. Won't those senators be surprised if they actually find one?

RENEWING OUR EDGES.

Mark Twain said one time: "When an acre of ground has produced long and well, we let it lie fallow and rest for a season; we take no man clear across the continent in the coach he started in—the coach is stabled somewhere on the plains and its heated machinery allowed to cool for a few days; when a razor has seen long service and refuses to hold an edge, the barber lays it away for a few weeks and the edge comes back of its own accord. We betray thoughtful care upon inanimate objects, but none upon ourselves. What a robust nation, what a nation of thinkers, we might be if we would only lay ourselves upon the shelf occasionally and renew our edges!"

That's simply the argument for vacations, in a different form.

People don't expect that a field will maintain its fruitfulness if it is planted every year and to the same thing; yet some people think that a human being can plod away at the same task year in and year out without change, and still retain his mental and physical capacity.

People don't expect that a locomotive or a railroad coach can be kept going constantly without rest; yet some of them seem to think that the intricate and delicate mechanism that is themselves can accomplish this miracle.

There is much virtue in skillful loafing.

Too much of it, of course, is bad enough; but it's not much worse than no loafing at all, if it is as bad.

The human machine needs rest, just as much as a razor or a locomotive; and it needs change and the chance to lie fallow, just as much as a field.

That's why it is that you can do more and better work in forty-eight weeks or fifty than you can in fifty-two.

Let's see—there's nothing between now and the sane Fourth, is there?

REORGANIZING THE G.O.P.

The most significant and most interesting thing about the pending movement to reorganize the Republican party is the absence of public interest in it, and the indolence of such interest as has thus far disclosed itself.

There is no lack of interest among Democrats and other outlanders. They manifestly have a mild and unfearful interest in the proceeding, and they are watching it with mingled emotions in which amusement struggles with sympathy for the mastery.

There is no lack of interest among Republican office holders, whose places depend upon there being some vitality and substance to the party that put them in office and which they must trust to keep them there if they are to be kept there.

But among the rank and file of that which lately was the Republican party there seems little but indifference, and what interest there is seems to be of the most flaccid type.

This isn't so significant, perhaps, as it seems to be, nor so hopeless. Parties can stand a lot of killing. The history of the Democratic party shows that. The Republican party never has been killed before, so it feels it more keenly, perhaps, but the Democratic party in the old days got used to it. It was killed—fatally, almost—by the Civil war dissensions. It was killed by Cleveland, it was killed by Bryan, it was killed by Parker. Killing, during those years of almost uninterrupted Republican triumph, became the customary Democratic portion.

Yet today, for the sins of the Republican party, the Democratic party is triumphantly in control of both the executive and legislative branches, and doing famously, thank you.

So the Republican party, reclining lazily on its deathbed, may take hope. It has yet a chance for life, and for long life, if it pleases.

Reorganization movements are not very material, probably. About all a reorganization movement could accomplish now would be to bring to an issue again, and too soon, the irreconcilable differences between the Tories and the Radicals in the party. Both cannot control under a reorganization having any character entitling it to respect. And if either controls, the other will sulk in its tent.

If we had the management of the Republican party—and while we are glad we have not we wish it well because the country needs always an alert and effective minority party—we are inclined to believe we should let matters drift for the present. Reorganization is difficult, maybe impossible. If it is to take the form of compromise, what kind of compromise can there be between Barnes and La Follette? If it is a struggle for control between factions, the losing faction is likely to head still another revolt, to follow that of the Roosevelt party. Besides, it will be a mere debate between party leaders, trying to lead in different directions, with no followers to speak of because the rank and file is either alienated or indifferent.

But if the party name is permitted to stand for what it may, and those candidates who wish run for office under it next year and in 1916, they will get such fortune as there is coming to them. If the candidates and their declared principles please, perhaps some of them will be elected. If they do not please, they will not be elected. Their chances will be about as good as things stand now as they are likely to be as a result of any probable outcome of an attempt to reorganize.

A man out in Montana got drunk and proclaimed himself a great criminal. Then he sobered up and denied his own story. If he got off with only thinking he was a criminal while he was drunk he was lucky.

THE OPEN COURT

(Readers of The Herald are invited to make free use of this column to express their ideas about the topics of general interest, but discussions of sectarian religious differences are barred. Letters must not exceed 300 words—the shorter the better. They must be written on one side of the paper only, and they must be accompanied in every case by the name and address of the writer, though these need not be published. A signed letter is always more effective, however.)

OVER THE PEAK OF THE HILL.

To the Editor of The Herald:

Duluth people do not seem to realize it fully, but this city is becoming one of the great railroad centers of the country. Railroad developments, like others, have been coming so rapidly that it is hard to keep track of them. The Canadian Northern is just installing new service to Winnipeg and the coast. New trains are promised on the range roads. The Soo road, with its usual enterprise, is planning a new through service from Duluth to the coast and to Winnipeg. This little road up near Grand Marais will have its effect, and we will see a through road from Duluth to Port Arthur before many months, in my opinion. Extensions and branch lines in all parts of the West are increasing the importance of the Northern Pacific and Great Northern to Duluth. Things are coming Duluth's way in a railroad way just as they are in an industrial way. Keep hammering away as you have for the last few years, Mr. Editor, and Duluth people will awaken to the fact that they have the best city in America at the present time. Outsiders realize it already, and Duluth will before long. We are over the peak of the hill. JEAN DU LHUT, JR.

Duluth, May 30.

A Good Sign

Harper's Weekly: Even the New York Tribune concedes the rightfulness of President Wilson's order subjecting to competitive examination the fourth-class postmasters whom President Taft just before election dumped into the classified service. "Many of those transferred," it says, "may give way to better appointees after competitive examinations are held. The public doesn't care very much about the individuals who may qualify for the postoffices. But it is greatly interested in erecting a bar against the use of these offices as party patronage." It continues truly and wisely:

"It is highly gratifying to learn that the president will also try to get second and third-class postmasterships transferred to the classified service. It is foolish to burden the president with the responsibility of filling these minor posts. The time he is obliged to spend considering such appointments is absolutely wasted. There are enough really important things for him to wrestle with without being handicapped by refereeing petty wrangles over political spoils. If Mr. Wilson refuses to submit any longer to an intolerable executive burden he will have contributed materially toward increasing the efficiency and enlarging the independence of the presidential office."

Other Republican journals will do well to emulate the somewhat belated but none the less gratifying access of broad-mindedness to the columns of their famous leader.

A Reminiscence of North Shore Boat Building.

Grand Marais News-Herald: The following paragraph appeared in the "Twenty Years Ago" column of a recent number of The Duluth Herald:

H. I. Redmyer, a fisherman at Cross river, will sail to the world's fair at Chicago in a schooner, which he has built entirely by himself. He began work on it in 1889 and cut every piece of timber needed on his own land and hauled it to the shore. He has used no other tools than a handsaw and an ax. The boat is seventy feet in length.

Which recalls to an old-timer interesting reminiscences of the Redmyer schooner industry of that time. The above story completed is that the schooner above referred to never reached Chicago. It was operated on Lake Superior for some time and afterwards became the property of a Duluth concern, finally ending its career on the beach at Duluth.

Later Mr. Redmyer built a more pretentious sailing craft at Cross river, which he took to Lake Michigan and sailed on that lake for a time. It was finally sold by the government for a harbor tax of 65 cents. Our informant was present at the launching of this last mentioned boat, and he relates the following incident: When the boat was launched Mr. Redmyer undertook to cast the anchor. As he did so the anchor chain caught in his clothing and dragged him to the bottom of the lake. As his frightened assistants were about to fish him out with a pike pole the old gentleman bobbed to the surface, still gripping firmly between his teeth a pipe that he was smoking as he went down.

The Swift Story of a Crooked Life

Editorial in Detroit Free Press.

Detroit has a peculiar interest in the two-to-four year sentence imposed by the New York judge upon John N. Anhut, found guilty of attempted bribery for a very large sum in the ill-fated Thaw case.

Anhut was a bright boy from the Detroit Polish colony. Forsaking the prudent ways of his sires and his people, this young man decided early on a career that would lead to sudden fortune—by hook or by crook.

He had a smooth tongue, good presence, patronized excellent tailors, and thus equipped and further backed by a rudimentary knowledge of law, proceeded to try for sudden fortune along thin and fragile ice.

For awhile he skated swiftly, and avoided the holes; in the interim he dabbled in Detroit politics, and deceiving for a time the plain people, he found himself a state senator.

He is next heard of organizing an automobile enterprise on a large scale. The sums involved reached close to $400,000. A trail of black business ruin followed in the Anhut wake, but the sharp young man used his knowledge of law to save his own hide and departed for New York city, scot fret.

In due course, continuing his vicious and corrupt tactics, he turns up in the Thaw case and gets away with $20,000 of Harry Thaw's money, more or less, for practices that the judge and jury found as crooked as a snake. The sentence of two-to-four years followed, a new trial being denied.

If John N. Anhut were some poor boy who never had a chance in life, the Free Press would be inclined to say kind words about him, and to muffle the blow.

But it is time to recognize that the most dangerous criminal in America today is not the poor submerged thug from the slums—the lad that never had a chance—but instead the most dangerous criminal is the young American who, like Anhut, enjoyed the privileges of Michigan's great school system, and later was enabled to go to college and study an honorable profession.

The fever for amazing and sudden fortune—regardless of means—was his downfall. The age is swift, the desire for big money is everywhere. Anhut soon crossed the borderland between honesty and crime, and came to the turning of the road.

His ending is the legitimate and inevitable result of his conception of life. He decided on a career of crime, cloaked under hypocrisy and fraud, and while frequenting good society, and seemingly one of the men who would support the law, in reality used his knowledge of law to keep him from the deserved punishment of his criminal acts.

The history of all the law that John N. Anhut ever read—be it more or less—must have told him the one vital fact that he, in his own life, decided to ignore—that crime never does, never can and never will pay, and that in the end the deed will return on the head of the doer.

Are You in a Rut?

Kansas City Star: Harper's Weekly has been sold "because it had been losing money for several years." In announcing the sale the publisher remarked that Harper's Bazaar was recently sold for the same reason.

The magazine business has become unprofitable, do you say? Perhaps it has—with some publishers. But from others you hear no complaints. One concern makes a failure of a publication, while another finds a similar publication exceedingly profitable.

The trouble—when there is trouble—isn't with business conditions, but with the publisher. He isn't keeping alert. He doesn't study the public taste. He takes it for granted that because a certain type of magazine was popular twenty years ago, when he began business, it must be popular today. So he fails to adapt himself to the changing requirements of the day, and he finally goes to the wall.

The situation isn't confined to the magazine world. It develops in every line of business. A man who was highly prosperous a decade or two ago sees his business slipping from him, and complains about "hard times." But his live competitor doesn't find times hard.

In whatever line of activity a man may be, if he begins to find business poor he had better examine himself to learn where the trouble is. Ten to one the fault is with him, not with business conditions. What he needs is to get out of the rut. Other men are making money. He has just as good a chance as they if he will use his head.

The Old Broken Faucet.

How dear to this heart are the scenes of my bathroom
(Discomforts of travel recalling the scene);
Hot water—a tub, where the occupant hath room
To rise from its waves without cracking his bean.
The porcelain-topped basin with sensible spigots,
That squirt by themselves as the user compels;
For naught that is human but plumbers, or bigots,
Would purchase those faucets so
dear to hotels—
The double-horned faucets, the patented faucets,
Those cussed spring faucets they have
in hotels.

Oh, where are the pleasures of manifold shaving?
All gone is the joy of a wash 'neath
the tap;
Tonsorial bliss for an artist in laving,
Is scarcely attained with your hand on a snap.
Some thrifty provincials may put in the stopper—
(And filling the bowl, in a manner, excels),
Now Yorkers will find it too slow to be proper,
So wasteful of time in the finest hotels—
With double-horned faucets, with patented faucets,
With little spring faucets they have
in hotels.

Annoy me with slippery towels eternal!
Provoke me with tubs that are ever too small;
Discourage my spirit with wash cloths
infernal,
And maritime soap—I can suffer
them all!
But lighten my soul from a load overbearing,
For none on this planet wherever he dwells,
From Yonkers to Paris—with simplified swearing—
Can scrub at those faucets so dear to hotels.
The double-horned faucets, the patented faucets,
Those cussed spring faucets they have
in hotels.

SATURDAY NIGHT TALK

The Solomon System.

An athletic young man has asked his pastor if there was any harm in his learning the manly art of self-defense. "Certainly not," replied the quiet man in black, "I learned it myself in my youth and have found it of the greatest value." "Indeed," the would-be boxer exclaimed, "may I inquire whether you learned the English or the Sullivan system?" "Neither of them," was the answer: "I learned the Solomon system and you will find it described in the first verse of the 15th chapter of Proverbs.

When the young man had found a Bible and turned to the verse in question he read the words, "A soft answer turneth away wrath."

Whether King Solomon always employed his own prescription is not for us to determine. Whether he did or no, the advice is good. The system is unassailable.

The human temptation to strike back is a strong one. Perhaps it is a survival of our animal ancestry. Beasts of the wild retaliate promptly with claws and teeth. We have not yet wholly emerged from the jungle stage.

As a rule the blow with fist or tongue is a strangely ineffective weapon. It may crush for the moment but not for long. The fire is not quenched. It only begins to crackle afresh through the new fuel thrown on.

Agassiz tells how, when a lad of 10, he was taken by his mother to the famous Echo valley at Grindelwald. He began calling various epithets to the unseen boy across the valley who answered him promptly in kind. Discourteous speech like his own came back to him—and only a trifle fainter. Finally the mother, seeing the lad's lip begin to tremble, suggested to him that he change his tactics and send kindly greeting. This the boy did and was delighted to find that the boy across the valley promptly and cordially echoed the overtures of friendship.

From an obscure town in Italy John Ruskin once wrote to his friends, "The people here are charming; a word of kindness makes them as bright as if you brought them news of a friend." Another visitor might have reported these same visitors as morose, crafty and malicious. It was only Ruskin's own genial presence and deportment in the town that gave him the truer insight. He was proving the truth of the Master's word, "Give, and it shall be given unto you."

One need not become a Quaker to learn the efficacy of non-resistance. A chastened tongue and muscles under control often defend us better than flying fists of steel.

And, if we count gaining a friend a greater victory than merely crushing an enemy, kindness in speech and act is a weapon of offense as well as of defense. More flies are caught with molasses than with vinegar.

"Overcome evil with good" is a plan of campaign that wins out on a hundred fields. We never see it succeed more graciously than when enmities are abandoned and hatreds forgotten through the power of considerate and restrained speech. And if we wish a supreme illustration let us consider the victory of the Man of Nazareth, who spent his days in doing good even when the skies rained slanders against him, and who, when he was reviled, reviled not again. THE PARSON.

The Set of the Sail.

From whencesoe'er the wind may blow,
It bears the sailor where he'll go:
He trims his sail to suit the breeze
And scuds along with singing glees.

And you my brother, "born to woe,"
Can shape life's circumstances so
That every countercurrent bleak
Will push you toward the goal you seek.

SCOOP THE CUB REPORTER — And Now That Paper Is Farther Off Than It Ever Was — By "HOP"

HARPING ON THE NEGRO AGAIN

By SAVOYARD.

Washington, May 31.—(Special to The Herald.)—If the G. O. P. was decent enough and guileless enough to assume the part of Nicodemus Boffin—and the mere suggestion of it, I fear, is a reflection upon one of Mr. Dickens' most delightful creations—if the Republican party could play Boffin, then "Bill" Chandler would be his Silas Wegg. Mr. Chandler is out in a manifesto printed in the Washington Post of May 15, demanding that the Republican party reopen the "nigger question." There is filial virtue in the proposal, for nobody will deny that the negro is the father of the G. O. P.

For more than three score years the negro question was a cancer on the body politic. Both sections were responsible for African slavery, and the North more so than the South. Had that "institution" been as profitable in Massachusetts and in Iowa as it was supposed to be in South Carolina and in Arkansas, African slavery would be in the green tree in our glorious land of the free this blessed moment, and Bill Chandler would be the Cole Blease of the North.

Here is what John James Ingalls of Kansas, himself a Massachusetts Yankee, had to say about it:

"The conscience of New England never was thoroughly aroused to the immorality of African slavery until it ceased to be profitable, and the North did not finally determine to destroy the system until convinced that its continuance threatened not only their industrial independence, but their political supremacy."

Yankee thrift was exploited after this fashion during the colonial period: Exchange of rum for slaves on the coast of Guinea, the exchange of slaves for tobacco on the coast of Virginia, the exchange of tobacco for fabrics in the marts of Bristol and Liverpool, the exchange of fabrics for molasses in the mart of Havana, the conversion of molasses into rum in the distilleries of Salem and Bedford, and repetitions of these thrifty ventures to the end that "gayneful pyllage" might reward the diligent, the provident and the elect of God.

Do you know that Faneuil hall, "the Cradle of Liberty," in Boston, was builded with money old Peter Faneuil made out of the African slave trade? Fact.

Do you know that it was New England that forced into the Constitution of the United States, over the protest of Virginia, the clause authorizing the African slave trade till 1808? Fact.

The American people, North and South, want to forget the negro question. But here comes Mr. Chandler to insist that we go back many years and re-establish it as the political paramount. And thus he would put in the same basket W. H. Taft and Theodore Roosevelt, Boies Penrose and Robert M. La Follette, Nelson W. Aldrich and Albert B. Cummins, Reed Smoot and Joseph L. Bristow, Joseph G. Cannon and Victor Murdock, and these to go marching on to triumph, singing "John Brown's Body" and shouting "Marching Through Georgia!"

That was done when Chandler was young. He was at the birth of the Republican party. I wish I could accurately quote Grattan—those eloquent periods when, bewailing the fate of the party that sought liberty for Ireland, he said, "I stood at its cradle, I followed at its hearse," or words to that effect. Bill Chandler rocked the cradle of the G. O. P. in 1854. Is it possible that he did not see the hearse last November? It seems so.

I say it was done once—what Chandler seeks. The Republican party that nominated and elected Abraham Lincoln president of the United States was made up of discordant elements. But they were agreed on the paramount—the extension of slavery in the territories. Lincoln and Chase concurred in nothing else but opposition to African slavery. The same is true of Horace Greeley and William Cullen Bryant, Anson Burlingame and Frank Blair, Henry Winter Davis and Montgomery Blair, Charles Sumner and Oliver P. Morton, Thaddeus Stevens and Andrew G. Curtin, and I could fill this newspaper with the names of Republicans of 1860 who harmonized on nothing in the world except opposition to slavery at the South.

But the question was then urgent and paramount. It is as dead now as the pragmatic sanction that was designed to secure the integrity of the imperial dominions of Marie Therese. And that failed, too as disastrously as the fifteenth amendment that Mr. Chandler clamors for the enforcement of.

Mr. Chandler, if I know what he is driving at, would drop everything else and have the G. O. P. proclaim the fifteenth amendment paramount over everything besides, and force its observance by the traitors down South. Proctor Knott used to tell the finest story in the world about the "jedgment" Lige Pinkston passed on a dorg that would sit on his haunches till he wore out a thousands tails, barking up a tree there's nothing in.

Mr. Chandler is barking up a tree "there's nothing in." The North is awful tired of the negro. If the thing were to do over again there would be no fifteenth amendment. The North knows that it will take the bayonet to enforce it, for by this time the North has got acquainted with the South and has concluded that the South is a right down good fellow. Everybody but Chandler knows that the South prefers bayonet rule to negro rule. And even Chandler is not blinded enough not to know that if there were as many negroes in Vermont in proportion to whites as there are in South Carolina the negro would be in the middle of a devilish bad fix—in Vermont. Not only would he not vote, but he would have to go on his travels beyond the limits of the state.

Leave the negro at the South. And of all the human family now living Bill Chandler knows least of what he is talking about.

MORE INFORMATION ABOUT ST. VITUS DANCE

A correspondent, "Miss D. K.," has written for additional information about St. Vitus dance. She has read the data and advice given in this paper, and this, she writes, prompted her further inquiry. Her letter is as follows:

"A neighbor of ours, a girl of 9 years, was stricken with St. Vitus dance two weeks ago. She has it in very severe form. Every muscle in her body twitches all the time except when she is asleep. Her power of speaking has also been lost. There is a soreness of her mouth, the pain of which increases on eating. Her physician calls every day and he is doing all he can for her. We all would appreciate it very much if you would give us through the Doctor's Helps any additional information. How long do you think this trouble will last? What would you advise for the patient? Do you think osteopathy would be good? A great many of our friends advise trying this form of massage. What we seek is to help this little girl."

The one great thing necessary for every patient suffering from St. Vitus dance is rest. I mean both physical and mental REST. This, without a doubt, my colleague attending the little girl is thoroughly enforcing. Maybe there has been some severe eye strain of this child or some intestinal irritation. Any long sustained strain or irritation often brings on an attack of this ailment. Frequently the trouble is located in the bowels as the result of worms setting up a tremendous irritation. In about half the cases of this disease there is rheumatism. Ordinarily St. Vitus dance begins by the youngster growing excessively fidgety. It is impossible to keep still. The child is either lifting its shoulders, screwing its head around, raising its hands or moving some other part of its body. These disorderly movements affect even the tiny muscles of the face and cause much distortion of the features. The shock to the nerves may be so severe as to affect the vocal chords, causing stammering, and a temporary inability to talk.

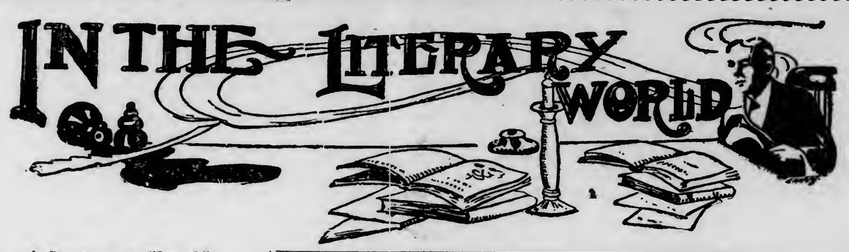
The power of speech always returns again after a time. The whole system in St. Vitus dance becomes affected and every natural act under ordinary circumstances becomes very difficult and frequently impossible, as in your little girl friend's case. Any attempt of the child to direct voluntarily or to control her muscle movements of any special part of her body makes the muscles twitch more than ever. Merely thinking about her illness, or trying to talk or stop twisting her head makes matters worse. During sleep, however, all the muscle movements entirely cease.

Death rarely occurs from this disease, and recovery from a single attack usually follows in from two to four months. It is a singular thing that this disease occurs more frequently in children and during the spring of the year.

You ask if osteopathy will do any good, likewise what would I advise. Anything, whether osteopathy, which is nothing more than a form of skillful massage, hydrotherapy, which is the skillful application of hot and cold water—anything which brings about rest of the patient will be helpful. But with the family physician on the job, doubtless all these measures have been considered and those which he believes to be best are being used. Don't expect any magic-over-night curative results. Ask the attending doctor all the questions you wish. Make to him any suggestions which occur to you as being helpful to the sick one. He will welcome them.

Editor's Note.—The purpose of this paper in offering this department to our readers is to present the facts about everyday medical disorders and how best to relieve them. If you can be served or further enlightened on any medical topic, write the Editor's Desk.

IN THE LITERARY WORLD



A Successor to "Queed."

V. V.'S EYES. By Henry Sydnor Harrison, author of "Queed." Boston: Houghton Mifflin company. $1.35 net.

A couple of years ago jaded reviewers sat up with a gleam of surprise when they encountered "Queed." It was one of the books really read, not merely reviewed, and the critics developed a rare enthusiasm over it. As sometimes happens, the public agreed with critics, and the book had a real success. It was a first book, and obviously so; but it was a first book by a practiced writer, and its defects were minor and not jarring.

So the coming of a second book by the same writer has uncommon interest. Also, it is certain to be subjected to unusual tests, because expectations aroused by so good a first book as "Queed" are likely to be too great, and therefore likely to be disappointed.

We shall be surprised if disappointment is expressed in "V. V.'s Eyes." It is stronger, surer, better in every way. It is a novel of the real old-fashioned kind as to length and breadth and substance, but new and fresh with its charm and humor and insight. It is the kind of book in which you relish length and amplitude of detail, which is saying a good deal for it.

"V. V." is V. Vivian, M. D., an eager young man, a lover of humanity, a sort of John the Baptist of the industrial conflict. He is a hater of oppression and privilege, prone to declare himself against evils which the smug, comfort-loving sort—which is most of us—prefer to pretend not to see, especially when "some of the best people in town" profit by them. Among these "best people"—a star among them for all her pride and craft in parti-hunting under the tutelage of a designing soldier-mother—is Carlisle Heth, a beautiful and—apparently—heartless daughter of the rich. V. V.'s eyes looked at her compassionately when she lied in refusing to save his friend by telling the truth about an unfortunate escapade in which she figured. Still, it was fear of the soldier-mother, as much as selfishness, that made her lie. Besides, she was uncomfortable about it afterwards and about the look in his eyes and his "God pity you!" She would have been more so if it hadn't been for her righteous indignation about the perfectly wretched piece he wrote in the paper about conditions in her father's Works—as though her father would have Works that were otherwise than perfectly all right. This V. V., too, was very evidently a dangerous man and highly impractical, for all his gentleness. What would you think of a man who would be so inconsiderate of the "best people," and who would give away his best clothes and wear his worst? Fine type, that, to be telling other people, especially "the best people," how to run their private affairs! His earnings, too, we learn when we catch him, two months behind, making up his pathetic cash book, are $6.40 for a month. Practice? Oh, a big one; only he didn't bother people with bills and besides most of his patients were too poor to pay bills anyway. Nice sort of a business critic, this! Especially as a critic of best people who are so exact about their pounds of flesh.

We learn, too, that the owners of Works are not always alone to blame, when Mrs. Heth grandly donates to a settlement the money her husband intended to use in making the Works less a deathtrap.

How this glory soul worked upon the soul of proud and pampered Carlisle Heth is the story, and a mighty good story it is—good to read, and good for you, especially if you are of "our best people" with unrecognized responsibilities.

There are some other admirable people in the book, too: Plump, complacent Mr. Heth, with his good nature and his twisted quotations; Mrs. Heth, iron, determined, sharp, an eye ever to the main chance; the Cooneys, cheerful poor relations, "more like a house party than a family;" and pathetic little "Kerr" Garland with her dreams of being a lady.

A real story, with real people, conscientiously done by a writer of genius.

A Strong Novel.

THE AMBITION OF MARK TRUITT. By Henry Russell Miller, author of "The Man Higher Up," etc. Indianapolis: The Bobbs-Merrill company. $1.35 net.

Here is a story with bone and meat in it. It tells of Mark Truitt, and how he gained a hard-won financial prosperity. It tells, too, of his relations with two women—one the lightminded wife who valued him for his checkbook, the other a warmblooded and loyal child of the people who gave him all she had to give. It doesn't come out the way moralists would ask it to come out, for happiness is gained through a pathway of sin. The guilty pair ought to have been punished for daring to be happy outside the conventions; and they were punished for their sin, though in the end they were rewarded for their loyalty. The contrasting picture of these two women—the one shallow, selfish, full of empty ambitions; the other self-sacrificing, one who toils and errs and gives herself for love—is strikingly done.

It is a stirring novel, interesting and well done from first to last.

Living Down a Scandal.

THE UNFORGIVING OFFENDER. By John Reed Scott, author of "The Colonel of the Red Hussars," "The Last Try," "The Woman in Question," "The First Hurdle," etc. Philadelphia: J. B. Lippincott company. $1.25 net.

If it were not for its length, this latest of Mr. Scott's novels would be certain of success. Like so many other writers he takes too many words to tell a perfectly good and interesting story. The dialogue is excellent, the situations are dramatic, and the characters have decided reality. But the writer gets lost in a maze of development, and the reader's interest sometimes lags.

The offender in question is Stephanie, the young and pretty wife of Harry Lorraine. She has run away with another man who deserted his wife and children to go with Stephanie. In the early pages of the book this romance comes to a sudden close and Stephanie daringly returns to her old home and circle, where she finds welcomes of all shades of warmth and chilliness. The author makes this situation the excuse for some rather keen denunciation of certain ways of society in general. Advised by friends, Stephanie sets out to live down her past, meeting coolness with coolness, supercilliousness with supercilliousness, and in brief, treating everybody else just as they treat her. How she succeeds must be left to the diligent reader to discover. The book is well written and interesting, except for the length. If it were cut down so the same story were told in about half the space, it would be vastly improved.

A Book About Milk.

MILK AND ITS PRODUCTS. By Henry H. Wing, professor of animal husbandry in Cornell university. New York: The Macmillan company. $1.50 net.

This valuable book describes the production and use of milk from a practical standpoint, and is a book that can be appreciated by the dairyman, creameryman and consumer of dairy products.

Prof. Wing tells of the method of secretion of milk, and the importance of the health of the cows in the production of good milk; also of the importance of regularity in the milking, and care to prevent excitement of the milch cows.

The composition of milk is dealt with, showing the constituents—water, fat and solids; and the effect of diet and regularity on these constituent parts, and hence on the flavor and richness of the milk.

The chapter devoted to the building up of the herd, with classification of different breeds, is of special interest to the dairyman. The importance of keeping a score of each cow, and the elimination of the weak is dealt with at length.

One chapter is devoted to the test of milk for butterfat, and the method used from early times up to the present Babcock testing method.

Prof. Wing deals with the pasteurizing of cream, showing that germs are killed by this process, and hence cream remains sweet much longer.

Practical consideration is given of the care of milk, cleanliness of cows and of the importance of keeping milk clean and cold before delivery to consumer; and what goes to make certified milk—strict supervision of stables, plenty of room and good ventilation, and care of utensils.

The manufacture of butter and cheese in the most modern methods is described fully. Consideration is given to the matter of starting and ripening the cream for butter, proper temperature of cream, washing, working and packing of butter, and the way to judge the quality of the finished product.

Then, the cheese industry is taken up, and all kinds of cheeses of different countries are described.

Ice cream manufacture, another industry arising from dairy products, is taken up in detail, with recipes for all kinds of ice cream; and the by-products of milk—skim milk, buttermilk, cottage cheese, whey, sugar of milk and casein, and their uses—are gone into fully.

The best architecture of creameries and cheese factories is described; and finally the author tabulates different legislation which has been put through for the improvement of milk and all its products.

"Milk and Its Products" makes a valuable addition to the literature of farm dairy industry, and should be a fine reference and text book for the farmer as well as the creameryman, and could be read to advantage by anyone interested in the pure food supply.

With the Cowboys.

CROOKED TRAILS AND STRAIGHT. By William MacLeod Raine, author of "Brand Blotters," "Wyoming," "Ridgway of Montana," "Mavericks," "A Texas Ranger," "Bucky O'Connor," etc. New York: C. W. Dillingham company. $1.25 net.

The red blood of the West runs all through this story. It covers all the old favorite themes of cowboy literature, from the roundup to the stage robbery. There is also the kidnaping of a girl, and in fact, there is nothing lacking for the makeup of a conventional melodrama of the plains. Mr. Raine's methods of handling this kind of thing have become well known through his earlier writings. This is "a typical Raine tale."

American Intolerance.

THE INVADERS. By Frances Newton Symmes Allen, author of "The Plain Path." New York: Houghton Mifflin company. $1.30 net.

Mary E. Wilkins convinced the American people that there was ample material for story-writing in the daily life of the ordinary New England village. Mrs. Allen takes up the same scenes and gives us yet further glimpses into our own inner lives, through the medium of these everyday New Englanders. She pictures what every community has seen—the prejudice of the native toward the immigrant, and what is more she gives her characters such a human reality that we can understand and appreciate this prejudice, even while we condemn it. The development of the story is skillful and the incidents are made intensely interesting through the involuntary interest one takes in the various characters. It is as if your own acquaintances were undergoing the experiences narrated.

There are other characters, but the principal ones are an elderly man, rich and not at all ready to wrap his shroud around him and lie down to rest; his wife, who has struggled with him in the building up of their fortune; and a young, pretty and unscrupulous woman who uses her wiles upon the elderly man and wins him away from his wife. The story is not unique. It has been told in other ways, and has been enacted in real life. But it presents here the woman's side of the question of the disrupted home, and brings to the realization of the reader many things that perhaps had not been thought of before. The book is illustrated by reproductions of photographs of scenes in the play.

Thrilling Detective Yarn.

CLEEK, THE MAN OF THE FORTY FACES. By T. W. Hanshew. New York: Cassell & Company. $1.50 net.

In this tale of a reformed crook T. W. Hanshew has evolved a thrilling detective yarn—or perhaps it would be better to say a series of thrilling incidents in a detective's life lightly held together by a love story.

The hero is a crook who has an unusual gift of facial expression. He is able completely to change his appearance at will, because of a wonderfully mobile countenance. The story opens with the hero in the role of a crook, and a wonderfully clever crook who evades the police in a most tantalizing way. Enter The Girl, who works a sudden reformation in the crook's character, and he promptly seeks an alliance with the forces of law and order, becoming a detective and hunting down the thieves and clever scoundrels with whom he had formerly been numbered. He uses his knowledge of the underworld and his trick of instantly disguising himself to ferret out the secrets that mystify the police, and one after another he solves their problems for them. Of course he ultimately works out his own salvation, becomes a respected and trusted member of society, and wins the girl.

The love story is rather crudely drawn, but if one can swallow the sudden reformation of the old-time crook Mr. Hanshew's tale is a most absorbing one. If the reader were in a critical mood he might find much that is crude and much that is preposterous in "Cleek," but when he has read a few pages he is not likely to be any more critical of the style than he was when he surreptitiously drew out a well thumbed copy of "Old Sleuth" in his days of knee trousers.

A "Gripping" Novel.

UDARA, PRINCE OF INDIA. By Arthur J. Westermayr, author of "Rudra." New York: G. W. Dillingham & Co. $1.50 net.

Lovers of romances dealing with India will find much to amuse and not a little to enlighten in this stirring story of a Hindu prince who relinquishes his throne and belief through love for his Christian slave, thereby allowing his hated cousin to rule in his stead. The trite expression, "gripping," fits Mr. Westermayr's book from almost the beginning to the end. Readers who delight in tales dealing with Brahmanism and Buddhism will not fail to be entranced, while the average person who has not made much of a study of those beliefs will be considerably enlightened concerning them through the author's vivid descriptions and an excellent glossary that explains words and phrases common in India.

Udara's conversion to the Christian belief with all that means to a follower of Brahman, because Patuli, his beautiful slave girl, has charmed him with words of wisdom gathered from her Christian teaching and incidentally won his heart, furnishes a theme that appeals to the reader from the start. There are many thrilling incidents related during the comparatively short period covered by the book, and the author tells them in a captivating way. The years the author is said to have spent in India gathering the groundwork for his story are demonstrated in the manner he tells it with descriptions of the lives and customs of those peculiar people.

ORSON LOWELL.

Orson Lowell, famous as a magazine illustrator, is an Iowan by birth. He was born in Wyoming, Iowa, in 1871, educated in Chicago and graduated from the Chicago Art Institute. He has made New York his headquarters since 1893 and has been the chief cartoonist for Life since 1907. Mr. Lowell has never cultivated special "types" and there is no "Orson Lowell Girl." His art takes a broader range; but his great success has been in depicting drawing room figures and society groups. He has a gentle but penetrating wit. Mr. Lowell lives in New Rochelle and has his studio on Fifth avenue, New York. He is a member of the Players and the Dutch Treat clubs.

Among the Magazines.

The June Century is a travel number, taking the reader into many countries. Frances Little, author of "The Lady of the Decoration" and "The Lady and Sada San," contributes an entertaining and instructive article on "The Training of a Japanese Child," in which she describes many quaint Oriental customs, and shows the influence of American educational methods. Robert Hichens is continuing his "Skirting the Balkan Peninsula" series, sketches Delphi and Olympia in word-pictures that are no less brightly colored than the accompanying paintings by Jules Guerlin. In a similar way Ernst von Hesse-Wartegg and Andre Castaigne describe and draw "The Great St. Bernard," while Joseph Pennell furnishes six lithographs of "The Grand Canon of the Colorado," which need no text to help them. The fiction includes an exciting automobile tale by Edward Lyell Fox, called "Black Blood," and further chapters of Frances Hodgson Burnett's new novel "T. Tembarom."

The Popular Science Monthly for June contains the following articles: "Some Further Applications of the Method of Positive Rays," by Prof. Sir J. J. Thomson; "The Abalones of California," by Prof. Charles Lincoln Edwards; "The President of the Ninth International Congress of Applied Chemistry," by Dr. George Frederick Kunz; "The American College as It Looks From the Inside," by Prof. Charles Hart Handschin; "Edward Whymper; "Alpinist of the Heroic Age," by Prof. B. E. Young; "Alcohol From a Scientific Point of View," by Dr. J. Frank Daniels; "The Biological Status and Social Worth of the Mulatto," by Prof. H. E. Jordan; "The Evidence of Inorganic Evolution," by Sidney Liebovitz; "A Statistical Study of Eminent Women," by Cora Sutton Castle; "The Anniversary Meeting of the National Academy of Sciences;" "The History and the Future of the Academy."

This week's Life contains an illustrated dissertation on comfortable clothes for men. Nothing could better illustrate the fact that Life, after all, is a really serious paper. Probably no reform is more justifiable than this. The various articles of wear which go to make up the costume of the modern American man—especially in summer—are not conducive to the utmost physical happiness. We hope Life's campaign may produce some effect.

Ralph Henry Barbour has a reputation for writing delightful romances, so when we say that he has excelled all his former efforts in his latest novel, "Lady Laughter"—published complete in the June Lippincott's—we realize that we are making a strong statement. But it's all true. "Lady Laughter" is both clever and funny. As for the heroine—well, the only reason there are so many bachelors in the world is because there aren't more girls like Betty. We appreciate her at once, and feel annoyed because the hero doesn't. He does later on, though. The scenes are laid in the Berkshires—that picturesque region so popular with summer pleasure-seekers. There's an unusually fine collection of short stories in this number. "The Middleman," by E. F. Benson, amusingly describes how a "middleman" skillfully "plucked" two unsuspecting victims, only to be even more skillfully plucked in turn. "Mr. Winkler's Signs," by Hattie C. Vaughn, is a humorous tale of a man's superstitions and how they got him into trouble. "A Lion with a Forked Tail," by Edith Robinson, is a modern exemplification of the old saw that pride goeth before a fall. "The Burden of the Pukkiu," by Young Wood, is a strange story of Finland. "Without Reservation," by Jane Belfield, is a charming little love tale. "A White precipitate," by Rex E. Stout, tells of a marital misunderstanding that resulted in a peculiar situation.

A timely article on the international polo matches by Harry Payne Whitney, captain of the American team, is one of the features of the June Metropolitan. It is handsomely illustrated with drawings from photographs. "The Last Families of West Virginia," by Allan L. Benson, is an unusual "human interest" story of the recent coal strike. Arnold Bennett gives some informing opinions on his art in "Writing Novels," and Bayard Veiller's "How I Wrote 'Within the Law,'" makes interesting reading. "Easy Money on the East Coast; Some Things We Do not Know About South America," is a constructive trade article of exceptional interest. There are seven short stories in the June Metropolitan by Gouverneur Morris, Donal Haines, Richard Washburn Child and others, and the usual department and pictorial features.

"A Million a Minute" is the title of an informative story of Wall street and Big Business, by Frederick Irving Anderson, which appears in the June month-end number of The Popular Magazine.

The current issue of Harper's Weekly is one of the Industrial Series and is especially devoted to the state of Oregon. This issue also contains the full text of a speech delivered by Col. George Harvey enttled "A Puglic Soul," a tribute to the late J. Pierpont Morgan. Other articles in this issue are, "The Shame of the Uniform," a serious question ably discussed by Capt. M. B. Stewart, United States army; "The Northwest's Need of Men," an article by John Scott Mills showing the advantages that the Pacific Northwest has to offer homeseekers; "Our Greatest, 'White Power' Region," an article by B. S. Josselyn treating of the hydro-electric power of Oregon; "Portland the Optimistic," a description of the thriving and substantial city of Portland, Or. This issue contains, in addition to these articles, the usual editorials, cartoons, finance, drama and humor features.

At the Lyceum

The Kinemacolor and De Luxe pictures will open for several weeks without interruption again at the Lyceum tomorrow. A new and novel stage setting will be used entirely different from the setting that has been used the past two weeks.

The special feature for Sunday, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday will be Duluth's own Memorial day parade taken a number of different places along the route of the parade, showing in every detail the fire and police departments, the city commissioners, the citizens' staff, the naval militia, the Spanish war veterans, the old soldiers and all of the school children taking part in the parade. The regular program will be shown in connection with the above feature headed on Sunday and Monday by a splendid two-part drama in Kinemacolor, "The Power of Prayer," and "Eggs and Egg-speriments," which shows the combination of a master of parlor magic and some very clever trick photography. It shows some mystifying and puzzling tricks. The reel takes its title from the fact that all the tricks are done with eggs.

On Tuesday and Wednesday the Kinemacolor program will be headed by a two-part comedy drama "An American Invasion," and one full reel showing magnificent specimens of spring's most charming flowers, "Daffodils and Narcissi," magnificently portrayed in Kinemacolor. On Thursday, Friday and Saturday "A Shattered Ideal," a Kinemacolor comedy, full of laughs, but with a distinct plot and the latest styles in evening wraps, will be shown.

She slips on to the stage very quietly, so quietly that the audience anticipating her entrance, does not realize for some minutes that it is really she, Maggie Pepper—Rose Stahl. As she stands there waiting, they merely notice a short, wiry, rather hard-faced little woman, with quick movements and rather tawny hair, the kind of weather-beaten girl you can find behind the counters of any big department store anywhere. Long hours, hard work, and confinement, had hardened the lines of her face. The day-long endurance of the stupidity and bad manners of those who buy drygoods have given her that cold glance and the cynical curve to the lips. She is typical of the deft-fingered, nimble-tongued women who are "saleslad ies" in retail stores, so typical that one catches one's breath as though recognizing an acquaintance on the stage. The art of Miss Stahl is shown as the play progresses for the hard, cynical Maggie Pepper softens as she succeeds, becomes gentle and refined in the higher station, the tawny hair gains the luster of gold, and all in all she typifies the woman who has worked and won. Miss Stahl and her excellent supporting company will appear in this three-act Charles Klein play at the Lyceum, June 13 and 14.

It is seldom that theater-goers have an opportunity of seeing a successful play direct from its New York run, but it is now an assured fact that on a date to be announced, David Belasco will present at the Lyceum Miss Frances Starr, in her play, "The Case of Becky," with company and production intact, direct from a three months' run at the Belasco theater in New York city.

One of the biggest hits of Werba and Luescher's production of "Over the River," in which Eddie Foy is the star, is the whirlwind acrobatic dancing of the Eight Madcaps. These attractive and vivacious maidens dance with as much zest and joy as when they performed in their native Berlin at the Winter Garden. In addition to their own specialty, they also have a prominent part in the novelty number, "The Raggety Man"—a song and grotesque dance number.

At the Empress

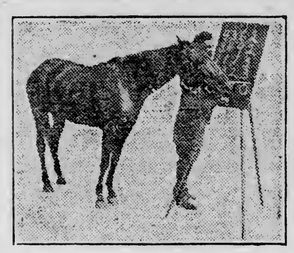
Starting with the matinee Sunday the Empress will offer its patrons a high-class program of vaudeville. As a head-liner, Morgan-Whaley & Co. will present their "Some Mind Reader." Just sheer fun has been the object of the author and he is said to have attained it from the rise to the fall of the curtain. This avalanche of laughter is enacted by some very clever people.

An act that has been pleasing and exciting favorable comment is that of the educated horse, "Princess Bonita." The Racine Times had this to say about Bonita:

"The current bill, on the other hand, is an all-star attraction, even though many of the first-nighters agreed that the blue ribbon of excellence should go to Bonita, touted as the world's greatest educated horse, and unquestionably so. So impressed were the three Sunday audiences with Bonita's performance, that many were convinced, in one case, at least, that animals reason, and all agreed that the horse is a marvel of intelligence, trained to a nicety. Bonita is a mathematical prodigy, whose equal has never been seen. She actually adds, subtracts and multiplies and juggles with figures large enough to puzzle an ordinary man. No wonder, then, that the audience agreed that a fellow with 'horse sense' knows enough to make good."

A clever "single" will be given by dainty Agnes Truesdale, character comedienne, who entertains with her singing. She first appears in male attire, with which she readily registers a hit, her next change is to that of an awkward girl, in which she sings the song hit of her act, "Does Anybody Want to Take Charley's Place?" This young woman closes her act in a fancy dress creation that will certainly please the women in the audience.

The great Elmer Beard is a circus entertainer and is at the present time making a tour of the largest vaudeville houses. His act is an aerial novelty of contortion feats on the rings. He twists and turns and goes through feats that seem impossible.



"PRINCESS BONITA."

They cannot be described. At times Mr. Beard appears in the shape of a ball.

Another and extra feature of the program will be an accurate and clear reproduction of Duluth Decoration day parade. This film was taken by Otto Raths, a maker of motion pictures. Mr. Raths has been in the motion picture business since its infancy and he promises one of the clearest and best pictures that will ever be seen in Duluth. Mr. Abrahamson owns the film outright and after showing at the Empress theater he will donate the film to the Duluth Commercial club to use as they see fit for the advertising of Duluth's points of interest.

"Merry Mary," which will appear at the Empress on Thursday, Friday and Saturday, June 5, 6 and 7, is one of the most successful comedies on the tabloid circuit.

With no situations overdrawn or impossible characters in the play, it keeps the audience in one continual roar of laughter from the start to the finish. In conjunction with the comedy, many clever musical numbers are introduced.

• • •

"The Girl From Luxemburg," the successful tabloid musical comedy, due at the Empress soon, is described as a feast of melody and mirth. Many late popular songs are introduced in connection with high-grade musical numbers, making a show that has appeal for every class of amusement lover.

One of the numbers, "My Great Big Blue-Eyed Baby," was introduced this spring with "The Follies of 1913" and "The Girl From Luxemburg" simultaneously. Miss Maud Smith sings this song in the show coming here.

"Floating Down the River" is a publication from a music house that is known for its successes. The manager of it prevailed upon Arthur Uttry to interpolate the song into "The Girl From Luxemburg," and its happy introduction with this show has led to the refrain being on every tongue.

"My Luxemburg," one of the original song numbers, is a whistly melody which rings in the ears for weeks after the show leaves. Vivian Francis is singing it in the same fine voice that she displayed during the New York engagement.

"My Rose of Old Kildare," "Snap Your Fingers" and "Terrible Eyes" are other song hits of "The Girl From Luxemburg."

The Texas Tommy Dancers, direct from the Barbary coast in San Francisco are featured with "The Girl From Luxemburg."

IN THE REALM OF VAUDEVILLE

Sophie Tucker is in Chicago.

John Barrymore is in vaudeville.

Clarice Vance is playing cheap houses.

The Four La Velles have organized a new act.

Ethel May tried vaudeville without success.

The Eight English Roses have the Pantages bookings.

Cliff Marion, "The Troubled Cabman" is offering a new act.

The Aitken-Whitman trio has opened on the Hodkins Lyric circuit.

The Nichols-Nelson will play Chicago houses next week for Frank Doyle.

The Musical Shirleys have invented a new instrument which they call the caliphone, as it combines the tones of a calipe and a marimbaphone.

William Gross, of Gross & Jackson, is playing the principal comedy role in "Running For Congress," tabloid musical comedy which is playing the Central West.

Louis Mann is now seen in vaudeville in a tabloid version of "Elevating a Husband," which presents the meat of the play presented in legitimate house last season.

Joseph E. Howard and Mabel McCane have been booked on the Pantages time by their agent, Lee Kraus, who placed them with J. C. Matthews, booking manager of that circuit.

Eva Tanguay is at the American Music hall in Chicago with her own show which includes Johnny Ford and Melville Collins, the Five Musical Nosses, Brady & Mahoney and other acts.

Halton Powell has the happiest idea in the new craze—tabloid. He has condensed a farce into the time that it takes to give a five-act vaudeville show and play it either in vaudeville houses giving two shows a night or can appear where one show is given a night, by adding other specialty acts.

L. F. Allardt is proudly displaying an Omaha paper which pictures the crowd in front of the Hippodrome in that city waiting to get in to see a tabloid musical show. The big crowd is taken to prove the popularity of the new form of entertainment—a proposition that finds few dissenters in the Middle West.

Menlo E. Moore is the most prominent of Chicago vaudeville producers. He has fully a dozen acts on the road. He does not hesitate at an investment of $5,000 before a production opens. He gives them extravagant stage mountings and costumes the chorus without apparently caring for expense. His "Rah Rah" boys has traveled the Middle and Far West for five years with phenomenal success.

J. C. Matthews, booking manager of the Pantages circuit of theaters, has his headquarters in Chicago and is constantly watching the vaudeville market for novelties for the Western tour. Representatives in New York and in foreign capitals are also constantly watching out for talent which would be appropriate for that circuit. It is the only Western circuit which has its real booking headquarters in Chicago.

Lyric' theater, and will probably be continued for at least two weeks more, although four weeks was the original limit set for the length of the engagement. It is highly probable that this revival will be offered in Chicago and Boston early in the autumn.

Having celebrated her fiftieth performance of "When Claudia Smiles" at the Illinois theater, Chicago, Miss Blanche Ring closed her run at that theater and her annual starring tour on Saturday evening, May 24th. Miss Ring will spend her vacation at her home at Mamaroneck, N. Y., and in September, under the direction of Frederic McKay, will begin a tour of the country in the comedy, including a New York engagement. Mr. McKay has re-engaged Harry Conor, and the comedian will be featured next season in Miss Ring's support.

Laurette Taylor is nearing her 200th performance of "Peg o' My Heart" at the Cort theater. That Oliver Morosco's brilliant young actress will establish a new record for long runs in this country seems positive as capacity audiences are found at every performance of J. Hartley Manners' charming comedy, and the heavy advance sale of seats gives every promise of the play continuing at Mr. Cort's beautiful playhouse in West Forty-eighth street well into next season. There will be a special matinee Decoration day.

• • •

"The Purple Road," Joseph M. Gaites' splendid production of Heinrich Reinhart's historical operetta, will in another week be in the third month of its run at the Lliierty theater. This excellent contribution to the light musical offerings of the present season has been steadily growing in public approval with capacity audiences the rule for several weeks past. The production is one of the most artistic that has ever been seen in this country. There will be a special popular matinee on Decoration day.

Oliver Morosco's production of Louis F. Gottschalk and L. Frank Baum's musical fantasy, "The Tik Tok Man of Oz," will receive its Chicago premiere at the Grand opera house tomorrow night with a cast of principals that will include Morton and Moore, Dolly Castle, John Dunsmore, Beatrice Michaelena, Lenore Novaslo, Burns and Fulton, Jessie Intropidi and Charles Purcell.

• • •

Frank Bacon, who was the feature in "Stop, Thief" at the Gaiety theater, has been engaged by John Cort for the principal part in Zella Covington and Jules Simonsons' comedy, "The Elixir of Youth," which will be produced at the Cort theater, Chicago, Aug. 3.

• • •

George Arliss, of "Disraeli" fame, is going abroad shortly, and Beaconsfield, the Arliss parrot, is going back home, of course. Ever since Mr. Arliss has been visiting these shores, Beaconsfield has been visiting them, too. Beaconsfield is a cut above the ordinary parrot, and if the dignified Arliss ever descended to vernacular, he'd speak of Beak as a bird. Beaconsfield knows every line of every part in "Disraeli" and can prompt a player with the accuracy of a grafonola that is wound up. Mr. Arliss is fond of all birds and beasties, as befits a delegate to anti-vivisection congresses.

• • •

Viola Allen writes from Germany that she has seen a German play which she will try to secure for this country. No details are given, save that the heroine has red hair. It will be remembered that when Miss Allen played Glory Quayle in "The Christian" and then followed it with Dolores in "In the Palace of the King"—both being red-haired heroines—many people believe that this favorite actress' own hair was red.

• • •

In the course of his Western stock-starring engagement, Brandon Tynan will revive his first great success "Robbert Emmett." Mr. Tynan was only 19 when he wrote this play, and 20 when he commenced starring in it. At the time it was believed that he would devote his career to Irish plays and parts, but he has not portrayed an Irish character since. Next season he returns to his original role of Joseph in the great Century theater spectacle, "Joseph and His Brethren."

• • •

Mary Anderson de Navarro, part author of "The Garden of Allah" has announced her return to America next fall—another non-professional visit to be devoted to seeing old friends and her wonderfully successful brain-child.

• • •

Frederick Stanhope, who will have charge of the engagements for the Liebler company for next season, sails for Europe Saturday. He will return late in July, and will spend a fortnight touring those cities in which summer stock companies flourish, in order that he may familiarize himself with the work of promising players in the stock line.

NEW WILD WEST SHOW, WITH MANY NOVEL FEATURES, WILL VISIT DULUTH JUNE 9

SCENES AND CHARACTERS IN THE OKLAHOMA RANCH WILD WEST SHOW.

Monday, June 9, will see the first two performances of the latest addition to the ranks of the big tented amusement enterprises of the country, in the West, although this show has been the sensation of the eastern states ever since it opened its career, some months ago.

It is the Oklahoma Ranch Wild West and comes here under the ownership and direction of Edward Arlington and Fred Beckman, the two nationally famous showmen who have made the 101 Ranch Real Wild West, the biggest show of its kind ever conceived.

The dare devil cowboys, cowgirls, Indians, broncho busters, lariat throwers, rough riders, frontiersmen and other exponents of the wild rough life of the Far West who have been gathered together to form this astounding pageant are under the leadership of Col. Zack Mulhall, the Father of Oklahoma and the man whom ex-President Roosevelt has publicly proclaimed the most typical and best example of the American frontiersman.

Col. Mulhall's life has been one long series of hair raising adventure and his exploits have been the talk of the range and border country for thirty years.

The pretty dashing young cowgirls are led by his beautiful young daughter, Miss Lucille Mulhall, who is equally at home on the back of a bucking bronch or in a Fifth avenue drawing room. No cowboy in many and many a roundup has been able to excel her in feats of skill with the lariat or to tire her out at feats of horsemanship and she is not only the most picturesque but the most thrilling figure of all the death defying performers in the arena.

Four automobilists who found the dangers of motor racing too tame to suit them will play the most hazardous of all sports in the big arena at every performance. This is the game of Auto Polo and beside it the flirting with death which flying an areoplane or driving a racing motor involve, sink into insignificance.

Every competition of the ranch and round up, is on the long program of events and they are fought out with the tenacity and desperate endeavor which would be shown if the prize was a thousand dollars instead of glory.

A big band of gaudily painted Indians, swaggering Cossacks, bands of music and hundreds of others help to form the atmosphere of this big entertainment which is beyond all doubt one of the most truthful and realistic pictures of the life of the now swiftly passing Far West and no one who has red blood in their veins and a spark of admiration for the heroic figures of the land and the days when a six shooter made the laws and enforced them too, can afford to miss this show.

There will be a mile long parade on Monday morning leaving the show grounds at 10 o'clock and traversing the principal streets of the city. The two long trains of double length circus cars which are necessary for the transportation of this organization will reach Duluth early on Sunday morning June 8 and visitors are cordially invited to visit the show grounds during the day.

GOSSIP OF THE RIALTO

Just as Arthur Hopkins announces a production of a dramatic version of Longfellow's "Evangeline," with Edna Goodrich in the title role, Edward E. Rice states that he intends to revive his "Evangeline" of the long ago. Incidentally, Mr. Rice declares that his cast will in every respect equal the original, which became famous. The original representation took place at Niblo's Garden July 27, 1874, with a company including William H. Crane as Le Blanc, Jacob Thomas as the Lone as Evangeline Fisherman, Ione Burke and Connie Thompson as Gabriel. The score was composed by Mr. Rice himself, and the libretto and lyrics by J. Cheever Goodwin. "Evangeline" has not been seen in fifteen years, and there is a new generation of players who doubtless would welcome a chance to become familiar with this opera bouffe.

"The Master Mind," with Edmund Breese, has done so well that its engagement at the Harris theater has been prolonged indefinitely.

• • •

A dramatization of Virginia Brooks' story, "Little Lost Sister," will be seen at the Victoria theater, Chicago, the week of June 1. Arthur James Pegler, a newspaper man, has made the dramatization, in which he has introduced a cabaret scene taken from one of Chicago's best-known restaurants.

• • •

The destinies of "The Pink Lady" next season will be watched over by Ben Stevens and John C. Fisher, who have obtained the touring rights from Klaw & Erlanger. The season will begin next August in Halifax, and includes the principal cities of British Columbia and the Pacific coast, which will be reached in October. Olga Da Baugh has been engaged for the title role.

• • •

Maclyn Arbuckle is to forsake the "legit" for musical comedy, and will appear next season in "The Fool's Dance," Glen MacDonough's adaptation of Leo Birinski's comedy, "Narrentanz." The original has achieved a notable success in Germany and Austria. The music has been composed by Hugo Reisenfeld, formerly a musical director at the Manhattan opera house. The story of the play turns upon a revolution in one of the European countries, instituted by the governor of the province. Mr. Arbuckle's role will be that of the governor.

The Chicago engagement of Montgomery and Stone and Elsie Janis next season will be played at the Studebaker theater. After the Chicago run "The Lady and the Slipper" will be moved to Boston for the remainder of the season.

• • •

The coming season Willis P. Sweatnam will appear at the head of his own company in a new comedy by Rupert Hughes, under the direction of Henry W. Savage.

• • •

James Shesgreen has withdrawn from the staff of Maurice Campbell, and will devote his efforts next season to the tour of Margaret Anglin in the capacity of general representative.

• • •

Brandon Tynan has gone to Salt Lake to play a stock engagement at the Orpheum theater. Mr. Tynan made his first appearance with the company as The Stranger in "The Passing of the Third Floor Back." Later on he will act the title roll in "Robert Emmet," his own play.

• • •

Hyams and McIntyre, in "Girl of My Dreams" for several seasons, will be starred in a new piece by Joseph M. Gaites next season. They will open the latter part of next August. The "Girl of My Dreams" is going out again with new people. Herbert, Lubin & Co., of Montreal, have taken over a half interest in the show.

• • •

The show selected for next season's starring tour of Richard Carle and Hattie Williams is called "The Doll House." It is a foreign musical piece.

At the annual meeting of the Columbia Amusement company and its subsidiary companies, in the Columbia theater building, on June 6, the official line of travel of the mberged burlesque wheel shows will be mapped out. The season will commence on Aug. 25 and end on May 9, 1914. The route will run thirty-six weeks and there will be forty-three houses and forty-three shows, with a lay-off week between Omaha and Minneapolis. The "split weeks," according to report, will be Springfield and Albany, Albany and Worcester, Utica and Syracuse, and three days in Bridgeport.

• • •

At the Grand opera house, Youngstown, Ohio, on June 2, the Youngstown Players will present for the first time on any stage a play entitled "The Burden." The piece is a domestic drama written by Bide Dudley.

• • •

Eugene Walter is turning out several new plays for Broadway production next season, among them being a story on the white slave traffic. It has come to pass that Walter has received more money out of "The Trail of the Lonesome Pine," which the New York critics panned to a whisper, than "Paid in Full," which they unanimously voted some years ago as an unqualified success. Walters expects to revive his "Just a Wife" next season. This is the piece in which his wife, Charlotte Walker, appeared for a time under the David Belasco management.

• • •

The roof garden of the new Weber & Fields Forty-fourth street theater will be opened to the public for the first time on Monday evening, June 2, with Lew Filds in "All Aboard" as the attraction. In addition to Mr. Fields himself, the compasy will include George W. Monroe, Carter De Haven, Lawrence D'Orsay, Will Philbrick, Flora Parker De Haven, Steve Maley, Ralph Riggs, Zoe Barnett Nat Fields, James Grant, Dolly Connolly, Arthur Hartley, Olin and Katherine Witchie. The book of the new piece is by Mark Swan and the lyrics are by E. Ray Goetz. The music is by Mr. Goetz and Marvin Franklin.

• • •

James T. Powers having closed his season in "The Geisha" is now resting in the Maine woods. "The Geisha" will serve him for a brief tour the beginning of the coming season, after which he will be seen in a new production.

• • •

Al Jolson is going to motor to the Pacific coast again this summer. He will return East in time to begin his season in "The Honeymoon Express," which will go on tour early in September.

GROCERS WILL GET TOGETHER

Banquet to Be Held at Lenox Hotel Thursday Evening.

Senator Cheadle and Representatives Warner and Borgen to Speak.

The Duluth Grocers' association will hold another of its "get-together" banquets next Thursday evening at 8 o'clock. The affair will be held at the Lenox hotel and a program has been arranged which will include addresses from John J. Ryan, secretary of the State Grocers' association, Senator Harry Cheadle, Representatives A. L. Warner and Anton Borgen, and W. E. McEwen.

Mr. Ryan will speak on "The National Convention and Its Relation to the Consumer and Retailer," while the senator and representatives will speak on legislation. Mr. McEwen will speak on "The Grocer and the Community."

M. R. Bush, president of the local association, will preside as toastmaster. The committee in charge of the banquet consists of George H. Schulenberg, Edward Strange, J. E. Ross, M. R. Bush, John Logan, A. M. McEwen, J. O. Johnson and George M. Peterson.

The Grocer's Part.

In speaking of the proposed banquet this morning Mr. Peterson, the association's secretary, said that the grocers were a much maligned set of business men. He said:

"When hard times come old clothes can be patched and cleaned. The burnt out stove can be made to do another year. A carpenter will mend the broken furniture for a few cents, another cleaning will make the old walls new, but let the times be good or bad every household must make its regular calls at the grocers. While there is cash to pay, it is paid, but the time often comes when nothing stands between a family and public charity except the credit which the neighborhood grocer is ready to advance. The grocer will be the last to claim that he is a philanthropist, but nevertheless his willingness to carry an honest man over a rough spot in the financial road is a force for good in our modern life.

"Although the grocer is accused of being a factor in the high cost of living, it is a fact that his profits are pitifully small upon many of the things he sells, and for much of the trade which is most profitable he must fight mail-order houses, dealers in specialties, chain stores and canvassers sent out by large concerns. He takes a veritable gambler's chance upon the perishable goods which he handles, and the small grocer is often the victim of price discrimination.

"The National Retail Grocers' association essays to fight the battle of the grocer against unfair competition. It is but natural that the trade should unite for this purpose. And the public has an interest in its success, for the small grocery is an indispensable part of the present system of distribution."

LODGE STRIFE MAY BREAK OUT AGAIN

Fireworks Not Unlikely By Imperial Council of Modern Samaritans.

Fireworks are expected at the meeting of the Imperial council of the Modern Samaritans, next Tuesday. The fight for the control which has been on for the past year between the Christie faction and the Hicken-McManus-Collier following may be revived. If the old dissension breaks out again, some interesting developments may be expected.

Duluth council, No. 3, Modern Samaritans, will entertain at a minstrel show and program at the Knights of Pythias hall, 118 West Superior street, on Monday evening. The affair will be open to all and no admission will be charged. Among those who will take part are as follows:

Thomas Young, J. A. McLaughlin, Charles Ashby, Allan R. Macauley, Fred Noreen, Dr. V. E. Gauthier, Joseph Cuskey, Willis Peer, Godfrey Azine, James Ryan, Murdo McGregor, George MacAskill, Dick Jones, L. U. Young, James McGhie, Frank Beaumont and Joe McDonald.

Soloists: George MacAskill, Godfrey Azine, James Ryan, James McGhie, Willis Peer and L. W. Young.

End men: Tom Young and Jack McLaughlin.

Musical director: Charles Ashby.

EXHIBITORS MUST BE SATISFIED

No Change Can Be Made in Date of State Fair.

While Northern Minnesota agriculturists would have preferred a later date the Minnesota state fair will be held the first week in September again this year. This was decided at a meeting of representatives of nine states held in St. Paul, C. P. Craig of Duluth, a member of the state fair board was present.

"No doubt the change to the second or third week of September would have helped our section of the state," he said, "but the fair on the whole would have suffered. Stock exhibitors have ever regarded the Minnesota fair as one of the big dates and have sent their finest displays to St. Paul. Later they split them up and ship them to other fairs."

While potatoes are a little late in this section exhibitors need have no worry on this score as years ago St. Louis county acquired the habit of skipping away with the blue ribbon in this class. Grains are fully matured and vegetables, too, for the most part in the first week of September.

POSTOFFICE ACCOUNTS WERE JUGGLED

second, third and fourth assistant postmasters general and chief clerk of the department.

Deficiency Instead of Surplus.

The substance of the claim of the Hitchcock administration was that a deficiency of approximately $17,500,000 in 1909 had been entirely eliminated, and that a surplus of over $200,000 was attained for the fiscal year 1911. The reports of the "survey" are declared to show, on the contrary, that at no time has there been a legitimate surplus in the postal revenues since the fiscal year 1883, and that instead of a surplus of approximately $219,000 in 1911, there was, in fact, an actual deficiency of considerably more than three-quarters of a million dollars.

In order to ascertain the true cost of the service, the various administrative officers of the department having jurisdiction over the several branches of the service were called upon to submit statements showing the obligations incurred by them for the service of the fiscal years 1909 to 1912, inclusive, irrespective of the time when payments of the obligations were or are to be made. Upon compilation of these statements it was found, the postmaster general states, that the cost of the service for these years, as compared with the expenditures reported for those years by the Hitchcock administration, was as follows:

Fiscal year.	Expenditures shown in published annual reports of Department.	Cost of the service as determined by present inquiry.	Discrepancy.
1909	$221,004,100.89	$221,238,624.21	$234,521.32
1910	229,977,224.50	230,277,047.90	299,823.40
1911	237,648,926.68	238,623,350.37	974,423.69
1912	248,523,450.08	248,624,940.29	99,490.21

It is pointed out by the committee that the published financial reports of the department stated the revenues and the cost of the service on dissimilar, and therefore incomparable bases. Revenues of the postal service are almost entirely collected in cash, and consequently relate properly to the fiscal year for which the report is made. But, the committee finds, it has been the practice to compare these only with payments actually made during the fiscal year, regardless of obligations incurred in that year, but not to be paid until succeeding years.

An explanation included among the papers accompanying the committee's report remarks that "it has been sought to justify this procedure on the ground that the overlapping payments approximately compensate for all practical purposes; but when the reported expenditures were subjected to mathematical analysis it was found that the immense and constantly increasing volume of postal transactions made under statements of expenditures possible when the lesser transactions of a previous year are included in the transactions of a given year, and a part of the greater transactions of a given year go over to a succeeding year."

This matter is held to have a very direct bearing upon the alleged course of the former administration in holding back all manner of commitments for the future; filling of vacancies and promotions, extension of city delivery and rural free delivery routes and star routes, until the very close of the last administration, so as to keep expenses to the minimum; and then filling every available position, by appointment and transfer, making long-term contracts; authorizing a large number of free delivery and star routes, and otherwise saddling the department with fixed charges which would not affect the reported expenditures for the current year, but would immensely magnify those of the first year of the new administration.

Made Service Suffer.

"The all-absorbing program of the last administration was the placing of the postoffice department on a paying basis," says the report. "The policies pursued in the effort to succeed at this plan were overworked, and resulted in defective administration and just criticism on the part of the public.

"That efficiency and economy should be substituted for wastefulness and extravagance needs no argument, but the postal service affects so vitally the interests of the entire population of the country that economy which means a curtailment of postal facilities operates as a check to the social and industrial progress of the country. The people are entitled to the best facilities administered in the most efficient manner. That the facilities furnished during the last four years were not the best is clearly established by the facts."

It appears that the department's practice has been to base its statements of the cost of the service upon payments made during the year as shown by the accounts settled by the auditor for the postoffice department, irrespective of the years in which the obligations were incurred. In this connection the report says:

"Notwithstanding the great zeal displayed in the efforts to place the department on the so-called paying basis and the resultant injuries to the service, the claim of the former postmaster general that the service actually yielded a profit in 1911 has no foundation in fact, as is shown herein.

What Balance Sheet Showed.

"It is to be further noticed that the balance sheet as heretofore prepared concerned itself entirely with the revenues from postage and the operations of the department and expenditures under the appropriation for the service of the postoffice department. In addition to this, the department should be able to make a complete statement of its financial status, which should include the administrative expenses of the department, the expenses of the auditor's office, and a fair charge for the maintenance of Federal buildings used exclusively or in part for postoffice purposes as items of cost. It has not been the custom to include these in the balance sheet. Furthermore, due credit should be given the department for the service performed in handling and carrying franked and penalty mails.

"In line with the policy of unwise administrative economy which the former administration had adopted, vacancies in the clerical force of the department were permitted to remain unfilled, and the lapsed salaries were turned back to the treasury. The withholding of deserved promotions caused dissatisfaction among the employes, and undoubtedly to some extent lowered their efficiency and contributed against keeping current the work of the department."

Took in Untrained Men.

The report declares that the failure to fill vacancies in the latter part of 1910 and during 1911 was not justified, and it goes on to say that "instead of making deserved promotions, a considerable number of transfers from other departments were made, at salaries in excess of the entrance grade, of men untrained in the work of the postoffice department."

It is further stated that "in order to effect these transfers the postmaster general certified in each case where the transfer was at a salary in excess of the entrance grade, that the person recommended for transfer was especially equipped for the work to which it was intended to assign him, and that the vacant position could not be adequately filled by promotion." Many of these certificates were unjustified.

"The records show that during the four years from March 4, 1909, to March 4, 1913, vacancies which were allowed to exist for periods of from one month to more than one year aggregated the equivalent of thirty-four clerks employed continuously during the above period."

The committee asserts that immediately before the time when the new administration was to take office there was a "complete reversal of policy, and that all available places in the department that had remained vacant for months were filled. On Jan. 21, 1913," says the report, "urgent verbal instructions were given by the postmaster general to report for immediate final action every possible favorably approved rural route, and, acting under these instructions, over 100 rural mail delivery establishments were authorized in three days. Directions were given to expedite as much as possible inspectors' reports on all cases then under investigation of rural delivery routes and of allowances."

Economy Campaign.

A considerable section of the report is devoted to an account of the measures taken by Postmaster General Hitchcock to impress upon the service generally the announcement that economy would be the watchword of the administration.

"Notices to this effect," the committee says, "were carried by the press, delivered personally by representatives of the department at postmasters' conventions and in official letters to postmasters at first and second class postoffices.

"It is assumed by the committee that the stress laid upon this matter induced many postmasters to exercise drastic economy at the expense of the service. The result has undoubtedly justified such complaints of imperfect and unsatisfactory service as have been received recently from New York, Philadelphia and elsewhere.

"During the early part of the administration," the committee says, "action was deferred on all cases involving the establishment of city delivery service in which there might be any excuse for delaying action, notwithstanding that the people were entitled to the service, and that its establishment had been recommended by postoffice inspectors. Many such cases were acted upon only after persistent requests of senators and representatives."

A similar condition obtained, according to the committee, with regard to requests from postmasters for additional clerks and carriers, though the committee thinks it "safe to say that these requests were made in most cases only when the additional help had become absolutely necessary, especially in view of the postmaster general's repeated injunction in regard to economy." The committee adds in justice, by the way: "Since June, 1911, the practice has been changed to the extent of allowing temporary assistance pending investigation by inspectors."

Delayed Rural Routes.

"The practice of delaying action until the pressure for it became too strong is even more noticeable by examination of the records of the division of rural mails," the committee says. "During the greater part of the fiscal year ended June 30, 1911, rural routes were apparently established only in cases of extreme emergency, except where a net saving to the government was involved. Practically no extensions of existing routes were approved. On Oct. 1, 1910, 1,184 approved petitions for rural route establishments were held in the division of rural mails awaiting final action. These continued to accumulate, and yet at the end of May following (May, 1911) the record for the eleven months of the fiscal year shows a net increase of only 210 routes.

"In the single month of June, 1911, 375 routes were established and eight discontinued, making a net increase of 367 for the one month, or a net total for the year of 577 routes. The annual cost during the fiscal year for this increase of 577 routes was thus limited to $210,437, or 57-100 of 1 per cent of the annual appropriation.

"In October, 1910, the fourth assistant's bureau apparently faced a deficit on account of the star-route service, and instructions were issued to reduce the expenditures for existing service to such a figure as would avoid a deficit. The attention of congress was not called to the condition, and star-route service was discontinued or curtailed, and proposed additional service was not established. Protests and demands for restoration were so urgent and insistent, however, that in the early part of May, 1911, nearly all of the star-route service previously discontinued or curtailed was restored, effective June 1, 1911. These discontinuances and curtailments effected a saving or decrease of nearly $100,000 in the expenditures for star-route service during 1911."

Financial Conditions.

Coming to the question of financial conditions, the report describes the comprehensive study of the finances of the department for the fiscal years 1909 to 1912, inclusive, as outlined above, and says specifically:

"Instead of a surplus of $219,118.12 for that year (1911), as claimed by your predecessor, it is clearly demonstrated that there was in reality a deficit of more than $750,000. Furthermore, a close analysis of the financial statement for the fiscal year 1912 discloses the fact that the admitted deficit of $1,785,523.10 for that year was understated by nearly $100,000."

The remainder of the report is taken up with a study of the physical conditions under which the department's work is carried on, pointing out many instances of inadequate quarters, inconvenient and uneconomical distribution of space, antiquated equipment, and other detrimental working conditions. The report also recommends various administrative changes.

OPPOSES CREAM SHIPMENT LAW

Minneapolis Visitor Says Regulation Imposed By Legislature Is Ridiculous.

Sharp criticism of the Johnson law regulating the shipment of cream is made by L. T. Sykes of Minneapolis, who was in Duluth yesterday. The new law prohibits the shipping of cream further than sixty-five miles unless the cream has been pasteurized or is transported in a refrigerator.

"It's a fool measure that benefits neither the shipper or the consumer," said Mr. Sykes. "The United States court has granted a temporary order restraining officials from enforcing the law and the hearing is scheduled for Monday. I believe the state officials will have difficulty in pointing out any benefit in the law. Dr. Bracken, secretary of the state board of health, has refused to indorse it.

"The ridiculousness of the measure is shown when it permits one to carry cream sixty-five miles by wagon over a poor road, which means the consumption of much time, while one can't ship it further than that over a fast railroad which wouldn't take one-tenth as long," he said.

Enforcement of the law would affect St. Louis county shippers who send much of their product to range towns.

COLLISION SHOCK KILLS WOMAN.

Rockford, Ill., May 31.—Mrs. John Dinnie is dead here of shock, after a collision between a motorcycle and the automobile of George W. Smith, superintendent of the J. I. Case Company of Racine, Wis. Mrs. Dinnie was the wife of a Rockford contractor. She was a passenger in the automobile.

SULZER MAY STUMP AGAINST SOLONS.

New York, May 31.—Governor Sulzer, speaking last night in behalf of his direct primary bill, threatened in the presence of two legislators who voted against his measure that if they did not favor it at the extra session of the legislature he would make a fight in their own districts against their re-election.

Senator George Blauvelt and Assemblyman Ralph McKee, Democrats, sat behind the governor when he addressed a meeting on Staten Island.

"These two men," he said, turning toward the legislators, "voted against my bill—the people's bill—I am sorry to say. I do not object to them voting against it, but I do object to them getting long distance telephone orders from their bosses to vote against it."

The governor, with two speeches, wound up his present direct primaries campaign in Greater New York.

Two St. Paul Women Killed.

St. Paul, Minn., May 31.—Mrs. Theresa Johnston and Mrs. A. E. Ross, who were injured when a Soo line passenger train struck the carriage in which they were returning from a funeral late Thursday, died yesterday. Two of the other three persons injured are reported to be in a critical condition.

THREE BOYS DROWN.

One Loses His Life Trying to Save Companion.

St. Louis, Mo., May 31.—Three boys were drowned in different parts of St. Louis county yesterday afternoon. Two of the bodies have been recovered.

While swimming in a sink hole near Hill Crest, Willie Lewis, 12 years old, was seized with cramps and sank. As he came up for the first time, he cried for help. Samuel Wolf, also 12 years old, who was swimming near the Lewis boy, went to his rescue, reaching the drowning boy just as the latter was coming up for the second time. He tried to catch hold of Lewis, but the latter caught him around the neck, drawing him down and drowning both. The bodies were recovered soon afterwards.

The other drowning was at Maxwellton, where Milton Pettey, 17 years old, was seized with cramps while swimming in a mill pond. A man who was standing on the bank started to Pettey's aid, but after a struggle gave up because he saw that both would be drowned, owing to Pettey's desperate struggling.

For Thursday a Rex feature in two parts, "In Slavery Days," which the management claims that seeing it speaks for itself, and you don't want to miss it. The Odeum, which is the best known and most elaborate moving picture house in the Northwest, increases in popularity daily, and its admission is only 10c.

Lyric Theater.

The Lyric theater, starting tomorrow matinee, is showing a picture called "The Northern Spy;" in other words, "Mother Love." It is surely some drama, one of the best that the 101 Bison ever produced. It is in two parts and is very interesting from the start to the finish. Good, hard fighting is protrayed in this battle scene during the Indian uprising. The sympathetic acting of Roger Clayton makes this drama long to be remembered. The management will present another drama and an exciting comedy which will prove a rare treat. The Lyric is one of the best moving picture houses in Duluth where one, or the whole family, can go to spend a pleasant afternoon or evening and see produced the best of pictures in drama mellow, military or Western, which are explained and emphasized by an able lecturer, who tells the whole happenings of the production so as to help its patrons to more fully understand and enjoy the show.

Happy Hour

The most central theater in moving pictures and vaudeville, is drawing the crowds afternoons and evenings. The management spares no expense in procuring the best of pictures and talent that can be had. It has for today and Sunday two big headlines, Billy Mitchell, colored comedian, in singing, talking and dancing, also the Trueheart-Lavelle trio, in their comedy, singing and dancing sketch, with four big reels showing drama and comedy. For Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday Minnie Du Bey is booked—the girl with two voices, in songs and impersonations, who has no equal and has made a real hit in the East. She is considered one of the best that ever boarded the footlights. Don't fail to see Miss Du Bey—it will do you good. C. A. De Grace, or "Morba," the mechanical doll mystery, is another feature on the program, and without a doubt he has no equal in making you believe he is a wax figure. He is well known all over the country. The management also shows, both afternoon and evening, four big reels of moving pictures in comedy and drama, and charges only 10c for admission.

"Movies" Surely Pay

C. E. Wall, who has been engaged in the confectionery, fruit, candy and cigar business at the corner of Fifth avenue east and Fourth street, has sold out his interest and is going to build a moving picture house at Carlton, Minn. Mr. Wall says Carlton is a flourishing and promising city and ought to be a good place to invest money.

Sunbeam Theater.

Manager Parker of the Sunbeam theater is presenting to the public today "The White Glove Band," protraying the depredations of the syndicate of high-class criminals terrorizing Paris. For Sunday only, a war picture, "The Grim Toll of War," a Civil war drama in two parts. Frederick Douglas of Greenville, who for six years has been connected with the American embassy in a European country, is greeted back home by his daughter, Myrtle. She introduces her father to her governess, Miss Virginia Ellis, and he, for her talent and refinement, takes her for his wife. The Civil war breaks out, the wife keeps secretly the identity of her brother who is a secret service agent. Douglas sees him with his sister, he suspects her being unfaithful. Seeking no explanation, he leaves a note, saying he is answering his country's call and what he owns is hers. He then receives a commission as colonel and leaves for the front and encounters Ellis, who was busily engaged and was climbing a tree to overhear the Federal plans that the gate of the fort was to be exploded. The branch of the tree breaks and he falls at the feet of the spies. Ellis is taken to a Confederate prison. He escapes and makes his way on horseback, only to be mortally wounded by Douglas. Ellis, in his last breath, gives the warning but too late to prevent the explosion. In his pocket a letter revealed his relationship with Virginia. Col. Douglas returns home and endeavors to make amends by a life of devotion to his faithful wife.

Extra for Saturday and Sunday, two local films, Memorial Day Parade and the Central High School and Lincoln school, with 2,000 scholars in the film.

Kozy Theater.

The Kozy of 419 East Fourth street is making a great hit with its amateur night, which is Fridays. Last night the house was packed for the three shows. Those who took part and won plenty applause from the audience were Florence Butchart in singing and dancing; Lee and Harris, the "Cold Dust Twins," in black-face singing, dancing and talking, and the Segal brothers in their act singing and dancing.

Manager Carey says he has for Sunday only, "A Southern Cinderella," in three reels. The story portrays the time prior to the Civil war, a colonel and his 18-year-old daughter go to reside on a homestead. The colonel leaves on a business trip, where he meets a woman who has a daughter. He becomes infatuated with the widow and marries her. Important buiness demands his attention, so he sends his new wife and daughter to the old home. The colonel's daughter greets them, but is treated with disdain. The colonel returns, but his daughter refrains from telling him of the tortures she endured. The colonel is called to the front and in the excitment of his troops marching down the streets, caused a Southern woman to unfurl a Confederate flag, who turns out to be his wife. So enraged were the soldiers it was miraculous that she was saved from bodily harm, only by the interference of the captain of the regiment, who afterwards revealed that she was a Northern woman. She then introduced her daughter, who falls in love with him at first sight. The captain then meets the colonel's daughter at the well, falls in love with her and asks her to marry him, which she consents. While the ceremony is taking place he is trapped, and the colonel tries to get at him, but is held back by his daughter, who pleads with her father not to harm him. He goes to his home, orders out his wife and her daughter and approves of his daughter's marriage.

For Monday and Tuesday, "On Fortune's Wheel," a two-part Kay Bee feature, will be the headliner.

Star Theater.

"War," a Bison war story in three parts, is today's feature at the Star and it will be shown for the last time at the Star Sunday night. There is probably not a moving picture film in existence which covers the subject of warfare more thoroughly than this three-reel offering. It is almost a complete exposition of the actual fighting, the movement of troops and all the attendant features of warfare. It follows the fortunes of a girl and her brother and lover, who are on opposing sides. Cupid lays snares midst the battle's roar, and Col Brooks, U. S. A., loses his heart to a Southern girl. The story does not prove that "all is fair in love and war," but it does prove that regardless of war love will have its way, and as a big, sweeping incarnation of "war's rude alarms," this offering is worthy of high commendation.

The bill closes with three high-class vaudeville acts and there is not a dull moment from the time the curtain goes up on the war scene until it drops on the last act.

The vaudeville opens with Easton's dogs, that pleased both old and young last night. Newcomb and Williams follow with a pleasing laughing sketch, "His Country Sweetheart," and the show closes with the Penn City trio, who were a riot last night, the audience insisting on six encores before they were satisfied.

VIRGINIA REEL IS COMING BACK.

Chicago, May 31. — A return to the Virginia reel, quadrilles, waltzes and plain two steps will be sought by the Chicago Association of Dancing Masters.

"The freak dances of today," declared President James Smith, "are children of the stage—of the cheaper theaters and vaudeville shows promulgated by cabaret and concert singers. They are not strong enough to wear with the general public, and there will soon come a return to the healthier dances."

HAS SOLVED IMPORTANT PROBLEM

Rasmussen's Discovery That So-Called Peary Channel at Northern End of Greenland Does Not Exist.

Copenhagen, Denmark, May 31.—By his discovery that the so-called Peary channel at the northern end of Greenland does not exist, Knud Rasmussen, the young Danish explorer, has solved a problem of great importance to the geographical world. Besides this, the explorer and his companions mapped the region connecting Greenland with Perry Land, and made fresh discoveries of land which they baptized Christian X Land.

Additional details have been received here of the brilliant feats of the Danish expedition which has just terminated a scientific task that has attracted many explorers since Nansen, by crossing the icefields of the interior of Greenland, proved that only unusual endurance and hardiness were required for successful exploration in those regions.

Knud Rasmussen started on his expedition on July 10, 1910, when he embarked with his companions on the schooner Motor and sailed from Copenhagen to the Melville coast in Northwestern Greenland.

Rasmussen was peculiarly well fitted for the task he had undertaken. He is a native of Greenland, having been born at Jacob's Harbor in 1879. His father was a Danish clergyman, who was thoroughly acquainted with a number of Eskimo dialects, and his mother was a pure-blooded Eskimo. Knud himself spoke Eskimo from his infancy and later studied the language philologically, so that he knows it at the present day perhaps better than any other person.

Knud Rasmussen has been throughout his life intensely interested in exploration, and as a youth undertook voyages in Scandinavia, the Faroe islands and Iceland, all the time making scientific observations.

When this expedition reached the Greenland coast the explorer established a station there for the benefit of the scattered Eskimo population.

The expedition was equipped with sufficient provisions to last six years, and it was part of Rasmussen's plan to establish a commercial depot near Cape York, on the northern side of Melville bay, where there is a comparatively numerous tribe of Polar Eskimos, who hitherto had been virtually out of communication with the civilized world. This was to be under the auspices of the Danish royal committee for the privileged commerce of Greenland.

According to the telegrams received from Thorshavn in the Faroe islands, Rasmussen not only succeeded in carrying out these plans, but also the second part of his program, which included the ethnographical and ethnological exploration of the practically unknown regions of Northern Greenland. It was Rasmussen's intention to map Melville bay, to cross the glaciers of the inland icefields, to explore the "Peary channel" and also Crocker island, discovered by Peary in latitude 85.

Mr. Freuchen, another Dane, was the principal companion of Rasmussen in his explorations and on his great sledge expedition across the Greenland continent, sharing with him in the honor of deciding the question of the existence of the "Peary channel."

When Peary made his discoveries at the northern end of Greenland during his voyages in 1891-1892 and 1893-1895, and when he explored Independence bay, which stretched from east to west, he was inclined to believe that the bay continued farther westward and terminated its course in the supposed "Peary channel." He baptized the final point of his attainment Navy cliff. East of this promontory a huge glacier, the "Academy," projected into the sound.

During his voyage of 1898-1902 Peary reached the northern point of Peary land, in latitude 83.39, which was the limit of Greenland proper. He and most of the Polar explorers who followed him believed Peary land to be an island separated from the continent by Independence bay and "Peary channel."

Some doubt still existed as to this, and other explorers made efforts to determine the facts. Mr. Koch of the Danish expedition reached Cape Bridgman in 1907, following up Peary's explorations. In the meantime, however, the Danes, Myllus Erichsen, Hoegh, Hagen and Brondlund, had lost their lives in trying to establish the existence or non-existence of the "Peary channel."

Elnar Mikkelsen also tried to penetrate the region while he was searching for the diaries of his head compatriot, Myllus Erichsen, but had not sufficient time to attain his goal and narrowly escaped death.

The news of Knud Rasmussen's discovery has settled once for all this much debated question.

FROM LONDON TO WINNIPEG IN FIVE DAYS IS OBJECT

Fast Crown-Subsidized Railway and Steamship Planned to Operate Between England and Australia.

Washington, May 31.—From London to Winnipeg, a distance of more than 3,400 miles in five days is the object of a fast crown-subsidized rail and steamship system which is planned to operate between the British capital and Sydney, Australia, reducing the running time between those centers to twenty-one days. Twenty-six knot steamers of the Knapp type, having finer lines and smaller displacement than the Mauretania, will run from Blacksod, a new harbor on the northwest coast of Ireland, to cape St. Charles, Labrador, in three days. Thence to Winnipeg mails and passengers will be raced over an air-line railway in another thirty-six hours. From the Manitoba metropolis to the Pacific coast one of three routes is to be determined upon by the promoters of the Imperial All-Red Route, as the latest highway to the Antipodes is known.

The lowering of the time of passage between London and New York, as well as Toronto, Pittsburg, Detroit, Chicago and other American and Canadian cities is an important consideration in the working out of the new project, according to Harry Chapin Plummer, who in an article in the June issue of the National Waterways Magazine, published in this city by the National Rivers and Harbors congress, states that by the Blacksod-Cape St. Charles route and Quebec, one day may be gained over the existing schedule maintained by the Mauretania and Lusitania between Liverpool and New York. He observes:

"Although conceived as a new medium of transportation between the capital of Britain and far-away New Zealand and Australia, the 'All-Red Route' enters actively into consideration as a highway for distances that, while representing but a fraction of the grand total of mileage, are in themselves of great extent. From London to Winnipeg in five days is as important an object, relatively, as the accomplishment of a twenty-one-day schedule between London and Sydney.

"This great highway through England, Scotland and Ireland, across the Atlantic to Labrador, across British North America, over the most northerly parallels of latitude yet followed by trunk line railways, and, diversely, across the Pacific to distant Yokohama, Hongkong and Shanghai, and to yet more distant Auckland and Sidney, is planned to serve the purposes of war as well as the pursuits of peace. It will be backed by the might and the combined resources of the United Kingdom and Canada, New Zealand and Australia."

Sir Thomas H. C. Trowbridge of London and a syndicate of leading financiers of England, have let contracts for the commencement of construction work upon the line of railway which is to connect Blacksod with the northern cross-country routes of the Irish railway system terminating at Larne, on the North Channel, near Belfast, where car-ferry connection will be effected with Stranraer, on the Scottish coast, near Dumfries. The All-Red Steamship company, originally planned to operate between Blacksod and Halifax, was incorporated under federal charter by the Canadian parliament in 1907, and this corporation will operate the steamship service between the Irish port and Cape St. Charles, whence the air-line railway is soon to be constructed, under heavy dominion subsidy

CENSUS NOW BEING TAKEN

If Thief River Falls Shows 5,000, Elks Can Have Lodge.

Pennington County Fair Grounds Are Being Fixed for Annual Show.

Thief River Falls, Minn., May 31.—(Special to The Herald.)—The city council decided to take a municipal census at the request of several members of the Elks desirous of organizing a lodge of that order in this city, but could not do so until a municipal or Federal census gave the population as 5,000 or over. The work of taking the census was commenced on Tuesday by six high school students under the directions of Prof. J. H. Hay.

The 12-year-old son of Mrs. Louise Rux, living on a farm near Holt, was seriously injured on Monday by the explosion of a cream separator he was operating. The bowl suddenly flew to pieces, causing several serious wounds to the boy's head and face.

George Johnson of the First State bank, last Sunday, won the Stevens Arms company's gold watch trophy by a score of 131 pigeons out of a possible 200. Mr. Johnson's score was ten above the next highest. Next Sunday a silver watch fob trophy, offered by the DuPont Powder company, will be contested for by the members of the gun club. Fifty pigeons will be thrown for each.

Fixing Up Fair Grounds.

Work on the new permanent county fair grounds is now well under way. The buildings have been moved from the old site and a new grandstand and fence is being built. The half-mile track is nearing completion and when finished will be one of the best race courses in this part of the country. Everything will be completed by the time set for the county fair.

Graduation exercises have taken up the greater part of this week. Sunday night the baccalaureate sermon was preached in the Auditorium by Rev. C. E. Boyden of the Presbyterian church. Monday night the eighth grade exercises were held in the Lincoln high school. On Tuesday night the high school commencement exercises were given, in part, at the Auditorium and continued and completed on Wednesday night, when the Hon. J. H. Batten delivered the address to the students, his subject being "The Student Before the Bar of Public Opinion." The commencement exercises were concluded on Thursday night by the alumni banquet.

Memorial day celebrations were held here at the Auditorium and the cemetery. The services at the Auditorium were presided over by Mayor Lars Backe. The opening prayer and the address were delivered by Rev. J. B. Smith of the M. E. church. The Brage chorus contributed by song the "Star Spangled Banner," and "The Boys of the Old Brigade," and the city band rendered some stirring pieces. After the service at the Auditorium, a procession, made up as follows, left the building and marched to the cemetery, where the memorial services were continued: Fire brigade, city band, the firing squad, the old veterans in carriages, school children, numerous citizens in carriages, automobiles and on foot. It was the most successful Memorial day celebration held here. All business houses were closed during the day.

Winona—Stanley J. Low, who has been associated with the Barton-Hobart Paper company during the past year and well known here through his former connection with Jones & Kroeger company, has been appointed manager of the Leicht Press of this city.

North Branch—The fourth annual commencement exercises of the high school were held Thursday night at the Lutheran church. The graduating class this year consists of Dora Kaufmann, August T. Bodien, Walter Frestedt and Will J. Rowell.

Battle Lake—Mrs. O. Sversvold died at her home in Everts township Tuesday of heart disease. She had been sick for a long time, so her death was not sudden. She was 69 years old and one of the pioneers of Otter Tail county.

Pine City—The following graduated from the academic department of the high school Saturday: Marie R. Fisher, Emma H. Hoefler, Margery Lahodny, Julia M. Rybak. Those from the normal department are: Josephin A. Carlson, Julia B. Glasow, Emma H. Hoefler, Helen Jumer, Josephine Jumer, Margery Lahodny, Joyce Malsmeuer, Hattie E. Wandel, Madia Wells, Louise M. Wilcox.

Princeton—One thousand cubic yards of crushed rock has been ordered from St. Cloud and delivery will commence the latter part of this week. The rock will be hauled to the roads to be improved. It is confidently expected that every pound of the rock will be handled on Good Roads day, June 17.

St. Cloud—The commercial club directors elected the following officers: President, Fred Schilplin; first vice president, N. K. Hunt; second vice president, Ralph Olson; secretary, P. J. Seberger; treasurer, C. D. Schwab.

Hinckley—The village council contracted with the electric company, in which the village is to pay $720 a year for the five years remaining on the old contract. All arc lights will be abandoned and clusters substituted, the village will pay half the expense of making the change.

Fergus Falls—These bids were received for the new Catholic church: Eugene Schuler of Wahpeton, $17,421; Lamson-Gray Construction company, city, $16,946; John Lauritzen, city, $15,900; William Schueller, city, $15,474.25. The bids were higher than anticipated, as labor and material are high at present, but the contract was awarded to Mr. Schueller.

Cambridge—The R. F. D. carriers of Isanti county held their annual meeting at Elmer Gray's in Stanchfield Sunday. Mr. Gray is a carrier on a route in Stanchfield. Eighteen carriers and two substitutes took part. The families of a few of the carriers were also present.

Isanti—The potato market, which was very strong for several days, has again dropped, and 30 cents per bushel was offered Wednesday for Burbanks. Triumphs, Ohios and Rose are not being taken on the market at any price, but the starch factory is still in operation and taking potatoes as fast as they are offered.

Little Falls—Two men were injured at the Pine Tree mill Wednesday afternoon. William Beattie, was able to return to work Thursday morning. The other, George M. Johnson, will be able to resume work in a short time. The accident occurred when a log was thrown crosswise of one of the carriages.

Stillwater—The commencement exercises of the Stillwater high school were held Thursday night at the Auditorium. Thirty-five received diplomas.

Mankato—But one applicant has taken the civil service examination for the position of postmaster at Eagle Lake. The examination was held a few days ago.

ANACONDA MAKES PAYMENT TO THE BUTTE-ALEX SCOTT

Has Purchased Ground to Protect Its West Colusa Shaft.

Tuolumne's Shipments May Be Increased in the Near Future.

Butte, Mont., May 31.—(Special to The Herald.)—The publication in a commercial circular of a record to the effect that the Anaconda Copper Mining company had paid to the Butte-Alex Scott Copper company the sum of $30,000 as part payment for ores between the 1,800 and 2,000-foot levels has given rise to rumors to the effect that the Anaconda company had been caught mining in Butte-Alex Scott ground and that so clear was the case against the Anaconda company that a settlement had been brought about. There is nothing in the story, except that the Anaconda company has made a payment of $30,000 as part payment for ores between the levels mentioned. It appears that a vein apexing in the Butte-Alex Scott ground took an incline toward and through the West Colusa shaft. on this ground the Butte-Alex Scott management was working and the Anaconda company, realizing the necessity of protecting its shaft, came to an agreement with the Butte-Alex Scott whereby it purchased enough of the ground to protect its shaft. The ore, it is said, is very valuable and may never be mined, but it was absolutely necessary for the Anaconda company to have it, and its exact value will be determined by the quantity and quality of the ore, the $30,000 paid by the Anaconda company being but a partial payment for the ground.

Tuolumne.

The Tuolumne Copper compny is shipping 125 tons of ore a day at the present time to the Washoe smelter, but there is a prospect that the shipments may be increased in the near future. A raise has been run from the 800 foot level up and between three and four feet of good ore has been encountered which runs between 7 and 10 per cent copper. Crosscutting is now going on on the 2,200-foot level and a distance of 150 feet has to be gone before the ledge is reached. The management has every confidence in the future of the property and looks for some rich ore bodies at depth.

Pilot Butte.

The Pilot Butte company is preparing for active mining operations. The stations on the 1,800 and 2,000-foot levels have been completed and crosscutting from both levels has been commenced. It is intended to run the crosscut the entire distance of 240 feet, which is estimated to require forty days. It is further intended to drift on each ledge as it is reached, and inside of sixty days Supt. Sheehan says that he will be shipping ore of a good paying quality. In order that the ore shipments may be made at the least possible cost the company has entered into a contract with the Anaconda company for the construction of a railway spur from the Elm Orlu mine to the Pilot ground, a distance of 538 feet. The Elm Orlu adjoins the Pilot and has a spur to its property. If such a thing should be possible that the Pilot Butte did not strike any ore for a considerable time to come, the construction of the spur will pay for itself in the course of a couple of months in conveying lumber, coal and supplies to the property. But those in close touch with the management say that there is an absolute certainty of high-grade ore being hoisted inside of sixty days.

Butte & Zenith City.

The crosscutting on the 460-foot level of the Butte & Zenith City property, five miles west of the city, has not yet resulted in the opening up of any shipping bodies of ore. Supt. Newton says that the veins clearly traceable on either side of the shaft from the surface have not been reached, but the condition of the ground gives every indication that the ore is there and that it is only a question of a short time before it is opened up.

Anaconda.

The annual meeting of the Anaconda Copper Mining company was held a few days ago in Anaconda. It was presided over by Con F. Kelley, vice president of the company. There was a large representation of stockholders, and the annual report given to the public a short time ago was read and approved. Very general satisfaction was expressed at the condition of affairs and the management came in for a large amount of praise. The old board of directors was re-elected. In a short time the directors will meet in New York and elect officers.

Washoe Smelter.

The improvements made at the Washoe smelter are already bearing fruit. For the past few weeks there has been going to Anaconda 1,200 tons of ore every day which previously had been shipped to Great Falls, and this amount of ore is being treated in addition to the usual amount from the other mines. The concentrates are sent to Great Falls, but there still remains a great saving in railway freight charges. The ore from the mines sent to Great Falls has to go over the Great Northern railway, and while there is understood to be a very liberal rate granted, still the treatment of this amount of ore in the Washoe smelter at Anaconda means a saving of several hundred dollars a day. It is said that when the improvements still in progress at the Washoe smelter are completed, at least 3,000 tons of ore a day which is now shipped to Great Falls can be treated without any difficulty. Not only is the capacity of the Washoe smelter being increased by the improvements, but the cost of treatment is being considerably lessened.

Visiting Engineer.

Ward Paine, son of W. A. Paine of Boston, has been in the city for several days looking over properties in which his father and other Boston capitalists are interested. Young Mr. Paine is a graduate of the Michigan School of Mines and is recognized as a very competent mining engineer. He visits this city at least twice each year and reports on properties. He declined to be interviewed, after making an inspection of the Butte-Duluth and the Gambrinus claim of the Corbin Copper company, but he did say in a general way that every new property being opened up had all the appearance of becoming a paying investment.

East Butte.

President R. H. Gross of the East Butte company spent three days in the city from his home in Boston recently, making an examination of the property. Mr. Gross said that general conditions were exceedingly bright and that the East Butte company was fast getting into the position when the stockholders may expect to receive a dividend on the money invested. Mr. Gross would not venture an opinion when a dividend would be paid, but did say that, now that the indebtedness was about wiped out, the question of declaring a dividend would soon be taken up.

Bullwhacker.

Patrick Clark, the well-known mining man and president of the Bullwhacker company, was in the city for a few days while on his way from New York to Spokane. "We are in the midst of only a temporary depression," said Mr. Clark, when asked about business conditions. "Pretty soon you will see business conditions readjust themselves and then the country will go forward with a bound. As for the mining industry, we ought to have a great season the second half of the present year." Mr. Clark, in speaking about the leaching plant put in to treat the Bullwhacker ores, said that it is now on a practical basis and will prove a winner. He stated that the plant will produce copper at 6 cents a pound. The first unit of the plant is being rushed to completion, the delay of the past few weeks having been caused by the delay in some specially constructed machinery in arriving. "Our experiment with the leaching process has cost us in the neighborhood of $40,000," said Mr. Clark "but we have reached the point where our silicate of copper will be treated at a good profit. The total capacity of the mill is to be 500 tons and we hope to reach that mark before the year is over. The leasers of the Bullwhacker have shipped 30,000 tons of ore to the smelter, averaging 4 per cent copper, and there are 1,000,000 tons more of it in sight. The copper turned out by our leaching plant is absolutely pure."

Butte & Superior.

During the month of April the Butte & Superior company mill recovered an average of 84 per cent of the metal values of the ore treated and this month so far, it is given out, the average recovery has been 92 per cent. An official of the company says that there is no question from this on the average recovery will be 90 per cent and that there is every possibility that before the summer is over an average recovery of 95 per cent will be secured. The same official stated that Butte & Superior was earning at the present time $3 a share on shipments around 600 tons of ore a day.

BIG COPPER FIND MADE IN MONTANA

May Be Most Important Discovery Since Anaconda Was Located.

Butte, Mont., May 31.—What gives promise of developing into the most important mining discovery known in Montana since Ed. Hickey located the Anaconda mine and thus paved the way for developing the wonderful Butte hill, is that of a copper property in Flathead county, Western Montana, thirty miles south of the Great Northern railway, near Corum, and about five miles east of the south fork of the Flathead river.

The vein is from twelve to twenty feet wide; extends along the surface for many miles and the ore assays from a minimum of 14 per cent copper and 8 ounces in silver to 60 per cent copper and 25 ounces of silver.

Everything that goes to lay foundation for success of a mining camp exists in connection with this new field. The country is heavily timbered and there is a water grade from the vein to the nearest possible shipping point. The Great Northern is now engaged in building a branch line which will run within four miles of the property and the Milwaukee will run a parallel road there, too, thus affording facilities for hauling ore to smelters, as the roads will place the future mines on the property in direct touch with Great Falls and Spokane.

Many prominent mining men, some of them of Butte, have located claims in this district, and Ben Thresher, one of the original discoverers, is now on the scene representing the Flathead Development company, composed of Gen. Charles S. Warren, L. O. Evans and John M. Murphy of Butte, V. D. Williamson and Fred Oliver of Spokane and Al Ingrahm and Dr. W. H. Campbell of Kalispell.

The strike was made last summer. Joe Morris, who struck the celebrated Le Roy mine in British Columbia, and Jack Hennessy, a noted prospector of many years, who was one of the discoverers of the Noble Five, one of the great silver-lead producers of the Slocan district of British Columbia, were outfitted last spring and left Spokane on an all summer's prospecting trip. On Aug. 13, 1912, they struck this great reef on the side of a mountain about five miles east of the south fork of the Flathead river, and commenced exploring the same. They staked five claims, did the work required to be done to perfect the locations and on Sept. 28 recorded the claims at Kalispell, in Flathead county, Mont. The claims are known as the Big Copper Nos. 1, 2, 3 and 4 and the Noble Copper. Snow then coming on the district was abandoned until this spring. In the meantime, while Morris and Hennessy were there, another veteran prospector, Ben Thresher, seeing the work done on the mountain side by Morris and Hennessy, located a claim on each end of them in the name of himself and V. D. Williamson of Spokane, did the work and recorded the same. Each of these prospectors took out with them a little ore, the assays showing very well.

DAVIS-DALY NOW PAYING PRODUCER

Expected Shipments Will Be Increased to 300 Tons Daily.

Butte, Mont., May 31.—Some two months ago announcement was made that the Davis-Daly management had cut into the Hesperus lode, opening a fine body of copper ore. Many skeptics scoffed at the reported strike and false rumors were spread. In the meantime General Manager Creden did not court publicity, but went quietly ahead with development work. What that development work has shown is an interesting story. For the first time since organization, Davis-Daly is a paying producer.

Davis-Daly has increased shipments to 200 tons of ore per day, and since the first of the month has been making a daily profit of about $200. That this is a most excellent showing for the property will readily be appreciated when it is known that the mine pay roll alone is running between $600 and $650 daily, in addition to which charges for treating ore have to be deducted before arriving at earnings. It is expected that by July 1 shipments will be increased to 300 tons per day, and if there is no recession in the price of copper, earnings should be doubled.

The Hesperus ore body on the 1,400-foot level is opening up splendidly and is responsible for the changed conditions. The ore continues to improve in value and the width of the vein holds at seventeen feet. A recent assay of a shipment showed 4.43 per cent copper and from 8 to 10 ounces of silver to the ton.

Shipments from the 1,400-foot level are coming from that part of the ore body where the strike originally was made, but two other crosscuts on this level are approaching the vein, so that if similar conditions are met with other stopes can be started. In addition a crosscut is being run on the 1,700-foot level, which is in the immediate vicinity of the vein, and later on the ore body will be explored on the 1,200, 1,500 and 1,900-foot levels. General Manager Creden figures that if the 1,700-foot level is successful, there will be 2,500 feet on the vein which can be worked by Davis-Daly.

BUYING UP PROPERTIES

John D. Ryan and Associates Acquiring Land Near Wolvin Ground.

Indicates Growing Faith in Claims By Wolvin and Bullwhacker.

Butte, Mont., May 31.—(Special to The Herald.)—Interests believed to be associated with John D. Ryan are still buying up mining properties in the southeastern section of the Butte district, and it is understood that they have already acquired more than 400 acres of ground, including the developed property of the Ida-Montana Mining company, and a stock control of the Amazon-Butte Copper company. All this ground lies at the extreme southeastern section of the developed district and has been taken in under extreme secrecy, the deeds being taken in the name of W. D. Thornton, associate of John D. Ryan and president of the Greene Consolidated company. The local representative in the transactions has denied that Ryan and his associates are interested in the deal, but from other sources it is pretty well authenticated that they are. The purchases already represent payments of close to $1,000,000.

Control of the Amazon-Butte stock was quietly picked up on representations that it was a question of selling at a low price or paying a heavy assessment, and the stock was sold. The stockholders of the Amazon-Butte will hold an annual meeting June 17, at which time they are expected to vote a formal sale of all their property. The general belief is that Thomas F. Cole is not interested in the deal. The ground being acquired lies south of the East Butte and adjoins the new company of Capt. Wolvin, known as the Butte & Duluth, and upon which mining is now being done by open cuts and the copper recovered from the ores by a leaching process at a cost, it is claimed, of 7 cents a pound. Amalgamated officers have been slow to believe it possible to accomplish what the Wolvin and Bullwhacker companies claim in the way of low cost production from ore that runs 1½ to 3 per cent copper, but the fact that the Ryan interests are securing an enormous acreage of copper ground in the same neighborhood would indicate a growing faith in the new system or a knowledge of other favorable conditions in that section of the district.

Vast Blanket Of Ore.

The Wolvin property contains a vast blanket of low grade ore, of unknown depth, all assays being under 4 per cent copper. The Wolvin leaching plant, having a capacity of 200 tons of ore per day, has been turning out practically pure copper for some time, but there has been much dispute and controversy over the figures of cost. The method of treatment includes crushing the ore to a fine powder, this product being treated to an acid bath, the material then being run over electric plates where it is converted into sheets of pure copper.

The Bullwhacker company, which is building a small leaching plant some distance north of the Butte & Duluth, claims to have had some fine results from its experimental plant which turned out copper 100 per cent pure and saved 90 per cent of the copper in the ore at a cost, it is claimed, of 6 cents a pound. The Bullwhacker is mining by the "Glory hole" system under lessees, but the leases all expire in September, when the company will start operations itself. There has been considerable delay in building the larger plant, owing to the fact that all machinery is being especially designed. The first unit of the mill will have the capacity of 125 tons a day and when completed will have capacity to handle 500 tons daily. It is claimed that there are 1,000,000 tons of the sylicate of copper ore in sight in the Bullwhacker ground. Lessees have mined 30,000 tons of ore at a cost of 50 cents a ton, or less than 1 cent a pound for the copper content.

Barnes-King.

The April earnings of the Barnes-King Development company were $24,-873.15, a considerable decrease from several previous months owing to the fact that the power company was making repairs and the Barnes-King company was forced to suspend mill operations for seven days during the month. Profits, since the resumption of mining, have run as high as $40,000 a month, and the ore treated averaged about $10 a ton, some months running much higher and some times lower. All the ore is coming from the North Moccasin property at Kendall, adjoining the original Barnes-King, and which the company purchased under remarkably favorable terms and at a low price. On the first level opened the ore body has been opened a distance of 800 feet and a lower level, 100 feet deeper, is being driven on the same ore body, which has been opened there extensively already. In the Marysville district, where the company purchased the old Piegan-Gloster mines under terms as favorable as those on the North Moccasin, a tunnel is being driven under the old workings and a large ore body, running $4 a ton, has been opened. The indications are that another big mine will be developed there.

The Amalgamated people are still largely interested in Barnes-King and they negotiated for several years before they found properties through which they felt reasonably sure that the stockholders would retrieve their fortunes which they sunk in the original Barnes-King venture. Charles W. Goodale, general manager of the Boston & Montana mines, is president of the Barnes-King, and John E. Corrette, of the Amalgamated legal department, is secretary, while C. W. Swinborne, cashier of the Daly bank, is treasurer.

The Barnes-King company recently won a decision in the United States circuit court of appeals in New York against the Assets Collecting company that is of importance to stockholders. About March 7, 1911, the Western Development company began an action in New York against the Barnes-King, claiming as assignee of Arthur P. Heinze, that it was entitled to $97,000 for alleged fraudulent representations by W. H. A. Fischer, a New York broker and agent of the Barnes-King syndicate managers, later president of the company. Heinze claimed that by such misrepresentations, made to him in November, 1906, prior to the organization of the Barnes-King company, he purchased stock of the corporation. The Western Development company assigned its rights to the Assets Collecting company and an attachment was levied on $97,000 of Barnes-King money on deposit in New York. It was under attachment until last January, when the company secured its release by putting up a bond.

The company won the first hearing of the case but the higher court reversed the case and at the second hearing the Heinzes secured a judgment for $75,000. This was appealed by the company and the judgment has been set aside, the opinion of the court, according to counsel, practically disposing of the suit for good and in favor of the Barnes-King company. A remarkable thing about the contention of Heinze is that he purchased the stock under original subscriptions at the same time and under the same terms exactly as all other subscribers got in, and yet by his suit and the verdict he obtained in the lower court, the other deluded subscribers, as stockholders of the Barnes-King company, were called on to reimburse Heinze. The company had no treasury stock at the time of the subscriptions. All stock was issued by the syndicate in payment of the property and $400,000 in cash, which money was put in the treasury by the promotors.

FIRST UNIT TO BE BLOWN IN MONDAY

No. 1 Furnace of Calumet & Arizona's New Smelter Ready.

Bisbee, Ariz., May 31.—An important approaching event is the blowing in of the No. 1 furnace of the new Calumet & Arizona smelter officially fixed for Monday, June 2. Other units will follow in order until the entire new plant is in operation. With the latter attained, Calumet & Arizona will be possessed of largely increased smelter capacity and with its associate organization, Superior & Pittsburg, will be in position to outdo all previous best efforts in mine output and reduction plant copper production. Not only will the new plant mean increased copper output, but it will also mean lower cost price of company copper.

Calumet & Arizona costs per pound of copper have in its entire history been very low, by reason of high grade ore and splendid management at mines and reduction works. The latter have been kept abreast of the best, and so have the mines in matters of skillful handling. Loose management might readily have run Calumet & Arizona costs up despite the richness of its ores and the vastness of its resources, but there has been no loose management and in consequence the company has attained the reputation of producing copper at lower cost than any other producing concern in the country.

The placing of the first unit in commission on Monday will be attended by formal observation, in which directors and officers of the owning companies will participate. These gentlemen are coming West for the occasion and will arrive in Douglas on Sunday. Following the formal ceremonies and inspection of the great new plant on Monday, the visitors will come to Bisbee on Tuesday for inspection of their mining properties. Incidentally they will be entertained on at least one evening, while here in a semi-public manner a reception and smoker is being planned for the Country club on the night of June 3.

It is expected that during this approaching visit the heads of Calumet & Arizona will get together and reach a decision as to several important new mining matters. Directly of interest to the Warren district will probably be a decision regarding Saginaw development work. The Ajos properties will also probably be gone into. It is believed the announcement of the taking over of the Ajos options and of a definite plan of development to be entered upon at an early date will be made.

EAST BUTTE WILL DELAY THE WORK

Will Not Increase Its Smelter Capacity at Present Time.

Butte, Mont., May 31.—It will be a month and possibly longer before the East Butte company commences the work of increasing the capacity of its smelter by the enlargement of the furnaces. The material is about all on hand, but with copper remaining around the present price it is not considered good policy just now to start a work which would mean at least a month when only about one-half the present capacity could be maintained. During April the company produced in round figures 1,400,000 pounds of copper, and unless something unforeseen occurs the output this month will be about the same.

When the enlargement is completed the company will be in a position to produce about 2,000,000 pounds of copper a month, and in order that this output may be secured a large force of men is being employed at development work and more ore is blocked out today than in any period of the history of the company.

RYAN TO ADVANCE LARGE AMOUNT

President of Amalgamated Heavily Interested in Idaho-Continental.

Butte, Mont., May 31.—Negotiations are pending between the officers of the Idaho-Continental Mining company and the representatives of John D. Ryan, president of the Amalgamated Copper company, for an additional loan of $125,000 to complete the wagon road from Porthill, Ida., to the mine, twenty-six miles, and the concentrator and compressor plant, as well as to finance further development of the property, says the Spokesman Review. A meeting of the stockholders has been called for Saturday, June 7, in the offices of President A. Klockmann in the Paulsen building to consummate the deal.

Mr. Ryan, through the International Smelting and Refining company, one of his subsidiary corporations, several month ago advanced the Idaho-Continental $125,000 to finance the improvements mentioned, the engineers in charge of the work having estimated that it would require that amount to complete the projects. Later it was discovered that the original estimate was too low, and a further loan of $75,000 was negotiated, but this also proved insufficient, and is is now proposed to borrow $125,000 more.

If the third loan is made the Idaho-Continental company will be indebted to the International Smelting company for $325,000. Conditional to the further advances the International Smelting company imposes: First, that it shall be permitted to name three members of the directorate, and that a voting trust be created to carry out this agreement, and further that it shall name the manager of the company until the money advanced has been repaid. Second, that it shall have an option on 150,000 shares of the Idaho-Continental company at 50 cents a share, to be taken up and paid for within sixty days after the $325,000 indebtedness has been fully paid.

The Peoples' Choice

THE people's choice in beverages is good beer. The people of Duluth and surrounding territory have re-elected this choice for a period of more than 30 years or ever since Fitger's Beer has been brewed. Constant regard for purity and the peculiar "knack" in brewing that produces that different and more delicious Fitger flavor have been the reasons for the public's unchanging loyalty to

Fitger's Beer

Its clear, sparkling color, its creamy foam, its "different" flavor, delicious and satisfying, have won for it a remarkably loyal patronage. The way to enjoy it is to keep a case in your cellar, so that you and your family can open a bottle and serve it with a meal or as a healthful refreshment, any time the "mood" is on you. Just try it.

IS OPENING GOOD GROUND

Continuous Run of Heavy Copper at Indiana's New Deposit.

Keweenaw Locates Further Copper Ground in the Ashbed Lode.

Houghton, Mich., May 31.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Indiana Mining company is opening further good ground in the drift northeast in the felsite bed on the 600-foot level. This deposit, which was tapped about two weeks ago, now shows a continuous run of heavy copper and is improving under development. The drift which is hugging the foot-wall contact exposes about twenty-five feet of very heavy copper ground. The width of the felsite bed in which this deposit occurs will probably average thirty feet. More than 500 pounds of mass copper was taken out in a single cut made a week ago. The present showing is not the first disclosure of copper ground on this level, a very fair showing of copper being obtained in the crosscut at the point where it enters the lode. Drifts both ways from this point remained in copper ground only a short distance, and thereafter came into a formation badly shattered and altogether without copper until the present deposit was reached. A winze will likely be sunk to the next level below with the idea of keeping the copper ground in sight, as all work below this depth has thus far failed to locate the downward extension of this copper shoot. The shaft has been temporarily bottomed on the 1,400-foot level, where a diamond drill is now seeking the copper deposit which the shaft failed to intersect. Two holes have been drilled, the first without important disclosures and the second with encouraging showings of copper in a felsite formation which, however, is not believed to be identical with the felsite disclosed in the famous Indiana drill hole. A third hole is now being drilled.

Keweenaw.

The Keweenaw has succeeded in locating further copper ground in the Ashbed lode upon which the present exploratory campaign is centered. The latest disclosure was made by Drill Hole No. 42, which entered the Ashbed at a depth of approximately 400 feet and continued in fair average ground for fifteen feet. This is the fifth hole of the present series. Hole No. 41, in the immediate vicinity of this hole, is expected to reach the lode any moment. The company is working eastward along the strike of this lode and plans to cover a distance of approximately five miles in this horizon. Net results to date are very encouraging.

New Baltic.

The New Baltic is now working two drills in the cross-cut west on the 500-foot level. The drift on the copper-bearing amygdaloid which was intersected by the cross-cut 1,500 feet west from the shaft has been temporarily stopped to facilitate cross-cutting. The cross-cut which is designed to open up all of the territory west of the shaft has attained a length of 1,700 feet and can be driven an additional 2,500 feet before reaching the boundary. A portion of this territory was previously diamond drilled, and in one instance yielded a copper showing of some promise in what is generally thought to be an extension of the Arcadian-Isle Royale lode.

South Lake.

The South Lake has completed station work on the 1,400 level and is again sinking in the shaft below this depth. The cross-cut west on the 300 level for the purpose of opening the several lodes in the Evergreen belt previously disclosed in shaft sinking has attained a length of about fifty feet. This work is progressing slowly. The South Lake lodes on the other side of the shaft will be reached by a cross-cut on the 600-foot level as originally planned. Three months time will be consumed in reaching this depth in the shaft and cross-cutting thereafter will probably run along over more than a year, as the distance to the nearest of the four lodes is slightly in excess of 1,000 feet, as nearly as can be told from data available. The company recently disposed of 10,000 shares of treasury stock to interests said to be acting for the General Development company and is now in easy financial condition.

North Lake.

The North Lake is cutting a plat at a depth of 300 feet and will soon be engaged in cross-cutting in a search for workable copper deposits in the several lodes previously located in diamond drilling. The North Lake's exploratory campaign of a few years ago resulted in the disclosure of promising copper ground in several amygdaloid beds and in a felsite formation which may or may not be an extension of the felsite now under development in the Indiana tract. The drill core showings were not nearly so sensational as were those of the Indiana, but the important fact is that North Lake did have encouragement sufficient to warrant development work in several of the formations encountered by the drills. A drill hole sunk not far distant from the point where the shaft is now going down yielded a very fair showing of copper at a depth of 400 feet, and the formation from which this core was taken will now be opened by cross-cut and drifts at no distant date. This area promises well and a mine will likely develop.

Quincy.

The Quincy is having some difficulty in keeping rock shipments up to normal. Unfavorable labor conditions and a natural decrease in production at the No. 7 shaft, which has reached the boundary and to which has been pretty well worked out, is responsible for a decrease of more than 1,000 tons daily. The newer No. 9 shaft is not yet in shape to yield anything more than a small output and about four months will be required to get this shaft working to capacity. The No. 9 shaft has reached a depth of 2,800 feet. No. 8 shaft, which is down below the fifty-seventh level, is now handling most of the rock from the area tributary to No. 9 shaft. Shafts Nos. 7 and 2 are bottomed on the seventy-first level and shaft No. 6 is at the sixty-eighth level. The electric tram on the twentieth level has been extended north of these shafts to the No. 9 shaft.

WHEAT HAS STRONG TONE

Wheat Opens at an Advance Over Thursday's Close.

Flax Quotations Are Erratic in a Very Narrow Market.

Duluth Board of Trade, May 31.—While the market was strong this morning the expected bulge did not come. May wheat closed ⅜c up, July closed ¼c over Thursday but ½c under today's opening, September gained ⅝c over Thursday but lost ⅛c from the opening of this morning, May durum closed ⅛c up and July lost that much. Cash closed at the July figure, oats gained 1c, barley is 1c lower and rye remained unchanged.

This was the closing day for May options and all deliveries have been made. In fact they were practically all made ten days ago. Only 5,000 or 6,000 bu in May options were traded in this morning but the fact that this was the closing day pushed the options up. Most futures in all grains proved weaker.

It was firmly expected that because of the adverse reports from the winter wheat sections of the country there would be a flurry today in wheat and that cereal would show a tendency to rise. The reports are exceedingly bad, but there has been such a persistent effort the last few days to "kill the crop" that caution is beginning to characterize the market. This is the open season for the crop-killer and the anvil chorus is beginning to tune up. The advance notices are coming in from the spring wheat country as well as from the winter wheat sections, and pretty soon, it is expected, on paper, there will be no crop at all.

May wheat took a little bulge right after the market started in for the day and did not lose ground. July opened ⅜c up but soon began to fall off, and September, which opened ⅝c up, also started down during the first hour of trading. Both durum options were strong from the beginning of the session.

Flax Unsteady.

The flax market was in a rather vacillating mood this morning and operations were narrow. May began business at an increase of ¼c and kept advancing, closing 1⅛c over Thursday's close. July opened unchanged, increased to ⅛@⅜c up and closed at a loss of ⅛c. September gained ¼c net for the day and October, which opened unchanged, closed the same way.

MARKET GOSSIP.

Broomhall cables that the official report of the wheat crop in India is that it will amount to 360,840,000 bu, as compared with 373,104,000 bu last year.

Argentine shipments: Wheat, 1,384,000 bu against 2,816,000 bu last week and 2,296,000 bu last year. Oats, 2,320,000 bu; last week, 1,840,000 bu; last year, 1,625,000 bu. Corn, 5,899,000 bu; last week, 4,191,000 bu; last year, 3,757,000 bu.

Argentine visible supply: Wheat, 1,120,000 bu; last week, 2,240,000 bu; last year, 3,360,000 bu; two years ago, 2,464,000 bu. Corn 7,055,000 bu; last week, 6,715,000 bu; last year, 6,724,000 bu; two years ago, 587,000 bu.

Broomhall estimates the world's wheat shipments for the week, exclusive of North America, at 7,200,000 bu, against 9,568,000 last week. Of this Europe will take 6,400,000 bu.

Arrivals in the United Kingdom about 5,200,000 bu; total shipments last week, 16,864,000 bu; last year, 9,968,000 bu.

Broomhall predicts moderate changes on passage.

India—Wheat shipments, 2,344,000 bu; estimated next week, 2,176,000 bu.

Australian wheat shipments, 1,480,000 bu.

Expert John Inglis wired from Hutchinson, Kan., yesterday:

"East part of Stafford and nearly all of Reno county fair stand and heigh; but blistering temperature has forced wheat from the milk to the dough. Impossible to say extent of the damage or how far this premature ripening will reduce crop."

The Modern Miller of St. Louis, in its current issue, has this to say concerning crop conditions:

"Rains have fallen in the dry areas of the soft winter wheat belt and have materially benefited the condition of the crop. Because of the deterioration of the crop on account of dry and hot weather many localities do not promise much more than a normal yield. In Southeastern Kansas, parts of Oklahoma and Southwestern Missouri, the prolonged drouth has caused the plant to show thin growth and sickly color but in the greater part of the hard winter wheat region the promise is for an average out-turn. In parts of Indiana and Illinois the crop is heading short. Cutting of wheat begins in Texas the first week in June with indications that the quality will be fine. In the other states the harvest will begin June 15."

The Omaha World-Herald has the following telegram from Hastings, Neb.:

"The winter wheat crop is burning up for want of moisture and several fields are already so dry that the blades rattle and in a few days more many of them will be so dead they will burn if there is much hot wind and sun without rain."

• • •

H. Sorenson wires from Crosby, N. D.: Estimate wheat acreage here 25 per cent less than last year and 25 per cent of wheat seeded is disced in. Weeds getting start of wheat on this land. Getting dry here; another week and we will suffer without rain. Flax acreage here 35 per cent less than last year.

Clement Curtis wires: Our correspondent in Western Kansas says only 25 per cent of crop is possible under the best conditions. Alva, Okla., reports conditions in the northwest section of the state very bad with 25 per cent condition now.

CHICAGO MARKET.

Wheat Prices Soar on Account of Southwest Weather.

Chicago, May 31.—Wheat soared today because of continued dry, hot weather Southwest. Besides, there was a forecast of smaller world shipments. It was also offially announced that the wheat crop of India was considerably smaller than last year. Opening prices were ½ to ⅞c higher. July started at 92⅜c to 92⅝c, a gain of ⅝ to ⅞c and seemed inclined to hold within that range.

Profit-taking on the part of holders brought about a setback. The close, however, was steady with July ½c net higher at 92¼c.

Corn showed firmness in sympathy with wheat. July opened ⅛c to ¼c up at 57⅜c to 57½c and rose to 57⅝@57¾c.

The market, though not active, displayed only slight tendency to react. The close was steady with July ¼c net higher at 57½c.

In oats the trade leaned decidedly to the buying side. July, which at the outset was ¼c to ⅝c higher at 38¾c to 38⅞c, steadied at 38¾c.

An advance at the yards was responsible for an upturn all around in provisions. First sales were unchanged to 10c above including September options as follows:

Pork, $19.85 to $19.87½; lard, $11.22½; ribs, $11.40@11.42½.

MINNEAPOLIS MARKET.

Wheat Is Strong and Narrow and New Highs Are Made.

Minneapolis, Minn., May 31.—Wheat was strong and narrow today. Prices sold to new highs for respective options on this crop. Strength was due largely to bullish crop reports from the Southwest. Minneapolis May expired naturally. Deliveries for the month were 1,700,000 bu, much lighter than expected. May closed ⅛o higher than Thursday, July ¼@⅜c higher and September ⅜@½c higher. Local elevator stocks decreased 80,000 bu for one day. Cash wheat was quiet. No. 1 northern sold ⅛@2c above the July contract.

May opened 91¼c, high 91⅝c, low 90⅜c, closed 90⅞c; July opened 92¼@92⅜c, high 92½c, low 91⅝c, closed 91⅞@92c; September opened 93⅜@93¾c, high 93¾c, low 93@93⅛c, closed 93¼@93¼c.

Closing cash: No. 1 hard, 94½c; No. 1 northern, 93@94c; to arrive, 93@93¼c; choice to arrive, 94c; No. 2 northern, 91@92c; No. 2 hard, Montana, 93@94c; No. 3 wheat, 89@90c. No. 3 yellow corn, 58@59c; No. 3 white oats, 38@38½c; No. 2 rye, 55@58c.

BUILDERS KEPT BUSY

Architects and Contractors Report Good Volume of Business.

New Six Story Warehouse for Wholesale Paper Company.

Architects and builders advise that the past week has been a fairly active one in building circles. The building permits, which are the best barometer of what the volume of new construction actually is, show that twenty-six permits were taken out for work to cost $62,220.

The largest permit of the week was issued to William F. Peet & Son for the reconstruction of the Peyton Paper company building on West Michigan street, which was gutted by fire early this year. The building will be reconstructed along fireproof lines and will be six stories in height. The permit was issued for $23,000.

In building circles the best of feeling seems to prevail and all who are connected with the building trades are of an optimistic frame of mind. The architects report that they have on their tables a number of good sized projects, which are expected to materialize within a short time.

Labor is scarce for construction work, but the shortage is not so pronounced that it is occasioning any consternation among contractors. The labor market is undisturbed by strikes and practically all differences between union workmen and their employers have been satisfactorily adjusted, as far as construction work is concerned.

The contract for a two-story brick hotel building for the Duluth Brewing & Malting company of this city at Moose Lake, Minn., was let this week to L. J. Klippen of this city by Wangenstein & Gilluison, local architects. The building will cost in the neighborhood of $20,000. It will have twenty-five rooms.

Bids are being received by the same architects for a two-story duplex brick flat building to be built for O. Olsen at Eighteenth avenue east and Lingwall street. The contract will be awarded next week. The cost will be in the neighborhood of $8,000.

* * *

Plans have been prepared in the office of Halstead & Sullivan, architects, for a two-story brick store and office building to be built at Crosby, Minn., for Stein & O'Rourke. The contract will be let early next week.

The same architects will open bids next week on the New Duluth Catholic church, which will cost in the neighborhood of $10,000. The plans are out for figures now. The edifice will be of brick construction.

* * *

Architect Anthony Puck this week gave up his offices on the sixth floor of the Lyceum building and moved to larger quarters in the Torrey building. He will occupy a suite of rooms numbered 615, 616 and 617.

TRADING CONTINUES BRISK IN LOCAL REALTY MARKET

In Spite of Bad Weather Volume of Transfers Is Heavy.

Most Interest Being Shown at Gary and Steel Plant Vicinity.

WEEKLY REALTY RESUME.

Monday	11	$ 7,050.27
Tuesday	17	13,875.00
Wednesday	54	30,740.00
Thursday	43	20,598.33

Saturday	27	4,810.00
Total	152	$77,082.60

In spite of unsettled weather conditions and its depressing influence on the realty market and the lull along all business lines occasioned by a holiday, the past week witnessed a good active business in most of the real estate offices. A heavy volume of transfers passed through this week indicating that considerable property is changing hands. Trading in residence property continues brisk and there are signs of an awakening of interest in business frontages according to some of the realty agents, who advise that they have deals pending.

The movement of realty at Gary seems to hold the greatest attention at the present time. The steady influx of new citizens and investors in that portion of the city and the prospects for the greatest building activity known in Duluth which will soon be realized, have put new life into the real estate business there and things are reported to be booming. A. W. Kuehnow, a heavily interested operator, this week advises the sale of thirty-one lots at Gary. Among that number were eleven business sites on Commonwealth avenue which were purchased by investors from Gary, Ind. A number of local investors have also become deeply interested recently at Gary and quite a number of sales to Duluth people were effected this week, according to Mr. Kuehnow.

A local investor this week purchased a Commonwealth avenue frontage at Gary with the view of improving the property with a modern hotel building this year. It is also reported that a local druggist has taken an option on another site and that it is his intention to secure a site for a branch drug store there this summer.

The rains of the past week have been a serious handicap to real estate men who have lots to sell in the vicinity of the steel plant. During the latter part of the week the roads were flooded and were impassable and one day all communication except by water was cut off.

Ironton-Spirit Lake property, which adjoins the holdings of the steel corporation to the east has been showing considerable activity. A number of lots have been sold there since the announcement that in a tract adjoining it, the steel corporation proposed to erect a model town at a cost of approximately $1,800,000. George E. Lynott, sales manager of the Alliance Real Estate company, advises four sales in this division during the past week and declares that prospects are bright for an active season ahead. He also reports for the same firm, the sale of three acre-tracts at Exeter farms.

One of the most noteworthy transactions of the week, as far as residence property is concerned, was the transfer of practically a half block in Harrison's division to James Ireland from various owners.

The property fronts on Twenty-seventh avenue east and half a block west on East Second and Third streets. The deeds put on record this week show the following transfers in connection with the deal:

From Sofia Smith a frontage of 100 feet on the lower side of Third street, two lots, $3,900.

From John A. Coke, one lot fronting fifty feet on the upper side of Second street, $1,100.

From the Duluth Banking company, fifty-foot lot at the northwest corner of Twenty-seventh avenue east and Second street, $1,400.

INVESTMENT TALK!

"Buy Where the Property Must Increase in Value," and "Buy When It Is For the Interest of the SELLER to Have That Property Grow."

THE second of these two rules is worthy of your most careful consideration. GROWTH is what INCREASES values! The seller's interest in the property, or his investment in adjoining property, influences his activities in its GROWTH. My additions are growing; my home is there; I live there the year around. I own adjoining property to that I now offer for sale, and unless my present Additions GROW I cannot hope to enjoy increased VALUES upon my home property (10 acres) or upon my adjoining property. This is the reason Colman's Additions are known as

"THE FASTEST GROWING ADDITIONS IN DULUTH"

If you are going to invest, buy where there is GROWTH good and substantial, and INCREASED VALUES and GOOD PROFITS are the result! This is the A B C of INVESTMENT.

Be not misled by statements as to what Addition MAY grow, but come out and look over ONE that HAS grown, IS growing and WILL CONTINUE to grow!

Two years ago this week the FIRST family moved into my Addition; within the past three weeks NINE new families have located there. A new adjoins my Addition. We have block after block of city water and gas mains installed, both telephones, electric lights, with sewer under construction. Over 70 homes, with large bountiful gardens! Over public and private, within the past two years upon the property. I am still offering beautiful building lots, with city water and gas, electric lights, telephone, sidewalks and graded streets at prices ranging from $175.00 to $250.00 each (a few a bit higher). Lots without city water and gas, $150.00 to $200.00 each; any of these upon a NO INTEREST, easy payment contract, cash—$5.00 to $10.00 down and the balance—$6.00 to $10.00 per month. NO INTEREST.

$38,000.00 GRADE SCHOOL NOW UNDER CONSTRUCTION

$150,000 ACTUALLY SPENT IN IMPROVEMENTS

Come out—Look the property over—BE CONVINCED! Take Woodland car, get off at Wiuona street, walk two blocks west, and you will be shown the property. Make after supper appointments.

REAL ESTATE AGENT SHOULD BE DIPLOMAT AND PROPHET

"The handling of real estate," says J. C. Perry, a writer in the American Land and Title Register, "is not only one of the oldest but also one of the most responsible of vocations.

"Upon the character of the real estate operations in any locality depend, in a large measure, the growth and prosperity of other lines of business and of the community itself," he writes.

"If the real estate operations are conducted upon intelligent, honest and progressive lines a strength and stability is imparted to other lines of business and much is accomplished for the permanent general prosperity.

"If, on the other hand, the real estate business falls to the conduct of irresponsible boomers, whose only ambition is to make a few commissions or unload some property at inflated prices, with no regard for permanent results, then the development of that locality is seriously handicapped.

Must Be Well Trained.

"To conduct business with success for himself and clients requires of the agent a thorough knowledge of the past history, present conditions and future prospects of the locality in which he operates.

"He must possess an educated judgment that will weight with unerring accuracy the prospective changes in the neighborhood and their effect upon land values. The building of a factory or a street railway line, the dedication of a park or some similar improvement may greatly enhance the value of property, while changes of an undesirable character may have a reverse effect.

"The real estate agent should be something of a diplomat and a prophet, able to foresee these changes and to shape his own and his clients' investments accordingly.

Anyone Can Be Agent.

"The man who assumes to place himself before the public as a real estate agent and thus invites its confidence and patronage is morally bound to familiarize himself with every detail of the business and keep in touch with the most up-to-date methods and plans of handling property.

"The law neglects to specify the qualifications of a real estate agent. It compels the physician and the attorney to pass a satisfactory examination before permitting them to practice their profession, but anyone, however incompetent, may pose as a real estate agent and undertake the most important transactions, requiring the most thorough knowledge of values and of the intricate questions of title, and no law can be invoked for the protection of his clients.

Placed Upon Honor.

"Under these circumstances the real estate agent is placed solely upon his honor, and, if he is not entirely devoid of that article, he will improve every opportunity to master all branches of the business and keep fully abreast of the times in all that pertains to his own and his clients' interests.

"No business in the world requires more careful and constant attention. Changes are always at hand. The successful dealer must always be on the alert to take advantage of every new feature of the market and to participate in the changes, either for better or for worse, that may occur."

THE GOLDEN STORY OF A CHICAGO LOT

In June, 1835, two years before Chicago robed itself with a "city mantle," lot 8 in block 16 of the original town, with an area 80 by 150 feet, now known as the northwest corner of West Lake and North State streets, was sold for $420, says the Chicago Record-Herald. Two months later a sale of the same lot brought $700. Today the property is subdivided among five owners. In May, 1901, the corner lot, having an area of 20 by 80 feet, was bought by the late Otto Young from C. D. Irwin for $126,000. In March of last year the north 60 feet of the original lot was sold by Mrs. Louise De Koven Bowen to the estate of Louis E. Laflin for $195,000. In April, 1912, Mrs. Bowen sold to Edward G. Pauling 20 by 80 feet on West Lake street, 40 feet west of North State street, for $55,000. Considering both land and improvements the board of review gives the original lot a present value of approximately $470,000.

"SWAT THE FLY" CAMPAIGN STARTED

Health Department Trying to Wipe Out Their Breeding Places.

The health department has started its "swat and trap the fly" campaign.

Large posters advising the public of the best methods of exterminating the disease-carrying pests are being placed throughout the city.

When the monthly bulletin is issued for May considerable attention will be paid to the fly. The danger to which they expose the community will be amplified and the precautions which should be taken will be dwelt upon at some length.

That filth is the breeding place of the germ-carriers will be emphasized again, as it has been in the past. Open garbage cans, manure piles, rubbish and low wet places, the fouler the more prolific, are the agencies which promote the welfare of flies and promulgate them. They lay thousands of eggs, which hatch rapidly. Every fly killed means that hundreds of thousands of them will never be born.

With the arrival of warm weather the fly becomes more menacing. The filth and the sun become their incubators. It was not only to improve Duluth's appearance that the clean-up activities of the health department were instituted. The sanitary campaign not only washes the face of the city, but does much to safeguard the health of the community, especially as it eliminates the breeding places of the flies.

CAT WITH HARELIP WHISTLES LIKE BOY.

Springfield, Mass., May 30.—Stanislaus Czynszky of Prospect avenue, West Springfield, is the owner of a cat with a harelip, which whistles with the facility of a schoolboy, but cannot mew or, at least, never has mewed.

Czynszky is inclined to believe that no animal in its normal state of mind would whistle, but is loath to do away with the cat, which, he says, attracts more attention than any other member of the family and is regarded as a musical prodigy.

Neighbors have suggested that the cat would prove a treasure to a maker of catgut violin strings.

MAY PAY BILLS AT STATIONS

Water and Light Department Establishes Branches at Various Points.

No Change Made in Time of Payment to Secure Discount.

Commissioner Merritt of the public utilities division will put his plan of having branch pay stations of the water and light department through the city into operation June 1.

The time for payment has not been spread throughout the month, but will probably be done later. That feature requires considerable study and much adjusting of the bookkeeping, which will be worked out and adopted if it seems feasible.

For the present the time of payment of water and gas bills will remain as it has been in the past. Under the rule all bills must be paid on or before the twelfth of each month if the discount is to be secured. All bills unpaid after the twelfth must be paid at the downtown office, at which all adjustments must be sought, no branch station being authorized to make any changes in the bills as sent out from the main office.

The following are the places which have been designated as branch pay stations:

Spencer's Pharmacy, New Duluth.
Spencer's Pharmacy, West Duluth.
John J. Moe & Sons, department store, 2102-2108 West Superior street.
George A. Gray & Co., 117-119 West Superior street.
Weinman's Pharmacy, 1502 East Superior street.
E. Strange, Grocery store, 4701 McCulloch street.
Lester Park Pharmacy, Sixtieth avenue east and Superior street.
Hunter's Park Grocery, drug department.
John Logan, grocery, 932 East Fourth street.

PRICE MUST BE MADE PUBLIC

New Law in Pennsylvania May Be Copied Elsewhere.

As a result of a bill which recently passed the Pennsylvania legislature, it is made compulsory that all deeds to the sale of real estate in Philadelphia bear the exact amount of the purchase price.

A campaign looking forward to the furtherance of this practice was recently started by the National Real Estate Journal. As a part of the ethics of the real estate profession it is urged that it be adopted in other localities and that it be made compulsory to state the correct considerations in realty transactions.

The Pennsylvania act was passed through the efforts of the taxing board.

GOING AFTER ORE TONNAGE

Soo Road Appoints Special Agent in Duluth to Watch Business.

"Baby Range" Will Ship 1,000,000 Tons This Season.

The Soo Line has made a new move in the sharp competition for ore tonnage on the Cuyuna range by the appointment of O. W. Johnstone, now living at Ironwood, Mich., to be special agent at Duluth. Mr. Johnstone will keep in touch with mining operations on the Gogebic and Cuyuna ranges in the interest of Soo Line tonnage.

Ever since the Cuyuna was opened, it has been a battle ground for tonnage, with the Soo and the Northern Pacific as the competing lines. The Soo gained an advantage by the early erection of its ore docks at Superior, but the Northern Pacific with its new docks will make the competition on the new range even keener.

"About 1,000,000 tons of ore will be shipped over the Soo Line this season," said Mr. Johnstone today. "That isn't so bad for a baby range. As a matter of fact the ore business is growing to such proportions on the Cuyuna that it was necessary for the Soo Line to have an agent especially to look after that business. Development is going on rapidly and the shipment of a million tons this year will prove that the Cuyuna has long passed the experimental stage and has arrived as a permanent factor in the iron ore wealth of Minnesota."

Mr. Johnstone is no stranger to mining men of Duluth as his connection with the ore business on the Gogebic range has brought him into close contact with Duluth people interested there. He was superintendent of the Chicago division of the Soo line when the line from Owen, Wis., to Duluth and Superior was constructed.

Mr. Johnstone's family will arrive from Ironwood, Mich., Monday and they will make their home at 1616 East Superior street.

FIGHT TO CONTROL FRISCO ROAD BREWING

Speyer & Co. Will Seek Removal of One of the Receivers.

New York, May 31.—The members of the international banking firm of Speyer & Co. held a conference today with New York lawyers who will cooperate with Frederick W. Lehmann of St. Louis, as counsel, to determine a plan of action in a fight to bring about the dismissal of at least one of the receivers appointed for the St. Louis & San Francisco railroad, and the substitution of a man to represent the interests of the bondholders. Mr. Lehmann is expected here early next week and will soon return to St. Louis where the receivers now in charge of the road were appointed, and that legal proceedings would be begun next week.

James Speyer has cancelled an intended trip to Europe, and will remain here to look after the interests of the holders of the $65,000,000 'Frisco bonds which Speyer & Co. floated, and for whom it is said, on behalf of the firm, it feels a responsibility.

French Will Act.

Dispatches from Paris say that French investors in the bonds are very indignant that the receivers should have been appointed without consulting the bondholders of the road, and propose to send representatives to this country to follow the reorganization proceedings.

The fact that Speyer & Co. issued a statement saying that they were "not consulted" in the appointment of the receivers, both of whom are officials of the road, has brought about what is characterized in Wall Street as open warfare between the firm and B. F. Yoakum, president of the road, and it is predicted that the coming legal contest will amount virtually to a fight to control the 'Frisco.

Mr. Yoakum is quoted as saying that "the securities of the company are all safe. The stock will be worth more than ever. It will only take a little time to demonstrate this."

CARLTON IS NOW VERY BUSY PLACE

Northern Pacific Construction Work Brings Many Laborers to Village.

Carlton, Minn., May 31.—(Special to The Herald.)—The construction of the new Northern Pacific yards here has commenced. Two steam shovels are tearing away the dirt which is being dumped into Otter creek for a fill. Camps have also been established and about 100 men are employed. It is reported that two more shovels will be installed shortly and the work of grading the new yards and right-of-way will now go ahead rapidly.

The Libby-Nelson company of Minneapolis, which secured the contract for the construction of the roundhouse and other buildings, is getting in readiness for commencing work, and already supplies are being unloaded in the yards, and they will be at actual work in a few days.

About 200 Employed.

At least 200 men are now engaged in the different kinds of railroad work, and when it gets into full swing, the number will be easily doubled. The signal company has completed the construction of its warehouse here and the crews are now out on the road engaged in the construction of the block signal system and a crew is also kept here to unload supplies that are arriving daily.

The Great Northern Railway company is also doing a little work here. A sidetrack is being put in in the east part of town, and some fifty men are engaged in this work, and also the bridge crew is stationed here, putting in cement culverts and bridges all along the line.

GREAT NORTHERN OFFICIAL HERE.

H. A. Jackson, assistant general traffic manager of the Great Northern railroad, who began his railroad work in Duluth sixteen years ago with the Great Northern paid his first visit to the Mesaba range since leaving this section Thursday. He met many old Duluth friends here Thursday evening while returning to St. Paul. Mr. Jackson said that he found many wonderful changes in the development of the Mesaba range since the time he used to visit that section as an ordinary freight solicitor sixteen years ago.

TRY TO SETTLE ERIE'S TROUBLE.

New York, May 31.—In a final effort to bring about a settlement of the differences between the Erie railroad and its telegraphers, who have demanded higher pay and threaten to strike, H. B. Perham, president of the Order of Railway Telegraphers, will come here Monday and seek a conference with the company officials. Erie officials have declined to confer with Vice President Newman of the telegraphers' organization, on the ground that he was not an Erie employe. No action will be taken by the men, it was said, until it develops whether the representatives of the road are willing to meet President Perham.

MOVEMENT VERY LIGHT

Little Grain Is Going Forward From Duluth at Present.

Stocks Here Increasing Owing to Quiet Market in East.

The very slight movement of grain out of Duluth is proving disconcerting to vessel owners and agents. The rate has remained at 2 cents for the past ten days, but still there is virtually no demand for boats. A fortnight ago grain was being sent down the lakes in considerable quatities at a 2-cent and a quarter rate, but even the lower figure has proved no inducement to shippers.

As a matter of fact the East furnishes the real basis of the stagnation. Eastern millers don't appear a bit anxious to buy wheat at the present price which is somewhat higher than a month ago and until their own business actually demands it, little buying is expected. Of course there has been some grain shipped but chiefly in small lots.

At the opening of navigation, 35,000,000 bushels of grain were in storage here, in elevators and afloat. Vessels moving from here at that time carried big loads and cut the supply on hand to about 16,000,000 bushels. Since that time there has been little shipping. In the meantime from 75 to 100 cars of grain are arriving here daily.

The limit of elevator capacity won't be reached for a long time, however. Ten millilon bushels can be handled nicely today, but vessel men hope that long before that time, a real down-the-lakes grain movement will have begun.

Fifty thousand dollars has been appropriated by the Canadian government for the dredging of Port Dover harbor at the lower end of Lake Erie. Modern docks will be erected at the port, which today is scarcely nothing more than a fishing village. Erection of modern docks with up-to-date loading devices will cost $300,000 and when these are finished Port Dover is expected to be an active shipping point.

The steamer E. W. Oglebay has been undergoing repairs in a dry dock at Buffalo. She received half a dozen new plates.

* * *

The Crosby Transportation company, a new steamship concern, will inaugurate a new service between Buffalo and Lake Michigan ports this summer, beginning June 24. The Minnesota, a steel vessel of 3,000 tons, built two years ago, will be used for the weekly passenger service between Buffalo and Chicago, Milwaukee and Mackinac island.

Several plates were removed from the steamer Charles R. Van Hise, which is in drydock at Toledo. New plates will replace them. The steamer went aground on Bois Blanc island last week.

BOTTLE BRINGS NOTE.

Story of Shipwreck In Lake Huron Doubted In Chicago.

Chicago, May 31.—J. A. Faesler, 21 years old, turned over to the police today a bottle which he said he found in the lake at East Chicago avenue. The bottle contained a note purporting to have been written by the members of the crew of a shipwrecked boat. It read as follows:

"God help us! We are wrecked on an island in Lake Huron, near Lake Michigan. We were wrecked in a fog. We have very little provisions.—Captain of the Alice."

Capt. Charles Carland of the Chicago life saving station, discredited the theory that the note had been written by a victim of a shipwreck. He said he knew of only two boats of the name of "Alice" plying the lakes, a schooner which he saw a day or two ago, and a large yacht which is moored in the Chicago river.

KNOW ALL MEN BY THESE PRESENTS, That, we, the undersigned, whose names are hereto subscribed, desiring to form a corporation for the purpose of carrying on the mechanical business of mining and reducing ores and minerals, do hereby associate ourselves together and agree to be and become a corporation under and by virtue of the appropriate provisions of Chapter 58 of the Revised Laws of Minnesota of 1905, and of the several acts amendatory thereof and supplemental thereto, and to that end and for that purpose, we do hereby agree to, adopt and sign the following Articles of Incorporation and Certificate, that is to say:

ARTICLE I.

The name of the corporation shall be MISSION IRON COMPANY.

The general nature of the business of the corporation, and the objects and purposes for which it is formed, are and shall be the mining, smelting, reducing, refining and working of iron ores and other minerals, and the manufacture of iron, steel, copper and other metals.

The principal place of transacting the business of the corporation shall be in the city of Duluth, Minnesota, but the corporation may have offices and transact business in such other states of the United States as its Board of Directors shall, from time to time, designate.

ARTICLE II.

The time of commencement of the corporation shall be the second day of June, A. D. 1913, and the period of its continuance and duration shall be thirty years, and the corporation may be renewed from time to time for further periods, each of thirty years.

ARTICLE III.

The names and places of residence of the persons forming the corporation are as follows:

Marcus B. Cullum, Duluth, Minnesota.
Albert C. Hubbell, Duluth, Minnesota.
Peter C. Ouellette, Duluth, Minnesota.

ARTICLE IV.

The government of the corporation and the management of its affairs shall be vested in a Board of three Directors, who shall be stockholders of the corporation.

The members of the Board of Directors shall be elected at the annual meeting of the stockholders of the corporation, or at any adjournment thereof, for the period of one year and until their successors are elected and qualified.

The first Board of Directors of the corporation shall consist of Marcus B. Cullum, Albert C. Hubbell, and Peter C. Ouellette, and they shall hold office until the first annual meeting of the stockholders of the corporation as provided for in this Article and until their successors are elected and qualified.

The first meeting of the incorporators and of the Board of Directors shall be held, without any notice thereof, at No. 1400 in the Alworth Building, in Duluth, Minnesota, on the 3rd day of June, 1913, at ten and ten thirty o'clock in the forenoon thereof, respectively.

The first annual meeting of the stockholders of the corporation shall be held, without any notice thereof, at its office in Duluth, Minnesota, on June 1, 1914, at the hour of twelve o'clock noon.

Thereafter, without requirement of further notice than is herein given, the annual meeting of the stockholders of the corporation shall be held at its office in Duluth, Minnesota, on the first Monday in June in each year, at the hour of twelve o'clock noon.

The Board of Directors shall hold, without any notice thereof, its first meeting for the year immediately after the election of the Directors at said annual meeting, or at any adjournment thereof. At said meetings the Board of Directors shall elect from its own number a President and a Vice President, and shall also elect a Secretary and a Treasurer, who need not be members of the Board of Directors, all of whom shall constitute the officers of the corporation and shall hold office for one year and until their successors have been elected and qualified.

The offices of Vice President and of Treasurer, or of Secretary and of Treasurer, may be held by the same person.

Any vacancies in the Board of Directors or in any of said offices may be filled by the Board of Directors for the unexpired term.

The Board of Directors is invested with complete and unrestricted authority in the management of the affairs of the corporation, and is authorized to exercise for such purpose, as the general agent of the corporation, its entire corporate authority.

Until the first election of officers by the Board of Directors immediately following the first annual meeting of the stockholders of the corporation, to be held in June, 1914, the officers of the corporation shall be as follows: Marcus B. Cullum shall be the President, Albert C. Hubbell shall be the Vice President, and Peter C. Ouellette shall be the Secretary and the Treasurer.

ARTICLE V.

The amount of the capital stock of the corporation shall be Two Hundred Thousand Dollars ($200,000.00), which shall be divided into two hundred thousand (200,000) shares of the par value of One Dollar ($1.00) each. Said capital stock shall be paid in from time to time as called for by the Board of Directors, and such stock, or any part thereof, may be paid for in cash at par or by services or property of the actual value of the stock so paid for.

ARTICLE VI.

The highest amount of indebtedness or liability to which the corporation shall at any time be subject shall be Two Hundred Thousand Dollars ($200,000.00).

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, We, the undersigned, have hereunto set our hands and seals, in triplicate, at Duluth, Minnesota, this 27th day of May, A. D. 1913.

FARM AND FRUIT LANDS.

WHY FORTY FAMILIES HAVE MOVED INTO THE PORT WING DISTRICT SINCE JAN. 1, 1913.

$1 PER ACRE DOWN—$1 PER ACRE PER MONTH.

Port Wing is the heart of the frost-proof fruit belt of the Bayfield peninsula. The government report shows that this district has 153 growing days between killing frosts, which is 56 more growing days than they have at Missoula, Mont., the heart of the Montana fruit belt district. Just think of that, and this only 35 miles from Duluth and Superior.

There are a number of people who would like to have farms near the Head of the Lakes, which is one of the best markets for fruit and produce in America, but they fear to buy in Northern Minnesota and part of Northern Wisconsin, owing to the fact that they are apt to have a killing frost in midsummer. This never occurs at Port Wing. Call at our office and get a copy of the government report showing these wonderful frost-proof conditions at Port Wing.

Fruit-growing and general farming is not an experiment at Port Wing. They are now raising as fine apples and small fruits as it is possible to raise, and the difference in freight alone between the Pacific slope valleys and the frost-proof lands near Port Wing makes a nice profit for any grower. This difference amounts to about 50 cents a box on apples.

There is only a limited amount of land on the Bayfield peninsula which lies in the frost-proof district, and for this reason prices are advancing and the land is being taken up very quickly by the actual settlers.

H. J. Fay, one of the Fay brothers of New Richmond, Wis., who are noted as among the most expert strawberry and small fruit growers in the country, has bought a farm at Port Wing. After carefully investigating the whole situation, he is now developing a farm and will make Port Wing his future home. He did not make this move until he had satisfied himself without a doubt that this district was superior for the raising of small fruits, marketing, etc., to any district in the United States. He will gladly answer any correspondence relative to the Port Wing district. Write him.

The soil is a mixed clay loam, free from stone, and the land is easily cleared. There is excellent trout fishing and the best of hunting in this district. We can sell 10 acres of the best land in this district at $1 per acre down and $1 per acre per month. This land is located close to the village of Port Wing, and every foot is level, smooth land.

We have but a few of these 10-acre pieces left, and it will be necessary for you to act quickly if you wish one of these pieces.

We have a highly improved 5-acre tract 1½ miles from the end of the Woodland car line, with a good 4-room house and a good chicken coop, which can be bought very reasonably if taken at once. The owner is going to move to Port Wing. A spring creek runs through the corner of this land. There is a large barn and good house, and a chicken coop 100 feet long, all sealed. There is also an excellent well on this place.

We have another 5-acre tract 2 miles from the end of the Woodland car line, with a good 4-room house and a good chicken coop, which can be bought very reasonable. This place is but a couple of blocks from the new Arnold school.

BARGAIN! BARGAIN!

213 acres that must be sold immediately at a sacrifice, 1¾ miles from Alborn, Minn., ¾ mile from Turney, where there is a sawmill. The land is the best in that locality, rich clay loam and black loam soil, hardly any stone; nice and level; lot of good timber, birch, maple, spruce and tamarack. The timber will more than pay for the land. Price only $2,500; $1,000 cash, balance to suit. Part of the land is on a beautiful lake. This is the greatest bargain in land, considering location, quality of land and amount of timber. Must be sold quick.

J. LARSON,

POULTRY AND EGGS.

YOUR EGGS, CHICKS AND BREEDING STOCK WANTED.
Hundreds of people in Duluth and vicinity who are interested in poultry raising will buy eggs, chicks, breeding stock, incubators and feed during the present season. Somebody among this vast multitude wants what you have for sale. You can reach these buyers by inserting an ad in these "want" ad columns.
The Duluth Herald has the greatest circulation of any newspaper in Minnesota, outside of the Twin Cities.
RATES ARE LOWEST.
The charges for classified advertising in The Duluth Herald are less per thousand circulation than those of any other newspaper in Minnesota.
A "want" ad man will be pleased to call on you and give estimates as to how much space your ad should occupy and the cost.

FOR SALE
"FAULTLESS" HOUDANS.
This strain has been egg-bred from trapnest records since April, 1890. I have bred them 21 years for great layers and 12 years for large-size chalk-white eggs. These fowls are extremely hardy, have neither comb nor wattle to freeze, and are the best all-winter layers in open-front coops. "Faultless" strain Houdans have won every blue ribbon at New York, Boston, Chicago and Philadelphia shows for past six years. Eggs and stock sold on honor. Send 10 cents for the largest illustrated poultry catalogue ever issued; it tells you how to breed these fowls, which average 250 eggs a year apiece; it tells you how to net $3,000 a year from 100 hens. E. F. McAVOY, secretary Houdan club, Cambridge, N. Y.

One Cent a Word Each Insertion. No Advertisement Less Than 15 Cents.

HELP WANTED—MALE. (Continued.)

IF YOU DON'T LIKE YOUR WORK read this advertisement clear through. It will tell you the unusual opportunities open to men who enter the U. S. navy before July 1.

IF YOU BELONG TO THE NAVY, YOU can't lose your position, as long as you behave yourself.

YOUR PAY DAY IS REGULAR—IN good times or bad. No lay-offs. No strikes.

YOU ALWAYS GET THINGS TO EAT and plenty of them—whether "cost of living" is high or low.

YOU HAVE GOOD COMFORTABLE clothes, and a clean comfortable bed.

IF SICK, YOU HAVE THE BEST medical care free. If disabled, you get a pension. If you work thirty years in the navy, you can retire with three-quarters pay for life.

THE WORK ISN'T HARD. THE PAY is excellent—averaging $35 a month. At the end of the month you have almost all the $35 left, for the navy pays practically all your living expenses. Do you have $35 left each month now?

YOU HAVE FINE CHANCES OF PROmotion to chief petty officer at $77 a month (base pay) or to warrant officer at $2,400 a year; and chances to add to your monthly pay by special work.

SOME MEN SAVE ENOUGH MONEY in the navy to start in business for themselves after several four-year enlistments. Others retire at the end of thirty years with small fortunes in savings, besides their three-quarters pay.

THE NAVY'S PHYSICAL TRAINING makes you strong, erect, athletic, and a good fighter in life's great game.

THE NAVY EDUCATES YOU—NOT only by instruction and training, but by showing you something of the world. Some of the young men enlisting now will go on a great foreign cruise next winter through the most interesting ports of the world, with plenty of shore leave to see the sights. Others will be in the first ships to go through the Panama canal.

SOME WILL BE TAUGHT TRADES—the navy uses over fifty different special trades.

CALL AT NAVY RECRUITING STAtion, Postoffice Building, Duluth, Minn., and have a private talk with the officers and men there. You'll be glad you met them. And they'll be glad to tell you everything about the navy—even if you don't join. They won't urge you.

MAKE YOUR PLANS TODAY—NOW—to go have a good talk with them.

IF YOU CAN'T GO, WRITE FOR INteresting free booklet "The Making of a Man-O'-Warsman." Tells all about daily life on the big battleships. Simple language. Clear photos.

IT'S LITTLE TROUBLE TO GET A post card and a pen or pencil to write for this booklet. And it may be the biggest thing you ever did for yourself—may put you on the road to success.

DON'T PUT IT OFF. YOU MAY FORget. Send that post card now. Add the addresses of some other boys you'd like to have join the navy with you. We'll send them books, too. Write to Bureau of Navigation, Box 204, Navy Department, Washington, D. C.
